ORANGEVILLE, AUGUST 29, 1918.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If the United States lowers the draft age to 18 it will make licking the Kaiser mere child's play.

x x x

The best way to have a good garden in the spring is to do a lot of the work in the fall.

x x x

The advance specialists of the Allied armies are the chief worry of the Kaiser nowadays.

x x x

Since the scarcity of sugar became acute it is claimed that some women carry sugar in their vanity cases instead of face powder.

x x x

The poor old Russian bear must be on the verge of neurasthenia. His hibernations are just one dangski nightmareovitch after another.

x x x

The German press is blaming it all on poor old Hindenburg. When they get nerve enough to blame it on the Kaiser they'll be close to being right.

x x x

Canada's net losses in the war—exclusive probably of the losses in the present advance—are given as 1,870 officers killed or died of wounds; other ranks, 28,560, and deaths from sickness, 8,258. This brings the figure to 38,898.

x x x

As long as the German army does not disintegrate or mutiny, the Kaiser will hold his throne and fight for it. The power that Germany wields with her army on the Western front and the rich resources in food and oil and metals and men that Russia offers for the future make the task of beating Germany as great as ever. If Germany is brought to a deadlock again on the Western front and then offers peace without annexations and indemnities on the Western front, restoring Belgium, giving Alsace-Lorraine to France and the Trentino and Trieste to Italy, and retaining her control of Russia, the offer will be most tempting to some of our Allies, if we have not then by our plan of action already begun preparations adequate to secure a just peace dictated on German soil.—From editorial by former President William H. Taft, in the Philadelphia Ledger.

x x x

During the past few weeks, especially during the summer vacation, comparatively little has been heard from nervous men and childless men of the racket and rumbles of children's wagons and push-wheels on the residential streets of the town. The little fellows, while they keep away from Broadway, are making life just one sweet dream for childless men and nervous women. Where are the young ones to go if they be shut out from the residential area? Or where can the little tots find a place that this noisy bit of exercise is not forbidden? I was a child myself once, and so were the childless men and nervous women, and we did just exactly the same thing, and the people then made the same old kick, and yet they have lived to a good old age, and the children at that time have grown up and are now raising complaints over the same old noise, and the kiddies who are doing their bit on the sidewalks will grow up and settle down and maybe become childless men and nervous women. And so the world runs.

x x x

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, member of the Foreign Relations Committee, has given an earnest warning against the insidious and poisonous German peace propaganda which is to be launched this autumn from Berlin. Senator Lodge declared that peace must be dictated to and not negotiated with Germany to place her in a position where she never again can disturb the world's peace. In speaking on the new manpower bill in the Senate, Senator Lodge said that peace terms which must and will be forced on Germany will include complete restoration of Belgium, unconditional return of Alsace-Lorraine to France and of Italia Irrendenta to Italy, safety for Greece, independence of the Slav peoples and freedom of Russia from German domination, including the return of Russian territory wrested by Germany in the Brest-Litovsk treaty, and that Constantinople must be made a free port, while Palestine should never be restored to Turkish rule. "These," said Senator Lodge, "are the principle conditions which will give a victory worth having. No peace that satisfies Germany can ever satisfy us. It cannot be a negotiated peace; it must be a dictated peace, and we and our Allies must dictate it."

"WE SHALL CONTINUE," SAYS MARSHALL FOCH

Marshall Foch received the war correspondents on Saturday last in the spacious salon of an old chateau, where there is more business than luxury. The most conspicuous objects in the room were the military maps on the wall. Advancing to meet his visitors, with simple cordiality, the Marshal said: "I am glad to see you, but I do not know just what I can say to you other than that everything is going well. We have begun our action and we shall continue."

DISTRICT CASUALTIES.

With the recent heavy drives by the Allied forces on the Western front and the casualty list including upwards of ten thousand names it was inevitable that some of the boys from Orangeville and district should be among the heroes who have been injured in the gruelling which they have taken while inflicting defeat upon the Hun. One young man from town has given his life for the cause he defended. He is Pte. W. F. Cole, whose death is announced is another column. Several others from the surrounding country have also paid the supreme sacrifice, while others have been wounded or are reported casualties in other ways. The list includes:

DIED AT SEA

Mr John Perdue of Caledon East, received a cable last week informing him that his only son, J. H. G. Perdue had died while on his voyage overseas from heart failure. Perdue was drafted on June 3rd last and joined the 59th Battalion, with which he sailed for overseas August 1st last. His death occurred on August 13th.

KILLED IN ACTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gillespie, of Amaranth, received a telegram on Wednesday of last week stating that Pte. William F. Cole, of the 116th Battalion, had been kiled in action in France on August 8th. Cole enlisted in January, 1916, in the 164th Halton-Dufferin Battalion and trained at Camp Borden and Hamilton until March, 1917, when he went overseas. In England he trained at Witley Camp until last April. The 164th Battalion being broken up he joined the 116th Battalion and was sent to France with that unit. He remained on active service until his death. Before enlisting deceased had been employed on Mr. Wm. Gillespie's farm for about three years and was always known as a capable and trustworthy worker. A memorial service will be held in the Maples Methodist church on Sunday, September 8th, at 3.30 p.m. (new time.) Rev. W. F. Roach of Laurel will preach.

EVERY WOMAN'S RIGHT.

To every woman belongs the right to enjoy a healthy, active, happy life, yet nine out of every ten suffer years of agony, usually from some form of bloodlessness. That is why one sees on every side pale thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures—sure signs of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. All weak, suffering women should win the right to be well by refreshing their weary bodies with the new, rich, red blood that promptly transforms them into healthy attractive women. This new, rich, red blood is supplied in abundance by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body.

Through the use of these pills thousands of women have found a prompt cure when suffering from anaemia, indigestion, heart palpitation, rheumatism, general weakness and those ailments from which women alone suffer. There is no part of this broad Dominion in which you will not find some former sufferer who has regained health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this is the reason why these pills have been a favorite household remedy for more than a generation. If you are ailing and will give the pills a fair trial you will find renewed health and happiness in their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NOTED LECTURER ON TEMPERANCE ENDORSES TANLAC

Mrs. Martha Stone Was for Years Associated with Founder of W. C. T. U.

One of the features that distinguishes Tanlac from all other proprietary medicines is the large number of prominent people who everywhere are giving it their unqualified endorsement. Among the statements recently received at the Tanlac office is one in particular that is sure to arouse widespread interest throughout the country, having been made by Mrs. Martha R. Stone, of 7225 Third Avenue, North West, Seattle, Wash., noted temperance lecturer who for many years was associated with the late Frances E. Willard, founder of the W. C. T. U. In relating her experience with Tanlac, Mrs. Stone said:

"I think it is the duty of everyone who has been relieved as I have to do what they can to help others; therefore it gives me much pleasure to tell of the benefits I have derived from the use of Tanlac.

"I was a great sufferer for many years with nervous trouble, which became so bad that I had to take to my bed, where I lay for six weeks entirely helpless and unable to move. The least little noise would upset me and I was not allowed to see anyone for fear it would excite me, and I was told that my entire nervous system had suffered a total colapse. You see, I had passed through the great San Francisco fire in wheih I lost everything I possessed, and the experience was a severe shock to my already overwrought nerves. When at last I was able to get out of bed I would have such awful dizzy spells that everything in my room seemed to spin around as though I was in the centre of a whirlpool. My stomach was so weak and my appetite so poor that I hardly ate a thing, and what little I forced down soured and formed gas that pressed up into my throat and in my chest and made me so hoarse that it was an effort for me to speak. I also suffered much pain in the lower part of my body from this same gas pressure. My liver, too, was all out of order and my kidneys gave me no end of trouble.

"When my son-in-law saw that the medicines I was taking were doing me no good, he induced me to try Tanlac, as he said it had done him so much good and he believed it would help me too. To oblige him I got me a bottle and the first few doses soon convinced me that it was just what I needed, and my first bottle put me right on my feet. I am now on my second bottle and am in splendid shape, for my nerves are practically in a normal state for the first time in all these years, which I consider a remarkable thing. I have a fine appetite and can eat most anything I want without suffering any unpleasantness afterwards. Tanlac is fast helping me to overcome my troubles, and I feel that I am getting on just fine ever since I began taking it."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Withers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morris, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

TORONTO EX. OPEN.

The Canadian National Exibition at Toronto was opened on Monday of this week by Lord Shaughnessy. The exhibition this year enters upon its fortieth anniversary. This year's slogan is "Produce and Save," and visitors will marvel at the importance of the war-time exhibition as an educator, having regard to the development of the natural resources of Canada, its industrial expansion and the standard of excellence of its massive exhibits and live stock display.

A pocket diary of days at the fair follows: Thursday, Aug. 29, Allies' Day; Friday, Aug. 30, Press Day; Saturday, Aug. 31, Production and Conservation Day; Monday, Sept. 2, Labor Day; Tuesday, Sept. 3, American Day; Wednesday, Sept. 4, Farmers' Day; Thursday, Sept. 5, Manufacturers' and Transportation Day; Friday, Sept. 6, Review Day; Saturday, Sept. 7, Citizens' and Athletic Day.

TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES RECEIVE INCREASES

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada has announced salary increases in the Ontario and Quebec division amounting approximately to $1,300,000 per annum, of which $825,000 per annum goes to the operators alone. This is a general increase in wages to al lemployees receiving $200 a month or less and varies from 25 per cent. in the case of the lower paid employees, to 10 per cent. in the case of those receiving higher wages. The new schedule applies all over the Bell system in Ontario and Quebec and affects 2,600 people in Toronto, of whom 1,900 are operators. The increase becomes effective on September 1st.

KNOW WHAT KAISER IS? HE'S PRAYING MANTIS

Lord Buxton, Governor-General of the Union of South Africa, has discovered the Kaiser's real place in the animal world. He's an insect—we all knew that. But Lord Buxton tells what kind of an insect. He likens the Hun Emperor to a fly-catching bug, the praying mantis, a carnivorous hypocrite, which, when holding out its arms as if in prayer, is really on the lookout for its victim. So the Kaiser, pretending to pray, is all the time looking around to see what other frightfulness he can commit. The Kaiser, like the mantis, prays with an "e" instead of an "a."

SAILORS' WEEK.

The local branch of the Navy League of Canada, which was recently organized and has scarcely yet made its official bow to the public, met on Thursday last and made the preliminary organization for the canvass of the town, during Sailors' Week, Sept. 1 to 7 inclusive.

The Navy League of Canada is in affiliation with the Navy League of the British Empire, and its objects briefly are three-fold in character:

(1). To conduct a thoroughly organized educational campaign in matters pertaining to the Navy and Mercantile Marine.

(2). To raise funds for the relief of British and Canadian sailors and their dependents, for Sailors' Homes, Institutes and Hospitals in Canada and throughout the Empire.

(3). To encourage Volunteer Naval Brigades for boys and young men.

These are objects in which everyone has a very real interest, as only a moment's reflection is necessary to understand the great debt which we all owe, both to the men of the British Navy, who have kept our shores inviolate through four long years of war, and to the sailors of the Mercantile Marine, who have kept the seas open alike to our troops and our commerce.

Sailors' Week has been instituted by the Navy League of Canada to promote object No. 2 above mentioned, and thus to enable the people of the Dominion to pay a small part of the great obligation they owe to the men who go down to the sea in ships, and particularly to help to provide for the widows and orphans of the 15,000 British and Canadian sailors of the Mercantile Marine who have already lost their lives in the submarine campaign. These men, although not members of any regular fighting force, have died as gallantly and truly for their country as the men of the Army and Navy, and the least those who survive can do is to provide for their dependents. As they were not members of any government service, the government does not provide pensions or other similar allowances for this purpose, as in the cases of men of the Army and Navy. Only by voluntary contributions can our great debt to these men be discharged, and the people of Canada are asked to dip deep into their pockets for this purpose during Sailors' Week, which will be next week.

The following officers, committees and team captains will have charge of the campaign in Orangeville, with power to enroll all willing workers and add to their numbers as may be necessary:

Chairman—Lt.-Col. J. A. V. Preston.

Secretary—Miss G. M. Strang.

Treasurer—Mr. Chas. A. Lamon.

Publicity Committee—Mr. A. Walker and the chairman.

Team Captains—East Ward, E. H. Sproule and Elmer Still; South Ward: J. H. Hulse and Dr. R. N. Kyles; West Ward: W. C. McMillan and Dr. W. H. Bowles; North Ward, W. R. Liddy and C. R. Wheelock.

Ladies' Committee in charge of Tag Day (Sept. 18th): Mrs. W. E. Irvine, Mrs. Henry Endacott, Mrs. W. G. Fisher, Mrs. E. R. Young and Miss Bessie Lewis

Literature will be distributed explaining fully the object of the canvass, which will probably be made during the last three days of next week. The objective for the Province is $1,000,000, and for Orangeville, $1,200. Everyone, rich or poor, young or old, is asked to help according to ability, and if this is done there will be no difficulty in far exceeding these figures.

Mrs. Thomas Ebbage, who believes she settled in Acton before any other living resident, celebrated her 80th birthday last Saturday.

A CRITICISM OF WAR

BOOK BY BERLIN PROFESSOR STIRS GERMANY.

Dr. Nicolai Denounces the Teutonic Doctrine That Wars Are the Result of Ineradicable Instincts and That They Promote Virtues In Lives of Warlike Nations.

A CYNICAL observer of letters once remarked that although it was the habit of writers to affect humility, yet there were but few who refrained from the vanity of inscribing their names on the title-page of their works. However this censure may apply to the unusual motives of authorship, it is at any rate inapplicable to those rare books which owe their genesis to an overwhelming impulse, which possesses and compels the writer to deliver his message, be the consequences what they may. In such cases to resist the temptation to anonymity may be an act of supreme courage. Such a book is "Die Biologies des Krieges." That such a book should be written at all is in itself noteworthy. That it should appear bearing on its title-page the name of so eminent a citizen of Berlin as Prof. G. F. Nicolai represents one of the greatest acts of heroism of recent years.

It is not without interest to observe how this book came to be written. In the early days of the war 93 German "intellectuals" issued to the world an appeal which still lives pleasantly in the memory by virtue of the precise and categorical manner in which certain things were asserted to be "not true." Depressed, as he well might be, by the guise in which German learning presented itself to the world, Dr. Nicolai contemplates to the promotion of a counter-manifesto, intended as an appeal to moderate men throughout the world. Needless to say, Dr. Nicolai was not successful in obtaining signatures to his manifesto, and he next purposed developing his ideas in the form of a course of lectures to be delivered during the summer semester of 1915. This scheme also failed, but the notes made for these lectures became the basis of a book, the influence of which cannot fail to be far-reaching and enduring.

Dr. Nicolai's draft manifesto reprinted in the earlier pages of his work, is deserving of study, inasmuch as it indicates the ideas by which he was inspired during the first weeks of the war. The following passage, to a certain extent reminiscent of some of Mr. Wilson's later utterances, may be quoted:

"It therefore appears not merely desirable, but urgently necessary that educated men of all states should exercise their influence so that, whatever may be the still uncertain issue of the war, the conditions of peace should not become the source of future wars, but rather, that the fact that all European relationships have fallen as a result of this war into a mobile and plastic condition should be made use of to create an organic unity out of Europe."—(p. 19.)

Nicolai's object in writing his work is, briefly described, to analyze the nature of war and to discuss its place in the development of humanity. In the pursuit of his task he observes a dispassionate objectivity which at times almost grates upon the reader. He is not one of those who are tormented by the thought of the sufferings and the tortures of war. His purpose was to prove to those who had lost their ideals that war is only a "passing phenomenon on earth which is not worth while taking too seriously" (p. 12). Elsewhere again he dwells on the fact that war, objectively regarded, is not particularly cruel and that, from unconscious sentimentality, we are led to exaggerate the suffering which war entails.

On what, then, does Dr. Nicolai's objection to war rest? In a word, it is because war is an anachronism, an institution which the human race has outgrown, and which now acts as an obstacle and a hindrance in the path of human progress. That war corresponds to a deep and ineradicable instinct in our nature, that it promotes a galaxy of virtues, that for mankind it represents the struggle for existence to be found throughout all nature, are doctrines which are writ large throughout the whole of recent German literature; the reader who desires to find these views epitomized in their extreme forms may be referred to Sombart's "Handler und Helden," a work which for some reason has not enjoyed that notoriety in this country to which its great demerits undoubtedly entitle it. It is against these doctrines that Dr. Nicolai's thesis is direced, and he very ingeniously takes as his starting point one of the fundamental doctrines of his opponents. He admits that war does in fact correspond with a human instinct but he denies that instincts are in all cases to be followed, or even that they are in all cases beneficial. The utmost that can be inferred from the existence of an instinct is that it was useful at the time it was evolved.

Dr. Nicolai then proceeds to consider where else in nature we find anything analogous to war. From the days of Lucretius it has been proverbial that the lion does not fight with the lion. Apart from deers and certain birds, where the motive to fighting is sexual, Dr. Nicolai shows that real wars are to be found only in the case of two other animals—ants and bees. War, in fact, can only arise where the sense of property has developed, and its only purpose is the exploitation in one form or another of the enemy. It is thus inextricably interwoven with a system of slavery, and is only defensible in so far and so long as slavery is defensible. With the abolition of slavery war becomes void of purpose.

Dr. Nicolai next subjects to a damaging criticism the familiar doctrine that war represents for man the highest form of struggle for existence. This he admits, but it must be a struggle for life and not a struggle against life, such as war represents. The true struggle for existence is expressed by Nicolai in terms of the consumption of the general stream of energy, and the object of each individual and species is to utilize as large a share of this energy as possible

The cow and the horse are pressed into the service of man, but so long as man is compelled to keep horses the necessity of providing them with hay restricts the number of men who can be supported by a given area of land. If all horses were ousted by automobiles, the total energy available for the support of the human race would be increased. Man would, in fact, have defeated the horse in the struggle for existence. The Darwinian struggle for existence, which figures so largely in German literature in exaltation of war, is never an excuse for war, and does not even furnish an analogy.

Having disposed of the claim that war is an expression of the struggle for existence, Dr. Nicolai proceeds to consider in what respect war does act as a selective agency. He pictures the type of man that would ultimately result from a prolonged continuation of the present type of struggle.

It is not to be expected that a remarkably courageous, strong, and intelligent race would arise, but there would result a kind of rabbit-race, corresponding to our present trench warfare. The new man would be without refined needs, which cannot be satisfied in dug-outs, with bad noses, if only to bear the smell of decomposing bodies, but quick and active, equipped with good ears and eyes, to be able to leave and return to their holes quickly at the right moment. He would have a low level of intelligence, since the occupation is primitive and simple; he would have contempt for the work of peace—a certain esprit de corps with his comrades, above all, hate and fear of the enemy.—London Nation.

MAKING CONSUMER 100 P. C. EFFICIENT

Government Experts to Demonstrate Lessons Learned in Miss Canada's Kitchen at Exhibition.

A Government patriotic food show, occupying one entire building, will be one of the features at the coming Canadian National Exhibition. The show will be in charge of the Food Controller's Department and experts from Macdonald Institutes, at Guelph and Quebec, from Toronto University and other domestic science schools, will demonstrate the many discoveries in kitchen economics made since Miss Canada took up the task of food conservation. It will be the most comprehensive attempt yet made by the Government to teach in a simple, practical way the housewife methods of keeping down expenses without lessening in the least the nutritive and palatable qualities of her meals. To make Canada 100 per cent. efficient in food consumption is the avowed object of the display. The purchasing and preparation of food will be demonstrated as will also the elimination of waste and the use of substitutes for the food stuffs most needed overseas. An interesting feature will be a complete model kitchen of a large New York hotel, in which expert chefs will show how efficiently the great modern hostelries prepare their menus.

Toronto Exhibition opened Monday.

Beautiful things are everyday things now—

Look around you. See the large number of dainty silk blouses in beautiful tints that are being worn. And the quantities of dainty underwear the stores are showing—sheerest, most beautiful things you have ever seen. It was not so a few years ago. What has caused the difference?

Certainly and surely—one big factor has been Lux. Women would not buy these things right along unless there was a gentle, sure way of washing them—without discoloring, warping or fading.

There is—it's the Lux way. Won't turn silks yellow—won't hurt chiffons—won't shrink woollens. Lux won't hurt anything that pure water itself may touch.

HELPFUL HELPMEET.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "I have thought up a witticism for you to tell at the club.

"Do I have to tell it?"

"Of course not. But you'll miss a great chance if you don't. It's this: Baseball players ought to be put into the Navy instead of the Army. Go on; ask me 'Why?'"

"Why?"

"So that they can steal submarine bases."

GIGANTIC PANORAMA OF EMPIRE HISTORY

Heroes of Britain Will Pass in Review Before Crowds at The Canadian National Exhibition

Memories of the great fighters of long ago, the heroes of a thousand battles by land and sea, will be reawakened by the Grand Stand Spectacle at the Canadian National Exhibition. "Britannia Militant" will be more than a mere pageant; it will be the spirit of our Empire past and present, translated into flesh and blood, a romantic historic survey in which the spectators will be made to feel their kinship with the men of old. There will be a suggestion of the Arthurian legends, of medieval knights, ancient castles, venerable cathedral ruins, and all the colorful paraphernalia of history and of romance. The spirit of the Empire's yesterday will be caught and contrasted with the martial deeds of today and the men of the present, now fighting the greatest battle of all times, will not suffer by comparison, particularly in the dramatic climax when Currie's gallant Canadians arrive on the scene. The setting will be a gigantic reproduction of Windsor Castle, the scenic arrangement and general ensemble being the most elaborate ever produced at the Canadian National. There will be over 1,200 participants, all brilliantly attired in the styles of the period they represent, and the whole inspiring effect will be enhanced by superb musical treatment.

LIGHTNING'S FREAKS.

During the big storm on Tuesday night of last week lightning struck the residence of Emery Doan, near Honeywood, and took off part of the shingles from the roof, but did not fire it. A stook of oats in James Boyle's field at Violet Hill was fired and burned, and Mr. Boyle had hard work to keep the fire from spreading. In the village of Elmvale an old cutter standing on one of the streets was struck and destroyed by fire.

THIS IS THE LIMIT.

The limit in feminine attire for weddings has been reached. The Toronto Telegram, in giving an account of a recent wedding says: "The bridesmaid was Miss ——, who wore pale pink roses."

CASH CREAM STATION

We are still buying Cream at Mr. F. A. Falconer's Hardware Store, Orangeville, on

Could Not Lift Stick of Wood

Would Almost Faint From Severe Pain in Back — Doctors Could Not Get the Kidneys Set Right.

A great many people suffer the results of deranged kidneys and do not understand the cause of trouble or the way to obtain cure. The writer of this letter suffered excruciating pains in the back and in vain his physician tried to cure him. For some reason or other his medicines did not have the desired effect.

Mr. Olts' brother was a merchant selling, among other medicines, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and he heard his customers telling about how they were cured of kidney derangements by their use. This led to Mr. Olts putting them to the test, with the splendid results reported in this letter.

Mr. E. O. Olts, Benton, Carleton County, N. B., writes: "I am glad to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered from my kidneys, which at one time were so bad I could not lift a stick of wood without getting on my knees, and then would almost faint from the pain in my back. I consulted a doctor about it, and he gave me some medicine, but it did not help me. My brother, who is a merchant, and carries all your medicines, advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I got one box, and they helped me, so I got another one, and kept on until I had taken five boxes, which cured me. I have had no trouble with my back since, and am never without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house. Last summer I also suffered from piles. I used three boxes of your Ointment, and it cured them. I can certainly recommend Dr. Chase's Pills and Ointment."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 35c a box, 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute or you will certainly be disappointed.

Woman Outlives Man.

Insurance experts contend that a woman who is in good health at the age of forty-five is likely to outlive a man of the same age, because she is apt to be more temperate and is less liable to accident.

Unusual In Canada.

John Conroy has just died at Conroy's Corners in the house in which he was born and in which he had lived continuously for 87 years. He was a pioneer and the son of a pioneer of Otonabee Township.

Popular Legends of Villa.

Francisco Villa promises to be the Robin Hood for future generations in Mexico. Many legends have sprung up among the natives about the bandit leader who came out of the Sierra Madres to join Francisco Madero in his revolution against Gen. Diaz and later led movements against Huerta and Carranza. Many of these stories are pure fiction and always made Villa grin broadly when they were told to him. Others have some foundation of fact.

One of the most popular legends connected with Villa's life is the one telling of the causes which forced him to assume the role of a bandit chief. According to this legend he avenged a wrong done his sister at the hands of an officer of the old Diaz army and was forced to lead a brigand's life after that. As Villa had no sister this story is fiction.

Another tale the natives delight to tell is that Villa has the power to change himself into a little dog and bark at the heels of the soldiers pursuing him. Villa at different times had as many as six wives at the same time. The most he ever had was two.

Villa was also said to have been born in Oklahoma and to have negro blood in his veins. This is also untrue as he was never out of Mexico except when visiting El Paso or some other border port and is a native of Durango. He has no children, despite stories written of the prowess of his sons in battle. His only son died at birth in San Andres.

Men In Iron Masks.

The Man in the Iron Mask mystified all Europe for many years, and is still the subject of considerable romance and legend, but in our great industries men in iron masks are not at all common. In the process of arc-welding iron masks are necessary to protect operators from the terrific heat and dazzling light. The electric arc is about the hottest thing in the whole world and also as bright as the sun itself. The temperature of the arc is approximately 3,500 deg. Centigrade, and as the heat is confined to a comparatively small space directly in contact with the arc the light therefrom is blinding.

To Complete the Illusion.

She—No, you are too poor. If I washed dishes for a man it might make him look upon me as a servant.

He—Oh, no; you'd have to break them to do that.

HE WOULDN'T TAKE IT.

Subbubs—"I heard that your last servant was a regular thief."

Hubbubs—"Well, I wouldn't use so harsh a word, but I will say that the only thing we could leave around him with any safety was a bath."

COGHLAN WAS FINED.

Frank Coghlan, the Peel township farmer, who was charged in Guelph police court with having assaulted Mr. Farrell, a neighbor, on Friday last, and chewing his thumb, was brought before the magistrate. The only evidence was that of Dr. H. O. Howitt, who gave some medical evidence regarding the condition of Coghlan. The magistrate convicted the accused and fined him $10.00 and costs.

The less a man knows the more suspicious he is.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

Brampton Firm Sells Out to G. B. Ryan & Company, of Guelph.

When the business of T. H. Shields & Co. passed into the hands of G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph, last week, one of the best known concerns in Central Ontario went out of business, although it is hoped that it will be speedily revived under the new management. Mr. Shields was born in the County of Peel in Albion just a stone's throw from Caledon, and went as a young man to Caledon East, where he started in the dry goods business under the late P. C. Campbell. Leaving Caledon East in 1882, he came to Brampton and was employed as a clerk by the late J. H. Beck in the firm of J. H. Beck & Co. He remained in this capacity for eight years, when he bought out the business and started the firm of T. H. Shields & Co. For two years he ran the business somewhat upon the lines adopted by the former owner, then branched out with millinery and dressmaking, the former department being in charge of Miss Susie McClelland, the latter in charge of Miss Esther Mitchell. This department of the business was conducted over the principal part of the store, which occupied what is now the McLaughlin garage.

With the passing of the years, Mr. Shields saw that there was an opening for another tailoring establishment in the town, and opened one in the store, known at that time as the store of E. H. Crandell, now occupied by Martin's Music House. Mr. John Bachelor was placed in charge and this venture proved very successful.

In 1907 Mr. Shields saw a great opportunity for opening a general business in the premises which had been occupied by the firm of G. R. Anderson. Moving in here, he added still another department to his ever growing business, and included the stock of McCulloch and Crawford, thus making groceries and boots and shoes another branch of the business. From that time until the present Mr. Shields has seen the continual and steady development of a business that was no small concern even in its beginnings.

Mr. Shields has built for himself a reputation for the keenest integrity as a business man. He has been the guiding principal in a concern that grew by pleasing the people, at the same time giving honest value for money spent. While keeping abreast of the times and always ready to concede to the newest methods, Mr. Shields never allowed his business to swerve from the methods which had won the confidence of the people of the community many years previous.

A very quiet man outside the limits of his business, Mr. Shields has not been connected with many of the activities of the town. But as an integral part of the business of the town he will be greatly missed, and his retirement from an active business life, consequent upon continued ill health, is regretted by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances.—Conservator.

HOW GRIGGS SAVED $10.

"Any restitution Germany offers to the Allies will be offered, you may be sure, in the spirit of Griggs."

The speaker was Edward Hungerford, the advertising expert.

"Griggs and Miggs," he went on, "were kidnapped by bandits and shut up in a cave.

"'They'll take every cent we've got on us,' 'moaned Miggs. 'Every blessed cent.'

"'They will, eh?' said Griggs, thoughtfully.

"'They sure will.'

"Griggs peeled a ten-spot from his roll.

"'Here, Miggs,' he said, 'here is that ten dollars I've been owin' you for so long.'"

R.R. No. 4. Gilbert Plains, Man.

"In the year 1910, I had Nervous Prostration in its worst form; was reduced in weight from 170 pounds to 115 pounds.

The doctors had no hope of my recovery, and every medicine I tried proved useless until a friend induced me to take "Fruit-a-tives".

I began to mend almost at once; and after using this fruit medicine for 3 or 4 months, I was back to my normal state of health.

I never had such good health for twenty years as I have enjoyed the past six years. We are never without a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' in the house".

DAIRYMAIDS WANTED.

The farmerettes have done such good work as dairymaids this summer that more orders are coming in than can be filled. Wages are $25 a month and board to begin, and will be $30.00 a month and board by January for satisfactory workers. Girls who are experienced milkers should apply to the Women's Farm Department, 43 King street west, Toronto, as the shortage of labor for dairies is so serious that herds are being sold off.

To meet the great need for dairy workers, Dr. Creelman has consented to hold a dairy class from October 1st to December 15th. Inexperienced girls will be thoroughly trained in milking, handling milking machines, testing milk, feeding calves, etc. Already orders have come in for some of the girls who will be trained by January. Every effort is being made to secure satisfactory positions for all graduates of the course.

Those interested may apply: Women's Farm Department, 43 King St., west, Toronto.

STRAPPED, TOO.

"Society finds its level in a streetcar, doesn't it?"

"Well, it shows how many people who think themselves in good standing are merely hangers-on."

WORDS COULD NOT HURT.

"James," said Mrs. Mellow to the man servant, "can you find out whether the tinned salmon was all eaten last night? I don't want to ask the new cook, because she may have eaten it, and then she would feel uncomfortable."

"Please, ma'am," replied James, "the new cook ate all the salmon an' no matter what you was to say to her you couldn't make her more uncomfortable than she is now."

FOCH INVITED HUNS TO SURVEY POSITIONS

But Saw Nothing; Concluded Allies Weak, Prepared Attack; Then 70,000 Picked Men Struck

Floyd Gibbons, war correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, who was wounded in the reduction of the Marne salient by Marshal Foch, and who arrived at an Atlantic port on a French steamer this week, told of the marvelous strategy which enabled Marshal Foch to stop the German drive in its inception and throw the enemy back to the Vesle. Mr. Gibbons, who had been wounded three times by machine gun bullets and lost the sight of his left eye, is home on leave of absence. The correspondent told the story of the preparation for the attack of July 18, the day of the turning of the tide.

"The Germans knew that the logical place for an attack to be made was along the western side of the salient, and for that reason made the line almost invulnerable with their Prussian Guards and other crack troops. Foch kept that part of the front clear of any evidences of preparation for attack. Every day he allowed the German planes to come over and reconnoitre. They saw nothing, and so concluded that the French had no troops to spare for an offensive. The moment, however, that the Germans gave away their plan of striking at the other side of the salient and making a play for Epernay, Foch gathered together from distant parts of the line 70,000 of the finest troops in the French and American armies.

"Yet, on the night of the 17th there was still nothing to indicate an attack, but as soon as darkness fell, amid the flash of lightning and the roll of thunder, these three divisions forced their way through the Cotteret Woods and at 4.35 the next morning, after having been travelling for three days, most of the time on the double quick, went over the top, and —well—the world knows the rest.

WILLIAM J. WOODLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Woodland, of Caledon, have the sympathy of the community in the loss of their little son, William James, who died on Saturday last, aged three months and five days. The little fellow had not been in the best of health for some weeks but good hopes were entertained of his recovery until last week when he suddenly became worse, death coming in a few days. The funeral took place from the home of his parents, Lot 30, Con. 1, east, Caledon, on the following Sunday, at 2.30 o'clock, Rev. A. H. Howitt officiating.

HUGH CARFRAE RUSSELL.

Death claimed one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of Alton in the person of Hugh Carfrae Russell, who passed away on Thursday last, August 22nd, at the ripe age of 92 years. Deceased was born at Leith, Scotland, on October 27, 1826, and came to Canada when seven years of age. He lived for a short time in Toronto, then Muddy York, from which place the family moved to Alton, settling in a little house close to the site where the Story blacksmith shop now stands. Later they removed to the old homestead on the 3rd line, Caledon, which is now owned and occupied by a Mr. Ireland. In 1856 Mr. Russell was married, when he moved to a farm of his own which is now part of the village of Alton. Here he remained until 10 years ago when retiring from his farm, he built a house in Alton and lived there with his daughter, Helen, who died in March, 1917. Since that time his eldest daughter, Mrs. Jessie R. McKitrick, has been caring for him. Mrs. Russell passed away in 1881. Deceased had been in good health until about three weeks ago when he had a rib broken, and, although he must have suffered much, he was always very patient and the end came peacefully. He was fully conscious and his memory was perfectly clear until the evening before his death when his eldest son, Dr. Thomas Russell, of Grand Rapids, Minn., and Mrs. Russell arrived home. Another son, William, arrived from Chicago on Friday. A daughter, Mrs. Matson, of Colinton, Alta., spent a month with him this summer. Mr. Russell's other surviving children are George and John, of Excelsior, Alta. The funeral, which was held on Sunday afternoon to the Alton cemetery, was largely attended. In the absence of the family pastor, Rev. W. N. Carr, who is at present on his holidays, Rev. T. R. White, pastor of Alton Methodist church, officiated and conducted impressive services at the house and grave.

LOUISA M. THOMPSON.

Mrs. Louisa Matilda Thompson, beloved wife of Mr. John Thompson, of Caledon, died on Monday of this week at her home in West Caledon at the age of 55 years. Deceased had been afflicted with heart trouble for quite a time but was thought to be in her usual health until Monday when she was found dead in her home. The funeral was held from her late residence, Lot 15, 5th Line, west, Caledon, to the Shelburne cemetery Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. T. R. White, pastor of Alton Methodist circuit, conducted a service at the stricken home at 8.30 o'clock.

SMITH–BIDWELL.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bidwell, Laurel, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Tuesday evening when their youngest daughter, Florence May, was united in marriage to Mr. Roy Hinton Smith, of Laurel, Rev. J. H. Douglas officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked beautiful in a gown of white crepe de chine with veil and orange blossoms. She also wore the groom's gift, a lovely gold wrist watch. After receiving the congratulations of the friends the bride and groom led the way to the dining room where all partook of the wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left the next morning by motor for Fergus, Guelph and other points.

STRINGER–ROBINSON.

A quiet and pretty wedding took place in St. Mark's church at five o'clock yesterday evening when Lillian Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robinson, Zina street, became the bride of Percy Rupert Stringer, of Kincardine, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. H. Howitt, rector of St. Mark's church. The bride was becomingly gowned in a tailored grey tweed suit with blue and white crepe de chine hat to match and carrying a white prayer Pbok and flowers. The church was prettily decorated by girl friends of the bride with golden glow and other garden flowers. The bride was unattended and entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Marie Gilmour of Welland. Those present at the wedding from a distance included Mr. Milton Robinson, of Toronto, and Mr. Harold Robinson, of Welland, brothers of the bride; Miss Gilmour, Welland; Mr. Wilfrid Robinson, of Toronto; Mrs. V. J. Robinson, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith, of Pembroke; Mr. Roy Stringer and Miss Mabelle Stringer, of Kincardine, brother and sister of the groom. The happy couple left by motor amidst showers of confetti for Hamilton and Niagara Falls for a short honeymoon trip, after which they will reside in Sarnia. Mr. Stringer, who was formerly principal of Orangeville Business College, has been given the principalship of Port Huron Business University. The Banner joins the many friends of the bride and groom in extending its hearty wishes for a long and prosperous married life.

What Will You Do For Help?

FARM help is scarce, but this condition can be relieved to a marked degree by using machines that accomplish more work in a given time with less man power.

Why should the farmer cling to horses—a slow, expensive means of power—when every other business is adopting the truck and thereby reducing the cost of hauling, speeding up deliveries, and saving for human needs the food that the horses would otherwise consume?

The motor driven truck can work constantly at maximum load under the burning summer sun, or in the coldest weather. Unlike the horse it needs no rests while working, it eats only while in actual use, and when the day's work is done it requires very little attention, and leaves you free for other "Chores" about the place. Then, it can be housed in one-quarter the space of the horses, wagon and harness it replaces.

It is a mistaken idea that a truck is useful only for driving upon paved roads. The Ford can be driven all over the farm, and used for hauling grain, potatoes, fruit, roots, fertilizer, wood, stock, milk or any other product. The speed it travels, the time it saves, and its low upkeep cost appeal very strongly to all users of the Ford Truck. If you need help, order your Ford One Ton Truck today.

FRUIT PICKERS.

More girls will be needed for the fall work—the picking of plums, peaches tomatoes, apples and grapes.

The girls will live in camps supervised by the Y. W. C. A. The board will be $4.50 a week and the girls bring their own bedding and towels. The growers pay a minimum of $9 a week, and the best girls are raised to 20c an hour. The Government pays transportation one way.

In selecting the girls, care is taken to put congenial girls together. Friends are placed together where possible. The teachers and students must go back to school and it is important that all other girls who have leisure enlist to save the fall fruits.

Camps are opening at Grimsby, Beamsville, Winona, Queenston and Niagara Falls. Several small apple picking and packing camps will open in October in Simcoe county. Girls who wish to do fruit picking should apply to the Women's Farm Department, 43 King street west, Toronto.

More important even than securing girls is the matter of getting supervisors and cooks for the camps. Dozens of good women who have looked after the girls in camp this summer are now obliged to leave, and unless others take their places much fruit will undoubtedly go to waste. The Y. W. C. A. has notified the Women's' Farm Department that unless they can secure more camp workers they will not be able to supervise some of the new fall camps. This will mean that many growers who are looking to the Women's Farm Department of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau for assistance will be disappointed. Looking after the girls in the National Service Camps is as great a service to the country as Red Cross or other patriotic work. A salary is attached to the work. If you can help out in this way, apply to the Dominion Council of the Y. W. C. A., 332 Bloor street west, Toronto.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the summer months than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach disorders, come without warning and when a medicine is not at hand to give relief promptly short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the home, where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will cure the baby. Mrs. Chas. Anderson, Minda, Alta., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for little ones who are suffering from stomach troubles. They cured my baby and have made her a fine healthy girl." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

—The Caledon branch of the Peel County Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Albert B. Smith on Wednesday evening instead of in the afternoon, Sept. 4th, at 8.30. A full attendance is requested as important business is to be transacted. Roll will be called.

PUBLISHER OF THE ORILLIA TIMES DEAD

Formerly Connected With Newspapers in Winnipeg and Brantford.

Mr. H. T. Blackstone, publisher of the Orillia Times, died unexpectedly last Thursday morning, aged sixty-four years. For some months Mr. Blackstone has been in failing health but he was able to be at his office as usual Wednesday, and retired, feeling no worse than usual. Shortly afterwards he was seized with a choking spell, and during the night sustained a partial stroke. He retained consciousness, however, and passed away a few minutes before 10 o'clock Thursday morning, heart weakness being the cause of death.

Deceased was born in Portland, Maine, and went to Winnipeg in 1885, where he entered the employ of Mr. T. H. Preston, publisher of the Winnipeg Sun. When Mr. Preston sold his interest in the Sun and moved to Branntford, Ont., Mr. Blackstone accompanied him and became advertising manager of the Expositor. In 1893 Mr. Blackstone came to Orillia and bought the Times from the late Peter Murray, and which he has successfully conducted ever since.

He leaves a widow, one son and two daughters, George A., associated with him in the business; Mrs. M. R. Upton of Peace River Crossing, Alberta, and Mrs. (Dr.) Kinsey, Toronto. His eldest son, Paul, died in Winnipeg about 12 years ago.

Mr. Blackstone was an elder in the Presbyterian church and a member of Orillia Masonic Lodge. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and was under Masonic auspices.

WHISKEY IN A CASKET.

Recently a casket case adorned with beautiful wreaths and sprays arrived in Oshawa from Montreal. The License Inspector became suspicious and decided to view the remains, when a liberal supply of Scotch whiskey and rye was found reposing in the case. No mourners accompanied the remains, but there was much mourning when it was learned that the Inspector had made the discovery.

ONE SHOW ONLY UNTIL AFTER WAR

The Canadian National Exhibition which opened on Monday of this week will be the only place in Canada to see a complete display of automobiles until after the war. This was the decision arrived at by the recently organized Automobile Industries of Canada, the members of which have decided that other than the National Show during the two weeks of Exhibition no show will have their sanction or support until after the war. The Automobile Industries of Canada includes in its membership all the Canadian car manufacturers, Briscoe, Chalmers, Chevrolet, Ford, Gray-Dort, Maxwell, McLaughlin, Studebaker, Wilys-Overland and the leading tire parts and accessory and allied industry manufacturers of the Dominion.

THOMAS JACKSON.

Death claimed another old resident of Albion township when Mr. Thomas Jackson, of Cedar Mills, passed away on Monday of this week. Mr. Jackson had been confined to his bed for three weeks, suffering from heart trouble. Mr. Jackson was born in Vaughan township 71 years ago. When a young man he came to Albion township, where he has engaged in farming during the past 50 years. He is survived by his wife, Mary Mellow, and three children, Mrs. D. A. Archibald of Dunkerron, Mrs. Wm. Walton of Albion, and Herman, at home. His surviving brothers and sisters are Mrs. Thos. Garbut of Winnipeg, Mrs. Hugh Sloane of Chesley, John of Shelburne, and Robert of Ballycroy. The funeral took place on Wednesday to Laurel Hill cemetery.—Bolton Enterprise.

BENJAMIN HILL.

Benjamin Hill, an old and respected resident of Mulmur, died at his home at Alliston on Friday last at the age of 67 years. He had been ill for several months with kidney trouble. Deceased was born at Stella, Amherst Island, near Kingston, Ont., and came with his parents to Mulmur in 1854 when they settled on lot 5, con. 4, and he continuously resided there until July 25th, 1918, when he moved to Alliston. Deceased and his brother, E. G. Hill, lived alone on the homestead since the death of their sister, Mrs. Robinson, who died about three years ago. Deceased was well known and respected by everybody. He was a prominent Orangeman for the past 45 years and a member of the Presbyterian church, and was also a member of the Mulmur council for six years. In politics he was an ardent Conservative and was always a willing worker in any cause taken up. The Earnscliffe post office, of which the late Mrs. Robinson was postmistress, was kept at their residence on the homestead until the rural mail delivery went into force, then the office was closed. Deceased was a bachelor and is survived by two brothers, W. T. Hill of Amherst Island and E. G. Hill, Alliston. The funeral, which was in charge of the Orange Association, took place on Sunday to the Presbyterian cemetery at Mansfield and was very largely attended by old friends and neighbors.—Selburne Free Press.

Mrs. Adam Smith of Eugenia has received a letter from Switzerland from one who attended the funeral of her son, Fred, stating that he died from an attack of la grippe.

ALLISTON TAX RATE.

42 Mills Rate the Highest It Has Ever Been in the History of the Town.

The Alliston town council at a meeting on Monday evening of last week struck the tax rate for the current year at 42 mills. After going over the different items it was that there could be no paring done and Alliston, like other places, must face a bix tax rate as a result of the war and cheerfully pay the bill in thankfulness that the Hun has not been able to devastate the town and then impose a war indemnity which would stagger the people.

WHO MADE THE KAISER?

Some people were made to be soldiers,
But Irish were made to be cops.
Sauer Kraut was made for the Germans,
Fish were made to drink water,
And bums were made to drink booze.
Banks were made for money,
And money was made for Jews.
Everything was made for something,
Most everything but a miser,
God made Wilson for president,
But who-n-th-hell made the Kaiser?

LEG CAUGHT IN BINDER.

A very sad accident occurred on Wednesday of last week on the farm of Elgin Patrick who lives nine miles from Galt, when his three and a half year old son James wandered out into the oat field evidently in search of his father who was cutting the crop. He was caught in the binder with the result that the right leg of the little lad was caught by the knife of the machine about four or five inches below the knee, cutting through the bone of the leg.

PILES ENTIRELY CURED

Mr. Wm. Woodell, 107 St. John St. Carlton, St. John, N.B., writes:— "I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for itching, bleeding piles, and as a result have been entirely cured. For years I was a great sufferer from this distressing ailment and can say that three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me. You may use this letter for the benefit of others."

FELL AND BROKE LEG.

Mr. Matt Cooper, Cookstown, fell in the yard on Thursday last and broke his leg just above the knee. The extremely unfortunate circumstances in connection with the accident are that Mr. Cooper fell from a threshing machine about one year ago, and broke the same leg near the hip. He was able to be around only by the aid of crutches, when he met the second accident.

DEER IN AMARANTH.

Alex. Rintoul, of Amaranth, saw a fine large deer on his place one evening last week. The deer came out from the woods and up to the barn where the horses were, remained about five minutes and then made off again. It came through grain fields and over the fences. After the animal had returned to the woods Mr. Rintoul went out and tried to locate it again but without success.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

Has it ever occurred to the majority that those priceless things—ideals of liberty and justice and right living—can be neither bought nor sold? They are not heirlooms and no parent can hand them down ticketed and tied like government bonds or enclosed, like jewels, in a strong box. They may be "recommended" and even insisted upon but are adopted voluntarily or not at all.

These facts offer food for serious thought on the part of those who are responsible for Canada's future. Whatever ideals it is desirable for the citizens of tomorrow to possess must be instilled into the consciousness of the children of today. The process is the tedious one of "line upon line, precept upon precept, here a little, there a little"—a process at times inspiring but more often than not discouraging. It is a process little realized in the main because its workings are unseen. Not until the generation stands ready for citizenship can it be seen that damage has been done. Only then is one aware of the existence of the harmful influence. Human careers are too precious to be submitted to this exploitation and the most serious duty confronting patriots today is the provision of influences that will produce high standards of living for generations to come.

Had this truth been recognized from any other than a largely theoretical stand point by the men and women of the preceding and the present generation it would not have been possible for the vicious theories promulgated by Frederick the Great (wrongly so called) to be working themselves out today in Prussian atrocities. There can not be too vigorous pushing of baby welfare movements or the establishment and maintainence of supervised playgrounds. By Scuot movements, national housing schemes, city planning and every other movement that centres in the cleanest, finest living. An examination into the things in which all were most keenly concerned a decade ago will not result in a list of these things as national interests. Every one of them must be absorbing interests if Prussianism is to be stamped out forever.

MORE TRAINS FOR THE EXHIBITION

It is customary each year for the Canadian railways to give special rates to the Canadian National Exhibition. This year there has been no public announcement regarding the intention of the railways in this respect, but it is understood that the local agents have received a circular giving them instructions regarding the matter and anyone applying to them will find this information available. The traffic congestion has been immeasurably improved since this time a year ago and prospects at the present time are that there will be a larger and better train service from all points to Toronto and return.

FATTENING OF CHICKENS.

The profits obtained from marketing lean, poorly fleshed, unfinished chickens are so small as to be frequently discouraging. Many of the packing houses and larger produce dealers find it necessary to go to considerable expense to provide the necessary premises and equipment to properly finish such poultry. The best place to feed poultry is on the farm, and, if it pays the packing houses to take the trouble, it obviously would be good business to do the work on the farm.

Proper feeding and finishing will not only greatly increase the weight of the birds, but will also enhance the value of every ounce on the carcass, and greatly reduce the proportion of offal in relation to the amount of edible meat.

There is generally a difference of from three to seven cents per pound in the price paid for well-fleshed birds as compared with lean unfinished stock just off the range.

There is always a market for prime quality poultry, while the poorer quality has to be sold at whatever price can be obtained, depending on the market and the amount of effort put forth on the part of the seller.

Birds generally make the greatest gain when about three to four months of age, and the average birds make the most economical gains during the first two weeks of special feeding.

Chickens can be readily taught to feed by lamplight; this is a great convenience, as it is desirable that the time of feeding be spaced as nearly as possible twelve hours apart.

The crate system of feeding is much more economical and efficient. In practising this method, one is able to carefully note the progress being made by each bird and the feeding period of the more thrifty can often be shortened or lengthened as desired. Also the fish of the crate-fefd birds is invariably softer than that of pen fed birds.

For amplification of the forgoing information apply to the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, for Bulletin No. 88 of the Division of Poultry of the Experimental Farms entitled "Preparing Poultry Produce for Market."

"19" SUPERSTITION IS VICTORY HUNCH

Alsace-Lorraine Dates Have a Curious Link—Peace This Year?

The "19" superstition has arisen and gained some vogue in France. The sum of the digits in 1918 makes 19. A lieutenant in the French army found time while his regiment was resting behind the lines to work out this:

"Here are the dates in history on which the fate of Alsace-Lorraine has depended and in which the issue has turned out favorably for France:

"1. In 1648, in the treaty of Westphalia which gave Alsace to France. The sum of 1, 6, 4 and 8 is 19.

"2. In 1675, the campaign in Alsace by Turenne which confirmed the French conquest. The sum again is 19.

"3. In 1738, the peace of Vienna, which gave France Lorraine; 19 again is the total of the digits.

"4. In 1792, the victory of Valmy, which re-established the French frontiers in the east. One more the sum is 19.

"And that isn't all. Why are the Americans here to help us win Alsace-Lorraine? It is because we assisted them to win their independence, and in what year? In 1783."

But he pushed it a bit too far, for he foresaw peace on the 1459th day of the war, which would be July 30, 1918. But why not on the 1477th day, or the 1486th or 1495th? They all fall in 1918. Wait and see.

A POLITE RETORT.

Traffic Cop—Come on! What's the matter with you?

Truck Driver—I'm well, thanks, but me engine's dead!

ANOTHER RAW RECRUIT.

Colonel—Didn't you hear me give the command to fix bayonets?

Private—Yes, Colonel, but my bayonet is all right; there's nothing wrong about it to be fixt.

ORANGEVILLE, SEPT. 5, 1918.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

These are great days for Canada. Canadian troops are making priceless history for our great Dominion.

x x x

Sir Robert Borden approves the formation of a League of Nations for the purpose of preserving peace. The Canadian people are one with the Premier in this matter.

x x x

If British sailors had failed in their duty Germany might have won the war long ago. This is something that should not be forgotten, especially during Sailors' Week.

x x x

A Detroit newspaper makes the sage observation that peace isn't going to be a horse trade. In other words Germany is going to have to give up a great deal more than she is prepared to relinquish at the present time.

x x x

The Crown Prince is so busily engaged conducting the "masterly retreat" of his armies that he will hardly have time to enter a libel suit against the Guelph Herald for dubbing him the Crown Sprintz.

x x x

The Germans are welcome to whatever comfort they can derive from the shortening of the Western battlefront as a result of the recent retreat. The Allies have also shortened their front and if the Germans now need less men to defend the line the Allies will be able to concentrate larger striking forces wherever they choose to make attacks.

x x x

When the German people regain their senses they will hesitate about doing honor to the scientists who invented the Hun gases that have been responsible for so much of the frightfulness of the present war. They will find scant reason for pride in the fact that in the latter days of the war a Hun invented a new gas that completely blinded its victims by destroying their eyesight.

Tuesday's dailies contained the greatest news that has come from France for many months. The penetration of the Drocourt-Queant switch line is not only an important victory, but shows that the Allies have solved the problem of carrying entrenched positions no matter how thoroughly they may be protected by wire entanglements and concrete works. The solution of this problem marks the beginning of a new phase in the war —a phase in which superiority in men, methods and material is going to count heavily in favor of the Allies.

The Globe states that bronze statues in Germany, including those of some of the Hohenzollerns, are being thrown into the munitions melting-pot. Foreigners who have travelled in Germany will agree that most of these monuments never will be missed by the artistic world. The statues of Berlin especially were among the atrocities which prefigured the horrors of German warfare. Any people whose artistic soul was expressed in these monstrosities, or whose artistic sensibilities could tolerate them, would easily glide into primitive savagery. The kind of culture that in peace evolved these caricatures in the name of art would in war naturally incline to poison gas, baby-bombing, and U-boat murder.

A REFUGE IN SPAIN.

Germany—that is to say, the kaiser and his crew—is making it very uncomfortable for Spain at present. Spain is the most considerable of the neutral powers, and has strained many points, and sullied her self-respect in order to maintain peace with her bullying and brutal brother monarchy. The kaiser is acting in this matter with usual rash folly. He brought the United States into the war by his superciliousness and pride or lust of power. He is taking as high-handed a way with Spain as though he had already conquered the country. It is true that his emissaries have gained great influence by the purchase of the press and the corruption of officials. His intrigues in Morocco with Raisuli have been notorious and have caused Spain great trouble and loss. The deliberate way in which the Spanish ships are torpedoed can by no interpretation be regarded as a friendly act. And when an agreement was assented to for the use of interned German ships, the terms of it were violated the next day by the torpedoing of another vessel. But she does not quite own Spain yet.

The kaiser is improvident. The worm may turn and where will the kaiser go then? Spain is the only retreat left for him, and he can only get there in a U-boat. He should cultivate a friendly attitude towards U-boats among the Spaniards.

The Germans themselves are being educated to the use of U-boats by the imperial family. The kaiser's daughter went to Heligoland recently in one, just to see what it was like, of course, and there was a bulletin issued about it, telling how indignantly she was reprimanded. Camouflage! it was just a trial trip. Fritz and Joachim and all the other boys will be taking trips just to see what it is like, and the All-Highest himself will go down full fathoms five if need be. But where will he go when he has to skin out, if Spain is closed up? Switzerland could not hold him. Nor Denmark. Holland and Sweden do not want him. Norway would not have him. Bulgaria would never do. The Turk is too like him to permit an agreement. It is woeful lack of foresight that puts him on bad terms with Spain. He has no other refuge.—Toronto World.

ROSS MACPHERSON KILLED

Another Orangeville Boy Has Made the Supreme Sacrifice on the Western Front.

In these days of a full and flowing tide for the Allied forces, passing as they are from victory to victory the glad tidings is interspersed with death's toll of the brave.

We regret to report the death of Capt. John Ross Macpherson, D. S. O., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Macpherson, who fell with his face to the foe at the battle of Monchy-Le-Preux, France, on August the 26th, 1918. Captain Macpherson was born in the town of Orangeville and there received his Public and High school education.

For a time he was engaged in the Banking business but later decided to go West where he attended the University of Saskatchewan in the city of Saskatoon where he graduated in Arts.

It is evident he was a young man of no mean attainments, possessing ability which enabled him to occupy the honored position of Editor-in-Chief of "The Sheaf," the University magazine. He was also a contributor to the Saskatoon Phoenix.

When the call for reinforcements came in March 1915, along with some forty others of Saskatchewan University he responded to the call of king and country.

He went overseas in July, 1915, with the first University Company and was afterwards absorbed in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry as a sergeant. Grit and merit will surely find their reward. After eight months he was elevated to the rank of Lieutenant in the famous regiment, a signal honor in these days.

After the debacle of June 1916 at Ypres, Capt. Macpherson found himself second in command of a company, and after taking part in several engagements on the Somme, which he came through scatheless, he appeared as company commander with the acting rank of Major.

Strange and mysterious are the fortunes of a soldier. Through the dark and bloody fighting of the Somme, over Vimy Ridge, with all its horrors, and once again in the taking of Passchendaele Ridge did this brilliant young soldier pass untouched by the ravages of war.

At last, when possibly least expected, his blood co-mingles with that of others in the ratification of a new covenant for humanity.

He sleeps on the far-away fields of Europe in that Cock-pit where so many of the best and bravest have fallen.

We leave him in the sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection, confident that they for whom he died will not break faith but will continue to wage a righteous warfare to a successful conclusion.

We are confident that the general public will join with The Banner in this dark hour in heartfelt sympathy for his much esteemed and respected parents and in the prayer that the God of all mercies may enable them to bear the sad affliction.

Mr. and Mrs. Macpherson have three other sons overseas. One of them, Lieut. Donald Macpherson, who was reported wounded a few weeks ago, won the Military Medal earlier this year for conspicuous bravery on the field of battle.

N. W. BYARD WOUNDED.

The name of N. W. Byard, a former Orangeville man, appeared among the wounded in the official casualty lists a few days ago. Byard, who is a married man, was in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company when he enlisted. He joined the Orangeville Company of the 164th and went overseas with that Battalion.

FORMER EMPLOYEE OF BANNER KILLED

Pte. George Ernest Wright, son of Mr. George J. Wright, 27 Mulock avenue, Toronto, has been killed in action. He went overseas in October 1916, in the band of the Bruce Battalion, enlisting at Walkerton. He had resided in Chesley, Ontario, and was a printer by trade. His father and brother, who were also in the band, were rejected for overseas service. Pte. Wright was 30 years old and was unmarried. The Wright family lived in Orangeville a number of years ago. Pte. Wright started to learn the printing business in The Banner office and was a member of the staff for a couple of years.

N. WELLWOOD WOUNDED.

On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. John Wellwood, of Mono Mills, received a cablegram from their son, Dr. R. T. Wellwood, who is on the staff of one of the military hospitals at Boulogne, France, conveying the distressing news that another son, Norman, had been seriously wounded. The message, however, contained the comforting assurance that the young soldier was holding his own and was under the care of his brother. Norman enlisted in Toronto in February, 1916, with the 116th Battalion. He went overseas in July 1917, and was afterwards transferred to the 19th Battalion, with which he crossed to France. He has been in that Battalion ever since. Wellwood was wounded at Vimy Ridge in April 1917, but returned to the front again after his recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Wellwood have already lost one of their sons through the war. Gunner W. J. Wellwood, who went overseas with the 164th Battalion and was subsequently attached to a Machine Gun Section, was killed in action on October 30th, 1917. This is another of the many homes from which the war has taken a heavy toll.

CLARENCE ARTHUR KILLED

Name of an Everett Young Man Among the Canadian Casualties.

Among the homes to which the dread message from the front has come during the past week is that of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arthur, of Everett. Their eldest son Clarence was reported by the Canadian Records office last Thursday to have died of wounds. There was of course no further details. These will follow in due time. The receipt of this intelligence not only prostrated the parents; it cast a gloom over the entire community of Everett and Alliston. Pte. Arthur was a highly popular boy and people were much grieved to learn that he had laid down his life and that his perennial smile and rotund voice had passed out for the sacred cause of liberty. Clarence Arthur enlisted in the 177th Battalion in the fall of 1915 and went overseas with the Battalion in April, 1917. He was identified with the Alliston platoon and spent the winter of 1915-16 in town. Pte. Arthur was a young man of magnificent physique and was the tallest man in his company if not in the entire Battalion. His stature was not greater than his good nature which never ceased to cheer and win friends on short contact. Pte. Arthur was married and besides his parents and other relatives is survived by a young wife and a little son who will never see his daddy.—Alliston Herald.

Pte. Arthur is a nephew of Mr. E. J. Arthur, Church street. His parents formerly lived in Mono.

"JIM" WARD WOUNDED.

The name of Jas. G. Ward, of Hillsburg, appeared in a list of wounded soldiers in the official casualty lists one day last week. Ward, who is an enthusiastic Orangeman, is a Past County Master of Dufferin L. O. L. and is well known to members of the Order throughout the county. He went West a couple of years ago and enlisted in a Highlanders battalion in Winnipeg. He has been in France since early this year. His father, Mr. Thos. Ward, now living in Hillsburg, was formerly a farmer in East Garafraxa. Mr. W. J. Gordon, Margaret street, is an uncle.

LT. F. FERGUSON WOUNDED

Lieut. Foster Ferguson, formerly proprietor of the Orangeville Business College, was severely wounded on August 10th. He is lying in the 8th General Hospital, suffering from fractured thigh and gunshot wounds. Lieut. Ferguson has seen 20 months' active service and has won the Military Medal. A few months ago, his wife, who is ably filling his position in the Spotton Business College, Wingham, was presented with additional bars to the medal for further bravery by the Governor-General. His many Orangeville friends will wish Mr. Ferguson a speedy recovery and a safe return to his old position.

F. PATTERSON WOUNDED.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Patterson received a telegram from the Ottawa Records Office on Friday informing them that their son, Fred Patterson, had been admitted into the 49th Casualty Clearing Station on August 22nd. His injuries, which were doubtless sustained in one of the recent battles on the western front, are described as "gunshot wound, multiple." The young soldier enlisted in the 201st Battalion in the spring of 1916. Shortly after he went to Camp Borden with the Battalion, he was transferred to the Mississauga Horse. After he went overseas he was transferred to the 75th Battalion with which he has been connected ever since. This is the second time he has been wounded, he having received a gunshot wound in the shoulder at the Vimy Ridge battle in April, 1917.

ALLIES' GREAT ADVANCE.

Germans Unable to Hold Back Marshal Foch's Victorious Armies.

Tuesday's dailies brought great war news from the Western battlefront. Field Marshal Haig reported that Australian troops had recaptured Peronne, an important railroad centre taken by the Germans in their offensive last March. The towns of Bullecourt and Morval were also taken by the British. British troops have reached the suburbs of Lens and large fires in the neighborhood of Lens and Armentieres are believed to indicate a further German retirement.

All along the western battlefront the Germans continue to give ground before the entente Allies. Daily the trend of events accentuates the insecurity of the German lines and the inability of the German high command to hold back the aggressors.

Where two months ago great salients projected into the allied front these have either been flattened or are in the process of being blotted out, and in some instances the Allies themselves have driven in wedges that seriously menace the enemy.

With the Marne and Picardy sectors now virtually all reclaimed, the wings of the present allied offensive are moving in a manner that bodes ill to the Germans. In the north the wing on the Lys salient southwest of Ypres gradually is bending in under voluntary retirements and the pressure of Field Marshal Haig's forces. Following the fall of Kemmel, the allied line has been moved further forward until it now rests almost upon the Estaires-La Bassee road, less than seven miles southwest of Armentieres. By the wiping out of this salient the menace to the channel ports has been overcome.

On the southern wing north of Soissons the French and American troops are continuing their progress, notwithstanding the violent opposition of the enemy. The villages of Leury and Grecy-au-Mont have been captured, and, crossing the Ailette, a footing has been gained in the woods west of Coucy-le-Chateau, through which passes the railroad line running from Chauny to Laon. Large numbers of prisoners have been taken in these operations.

From Arras southward to the vicinity of Noyon, the British and French troops have made further remarkable gains, gauged both by the extent of the territory delivered from enemy hands and its strategic importance for further manoeuvres.

Peronne, the last important town in German hands on the Somme river, has been captured by the British, who have passed on eastward and northward with steady strides, notwithstanding the resistance of the enemy. Bouchavesnes and Rancourt and the high ground adjacent to them also are British, and Field Marshal Haig's men have arrived at the outskirts of the St. Pierre-Vaast Wood. Further to the north other towns have been taken, including Bullecourt, which last week changed hands several times in violent battles. The Canadians and Australians were in the forefront of the manoeuvres throughout this region and did gallant work. Considerably over 2,000 prisoners have been taken by the British and a few guns also have been captured.

To the south where the French are operating against the Germans along the Canal du Nord there have been violent artillery duels. Seven miles south of Peronne at Epencourt the French have forced another crossing of the canal, and two miles northeast of Nesle they have captured the village of Rouy-le-Petit.

A British official communication says.

"In the month of August, 57,318 German prisoners, including 1,283 officers, were captured by the British troops in France. In the same period we have taken 657 guns, including over 150 heavies.

"Over 5,750 machine guns, and over 1,000 trench mortars have been counted. Among the other captures were three trains, nine locomotives, numerous complete ammunition and engineer dumps, many hundreds of thousands of pounds of gun and trench mortar ammunition, as well as small arms ammunition, and immense quantities of war material of every description."

TWO WIVES.

"My husband tells me that he was out late last night with your husband."

"That isn't so. I want you to understand that my husband was out with your husband.

DISAPPOINTED.

"They're disappointed in their boy."

"In what way?"

"He's in the army."

"Well?"

"He's been in France two weeks now and they haven't heard that he's killed a single German yet."

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer. In most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets cure these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

REPLY TO KITCHENER.

One of the best stories of General Smith-Dorien, who is to take the Gibraltar command, is that which he used to tell against himself of an incident during the South African war. An orderly arrived at his quarters one day with important dispatches which he delivered with a verbal message—this in language that was rather unconventional, judged by his rank. Smith-Dorrien read the dispatches and dismissed the man with a reply that he would be ready to move in two hours.

"And," he added, "say 'please' the next time you speak to me."

The orderly delivered Smith-Dorien's reply to Kitchener:

"What did he say?" he was asked.

"He said he would be ready to move in two hours," the soldier answered, "and would you kindly say 'please' the next time you speak to him."—Exchange.

MELANCTHON STATION.

Several from this district are taking in the Toronto Exhibition this week, although some are willing to deny themselves the pleasure of seeing the sights and prefer to "serve and save" until after the war is won.

The farmers are in the midst of harvest and the crop will be a good one generally in this township.

During the fierce storm of last week, Mr. George Hogg, of the Back Line, had the misfortune to get four head of valuable cattle killed with lightning.

An effort is being made at Ottawa to allow Corp. George McAuley to come home from the front for a while to see his mother and family. George was among the first to join the ranks when the war began in 1914 and has been on the firing line ever since.

CAMILLA.

Mrs. Gemmill went to Orangeville one morning last week to see her sister, who was on the up train, en route to her home in China.

Among those who went to Toronto for the Exhibition were: The Parks family, Mrs. Robt. Marshall, Rev. H. M. Lyon, Arthur Curtis, Christie McAuley, Eldred Little, Miss Lyon, Mr. Rayfield.

Mrs. Stewart Cole is visiting her mother, Mrs. Alex. Bremner.

Mrs. McNaughton and family have returned to Orangeville after a pleasant visit with relatives here.

Dr. Bruce Large, Herbert Laidlaw, Miss Eddy and Miss Large motored over from Rochester, N. Y., to spend the holiday with Messrs. Dougal and Dan Large.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Anderson, of Toronto, visited the former's brother, John, over the holiday.

Miss Rilla Marshall, of Toronto, is visiting friends here.

Rev. Mr. McKenzie of Toronto occupied the pulpit here Sunday in the interests of War Relief Work. The generous sum of three hundred and four dollars was given by those present for the relief of starving Belgium.

Messrs. Cunningham and Young, of Toronto, were the guests of Alex. Scott over Sunday.

MONO EAST PARISH.

Harvest services will be held in St. John's church, Hockley, on Sunday, September 8th, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., new time. A service will also be held in Mono Mills Anglican church at 3 p.m., new time. Rev. P. C. Howard, of Mono West parish, will be the speaker at these services. A special offering will be taken at each service for Diocesan Foreign Missions.

EAST GARAFRAXA.

Farmers in the eastern end of the township are very fortunate this season in securing the services of a complete new threshing outfit, owned by Lee Armstrong and John W. Maxwell, of Farmington. The machine is made by the John Goodison Company, of Sarnia, and can safely be styled one of the most complete outfits operating in Canada. Peter Edwards, "Lovely Weather," pronounces it the most up-to-date outfit he has seen either in Canada or the United States. Chas. Smith, who has had 18 years' experience as a thresher, is in charge of the engine and knows how to handle the throttle with the best of them. Lee Armstrong is a son of John Armstrong, of the second line, Amaranth, and a nephew of Ed. Armstrong, now living in British Columbia. The last named was one of the best threshers in this district in his day and also built many barns in these parts. Lee has the qualities that made his uncle successful in these lines and will worthily uphold the Armstrong reputation for thorough workmanship.

MONO MILLS.

The local branch of the Red Cross Society will meet on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 11th, at 2 o'clock, to pack the next bale of supplies. Those who have work out will kindly make an effort to have it completed by that time.

A cable has been received by Mrs. Robt. Cobean, stating that her foster son, Pte. Reginald Maples, had been killed in action in France.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wellwood have received a cable from their son, Dr. R. T. Wellwood, who is on hospital duty in France, to the effect that another of their sons, Pte. Norman Wellwood, has been seriously wounded.

Pte. Roy Arlow's name appeared in the casualty list recently as being seriously ill in an English hospital.

Trooper Maurice Lee, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, Stanley Barracks, Toronto, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lee, of Adjala, is home on a short furlough.

A special collection was taken up in the Anglican church last Sunday morning to aid the Navy League Fund. As far as we know, no general organization has as yet been formed for the whole neighborhood but we think that the importance of the work would appeal to everyone and they should be given an opportunity to contribute.

There will be Harvest Home Services in the Anglican church on Sunday, Sept. 15th. Morning service at 11 a.m. and evening service at 7 p.m., daylight saving time. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. F. Carpenter of Hornings Mills.

Senator Willoughy, of Moosejaw, Sask., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mills on Sunday last.

Early on Thursday morning last the fine bank barn on Mr. Mark Varey's farm, 7th line, Mono, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The entire season's crop was also destroyed with the exception of a few loads of oats still in the field. A threshing machine belonging to McKenna Brothers, which was stored in the barn, was burned along with the other contents. Mr. Varey's loss will be very heavy and profound sympathy is felt for him in his serious misfortune. It is estimated that the total loss will reach $4,000. There was $1,000 insurance on the building and also $1,000 on the contents, but this will not begin to cover the loss. A number of the people of the neighborhood showed their sympathy in a practical form by contributing a substantial sum of money which was presented to Mr. Varey a few days ago. This is the kind of sympathy that counts.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

The regular monthly meeting of Lord Dufferin Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire will be held at the home of Miss A. L. Clarke, Prince of Wales Road, at 3.30 p.m. on Friday, September 13th.

An executive meeting of the Chapters will be held at the home of Mrs. Dahl, on Friday evening, Sept. 6th, at 7.30 p.m.

During the month of September the Red Cross rooms will be open on Thursday afternoons.

There are still a number of kit bags to be filled and any person wishing one to complete may obtain the same by calling at the Red Cross rooms. Those who have kit bags filled, or sox knit, will please bring or send them to the rooms.

HOW DISABLED SOLDIERS ARE BEING MADE OVER

WONDERFUL WORK THAT ITALY IS DOING TO HELP MEN TO BE SELF-SUPPORTING.

Article by Professor Riccardo Galeazzi, Lieut.-Colonel of Italian Medical Corps.

(Professor Galeazzi is at the head of the Milan Institute for the After-Cure of Disabled Soldiers. The article herewith presented is published by the Current History Magazine)

Our idea is that the future prospects of a disabled soldier must not be built upon his assurance of obtaining a pension, but upon the rebuilding of him physically, and the retraining of him technically, to take up a self-supporting position in life.

Therefore ,there must be no scrapping of the broken soldier. When we bring him from the battlefield, and find that a limb or limbs have to be amputated the soldier thus wounded is placed in a special category and we cannot discharge him from the army until every care has been taken to rebuild him physically, morally, and professionally. Then, having given him his limbs and his re-education gratuitously, we also give him gratuitously whatever implements or machinery may be necessary for him to practice his new trade. Not until then do we put him on his new road of life.

The organization for the different stages of this treatment is interesting. In Italy each army corps has its special province or district. And each of those geographical sections has a complete organization for the care of the disabled. There is the surgical hospital, the ortheopedic institute, and the school for retraining the soldier in whatever trade he may be capable of following.

When the amputation wound is sufficiently healed in the surgical hospital, we give the soldier a month's leave, fitting him with a temporary limb for use during that time. When the month is out—that is, before he has had time to get into lazy habits at home or suffer from the effects of misdirected sympathy—he must enter the school for the re-education of the disabled. To this school is also attached the orthopedic institution. Here he has his definite set of limbs fitted. A plaster cast is taken and each limb is made with particular individual care; and during the first weeks of its use the soldier is under the constant supervision of the doctors, so that they can alter the artificial limbs according as any defects become manifest.

I may also say, for it is an important point, that the limbs made for the common soldier are the same as those made for the Colonel, and the one gets them gratis just as the other does. Not only that, but we have a National Institute whose duty is to take care of these limbs, renew them and alter them free of cost, as long as the soldier lives.

What are the limbs like? Well, for instance, even where a man has lost both hands, we have fitted artificial ones which enable him to write with pen or pencil, to use knife and fork, to button his clothes, and to shave with a safety razor. Thus we get rid of the constant depression from which a soldier would otherwise suffer were he to feel dependent upon some friend for every hand's turn in his daily life.

One of the great sources of success in applying these limbs is the special Italian system, the theory of which was laid down by Vanghetti, of making the amputation so that the muscles from the living part of the arm can be attached in such a way to the artificial limb as to get an organic muscular connection. Thus the natural muscles of the living arm actually can be got to work the artificial fingers or leg, as the case may be. I have made several of these connections with full success. And the system is now becoming almost the rule all over the country. It is a special Italian invention, though some of the German professors want to claim the credit for it.

The most important feature, however, of our Italian system is the insistence on retraining. If the soldier's disablement does not allow him to follow his ordinary calling in life, and if he be not of independent means, he is absolutely bound to spend at least a month or six weeks in the training school. There he is asked to choose a trade or calling in keeping with his physical ability. We keep him for at least about six weeks, and show him the whole system in working order. Of course, if he cannot be persuaded, we must allow him to go home, for, after all, we are a free country. But when he remains he is put through a thorough course of training.

During these first weeks in the school the new limbs are fitted, for the school works in connection with the orthopedic institute. In the school we teach the illiterate peasants to read and write. We teach all sorts of designing and drawing, all commercial subjects, all the artisan trades, and also technical farming. Generally we give preference to these trades that can be practiced at home; and we do not encourage largely such trades as would call for work in large factories. In the case of farmers or farm laborers, who are too seriously injured to undertake the heavy work in the fields, we teach them the finer technique of vine culture, wine making, cheese making, &c., &c.

And it generally happens that these disabled men return to life better fitted for their work than they were before the war.

THE LIMIT IN COLLARS.

The Knut—It's simply absurd! What's the use of showing me low-cut collars like these? Do you mean to say you keep nothing taller?

Shop Girl—I'm sorry, but our next size is cuffs.

THE STRUGGLE FOR LENS.

One of the Places Where Canadians Won the Day.

Lens, now so famous owing to the fighting that has raged for its possession from the early days of 1915 to the present day, was, before the war, a town of some 35,000 inhabitants. It is situated in the Department of Pas-de-Calais, 17 miles southwest of Lille.

The size and importance of the place cannot be gauged by the population of the town itself, explains Major C. J. C. Street, R.G.A., author of "With the Guns," etc. Lens is merely the nucleus of a large colliery district, a mass of bricks and mortar, dominated every few yards by tall chimneys and massive winding-towers. Round the town itself lies a mass of suburbs, locally known as cities, each consisting of a group of miners' dwellings, or corons, clustered round a central pit. To the eastward a series of straggling towns stretches in almost unbroken continuity as far as Douai.

Lens was a town before the exploitation of the coal field that surrounds it, but it has made only one important appearance in history. This was in 1648, during the Thirty Years War. On Aug. 20 of that year the French, under the leadership of "The Great Conde," inflicted a severe defeat upon Spaniards at Lens.

This part of Artois is a country of low chalk downs and wide shallow valleys, under cultivation up to the very edges of the spoilbanks, or crassiers, that surround the mouths of the pits. Lens itself lies on the little river Souchez, long since canalized and connected to the Canal de la Haute Deule, which runs from Douai to Lille. But the natural features of the district are almost entirely overshadowed by the artificial features produced by the local industry. The most conspicuous of these are the spoilbanks, where the refuse from the mines is tipped. Sometimes these are conical in shape, like the huge Twin cones of Auchel, or the lesser ones of Philosophe and Vermeller, sometimes they stretch like huge black fingers across the country, as at the famous Double Crassier of Cite St. Pierre.

By the side of the crassiers rise tall mine-shafts, of which the Pylons at Loos was the most noticeable. This extraordinary lattice-girder tower stood up 300 feet from the level plain, utterly dwarfing the hills about it, and was plainly visible from the hill of Cassel, nearly thirty miles away. Besides the winding shafts, a forest of chimneys and water-towers bewilders the eye, sometimes in regular groups, like those of the Societe Metallurgique du Pont a Vendin at Wingler, or of the coal-ovens of Annay, sometimes singly, as in the suburbs of Lens itself.

In May, 1915, the British line was extended from the La Bassee Canal to a junction with the French at the Noeux-les-Mines-Lens Railway. The fourth corps took over the new sector, and on Sept. 25 the Loos attack was launched by the first, fifteenth and forty-seventh divisions, the latter composed entirely of London Territorials. The fighting lasted until Oct. 13, by which time the British line had been advanced to a considerable depth over a wide front.

But the domipating position of Hill 70, north of Lens, from which observation can be obtained into the town itself and over much of the country beyond, had not been won, despite desperate efforts on the part of the guards division on the days following the first assault; nor was a frontal attack made upon the town of Lens.

It was not until the spring of 1917 that any further attempt was made upon this sector, although early in 1916 the Germans succeeded in driving the British from some trenches about Souchez. But on April 9, 1917, the British first and third armies delivered an attack on a wide front, of which the northern sector was the ground before Lens.

The Canadian divisions, by the capture of Vimy Ridge, made the German positions in this area untenable, and forced them to withdraw. By the evening of April 14, the whole of the town of Lievin was in Canadian hands, and the line ran thence to the old British front line north of the double crassier. Great quantities of ammunition of all calibres, as well as several guns, and stores and material of every kind were abandoned by the Germans in their retreat.

Another lull ensued on this sector, lasting until Aug. 15. Early in the morning of this day, the Canadian corps attacked on a front of four thousand yards east of Loos. Their objectives were Hill 70, the plantations about it, and the western and northwestern suburbs of Lens. Practically the whole of these objectives were gained rapidly at light cost, and in exact accordance with plan. Only at the farthest apex of the advance, a short length of German trench west of Site St. Auguste resisted the first assault. This position war captured next day, and the whole extent of the advance was held in the face of determined counter-attacks. Over one hundred prisoners and a great quantity of booty were taken.

SEEDING OF ALFALFA.

Ten pounds of alfalfa is the right amount of seed to sow for fall planting, as shown by experiments at the Ohio station over a period of years. This amount has proven more successful than in experiments where 5, 15, 20 and 25 pounds were used to the acre. The fact that only 10 pounds is necessary when the proper conditions for growth are maintained ought to increase the alfalfa acreage this fall, even though alfalfa seed has advanced in price, station men believe.

July and August is the date recommended in Ohio for fall seeding. When planted in a firm, fine and moist seed bed an early fall growth is maintained, which makes it possible for the alfalfa to withstand winter freezing. Ten pounds of seed sown under these conditions produced an average of about 35 plants to 1½ square feet of soil; heavier rates of seeding have been found to produce more plants to the square foot, but the natural thinning process of the thickly seeded alfalfa brings the amount to the 10-pound rate of seeding after several years of growth. The total yields per acre on the thickly seeded plots also have never been as high as those produced when the 10-pound rate was observed.

BEES MUST PROVIDE THEIR OWN SUGAR

In recent years it has been a common practice among commercial beekeepers to sell a maximum of honey and feed their bees in the fall on sugar syrup—the sugar being cheaper than honey.

This year the Food Board says "Nothin' doin'," and the bees must winter on their own stores, though exception will no doubt be made in the case of bees where disease is prevalent, and where it would be dangerous to feed their own stores.

The Food Board appears to be quite justified in its stand, as it takes something like 20 pounds of sugar to winter a colony of bees, and some large apiarists would use up a carload of sugar in the season.

This will mean that a large, much larger portion of the honey crop than usual will be retained for the bees themselves, and that an already dear product will be dearer still as a result. And, of course, it is hard on the professional apiarist who depends on the bees for his sole living, and requires to sell honey and buy sugar for a maximum of profit.

To be without sugar, on the other hand, is a hardship for householders.

A HANDBOOK FOR THE DAIRYMEN

Report No. 10 of the Canadian Record of Performance for Purebred Dairy Cattle constitutes a hand book that dairymen can hardly do without. It contains the rules and regulations governing the records of performance; the standards for registration; the records of performance of all purebred dairy cattle in the country, convenient summaries of reports, exact details of the records achieved and the addresses of the owners; a record of the cows that have produced sufficient milk and fat to qualify but have failed to freshen within 15 months after the commencement of the test; a list of bulls open to registration and an index to owners. The whole forms a valuable and concise book of dairy records that can be had free on application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

NEW BARN BURNED WITH ALL CONTENTS

Wm. Trudgeon, of the Gravel Road, Melancthon, about three miles north of Dundalk, met with a bad loss on Wednesday afternoon about five o'clock when his new barn was struck by lightning and burned with all the contents. The building was a fine structure of 50x60 feet, just being finished. The builder, Mr. Bert Osland and Mr. Trudgeon were completing some work in the basement at the time the place was struck. The two men had a very close call from death. A piece of timber on Osland's shoulder was splintered by the electric fluid. It seems to be a miracle that both men were not stunned and burned with the building. They soon noticed smoke coming from the haymow and in spite of all they could do could not get the fire under control though they worked till completely exhausted in their efforts to stay the flames. A log barn 30x30 ft. close by was also burned with a quantity of straw. Thirteen loads of hay, five loads of barley, a manure spreader, and about nifty fowl were also burned.—Dundalk Herald.

BACK FROM OVERSEAS.

Flieut. Lieut. Ross Lyons returned on Thursday of last week to his home near Riverview and was in Dundalk on Saturday. He is looking particularly well after his experience overseas. He was a student at Dundalk High School when he enlisted two years ago and went overseas, joining the Flying Corps. In 1917, while solo flying in England, he met with a mishap when his plane refused to respond and fell to the ground, several hundred feet. Ross had his arm broken and was pretty badly bruised and shaken up. The machine was a complete wreck. The military authorities have pronounced the young aviator unfit for further service and he has been given his discharge.—Dundalk Herald.

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM.

"Father," said the small boy, "what is constructive criticism?"

"Constructive criticism, my son, is your own line of talk which, if offered by some one else, would be called ordinary faultfinding."

WHENCE CAME THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR?

We turn back to our boyhood days and find it and the summer picnic as one of the great events of the year. If we had asked our fathers or our grandfathers they would have told us that in their boyhood days the Fair was present too, unique in importance as it is today.

The roots of the Fall Fair as we have it in our towns and cities each year go back a long way, nearly a thousand years, to the times of saints and pilgrimages and holy places. Historians tell us that here, the Fair had its rise. At intervals, devout people made pilgrimage to the "holy places." Long distances they tramped, through robber infested forests and over desert-like wastes. They did not go empty handed but carried with them the best gifts they could afford, to be given to the monks who resided at the "holy place," cherishing and perpetuating its traditions. These gifts were for the most part fruits of the land, products of the soil which the pilgrim himself had raised by the work of his hands and the sweat of his brow. Toward the latter part of the Mediaeval period these pilgrimages came to be held at definite times of the year and were called "faire."

It is a far cary indeed from such fairs to the ones which we have in the present day but the development can easily be traced. The Fall Fair had its beginning in a religious ceremony.

Canada claims the honor of holding the first Agricultural Fair on this side of the Atlantic. In the spring of the year 1765 a few of the leading men among the settlers of the district surrounding the village of Windsor, Hants County, Nova Scotia, met together, and discussing ways and means of improving the stock of the settlement, decided to hold a competitive fair. A subscription list was passed around and something over ten pounds sterling in all was collected, also certain articles of clothing and household furnishings were donated for prizes. The date was fixed for May 21st of the same year.

On the appointed day every man in the settlement laid aside his axe and his grub hook, and took his family to the Fair People from other settlements arrived too, and Indians came in from the bush. What a brilliant, many-colored picture they must have made as they crowded down the streets of the little town! Soldiers in the gorgeous red and gold of his Majesty's uniform, settlers in homespun gray, Indians in deer skins, feathers and paint, with here and there the shimmering silk of a grand dame's gown.

The historical details of this first American Agricultural Fair are scant. A newspaper of the time records that "prizes were offered for cattle, horses, sheep, butter and cheese," so that we see that the housewife had a chance to show her skill as well as the farmer himself. There were also entertainment features. The young men of the settlement were given an opportunity to display their strength and skill in wrestling and for the winners in this were offered as prizes "a laced hat, a pair of spurse and a pair of shoes with buckles."

We can well imagine that this first Fair was a huge success and that all went home pleased and better informed for what they had seen. All honor to the men who organized the first Agricultural Fair in America, for from this small beginning has grown an institution which has since helped in a thousand ways.—Rural Canada for August.

TURNING DESERTS INTO GARDENS

(1) Bird's Eye View of the Bassano Dam.
(2) The Dam Under Construction.
(3) The Sluice Gates Open.
(4) Distributing the Water.

OUT on the prairies of Western Canada and among the mountain valleys of British Columbia, deserts are being turned into gardens by the application of life-giving waters.

Every desert is a potential garden if this one chief necessity is met, though it is not fair to use the word desert or even an arid region, for Alberta is neither arid or desert. But nature may often be assisted in her great task of production, and this is what the irrigation systems of the Canadian West are doing.

In Alberta the Canadian Pacific Railway is developing the largest individual irrigation project on the American continent, with an area larger than the total irrigated area in either Colorado or California. Portions of a tract of three million acres will be included in this prosperous and fertile so-called "dry belt" region. The western section is already completed, including sixteen hundred miles of canals and ditches. The eastern section is in process of development where twenty-five hundred miles of canals and ditches will be required for the service.

On April 25, 1914, the great irrigation dam at Bassano, Alberta, was opened. Built across the Bow River, eighty miles east of Calgary, the huge structure, 7,500 feet long, will conserve the water of the Bow for the eastern section. Another great engineering work, which will serve the same tract, is a giant aqueduct at Brooks, thirty miles east, two miles in length, which carries the waters of a branch canal over a wide valley.

One has only to visit this great undertaking of the Canadian Pacific Railway to realize not only its magnitude but the results it will, indeed is, producing. Here is one of the smaller radiating ditches, filled with rippling water. On either bank nature has responded with a luxuriant growth, and a garden of productivity is the result. The wheat fields extend in another direction, showing a fine head of grain after imbibing the thirst-quenching waters, for nature thirsts as do humans. All kinds of growths prosper—fruits, cereals and garden truck, while dairying and live stock growing flourish wherever there is an irrigation canal. The country is filling up with what are called dry farmers for the waters ensure a practical certainty of crop. A six-year yield of Marquis wheat on irrigated land ran forty-four bushels to the acre, compared with only 29 on non-irrigable lands. Here the C.P.R. provides their Ready-Made Homes, where the settler is assisted generously in establishing a foothold.

Through southern British Columbia the effect of irrigation systems is shown in the flourishing orchards of the Okanagan, Arrow and Kootenay Lakes country, along the Cariboo road and in many another section. Thus this most ancient of natural aids as it is the most modern, dating from the Garden of Eden and continuing to the Alberta irrigation system is one that has contributed to the world's productivity and to Canada's wealth.

DAMAGE BY STORM.

Very heavy electrical storms passed over this district Wednesday afternoon of last week. Many farmers had stock killed, among them being: Geo. Hogg, Melancthon, four head of cattle; John Westecott, Melancthon, three head of cattle; John Donkin, of Melancthon, one ewe; Clifford Hand, Mulmur, thoroughbred heifer; R. Island, Mono, nine head of cattle; Geo. Maharg, Mono, cow; Wm. McEwen, Mono, three head of cattle.

The new barn of Wm. Trudgeon, near Dundalk, was struck and burned.

The following had their houses struck and damaged: McCabe Bros., Riverview; Emory Doan, Honeywood, and John Dean, Terra Nova.

Telephone poles, trees and windmills were struck freely. At Jessopville a bunch of six or eight telephone poles in a row were splintered.

At Geo. Hogg's, Melancthon, the lightning struck three times, doing no particular damage until the third time, when four head of cattle were killed.

In Shelburne, part of the front of Tipling's blacksmith shop, Owen Sound street, was torn off by the wind. Lightning nearly demolished a walnut tree in the back garden of the residence on Second avenue occupied by Earl Banks and owned by Mrs. Chas. Kinsley.

One of the tricks of the storm was on the farm of Wm. Stone, of Melancthon, where the lightning struck a stack of oats in the field and consumed it.—Economist.

WHAT ABOUT THE BRIDGE?

It is now well on to six months since the Amaranth street bridge went down stream in the big flood, and still there are no signs of it being replaced. Within a few days of the bridge being destroyed the County Bridge Committee with the County Engineer visited the site and at a special meeting it was decided to place a cement structure over the river. This energy gave hopes to the village that this important link to the country east of the place would be in shape for the fall and winter traffic, but somehow, somewhere, something went wrong. The officials were too busy to look after a little thing away to one end of the county, which might be to the benefit of other places if left undone. The plans were not prepared till quite recently, and so far the job has not been let. At this late date it is practically impossible to have such a structure in place this season. The whole situation is none too creditable to the officials, for the bridge is essential to a large business coming to Grand Valley from the western part of Amaranth.—Star and Vidette.

Black as Dirt About the Eyes

Liver Was All Upset and There Was Pain Under the Shoulder-blade — Two Interesting Letters.

So many people suffer from derangements of the liver that we feel sure these two reports, just recently received, will prove interesting reading and valuable information to many readers of this paper.

Mrs. F. L. Harris, Keatley P.O., Sask., writes: "I was suffering from liver trouble—had a heavy pain under one shoulder blade all the time, and was nearly as black as dirt around the eyes, so I concluded to try some of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and before I had taken one 25c box the pain had left me and I commenced to gain in flesh, and by the time I had taken two boxes I was completely cured and felt like a new person. My trouble was caused by heavy work out-of-doors, and, of course, heavy eating and constipation. I would advise anyone suffering from kidney or liver trouble to give Dr. Chase's Pills a trial."

Mrs. Charles Terry, Tweed, Ont., writes: "Before I was married I was troubled with enlargement of the liver. My liver became so enlarged that you could detect the swellings on either side, and it was only with difficulty that I could get my clothes on. A friend advised me to get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and take them. I commenced this treatment, and used nine boxes, which cured me at that time. Then, about two or three years afterward I was troubled again with the swelling, but only on my right side. I secured some more Kidney-Liver Pills, and took them, which finally cured me. I have not been troubled in this way since. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anyone having kidney or liver trouble.

"We have also found Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine excellent for coughs and colds. In fact, any of Dr. Chase's medicines which we have used have been good."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmanson Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

JUGGLING WITH FACTS

HUNS STILL CLAIM U-BOATS ARE WINNING.

Sample Speech Delivered In Munich Shows How the German People Are Deceived by the Authorities, Who Declare That England, France and Italy Are Being Starved Out.

HOW the German Government attempts to convince its people that the ruthless submarine warfare is after all not a failure, but only a necessary element of its "great offensive," is shown in an address recently delivered by Capt. Bruninghaus of the German navy before the Deutsche Wacht, a pan-German Fatherland society of Munich. A translation of the article follows:

"There can be no doubt that the situation, not only in the British Isles, but also in France and Italy, has been so aggravated since September of last year by the U-boat warware that, as a matter of fact, as stated by the British Food Dictator as early as the end of September, the number of ships is no longer adequate to the needs for them. This opinion can be found in papers of all shades, from purely pacifist ones to the most jingoistic that are now directed by the present Minister of Propaganda, Lord Northcliffe.

"The misleading jugglery of figures in net tons, gross tons, and cargo tons has, in fact, not only deceived the people in Britain, but also misled many among us. As a matter of fact, there were sunk up to March 1, 1918, 15,500,000 registered gross tons, of which 10,270,000 tons were sunk since the beginning of the unrestricted submarine warfare. If we assume that about two-thirds of the cargoes of these ships would have gone to the advantage of the Entente, 205,000,000 hundredweight of munitions, food supplies, raw material, and other commodities were withheld from our enemies in the last thirteen months.

"Among these ships up to the end of December alone there were twenty-seven transport vessels and 565 ships carrying war materials. Now, in the matter of finished munitions and high explosives, this represents the amount required for twenty-five divisions for a full month of great offensive operations. In the last quarter of the year this amount has greatly increased. From this can be gathered how extraordinarily effective the offensive on the sea has anticipated that on land; and the navy is proud of it.

"To-day the attempts to mislead over there no longer succeed. Plain proofs of this are at hand. Whether we regard the cargo conditions from the point of view of the Entente cargo space or of the total world cargo space, the case is fundamentally the same. In the first case we must add the tonnage available for our foes from other sources; in the second case we must make deductions for the needs of the non-belligerent states after the war—to be sure, not arbitrarily, as, for example, has been in counting as to the advantage of our enemies among the total world tonnage, the tonnage of German, Austrian, and Turkish shipping that lies in our own harbors, amounting to 4,000,000 tons. There are to-day at hand many German, neutral, and enemy calculations which all uniformly agree that the continuation of the war will soon be impossible for our enemies by reason of lack of cargo space.

"The expectations of new shipbuilding have till now proved deceptive, and we may count upon the fact that for 1918 the losses through submarines will remain more than double the tonnage available for the Entente through new shipbuilding. As for the assumption that the submarine warfare will diminish by reason of increased defensive measures, there is no foundation for that. The system of convoying ships has great disadvantages. Aside from the sinkings, the number of damaged ships is very large. The natural loss through accidents is at least commensurate with the new shipbuilding that countries aside from Britain and America can furnish.

"The material assistance through America has not increased owing to America's entry into the war, but rather has diminished; and as for its military assistance, we can afford to pass over that altogether. The opinion that America entered the war because of unrestricted submarine warfare, which is still voiced here and there, does not stand the test of serious criticism. Far truer is the explanation voiced by a New York bank magnate, who said:

"'Your paper'—that is to say, for the billion dollar contracts in war materials—'is of value only when stamped with victory. We have taken a mortgage on your triumph. The shadow of American capitalism stood behind the President when he handed Bernstorff his passports.'

"On the other hand, there has already been an increase in prices in America, amounting in one year to $5,000,000,000, and this continuation of the war is growing constantly a worse business for America. The material distress of the Entente has not grown less through the entry of America into the war, but has rather grown worse, and it will not prevent our victory. Rationing in England is the confession that it will not hold out much longer. This step must lead to a fiasco in a country which imports four-fifths of its food supplies.

"'There is an ugly spirit in the country; the crumble of revolution is in the air. The line that divides hunger and anarchy is very narrow; we are getting dangerously close to it.'

"This is the way they are already writing in England. 'It will not be lack of food supplies alone that will compel the tough Britisher to make peace, but the combination of a lack of material and food supplies and—and this is the important point—the shrinking of its merchant fleet, which has already reached a point where it will scarcely be possible for Britain to win back the position she held before the war.

"Why, then, do the British not already conclude peace? Britain will now make peace only when she cannot do otherwise—after having missed her chance, about the end of September of getting away with merely a black eye. This at least is the point of view of those in power in England. Lloyd George, moreover, tells the public it must be made clear to the enemy that, no matter how long the war lasts, he will never be able to conquer England; but to business men who urged an advantageous peace he expressed himself to the effect that there would always be time for that, because he knew for certain that Germany was ready for such a peace which would spare England, at any time, even in case of a complete victory; and that according to reliable information the internal revolution of Germany was imminent.

"In one thing the British are united: in trying till the last moment to deprive Germany of the fruits of her victory in this war for existence, and to maintain Britain's supremacy on the sea. A kind fate gave us the U-boat that his goal should never be reached by the British and that the freedom of the seas as we interpret it should be achieved."

DETECTED WHISKEY.

Inspector Seized Five Barrels Labelled "Olives" at Oakville, and got $250 Worth of Whiskey.

No inspector in the province is more alert in the performance of his duties than John Harvey, of Acton, License Inspector for the County of Halton. He is constantly on the move throughout the county and a terror to those who aim to violate the provisions of the Ontario Temperance Act.

One of his latest exploits was the seizure at Oakville last Thursday of five barrels labelled "Olives." They were shipped from Montreal to the addresses of men whose names are not known in the lakeside town. Two were addressed to James Robertson and one each to James Stable, Jack Stable and B. J. Snow.

Inspector Harvey has given instructions to every express agent in the county to hold any parcel, box or barrel shipped to an address unknown at the point of delivery. The fact that five barrels were labelled olives and shipped to unknown names gave rise to the suspicion aroused in this case, and when the barrels were opened and ingenious attempt to get past the authorities was revealed.

In each barrel was a small separate compartment, into which the bung hole of the barrel opened. This small section of the barrel contained olives in brine, while the rest of the barrel contained bottles of whiskey in brine. The bottles were all packed tightly in the straw casings, and when opened the straw was soaking wet from the brine. The purpose of having the brine all through the barrel was evident.

The Inspector seized the four shipments and conveyed them next day to the License Department in Toronto.

The members of the Board of Commissioners at the License Department complimented Inspector Harvey very highly upon his discernment and success in forestalling the delivery of this contraband commodity.—Acton Free Press.

FALL FAIRS.

The season for Fall Fairs is upon us with the opening of the Canadian National Exhibition. Exhibitions of this nature, however large or small, have an educational value far beyond the mere competition for prizes and have done wonderful things to help the agriculturists throughout Canada. New machinery for lightening the work on the farm are shown; new varieties of grain are placed in competition with well-known varieties; modern household utensils are shown and demonstrated, live stock of the best varieties in the best condition are shown, and the best feeds for various purposes are discussed amongst the breeders. To the townspeople the exhibition demonstrates many things that they ought to see to appreciate, from the vegetables and grain and live stock to the cooking and fancy work. Even with no attractions the show is well worth attending, but it is anticipated that attractions of a superior order will be at the Orangeville Show Fair on September 17th and 18th.

COUNTRY TOWN'S CHANCE

In conversation with a weekly newspaperman a few days ago the representative of a Toronto firm expressed the opinion that the day of the town merchant has returned if he only realizes it. He pointed out the cost of doing business in the big cities had mounted so high during the past three years that the departmental stores could no longer afford to give real bargains, but that the country merchant, whose costs have not risen in proportion, could undersell the big fellow on almost any article. This seems to be a well founded statement for a few weeks ago the wife of a wage-earner in a nearby town wanted to get a suit of clothes for her little boy. She first visited the local stores that sell that class of goods, examined the quality and got prices. She saw an ad of the departmental store making a special sale of boys' suits and she went to the city next day intending to take advantage of the bargain. In the departmental store she found prices much higher for a poorer quality of goods. As a result she bought her boy a suit at the local store. This is an actual happening. But country merchants have got into a rut and it is really doubtful if they will wake up and take advantage of the opportunities that present themselves today. The war, which has turned everything upside down, has created opportunities at every turn. By advertising, the local merchant, providing he gives values and lives up to his advertising, can greatly increase his business. Under present abnormal conditions, more so than for many years, the town merchant has his opportunity to grasp what logically should be his own.

DR. W. N. BROWN.

The death of Dr. Walter Norman Brown, a well-known Toronto dentist, occurred at his residence, 375 Spadina Road, on Friday last. Dr. Brown was a son of the late Robert and Eleanor Brown, of Roseneath, Ont., and is survived by a widow. The funeral service was held at his late home on Sunday evening, interment taking place at Lindsay on Monday. Many of our citizens will remember Dr. Brown as a teacher in Orangeville Public School. He filled the position of first assistant on the staff about fifteen years ago. His wife, then Miss Fanning, was also a member of the staff. They were married while living here.

MRS. BERT C. BURROUGHES

The death of Mrs. Burroughes, wife of Mr. Bert C. Burroughes, President of the F. C. Burroughes Furniture Co., occurred at her late residence, 194 Westminster Avenue, Toronto, about eight o'clock last Thursday night. Her death occurred after a week's illness. Mrs. Burroughes was 31 years of age and is survived by her husband and a six year old daughter, Helen. Her maiden name was Mary Ann Ferguson and she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, of Orangeville. Her death makes the first break in a family of nine. The surviving brothers and sisters are: Mr. S. H. Ferguson, Winnipeg; Messrs. J. Stuart and Hugh Ferguson, tailors, of Toronto; Sergt.-Major M. R. Ferguson, Toronto Military Headquarters, and Pte. E. Ferguson, in hospital overseas after being wounded in the recent offensive; Mrs. Wardell, Chicago; Mrs. Boyd, Chatham, and Miss Ferguson, Toronto. The late Mrs. Burroughes attended Howard Park Methodist church, and the funeral services at the house and Forest Lawn mausoleum on Saturday were conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. Cleaver, D.D., assisted by Rev. Alex. Langford, D.D., who was the officiating clergyman at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Burroughes.

JOHN J. BUCHANAN.

A well-known resident of the Laurel neighborhood passed away on Thursday last in the person of Mr. John James Buchanan. Death was caused by heart trouble and Bright's disease and followed an illness which had its beginning last December. Deceased, who was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Buchanan, early settlers in Amaranth, was 50 years of age and is survived by a widow (nee Alice Johnston). He was a quiet, industrious man and an excellent neighbor, who enjoyed the good will and respect of the community in which his life was spent. Robt. G. Buchanan, of Amaranth, is an only brother and Mrs. Geo. Young, Laurel, Mrs. Arthur Blackwell, Timmins, Ont., Mrs. Thos. Johnston, Toronto, and Miss Mary Buchanan, Laurel, are the surviving sisters. Mrs. Wm. Bryan, Amaranth, and Mrs. S. Rainbow, Toronto, are nieces. Deceased was a member of Laurel L. O. L. No. 330 and was buried with Orange honors. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and neighbors at the funeral, which was held to Laurel cemetery on Saturday afternoon. The funeral service was conducted by Revs. J. H. Douglas and W. F. Roach and Mr. John Prior. The pallbearers were Messrs. G. W. Hepton, Robt. Fife, John Bryan, W. J. Hamilton, Ed. Lang and Robt. Greason.

DEATH OF MRS. CAMERON.

The death of Mrs. Lila M. Cameron took place at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. J. A. Macleod, 1st avenue, on Saturday. Deceased, who had been in delicate health for some years, was taken seriously ill several weeks ago. She was a kindly, refined woman who speedily won the good opinion and esteem of those who had the pleasure of forming her acquaintanceship during her comparatively short residence in Orangeville. She was the youngest daughter of the late C. R. Sing, Swarthmore Hall, Meaford, and had spent most of her life in that town. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Macleod, Orangeville, and Mrs. A. H. Miles, Toronto, to whom the sympathy of their friends is extended in their time of sorrow. A short service was held at Dr. Macleod's residence at five o'clock on Monday afternoon, Rev. W. M. Morris, the family pastor, officiating. The funeral, which was private, was afterwards held to the C. P. R. station, the remains being taken to Meaford, where the burial took place Tuesday afternoon. The pallbearers were Dr. Macleod, Mr. A. H. Miles, Dr. R. N. Kyles and Messrs. J. L. Island, J. E. Smith and A. D. McKitrick.

MRS. ED. RENNICK.

East Garafraxa lost one of its best known residents last week in the person of Mrs. Edward Rennick, whose death took place in Dr. Campbell's hospital in Grand Valley on Thursday last following an operation for an internal malady that had long baffled the skill of the physicians. Mrs. Rennick was a bright, cheery woman, whose nature contained much of the sunshine of life. If she had troubles she made light of them and the smile and pleasant greeting that came so naturally from her lips made her a friend whom it was always a pleasure to meet. She was an industrious woman whose thoughts, affections and ambitions centred on her home and family. She was a devoted wife and mother and her death means an irreparable loss to the husband and sons, who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the great sorrow that has overshadowed their lives. There are three sons, Clifford, Hamilton and Fred. Mrs. Rennick, who was 49 years, 1 month and 17 days of age, was born on the 16th line, East Garafraxa, and was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ferns. John J., Manasseh and Matthew Ferns, Mrs. Joshua Bradley, all of East Garafraxa, and Mrs. Robert Wansbrough, of Amaranth, are the surviving brothers and sisters. The funeral, which was a very large one, was held from her late residence, lot 1, Con. C., East Garafraxa, to Greenwood cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Rev. A. H. Howitt, rector of St. Mark's church, was the officiating clergyman. The pallbearers were the three brothers and Messrs. Robert Wansbrough, Joshua Bradley and Michael Rennick. A number of beautiful floral offerings bore testimony to the sorrow and sympathy of friends of the family.

HUGH LOWRIE.

There died in Orangeville, on Friday last, August 30th, in the person of Hugh Lowrie, one of nature's gentlemen of the old school, who for many years was a well known figure in the southwestern part of the county. He was born at Ayr, Scotland, on May 2, 1832, and retained to the time of his death the accent and many characteristics of his native land. When scarcely more than a lad he went into the army, enlisting in the 2nd Dragoons, better known on many a hard fought field as the Scots Greys, and with that famous regiment served in the Crimean war, from the spring of 1854 until 1856. His most important engagements were the battles of Inkerman and the taking of Sebastopol, of both of which he could tell many stirring incidents. For his services he received the Crimean and Turkish medals.

Taking his discharge after the war he came to Canada and worked at his trade as a shoemaker. Around the 70's he was employed for several years in Goad's tannery at Hillsburg. In those days, factory-made shoes were unknown, the shoe trade being all custom work, and this concern not only manufactured leather, but employed as many as seventeen shoemakers and made boots for the whole countryside. He later moved to Erin, where he lived for twenty years or more, working first in the shop of Archibald Thompson and later in a shop of his own. From Erin he went to Grand Valley and was for several years in the employ successively of John Small and George M. Lawson. About seventeen years ago he went to Caledon, where he worked in the shop of L. Wilson and for a time in a shop of his own. Returning to Grand Valley he worked again with Mr. Lawson until about nine years ago, when approaching old age rendered further labor impossible, and in default of other home he came to the county refuge at Orangeville, where he died on Friday last. A small compassionate pension granted by the British government in 1910, enabled him to add a few additional necessaries of life to those provided by the county and to end his days in comparative comfort, besides providing for his burial.

He was a rugged, simple-hearted Scot, kind, honest, industrious and generous to a fault. He had been married in his earlier days, but from the time of settling in this part of the country was a widower without family or relatives, although he never lacked friends who esteemed him in the community in which he lived. He died at the age of 86, and was no doubt one of the few remaining veterans of the great Russian war of the last century.

The funeral took place on Saturday from the undertaking rooms of J. H. Hulse to the Forest Lawn cemetery, and was attended by many citizens who had known and respected the old gentleman. Rev. W. M. Morris read the burial service and the pallbearers were Messrs. D. B. Brown, John Park, J. D. Torrie, T. J. Robinson, J. B. Irwin and R. J. McConnell

A GOOD RESPONSE.

St. Andrew's church, Camilla, was visited last Sunday by Rev. A. F. McKenzie, business manager of the Upper Canada Bible Society who unfolded a complex tragedy in his simple but appealing story of the "Tragedy of Belgium." How the historic days of 1914 came back to the congregation when that noble little people of Belgium were compelled to fight or surrender their cherished heritage. She chose to defend her honor and the rights of her people. Tragic has been the result, but glorious will be the victory. How the minds were stirred as they pictured their own smiling fields and active cities of industry compared with the devastated lands and battered walls of Belgium's ancient cities. Hearts were moved and hands outstretched ready to give as they pictured the mothers of Belgium driven from homestead and heath and the children starved and dying in privation and hunger. Camilla congregation at the close of the appeal enlarged her heart and her family when she became responsible for the care of thirty of those storm-tossed, war-stricken pilgrims for one year, subscribing in all $304.00. "Inasmuch as ye have done unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me," has a fitting application to the above circumstances.

SHE KNEW THE SYMPTOMS.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins in a tone that was kind but firm, "did you tell me you were up late last night with a sick friend?"

"Yes."

"What made your friend feel sick? Was he a heavy loser?"

CHILDREN MUST BE PROTECTED

The children must be safeguarded, for, if they do survive the frequent coughs and colds, it is often with the lungs so weakened that they become chronic sufferers from bronchitis or consumption. Being composed of simple ingredients of undoubted value, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is admirably suited as a treatment for children. It is pleasant to the taste. So much so that children delight to take it on this account, as well as because of the quick relief it affords them.

General Rawlinson Is Latest of War Heroes With the British People

WHILE we have heard a good deal of criticism of the "War Office gang" on the ground that those who control promotions in the British army are inclined to favor the leader who was a soldier before the war as opposed to the "civilian in uniform" who has learned all he knows about warfare in the past four years, it is to be borne in mind that the "War Office gang" has used pretty good judgment in picking its generals. Byng, Allenby, Maude and Gough were all professional soldiers long before the war began, to say nothing about Sir Douglas Haig himself. The latest name to be added to those of the generals who have distinguished themselves against the German war machine is Gen. Sir Henry Rawlinson. He, too, is a professional soldier, and the son of a soldier, and under Sir Douglas Haig is entitled to credit for the fiercest smash the British army has made since the war began. It may be that the "civilians in uniform" have not had the opportunities that their abilities deserve, that they have to cope with some prejudice and a lot of red tape and considerable lack of appreciation on the part of the General Staff, but a system that brings men like Rawlinson to the front cannot be wholly bad.

Gen. Rawlinson is the son of Major-Gen. Henry Creswick Rawlinson, first baronet, and himself a distinguished veteran of the Afghan war, and also noted as a translator of the cuniform inscriptions of Persia and Babylon. He was educated at Eton, and later at Sandhurst. At the age of 20 he entered the King's

GEN. SIR HENRY RAWLINSON.

Royal Rifles, and for the past thirty-four years has been in practically every scrimmage where British soldiers were present. In passing, it is to be noted that Rawlinson entered a foot regiment—most of the generals who have distinguished themselves in this war having been originally with the cavalry branch. Rawlinson first saw service as aide-de-camp to Roberts in India, and later served through the Burma campaign, where he won a medal and clasp. On the advice of Roberts, who held a very high opinion of his military gifts, he returned to England in 1889 to enter the Staff College at Camberley. After passing the difficult examinations he was transferred into the Coldstream Guards. From 1894 to 1896 he was brigade major at Aldershot, leaving this post to go with Kitchener to the Soudan as D.A.A.G.

We are informed by Cyril Arthur Player in the Detroit News that Lord Roberts regarded Rawlinson as "the greatest military possibility of his time." This opinion seems to have been also entertained by Lord Kitchener, who wrote of him: "Col. Sir Henry Rawlinson possesses the qualities of a staff officer and a commander in the field. His characteristics will always ensure him a front place in whatever he sets his mind to." This verdict was endorsed by Sir Douglas Haig, who, in reviewing the Somme operations of 1916 wrote: "Generals Sir Henry Rawlinson and Sir Hubert Gough for five months controlled the operations of very large forces in one of the greatest, if not absolutely the greatest, struggle that has ever taken place. It is impossible to speak too highly of the great qualities displayed by these commanders throughout the battle. Their thorough knowledge of the profession and their cool and sound judgment, tact and determination proved fully equal to every call on them."

After the Soudan campaign Rawlinson returned to England a marked man, with a medal and two clasps and official praise from Kitchener such as few men ever received. He was one of the first officers on service when the Boer war broke out, and had the bad luck to be shut up in Ladysmith with Sir George White, to whom he was acting A.A.G. Nevertheless, even in the beleaguered town he had opportunity to make use of his unusual qualities of leadership, and what he did in the way of cheering up the garrison became a legend in the army. When he left Ladysmith somebody observed that the troops began to die as they found life so dull without him. In the latter stages of the war he served with distinction, being three times mentioned in despatches for his handling of a mobile column. As a reward he was made commandant of the Staff College when he got back to England, a most jealously guarded post, which he held for three years. He was in command of the third division on Salisbury Plain when war broke out, and was among the first to cross to France.

He was placed in command of the Fourth Army Corps, which included the Seventh Division, one of the most famous in the annals of the British army. It was the Fourth Army that had to bear the brunt of the German attack, until Sir Douglas Haig with the First could swing into line to fight the first battle of Ypres. Those were dreadful days, with the Fourth Army Corps outnumbered eight to one, and opposing the very cream of the German forces. Later on a captured German officer said that the German command believed that not fewer than four army corps were in the trenches held by Rawlinson's men. What the losses were may be judged from the fact that of 400 officers who had left England with the Seventh Division only 44 were left, and of 12,000 men only 2,236. Gen. Sir Henry Rawlinson combines military qualifications that are very uncommon, the gifts of leadership and personal magnetism, with the ability to plan actions long in advance, and to meet with what amounts almost to intuition every surprise blow the enemy may aim at him. He is beloved by his soldiers and held in respect by those above him, and the further he goes the better he gets.

GRANDMA'S SUGAR BOWL.

The Men Never Stirred Their Coffee In the Old Days.

Of course you remember in the good old days when you went a-visiting down to grandma's on the farm how there were loads and loads of good things to eat. Life was a real joy then, with three meals a day, and every one of them a feast. More than likely the table was in the kitchen, and how big and long it was, almost like a hotel table of those times, and there was need of it being long, with all the crowd to gather around it. There was grandpa at one end, and grandma at the other, with the boys lined up at the tables, and "'Lizbeth Ann" and the "Raggedy Man," and the company from town, and everybody.

There were mounds of "mashed" potatoes and sweet ham and brown gravy, and four kinds of preserves, and—everything good. Midway in this lavishness was a half-way station where the sugar and spoonholder stood. Of course, you remember the spoons, old, thin, silver spoons, with tiny tooth marks on them, and in faded script the initials, "B.A.J." Betsy Ann Jones; that was grandma before she married grandpa.

As for the sugar bowl, it wasn't one of these latter-day skimpy receptacles, with a cluster of fake "gooseberries" hand-painted (?) on the side, nor a near-fern leaf cut in glass. No, ma'am, it was a sugar bowl worth having, as big as an urn or the coffee pot, and how grandma and the boys would scoop the sugar into their cups! "'Lizbeth Ann," as she washed the dishes, would grumble and complain that "them men never stirred their coffee."

A Caricature of Dickens.

The reproduction of a very rare caricature portrait of Dickens appeared in a recent issue of the Dickensian. William Miller was the author of the portrait, which was advertised for in vain by F. G. Kitton, more than twenty years ago, for insertion in his book, "Charles Dickens by Pen and Pencil," says the Christian Science Monitor. Dickens first saw the portrait in question when walking along Piccadilly with Disraeli one day. He was vastly amused and, entering the shop, bought several copies, one of which was sent to the Hon. Mrs. Richard Watson, at Rockingham. In a letter written from Gad's Hill place he says: "I hope you may have seen a large-headed photograph with little legs representing the undersigned. It has just sprung up so abundantly in all the shops, that I am ashamed to go about town looking in at the picture windows, which is my delight. It seems to me extraordinarily ludicrous and much more like than the grave portrait done in earnest. It made me laugh when I first came upon it, until I shook again, in open, sunlighted Piccadilly."

How the Days Were Named.

Considering the strength of the superstition that Friday is an unlucky day, it is surprising to know how this reputation came about. Friday got its name from Frija, the supposed mother of the gods, who was the goddess of peace, fertility and riches. Not much fear of superstition there, surely! Wednesday would have been more likely of superstitious origin, because that was the name for the god Woden (or Odin), supposed to be the father of the gods of war. The other days? Sunday, of course, was named after the sun; Monday for the moon; Tuesday for Tuisco; Thursday for the god Thor, the Roman Jupiter, and Saturday for Saeter, the Roman Saturnus.—Spare Moments.

Fireworks.

One of the most amusing tricks in fireworks is the serpent's egg trick, where a little pellet when lighted turns into a horrible snake, many, many times the size of the pellet. How awe-inspiring it is to the youngster! Most people have no idea what in the world causes the snake to appear. The explanation is simple. Mercury sulpho-cyanid burns with a voluminous ash. The little pelet is nothing more than some mercury sulpho-cyanid. The heat causes the ash to move off so quickly from the burning pellet that it writhes and distorts itself into the shape of a miniature snake.

MILITARY NOTES.

Reginald Brown Gassed.

Pte. Reginald Brown, whose widowed mother lives at 81 Hook Ave., West Toronto, has been gassed. He went away with the Peel Battalion two years ago, is 25 years of age, and was born in Caledon township.

Flesherton Man Wounded.

Pte. Charles W. Hoy has been wounded by gunshot in the right arm and admitted to the 1st Australian General Hospital, Rouen, according to the official notice received by his wife at 740 Gerrard street east. He enlisted in Flesherton in March 1917. Before enlisting he worked on a farm near Flesherton.

Harry Glover in Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Glover received a letter written by their son, Pte. Harry Glover, on August 8th, in which he stated that he was in a hospital with a shrapnel wound over the eye and that he was about to undergo an operation for an injured foot. The letter was written from a base hospital in France. In letters written only a few days previously the young soldier stated that he was feeling fine and in the best of health. Pte. Glover went overseas with the 164th Battalion.

Clinton Lee, of Ballycroy, Wounded.

Clinton Lee, a Ballycroy boy, who went overseas with the 164th, was wounded in action early in August. The official telegram received by his relatives stated that he had been admitted to one of the military hospitals on August 10th suffering from gunshot wound and a compound fracture of the left leg. Lee is a son of Mrs. William Lee of Ballycroy.

Former Orangeville Boy Wounded.

Mrs. Dobson, 30 Maple Grove Ave., Toronto, has been notified that her son, Pte. R. S. Dobson, was admitted to No. 2 Convalescent Depot, Rouen, on August 11th, suffering from gunshot wounds in the right shoulder. He was also wounded in June, 1916. He is 32 years of age and was born in East Garafraxa, near Orangeville. He is a Mason and belonged to the I. O. O. F. He has been overseas three years and in France two and a half years. He was a salesman for the Nasmith & Dale Company for four years prior to enlistment. He is a son of the late John Dobson, who died on May 15th last. His brother Stanley, who had been an employee of the Grand Trunk out West for eight years, is now in England with the C. E. F.

FREQUENT HEADACHES.

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons, and the form of anæmia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by thin blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are under-nourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Charlie Hulse is visiting in Toronto this week.

WHY I BUY AT HOME.

Because this is the place where I make money and this is the place to spend it.

Because my interests are here.

Because I believe in transacting business with friends.

Because the community that is good enough to live in is good enough to buy in.

Because I want to see the goods.

Because I want to get what I pay for.

Because every dollar spent at home stays at home and works for the development of the place.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because I sell what I produce here at home.

Because the man I buy from pays part of the taxes.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge and my home.

Citizens whose coal cellars are still empty can hardly be expected to view the approach of cold weather with their wonted equanimity.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

At the Epworth League next Monday night Mr. Elmer Still will give an address on "A Young Christian's Obligations to the Church." Preparations are being made for the annual League convention which is to take place in Orangeville, Monday, Sept. 23rd.

Mr. Bert Lindsay's solo, "Pilot Me," last Sunday evening, was much appreciated.

The subjects for Rev. E. R. Young's sermons for next Sunday, Sept. 8th, are: In the morning, "Soul Winning." Five minute sermon to children, "A Clean Sheet," and in the evening, "Saving Truths No. III, Knowing that the Goodness of God Leadeth thee to Repentance." Rom. II., 4.

In his sermon last Sunday morning Mr. Young said that the fact that the British sailors had successfully carried over our Canadian soldiers and that not one of them had fallen a prey to submarines or enemy mines was one of the greatest reasons why we should now rise and try to pay some of the debt of love and appreciation we owe them. But this is only one of the great feats the British marines had performed in this war. Having swept the German flag off the Seven Seas so early in the war they were not as much in the limelight as were the soldiers but the way they have carried soldiers and munitions, and carried on the trade between our Allies, and kept the German navy down to mere submarine operations, shows the wonderful power they have and the splendid part they have played in this war. Our leaders may well tell us to remember generously the claims of our sailors, especially the claims of those who have died for us and left dependents.

Cottage prayer meeting this week will be at the home of Mrs. Stanley Wild on Front street.

ROD AND GUN.

The September issue of Rod and Gun is full of good things, stories, and articles instructive to the sportsmen whether he be fisherman, gunner, dogman, or just plain out of doors man. Being in September number, "Wild Duck Shooting," by Bonnycastle Dale, very properly has the leading place in this issue, followed by a fishing story. "Belle of the Big Brule," by George Gilbert; another duck article "Inherited Instinct," by Edward T. Martin; "When the Goose Honks High," by George R. Bolton; "Moonlight and Black Ducks," by F. V. Williams; "The Wild Pheasant on Vancouver Island"; "Three Important Wild Duck Foods"; "Billy Mink's Diary," continued, etc., etc. The illustrations throughout are good and include three full page ones of scenes at the recent Grand International trap shooting tournament at St. Thomas. Rod and Gun magazine is published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

A NOTE OF WARNING.

Many boarding-house keepers and others engaged in the restaurant business in a small way, particularly in the smaller towns and villages, have not yet taken out licenses as they are required to do by the Canada Food Board. These parties are therefore liable to the penalty required by the regulations. It must be borne in mind that a public eating place subject to license is, according to Food Board Order No. 46, "Any place whatsoever - - - - where meals to the number of fifteen or more per day are served or sold to others than members of the family or household of the proprietor or caterer." Persons supplying meals to the number as stated must obtain licenses, otherwise they are liable to fine or imprisonment, or both.

BELIEVES IT HAS SAVED HER LIFE

Superintendent's Wife Gains Thirty-One Pounds by Taking Tanlac.

The following statement, made recently by Mrs. Annie Pasco, 57 Spadina Ave., Ottawa, is not only interesting, but altogether remarkable:

"I have not only gained thirty-one pounds by taking Tanlac, but I firmly believe it has saved my life, and all who knew of my dreadful condition are astonished at my wonderful recovery."

Mrs. Pascoe's husband is superintendent of the J. R. Booth Paper Pulp Mill.

"I had been bothered with stomach trouble off and on for about three years," she continued, "but it was only during the past year that my condition became so serious. I first noticed my appetite failing, everything seemed to taste the same to me and I had no relish for food of any kind. Then I began to suffer from gas, sour stomach and indigestion after meals. I had terrible headaches and felt weak and sluggish all the time. No one will ever know how I suffered, because I cannot describe it. None of my friends or neighbors believed I would live three months.

"I had fallen off from one hundred and seventy pounds to one hundred and thirty-two and got so weak I couldn't walk from the kitchen to the front door without holding on to something. I had to spend over half my time in bed and was so nervous I was afraid to be left alone, and I could hardly sleep a wink at night. I took so much medicine without getting relief I became discouraged and out of heart.

"Finally, I decided to try Tanlac, as I had seen it recommended so highly, and before I finished the first bottle I noticed a decided change in my feelings. My appetite soon got better, the nervousness and indigestion began to disappear and I could feel my strength returning. Then I began to regain my lost weight, and now I weigh one hundred and sixty-three pounds—have actually gained thirty-one pounds—and haven't had a touch of indigestion or stomach trouble in six months. My appetite is fine, I can eat just anything I want without the slightest discomfort afterwards and my nervousness is gone entirely. I am feeling stronger and better than I have in years and am doing all my housework. I think it nothing but right that I should tell others about this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

INVENTS WINTER BIKE.

Mr. Francis X. Frank, a young machinist, employed at the Knechtel factory, has invented a clever device which will enable the owners of bikes to keep right on riding them when summer turns to winter and the snow appears. The invention is called the "bicycle sled" and is adapted from the ordinary wheel by removing the front wheel and replacing it by a small runner and interchanging the rear wheel with a runner attachment and a small wheel with cogs around its outer surface. The invention has been patented in the United States and patent in Canada has been applied for. Mr. Frank has already received one good offer for the sale of the patent and it looks as if his invention may bring him good returns.

ROTTEN U. S. RAINCOATS.

Government agents who were ordered to make an inspection of all military raincoats held in New York by the Quartermaster's Department for shipment to General Pershing's army, have reported that to date they have examined 55,587 coats, manufactured by nineteen different concerns, and that 28,625, or slightly in excess of 51 per cent., were found to be unfit for service. In one instance the inspection showed that 80 per cent. of the coats made by one concern were defective, while in several other instances two out of every three coats were rejected as unfit by the Government inspectors.

To date twenty-three arrests have been made in connection with the so-called "raincoat frauds." Charles B. Brewer, who represents Attorney General Gregory in the investigation, said last night that the report submitted by the inspectors includes only a part of the coats that are in warehouses in this city. The inspection, he added, will be continued until every coat has been inspected. This may require another week.

PTE. WILBERT O'REILLY KILLED IN ACTION

Second Son of Mr. William O'Reilly, of Amaranth, to Pay the Supreme Sacrifice.

On Monday morning Mr. William O'Reilly, of Amaranth, received an official message from Ottawa that his son, Pte. Wilbert O'Reilly, had been killed in action. This is the second son of Mr. O'Reilly to die for the liberty we enjoy, another son, Pte. Austin O'Reilly, having been killed in the first battle of the Somme. Both these young men enlisted in the West where they had been for some time. This family has certainly set an example for devotion to service and sacrifice, four of its members having enlisted, two of whom have made the great sacrifice. Harvey was discharged from the 164th on medical grounds, while another son, Ernest, is still overseas with that battalion.

The price of victory is the blood of our best and bravest. It has been paid without hesitation and in unrestricted measure for the fight for freedom and Canadians will continue to pay it till a lasting and just peace is assured. In the homes from where sons or husbands have gone, the anxious dread waiting, expecting every ring of te door bell will bring the fateful news, must be trying and a great strain. To those others more fortunate can help bear the burden, while all unite in a common sympathy to the families who are called on to lose not one but more of their loved ones.—Grand Valley Star and Vidette.

PTE. A. R. SIMMONS OF DUNDALK KILLED

Official information was received by his parents in Dundalk on Saturday last, announcing the death of Pte. Arthur R. Simmons, who was killed in action on August 14. "Art" was a young man of 24 years, and prior to enlisting in the 164th Halton-Dufferin Battalion in the early months of 1916, was teller in the Union Bank at Shelburne. He went overseas in April, 1917, with the band of that battalion. When the band was broken up he was transferred to the 116th Canadian Infantry battalion in France, where he had been engaged up to the time of his death. Pte. Simmons was a valued member of the bank staff and the Citizens' Band and his death is being regretted by all who knew him here. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Simmons have the sympathy of this community in the loss of their only child and son. The late Pte. Simmons was a grandson of Mrs. Henry Silk and a nephew of Messrs. Robt. and Wm. Silk of Shelburne. He was born here and as a mark of respect the flag on the town hall was raised to half-mast for a couple of days.—Shelburne Free Press.

FINE BARN BURNED.

Farmers at Mount Charles, two miles from Brampton, are getting worried. Three fine barns, with contents, have been burned within a few months, the last victim being A. A. Gage, whose splendid buildings, with the year's hay crop and the grain off 30 acres, as well as implements, went up in smoke one night last week. The house was saved by the efforts of neighbors.

A NASTY ACCIDENT IN HARVEST FIELD

Phil Murphy, of the 6th Concession, Proton, met with a nasty accident in the harvest field on Wednesday of last week when his team, hitched to a binder, ran away. The machine went over Mr. Murphy and he was badly cut up and bruised. A portion of flesh was torn from his leg exposing the cords and requiring 19 stitches. Dr. Martin was the attending surgeon. At last report the patient was getting along as well as could be expected considering the severe mishap.

MRS. W. Q. BROWN.

The death of Mrs. Nancy Brown, widow of the late Wm. Q. Brown of Owen Sound, occurred on Sunday after a long illness. The late Mrs. Brown was suffering from paralysis and for the last two years has endured much suffering and pain. She was in her 71st year and was born in the township of Erin, Wellington county. She came to Owen Sound about fifty years ago with her husband and has lived here ever since. The late Mrs. Brown was originally a member of the Disciples church and later went to the Congregationalist and when that body was broken up she and her family attended the Division Street Presbyterian church. She was a woman that took an active part in church affairs and her many acts of charity made her endeared to all who knew her. At her former home on the Mill Road she was known as a kind neighbor and a sympathetic friend. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. Burt, 3rd Ave., East, and Mrs. Connelly, of Erin; one brother, Robert Lang, also at Erin, and four daughters: Mrs. H. C. M. Jenkins, Winnipeg; Mrs. J. C. McCallum, Lochaber, Quebec; Mrs. David Ross, Swan River, Man., and Mrs. Geo. Ferguson, Owen Sound. Three sons: Lyman and Wilfrid of Owen Sound, and Norman of Moosejaw, Sask., also survive.—Owen Sound Times.

SAVES CHUM'S LIFE, KEPT INCIDENT QUIET

Tommy Boonham, Aged 13, Brampton, Plunges Into Water to Rescue a Chum.

Tommy Boonham, aged 13, of Brampton, is a hero in every sense of the word, having plunged into a swimming hole and after a hard struggle succeeded in rescuing his chum from drowning. Boonham in company with another boy, Herbert Irvine, went to the swimming rendezvous, and the latter got in beyond his depth. Boonham dived into the water and caught the drowning lad by the arm. Irvine, who is but 11 years of age, had gone under the second time. When he felt that help was near he caught Boonham by the hair and pulled him under. With unusual presence of mind the little hero caught hold of Irvine and held him off at arm's length, finally managing to drag him to the bank.

Seeing that the victim was overcome, Boonham began to apply methods of resuscitation, which he had learned in connection with his Boy Scout training, and after arduous work succeeded in bringing him around.

FINISH FOR BILL'S SONS.

Napoleon Bonaparte placed his brother and famous marshals on the thrones of several conquered states in Europe. A writer in the London Spectator imputes to Kaiser Wilhelm a desire to follow the French conqueror, not only in war and diplomacy, but also in appointing relatives or puppets as rulers of Teuton-trampled countries. According to the article, the Kaiser contemplates making his second son, Eitel Fritz, grand duke of Courland; a Saxon or other prince king of Lithunia; another of his sons king of Poland; his fifth son, Prince Oscar, prince of Finland; a more docile Hohenzollern, king of Roumania, while Albania is reserved for Prince William of Wied.

The little son of Jos. Lomas, of Amaranth, had some of the bones in his face broken by a kick from a colt the other day.

TRAGIC AUTO ACCIDENT.

Car Stalled and Backed Down Hill Into Pond; One Lady Occupant Drowned

On Tuesday afternoon between five and six o'clock a very sad and tragic event took place on the Minto and Arthur town line opposite Mr. James Irvin's farm, lot 8, Con. A., Minto.

Mrs. Pender Livingstone and Mrs. Edith Bender were motoring from Listowel to Mount Forest, the former driving her two seated McLaughlin car. They had just passed the culvert at Mr. Irvin's and almost reached the top of a rather steep short hill there when they slowed up to inquire of some children if that was the road to Mount Forest. The car then stalled and began to run down hill. Mrs. Livingstone was unable to get the brakes to work. Mrs. Bender called out that they were running into the ditch. Mrs. Livingstone quickly turned the wheel and the car backed rapidly to the opposite side, broke through the guard railing and over a steep embankment of ten feet, turned completely over, under it into the pond there, on lot 6, Con. 12, Arthur, and pinned the two unhappy occupants under it in water about a foot deep.

The children ran and gave the alarm to Mr. Irvin, who was at tea. He quickly extricated Mrs. Livingstone, who was unconscious for a time, and worked away to rescue Mrs. Bender. When the latter was got out he thought she breathed once but could not be revived. It is likely that she was drowned, but may have been also badly crushed, though no bones were broken. Dr. Reynolds of Mount Forest was telephoned for and later called up Dr. C. A. Jones, coroner, who went out and found the facts as above stated. As the death of Mrs. Bender was purely accidental he considered an inquest unnecessary.

The unfortunate lady was the widow of Mr. Addison Bender, who died only a couple of months ago. She was formerly Miss Ludwig and her home was near Listowel. The ladies were coming just for a drive to take tea with a friend in Mount Forest. The fatality greatly shocked the community.—Mt. Forest Representative.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER TIME

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little life is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly, to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BROTHERS ROSE FROM THE RANKS.

The four sons of Mr. D. Macpherson, librarian of Orangeville Public Library. Their names from left to right are: Lieut. Donald Macpherson M. M.; the late Capt. J. Ross Macpherson, D. S. O.; Lieut. Ewart Macpherson, R. A. F., and Lieut. Douglas Macpherson. The four brothers enlisted as privates and three of them won their commissions on the field. Capt. Ross Macpherson's death was reported in last week's Banner. In St. Andrew's church on Sunday night, Rev. W. M. Morris, who knew the deceased officer intimately, paid a high tribute to his character, courage and ability. The pastor referred to him as a genuine Christian young man of high moral character and withal a fine athlete and lover of manly sports. Lieut. Donald Macpherson, who won his Military Medal for bravery in action, was wounded a few weeks ago and was reported as having been admitted to a hospital in Rouen, France.

FAMILY'S UNIQUE RECORD.

Four Brothers Enlisted as Privates and Won Commissions on the Field.

A remarkable record is that of the four sons of Mr. D. Macpherson, librarian of the Orangeville Public Library. All four enlisted as privates and all four won commissions on the field. Mr. Macpherson has just received word that his son, Capt. J. Ross Macpherson, D. S. O., was killed in action on August 26th.

He was attending Saskatchewan University when war was declared and he immediately enlisted as a private in the 1st University Company. In France, where he has been since July 1915, he was transferred to the Princess Pats and eight months later won his commission. He was promoted in rank last month and at the same time awarded the D. S. O. for distinguished service.

A brother, Lieut. Donald Macpherson, M. M., was wounded three weeks ago. Before enlisting he was a teacher of Annette street school. Another brother, Lieut. Ewart Macpherson, enlisted in the early stages of the war and is with the Royal Air Force while the fourth, Lieut. Douglas Macpherson, has participated with a Highland unit in nearly all the battles in which the Canadians have been engaged.—Toronto Daily Star.

EARL HEWSON GASSED.

An official telegram received from Ottawa on Thursday last brought Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hewson, Zina street, the distressing intelligence that their son, Pte. Earl Thomas Hewson, had been wounded, gassed and also injured by shell shock on Aug. 28th. The wounded soldier, who was only 21 years old last March, enlisted in the Signal Corps of the 164th Batt., in April 1916. He trained at Camp Borden and Westinghouse Barracks, Hamilton, and went overseas with his battalion in April, 1917. He was at Witley Camp in England until last March when he went to France as a private in the 116th Batt. He has been on active service since then except for a few days a couple of months ago, when he was slightly gassed and was off duty for a short time.

ILL IN ENGLISH HOSPITAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haddock, of Relessey, received a cablegram from England a few days ago informing them that their son, Clarence, who went overseas from Niagara Camp a couple of months ago, is seriously ill in an English military hospital.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

Lieut. Jack Sydie, M. C., M. M., son of Mr. Alex. Sydie, of Penville, died of wounds on August 26th. His friends have good reason to feel proud of the achievements of this brave young soldier who won two decorations for courageous conduct in action. He was a cousin of Mrs. S. A. McCartney of this town.

PTE. COCKERILL WOUNDED

Pte. W. T. Cockerill, of Shelburne, reported wounded in Friday's casualty lists, is a son of the late Thos. Cockerill, of East Luther, and a nephew of W. M. and Arthur Cockerill, of Mono. He enlisted in the 153rd Wellington Battalion in November, 1915, and had been overseas nearly two years. He is about 22 years of age and has two brothers and two sisters in Canada.

OWEN SOUND MAN KILLED.

Word was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. B. Dobie, of Chatsworth, last week, that their son, Lt. J. Milton Dobie, had been killed in action on August 28th. For several years prior to enlisting, Lieut. Dobie was associate editor of the Owen Sound Sun. He was highly thought of in Chatsworth and Owen Sound and the news of his death brought genuine sorrow to a wide circle of friends.

H. GLOVER OPERATED ON.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Glover received another letter last Friday from their son, Pte. Harry Glover, formerly of the 164th Battalion. Pte. Glover stated that he was writing from a ward in the Southern General Hospital at Birmingham, Eng. He had been operated on for an injury to his eyesight and also for a shrapnel wound over the eye. He was quite cheerful and expressed the hope that he would be able to be about on crutches [illegible]

GNR. HENDERSON KILLED.

Son of Late Ex-Reeve Hugh Henderson, of Caledon, Makes the Supreme Sacrifice.

Mrs. Janet Blair Henderson, of Guelph, widow of the late Hugh Henderson, of Caledon township, received the sad news on Sunday, Sept. 1, at her home, 103 Arthur street, of the death of her youngest son, Gunner Victor Canham Henderson, who was officially reported as having been killed in action on August 17th. The deceased soldier, who was just 21 years of age, was born in Caledon township, near Alton, and there he spent his early days. The family removed to Guelph some seven years ago and he attended the Collegiate Institute in that city, later taking the civil service examinations at Hamilton and finally receiving an appointment in the inside service at Ottawa, going there about two years ago. It was while he was there that he enlisted with the 73rd Battery at Kingston and went overseas with that unit, but was transferred to a trench mortar battery in France, where he had been for the past five months. He was an exemplary young man in every sense of the word, one who made many friends wherever he went and the news of his death will be greatly regretted by many. He was popular with his companions, many of whom are now serving at the front. His father was the late Hugh Henderson, ex-Reeve of Caledon township, and he was a nephew of Sheriff Henderson, of Brampton. While in Guelph he was an attendant at Norfolk street Methodist church, where he was highly beloved and respected. He leaves to mourn his demise his sorrow stricken mother, one sister, Miss Ethel, at home, and two brothers, Howard, of Welland, and Russell, at home. The sincere sympathy of their many friends will be extended to them at this time.

APPOINTED DISTRICT SENIOR CHAPLAIN

Major A. L. Burch, B. A., formerly pastor of St. Andrew's church, Orangeville, and until recently senior camp chaplain at Niagara, has been transferred to Toronto as acting district senior chaplain. Major Burch went to England with the 74th Batt., and was overseas for fifteen months or longer. He spent nearly a year in France with the 4th Division.

OVERSEAS WITH OFFICERS' DRAFT

Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, of Black's Corners, were in Toronto last week saying farewell to their oldest son, Sergt. Howard Scott, who left the city for overseas on Saturday with a draft of fifty officers from the C. O. C. T. The draft is going to England where the men will take further training to qualify them for offices in the Imperial Army. Sergt. Scott was teaching school at Beamsville, when he enlisted last autumn. The officers were quartered at Burwash hall while training in Toronto.

C. HENDERSON WOUNDED.

Mr. Thos. Henderson, Mayor of Orangeville, and Mrs. Henderson, received a message on Monday afternoon informing them that their older son, Lieut. Clifford Henderson, had been wounded and was admitted to one of the military hospitals on Sept. 2nd. Lieut. Henderson was a first year medical student in Queen's University when he enlisted in March 1915. He went overseas with Queen's Medical Corps in June of the same year and was afterwards sent to Egypt, where he served in a British military hospital near Cairo. Readers of The Banner will remember some excellently written descriptive letters from his pen which appeared in our columns during his sojourn in the land of the Pharaohs. Returning to the Western front Lieut. Henderson was on a hospital staff in Etaples, France, for a considerable time. He then transferred to the 75th Battalion and was in the fighting at Vimy Ridge in April 1917. Shortly afterwards he was sent to England to take a training course for officers. This completed he returned to France on March 10th of the present year. A younger brother, Gunner Will Henderson, is in France with the 17th Battery, Canadian Field Artillery.

—The last chance for the family to have an enjoyable outing this year is to bring them to the Grand Valley Fall Fair on September 19th and 20th. Hitch up and bring all. Automobiles admitted free

Smith Had Been Going Down Hill Eight Years—Gains Seventeen Pounds by Taking Tanlac.

"This Tanlac has put me in shape to where I have gained seventeen pounds," said H. G. Smith, living at the Braud House, Butte, Mont., recently. Mr. Smith has been bookkeeper for the Tramway Mine for the past twelve years, and also owns a valuable ranch at Jefferson Island and is one of the best known and respected men in Montana.

"My stomach has given me so much trouble for the past eight or nine years," he continued, "that I was all the time taking something trying to get some relief. My food didn't seem to digest at all, and my stomach was in such a bad fix that if I leaned against my desk I would almost cry out with pain. I tried doing without meats, and lived on a diet of the very lightest things, but neither that nor anything else helped me. Finally my back got to hurting me so across my kidneys, and I got so tired and worn-out that I would have to lay off some days and rest up. I was troubled with constipation, and frequent headaches and lost weight until I got down to only one hundred and twenty-eight pounds. I have always been a steady worker, but I had gotten to where I never felt like putting in full time, so you may know I was a pretty sick man.

"When I saw about Tanlac in the papers I was feeling so miserable that I was ready to try anything there was a chance of giving me some relief. So I got a bottle and soon started up hill. I now weigh one hundred and forty-five pounds, which gives me a gain of seventeen pounds, and makes me heavier and stronger than I have been since my troubles started. My appetite is enormous, everything I eat agrees with me, and all the trouble has disappeared from my stomach entirely. My back stopped hurting me by the time I had finished my first bottle, and I'm never bothered any more with constipation and headache. My strength and energy has all come back to me, and I can work every day and feel none the worse from it. My wife is now taking Tanlac, and I'm sure she will have something good to say for it, too, as it certainly is a wonderful medicine. Hardly a day passes but what I tell somebody how it has helped me."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

MILITARY NOTES.

F. A. Tate, a Waldemar boy, who went overseas with the 164th Batt., has been wounded in action.

Mr. Jas. Steele of Fergus received notice on the local bowling green on Wednesday that his second son had been wounded in France.

Mr. T. J. Brett received a cable recently from his son, Wallace, who is with the Machine Gun Corps. The cable stated that he had landed safely at Aldershot, England.

In Friday's casualty lists W. G. Gibson, of Cataract, is reported as having died of wounds. The name of G. H. Merkley, of Melancthon, appeared among the wounded the same day. The latter belonged to the Mounted Rifles.

Among the Toronto soldiers whose names appeared among the wounded in Monday's casualty lists were E. L. Baird, son of Mr. Jos. Baird, of the Toronto Police Force, and Malcolm Parks, son of Mr. Samuel Parks, 364 Ct Clarens avenue. The two young men are nephews of James Presley, Alton, and Thos. Presley, Orangeville and cousins of Frank Marshall, West Broadway.

Judge Denton, of Toronto, received a cable on Wednesday, Sept. 4th, that his son, Lieut. W. H. Denton, who was previously reported wounded on August 8, had been again wounded on Sept. 1. He received a gunshot wound in the right leg and was admitted to a hospital in France. He was then transferred to the Prince of Wales Officers' Hospital, London, Eng. Lieut. Denton enlisted in 1915 and went overseas with the 92nd Highlanders, reaching France in May, 1916. This is the third time that he has been reported wounded.

CURING SKIN TROUBLES.

So many people, both men and women, suffer from skin troubles, such as eczema, blotches, pimples and irritation that a word of advice is necessary. It is a great mistake for such sufferers and those with bad complexions to smear themselves with greasy ointments. Often they could not do anything worse, for the grease clogs the pores of the troubled skin and their condition actually becomes worse.

When there are pimples or eruptions, or an irritating or itching rash, a soothing boracic solution may help to allay the irritation, but of course that does not cure the trouble. Skin complaints come from an impure condition of the blood and will persist until the blood is thoroughly purified. It is well known that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have effected the best results in many forms of skin disorders and blemishes. This is due to the fact that these pills make new, rich blood, and that this new blood attacks the impurities that give rise to skin troubles and disperses them; so that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure skin disorders from within the system—the only sure way.

It should be added that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a beneficial effect upon the general health. They increase the appetite and energy and cure diseases that arise from impure blood.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HARRY KING IN HOSPITAL.

Pte. Chas. Henry King has been officially reported as admitted to the Seventh Casualty Clearing Station in France on August 29th suffering from shell gas. The sad news came to the young soldier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. King, from Ottawa, on Monday. Pte. King enlisted in D Co., 164th Batt., in January, 1916, trained at Camp Borden and in Hamilton and went overseas with his battalion in April 1917. He was at Witley Camp in England until March of this year, when he went to France with the 116th Batt. He was at the front from that time until he was wounded.

—The Germans are fortunately not heading for Grand Valley Fall Fair on the 19th and 20th of September, but the people worth while are. Fall in line behind them. Automobiles admitted free

H. M'ARTHUR WOUNDED.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley McArthur, John street, received a message from Ottawa last Thursday informing them that their son, Pte. Arthur Harold McArthur, had been admitted to the 12th Stationary Hospital at Etaples, France, on August 27th, suffering from a severe contusion of the ankle. Pte. McArthur was the sixth man to enlist in the local company of the 164th. He went overseas with that battalion and crossed with a draft for the 116th Batt. While the news that he has been wounded has caused his parents grave anxiety, they have the satisfaction of knowing that while his injury is probably very painful, it is not likely to be at all dangerous.

—Hundreds of dollars added to the prizes offered this year at the Orangeville Show Fair, September 17th and 18th.

SHELBURNE BOY RETURNS.

Flight-Lieut. Austin Cameron, of the Royal Naval Air Service, son of Mr. Wm. Cameron, Main street east, Shelburne, who was seriously injured in France on January 19th last, has returned to Canada and is now at his home in Shelburne. On their arrival home, Lieut. Cameron and the friends who accompanied him from Toronto, were met by Reeve Brett and other citizens in auto, and Shelburne Citizens' Band and escorted to the centre of the town, where addresses of welcome were given by the Reeve and Revs. Wallace and Morris.

—Eastern Ontario buyers paid Geo. Gerrie, of Belwood, $1,100 for a four-year-old Shorthorn bull a few days ago. The purchasers intend shipping the animal to the West.

—To renew acquaintances come to Orangeville Show Fair.

BLOUNT W. I.

The Blount Branch of the Women's Institute held its last regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Bagnall, Glencross. There were twenty-five members and visitors present. The early part of the meeting was given over to the discussion of Red Cross purchases and it was agreed to buy $93 worth of yarn and flannelette. An excellent program including a paper by Mrs. Alex. Still, a reading by Miss Reid and music was very much appreciated. The hostess served a dainty lunch and the meeting was closed with the National Anthem. The October meeting will be held at Mrs. Alex. Still's home.

VALUE OF THRIFT.

How French Farmers Saved the Day for Their Nation.

The saving farmer is a national asset. Canadian progress today in all lines attests magnificently to the splendid qualities of thrift that have marked the farmers in all the provinces. The total returns from field crops and animal produce have been only possible because of the disposition to make use in an economical way of all the wonderful gifts of Providence in this good land of ours.

The same was abundantly true after 1870 in France when the frugal, thrifty farmers of that fair land made it possible for the Republic to pay off that hated German war indemnity of two billion francs levied against them. The same spirit of national thrift built up France for the extreme test today—a test that is being tried by fire.

Thanks be, French heroism is proving true. The line is holding. The blood of the farmers is flowing equally as well through the veins of France's daughters of the soil and so the national strength bends but does not break.

Canada is reaping her harvests of increased returns and money is being made as never before. Our farmers are earning the gratitude of all in their splendid efforts at production. That they will carry into their savings an equal foresight in conserving their surpluses against the future days of darkness and lower prices will be equally praiseworthy. He is well advised who saves his extra dollar until he sees which way the winds of tomorrow will blow. Adversity blows a chill blast where there is no dollar in the savings.

MONO EAST PARISH.

There will be no Harvest services on Sunday, Sept. 22nd, but a memorial service will be held in St. John's church, Mono Mills, at 11 a.m. for the late Pte. Samuel Jackson. A memorial service will also be held in St. John's church, Mono, at 3,30 p.m., for the late Pte. Reggie Maples. Service and Holy Communion in St. Paul's' church at 7 p.m.

Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held in St. Luke's on Sunday, September 15th at 3 p.m., and 7 p.m. Service will also be conducted in St. Matthew's at 11 a.m. Rev. Mr. Carpenter, of Hornings Mills, will preach at all services.

CANNING COMPETITION.

Mr. J. W. Stark, District Representative for the County of Peel, is busy with plans for a Canning Competition at Brampton Fall Fair on September 21st. Five teams of four girls each will take part in the competition. The first prize winners will have the pleasure of a trip to London. The competitors will each wear a Victory Dress uniform and each team will have a distinctive color. Teams representing Caledon, Alton, Brampton, Ebenezer and Streetsville have entered for the competition. Miss McIntosh, Home Demonstrator of the Department of Agriculture, who is working out the details of the competition, was in Caledon on Friday night.

MARSVILLE.

On August 21st there passed away at Sunnybrae the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dearing, Tappen, B. C., a former resident of this village, in the person of William Dearing. He was born in Marsville in 1892 and had almost reached his 27th year. About twelve years ago with his parents he left Ontario and resided in Moore Park, Man., for a few years. They then moved to Tappen, B. C. Four years ago he fell a victim to consumption. He spent the greater part of his decline at Tranquille Sanatorium, Kamloops, but the best of care and nursing proved of no avail against the dreaded malady. A week previous to his death he went to visit his parents, but was not permitted to return although it was a source of comfort to his parents to be with him at the last. Willie was a kind-hearted, thoughtful little boy while here and was a favorite among his schoolmates and friends. His healthy, robust appearance when he left here gave every promise that he would grow into noble manhood. He was ever faithful and obedient to his parents and proved a true link in the family circle. He was buried in a quiet corner on his father's farm close by the lake shore. Besides his father and mother he leaves to mourn his loss, two brothers, Edward, of Tappen, and Harry, overseas somewhere in France, and four sisters, Nellie, Lizzie, Emma and May. The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in the vicinity of Marsville.

The Biggest Show this season will be the Grand Valley Fall Fair on the 19th and 20th of September. The BIG crowd will be there sure. Automobiles admitted free.

TAG DAY AT SCHOOL FAIRS

The Rural School Children's Patriotic Fund, which has been carried on for some years in connection with Rural School Fairs of Ontario, will be continued during this year's fairs. Last year the amount of money realized from the sale of tags and profits from booths etc., amounted to $3,233.48 and, after deducting expenses for supplies, amounting to $364.27, a motor bus costing $1,830.00 was purchased and donated to the Military Hospitals Commission to be used specially to convey wounded soldiers from the hospitals to the Vocational Training classes at the University. In addition $1,000 was handed to the Soldiers' Aid Commission to relieve special cases of distress among returned soldiers, and the balance will be used for some patriotic purpose. "Children's Tag Day" will be observed at the various School Fairs in Dufferin County during the coming series of Fairs.

GOD'S MESSAGE TO THE WORLD.

We are to get right with God.

We are to love God with all our heart, with all our mind, with all our soul, and with all our strength.

And our neighbor as ourselves.

On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

We are to preach the gospel of the Kingdom of Christ to all the world, according to Christ's Sermon on the Mount, and the Ten Commandments, as contained in the oracles of God. St Matthew, Chapters 5, 6, 7; Genesis, 2: 1-3; Exodus, 20: 1-17; Deuteronomy, 5: 6-21.

We are to make all we can, save all we can, and give away all we can for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom on earth.

We will need to do away with all our false gods and idols and worshiping of saints and angels.

We must worship the true God and Him only must be serve, and we are to worship Him in spirit and in truth and in the beauty of holiness.

For all the members of Christ's body must be holy and have the mind that was in Christ Jesus.

Therefore the church will be named the Holy Catholic Church of God on earth.

NOTICE

TO UNITED STATES CITIZENS IN CANADA.

By the United States Military Service Convention Regulations, approved by the Governor-in-Council on 20th August, 1918, MALE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES IN CANADA, WITHIN THE AGES for the time being SPECIFIED BY THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES prescribing compulsory military service, except those who have diplomatic exemption, ARE MADE SUBJECT AND LIABLE TO MILITARY SERVICE IN CANADA, AND BECOME ENTITLED TO EXEMPTION OR DISCHARGE THEREFROM, UNDER THE CANADIAN LAWS AND REGULATIONS. The regulations governing this liability are published in the Canada Gazette (Extra) of 21st August, 1918; copy whereof may be obtained upon application through the post to the Director of the Military Service Branch of the Department of Justice at Ottawa.

UNITED STATES CITIZENS of the description aforesaid who were IN CANADA ON 30th JULY, 1918, HAVE SIXTY DAYS FROM THAT DATE within which TO EXERCISE AN OPTION TO ENLIST or enroll IN THE FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES, or TO RETURN to the United States; and THOSE WHO for any reason SUBSEQUENTLY BECOME LIABLE TO MILITARY SERVICE IN CANADA HAVE THIRTY DAYS FROM THE DATE of the accruing OF SUCH LIABILITY within which to exercise the like option. It is stipulated by the Convention also that certificates of diplomatic exemption may be granted within the optional periods aforesaid. EVERY CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES TO WHOM THE REGULATIONS APPLY is required to REPORT TO THE REGISTRAR under the Military Service Act, 1917, FOR THE province or DISTRICT WITHIN WHICH he is, in the manner by the regulations prescribed, WITHIN TEN DAYS AFTER THE EXPIRY OF HIS OPTIONAL PERIOD and will be SUBJECT TO PENALTIES IF without reasonable excuse HE FAIL SO TO REPORT. For the information of those whom it may concern Sections 3 and 4 defining the requirements of registration, with which it will be necessary strictly to comply, are set out substantially as follows:—

REGULATIONS

3. EVERY MALE CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES WITHIN THE AGES for the time being SPECIFIED IN THE LAWS of the UNITED STATES prescribing compulsory military service, not including those who have diplomatic exemption, WITHIN TEN DAYS AFTER THE EXPIRY OF THE TIME LIMITED BY THE CONVENTION within which the Government of the United States may issue him a certificate of diplomatic exemption, SHALL TRULY REPORT TO THE REGISTRAR BY REGISTERED POST, and in writing which is plainly legible, his name in full, his occupation and the date of his birth; stating also whether he is single, married or a widower; and if the latter, whether he has a child living; also if married, the date of his marriage; and stating moreover his place of residence and usual post office address in Canada; and, if he reside within a city or place where the streets and dwellings are named and numbered, the name and number of his street and dwelling; or if he reside in another place, the lot and concession number, section, township, range, and meridian, or other definite description whereby his place of residence may be located, having regard to the custom of the locality in which he lives; and IF WITHOUT REASONABLE EXCUSE HE NEGLECT OR FAIL TO REPORT IN THE MANNER and with the particulars aforesaid within the time limited as aforesaid, HE SHALL BE GUILTY OF AN OFFENCE, AND SHALL BE LIABLE UPON SUMMARY CONVICTION to a penalty not EXCEEDING FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS, AND TO IMPRISONMENT for any term not exceeding six months, and moreover he shall incur A PENALTY OF $10.00 FOR EACH DAY after the time when or within which he should have registered during which he shall continue to be unregistered.

4. EVERY UNITED STATES CITIZEN WHO HAS DIPLOMATIC EXEMPTION, although not otherwise subject to these regulations SHALL WITHIN TEN DAYS after the granting of the same truly REPORT TO THE REGISTRAR, in like manner and with the same particulars as required by the last preceding section; and in addition he shall embody in his report a true and complete statement of the particulars of his certificate of diplomatic exemption. NEGLECT OR FAILURE without reasonable excuse to comply with the requirements of this section SHALL CONSTITUTE AN OFFENCE PUNISHABLE IN THE MANNER AND BY THE PENALTIES provided in the last preceding section.

Ethel—But she's going to give me a nickel for telling you.

NO DEPENDENTS.

"How many have you dependent on you?"

"None to mention," answered Mr. Cumrox, after some thought.

"I thought you had a family?"

"I have a large family and a houseful of servants. But they are the most independent bunch of people you ever came in contact with."

HIS WIFE'S MEMORY.

Bedton was always complaining of his wife's memory.

"She can never remember anything," said he. "It's' awful:"

"My wife was just as bad," said Clinker, "till I found a capital recipe."

"What was it?" asked Bedton.

"Why," said Clinker, "whenever there's anything particular I want the missus to remember I write it on a slip of paper and gum it on the looking glass."

The Health Bath

For the future welfare of Canada the children must be kept healthy now. Protect them from the germs and microbes of disease by using Lifebuoy Soap.

For the bath—nothing equals the healing, cleansing free-lathering vegetable oils in and the antiseptic agents disinfect the bruises, scratches, etc. that might otherwise be a source of danger. A Lifebuoy soap bath sends the children to bed glowing with health and happy cleanliness.

The carbolic odour in Lifebuoy is a sign of its protective qualities—quickly vanishing after use.

Camp Cook—I couldn't very well say nothin', cos it was dish water.

DEATH OF JOS. M'DERMOTT

Death occurred on the sixth line of Tecumseth on Sunday morning, after an illness of only one week, of an old and respected resident of this township, in the person of Mr. Jos. McDermott. The late Mr. McDermott, who was in his 74th year, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McDermott, being born on lot 15, concession 7, in the year 1844, where he resided until 1886, when he was married to Margaret Thurston of Mulmur, and then started farming on lot 19, Con. 6, where he lived for twenty years. He then moved to lot 13, Con. 7, where he spent ten years. Two years ago he moved to the farm where he died. He was a man of generous impulses, a good neighbor and a true friend. In politics he was a staunch Conservative, and a member of Mt. Ararat L. O. L. for some years. He is survived by a widow, one sister, Mrs. James Hill, of Tecumseth, and one brother, Hugh; five brothers having predeceased him some years. The funeral took place on Monday, a short service being held at the house, after which the cortege proceeded to St. John's church, where service was conducted by Rev. H. Meek of Bond Head, after which the remains were laid to rest in the churchyard. The pallbearers were three nephews and three brothers-in-law, Harry and Joseph McDermott, of Toronto, and John McDermott, of Tottenham; George, Robert and Joseph Thurston, of Creemore.—Beeton World.

SOME RUNAWAY!

On Tuesday of last week while Thomas Matthews was returning to town with a livery team he had an experience which no one wishes to see repeated. The tongue of the cab dropped on the station hill, and from one thing and another the team became very much excited and started at a mad race up Main street. It was certainly a hair-raising sight for the citizens who saw the horses racing up the street with the cab swaying from side to side, and the old gentleman who is over eighty years old, guiding the team with as much courage and efficiency as a man of half his age. Spectators were speechless, awaiting what seemed to be the inevitable result. A couple of automobiles followed the runaway, and at the top of Os. Walker's hill found Mr. Matthews face downwards, under the shattered vehicle—the horses gone. A speedy return to town with Mr. Matthews was made, a doctor called, etc., and it was certainly a great and pleasant surprise to all to hear the old gentleman say, "I am alright," and then see him walk into his own home. It was indeed a miraculous escape.

The horses were also soon safe in their stalls, little the worse of their lively sprint.—Markdale Standard.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Patience is the most essential ingredient of genius.

WHY DIDN'T HE GIVE IT GAS

One hears a great deal about the absent-minded professor, but it would be hard to find one more absent-minded than the dentist who said soothingly, as he applied a tool to his automobile, under which he lay: "Now, this is going to hurt just a little."

FIGURES OF SPEECH.

2 lovers sat beneath the shade,
And 1 un-2 the other said:

Your voice is mu-6 melody;
'Tis 7 2 be your loyal 1, 2;

REIGNING.

As he brushed his coat Robinson was pouring out his woes to his sympathetic adviser, Jinks.

"Do you know," he began sorrowfully, "my wife's pet Persians and fluffy Fidos practically rule our house?"

Jink, however, began to laugh.

"Nothing to grin about," said Robinson.

"Nunno, old chap, but I was just thinking that it was a case of reigning cats and dogs."

Be Your Own Doctor.

OUR CASUALTIES.

The Price That the Dominion Paid for Freedom.

Up to the end of June the total casualties suffered by the Canadians since the beginning of the war are 159,084, made up as follows:

Killed in action	27,040
Died of wounds	9,280
Wounded	113,007
Died of disease	2,257
Prisoners of war	2,774
Presumed dead	4,342
Missing	384
Total	159,084

By periods the casualties are (in approximate figures) as follows:

From beginning of war to Dec. 31, 1915	14,500
Calendar year 1916	56,500
Calendar year 1917	74,500
To end of July, 1918	15,000

The casualties suffered in the principal battles in which the Canadian Corps took part are:

Second battle of Ypres (St. Julien), April, 1915, approximately	6,000
Vimy Ridge, April, 1917	13,461
Lens fighting, June, 1917	10,134
Hill 70, August, 1917	10,080
Passchendaele, Nov., 1917	24,530

The Department does not seem to have available individually the casualties suffered in the principal fights of 1916, St. Eloi (crater fighting of spring), Zillebeke, and Mount Sorrel in June, and the Somme from September 15 until November.

The Teutonic Plotters.

That Teuton conspirators planned, soon after this country's entrance into the war, to use German reservists to invade Canada and Mexico, is indicated in the seized correspondence of Fr. Frederick August Richard von Strensch, officials of the U. S. Department of Justice declared recently. Von Strensch when arrested recently was described by the officials as a former protege of Bismarck. He was also a relative of the German Emperor.

The objects of the proposed invasions, according to the authorities, were to hamper the despatch of Canadian troops abroad and to join armed Mexicans for the purpose of making an attack upon the United States.

Federal officials believe that Alexandra Varda, better known as the Countess von Schaele, was the author of letters signed "L." which were found in the belongings of Von Strensch. The woman was arrested shortly after Von Strensch's apprehension. In these letters were sentences indicating that between November, 1915, and April, 1917, plots were in existence for 25,000 German reservists to cross from Buffalo to Bridgeburg, Ont., and for 100,000 Germans to enter Mexico at unnamed points along the Rio Grande.

The seized correspondence also disclosed that a German assuming a Russian alias and disguise had entered the employ of the Curtiss Company. This spy is now being watched by Federal officials.

Had Him Right.

A negro in one of the stevedore regiments at a base port in France, saw an officer approaching him while patrolling his beat on sentry duty, whereat he drew himself up stiffly and gave a flourishing salute, saying: "Good morning, general." "But I'm not a general," replied the smiling officer. "Beg pardon, colonel," said the darky. "But I'm not a colonel," protested the captain. "'Scuse me again, major," came back the dusky sentinel. "Look here, man, I'm only a captain," was the officer's reply. "Well, sah! I knew you wus one of de face cards ob de pack, anyway," said Rastus, with a confiding grin.

South Waterloo Winners.

In a class for Marquis spring wheat in the standing crop competition under the auspices of South Waterloo Agricultural Society the awards were as follows:

1, George R. Barrie, R. R. No. 7, Galt; 2, Wm. Edgar, R. R. No. 2, Ayr; 3, A. S. Clemens, R. R. No. 1, Hespeler; 4, W. C. Shaw, R. R. No. 3, Hespeler; 5, Henry Maus, R. R. No. 2, Paris; 6, John McDonald, R. R. No. 1, Branchton; A. Turnbull & Son, R. R. No. 3, Galt.

NO NEED FOR A COW.

Clarence, aged three, had been watching his father set up a new cream separator and commence operating it. When Clarence saw the milk come through the separator he joyfully exclaimed, "Now we won't have to milk the cow any more."

POPULATION AND ASSESSMENT OF TOWNS AND TOWNSHIPS OF GREY

INTERESTING FIGURES TAKEN FROM THE MUNICIPALITIES BULLETIN SHOW DEBENTURE DEBT AND ASSESSMENT OF THE DIFFERENT MUNICIPALITIES OF GREY.

The Municipalities Bulletin, recently issued, gives the statistics of all Ontario Municipalities, and a statement of the towns, villages and townships of Grey has been compiled from it. Townships, villages and towns are arranged in order of population, Normanby township containing the most inhabitants. Both County and Province have slightly declined in population the past year. In the case of Owen Sound there has been an increase in population since these figures were prepared. The 1918 assessment places the population at 12,100. These figures from the Municipal Bulletin are as follows:

Had Piles For Ten Years

And Tried Nearly Everything Except a Surgical Operation Without Obtaining Relief — Tells How Complete Cure Was Effected.

There are reported here three cures of chronic cases of piles. In all three cases many treatments were tried before it was discovered that Dr. Chase's Ointment is about the only real cure for this distressing ailment.

Mrs. A. Oates, 21 Gilkinson street, Brantford, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment as a household remedy for ever so long, and am particularly indebted to it for a cure from Piles. TO YOU, O BRITISH.

(By Dr. Frank Crane, the famous American writer, who pays tribute to the men of Great Britain, who have—for four years—willingly sacrificed their all in the fight against Prussia's scheme for world dominion).

To you, O British, our hats are off.

You have fought a good fight; you have kept the faith.

Night and day, in storm and fog, in wind and hail and angry seas, your fleet has kept faithful watch for the tiger ships of the enemy. You have kept his ironclads in their hole. They have not dared to come forth.

Undaunted, you have met the menace of his sneaking submarines. You have borne uncomplainingly the wounds of his piracy.

He has shelled your unfortified towns, bombed your peaceful cities. He has glorified in dishonor and inhumanity that he might cause you to fear and break your spirit. But you have gone grimly on.

Your sons, highborn and common, have leaped to the breach to keep their pledged word to Belgium.

You have met with unbroken battle line the overwhelming masses of the civilization with your British dead.

You have poured out your treasure like water. You have not spared your young lives.

You have not suffered France and Italy to go unaided. You have clasped hands with them in a grip of brotherhood that only death can dissolve.

You have maintained the traditions of chivalry and honor against an enemy that practiced the last villainy of barbarism.

We fought you twice. We were enemies. But after a hundred years of peace, the hate has gone from our hearts, and in the great crisis of the world we come together, brothers in arms, side by side, to do our utmost against the common enemy of mankind.

You have your mannerisms, as we have ours; our accents differ; but we see, and salute your uncovered hearts of oak, of fine courage, of unsullied tenderness.

America is with you to the last dollar, to the last man, to the last reserve of inventive resourcefulness.

What are our little differences, our drawing room divergencies, our commercial rivalries, when the common foundations of our civilization are threatened?

So where you and France and Italy stand, we stand. Our battleships line up with yours. Our boys from Kansas and Connecticut take their places in the trenches with yours from Australia and Canada.

We are not fighting for Great Britain, nor for France, nor for Italy, nor for America; neither are you; we are fighting in a blood-cemented league that shall forever be unbroken, for Humanity, for all free people everywhere.

Our cause is one. We go on with this war, not to further any national ambition, not to wreak an ignoble vengeance, but with a high purpose upon which we can pray for the blessing of the Saviour of the world, because we fight to save the world.

Stand fast, O British! We are coming. And we will see this thing through whatever happens.

Here's our heart, and here's our hand.

DEFEAT A RETURNED SOLDIER IN ALBERTA

The Returned Soldiers' Association and every patriotic citizen in the Canadian West is discussing with deep resentment the result of the school trustee election in Canmore Alberta, recently, where Theo. Thachuk, an Austrian, defeated John M. Montgomery, a returned soldier. The Austrians and Germans of that town celebrated the event openly, and further infuriated the Anglo-Saxon electors.

Montgomery is an educated gentleman, a mining engineer of standing, the son of Canon Montgomery, with five brothers and a sister now overseas doing their bit for the Empire.

The alien enemies were out in force, and made no secret of their hostility toward the returned soldier hero.

One Calgary paper, expressing the indignation of the people, says: "This election should be investigated through an appeal to the district court. This alien enemy stuff that is being pulled off these days is getting a bit too thick."

The attitude of the alien enemy toward every man who has taken part in the war is notoriously hostile. In those sections of the prairie provinces where the alien enemy is not strong numerically this hostility is suppressed and guarded, but in the colonies of aliens or where they are strong, as around Canmore, the German and Austrian is outspoken in his resolve to vote against and work against every man who has been in the army. This outrageous disposition is responsible for the renewed talk of disfranchising in the prairies these aliens along the lines adopted by the Dominion Elections Act.

In Saskatchewan the alien enemy voters so strong today that they unquestionably hold the balance of power, not only in outright numbers in a third of the provincial constituencies, but in another one-third they constitute the actual balance of power, unless the Anglo-Saxon vote is solidly cast against them.

Party politicians on both sides have openly catered to this element in past years, and today they have their own leaders, and are a power to reckon with. When it comes to school trustees they are especially alert, and display a determination to control the schools in their own as well as the English-speaking districts. They are aided in this resolution chiefly by the foreign tongue papers in the different provinces, in spite of the censor's careful scrutiny.

The Czecho-Slovaks, New Belligerents

(By Walter Littlefield).

The declaration of the British government recognizing the Czechoslovaks as an allied nation, as a geographical, political and military entirety—not only creates a belligerent state in the heart of middle Europe and German Austria, Magyar, Hungary and Prussian Germany, and recognizes the legality of three armies, one in Serbia, one in France and one in Italy, but the prestige of the power uttering it, whose protecting wings have through the ages shielded political refugees from Bohemia and Moravia, is such that it deals a vital blow at the very foundation of the fabric of which the Dual Monarchy is composed. It is worth while, if merely as a text, repeating in full:

Since the beginning of the war the Czechoslovak nation has resisted the common enemy by every means in its power.

The Czechoslovaks have constituted a considerable army, fighting on three different battlefields, and attempting in Russia and Serbia to arrest the German invasion. In consideration of its efforts to achieve independence, Great Britain regards the Czechoslovaks as an allied nation and recognizes the unit of the three Czechoslovak armies as an allied and belligerent army waging regular warfare against Austria-Hungary and Germany.

Great Britain also recognizes the right of the Czechoslovak National Council as the supreme organ of Czechoslovak national interests and as the present trustee of the future Czechoslovak government to exercise supreme authority over this allied and belligerent army.

One of the most ill-advised phases of the international policy of the Allies was, for a long time, to assume the status quo ante of Austria-Hungary as a political integrity to be dealt with after the war. The Pact of Rome, April 9-11 changed all that. Here not only the Jugoslavs received official recognition but delegates of the Poles, Czechs, Slovaks, Roumanians and other subject races of the Hapsburgs pleaded their individual cause and were heard. The debate at Rome cleared the air. It had been different in 1848, when all had been fighting at cross purposes and were played off against each other by Budapest and Vienna until German Austria and Magyar Hungary reconstructed the empire in 1867 and divided the subject races between them. Then they fought blindly and with mutual jealousies. Now, thanks to the Pact of Rome, they are not fighting blindly. They are fighting to destroy the dual realm of the Hapsburgs, and thanks also to the asylum offered by the Allies their directorates have debated and have agreed to postpone the internal questions, which annihilated their common purpose in 1848, until after the war.

The story of the adventures of the Czechoslovak army in Siberia reads like another "Anabasis." Originally the army numbered 60,000 men—a recent Berlin despatch says it has grown to 300,000—and was made up of Bohemians and Moravians and Slovaks, and Slavs, who belonged to the 8th and 9th Austro-Hungarian Army Corps, and some of the 2nd and the 13th, who had freely surrendered to Brusiloff in July, 1917, and were sent to Russian prison communities beyond the Urals. Many Czechoslovaks, who had surrendered to the Russians at various times during the war, beginning at the battle of Lemberg in September, 1914, had previously been organized into small units of the Russian army and Czecholsovak subjects of Austria who were in business in Russia before the war. These troops were several times cited in Russian despatches, and their fighting was practically responsible for the initial successes of the Russian offensive in Galicia in July, 1917, which collapsed when the bulk of the Russian troops failed to support the Czechoslovaks. Under the revolutionary governments the prisoners and the previously existing units were consolidated into the present Czechoslovak army.

Three armies—three Czechoslovak armies—have been spoken of, and yet there is a fourth about which little is heard. It calls itself the "Green Guard" and, in the mountains of Eastern Moravai, it is fighting with a halter round its neck. Aside from introductory rumor of numerous mutinies which took place in the Austro-Hungarian armies on June 16-20, followed by wholesale executions, nothing was definitely known about the "Green Guard" until a Reuter agent on July 20 managed to furnish the following information:

"A considerable number of Czechoslovak deserters have concentrated in the Beskid Mountains in Eastern Moravia. They are well armed, and offer a stubborn resistance to the gendarmerie. They obviously receive support from the Czech population, since the authorities have already issued a public order threatening punishment to all those rendering support to the movement.

"Similar revolts are taking place also in Dalmatia, where the military authorities are unable to suppress the revolt of the armed bands of deserters and escaped Russian prisoners. The official organ, Bosnische Post, makes alusions suggesting that similar bands are springing up in Bosnia also."

This brings us back to the Czechoslovaks in their own country, which Great Britain has just recognized as a belligerent and an ally.

The Czechoslovak countries have been inhabited by Slavs since the dark ages, and in the mediaeval period Bohemia was one of the most powerful kingdoms of Europe. The University of Prague was a rival of that of Paris, and the relations between France and Bohemia were extremely friendly. The Hussite wars of the fifteenth century were the forerunner of the Reformation but an even greater degree the Czechs represented a national reaction of the Czechs against German influence.

The troubles of Bohemia began in 1526, when under the threat of the Turkish invasion of Hungary, the crown, which was elective, was conferred on Ferdinand of Hapsburg, Archduke of Austria, who was simultaneously elected King of Hungary. This was a purely person union of the three crowns, but Hungary was almost wholly overrun by the Turks; and the Hapsburgs, who held the crown thereafter, did their best to Germanize and Austrianize Bohemia. In 1618 Bohemia broke away and elected a Protestant Prince, the Elector Palatine, as King; but in the struggle which followed, (1620), and which was the beginning of the thirty years war, the Bohemians were beaten, and thereafter they were treated as a conquered people. Their native nobility was destroyed and its estates given to adventureres who ever since have been loyal to the Hapsburgs. For a century and a half the Czechoslovak people also disappeared. Their revival dates from the period of the French Revolution, which inspired patriotic writers to revive the national language and culture with such success that the nation recovered self-consciousness and took up its struggle for freedom with renewed vigor.

The Czechs inhabit Bohemia, Moravia and Austria Silesia, which under the present constitution are crown lands of the Austrian Empire, and lie between Austria proper on the south and the German Empire—Bavaria on the west. Saxony on the south, and Prussian Silesia on the east. The Clovaks live in the upper regions of Hungary, adjoining the Czechs to the east and southeast. The two peoples are in effect the same, their language has only slight dilectical differences; the political division between them was erected only in 1867, when to divide the energies of the people of Slovaks were put under Hungarian rule. Czechs and Slovaks have worked together with absolute harmony for unity and independence.

The Czechs are one of the most highly civilized peoples in the world, and economically the most prosperous in the Austrian Empire. Their country includes most of the coal and iron deposits of the empire, the principal manufactures, and the most prosperous agricultural districts. The Slovaks have been held back by Magyar repression, but elsewhere, as in the United States, have shown that their natural capacity is as great as that of the Czechs.

The area of the Czech countries is approximately 30,000 square miles, and of the Slovak regions about 18,000. According to the census of 1910, there were about 6,500,000 Czechs and 2,000,000 Slovaks, but these figures were underestimated for political purposes, and nationalist leaders say that there are about 8,000,000 Czechs and 3,000,000 Slovaks. Among them live some 3,000,000 Germans and several hundred thousand Magyars, and the program of the independence movement provides for complete cultural autonomy for these national minorities. There are more than 2,000,000 Czechs and Slovaks in the United States.

In 1848 the Czechs came into conflict with the Pan-Germans of that day, and the Hungarian revolution under Kossuth attempted to suppress the liberties of the Slovaks, with the result that all the revolutionary movements collapsed and left the Hapsburgs supreme. In 1867 defeat convinced Francis Joseph of the necessity of taking the Magyars into partnership, so the Czechoslovaks were divided between the two parts of the Empire. Theoretically Bohemia was and is still an independent kingdom, and Francis Joseph even promised to be crowned King at Prague; but Bismarck's influence prevented this. Since then the Czechs have maintained a constant struggle against the Hapsburgs and the ruling races of Austria, as well as against the influence of the German Empire, which regarded them as a great obstacle to its plans.

The bulk of the nation long fought for autonomy within a federalized Austrian Empire and under the Hapsburg crown, but the reign of terror with which the people's reluctance to take part in the present war was met strengthened those who demanded complete independence. Thousands of military executions, great numbers of confiscations, and arbitrary imprisonments angered the people, whose soldiers were already going over to the Russians and Serbs in great masses. Finally in November, 1915, a committee of exiles in Paris demanded complete independence and unity of the race and his policy at once received overwhelming support in the Czechoslovak countries.

The Czechoslovak National Committee, which was thereupon organized in Paris, consisted of Dr. Thos. G. Masaryk, Professor of Philosophy at the University of Prague, President of the committee, and probably destined to be the first President of the Czechoslovak Republic; Dr. Edward Benesh of the University of Prague, and Dr. Milan Stefanik, a noted astronomer, now a Colonel in the French aviation service. Branches of the organization were established in the various European capitals, and another branch in the United States, where the Czechoslovak population strongly supported the national movement. Dr. Masaryk has been in Washington for the last few months.

France recognized the independence of the Czechoslovaks and the authority of the National Committee as a Provisional Government on July 1st. The example was followed by Italy, and now by Great Britain. The end of the war should see the Czechoslovak people free for the first time since 1620. This international policy at present includes a close alliance with the Poles and Jugo slavs and they will undoubtedly welcome the establishment of a league of nations to guarantee the freedom of the people of Europe.

REMARKABLE CURE.

Doctor: "Did that cure for deafness really help your brother?"

Pat: "Sure enough; he hadn't heard sound for years, and the day after he took that medicine he heard from a friend in America."

ANXIOUS TO CURE IT.

The new girl in the county room of a daily newspaper was from the country. An elderly gentleman walked up to her and said:

"I would like to get copies of your paper for a week back."

She replied: "Auntie has one, too. You had better try porous plasters. You can get them just across the street."

RASH.

A certain judge was trying a case where a dealer sued a steamship company for the loss of some pigs in a fire on board a cross channel boat. It came out in evidence that the steamer had a large deck load, and here the damage was greatest.

The judge thus began his charge to the jury:

"Gentlemen, to put these pigs on deck was a rash act, but to fry them was a rasher."

THE LATE D. M'LEAN.

Mr. Donald McLean, a well-known citizen, passed away rather suddenly at his home on Church street, early last Friday morning. Deceased had been in failing health for the last two years, but was going about and feeling much as usual until very shortly before his demise. His illness and death were the result of hardening of the arteries. The late Mr. McLean, who was 67 years of age, was a builder and contractor by trade. He was born in the Isle of Mull, Scotland, in 1851 and came to Canada with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McLean, when a lad of seven years of age. The family settled on a farm in Vaughan township, where the subject of our sketch resided until he was 22 years of age, when he was married to Miss Elizabeth A. Gunn, daughter of Mr. Donald Gunn, of Maple, Ont. Shortly after their marriage the young couple moved to Nashville, Tenn., where they resided for a number of years. Nearly thirty years ago Mr. McLean and family moved to Alton, where they resided for fifteen years. About twelve years ago they came to Orangeville, where they have since lived. Deceased was a quiet, industrious man, upright in his life and dealings, and an excellent neighbor. He was devoted to his family and home and his loss will be keenly felt by the bereaved widow and family. He was naturally musical and was a skilful performer on the violin. He retained his fondness for his favorite instrument to the last and even within the last year was wont to delight his friends and himself by playing the familiar airs that he had learned in his young days. He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and a Liberal in his political convictions. Of a family of seven, three sons and two daughters survive, namely, Louis, of Schomberg; N. P., of Streetsville; Arthur, of Orangeville; Mrs. Hugh Gallagher, of Rosemont, and Mrs. Thos. Banks, of Shelburne. The sympathy of a wide circle of friends goes out to the sorrowing widow and family. There was a large attendance at the funeral, which was held by motor to Alton cemetery on Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. M. Morris, the family pastor, conducted the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. R. J. McConnell, J. A. Bruce, Wm. Fiddes, Wm. Irvin, H. Christian and James Wilson. A number of beautiful floral tributes were silent testimony to the sympathy of friends of the family.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

The Sunday School managers have arranged to give their children a treat on Friday afternoon of this week. Special preparations are being made for Rally Day, Sept. 29th, when a special program will be given. The teachers and pupils should be in their places as soon as possible so that the school may do its full work this fall and winter.

Mr. Still gave a good paper to the members of the Epworth League on the importance and the advantages of church membership. Preparations are being made to entertain the District Convention to be held on the 23rd inst. Master Wilson McConnell did duty as chairman last Monday night.

At the last meeting of the W. M. S., Mrs. George Beswick was made a life member and was presented by her friends with the gold badge. Her splendid leadership of this organization has thus had fitting acknowledgment.

The subjects for Rev. E. R. Young's sermons for next Sunday, Sept. 15th, are: In the morning, "Thoroughness; Lessons for Soldiers, lessons for All." To the children, "The Magnet." In the evening, "Submitting to God." Romans, X., 3.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH.

Rev. Canon Rix, of Prince Rupert, B. C., a former rector of St. Mark's church, and Mrs. Rix spent a few pleasant days renewing former friendships in town last and this week. Canon Rix, who went to Prince Rupert from Orangeville five years ago came east for the purpose of attending the Anglican Synod, which is meeting in Toronto this week. Mr. and Mrs. Rix are looking well and received a heary greeting from their former parishioners and numerous Orangeville friends outside of St. Mark's congregation. Mr. Rix says Prince Rupert is a bustling, go ahead city in the making with a population of about 5,000. The town is quite prosperous despite the fact that it has been hard hit by the war, which made a heavy drain on the young manhood, which formed an important part of its population. Sunday morning the people of St. Mark's had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Rix preach from his old pulpit. A very large congregation followed his earnest and deeply impressive discourse with the closest attention, the silence at times being tense. The theme chosen for the occasion was a discussion of the characters and some of the outstanding incidents in the lives of two of the Old Testament prophets, Elijah and Elisha. In a few graphic sentences Canon Rix contrasted the rough, uncouth and impetuous Elijah, a man of the wilderness, with the cultured, well-to-do and comfortable living Elisha. Despite their wide difference in character both men did the same work and served God in much the same way. So in any church and community men may come and go but God's work will go on if his Spirit lives in the hearts of the people. From such outstanding events in Elisha's life as the multiplying of the widow's oil, the restoration of the Shunammite's son and the cleansing of Naaman's leprosy the preacher applied lessons calculated to bring comfort and cheer to the hearts of God's people and especially to those who have been separated from the sons they loved by the war. During the offertory Miss Bessie Lewis sang, "Father Guide Our Nation" with her accustomed sweetness.

A farewell reception was held in the church on Friday night for the purpose of giving members of the church an opportunity to bid adieu to Rev. A. H. Howitt and Mrs. Howitt, prior to their removal to St. Catharines, where Mr. Howitt was recently appointed rector of St. Thomas' church. There was a large and representative attendance of members and adherents and many were the regrets that were expressed over the departure of the young and gifted rector and his amiable wife. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Howitt were presented with a handsome tea set of Crown Derby china and a beautiful tray in behalf of the congregation and with a pretty caserole in behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary. The presentations were made by Mrs. H. F. Tuck, who conveyed the regrets and good wishes of the congregation in an informal address. Mr. Howitt made a feeling response in behalf of Mrs. Howitt and himself, referring in the course of his remarks to the loyal support the people of St. Mark's had given him in his three years' ministry here, the happy relations that had existed between himself and Mrs. Howitt on the one hand and the congregation on the other and the sincere regret they both felt at the approaching severance of the ties and delightful associations that had been formed during their residence in Orangeville. An exceedingly pleasant feature of the evening was the presence of Rev. Canon Rix, of Prince Rupert, formerly rector of the church, and Rev. Mr. Ely, curate of the church to which Mr. Howitt is going in St. Catharines. Both gentlemen spoke in a happy vein. Mr. H. F. Tuck presided while the speaking was in progress.

A largely attended vestry meeting was held in the Sunday School room on Monday night. The business related chiefly to the transfer of Mr. Howitt to St. Catharines and the steps that had been taken toward securing a new rector for this parish. The Banner understands that Rev. Mr. Ely, now curate of St. Thomas' church, St. Catharines, is very likely to succeed Mr. Howitt.

Rev. A. H. Howitt preached his farewell sermon to a very large congregation on Sunday night. The edifice was crowded to the doors and the ushers found it necessary to place a number of seats in the aisles to accommodate late comers. The service in which Rev. Canon Rix assisted, was an affecting one, demonstrating very plainly the strength of the ties and the warmth of affection existing between the people of St. Mark's and their rector. Mr. Howitt based his discourse upon St. Peter's well-known epistle to the strangers in Asia and other lands, reading particularly the second, third, fourth and fifth verses of the first chapter, which he said expressed his message to his parish at parting. He emphasized the thought that we are not heirs of earthly treasures which fade and die, but have an inheritance incorruptible, unchangeable and undefiled, that fadeth not away. To inherit this blessed state three things were necessary—faith, sanctification and obedience, and regeneration through the blood of the Lamb. Only by the Grace of God through His only begotten Son do we become sanctified, incorruptible, undefiled. The rector invited his hearers to partake of this life in all its fullness of beauty so beyond earthly conception so exalted and so exalting in faith, sanctification and obedience that nothing of earth remains to tarnish or corrupt. Mr. Howitt spoke at some length of the life of faith and obedience and its rewards, promised unreservedly to those who in faith lean upon and trust the Giver of life everlasting. "I can leave no better word," he said, "nor wish you a more exalted state, nor present you with a greater gift than this reminder of the promises of God. God's promises are true, sure and unalterable. I bid you trust." The rector took a moment or two at the close of his sermon to speak a few personal words of farewell and to express gratitude to all for three years of happiness spent in Orangeville. He thanked all from his heart for the help, loyal support and many kindnesses he and Mrs. Howitt had received since coming here. They would always be pleased to greet any of their friends in Orangeville in their new home in St. Catharines and he trusted and prayed that the blessing of the Heavenly Father would be bestowed in fullest measure upon the work and services in St. Marks.

TO win this war every ounce of the strength of each of the allied nations must be put forth to meet the organized, trained and disciplined efficiency of the Central Powers—that gigantic, ruthless force which is the result of fifty years of planning and preparation.

And every ounce of every allied nation's strength is in the hands and brains and hearts of the individuals of each nation, because they are free peoples.

Now the individuals of each nation must live as well as fight, therefore a proportion of the effort and material of each nation must be diverted from war purposes to living necessities,

So the less each individual takes for himself or herself for personal use the more effort will there be left for fighting and winning the war.

Every cent you spend represents that much effort because somebody must do something for you in order to earn that cent—somebody's effort must be given to you instead of to the war.

Therefore the less you spend—the less of somebody's effort you take for your individual use—the more will you leave in the national surplus for war effort.

The war can be won only by the surplus strength of the allied nations. The money each individual saves represents that surplus strength.

So the truly loyal Canadian will use less, spend less, and save more, to help to win the war.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

The Presbytery of Orangeville met within St. Andrew's church here on Tuesday, Rev. Mr. McVicar, of Flesherton, the newly elected moderator, presiding. A number of important matters were discussed and disposed of, among which were the following:

The Forward Movement which is about to be launched by the Presbyterian Church in Canada. A meeting in connection with same will be held in Orangeville on Oct. 29th. Fuller particulars later.

The call to Rev. W. Lee, of Temple Hill, Presbytery of Owen Sound, from Mono Mills was sustained and provisional arrangements were made for the induction providing Mr. Lee accepts. The following were appointed to take part: Rev. W. M. Morris to preside; Rev. J. Lindsay to address the people; Rev. R. S. Scott to address the minister, and Rev. H. M. Lyon to preach the induction sermon.

Rev. Wallace, of Caledon East, tendered his resignation as pastor of that congregation, to take effect Oct. 1st. The Presbytery accepted the resignation with regret and wished him God speed.

MRS. C. E. RAYBURN.

Lena Koenig, beloved wife of C. E. Rayburn, formerly Bell Telephone Company lineman in Orangeville, died at her home, Andrew street, Shelburne, on Saturday, August 31st at the early age of 27 years. Deceased had been in failing health for some months and an operation which was performed in the Orangeville hospital in May last was of little benefit, although it prolonged her life. Deceased moved to Shelburne with her husband over four years ago and had many friends in both towns who regret her early death. She was a daughter of John Koenig of Hepworth, and besides her husband she leaves two little children, Earl and Jean. She also leaves four sisters and two brothers, Misses Laura and Elizabeth of Hepworth, and Hilda and Alma of Shelburne; Wm. Koenig, of Okotoks, Alta., and Master Edward Koenig of Hepworth. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, interment taking place in Shelburne cemetery. The floral offerings consisted of a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Budd; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Lott, Orangeville; spray, local Bell Telephone operators; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Patterson; spray, Shelburne Fire Brigade; spray, Mr. and Mrs. E. Schnurr, Orangeville; spray, Nurse Stewart, Orangeville; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Dean; spray, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Patterson; spray, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Spilker; spray, Mr. and Mrs. W. J Hall; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rayburn, Caledon; Gates Ajar from the husband and star from sisters. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. K. Patterson, Edgar Patterson, Elmer Budd, J. J. Spilker, A. K. McNaught and Ben. Marshall. The bereaved husband and friends have the sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Donald McLean, Church St., and family, desire to express their heartfelt gratitude for the kindness and sympathy shown them in so many ways during the illness and since the death of the late Mr. McLean.

HERRON–M'DOUGALL.

On Wednesday, September 4th, at Bathurst street Church of Christ, Toronto, the marriage took place very quietly of Miss Margaret McDougall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch McDougall, formerly of Alton, to Mr. A. Stanley Herron, formerly Sergeant in Number 7, Canadian Railway Troops, B. E. F., Mr. F. Cowan officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a travelling suit of dark blue with matching any colored hat and bouquet of ophelia roses. Mr. and Mrs. Herron left later for a trip to the north.

HILLIARD–SKELTON.

A quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Charles Lillie, 207 Concord avenue, Toronto, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 4th, the contracting parties being Miss Margaret A. Skelton, sister of Mrs. Lillie, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Skelton, of Shelburne, Ont., and Mr. John Hilliard, of West Toronto. Owing to the illness of the bride's mother, only nearby relatives and friends were in attendance. Promptly at eight o'clock, to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March, ably rendered by Miss Minnie Gott, the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her brother, Mr. J. M. Skelton, of 85 Lawton boulevard, who gave her away. She looked charming in a gown of white Georgette crepe, the bridal veil being caught up with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Her ornament was a necklace set with amethysts and pearls, the gift of the groom. Two little nieces, Misses Helen Lillie and Margaret Lowery, in dainty pink frocks and carrying carnations and asters, acted as maids of honor and flower girl respectively. The groom was unattended. Rev. G. M. Holmes of Ossington Avenue Baptist church, officiated. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. The bride's going-away attire was a suit of burgundy broadcloth, with hat to match. 'Mid congratulations from those present, the bridal couple repaired to the residence of the groom, 224 Gilmour avenue, where they will be at home to their friends.

CONSERVE GASOLINE.

Automobile Club of Canada Makes Appeal to Autoists to Co-operate for Four Sundays.

Following the request by the United States Fuel Commissioner that motor car users east of the Mississippi should forego Sunday use of their cars for pleasure purposes, with a view to conserving gasoline, the Automobile Club of Canada, with headquarters in Montreal, is appealing to autoists to co-operate to this end for the coming four Sundays, and is also asking all garages, service stations, etc., to close on those days. There are 23,000 cars in the Province of Quebec, of which 15,000 are owned in Montreal, and 75,000 in Ontario. At a conservative estimate each car uses ten gallons of gasoline on a Sunday jaunt, so that if the request is complied with, a saving of close to 4,000,000 gallons of gasoline will be made.

In the event of a general ignoring of the request the impression is that drastic legislation will be enforced.

—A really enjoyable motor trip for the wife and children is to take them to the Grand Valley Fall Fair on the 19th and 20th of September. They will enjoy it as well or better than you. Autos admitted free and special arrangements made for parking yours.

HIGH SCHOOL REOPENS.

Orangeville High School reopened last week with an excellent attendance of pupils, particularly in the lower forms, which are filled almost to full seating capacity. The interior of the school has been repainted and otherwise renovated during the vacation, making a marked improvement in the appearance of the class rooms. There are two changes in the teaching staff. Mr. H. Schmietendorf, B. A., late of Listowel, is in charge of the Science department and Miss Ella Sinclair, B. A., is the new classical teacher. Both teachers come highly recommended and their work is already making a very favorable impression. Mr Schmietendorf was engaged in the chemical department of the big munitions plant at Nobel during the summer.

THE SELECTION OF AND WINTERING OF BIENNIAL VEGETABLES FOR SEED

(By W. T. Macoun).

By the term "biennial" vegetable is meant one which takes two seasons to produce seed. The vegetable must be stored over the first winter and replanted, for seed production, the following spring. Some well-known vegetables of this class are beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, parsnips, salsify and turnips. Seed from these can easily be grown in Canada if the vegetables to be so used are kept in good condition over the winter. Some information on the selection and storing of roots and plants intended for seed production is herewith given.

Unless a rigid selection is made, each year, of specimens which are true to type it will not be long before a large proportion of the crop will be not true to type; hence great care should be taken to select well-shaped, medium-sized roots, typical of the variety, of beets, carrots, parsnips, salsify and turnips, firm-headed cabbage true to type, firm stalked and disease-resistant plant of celery, and firm, shapely onion bulbs. If this is done and varieties are kept far enough from others so that they will not cross, the crop from Canadian grown seed should compare favorably with imported seed in regard to purity, as it does in other characteristics.

The methods of wintering vegetables for seed will vary in different parts of Canada but in most places it will be necessary to give them some protection. When possible, it is best to store them in a frost-proof cellar. But, if necessary, the vegetables may be stored outside, both in small and in large quantities, except in the case of onions, which must be kept dry, and stored in a cool place where there is little or no frost.

Cabbage—One of the simplest and most successful methods of wintering cabbage at Ottawa has been to place the plants side by side, heads up, in a trench or pit, the top of the heads being about six inches below the level of the ground, the trench being refilled with soil to the bottom of the heads. About a foot of straw is placed over the heads and, when cold weather sets in, from six to eight inches of soil is put over the straw. Forest leaves, no doubt, would prove as satisfactory as straw. When winters are not very severe or where a heavy covering of snow is fairly sure, the cabbage may be simply heeled in with the heads above ground and the latter covered with leaves or straw just before severe frosts. There should be only a light covering at first to help prevent heating and rotting, and later a heavier application when the weather becomes cold.

Celery—Good results have been obtained at Ottawa by wintering celery for seed purposes as follows: The plants are set in a trench deep enough so that the tops of the celery come even with the surface of the ground. The plants are set close together in the row, but each row is separated by soil. Before severe frosts, the plants are covered with heavy layer of straw and when cold weather sets in with about fifteen inches of soil. In 1917 nearly every plant came through the winter with the heart in good condition, which is all that is necessary to ensure good crops of seed.

Beets, Carrots, Parsnips, Salsify and Turnips—When harvesting, the tops are cut to within two inches of the end of the specimen, thus leaving the central shoot. This is better than cutting off the leaves close to the root. The pit in which good success has been obtained in wintering roots at Ottawa is made as follows: A hole is dug of the necessary dimensions, six inches deep, in a well-drained place. Poles are laid on the ground and covered with boards, leaving about five inches of air space under the flooring. A sink hole three feet deep is dug six feet away from the pit. An inverted trough-shaped pipe connecting this hole with the air space under the pit gives a chance for air circulation and drainage of any water that might soak in. The roots are put in bags to separate them better though this is not always necessary, and piled three tiers high, running to a peak. A peaked roof of boards is put over the pit, high enough above the bags to allow about fifteen inches of straw to be packed in between over the roof is put a light coat of straw and then fifteen inches of soil. A vent hole nine inches square is left in the centre of the roof. Before hard frost the sink hole is filled with straw and covered with boards and twelve inches of soil. The covering with soil should be deferred until cold weather sets in to avoid danger of heating, and during the winter the temperature inside the pits should be taken if the pits are large. In many places parsnips may be left in the ground over winter and transplanted in the spring when better results will be obtained than if pitted, as they are very hardy.

NOT A NEW IDEA TO HIM.

"Now, Lieut. Tompkins," said the general, "you have the battalion in quarter column, facing south—how would you get it into line, facing northeast?"

"Well, sir," said the lieutenant, after a moment's fruitless consideration, "do you know, that's what I've often wondered."

BOOZE IN POTATOES.

At Welland, Officer W. W. Wilson, of the customs staff, captured fourteen barrels of liquor which was concealed by having a covering of potatoes over each barrel. They were shipped at Buffalo and consigned to Filip Vallae, an Italian fruit merchant. There were 591 bottles of liquor in the lot, and the car contained onions, grapes and different kinds of fruit, the owner paying the duty and freight and expecting to secure the whole lot, without too close an examination. In the police court he was fined $400 and costs, and the liquor, which was valued at $1,500, was seized.

A VINDICTIVE FARMER.

Finding the bands cut on his stooks of oats, which he had left standing in a field, James B. Dickson, a Carrick farmer residing near Bellmore, at once suspected his neighbor, William Hackney, of the deed, there having been, it seems, bad blood between the two for some time. After interviewing the authorities at Walkerton about the affair, Dickson went to Hackney and accused him of the deed and threatened him with proceedings unless the oats were rebanded by six o'clock that evening. After supper Mr. Dickson went to the field and found that the sheaves had been rebound as instructed. Feeling, however, that his spiteful neighbor needed a lesson in gentlemanly etiquette, Dickson laid a complaint against him for trespassing on his premises and damaging his property. The accused, who was scheduled to appear before Magistrate Tolton on Monday for trial, drove into town on Saturday and pleaded guilty to the charge, and was ordered to pay Dickson $5 damages for attacking his oats, as well as being mulcted with a fine of $5 and costs for his crime, making a total assessment of $19.50, which the culprit was obliged to liquidate for his conduct. The accused was unable to assign any reason for his vandalism other than a revengeful spirit against his neighbor and the attendant satisfaction of handing him a slam.—Bruce Herald and Times.

JACK MINER'S WILD BEASTS

The friend of the wild birds, Jack Miner, of Kingsville, Ont., according to the Windsor Record, suffers along with his family a species of Sunday martyrdom. "It is stated he had as many as one thousand people to receive and show around in one day alone, which happened to be Sunday. The Sabbath crowds that flock to Jack's place reach the proportions of the wild geese he feeds and looks after." As there are the pains of knowledge so this is the burden of fame of a unique character. Far and wide is Miner's name known for the welcome and shelter he affords the migratory birds and his care of them. Every season without fail the birds, trusting the kindness of this man, stay their flight and make his premises their abode. The crowds feel towards him as the wild geese, and so they come and intrude on Sunday upon his family quiet. Unlike the birds they are not easily driven away. As according to the old saying, "we are not responsible for the birds flying overhead, but we are, should they build a nest in our hair." So Miner may be thought to be responsible for his own Sabbath burdens. Nevertheless it remains true, and this incident illustrates it, that none are quite so inconsiderate of the rights of others as those on Sunday pleasure bent. The birds may be responsive to a suggestion and specially to alarm but not they. "Look not every man upon his own things, but also upon the things of others," is a rule they not only do not respect, "but cannot be compelled to observe."

AUTO THIEVING.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Steal Minister's Auto in Arthur; Caught in the Act by Owner.

Automobile thieving was the branch of activity in which considerable interest was centred last week. Fortunately none of the town's gas wagons were appropriated, although one of them was removed from its garage and narrowly escaped passing into illegal ownership.

An Owen Sound car which had been located by the Owen Sound police, came to town and took his machine home.

The Arthur car which was tampered with, belonged to Rev. A. R. Springer. About midnight on Wednesday, he heard a noise in the vicinity of his garage, and going to one of the upstair windows of the parsonage, he saw two men pushing his car out onto the road. They had moved it to the sidewalk, evidently intending to take it down the street before starting the engine and thereby avoiding making any noise which would lead to their being detected. Mr. Springer called to the thieves and they at once made good their escape.

Constable Tindale was notified, and an hour or so later he located two men at the town scales; when he approached the scales he was ordered to come no further, and as it was a case of two to one, and he was without a revolver, he thought it better to take the advice given. However he has made sure that he will not again be placed in this awkward position and has secured a 32 revolver which he expects will prove a great convenience on some future occasion.

On Friday, word reached town that a Mount Forest car belonging to Rev. Mr. Thompson had been stolen sometime during Thursday night. If it were the same two men who were after Mr. Springer's car who got away with Mr. Thompson's, as is very probable, they would seem to have a preference for ministerial machines or acted on the supposition that an easy conscience, such as all preachers are supposed to possess, would produce sound sleepers and make their premises an ideal place to carry out a nocturnal steal.

The Owen Sound car seems to have been taken by two colored artists. The story is that they had planned to steal the car about midnight on Tuesday, and in it to convey from Owen Sound a comrade also a negro, who was in legal difficulties. However, the owner of the car was out that evening with his machine and did not return home until 2 a. m. The two artists just referred to shortly after made good their escape with the car, but the third member of the exploit, after having waited two hours past the time at which the car was due to have appeared to effect his salvation, proceeded to the police station and gave himself up to the authorities.—Arthur Enterprise.

AIR-MAN AT ELORA.

On a recent Sunday forenoon, a young man from Camp Borden, whose friends were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robertson, of Elora, paid a flying visit to that town. He landed without difficulty in a hayfield on the Gamie farm adjoining Elora and soon a large number of people gathered to see the airman and his machine.

It was pretty generally known that he would start on his return at 7 p. m., about which hour an immense crowd gathered to see him make his ascent. Dozens of autos lined the road. The young man, a Captain of the R. A. F., had seen eight months' active service at the front in France, had brought down nine enemy planes, one of which was the first German Gotha, for which he received the Military Cross. He is now an instructor at Camp Borden, so is no amateur, as was plainly seen by the exhibition he gave before taking his departure. He was flying a small, fast machine of the Curtis type, and did many of the most spectacular stunts, including looping the loop.

HARD LUCK FINES.

Recently a number of Americans who have been coming to the east shore of the Georgian Bay for some years were rounded up by the fishing inspector for fishing without a license. It is a case of hard luck. These gentlemen have been getting their licenses from Mr. Dusang, of Fesserton, for some years, but this year he did not appear and the Americans thought it would be alright to fish until he came along. Complaints were sent to the Department and Mr. Carson of Midland was sent up to look into the matter. Their boats were seized and the men were brought to town and taken before a magistrate. They admitted fishing before they had their licenses, but stated that they waiting for Dusang to come along with them as in the past. The magistrate had no alternative but let them down as lightly as he could.

GRATITUDE.

"It says here that a wealthy Western man has left $500,000 to the woman who refused to marry him 20 years ago," said Mrs. Gabb as she looked up from the newspaper she was reading.

"That's what I call gratitude," commented Mr. Gabb.

A RECKLESS DRIVER.

In a village lived a doctor noted for his reckless motor driving. One day when he answered the telephone a woman's voice asked him if he were going out driving that afternoon.

"No; I hardly think I will have time this afternoon. But why do you ask?"

"Well," replied his anonymous questioner, "I want to send my little daughter down the street for some thread if you are not."

A WHISKEY SEIZURE.

Inspector Harvey Secures Five Vinegar Barrels with 100 Gallons of Whiskey at Campbellville.

Last Thursday while at Campbellville Inspector John Harvey seized four barrels of liquor at the C. P. R. station.

The liquor was shipped as vinegar by Luiga Benevetti, Montreal, to Guiseppi Cosenza, Campbellville.

After a close inspection the inspector found that each of the big vinegar barrels contained a smaller barrel filled with whiskey in bulk. The whiskey barrel was stayed inside the larger barrel and the space between the two was filled with vinegar.

Mr. Harvey laid a charge against Cozenza, the consignee, and left a constable in charge with orders to arrest any man who came to claim the shipment. The dealers in illicit liquor presumably making Hamilton their headquarters, evidently got wise to the action of the Inspector and failed to visit Campbellville to claim their contraband liquor. The trial was set for Monday last before Magistrates Crawford and Erwin, and there being no defence the liquor was confiscated and shipped to the Provincial License Branch at Toronto.

The barrels contained between 80 and 100 gallons of liquor and about the same quantity of vinegar in the outside containers. The "wet goods" in this seizure were valued at about $1,000.

Inspector Harvey is earning a fine reputation for his detective work in succeeding in keeping liquor from reaching the destinations intended in this county. Two hauls within ten days are surely creditable.—Acton Free Press.

"Where is the billiard parlor in this hotel?"

"To the left, madam, but we do not allow ladies to play."

ORANGEVILLE, SEPT. 19, 1918.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sunday motoring has ceased to be the favorite pastime of Canadian car owners. The autoists did not give up this form of pleasure of their own volition, but because of the request of the Canadian Fuel Controller. The Controller has asked that owners of automobiles shall discontinue the use of them on Sundays until further notice and also reduce as much as possible the use of gasoline on other days of the week. The request was not made in the form of an order carrying with it penalties in case of infringement. An order of this kind should not and probably will not be necessary, as right-minded people will accede to the wish of the Controller cheerfully, making it unnecessary that there should be any resort to compulsion. Gasoline is necessary to the successful prosecution of the war and car owners will be doing no more than a patriotic duty by conserving its use in every way possible.

The Kaiser describes the German people as industrious, meditative, assiduous and imaginative in all domains. These are attributes which were generally ascribed to the Germans before the outbreak of the present war. Furthermore, Germans were usually supposed to be kindly and peace-loving, and we are told by travellers that this was quite true of the old-type Germans of fifty or sixty years ago. The German war lords were not satisfied to have Germany continue a peace loving people. This type of national character did not fit in with their doctrine that might is right nor yet with their plans of world conquest. If Germany was to subdue other nations by the sword, the Germans must become a warlike people, so the great military machine was organized and developed until it reached out and influenced the life and character of the people in every part of the German empire. As one writer puts it, the war lords kept displaying the shining sword and urging Germans to take what they wanted by force. Having become schooled in the doctrine that might is right and to the strong belong the spoils, the transition in the German character followed as a matter of course. The bully, whether schoolboy or man, is generally cruel and heartless, insensible to the sufferings of his victims and even capable of finding enjoyment in the tortures that he inflicts. The bullying, war-lusting nation develops the same characteristics. Hun cruelties, however much they may surprise and pain other peoples, are after all only the natural outcome of the development of German character under the baleful influence of militarism.

ADVERTISING A TOWN.

A town is judged largely by its newspaper. Business men seeking a location usually turn their attention to the local paper in starting an investigation of a scene for proposed investment. One has to get away from his home town to realize this. In a city office recently where a large number of local papers are received it was interesting to hear a few comments made by "those who know" and it was significant to note the number of times the expression occurred: "That's a good live town—the merchants are good advertisers." The writer ventured the suggestion that the merchants might be sufficiently alive to be good advertisers and yet the town not be in the same class. To this we received precisely the answer we expected: "No chance. Wherever you see a paper carrying a good volume of local advertising you will find a live town. The advertising will make the town alive. It can't help it."

It is a fallacy to think that advertising is all right for some lines of business but not suitable for your particular business. Another fallacy is the idea that where there are two merchants doing the same line of business in a town they will divide the business between them; and because there is only a certain amount of that business done any advertising that increases the volume of trade of one merchant must reduce by that much the turnover of the other man. Nothing could be farther from the truth than these two ideas. There is no business at all that is not benefitted by advertising—even poor advertising is better than none—and the benefit is in direct ratio with the amount, persistency and quality of the advertising. Furthermore, good advertising does not take away from the trade of the other fellow unless the other fellow is "dead." On the contrary it will increase the business of both, partly by keeping at home trade that now goes elsewhere and by creating new business—increasing the demand for advertised articles. This is the great and true field of advertising, to create new business, and it does it, too.—The Ridgetown Dominion.

CONSTIPATED CHILDREN

Childhood constipation can be quickly banished through the use of Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and in this way relieve all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Eugene Couture, Knox Bridge, Que., writes: —"Baby's Own Tablets have been marvellous in the case of my baby. She was constipated and feverish but the Tablets soon regulated her bowels and made her well." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HERB GILES WOUNDED.

Pte. Herbert Giles, who went overseas with the 255th Batt., has been wounded in the chin and was admitted to the hospital in Boulogne on August 31st. He is 19 years of age and was born in England. His father, Richard Giles, a bricklayer and mason, was formerly a resident of Orangeville, but moved to Brampton about three years ago.

PTE. A. A. SHAW.

Pte. A. A. Shaw, of New Liskeard, formerly of Rosemont, was wounded on August 30th, his injury consisting of a gunshot wound in the right arm. Pte. Shaw, who is a son of Mr. Wm. Shaw, of Rosemont, enlisted on Jan. 21st, 1917, reached England on February 17th of this year and went to France with the 20th Canadian Battalion. He was admitted to 20 General Hospital, Camiers, after being wounded.

PTE STEELE WOUNDED.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Steele, of Fergus received word last week that their youngest son, Pte. Charles F. Steele, was wounded, and had been admitted to hospital No. 83 Boulogne, on Sept. 2. He is the youngest of three brothers who have enlisted, the eldest, Pte. J. H. Steele being killed on Jan. 31, 1917. The other brother, Lance-Corp. M. R. Steele, is with the Canadian Engineers in France. Pte. C. F. Steele enlisted with the Wellington Battalion No. 153, but was transferred in England.

LIEUT. F. PACEY MISSING.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pacey, of North Amaranth, received a cable from the Secretary of the War Office recently, informing them that their son, Second Lieut. Fred. C. Pacey, Royal Air Force, was reported missing Sept. 3rd, and that a letter was following. Lieut. Pacey left Shelburne on January 21st last. Previous to enlisting he was teaching school at Riverview. He trained at Camp Hoare and at Fort Worth, Texas, in the fall of 1917, returning to Toronto about Jan. 1st last when he was granted his commission.

SIGNALLER B. R. LEAVENS.

Signaller Byron R. Leavens, son of Mr. F. N. Leavens, proprietor of the Bolton Enterprise, was wounded and admitted to the 33rd Casualty Clearing Station on Sept. 1st. Signaller Leavens is only 18 years of age, and was a student at the Weston High School when he enlisted with the 234th Battalion in Weston. A letter on August 12th stated that he had been in the last big drive up to the first of the month. He went overseas in April, 1917, and to France on the 26th of December, being transferred there to the 3rd Battalion. He is the eldest in the family.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

Last week The Banner contained a brief notice of the death of Pte. Walker Gibson, of Cataract, from wounds received on the field of battle. We have since learned that Pte. Gibson died on August 28th. The gallant young soldier was a son of the late Johnston Gibson, who was accidentally killed by coming in contact with an electric wire at the Cataract Power Plant a little less than two years ago. A few months ago Mrs. Gibson died quite suddenly and now the son has been killed, making the third fatality in the family inside of two years. Friends and neighbors of the family are making an effort to secure the return home of another brother, who is in khaki but has not yet gone overseas.

SLIGHTLY WOUNDED.

Mr. Wm. Buchanan, of Grand Valley, receives a private cable from Scotland last week that his son, Pte. Allan Buchanan had been slightly wounded. Mr. Buchanan received letters from his son giving a little account of the fighting early in August. He went through the scrap on the 10th of August without a scratch, their company getting off light. They had been drilled for weeks in bush fighting back of the lines, apparently for just such a contingency, and the officers knew just what was wanted of the men. A few days after this, when going to the front, he passed Elgin Wansbro close enough to recognize him, but had no opportunity to talk. The latter also was in the thick of the fighting and the Great Father brought him through safely.

WOUNDED THIRD TIME.

Mrs. Jas. A. Cameron, West Broadway, received an official telegram from Ottawa on Monday afternoon bringing her the sad news that her only son, Gunner Allan Cameron, had been admitted to Stoke War hospital, Newcastle, Eng., suffering from gunshot wounds in the arm and leg. The message also contained the intimation that Gunner Cameron had been wounded on Sept. 5th. This is the third time that Mrs. Cameron's son has been wounded since going to France. He was first slightly wounded in April, 1917, and again in July of the same year. Gunner Cameron, who was studying for an electrical engineer, had completed his second year in Sciences at Queen's University when he enlisted in the R. C. H. A., at Kingston in September 1916. He went overseas in November 1916 and crossed to France in March 1917 as a member of a draft for the 9th Canadian Howitzer Battery with which he has since served. Cameron and Clifford Henderson, whose death from wounds is reported in this issue, were fellow students at Orangeville High School and also commenced their courses in Queen's University at the same time.

KILLED IN ACTION.

Older Son of Mayor Henderson Gives Life for His Country in Recent Allied Drive.

Last week The Banner reported that Lieut. Clifford Henderson, elder son of Mayor and Mrs. Thos. Henderson, of Orangeville, had been wounded in action and admitted to a military hospital on Sept. 2nd. We grieve to learn that, instead of being wounded as his family and friends were at first led to suppose, the young officer was killed. The distressing news that their son had lost his life was conveyed to Mayor and Mrs. Henderson on Saturday by a second official telegram from the Records Office at Ottawa. The sad intimation was worded:

"Deeply regret to inform you Lieut. Clifford C. Henderson, infantry, officially previously reported wounded, now reported killed in action on Sept. 2nd."

As stated in last week's Banner, Lieut. Henderson was in his first year in medicine in Queen's University when he enlisted in March, 1915. He went overseas with Queen's Medical Corps in June of the same year and was afterwards sent to Egypt where he served in a British military hospital near Cairo. Returning to the Western front Lieut. Henderson was on a hospital staff in Etaples, France, for a considerable time. He then transferred to the 75th Battalion and was in the fighting at Vimy Ridge in April, 1917. Shortly afterwards he was sent to England to take a training course for officers. This completed he returned to France on March 10th of the present year. The young officer was only 22 years of age. He was exceedingly well-thought of in his home town and the news of his death will bring sorrow to a large circle of boyhood friends. A younger brother, Gunner Will Henderson, is in France with the 17th Battery, Canadian Field Artillery.

Profound sympathy is felt for Mayor and Mrs. Henderson in their time of trial. The feeling that pervades the community is very well expressed by the resolution of condolence which the Town Council passed on Monday night and which we publish elsewhere in this issue.

VERROL DEDRICK GASSED.

Mr. Wm. Dedrick received a message from Ottawa on Tuesday informing him that his son, Gunner Verrol Dedrick, had been gassed on Sunday, Sept. 8th, and was in a military hospital in Boulogne, France. Verrol enlisted with a heavy battery at Kingston last January and went overseas in February. He had only been in France about a month.

PTE. ALBERT V. SMITH.

Word has reached his former home in Toronto that Pte. Albert Victor Smith, who was born in Grand Valley, has been killed in action. Deceased tried for fifteen months to enlist and at last joined the 198th Battalion as a drummer, getting overseas in February, 1916. His brother, Pte. Wilfrid Smith, is in France, while another brother, Pte. Sidney Smith, has returned home wounded.

LIEUT. MACHLIN WOUNDED.

Lieut. G. E. Machlin, formerly an officer in the 164th Batt., has been admitted to one of the military hospitals suffering from wounds. Lieut. Machlin was also slightly wounded in April, 1917, but was able to remain on duty. He is about 26 years of age and is a graduate of the University of Toronto. He went overseas with an officers' draft in August, 1916 and has won the Military Cross.

GOING TO SIBERIA.

Gunner Fred W. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bennett, is one of the men selected for the Canadian Expeditionary Force to Siberia. Gunner Bennett, who has been training with the 71st Battery, Canadian Field Artillery, at Petawawa Camp, will go to Ottawa almost immediately. From Ottawa the force will go to Victoria, B. C., where the winter will probably be spent making final preparations.

ROBT. ALLEN WOUNDED.

Mr. Robt. Allen, Church street, received a telegram from the Records Office, Ottawa, on Monday, informing him that his son, Pte. Robt. C. Allen, had been wounded by gunshot in the knee on Sept. 1st. Allen enlisted in the Second Depot Battalion in January last, going overseas in February. He trained at Witley Camp, England, until last July, when the unit went to France. He was connected with the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles at the time he was wounded. Pte. Allen is now in a Convalescent Depot in France.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

Son of Mrs. Alex. Ewing, of Laurel, Makes Supreme Sacrifice in Great Advance.

Word has been received by his family, that Pte. Robt. E. Ewing, youngest son of Mrs. Alex. Ewing, of Laurel, reported dangerously wounded on August 30th, has since died of wounds. Pte. Ewing enlisted in the 164th Battalion in February, 1915, when only 17 years of age. He went overseas with the Battalion in April, 1917, and crossed to France last April with a draft for the 116th Battalion. He was first reported dangerously wounded with gunshot wounds in the back and head. He was admitted to the 14th Military Hospital at Wimereux, France, where he died on September 8th. Pte. Ewing was a stalwart, strongly made young chap, who weighed 160 pounds when he enlisted and was about 185 pounds in weight when he went to France. His friends describe him as absolutely fearless and in every way a splendid representative of the best of our young Canadian manhood. He was well thought of in his home community and the news of his death caused widespread sorrow. Profound sympathy is extended to the bereaved mother and brothers and sisters. There are four brothers, William, John, George and Oliver, and the sisters, Misses Ella and Lizzie, all of Laurel. The young soldier was a nephew of Mr. Robt. Ewing, ex-reeve of Amaranth. We understand that a memorial service will be held in the Laurel Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 29th.

PTE. WHITTAKER WOUNDED

Pte. H. C. Whittaker, formerly of 50 Peter street, Toronto, has been reported wounded for the second time. In October, 1916, he was wounded in the right leg, and returned to the firing line after convalescing in No. 6 General Hospital at Rouen. He is a Barnardo boy, having come to Canada in the fall of 1906. Before enlisting in Toronto he worked near Orangeville.

AURIC AIKEN WOUNDED.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Aiken, West Broadway, received a cablegram from their son, Gunner Jack Aiken, in England, on Monday, informing them that their youngest son, Gunner Auric Aiken, of the Mounted Machine Gun Corps, had been slightly wounded in action. The young soldier enlisted in the 164th Battalion in December, 1915, and was a member of the Battalion band and the Signal Corps for a time. He trained with the Battalion at Camp Borden and Westinghouse Barracks, Hamilton, going overseas in April, 1917. He received further training at Witley Camp, England, and joined the Canadian Mounted Machine Corps last March, going to France about the same time. An older brother, Gunner Jack Aiken, has been ill in England since last October.

PTE. BROWNE WOUNDED.

His relatives received word on Friday last that Pte. William Arthur Browne, a brother of Mrs. A. D. McKitrick and Miss D. Browne, West Broadway, had been admitted to the 2nd Western Hospital in Manchester, Eng., suffering from gunshot wound in the side. After taking an officer's course in Edmonton, Browne, who was just commencing an undergraduate course at Alberta University, enlisted as a private in the Western Universities Battalion which trained at Camp Hughes, before going overseas late in the autumn of 1916. He was wounded at Vimy Ridge in April 1917 and spent over a year in England before he was well enough to return to the front. He had only gone back to France about three months ago. Pte. Browne is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Browne, of Wiarton. His father was taken seriously ill just a few days before the news of the wounding of his son reached home and is still bedfast.

R. PATTULLO MISSING.

Lieut. Ronald Pattullo, a former Orangeville boy, who enlisted in the Royal Air Force, is reported missing. The message reached his relatives on Tuesday. The young aviator is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. A. Pattullo, now living in Toronto, and a nephew of P. M. Pattullo. Mr. Kenneth Pattullo is also an uncle.

MILITARY NOTES.

Pte. John Morrison, son of Arthur Morrison of Elba, is reported wounded in the right leg. He went overseas with the 177th Simcoe Battalion.

Pte. E. J. Galbraith, of Hall's Corners, is now in Ward 8, Unit 5, No. 5 Southern Hospital, Portsmouth, England, having been moved from the hospital in France. His wound consisted of a machine gun bullet in the hip which also penetrated his back, and his back was paralyzed until he was operated on to remove the bullet. Pte. Galbraith enlisted with the 164th Batt., with which he went overseas. He held the rank of Sergeant, but reverted to that of private in order to get to France.

William Williams, son of Mrs. Jas. Williams, Mill street, went to Toronto last week and has since enlisted in a Canadian Engineer Corps. Prior to leaving town Mr. Williams was one of the machinists in the Chevrolet garage, employed by the Adamson Hardware Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lundy, 119 Margueretta street, Toronto, formerly well known citizens of this town, received a message on Saturday last informing them that their son, Pte. Harold Lundy, had been wounded by gunshot in the back. He is now in a hospital in England.

THE TOWN COUNCIL.

Passed Resolution Monday Night Expressing Sympathy with Mayor and Mrs. Henderson in Loss of Their Son.

George S. Jackson and J. B. McNichol Will Cut Town Wood for $1.50 a Cord.

The Town Council held its first September meeting on Monday night. Owing to the fact that there had not been a Council meeting since the early part of August there was a large list of business to dispose of.

During the meeting Council expressed its sympathy for Mayor and Mrs. Henderson in the loss of their elder son, Lieut. Clifford Henderson, whose death from wounds received in action is reported elsewhere in this issue, by passing the following resolution of condolence:

"That the sympathy of the members of this Council be tendered to His Worship, the Mayor, and Mrs. Henderson in their sorrow in the loss on the field of battle of their elder son, Lieutenant Clifford Henderson.

"We trust that they may derive comfort in the knowledge that his heroic young life was sacrificed in the greatest battle for rights of mankind that the world has ever seen.

"They will find consolation in the event of a proper peace being forced that their son was one of the greatest contributors to it, inasmuch as he gave his all.

"Through His Worship, the head of Orangeville Council in this year of great world events and great world sorrow, we would extend our condolence to all of our citizens and neighbors, who have been stricken with grief, or who are anxiously awaiting news from beloved ones who are in the storm of the world's agony."

The resolution was moved by Reeve White and seconded by Deputy-Reeve Jeffers. Before it was introduced the Mayor was asked to vacate the chair and Councillor Lewis was appointed chairman pro tem.

Payment of the following accounts was authorized:

W. O. Theobald, $24; George King, $37.80; Wm. Kelly, street watering, $99.50; Orangeville Hydro Electric Commission, $80.13; John Norris, $11.43; Canadian Brass Company, Limited, $48.[illegible]; Henry Sanderson, $13.40; The Freeman Press, $4.20; George Eadie, $7; Jas. McGill, $1; T. J. Robinson, horse for fire purposes, $125, election expenses, $4; McGuire & McKittrick, $[illegible]; Northern Electric Company, Limited, $20.76; E. C. Clark, $49; Dr. A. A. Hughson, $9.

An account from the Orangeville Hydro Electric Commission for $157.75 for street lighting was referred to the Street Lighting Committee to audit and pay.

Council confirmed the action of Mayor Henderson in issuing an order to the Orangeville Sun for $50, payment of the part of the year's contract for printing.

A communication from Jos. Patton asking a rebate of taxes on business premises of the Queen's Hotel was referred to the Court of Revision. A second communication from Mr Patton relative to the expenses in connection with the Police Magistrate's office was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Clerk was instructed to issue an order to the Treasurer for $20 for the purpose of providing a theatre license for the Opera House.

Mr. C. R. Wheelock addressed the Council at some length on the subject of Provincial highways and the County Good Roads System. Council put through a resolution tendering to Mr. Wheelock hearty thanks for his efforts in connection with the Good Roads movement.

A By-law was put through to authorize the execution of an agreement between the Corporation and Messrs. J. B. McNichol and George Jackson who are contracting to cut a supply of wood for the municipality at $1.50 a cord.

The matter of fixing the drain on East Broadway, north side of the street, was left in the hands of the Streets Committee.

Council will undertake to put a tile on Secord street from Dr. Frank's drain to the creek provided the expense is borne by Mr. Wheelock and other interested parties. The matter was left in the hands of the Streets Committee with authority to go ahead.

KILLED IN ACTION.

The daily papers received in Loverna on Saturday evening last contained the announcement that Pte. D. H. A. Brinsmead had been killed in action. No previous notification had been received by his parents, owing to an error of the War Records Office at Ottawa in sending the wire to Louvain, Sask., instead of to Loverna. This wire was forwarded to Loverna on Wednesday last and contained only the official notice that Horace was killed in action on the 8th day of August.

Horace was the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Brinsmead (of The Borderline Budget). He enlisted in May, 1916, in the 209th Battalion, Swift Current, and entered the Signal Corps at Camp Hughes when that camp was opened in June. With the exception of a month's leave of absence which he spent at home, he remained at Camp Hughes until his battalion went overseas in October. Nine months were spent in England training for the varied duties of a signaller.

On August 2nd Horace reached France in a draft for the famous 58th Battalion and had been a member of its Signal Corps until his end came.

His letters home were always of the most cheering and hopeful nature, making light of the untold hardship of a winter campaign in the mud and snow of Flanders. He never complained, but always told of any good time he had had. His last letter told of how word had been sent up to them (an unusual thing) of the success of the French and Americans in the Chateau-Thierry salient, and said that the Canadians were ready and eager to get into the big push.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinsmend and family desire to express their heartfelt thanks for the very many expressions of sympathy and condolence received in the loss of our soldier-son and brother.—Loverna, Sask., Budget.

The young soldier is a cousin of Mrs. E. R. Goodeve, of this town. Mrs. Brinsmead, his mother, is a sister of Mr. James Henry, of this town, formerly of Mono Mills, and is well-known to many of the older residents of the Mono Mills district.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

In his sermon last Sunday morning about soldiers, Mr. Young referred to reasons why some men became soldiers, and told the story of an English miner who left his business, home and family and enlisted. He did not need to do so for he was in the class that could claim exemption. But he persisted and was asked his reason. He said that he and his mates had talked it over and when they knew what was being done to women and babies and helpless people, they thought it was time for them to help put a stop to that sort of thing. That man, said Mr. Young, had the spirit of true manhood in him. He wanted to make this world safe for women and babies. The Christian is called to fight the fight of faith and to destroy the works of the devil everywhere so as to make the world a place where people everywhere may live the life of godliness, peace and holiness, and there can be no peace until all sin is overthrown and righteousness abounds.

The Literary committee had charge of the Epworth League last Monday night. Special papers on Autumn were read by Miss Ruby Wilcox and Mr. Graham Kearns. Mrs. Robinson and Miss Bell sang a duet and Miss Ewing presided.

INSTITUTE PRESENTATION.

On Tuesday night about twenty-five members of the Orangeville Women's Institute met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Moody for the purpose of making a farewell presentation to Miss Nellie Moody, who leaves this week for the West, where she will be married. During the evening Miss Moody was presented with a beautiful cut glass celery tray and the following address:

Miss Nellie Moody,
Orangeville, Ont.,
Dear Miss Moody,—

We, members of the Orangeville branch of the Women's Institute, have gathered here this evening to bid you farewell and show our appreciation of the services you have rendered so freely and so well to this branch during the period over which your membership extends. This faithful service of yours has never been more marked nor efficient than during the last two years when you have so capably filled the highest office in our gift. Although we fully realize the difficulty of securing a successor to your position, nevertheless it will afford some consolation to us for the loss we will sustain by your removal, in the fact that you held this office at the time of your departure, and we trust that this recognition of your ability will always be a pleasant remembrance of the time spent with us. We feel, however, that we cannot let you sever your connection with us without giving you this slight token as a tangible evidence of the esteem in which we hold you and your talents, so freely put at the disposal of the Institute in fulfilling your onerous duties. In wishing you success and happiness in your future home we feel sure that the admirable qualities which you have displayed here will be no less evident in your new sphere of activity.

Signed on behalf of the members of the Orangeville Branch of the Women's Institute: Mrs. T. G. Legate, Vice-President; Ethel V. C. Arkell, Sec.-Treas.

The address was read by Mrs. Torrie and the presentation was made by Miss Ethel Arkell. Miss Moody made a brief and feeling response.

MONO MILLS.

A number of the people of the community gathered together on Friday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, of Adjala, to spend a few hours with their son, Trooper Maurice Lee, R. C. D., previous to his leaving for service overseas. During the evening Mr. John A. Vance, who was requested to act as chairman, assembled those who were present for a short program and called on Mr. George McCulloch to read the following address, Miss Olive Holmes presenting Trooper Lee with a wrist watch and fountain pen. Mr. Lee's reply was followed by a number of short speeches by Mr. John E. Jackson, Mr. Cecil Welwood and Mr. Geo. Lee, and music by the Misses Lyness, the program closing with the National Anthem. The address was as follows:

It was with very confused emotions that we learned of your intention to leave us and embark upon a military career.

On the one hand we regret very much to see you go for you have been continually in our midst and have endeared yourself to the whole community. Your example has almost invariably been on behalf of the right and your influence has been an inspiration to others. We regret exceedingly that young men like yourself—all too youthful and all too much needed at home—should have to go overseas to fight.

On the other hand we are glad to see you go and take your place beside so many other brave lads and we sincerely trust your splendid upbringing and Christian spirit will help them in their moral battles. We are proud of your example in this matter. We are proud of your parents who sacrifice so much in your going. We shall owe you all a deep debt of gratitude. We sincerely trust that God will spare you, after having done your duty, to return to us. May He bless and protect you. As an insignificant token of our appreciation of your service, kindly accept this wrist watch and fountain pen; may they ever remind you of friends who constantly think of you.

Signed—Rev. A. C. McCallum, Geo. Patterson, Jno. A. Vance.

Mono Mills, Sept. 13, 1918.

A memorial service will be held in the Anglican church, Mono Mills, on Sunday morning next commencing at 11 o'clock (new time) for the late Trooper Samuel Jackson and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon for the late Pte. Reginald Maples, at St. John's church, Mono.

The people of Mitchell's Methodist church, Mono, have been making extensive improvements in their church shed, having replaced the wooden walls with reinforced cement. Needless to say this will add a great deal to the comfort of the horses in winter.

Mr. A. R. Mills has sold his fine 100 acre farm on the sixth line, Caledon, to Mr. William Duke for the sum of $7,500. We understand Mr. Duke is to get possession in about three months.

Miss Jackson, of Lindsay, has been engaged as teacher in the school here.

The pupils of the school here made a very creditable showing at the Caledon school fair held on Saturday afternoon of last week, securing altogether 15 prizes. These included four firsts and one second.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Duke spent Sunday with friends at Hamilton and Grimsby.

Miss Pearl Rusk, of Toronto, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leggett.

Mr. Jno. E. Jackson attended London Fair last week and while there purchased a purebred male Shorthorn from the estate of the late A. W. Smith. The herd in connection with this estate is one of the best known and longest established in Western Ontario.

CALEDON EAST.

The stable belonging to Mr. Bert Bradley was consumed by fire Saturday night, August 24th. The fire was first observed some time between half past ten and eleven o'clock, and in a short time nothing was left except the stone foundation. The horses and cow were safely got out. It is not known how the fire originated.

On Sunday, Sept. 1st, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sullivan, 3rd line, Albion, was invaded by the hand of death which carried off one of their twin daughters, aged two years, convulsions being the direct cause of the little one's death. The remains were interred on the afternoon of Monday, the 2nd, at the R. C. cemetery, Centreville, Rev. Father O'Connor officiating. Quite a large number gathered together to see the little one laid to rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Henry of Hornings Mills motored down on Saturday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. John Rawn, the latter being a sister of Mr. Henry.

Mrs. Wm. Beamish has gone into Toronto, to make her home with her daughter, Miss Bertha.

Mr. John Spillane of Detroit is spending a month's vacation with his nieces, the Misses Haviland, at the Albion.

Miss Mary McElwain spent last week with relatives in the Queen City.

F. A. McElwain of the R. A. F. came out and visited his father over the week-end.

Mr. Leonard Rawn, of the Royal Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rawn, of Mono Road, took advantage of a recent fourteen days' leave of absence to make a trip to the West. He went through to the Coast and while in Vancouver called on Mr. Thos. Duke, a former resident of Dufferin county. On his way home he stopped off at Moose Jaw, where he visited his sister and other friends and also spent a day or so in Winnipeg. He arrived home at the end of the twelfth day. Mr. Rawn is a nephew of Mrs. John Patterson, First street.

Mr. John O. Little, of Mono Road, we understand, has been notified by the fuel controller that any farmer having bush is not to be served with coal from the next cars he receives until the villagers of Mono Road and Caledon East, who have got none, have been supplied, under a penalty of a $200 fine, loss of license and his name erased from the list.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cannon drove down and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Duffy, Bolton.

Miss Gloria Judge of Mono Road and Miss Margaret Cowan visited Toronto relatives last week.—Bolton Enterprise.

NIAGARA TO LONDON.

Canadian Soldier Tells of Voyage Across Atlantic on a Troopship.

An Excellent Letter from Private B. W. Martin, Formerly of Laurel.

The Banner has received the following well-written letter from Pte. B. W. Martin, a former Laurel boy, who went overseas about six weeks ago:

After a camping experience of almost two months, with military training at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, the selected draft of the First Depot Battalion, Central Ontario Regiment, moved eastward, en route to England. Previous to embarkation the troops were given a rousing farewell party, and musical entertainment by the Battalion band. Several staff officers were present on the camp grounds, having remained over, after inspecting the overseas party, that afternoon. Major Young, the officer commanding the Depot Battalion, addressed the men, speaking highly of the discipline, conduct and morale of the men generally. He also expressed regret at having to hand over the command of such a fine body of men so soon. In order to meet transportation facilities, the departing company was divided into two parts, each consisting of about five hundred men and five officers. Two trains were required, each consisting of one engine and twelve coaches. About 50 men were accommodated in each coach. At midnight, Thursday, July 18th, the first party boarded the train close to Niagara Camp, (the railroad being alongside), and moved off soon afterwards. Some two hours later the second train pulled out, amidst cheering music by the band, and some sad farewells of immediate friends. The account that follows has to do particularly with the occupants of the second party.

Travelling at a high speed, the locomotive pulled into Toronto about seven o'clock Friday morning, having come by way of Hamilton. Going through Brockville, Belleville and Kingston, Montreal was reached about five o'clock the same evening. About two hours later the party embarked on board ship, and were joined by the first Niagara party, and other units. Saturday morning at four o'clock the vessel was on her way to Halifax, where we were to become part of a contingent of some twenty-five thousand troops. Saturday afternoon was very pleasant and many were having a first experience of sea travel. Sunday morning, also, was very warm and bright, and a short religious service was held by the Rev. Captain McLeod.

The scenery around the entrance to the Halifax harbor is beautiful and about twelve o'clock Tuesday morning the ship dropped anchor, and there we remained in that notable harbor until the following Saturday evening. While at anchor the necessary preparations were made for the ocean voyage.

About four o'clock on the 27th of July the various units sailed from the "Land of the Maple," with a future unknown. Ten troopships in all steamed out of the harbor, in single file procession, the "Corsican" taking the lead. That Saturday afternoon will be long remembered by many who admired the lovely scenery along the coast, and more than this, it appears probable that many lasting thoughts were entertained, for recollections of bygone days. Some of the coastline showed signs of disaster as a result of the explosion which occurred in the harbor about a year ago. A party of submarine chasers accompanied the contingent for two days out of Halifax. Two hours after departure the coastline was invisible and land was left behind. Sunday morning was ideal, the weather being warm and bright. Under the leadership of the Revs. Capts. McLeod and Campbell a divine service was held, the latter Chaplain having come on board at Halifax. Captain McLeod preached a sermon from 27th Chapter of St. Matthew, part of the 22nd verse: "What then shall I do with Jesus?" The appeal was made to each individual to make the question a personal one, and the fact plainly proven that the question cannot be ignored as none can hold a neutral position. The same afternoon a song service was conducted by the chaplains and many inspiring hymns were sung. Old favorites like "Rock of Ages," "Abide with Me," "Lead Kindly Light," and "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight," were very popular on board. Before dark a thick fog hung around, and our position was evidently dangerous, as the fog horns were sounding continuously, and the vessels were sailing in closer formation.

Monday morning appeared, again bright and clear, and prospects were good for ocean travel. Tuesday was decidedly cooler, much like an October morning. Wednesday the weather was more pleasant and a strange ship passed in the distance. Commencing Monday, July 29th, morning prayers were conducted by the Chaplains, at ten o'clock. Thursday afternoon, August 1st, a round table conference was inaugurated, the chaplains also responsible. These gatherings were a source of much benefit to the troops as many interesting and profitable words of counsel were given, especially along moral and social reform lines. Upon several occasions, during the voyage, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, and many soldiers partook of the emblems. Friday morning appeared with the sea enveloped once again in a dense fog, but shortly after ten o'clock the atmosphere was again clear. The usual morning devotions were attended, with both chaplains present. Captain McLeod read part of the 2nd Chapter of Hebrews, and laid special emphasis on the meaning and application of the first and third verses. Later on that morning the Bursar's office was open for the purpose of exchanging Canadian money. Friday afternoon another class of instruction was conducted by the chaplains. Several scripture texts were read and explained by Capt. McLeod, who also gave an uplifting address from the text: "Prepare to meet thy God." Following this many hymns were sung, including "When the Roll is Called up Yonder," "Jesus is Tenderly Calling Thee Home," and "Just as I am Without one Plea." Before closing the meeting both ministers extended an invitation to those present to take a stand for Jesus Christ, to which appeal about twelve soldiers responded, each signing a card expressing faith in Christ, which would, by arrangement, entitle them to membership in the church of their home community. The following Sunday a sacramental service was held, also a baptismal service for those who became united to the Christian church the Friday before. Sunday evening another song service was led by the ministers on the "forward" deck. Monday afternoon following a song service was held on the "aft" deck, as also on Tuesday afternoon, led by Captain Campbell. Although very high winds prevailed, Wednesday came with a heavy mist overhanging, obscuring our view of land, which would otherwise have been visible, as we were now passing through the Channel, and the boom of distant guns was heard, evidently coming from France. While in the Channel we were joined by a convoy of cruisers and an air balloon, also a few submarine chasers. Going through the Channel we entered the Straits of Dover, and shortly after the armed escort left the troopships. Just before dark Wednesday evening the great liners swung around into single file preparatory to entering the mouth of the river Thames. Upon awakening Thursday morning we caught first sight of old London, as all the vessels had dropped anchor in Tilbury dock. Later in the day the process of disembarkation was carried out and the various units were once again separated and were soon travelling inland to their respective training camps throughout old England.

The writer is at present under quarantine, with several thousand Canadian troops, in the County of Surrey. Soon we expect to move again, and then receive a few days' leave, giving ample opportunity to see and learn more of the "tight little Island." Much might be said regarding first impressions of this renowned country, particularly relating to habits and customs, but such is not the writer's privilege or intention, much as he so desires. God grant that the day of gratitude, of praise, and, when necessary also, the day of correction may dawn, and eventually the nation, the Empire become welded as it were, into a symbol of justice, purity and truth, as a result of the heavy blows from the hammer of sacrifice, sorrow and bitter experience, so much felt during the last four years of war.

Autumn will soon be here and you will NEED new stylish clothes to wear. Come to us for them, we are the "Style Centre" of this community. Come to us for them and the PRICE will be low.

We have built up our business by always telling the TRUTH to our customers. The confidence this community has in our store is constantly building our business bigger.

High prices did not scare us. It's not a question now of price; the main thing is to get the goods. We think we have the biggest and best assortment of Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing, both in Suits and Overcoats, we ever had, and at prices we know cannot be duplicated.

In Fur Coats we have our usual big stock bought from $7.00 to $10.00 less than the price is now.

In Underwear and Men's Flannel Shirts we have a big choice at the right price. We have some specially good bargains in Men's Suits and Raincoats at clearing prices. Before buying be sure and see our clothing.

"IF I WERE 21 AGAIN."

"If I were twenty-one again, instead of being in my fiftieth year, how should I plan out my life?" asks Sir Arthur Yapp, National Secretary of the British Y. M. C. A.

"Had I my life to live over again probably I should make the same mistakes that I have made; but I should certainly try to avoid some of them.

"If I were twenty-one again I should do everything I possibly could to improve my education, to broaden my reading. Knowledge is power. I should be as keen on athletics and as keen a student of Nature and should probably follow the same hobbies. Also, I'd do everything possible to get a sound business training.

"As a matter of fact, before I was twenty-one I had a fine business training with a large firm in my home-town in Herefordshire, and it has always stood me in good stead. Long before I was twenty-one I had my first experience and my first training in Christian work. When still in my 'teens I ran what we called a 'Temperance Booth' for the benefit of the show people who invaded the town for the annual May Fair.

"It was when I was twenty-one that I first joined the Y. M. C. A., and this is how it happened: I had been full up with other work and had refused the constant requests that I should join the local Association. For years it had a chequered existence and then the crisis came. A meeting of the members was called to wind up the Y. M. C. A. because it was simply overwhelmed with debt. Most of the members could not afford to help pay off the debt. A friend of mine asked me if I could drop some of my other work and go to the aid of the Y. M. C. A.

"That was how I first came in touch with the Association that has since then given me my life work.

"If I were twenty-one again—I say it deliberately and without cant or humbug—I would again entrust my life with all its limitations and all its possibilities to One of whom it has been said:

'Closer is he than breathing,
Nearer than hands or feet.'

"If I were twenty-one today, I should be in the army. Although we mourn the loss of those bright young lives that have been offered up as the supreme sacrifice, yet we realize at the same time that many a young fellow of twenty-one has done more for his country in the few months he has consecrated to the fight for right than many of us have been able to achieve in a decade, or in a lifetime.

"If a young fellow of twenty-one, who has organizing ability, personality and the gift of leadership desires to invest his life to the best advantage he might inquire as to the possibilities of the Y. M. C. A. Secretariat as a life-work."

Canada Food Board Gets After the Cold Storage Companies; Cancels Licenses for 30 Days.

For ignoring the regulation which calls for a reckoning for bad eggs purchased from producers or country dealers, over and above an allowance of one per cent., the William Davies Company and the Matthews-Blackwell Company, both of Montreal, have been forbidden to buy, sell or otherwise deal in eggs for 30 days. According to the regulations in force since June 1st last, every dealer placing eggs in cold storage is required to furnish to the operator of the warehouse, a statement in writing certifying that such eggs have been candled and that bad or unsound eggs have been removed. No licensee of the Canada Food Board is permitted to pay, or demand payment for bad eggs in excess of an allowed margin of one per cent. on the total amount of the transaction. The object of the Canada Food Board was to make the handling of such eggs unprofitable for the dealer, who is now obliged to charge them back against those from whom they are originally purchased. In the case of the two companies under suspension, it was found that no attempt had been made to charge back for unsound eggs in this way, although the candling records showed percentages running as high as fourteen. A firm in Charlottetown has been disciplined in the same way for a similar offence.

It was manifestly nothing but fair that the public should not be called upon to pay for bad eggs. If a dealer purchases bad eggs and pays for them the least trouble for him would be to say nothing about it after finding the fact out by candling, but pass the eggs on into the channels of trade, where the consumer would eventually pay for the loss. Everybody else who handled the eggs, from the producer to the retail storekeeper would thus have charged their profits and expenses just the same. By the order of the Canada Food Board it is provided that bad eggs be reported and charged back to their source of origin so that the loss is borne by the parties responsible for their delay in reaching the market fresh. In these times of high prices for eggs and every other food commodity, the consumer is doubly entitled to fresh eggs bought in good faith in the regular way. Producers should be careful of the stock they sell and dealers should be watchful of the stock they buy.

HOME MERCHANTS' CHANCE

The provincial town merchant is being told every day by travellers, wholesalers and observers of retail trade conditions that he can now undersell the city departmental store at every turn. To most cautious and careful buyers this fact has been known ever since the departmental store reached out for rural business. But the method of the mammoth store was to iterate and reiterate its superiority and going into the homes of the people with its semi-annual message it soon convinced buyers that its statements were authentic because these statements were seldom or never challenged by the provincial town merchant. The man who confined himself to one or two lines of merchandise, or even conducted a general store business, either could not or would not take up the issue so brazenly laid down in the catalogues of the departmental stores. Even now, when the mammoth store is encountering difficulty at every turn and is doing business under the greatest stress, the country merchants are not all taking advantage of the opportunity which is staring them in the face. In the years before war conditions arose the departmental store buyers went to Europe and there made bids in the open market for very large purchases of manufactured goods. The largest wholesalers did not place heavier orders than the departmental store buyers placed. The result was that when the enormous overhead expense of the big store has been included in the profits necessary on these foreign purchased goods the selling price was not any better than the country merchant placed on his goods after purchasing them from the wholesaler. But the big store offered variety, and it also issued colored plates which went into the homes of the people and under the evening light at leisure the new gowns and the new things in wearing apparel were viewed. Now, it is no longer possible for the departmental store buyer to go to Europe to make his purchases; he must buy on the continent of America and he is forced to take his proportion of available goods along with the smaller merchant who has long been a customer of these manufacturers and who gets the preference. This is more than probably the reason for an existing condition which is evoking comment all over the country, namely, that the town and country stores have nicer, better made and better quality wearing apparel for man, woman and child than the mammoth city stores are showing. Probably many of our readers have heard this comment. Yet the big city stores are issuing their catalogues the same as usual and are doing the best they can in the way of substitutes to hold the trade. The merchants throughout the province all know this, and many of the buyers know it. But there are hundreds of thousands of buyers who do not know it and unless the merchants take some means to inform the buying public the purchasers of goods are not going to be made aware of this existing condition. The merchant is the vitally interested one and it is he who must institute and prosecute the publicity campaign. Unless he does so his greatest competitor is going to retain the custom and the greatest opportunity to expand that the town man has had in a century will be lost.

DID YOU EVER THINK

why that skin trouble, from which you are suffering, will not heal? It is because it is so deeply rooted that ordinary ointments are incapable of penetrating to the seat of the disease.

Zam-Buk, on the contrary, is so refined that it is capable of reaching the underlying tissues, and that is why so many cases of skin trouble, which have defied all other treatments, have yielded to Zam-Buk.

Don't delay! Get a box of Zam-Buk and prove it for yourself. Not only is it best for eczema and all skin troubles, but also for ringworm, ulcers, old sores, blood-poisoning, boils, piles, burns, cuts and all skin injuries. All druggists or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

ZAM-BUK

AROUSES TO WRATH.

Probably there is nothing that is causing greater anger and concern these days than the profiteers. People don't know just where the advance in price comes in, but they do know that articles are greatly advanced, and they are suspicious that there is a nigger in the fence somewhere.

It is this feeling that is rendering popular the Socialist theory of state ownership, the thought being that if coal, meat, flour, groceries, fruit, etc. were controlled from the hands of the dealers to the consumers there would be a vast amount saved.

I don't know whether this would prove true or not, but one thing is certain, if the example of Queensland, New South Wales, amounts to anything, there is a good deal that could be done to solve the cost of living problem—though in Canada the situation is somewhat different, seeing that, in so far as meat is concerned, we are somewhat differently situated and there is a very keen demand from people who will have the very best.

However, it is worth while quoting what the Queensland labor government accomplished after it announced the conviction that "exploitation was going on along a grand scale." Every effort at restriction had met with protests from dealers, who bitterly complained that the price-fixing boards were trying to ruin them. So the Government decided to test the situation by entering the trade itself.

State butcher shops in Queensland have brought cheap meat. Mr. W. Francis Ahern, staff correspondent of the Montreal Star at Queensland in a detailed despatch to his paper last week, tells what has been done and how it was done. After two years and a half of operation he states that the price of meat, which had increased one hundred per cent. during war-time under private control, had been brought down to a figure equal to what it was before the war, plus the difference due to legitimate causes such as droughts, etc." State action, he declares, has demonstrated that the meat market of Queensland, under private control, was "the victim of both unregulated chance and interests which were not competing against each other, and did not even pretend to be striving for public ends. The market manipulators were establishing an automatic rule over the whole business."

State operations immediately caused a sharp slump in the price of all meats to the consumer. Beef fell nine cents per pound when the first State shop was opened. Competition exercised a potent effect upon private enterprise, which was not interfered with. Private dealers and corporations were, however, forced to bring their prices down to those charged by the State. Mr. Ahern quotes the official market prices during the two years of operation to give the results. Comparative prices for the various cuts of beef, mutton, lamb, and for sausage, mincemeat, etc., are given in detail, and in every case a very substantial reduction per pound has resulted.

Possibly the result of State operation in Queensland could not be duplicated elsewhere. Yet it is such facts as this that cause people to wonder if something could not be done to stave off the everlasting upward trend of prices.

POTATO SPECULATORS WARNED BY FOOD BOARD

Dealers and others who may be ambitious in regard to this year's crop of potatoes and apples have been warned by the Canada Food Board against speculation. "In negotiations for the purchase or sale of apples, potatoes or other roots, due consideration should be given to the possibility of some action being taken by this Board," declares their recent statement.

DIGESTED HIS REMARKS.

A young minister just out of the seminary was preaching his trial sermon in a village church. He was very positive, repeating several times: "I am correct, though all the commentators disagree with me." That evening, just as the young preacher arose to read the Scripture, an old lady entered the door and walked straight to the front, and, looking up into the young minister's face as she handed him a market basket carefully covered, said: "Brother, I heard you say this morning that all common taters disagree with you. I have brought you a basket of yellow yams, which I hope you can eat without getting sick."

PEEL SHORT COURSES.

Department Planning for Classes at Palgrave Next January, to Last Four Weeks.

The Peel County Department of Agriculture at Brampton is planning to hold the Free Short Courses in Palgrave next winter, if enough young men and young women will take part. Two courses are planned —one in Practical Agriculture for young farmers and one in Home Making for the girls and women. They will be free and will last for four weeks from January 7 to Jan. 31.

The Agriculture Course will be largely a condensation of the regular farmers' sons course at the Guelph Agricultural College. Special attention will be given to local conditions of farming in order to make it as useful as possible. In addition to lectures there will be practical work in stock judging, pruning, milk testing, etc. Five Agricultural Courses have so far been held in Peel County with an average attendance of 32. It will be several years before another course can be held in the Palgrave section, and it is hoped that all the young men will turn out in this slack season of the year and make the Class a success. Lectures last from 9.30 to 4.00 each day, giving time for the chores at home. There are Saturday classes. As soon as we have 25 definite applications from the boys, we shall go ahead with preparations for the Course at Palgrave.

In previous years the girls' course has been for only two weeks, but now it is planned to make this four weeks. Miss McIntosh, Home Demonstrator in the Department of Agriculture, will be in charge and will take up: Food values, cooking, plain sewing, laundry, nursing and first aid, home canning, etc., in fact the course will be similar to that given at Macdonald Institute, Guelph. The course will be the same as for the boys and girls and women will be admitted. There must be at least 25 applications for the girls and women's course.

Some men and women in the Palgrave district have already been canvassing the young people to agree to attend these courses. It is not limited to Peel County and those from adjoining counties may attend on the same terms. Persons interested in these free courses at Palgrave should write, J. W. Stark, Agricultural Representative, Brampton.

STRANGE LAW.

It appears to be a strange freak of the law that when it comes to municipal liability for riots, property destroyed has greater claim for compensation than has the individual for personal damages. I don't know that this is really the law, but at all events that is the way things work out.

Some time ago there were riots in Toronto that resulted in a lot of men being laid up for damages for some time, and in several instances they were peaceful citizens on their way about their business, when the police in mistake attacked them, and the result was a few smashed heads. The rioters did a good deal of damage to alient restaurants.

This brings us to the peculiar anomalies of the law. Those aliens whose property was destroyed by the rioters, will in all probability have to be compensated by the city, but the latter will evade responsibility for the damages its police caused to the peaceful citizens! Isn't that a funny thing?

In all such cases the argument is set up that no municipality can be held on a charge of assault, which seems an expansion of the principle that the King, or the State, can do no wrong.

In law, the principal is held to a great extent liable for the acts of his agent, at least such acts as are performed in his service. The principal is held responsible for any bargain the agent, duly invested with authority, may make in his name. But if that agent, acting in his capacity as a private citizen, murders another or commits some other felonious act, that is another matter.

While the police of a city are attempting to put down a riot or are acting in any other way in their role as guardians of the peace, they are certainly to be regarded as agents of the municipality. The power that appoints them, that arms them with revolvers and clubs and sends them out to act with instructions for their guidance, should to a certain extent be responsible for their blunders, for their violations of the laws of humanity and of the department. Peaceful citizens, especially those in the discharge of their duties, should be reasonably safe from the danger of assault by the blue-coats.

It is held that every policeman is personally responsible for his own acts. But every member of the force is not in a financial position to make restitution for any damage he may work while laboring under the mistaken impression that he is doing his duty. If the municipality that employs him is not to be held to account for his unlawful acts, it may yet be found necessary to require any man appointed to the force to give bonds that he will sanely perform the duties of his office. In no other way does it seem possible to assure the outraged citizen, who has been clubbed, arrested without cause or whose premises have been unlawfully invaded by the officials responsible to and paid by the city. It's a fine thing when aliens can get paid for damages caused by rioters while citizens must look after their own swelled heads.

WHERE IT HELPS.

"Do you think early rising is good for your health?" asked the languid city visitor.

"I don't know about my health," replied Farmer Cobbles, "but next to sun, rain, and fertilizer, it's the best thing there is for crops."

My Limbs Would Twitch

And Waken Me—Unable to Rest or Sleep, I Walked the Floor in Nervous State — When Specialists Failed I Found a Cure.

This is the kind of cure that has set Windsor people thinking and talking about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The action of this food cure is so radically different to the usual treatments for the nerves that everybody wants to try it. Gradually and certainly it nourishes the starved nerves back to health and vigor and the benefits obtained are both thorough and lasting.

Mrs. M. Smithson, 27 Arthur street, Windsor, Ont., writes: "I was suffering from nervous breakdown, which was caused by a shock when fire broke out in the adjoining house. My nerves were in such a state that, after going to bed I could not get my nerves quieted down sufficiently to go to sleep. I used to get up and walk around the room, or go downstairs. Even when I would be dropping off to sleep my limbs would twitch and waken me. I used to have cold, nervous night sweats, sometimes would become unconscious and lie that way for quite a little while. I was always cold and it seemed impossible for me to get warm or keep warm. When on the street I would see two or three objects at once, and did not want any person to speak to me or bother me. Any little noise irritated and annoyed me very much. I had consulted specialists and tried many remedies during this time, but could not gain relief. At last I tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and before long could see that this treatment was proving of benefit. I am now feeling so much better that I can go out on the street without any difficulty, can go across the river and go about the same as usual. I sleep well at night, and am feeling more like myself every day. I am pleased to be able to write you to tell you how much good the Nerve Food has done me. SIBERIAN CLIMATE RESEMBLES CANADIAN

COL. DENNIS CORRECTS SEVERAL FALSE IMPRESSIONS REGARDING THE COUNTRY.

Great Chances for Young Canadians Who Go There in One Capacity or Another.

That popular ideas as to the climate and resources of Siberia, where a Canadian force will shortly be fighting in the cause of the allies are incorrect, was one of a number of interesting statements made in regard to that country by Col. Dennis, head of the C. P. R. department of natural resources, who is in the capital on government business.

"The climate of Siberia, speaking generally," said the colonel, "is not as severe as that of Manitoba. It rather resembles that of northern Alberta."

Col. Dennis, who for some years has studied the economic possibilities of Russia and Siberia, and has been in touch with Russian engineers and administrators who have had much to do with the development which was rapidly proceeding before the revolution occurred, says that Vladivostok, the port at which the Canadian forces will land, is not unlike Prince Rupert in regard to climate. It is now a town of 130,000, having grown to that figure in a very few years from fewer than 30,000 people. Long a fortress and naval base, it is now a boom town.

Resembles Prairies.

"In the inland parts of Siberia," he says, "the winter climate resembles that of the Canadian prairies very closely. There is more snow, reaching a depth on the north of Amur railway line of four or five feet at times. On the southern, or Manchurian line, the snow is not so deep. The thermometer occasionally drops low, but the air and snow both as a rule are dry, as in Western Canada, so that the cold is not piercing. Spring comes at about the same time as in Canada, and the summers are hot.

"Travellers in Siberia who are acquainted with western Canada," Col. Dennis continued, "are much struck with the resemblances between the two countries. In physical aspect and climate they are startlingly alike. A distinguished Russian who travelled through our northwest told me that he repeatedly felt like rubbing his eyes when travelling trough the prairies—the feeling that he really was in Siberia was so strong.

Much Immigration.

"There are resemblances in other respects. Immigration into Siberia from Russia has been acute for years, the old method of exiling political offenders, upon which current ideas of Siberia here are founded, having been replaced by a migrating of Russian farmers to settlements surveyed in advance of them in a way familiar to Canadians. With this immigration has gone commercial development, and the Trans-Siberian railway is lined with new towns.

"The country is enormously rich. Its mining possibilities, which include gold, are very great; its forests are huge, and in addition it has a great future as an agricultural country. Already, for instance, it produces an amount of butter so large as greatly to arouse the cupidity of the Germans. As a field for agricultural implements of cognate manufactures the country presents a field whose importance can hardly be exaggerated."

Opportunity for Canadians.

Col. Dennis quoted the words of an intelligent Russian business man before the revolution. "We are," said the Russian, "in the condition that your Canada was before British colonization in the Northwest, with the additional advantage of being even a richer country."

"This promising country," Col. Dennis observed, "bade fair before the war to be seized by the Germans, whose commercial travellers swarmed throughout the country, pushing German manufactures. American interests have shown activity, and the British merchants have shown some enterprise. The country so resembles Canada that there is a great opportunity for trade along certain lines. I am much impressed with the opportunities which will be offered to young men who go from Canada to Siberia in one capacity or another, and acquire the knowledge of conditions and some acquaintance with the language."

CAKE WITHOUT SUGAR.

Here is the way to conserve sugar and make a delicious cake at the same time. Take 2 cups of white corn syrup; 1 quarter cup shortening; 2 eggs; 3 cups of flour; 1½ tablespoons baking powder; 1 cup of milk; ¼ teaspoon of salt. Cream the shortening, add the syrup and the eggs and mix well. Add the milk. Sift the baking powder and the flour together, add it slowly to the mixture and beat. Bake in a moderate oven as a loaf for layer-cake, or small drop cakes. One quarter of a cup of raisins added to the batter gives more flavor, and sweetens.

The curfew law is so effectively enforced in Orillia that a Toronto evening paper formerly sold by boys after the arrival of an evening train at 8.45 o'clock, has been obliged to make arrangements to have it sold in stores. That is good police work evidently.

LETS HIRED HELP GO, DOES WORK HERSELF

Mrs. Tobolt Astonished at Results of Tanlac—Gained Twenty Pounds.

"Some wonderful things happen in this world, and the way Tanlac has restored my health and built me up is one of them," said Mrs. Paul Tobolt, of 916 California Ave., Butte, Mont., in one of the most interesting and remarkable statements yet published in connection with the Master Medicine.

"My trouble started about two years ago," she continued, "and I have simply been a nervous wreck ever since until now. Last January I went to the hospital where I was told that my whole system had become poisoned by an affected appendix, that an operation was my only hope and it was doubtful if this would save me. So I arranged to have my children cared for, in case I should not see them again, and submitted to the operation. Well, the operation was done with so much skill, and I was so carefully nursed that I finally got out of the hospital, and was home with my husband and children again. Then I picked up wonderfully for a little more than a month when I began having terrible pains in my back over my kidneys. My appetite left me, and nothing tasted right. I was constipated, had fearful headaches, and was so nervous I could hardly sleep. I fell off until I weighed less than a hundred pounds and was so weak that it was an effort for me to get about at all.

"Finally my husband suggested that I try Tanlac, as it was being so much talked about, and the results have astonished us both. I couldn't see much improvement on my first bottle, but with the second my appetite got better, I commenced to feel improved and was surprised when I got on the scales, to find that I had gone up to one hundred and eight pounds. Well, the third bottle did wonders for me, relieved me of all pain and headache and making me want to eat up everything. I now weigh one hundred and eighteen pounds—making a gain of more than twenty pounds on three bottles—and I'm wondering what my fourth bottle which I have just started taking, will do for me. I sleep like a healthy child, never waking at night at all and feel like I could eat five or six meals a day. I dismissed my hired help, and since then I have done all my own housework, cooking and everything. I have no more dull, drowsy bad feelings and life is a pleasure to me. I can't praise Tanlac enough for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

MUNITIONS.

All over Ontario the men are swabbing out their guns, preparing to ram home another charge.

They are putting in the fall wheat.

In the cities and towns, in smoky, gassy, sulphurous foundries, noisy and dusty, thousands of men and women are making shells and other munitions of war, but the workers whose product will tell in the long run are the horny-handed sons of toil out in the mud fields following the plow and the discs, and the seeders and the harrows, and smoothing things over with the great rollers.

The Germans gained some cheap and infamous notoriety with a gun which threw a shell over 70 miles. They didn't know precisely what they were going to hit. As a matter of fact, they generally hit a church or a house full of children. That was, and is, a very wonderful gun, but there is not a double-barrelled plow in Ontario but can carry a thousand miles farther. The sulky plow on Rushdale Farm can shoot clean across the Atlantic and hit the front door of the palace in Potsdam. I have a smooth-bore seeder standing behind the Wigwam which can shoot from here to Vienna and hit the bull's-eye every time.

When it comes down to plain shooting the Germans are outclassed.

A great many Huns, and their number is increasing every minute, are enquiring how those two million Yanks got across. Das untersea boat vos there! How, then, could it be possible to float two million men safely to the shores of Britain and France?

What's the matter with shooting them across.

That German gun that fired shells into Paris from a distance of 70 miles is already an antique. It's next appearance will be in a museum with the crossbow, the blunderbus, the flintlock musket and the old Snider-Enfield muzzle-loaders that our dads had during the Fenian Raid.

I am putting in enough fall wheat this season to shoot fifty Canadian soldiers right into Berlin, all equipped to take a hand in the festivities there.

If the Krupps want to learn something about the gun business they ought to visit Ontario during the next ten days!—The Khan, The Wigwam, Rushdale Farm, Rockton, Ont.

WEE BIT SANE.

While a certain Scotch minister was conducting religious service in an asylum for the insane one of the inmates cried out wildly:

"I say, have we got to listen to this?"

The minister, surprised and confused, turned to the keeper and said: "Shall I stop speaking?"

The keeper replied: "No, no; gang along, gang along; that will not happen again. That man only has one lucid moment every seven years."

A MODERN GRENADIER AND HIS GRENADES

Most Used of All Trench Weapons—Georges Bourrey, a French Writer, Telling in Les Annales the Story of the Various Implements of Modern Warfare, Gives this Lucid Account of the Latest Models and Methods in the Use of Grenades.

War in its present form causes the infantryman to need his rifle sometimes, his working tools daily, and his grenades every minute. Though he is a fighter, he is also a workman. With trench warfare now adopted on all fronts, we no longer see serried columns of infantry rushing to the charge, with bayonets fixed, flags streaming, and bugles sounding. The subterranean evolution of the war of position has gradually brought the lines of opposing infantry closer together, until they are separated only by a few hundreds—of a few tens—of yards. Thus a closer and closer contact of the belligerents has been established within the protection of their respective trenches.

It is readily understood that in seeking to hit the enemy thus protected, and burrowing deeper every day, the direct fire of the rifle has become ineffective. It has become necessary to use arms with a plunging fire, which can drop projectiles into the enemy trenches. This result is obtained by the throwing—in a curved trajectory—of special projectiles, such as hand grenades or rifle grenades; it has thus become possible to annihilate the defenders of trenches.

The grenade is beyond question the projectile best suited to short-distance fighting. Hurled by the powerful muscles of a soldier or by the explosion of a cartridge, it is sure to strike pretty close as it "bounds" from one trench to the other. After the laborious gropings of the early days of the war, a grenade of unique tpye was adopted, embodying numerous improvements due to the hard lessons of war. It is a far cry from this modern grenade to the one with a fuse employed by the grenadiers in the latter part of the seventeenth century. That primitive weapon, indeed, had quickly been abandoned in the eighteenth century, leaving only its name to be borne by the crack regiments of French infantry—the famous Grenadiers of the Grand Army. Nevertheless, its tradition still survived in the modern army of France, which kept the grenade as the insignia and emblem of its infantry.

The present hand grenade, made of cast iron for the defensive, of composition metal for the offensive, is ovoid in form and is exploded by an automatic device. It no longer explodes at the point of contact, by percussion, as did the primitive models; on the contrary, it goes off while still in the air, a few seconds after leaving the hand of the thrower. The ingenious arrangement of the automatic detonating apparatus prevents it from exploding as long as it remains in the grenadier's hand. This important improvement has made it possible to prevent premature explosions and to avoid the accidents that were always to be feared in the handling of the old grenades before the invention of the automatic detonating device.

Today every infantryman, whether private or officer, must be able to throw grenades with power and precision. Grenades, indeed, play an essential part in offense, paralyzing the enemy, overwhelming him with a hail of projectiles and deadly explosives, and "cleaning out" deep underground shelters when thrown in at the top. The explosive contains suffocating, tear-producing, or incendiary gases, which are at times as effective as the flying fragments. In defense, when hurled with rapidity, coolness and precision, the grenade keeps the assailant out of the trenches he is attacking, holds him at a respectful distance, and defends the approaches of machine-gun block houses and officers' posts.

Our soldiers are now past masters in the art of hurling this deadly device to distances of thirty-five or forty yards, and even a little further. Forty yards, however, is practically the limit for hand grenades. Beyond that distance they must be thrown by more powerful means. The simplest method is by means of the ordinary rifle. At first the soldiers were supplied with grenades mounted on sticks that could be inserted in the barrel of the rifle or carbine, and the missiles were fired by means of a special cartridge that contained no bullet. This system has now been abandoned, both by the French and by the British, because of the inconvenience it entails—the need of special cartridges, the deterioration of the inside of the gun barrel, &c.

The latest model of the rifle grenade, of the type of the "V. B.," is cylindrical in form and has the advantage of causing little inconvenience, being fired with an ordinary cartridge. This is done by means of a simple device which is easily attached to the muzzle of the gun. It is a stout cylindrical affair into which the grenade is inserted. The whole, when ready for action, resembles the ancient bell-mounted blunderbuss which the brigands of Calabria made famous. Thanks to this ingenious invention, a rifle, pointed into the air at an angle of 45 degrees, can throw a grenade weighing a pound to a distance of more than 200 yards. When the cartridge is fired, the ignition of the fusing composition in the grenade is produced automatically by the passage of the bullet, and the grenade falls at a steep angle into the enemy trench, where it bursts into innumerable fragments.

This kind of plunging fire, when well directed, demoralizes the enemy and inflicts losses often comparable with those produced by shellfire. Permanently mounted on tripods, these curious weapons are continuously pointed at the enemy trenches and sharpshooters' posts, and the slightest movement there is followed by the firing of grenades at the point on which the guns are trained.

In defensive work the use of rifle grenades helps to establish powerful barrages at short distances, stopping an attack where the artillery would be helpless for barrage fire on account of the closeness of the combatants.

For lengthening the range of grenade fire still more the armies use little howitzers, ordinarily operated by means of compressed air or gas, which hurl—without smoke or noise — projectiles weighing more than a pound, and consequently containing a stronger explosive charge. These, however, may more properly be classed with the trench artillery.

WANTED, A CHRISTIAN SABBATH.

The time was when the Sabbath was observed as a day of physical rest and of spiritual cultivation. The body, wearied with six days of hard labor, sought repose and recuperation, while the spirit found strength and inspiration in attendance at religious functions and the reading of religious books. A reverential stillness and calm brooded over both urban and rural communities and brought innumerable blessings in its train. But now all is changed, and changed for the worse. The old-fashioned Nova Scotian Sunday—blessed be its remembrance—has passed away and been replaced by the so-called "continental" Sunday which never yet has been an inspirer of religion or morals. Many people of course still go to church or Sunday School as regularly as ever, but many more look upon the day as an "outing" day, and as long as the fine weather lasts, they completely neglect all religious observances, do not attend church or Sunday School, not even the evening service. The Tea House at the Park which was built and presented to the public as a convenience for those who sought non-spirituous refreshment, was never meant to be a Sunday resort or an excuse for non-church attendance. It was not meant to be kept open on Sundays, a stipulation having been made to that effect, but the intention of its founders has been completely ignored in that regard. The automobile is a wonderful invention and of the greatest value in a thousand ways, but it is to be regretted if such a valuable invention is to be used to take men and women as far as possible away from the sound of church bells and of religious influences. Yet such is the case. Not only are afternoon and evening services depleted as regards the attendance at them, but the dwellers in the rural parts are disturbed and their lives imperilled by the ceaseless train of madly driven motor cars which tear along the roads driven by men who in many cases have no care or regard for anything. The Bedford Road in particular is crowded with these rushing gentry who desecrate the Sabbath and annoy and disgust the peaceful inhabitants of the suburban sections. Every new invention, every new attraction seems to be used to draw people from attendance at religious functions and from the things of God. And the pity of it! Christianity and the Lord's Day are, after all, inseparable and mutually dependent and the most insidious and dangerous attack which can be made upon religion is the inception of any scheme by which men and women are lured from church attendance. Besides, this is a time of war; a time when the nations of the world are locked in murderous embrace, a time when cities are burning, men perishing and millions are undergoing the torture, the anguish and the strain of life in the trenches, when thrones are crumbling and kingdoms perishing. The best blood of our land is being poured out like water on fields of Europe and every day sees scores of homes placed in mourning. Yet our people are living the gay, the non-religious life, stinting themselves in nothing and by their acts if not by their desire are trying to bring religion into contempt.—Acadian Recorder.

One night recently, while a jitney was conveying an officer to Camp Borden from Allandale, it was held up by two men in a car which was run right across the path of the jitney. One of the robbers covered the men with revolvers while his partner went through their pockets.

THE BELLERBY CASES.

P. M. Pattullo and Mayor Henderson heard the evidence in the three charges against Ogle R. Bellerby, in the Council Chamber Friday afternoon. A month or so ago Bellerby's auto was badly wrecked while attempting to turn the corner from the Centre Road to Broadway coming toward Orangeville. It was alleged that Bellerby was intoxicated at the time and that he was also driving his car at a furious speed. Constable Dawson laid two charges against the Shelburne man. The first stated that he was intoxicated in a public place and the other that he was intoxicated while in charge of an auto, both offences being violations of the Canada Temperance Act. High Constable Marshall lodged a third charge of violating the Motor Vehicle Act by being intoxicated while in charge of an automobile. After hearing the evidence the cases were adjourned until Monday for judgment. When Monday arrived the Magistrates found themselves unable to agree. Mayor Henderson thought the evidence warranted a conviction, while the Police Magistrate maintained that there was not evidence enough against the accused to warrant finding him guilty. The case against Edward Silk, one of Bellerby's passengers, who was charged with being intoxicated in a public place, was also tried by P. M. Pattullo and Mayor Henderson on Friday and was afterwards adjourned until Sept. 23rd for judgment.

MUST DESCRIBE PARCELS.

Many Soldiers' Parcels are Being Delayed, Say Post Office Authorities.

The attention of the public is directed to the requirements that every parcel post packet for the United Kingdom, France, Italy and other destinations overseas, including those addressed to the soldiers, must be accompanied by a Customs declaration affixed to the parcel by the sender, giving a definite statement as to the nature and value of the contents.

The Post Office Department advises that a large number of parcels reach the General Post Office daily which cannot be sent forward on account of the Customs declaration not being properly made out, the senders declaring the contents indefinitely as soldiers' comforts, eatables, sundries, etc. It is, therefore, necessary to return such packets to the senders, in order that the declarations may be properly filled in. This not only entails unnecessary labor on the part of the post office officials, but may cause delay in despatch. Care should, therefore, be taken to see that the declarations are properly filled in as required by the Postal Regulations.

Blank Customs declaration forms can be obtained on application at any post office.

MONO EAST PARISH.

A memorial service will be held in St. John's church, Mono Mills, on Sunday next at 11 a.m. for the late Pte. Samuel Jackson. A memorial service will also be held in St. John's church, Mono, at 3.30 p.m. in honor of the late Pte. Reginald Maples. Service and Holy Communion will be held in St. Paul's church at 7 p.m.

On Sunday, Sept. 29th, the Bishop of Toronto will be present and hold confirmation services at St. John's church, Mono, at 11 a. m. and St. Paul's at 7 p.m. Holy Communion at both services. Regular service will be held at Hockley at 3 p.m. New time for all services.

REV. COTTON INDUCTED.

Last week in St. Aidan's Anglican church, Balmy Beach, Rev. T. H. Cotton was inducted by his Lordship Bishop Sweeny as new rector of the parish. The bishop was assisted by Rev. C. J. James, rural dean, and by Canon Plumptre. As the bishop and clergy proceeded to the chancel of the church, Boy Scouts formed a guard of honor. The induction sermon was delivered by Major (Canon) Dixon. Dr. Hamilton, of Wycliffe College, read the lesson, and the new rector offered prayers for his congregation and for a blessing upon his ministry. The keys of the church were then given over by the church wardens, A. H. Burt and J. C. Rutter. There was a very large congregation present and about twenty of the city clergy. The new rector was born and spent his boyhood in the north end of Mono township. He is a graduate of the Orangeville High School.

CARRIED LANTERNS.

A question as to whether mosquitoes are able to see in the dark reminds a contributor of the story of the Irishman who had no such doubts on the question. He and a companion occupied the same room one night and left the gas burning low when thye retired. Being annoyed with mosquitoes, they decided as a protection against the pest to extinguish the light entirely. Presently some lightning bugs began slipping about the room, and the Irishman, noticing them, awoke his companion and whispered: "It's no use, Mike; see the divils now; they have lantherns looking for us."

PILES Do not waste another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and as certainly cure you. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. MRS. WILLIAM HATCHER.

The death of Mrs. Hatcher, wife of Mr. William Hatcher, an old resident of Orangeville, occurred at her home on Faulkner street, about 10.30 o'clock on Friday morning. Deceased, who was 74 years of age, had been in very poor health for a number of years and had not been well enough to leave her house for the last year or longer. She had been bedfast for four months and had been gradually growing weaker until Friday morning, when she slept peacefully away. Mrs. Hatcher, whose maiden name was Isabella Temple, was a daughter of the late Thomas Temple, who is well-remembered as caretaker of St. Andrew's church for many years. She was born in Scotland in 1844 and came to Canada with her parents when only three years of age. She was married to Mr. Hatcher in 1866. The newly wedded couple took up their residence on a farm near Fergus where they lived for a number of years, afterwards moving to Orangeville where they have resided for the last thirty years. Besides her husband Mrs. Hatcher is survived by a family of five sons and one daughter, namely, Thos. and Fred Hatcher, of Blackie, Alta.; David, of Orangeville; William, of Medicine Hat, Alta.; Joseph, of Vancouver, and Miss Margaret, at home. The husband and family have the sympathy of their neighbors and friends in the loss of one who was a true and devoted wife and mother. David Temple, West Garafraxa; James Temple, Fergus; Joseph Temple, Orangeville; Thomas and George Temple, Caledon; John Temple, Marquette, Mich., who was unable to be present at the funeral; Mrs. William Kelly, Toronto, and Mrs. Thomas Ogston, Spokane, Wash., are the surviving brothers and sisters. There was a large attendance at the funeral which was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery at 2.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. M. Morris, the family pastor, conducted an impressive service at the house and also officiated at the grave. The pallbearers were five brothers and a brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. Kelly, of Toronto. Among the floral tributes were the following: Pillow, the family; sprays, grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. James Temple of Fergus, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Ogston and family; wreath, J. D. Torrie and staff; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Duncan; bouquets, Mrs. Geo. Hepton and Miss Kelly.

MRS. J. E. THOMPSON.

It is with much regret that we record the sad news of the death of Louisa Matilda Leflar, wife of Mr. J. E. Thompson, which took place at her home, lot 15, 5th line, west, Caledon, on Monday morning, Aug. 26th, at the age of 55 years. Deceased, who was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leflar, formerly of Caledon, had been a sufferer from heart trouble for nearly a year. Deceased was a bright and cheerful woman, whose nature contained much of the sunshine of life, and the smile and pleasant greeting that came so naturally from her lips made her a friend whom it was always a pleasure to meet. She was a very industrious woman, whose thoughts centred on her home and family. She was also a devoted wife and mother and her death means an irreparable loss to the husband, son, daughter, brothers and sister, who have the sympathy of the community in this their hour of sorrow and bereavement. There is one son, Garfield, living at home, who attended on his mother's wants both night and day, and one daughter, Mrs. Trevor Turner, of Dundalk. Mrs. Thompson's eldest daughter, Maude, died five years ago and her death was a shock from which the mother never fully recovered. Mrs. Thompson's remains were conveyed to Shelburne cemetery by motor and were laid at rest there beside her daughter. The surviving brothers and sister are: Messrs. Geo. W. and W. A. Leflar and Miss Madalena Leflar, all of Shelburne. The officiating clergymen were Rev. T. R. White, Alton, the Methodist minister at Erin and Rev. Mr. Pritchard, of Shelburne.—Com.

MISS IDA M'DONALD.

The death of Miss Ida J. McDonald, daughter of Mrs. G. McDonald, of Mono Mills, took place in the City Hospital, Saskatoon, on Monday, September 2nd, after a short illness. Mrs. McDonald was informed by telegram from the West a few days previously of her daughter's critical condition. The mother and another daughter, Mrs. John Moon, of Mono Mills, left on Sunday evening for Saskatoon, but were of course unable to reach their destination before Miss McDonald's death. They, however, went through to Saskatoon, where they took charge of the remains and brought them home for burial. Miss McDonald, whose untimely death was due to Bright's disease, was 31 years of age and for the last four years had lived at Plunkett, Sask., where she was engaged on the post office staff. She is survived by her mother, two brothers, George and Ernest McDonald, Mono Mills, and five sisters, Mrs. Jas. Kirton of Wingham, Mrs. John Moon and Mrs. Thos. McCandless of Mono Mills, Miss Agnes McDonald at home and Miss Edna McDonald, stenographer in Jos. J. Kelly's office, Orangeville. Deceased was a young lady of many estimable qualities and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends and acquaintances, who unite in extending their sympathy to the bereaved mother and family. The funeral was held from J. A. Donaldson's undertaking rooms, Caledon East, on Tuesday morning, September 10th, to the Union cemetery, Caledon East. Rev. Mr. Laycock, of Mono Mills, conducted the funeral service, assisted by Rev. Mr. Burry, of Caledon East. The pallbearers were Messrs. Laurence and Wilbert Kee, Alden Patterson, Clinton Martin, Samuel and Norman McMullin.

Kitchener was right

when he said—

"Either the civilian population must go short of many things to which it is accustomed in times of peace or our armies must go short of munitions and other things indispensable to them."

NOW the only way we can possibly live up to that obligation is by going without in order that our soldiers may have. For the money we waste is not money at all—it is equipment, clothing, shot and shell that are urgently needed in France.

By denying ourselves, therefore, we enable Canada to procure to the fullest extent the materials and labor which she and our Allies need for the successful prosecution of the war.

What happens when we fail to save?

A pull on labor by the Government in one direction and a pull on labor by the people in the opposite direction.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are of no use to the country if goods and services can be secured only to the extent of eighty millions of dollars. So we must do everything in our power to release both goods and labor for the purposes for which Canada needs them.

WHETHER it be food, coal, wool, steel, leather, labor or transportation, the result in all cases is the same. Whoever competes with the nation by freely satisfying his own desires, selfishly appropriates to his own use that which is so urgently required for our fighting men in France.

For the sake of your country and the boys "over there," spend cautiously. Think of what Lord Kitchener has said, and ask yourself first, "Is this something I really need or can I do without it?"

M'KENZIE-ARTHUR.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arthur, Church street, on Thursday last, September 12th, when their daughter, Florence Henrietta, was united in marriage to Mr. William Kenneth McKenzie, of Alliston, Rev. Dudgeon, pastor of Bond Head Methodist church, officiating. The bride, who was unattended, wore her travelling suit of navy serge with becoming hat to match, and carried a large bouquet of roses. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, who were the only guests present. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents, that of the groom being a beautiful necklace. The happy couple left on the six o'clock train amid showers of confetti for Toronto. They will also visit Sudbury and North Bay before going to their future home on the groom's farm near Alliston. The Banner extends its heary good wishes for a long and prosperous married life.

YOUNG-CONNOR.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. J. W. Connor, Bowling Green, on Wednesday of last week, September 11th, when, in the presence of over sixty guests, her only daughter, Agnes Hazel, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Andrew Ernest Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Young, of Shelburne. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, took place on the verandah, which was tastefully decorated with everygreens, flags and white bells. The bride, who was unattended, entered on the arm of her brother, Harvey, and wore a becoming gown of white taffeta, with bridal veil and carried a large bouquet of yellow roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Hazel Trimble, of Laurel, who also played during the signing of the register and at other intervals during the evening. After the ceremony the happy couple led the way to the dining room where a sumptuous wedding repast was served. The decorations were pink and white. Later in the evening they left for their home on the groom's farm at Campania. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful present, that of the groom being a sunburst of pearls. The gift to the pianiste was a pretty brooch. The Banner joins many friends of the happy young couple in extending its hearty good wishes for their future prosperity and happiness.

ONE ON THE FARMER.

A Scottish farmer one day called to a farmhand: "Here, Tam, gang roon' and gie the coos a cabbage each, but min' ye gie the biggest tae the coo that gies the maist milk." The boy departed to do his bidding and on his return the farmer asked if he had done what he was told. "Ay, maister," replied the lad, "I gied 'em a cabbage each, and hung the biggest ane on the pump handle."

"When Dreams Come True"

Style "A" Mahogany or Walnut

"When dreams come true," we always say, we'll have this luxury and that comfort, and be able to enjoy the concerts and operas and music of the greatest artists. The brings the music of all the best artists into your own home. Plays all records, no matter what make. Has the Universal Tone Arm, which can be adjusted to play any disc record, and play it perfectly.

Another feature is the beauty of the cabinet. Each instrument is made under the direction of master workmen. The Brant-ola is easily distinguished by the excellence of its construction and the fineness of its finish.

Add to these two features the third of economy in buying and the Brant-ola has made possible the realization of your dreams.

The Brant-ola is made in seven different styles. Finished in Walnut, Fumed Oak and Mahogany. Ask your dealer to demonstrate this beautiful instrument to you.

HELP THE BOYS "OVER THERE" BY SAVING GASOLINE.

The Allies need gasoline. Waste none of it on Sunday motoring for pleasure. He who uses it for this purpose stinks. Those who are fighting our battles. It is the duty of all motor car owners to comply with the Fuel Controller's request to save 'gas."

The safety of the State being th esupreme law, personal enjoyment must give place to national necessity during the time. To save gasoline is to save money. It will also give a more adequate supply of "gas" for the needs of our war machine, which must lack no essential. To comply with the Fuel Controller's request will save $150,000 on a single Sunday. In gasoline it will also save hundreds of thousands of gallons. A word to the wise motor car owner is sufficient.

A. M'DONALD KILLED.

Pte. Alex. (Sandy) McDonald, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, of West Toronto, formerly of Little York street, Orangeville, died of wounds recently. He was 21 years of age and enlisted in the Buffs two years ago. He had been in France for three months. He was so severely wounded that it was found necessary to amputate one of his legs. He died two days after the removal of the limb.

WOMEN'S WAR AUXILIARY.

Persons who are interested in having parcels sent to Dufferin county soldiers now overseas are invited to leave the names and present addresses of said soldiers with Miss Lewis, at the Bank of Hamilton, Miss Henry at the Bank of Commerce, or Miss Tuck at the Sterling Bank, on or before Wednesday, Sept. 25th. The Women's War Auxiliary, which is undertaking to send parcels to all soldiers in the county, is meeting to address these on Friday afternoon, Sept. 27th, hence the importance of having addresses before that date.

RAIN MARRED BOWLING.

Rain interfered with the bowling and eventually compelled a cessation of play in the Orangeville Bowling Club's Scotch Doubles Tournament on Wednesday of last week. Fifty pairs entered for the competition and despite the threatening weather there were only a couple of defaults. The greens were in excellent shape during the forenoon, but rain commenced about two o'clock and by six o'clock was falling so heavily that it became necessary to stop play. Neither event was finished. The trophy event had worked down to the fours—two Orangeville and two Grand Valley pairs. An arrangement was made whereby these will play off on their home greens. The deciding game will then be played on the Orangeville green.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Thanksgiving Day this year has been fixed by the Government for Monday, October 14th. In selecting Monday the Government has conformed to the practice adopted in recent years. Formerly Thanksgiving Day usually fell on a Thursday in late October or November, but the Commercial Travellers' Association and other bodies agitated for a Monday holiday earlier in the season in order to increase the opportunity for family re-unions during the season of thanksgiving. This year there has been an agitation to have the holiday fixed for a Thursday, and it has also been suggested that the Canadian holiday should conform to that of the United States, which occurs in November.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. G. McDonald, Mono Mills, and family desire to tender their grateful thanks to their neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown them since the death of their daughter and sister, Miss Ida McDonald.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to express my thanks and gratitude to our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses during the illness of my husband and for the sorrow and sympathy manifested in so many ways since his death.

Mrs. Jno. J. Buchanan.
Laurel, Sept. 14th, 1918.

NERVOUS TROUBLE.

The nerve system is the governing system of the whole body, controlling the heart, lungs, digestion and brain; so it is not surprising that nervous disturbances should cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous debility are noted by irritability and restlessness, in which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nerves. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown. The victim, however, need not despair for even severe nervous disorders may be cured by improving the condition of the blood. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood that this medicine has cured extreme nervous disorders after all other treatment had failed. The nerves thrive on the new blood made by these pills; the appetite improves, digestion is better, sleeplessness no longer troubles the former nerve shattered victim, and life generally takes on a cheerful aspect. Every sufferer from nerve troubles, no maatter how slight, should lose no time in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, thus regaining their old-time health and comfort.

You can get Dr. Wliiams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AEROPLANE CAUGHT FIRE.

When his machine caught fire while flying over one thousand feet in the air near Leaside Camp Tuesday evening, Cadet Harry Creighton Saunders, son of Mr. A. Saunders, of Erin village, was burned to death. Saunders was flying in the neighborhood of the camp, when his machine was seen to burst out in flames and the burning embers fall to the ground. The body of the aviator was burned to a crisp and beyond recognition when the first-aid corps from the camp found the remains. What caused the engine to take fire could not be learned, but people residing in the district witnessed the outburst of flames when the flying machine took fire.

CAR UPSET IN DITCH.

While motoring to Toronto on Sunday, Sept. 1, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nicol and children, of Creemore, met with an accident which might have proved serious. On reaching Henry Ferris' at Lavender the roads became muddy and the car started to slide and took for the ditch, and before Mr. Nicol had time to think the car was upside down with the occupants underneath. Happily the top was up which no doubt saved their lives. The top and wind shield were smashed; Mrs. Nicol had a small bone in her hand broken, and their little son, Norris, received a few scratches. Mr. Nicol did not lose his nerve—the car was put on the road again and they proceeded on their journey, reaching Toronto without further mishap. Mrs. Nicol is a sister of Town Treasurer John Norris and Mrs. J. B. Hughes, of Orangeville.

Mr. Robert Hewitt, of Toronto, attended a meeting of Harris Masonic Lodge on Tuesday night and remained in town yesterday for the purpose of meeting old friends at the Fall Fair. Our former townsman looks well despite his advanced years.

Sergt. J. B. Hayes and his wife, Nursing Sister Hayes, who have been nursing in military hospitals in England and France, spent a few days with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wild, Mill street, last week. Sergt. Hayes was wounded by gunshot in the thigh at the battle of Hill 70 some time ago, and as a result of his injuries is a trifle lame.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cooney, who have spent the most of the summer visiting friends at Laurel and elsewhere in Ontario, returned to their home at Burle, Nebraska, this week. Mr. Cooney had large farming interhome at Brule, Nebraska, this week, greater part of his holidays last spring. He and Mrs. Cooney have been spending the summer taking a well-earned holiday.

RECORD ATTENDANCE.

The Orangeville Business College had a record attendance at the Fall opening, Sept. 3rd. Principal Spotton, who was here this week, was delighted with the opening and stated that there are over one hundred additional students on this territory pursuing home study courses preparatory to entering the College. Mr. Spotton will spend a great deal of his time here during the present school year.

NURSES GO WEST.

Mrs. M. E. White and Miss S. Love, graduates of Lord Dufferin Hospital, have left town to accept appointments in the "Hugh Waddell' Memorial Hospital at Canora, Sask. This hospital was made possible through the magnanimous gift of $25,000 from Mrs. Waddell, of Peterboro, Ontario, to the Women's Missionary Society to be used in the erection of a hospital in memory of her late husband. The Women's Missionary Society supplemented this gift by a goodly amount also. The hospital was opened in June, 1913, and is equal in equipment, if not superior to any hospital of its size in Canada. It stands four stories high, built of brick, and contains forty-six rooms with accommodation for sixty-five patients. The town of Canora, through its council, furnishes free light and water, an electric elevator, $2,500 a year towards maintenance and exemption from taxation.

The foreign colony at Canora offers almost unlimited scope for missionary enterprise and we are confident that the work in this mission hospital will satisfy the ambitions of the above named nurses for they will have an opportunity of ministering not only to the bodies but also the souls of the patients.

The executive of the W. M. S. of St. Andrew's bade the two nurses farewell at a social hour spent at the manse on Tuesday of last week and Mrs. W. M. Morris accompanied Mrs. White and Miss Love to Toronto on Thursday morning to meet the Board of the Women's Missionary Society.

The many friends of Mrs. White and Miss Love, through The Banner, wish them God's blessing in their new work.

HALBERT NOMINATED.

Melancthon Man Will Run as Farmers' Candidate in North Ontario.

A Beaverton despatch in Tuesday's dailies states that one of the largest meetings ever held in that village took place on Monday under the auspices of the Northern Ontario branch of the Farmers' Union of Ontario to nominate a candidate, when R. H. Halbert, President of the Farmers' Union of Ontario, was unanimously elected to contest the riding as member for the House of Commons. Mr. Halbert accepted the nomination, and all present pledged their co-operation by a standing vote to use all legitimate means to elect him. Thomas Windatt presided, and able addresses were given by R. H. Halbert, Robt. H. Brandon, Alex. Noble, Henry Glendenning, Dr. Sangster and others. There were about eight hundred electors present, and the meeting was most enthusiastic.

YEAR IN REFORMATORY.

On Tuesday forenoon Wm. Campbell, a Toronto lad between 15 and 16 years of age, who was arrested a month or so ago on a charge of committing a serious offence against a young girl, was tried by Judge Fisher, found guilty and sentenced to a one-year term in the Ontario Reformatory. Campbell pleaded guilty before P. M. Pattullo, who sent him up for trial. Judge Fisher ordered a plea of not guilty entered, when the offender appeared before him, for the purpose of having the evidence taken and recorded. Campbell was living with Wm. Davidson, a Mulmur farmer, with whom he had engaged for the summer, when he committed the offence.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL.

Two Amaranth farmers, who live in the neighborhood of Black's Corners were sent up for trial by Magistrates Falconer and Hall, of Shelburne, last week on decidedly serious charges. One man was obliged to answer to a charge of forgery on account of signing a Shelburne physician's name to a medical certificate for the purpose of getting his son exempted from military service. The charge of perjury laid against the other was based on his statement that a brother, liable for military service, had been married in the spring of 1914, whereas the brother was and is still unmarried. County Crown Attorney J. L. Island represented the Crown at the hearing.

HOW TO GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

"Fruit-a-tives" Point the Way to Quick Relief

VERONA, ONT.

"I suffered for a number of years with Rheumatism and severe Pains in my Side and Back, caused by strains and heavy lifting.

When I had given up hope of ever being well again, a friend recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' to me and after using the first box I felt so much better that I continued to take them; and now I am enjoying the best of health, thanks to your wonderful fruit medicine".

W. M. LAMPSON.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c.—or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CAR TURNED TURTLE.

As Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, of Toronto, and their little daughter were returning from a trip to Shelburne on a visit to relatives, their car turned turtle near Brampton. Mr. Robertson received a severe gash over the right eye, and Mrs. Robertson suffered a bad injury to the right leg and her left side was terribly bruised. The little girl was uninjured.

BIGGEST LIQUOR SEIZURE.

The biggest liquor seizure in the Ottawa district since prohibition came into force in either Ottawa or Hull was made Saturday in the latter city, when Sergt. Pelletier, of the Hull police force, acting on instructions of Mayor Archambault, took possession of a shipment valued at $10,040 at the premises of the Sudbury Brewing Company, Ltd. The consignment, which came into Hull from Toronto was of 10 barrels of 40 gallons each of rye and 90 dozen bottles of Canadian whisky.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS WITH ECZEMA

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker street, Halifax, N.S., states—"After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure.

MAJOR M'FAUL, M. C., IS HOME ON LEAVE

Major Alex. McNeil McFaul, just arrived in Canada on leave, has signally distinguished himself at the front, and attained his present rank at twenty years of age. While attending the Medical School, with class '19, he enlisted as a private in No. 5 Field Ambulance. He received a commission, and went to France in April, 1916, as machine gun officer of the 43rd Battalion. Since then he was promoted second in command and is now O. C. of the Machine Gun Co., 9th Canadian Infantry. He has been mentioned in despatches by Sir Douglas Haig, and last June received the Military Cross. Major McFaul, who is a son of Dr. McFaul, of Collingwood, has been twice wounded, at Zillebeke in June, 1916, and again the following September at Courcellette.

WELL CARED IMPLEMENTS.

William Louttit drove up to our door last week with a wagon purchased by his father 55 years ago and which is still in good condition. It was built by the late Matthew Anderson and still has the same axles and the same wheels, the latter being cut down. It did not have the box, which originally had two spring seats. He also showed us a receipt for $79 as payment in full for same. He also showed us a receipt dated the 14th of September, 1688, for the first reaper around these parts, also purchased by his father for $160. The reaper had no sheaf-rake until the following year, for which $30.00 additional was paid, the machine being receipted from Brampton. A turnip sower receipt for $12 dated 1865 was for a turnip sower which he is still using. Receipts for other articles as far back as 1852 were shown. This is a record excelled by few, which goes to show that Mr. Louttit takes particular care of his implements, etc.—Fergus News-Record.

WHY THEY COST MORE.

Mrs. Smith—"Really, Mr. Giles, your prices are getting exorbitant."

Farmer Giles—"Well, mum, it's this way: When a chap 'as to know the botanical name of what 'e grows, an' the zoological name of the hinsect wot eats it, an' the chemical name of wot kills the hinsect, some one's got to pay for it!"

WHAT AILED WILLIE.

There was a sound of revelry by night, for the Bloggses were giving a party. Mr. Bloggses, was singing "'Tis Love That Makes the World Go 'Round," and Master Bloggs seized the opportunity to slip into the other room with his father's pipe.

Shortly afterward it was apparent that Willie wasn't well.

"Goodness, child!" cried his mother, "have you been smoking?"

"'Taint that, ma," said Willie feebly. "If it's true what pa's been singing about I—I must be in love."

A DRUNKEN DRIVER.

Collides With Another Car Near Barrie Last Week and Heavy Penalties Result.

That booze and gasoline make a bad mixture was once more proved one evening last week by an automobile smashup in Barrie, in which two McLaughlin six-cylinder machines were pretty badly damaged. Alfred Rouse, accompanied by his wife and son and H. Barthardt, all of Mitchell Square, were on their way home from Toronto. Seeing a car approaching at a rapid rate, Mr. Rouse turned well off to the side so that there was ample room for a clearance of four feet between the cars. The south bound car, owned by U. Mueller, of Collingwood, kept to its own side of the road until almost up to the Rouse car, when it suddenly swung to the left and smashed into Mr. Rouse. Apparently the front wheels of the two cars struck, as both were dished. The Collingwood car, travelling on three wheels, continued for about 30 feet and when it came to a stop was partly in the ditch, facing the opposite direction to which it was travelling. The accident occurred at 6.45. When Chief King arrived on the scene he found the driver of the Collingwood car, Robert Weatherup, reclining on the seat of the motor in a badly intoxicated condition. The chief took him in charge and commanded Mueller to go along, but the latter refused. However, he had changed his mind by the time the Chief and P. C. Lambie returned, admitting to them that he had made a mistake. A club bag containing three full bottles of whisky was found in a clump of bushes nearby. When the collision occurred, three men were in Mueller's car, but the third disappeared and escaped arrest. Next morning, in the police court Weatherup pleaded guilty to being drunk while in charge of a motor car, and was fined $35 and costs. Uhlric Mueller, who owned the car, a fine new McLaughlin, pleaded guilty to having the liquor and was fined $200 and costs. In addition to his fine, he will have a good sized bill for repairs to his own car and that of Mr. Rouse.—Alliston Herald.

ERIN HOTEL KEEPER FINED $200 AND COSTS

John Horton, who keeps a hotel at Erin, appeared before the magistrate last week on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. The information, which was laid against Horton a week ago Saturday, was based on the result of the analysis of a bottle of beer which Inspector O'Brien secured at Horton's hotel a few days previous to this, which showed that the beer tested 6.39 per cent. instead of 2½ per cent. required by law. Mr. Horton's defence was that he purchased the beer from a Hamilton concern and was not aware that it was stronger than the law allowed. The Hamilton people were present and endeavored to explain that there must have been a mistake made in putting this bottle into the shipment. Mr. Jeffrey, acting for the inspector, pointed out that these facts could be presented to the License Commissioners, but at the present time there was nothing else to do but to accept the report of the government analyst. The magistrate stated he was compelled to act in accordance with this report, and imposed a fine of $200 and costs on the defendant.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE IN GUELPH

Former Orangeville Man Sells the Guelph Monumental Works.

An important business change took place last week in Guelph, whereby Mr. J. L. McIntyre, of the Guelph Monumental Works, has disposed of his business to Mr. J. H. McElroy, accountant at the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The business was taken over by Mr. McElroy on Monday, Sept. 2nd, and will be conducted by him in the future. He will, however, remain in the service of the bank for several months and during this period Mr. McIntyre will manage the business, while Mr. Richard Jasper will remain as salesman. During the nearly 20 years which Mr. McIntyre has been in Guelph, he has succeeded in building up a splendid business and his methods of fair dealing and the quality of the product of his works have had no small share in the success which he has met with. The work turned out has been most creditable and high class in every particular, and the business has grown to large proportions. It will be Mr. McElroy's aim to maintain to the fullest extent the high quality of the work and conduct the business along the same lines as formerly. While Mr. McIntyre has disposed of his business and intends to spend the winter months in California, he will still remain a citizen of Guelph, and on his return will assist Mr. McElroy in the carrying on this successful industry. Mr. McIntyre is a former Orangeville man and a brother of Mr. Geo. McIntyre, proprietor of the Orangeville Monumental Works.

Mr. Torrance, a Brampton undertaker, has purchased a new motor hearse worth $3,500.

SHE LACKED EXPERIENCE.

A farmer went one day to buy a bushel of buckwheat for sowing. The man who sold the grain was away and his wife waited on the customer. She took a peck measure and went to the granary. After filling the measure twice she poured the contents into a bag and began tying it. "But it takes four pecks to make a bushel," remonstrated the farmer. "Oh, does it?" returned the woman, untying the bag. "you see I never had any experience in measuring grain. Before I was married I always taught school."

T. H. Shields, a Brampton business man, who has been at his summer home at Lake Joseph, Muskoka, was taken very ill last week and is in quite a serious condition.

J. A. Lambert, who recently sold the Mount Forest Representative to A. W. Wright, intends to dispose of his property in Mount Forest and remove to Toronto.

While the driver of a motor truck owned by McLauchlan & Sons, of Owen Sound, was delivering some groceries at Woodford, the drive shaft broke when the truck had just about reached the top of the second rock, seven miles out on the Meaford road. The car backed into the ditch and turned completely upside down with the driver underneath. The hood over the driver's seat and the wind shield protected him and probably saved his life. As it was, one arm was severely bruised.

SPECIFIC FOR BRONCHITIS

The turpentine used in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is not the ordinary commercial article, which is little used because of the unpleasantness of taste, but is specially extracted from tamarac and spruce gum and so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be at the same time pleasant to use and wonderfully effective in the cure of affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

CANADIANS ON HONOR.

In some quarters it has been suggested that Canadians be put on rations and not on their honor regarding food.

The Canada Food Board says:

Do householders in Canada seek to evade the food regulations? Are the merchants of Canada conniving at the evasion of the food regulations? Let us see about that.

The main objective of the Canada Food Board is to supply Great Britain and the Allies with vital foods. With this in view food regulations are made, which, if respected by the people of Canada, will enable Canada to keep faith with the Allies on food.

Do the people of Canada want to sounds were renting the air. Subpoenas etc. Are the people of Canada keeping faith with the Allies on food? They are.

To take any other position is to suggest that the people of Canada would rather keep their pre-war food habits than keep faith with the Allies on food. No true Canadian is breaking the regulations of the Canada Food Board for he knows those regulations are made in order that Great Britain and the Allies and the Canadian army at the front may be properly fed. Who of us will eat what should be conserved for the Canadian army at the front?

The hearts of the people of Canada are sound and in this war to a finish. Food is a first class munition of war and Canadians so view it. It will be time enough to go in for rations in Canada when the people of Canada refuse to conform to national efforts to conserve food for Great Britain and the Allies, and the Canadian army at the front. When that time comes a policeman, not a food controller, will be needed.

ORANGEVILLE, SEPT. 26, 1918

FAIR NOTES.

There were probably 7,000 people on the grounds.

With a fine morning Secretary D. B. Brown estimates there would have been another 1000 people present.

Dr. Harry Culp, of Toronto, was an interested spectator. Harry confessed it did him good to spend a Fair Day in the old town.

Judging from the number of autos and the well-dressed crowd Ontario is prospering despite the war.

The day's receipts were $891.90, made up as follows: Gate receipts, $640.90; grand stand, $24.05; booths, $19.50; concert, $207.35.

The best horses, cattle and sheep and the best racing ever seen at Orangeville Fair is the way one enthusiast put it.

President Jackson worked hard and was delighted with the success of the Fair, but not one whit more so than his predecessor in office, Hon.-Pres. Jos. Gillespie, who has lost none of his oldtime interest and enthusiasm.

Secretary D. B. Brown and Treasurer R. B. Henry were both busy men. The Society is fortunate in having such capable officials. The day was unmarred by accident of any kind.

McNaughton Bros., of Mono, exhibited a bull, which stockmen who were present pronounced a superb animal. He weighed considerably over a ton, although by no means fat.

Dr. G. H .Campbell is sure some farmer. He carried off first prize for spring wheat. The wheat was the Marquis variety and was grown on the ground formerly used by the High School as an experimental plot

The Government judges were: T. J. Moore, Tara, heavy horses; P. S. Boag, Queensville, light horses; T. J. Fawcett, Markdale, cattle, sheep and pigs; Mrs. McKay, Toronto, ladies' work. Mr. Fawcett was assisted by E. G. Gordon, of Fergus, and Geo. Downey, of Bolton, the former taking the cattle and the latter the pigs.

The Tag Day held under the auspices of the Orangeville Branch of the Navy League realized the handsome sum of $336. The executive of the League tenders its hearty thanks to those who gave and especially to the tag girls, whose energy and enthusiasm were such material factors in the success of the undertaking.

The McMillan Clothing Co.

The largest and at the same time one of the most attractive special exhibits at the Orangeville Fall Fair last week was that made by the McMillan Clothing Co., of this town. The exhibit was situated in the main hall and occupied about two-thirds of the upstairs floor on the east side of the hall. The lines shown included a very complete range of Men's, Boys' and Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Clothing, Coats, Overcoats, Fur and Fur-lined Coats. There was a large showing of Cloth Coats in the new autumn styles and materials. Lady visitors to the Fair were greatly interested in some very pretty ladies' coats in velour with fur collars and trimmings. One coat that elicited much admiring comment was made of taupe shade velour with collar, cuffs and skirt trimming of taupe plush. It was a superb looking garment and very reasonable in price, considering its distinctively rich and stylish appearance and finish. The display also included some rich looking Persan lamb coats for ladies. These were shown plain and also trimmed with Hudson seal. Ladies' furs included a very pretty set of Russian fitch and some rich looking black wolf, grey squirrel and red fox. The firm also made a big exhibit of men's fur coats in black dog and Korean beaver. The display which was tastefully arranged, was in charge of Mr W. C. McMillan, senior member of the firm, who spent a busy afternoon answering the enquiries of Fair visitors whose interest was aroused by the size, variety and general excellence of the exhibit. The McMillan Company also introduced an interesting Fair novelty in the form of a bean guessing contest. A jar filled with beans gave all who were so disposed an opportunity to exercise their skill at guessing the number of beans contained in the receptacle. As an inducement to have a guess two prizes were offered—a hat to the gentleman and a silk waist to the lady who guessed nearest to the correct number. Mr. Jos. Pettitt, of Ballyconey, won the former and little Miss Mary Carson, West Broadway, the latter. Mr. Pettitt's guess was 2560 and Miss Carson's 2600. There were 2531 beans in the jar.

T. S. Parkinson & Co.

Among the special exhibits at Orangeville Fall Fair last week particularly worthy of mention was that made by T. S. Parkinson & Co., a well-known Broadway firm. This house makes a specialty of the famous Northway garments for ladies and it was therefore quite natural that Northway Coats and Suits should be the outstanding feature of the exhibits. Northway coats and suits are noted everywhere for their excellent finish, stylish appearance and the dependable material employed in their making. They have another feature, which has done even more than these to make them known everywhere in Canada, and that is their shape keeping qualities. Other garments may look like the Northway, may even fit nearly like them, but when it comes to keeping their shape the Northway goods are in a class by themselves The firm also made a nice showing of the popular georgette blouses, exhibiting as well a number of attractive shapes in autumn and winter ready-to-wear millinery. The exhibit also included a rich display of lady's furs, a line of goods to which T. S. Parkinson & Co. have been paying special attention in recent years.

R. JAMIESON KILLED.

A telegram was received by his mother recently announcing the death from wounds on August 30th of Robert Jamieson, son of Mrs. Robert Jamieson and brother of Hilliard Jamieson and Mrs. John Solomon, of Rosemont. Jamieson enlisted in the West. Another brother, Ernest, is overseas with the Dental Corps.

SHELBURNE BOY WOUNDED

Lance-Corp. Frank Deaney, of 21 Adams street, Toronto, was injured in the arm and elbow and removed to 22 General Hospital, Camiers, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. C. C. Rawn. He was born in Shelburne 27 years ago, and went West 12 years ago, enlisting from Weyburn, Sask. His brother, George, is also in khaki.

SCOTT BOYS WOUNDED.

The names of Pte. Harold M. Scott and Pte. Fred Scott, sons of Mr. Chas. Scott, of Melville Cross, appeared among the wounded in the official casualty lists last Friday and Saturday. Harold Scott enlisted in the 187th Central Alberta Battalion in May, 1916, went overseas in December of the same year and went to France in June, 1917, with the 50th Batt. He was wounded with shrapnel in the right arm during the summer of 1917. Fred Scott was one of the first men to enlist in the 164th and went overseas with the battalion. He went to France with the 116th. Scott was a Sergeant in the 164th but reverted to the rank of private to get to front. Tuesday night Mr. Scott received word that Harold is wounded in the neck and right arm and is in No. 14 General Hospital, Boulogne. Fred's injuries are described as gunshot wounds in the scalp and nose. He is in No. 22 General Hospital, Camieres, France.

THE BUSINESS WOMAN.

Today, more than ever before, is woman's opportunity. Many new occupations are now opened to her, which, before the war, she was deemed unfitted to fill. And truth to tell she has risen to the opportunity, and now shares many business responsibilities in former times confined to men. But, as women are subject to more frequent fluctuations of health than men, many will be handicapped early, if they regard their health requirements too lightly.

The nervous strain, long hours and prolonged mental or physical fatigue thin the blood and weaken the nerves. Such conditions as women are now called upon to undergo can only be endured by a full-blooded constitution. This is as true for men as for women, only weaker women suffer sonest. The woman worker, in any line, requires her blood replenished frequently. She needs new, rich blood to keep her health under the trying conditions of business life, and to fortify her system against the effects of overwork. This applies also to the woman in the home, who, perhaps, has more worries and anxieties than usual. So let all girls and women take heed and renew their blood promptly at the first approach of pallor, lack of appetite, headache or backache. This can be best and most effectively accomplished by taking Dr. Williams" Pink Pills which make new, rich blood and thus help womankind so perfectly. No woman need fear failure of health if they take these pills occasionally to keep them well, or give them a fair trial if they find themselves rundown.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CLIFFORD LEADER KILLED.

Former Amaranth Boy Lays Down His Life for His Country; Enlisted When 16 Years Old.

Monday morning David and Herbert Leader, who make their home with Councillor W. J. Bower, of Mono, received a telegram from Ottawa bringing them the sad news that their older brother, Pte. Clifford J. Leader, had been killed in action in France on August 28th. Pte. Leader was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Leader, of Whittington, and a nephew of Mr. W. T. Leader, of Amaranth. He enlisted in the 74th Battalion in July 1915 when only 16 years of age. He was nearly six feet in height, strongly built and because of his size and manly appearance easily passed as of military age. Before enlisting he was a member of Shelburne Boy Scouts, in which organization he took a very keen interest. He went overseas in March 1916 and crossed to France in June of the same year. He was wounded at Vimy Ridge in April 1917, spent considerable time in English military hospitals and had returned to the front only two or three months ago. Leader was with a machine gun section when killed. He was only 18 years old at the time of his death.

PTE. GALE, ERIN, WOUNDED

Editor J. Gale, of the Erin Advocate, received word a few days ago that his eldest son, Pte. F. J. Gale, 2nd C. M. R., who was in the recent heavy fighting in France, had been wounded, but not seriously.

MINISTER WOUNDED.

Rev. N. A. McEachern, formerly pastor of Brampton Presbyterian church, was admitted to Southport hospital recently with serious wounds in the arm and thigh. Mr. McEachern went overseas as an army chaplain.

WOUNDED BY GUNSHOT.

Mr. Jas. Irwin, of Erin, received a message last week, stating that his son, Pte. Albert Irwin, had been admitted to the hospital at Camiers, France, suffering from a gunshot wound in the right thigh. Pte. Irwin went overseas from London, Ont., with the 34th Battalion in 1915 and has been in France two years, during which time he has seen some heavy fighting.

"PAT" TANSLEY GASSED.

Pte. "Pat" Tansley, of Owen Sound, son of Mr. Benj. Tansley, of West Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, was admitted to the Bath War Hospital in Bath, England, on Sept. 3rd, suffering from the effects of shell gas poisoning. He went overseas with the 248th Grey Battalion and had been in France several months. His wife resides in Owen Sound.

FERGUS BOY KILLED.

Sergt. Lawrence Harrison, of Fergus, was killed in action on the 8th of August. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harrison, a good student and athlete. He enlisted with the 153rd Battalion in March 1916, when only 16 years of age, and went overseas a year later. He was above the average in musketry, and was sent to France with the signallers in 1918 on the Headquarters Staff of the 18th Batt., and won promotion to his Sergeancy on the field.

ARTHUR SOLDIER DIES.

Capt. Stanley H. Brocklebank, son of David Brocklebank, of Arthur, is reported as having died from wounds. Capt. Brocklebank, who is a graduate of the University of Toronto, joined the 71st Battalion as a Lieutenant while attending Osgoode Hall. He was later transferred to the 46th Battalion, with which he went through the engagements at the Somme, Passchendaele, Vimy Ridge and many minor engagements. He was in his 28th year, and died in a French hospital

AB. MOTTART KILLED.

Mrs. Abner Mottart, of Amaranth, received official notice from Ottawa on Tuesday of last week that her husband had been killed in action on August 27th. Pte. Mottart enlisted with the 164th Battalion and had been in France for several months. He has three brothers at the front and altogether over thirty relatives in the service of the king. He was about 31 years of age and came to this country some 15 years ago. He was a straightforward, honest young man, faithful and persevering in his work. He leaves his aged mother, a wife and two sons and three stepsons for whom much sympathy is felt in the time of their great sorrow.

CORP. A. SKELTON DEAD.

Mr. J. M. Skelton, 85 Lawton Ave., Toronto, a former Grand Valley newspaper man, received word last Thursday that his youngest son, Corp. Alexander Dever Skelton, of the 58th Battalion, was officially reported missing. A few days later Mr. Skelton received a cablegram from his oldest son, Lieut. Frank Skelton, who is in a hospital in London, recovering from wounds, conveying the sad news that the younger son, at first reported missing, was now known to have been killed in action. Corp. Skelton, who was only 21 years of age, was born in Grand Valley, but lived for the greater part of his life in Palmerston, where his father was Mayor for a term. Prior to enlisting he held a position with the Dominion Signal Company. The oldest son, Lieut. Frank Skelton, also with the 58th Batt., won the Military Medal and the D. C. M. and was wounded five times.

ORANGEVILLE FALL FAIR.

RECORD CROWD ON EXHIBITION PARK LAST WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Excellent Exhibits, Good Racing, Popular Special Attractions and Favorable Weather Combine to Make Fair a Splendid Success.

Orangeville Fall Fair directors must have made the Weather Clerk a life member of their Society or something of that sort. At any rate they seem to have managed to get on the good size of this important official. The Society has now been favored for a number of years with ideal reather for its fall fair. This year September has been a month of almost continuously cold, cloudy weather and rains have been pretty nearly a daily occurrence. True it is that Wednesday, the second and all important day of this year's Fair, dawned dark and dismal with all the signs of rain in the offing. Pessimists shook their heads gloomily and averred that Orangeville was up against bad weather at last. They were wrong, as they learned before the day was over. The Weather Clerk had only had a bad night and probably arose from his fitful slimbers with a bad headache and a downright out-of-sorts feeling. Very likely he was in the dumps until he remembered about Orangeville Fair, when he speedily got into his best clothes, ordered up a bright half day for the afternoon and started out to enjoy himself just like hundreds of other good old sports, who had been waiting and watching for the Fair.

Toward noon the clouds began to brighten and break, giving promise of fair weather for the afternoon. About the same time the countryside began to pour its thousands of Fair visitors into town. They came from all directions, in buggies, autos and the good, oldtime democrat, which is still found serviceable when the whole family wants to go to the Fair. It is doubtful if Orangeville has ever had so many autos wthin its boundaries as last Wednesday. The cars were everywhere and came from almost everywhere within a radius of fifty miles. They were parked two and three deep as close as they would stand around the entire south end of the race track. Estimates of the number of autos on the grounds ranged all the way from three hundred to five and even six hundred. Second street was lined with autos and vehicles from the entrance to the grounds as far south as Fourth avenue. In spite of the dull, threatening weather in the forenoon, the gate receipts show that there were more people on the grounds this year than last. This increase in the attendance should be particularly gratifying to President Jackson and his directors in view of the perfect weather which marked the second day of the Fair a year ago.

The Fair itself warrants the increased attendance and thever widening interest which this betokens. Except for the poultry department, in which there was quite a noticeable falling off in the number of birds shown, the number and quality of the exhibits was fully up to and in some cases very much ahead of the standard set in former years. This was particularly true of the cattle and sheep. The new cattle stables and the increase in the prizes combined to bring together a really creditable exhibit of cattle. More would have been shown had some prospective exhibitors living at a distance been able to make satisfactory transportation arrangements with the C. P. R. The showing of sheep was unexpectedly large and there were not enough pens to accommodate all the entries despite the fact that the Society had built three additional pens since last Fair. There was a very fine showing of horses, all classes being well represented. Competition was keen especially in the carriage and roadster classes and in some cases the judges found it a difficult matter to pick the winners.

Taken altogether there was an excellent display in the main hall. Field roots, vegetables and the ladies work departments were particularly good. Attractive special exhibits were made by the MacMillan Clothing Co., T. S. Parkinson & Co., G. A. Moore, harness maker, F. A. Falconer, R. Fairbairn, J. E. Smith & Co., and Wm. Fiddes, of Orangeville; Martin's music store, of Brampton; T. C. Dryden, Shelburne, and other exhibitors.

The speeding events were probably the most popular attraction of the day. The races were unusually good and aroused the keenest interest. Haledo, a Western horse, captured the open trot, having a trifle too much speed for Overland's Dr. Hal, who finished second. Dr Riddell's Spier Simmons carried off first money in the 2.30 event. A Toronto horse, Yankee Bingham, finished second and Kannawin's Ethel Hal got the third share of the purse. Great things were expected of Matthew's Johnny Carlo, supposed to be one of the speediest horses in the bunch, but he had an off day and was drawn after the third heat. The 2.50 trot brought out a field of eight and furnished some real racing. First money went to Dame Donna in straight heats. Stella Mac got second place in the first heat, but was beaten out by Billy Patch in the second trial. The Western horse won second money, the Schomberg mare getting third. A summary of the events follows:

The race officials were: W. Hull, starter; J. E. Booth, judge; R. Robson, timer.

Mrs. Sam Hastings, of Schomberg, carried off the red ribbon in the lady driving contest, second prize going to Mrs. Walter H. Gray, of Laurel. Mr. Hastings was pronounced best gentleman driver, Mr. W. H. Gray winning second prize. Mr. Hastings was also awarded first prize for the best single turnout on the grounds.

Orangeville Citizens' Band discoursed sweet music at frequent intervals during the afternoon. Bandmaster Hill and his musicians were in their best form and provided a delightful program. The McCormick family, of Caledon, gave an excellent exhibition of Highland dancing, Piper Lorne Donaldson, of Hillsburg, furnishing inspiring music for the dancers. Refreshment booths did a lively trade and their proprietors pulled in a lot of money during the day.

The Opera House was crowded to the doors for the concert on Wednesday night. The plan, which was at The Banner office, sold out shortly after six o'clock. A couple of hundred additional tickets could have been sold had the seats been available. There was another rush for extra seats at the hall after the doors opened and at least another hundred people were turned away disappointed. Mr. C. R. McKeown spoke briefly just before the program, thanking the audience on behalf of the Directors for their generous patronage of the Fair and concert. An excellent program was furnished by the Khaki Follies, whose varied repertoire of songs, recitations, choruses, patriotic and humorous specialties was exceedingly well received.

Following is a list of the prize winners in the different classes:

PRESENTATION TO REV. FRED AND MRS. ELEY

A. Y. P. A. and Sunday School Teachers Pay Cordial Tribute to Retiring Curate.

By the presentation last night of a purse of gold and an address on behalf of the Anglican Young People's Association and of the Sunday school teachers of St. Thomas' church, ample testimony of respect was given to Rev. Fred Eley, who is leaving for Orangeville after nearly three years faithful service here. During that period he and Mrs. Eley have won the confidence and esteem of the entire community and general expressions of rgret are offered that they should depart from St. Catharines.

The presentation took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Clench, Welland avenue, and was made by officers of the A. Y. P. A. Mr. Will Griffis as president conducted the evening's program. He voiced the loss that would be sustained in the removal of Rev. Fred Eley and Mrs. Eley and read the following address:

Dear Sir,—On the eve of your departure from St. Thomas' church, St. Catharines and therefore as President of the A. Y. P. A. of St. Thomas' church, we desire to express our appreciation of your services during the time you have been with us.

"It has indeed been a pleasure to work with you and your unfailing courtesy to us all has made our labors a pleasure.

"We wish to thank Mrs. Eley, who has been a valued member of the association, for many kindnesses received.

"We are sorry to say "good-bye" but congratulate you on your appointment as rector to the Orangeville Anglican church and ask you to accept this address and the accompanying purse as a slight token of our regard for you. May God give you good health and long life to carry on your good work."

The address was signed on behalf of the A. Y. P. A., by W. Griffis, 1st Vice-Pres.; N. Boyle, 2nd Vice-Pres.; M. Clench, Treas.; V. Beauman, Sec.

Several members of the A. Y. P. A. and of the Sunday School added words in support of same.

Miss Vera Bauman on behalf of the Bible Class of the Sunday School then presented Mrs. Eley with a hand painted Nippon cocoa set, and Miss Boyle on behalf of the A. Y. P. A. presented Mrs. Eley with a shower bouquet of yellow mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Eley were visibly affected and accepted these things as tokens of the best things in life of which he referred to his text used at his last sermon he preached in the church and asked everyone to accept it as a parting word from him, "Be ye faithful, even unto death." On behalf of himself and wife the retiring curate remarked upon the co-operation given him by the young people of St. Thomas' church which are the back bone of the church and he felt deeply grateful for the gifts. He also bespoke the same support for the Rev. A. H. Howitt, the new rector of the church. After the singing of "he's a jolly good fellow" and the National anthem the evening closed, after dainty refreshments had been served by the committee in charge.

In leaving to become rector of the Orangeville church Mr. Eley and his wife carry with them a very warm regard from the entire community.—St. Catharines Standard.

MRS. WM. HATCH.

One of the old and much esteemed residents of the vicinity passed away on Saturday morning in the person of Mrs. William Hatch. As noted last week Mrs. Hatch suffered from a fall and a stroke on Tuesday evening and survived only a few days. The late Mrs. Hatch, whose maiden name was Mary Sault, was born on the homestead near Hespeler nearly 75 years ago. She was married in 1876 to Mr. Wm. Hatch at Bright where they lived two years before removing to the farm on the 6th of Arthur, near Eley's school. Here they lived ten years when they went to Conn where Mr. Hatch ran the sawmill for five years, when they returned to the farm six years before retiring, first to Conn for a year, then to Dryden, New Ontario for seven years, then to Mount Forest 7 or 8 years ago, purchasing the Balfour House on Queen street from Mr. John McPherson. Here Mr. Hatch died in December 1914, and here she has lived since, her son, Walter S. being with her most of the time. There are left also stepchildren, members of Mr. Hatch's first family; Mrs. Joseph Russell, and Mrs. John Amos, Mount Forest; Mrs. James McFadyen, Dryden; J. W. Hatch, of Dryden; and George, of Drayton. Samuel W. died last winter at Woodstock. One brother, John Sault, lived on the old homestead near Hespeler for nearly 50 years, and his son is still running the business. Samson, another brother had a farm near Puslinch lake on which a son still lives. Deceased was a member of the Methodist church all her life. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to the Mount Forest cemetery. Rev. D. Wise conducted the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Geo. Hatch, of Drayton; Ralph Hatch, Toronto; Jos. Russell, John Amos and Walter Hatch, of Mount Forest, and Mr. Sault, Hespeler. Among others present from a distance were several members of the Sault family, and Mr. Evans, a nephew, of Hespeler; Mrs. Geo. Hatch and family; Messrs. Butterworth, Jr. and Sr., and wives, Drayton; Mr. Annis, Orangeville; Mrs. Wesley Hatch, and Mr. Jas. McFadyen, Dryden.—Mount Forest Confederate.

Martin Milne Todd, son of the late Martin N. Todd of Galt, and Minnie Ethel Clare, daughter of the late Hon. George A. Clare, of Preston, were married at the bride's home on Wednesday of last week.

AS AGE CREEPS ON

As age creeps on, vital force gradually decreases, until, when a man or woman is around 50, the kidneys and bladder need assistance to keep them in perfect working order.

Rheumatism, neuralgia and backache are common complaints of those getting on in years. It seems to be the custom to expect these afflictions—conclude they are simply the inevitable results of old age, and that there is no remedy for them.

There is a remedy—Gin Pills—and there are hundreds of people who can prove that the remedy is good.

Mr. Frank Lalonde, a well-known farmer of St. Raphael, Ont., was enabled to return to work at the age of 61 by the help of Gin Pills. Mr. Lalonde writes that he had suffered for years with pains in his back and sides, until finally he was forced to quit work. Gin Pills relieved him to such an extent that he now states he feels as strong at 61 as he did at 30 years.

Mrs. Hugh McLeod, of Lewis Cove Road, had a similar experience with Gin Pills. In her letter to us she says:

"I am 51 years and the mother of 8 children. Five years ago I was troubled with backache and dull pains across the abdomen. I used a box of Gin Pills, and feel so much better that I will continue to use Gin Pills."

Testimonials such as these cannot be disregarded, for the aged speak the truth.

It is foolish to suffer when you don't have to. Use Gin Pills and enjoy your latter years. 50c a box. Sold by all dealers. Sample free upon request to

HARD WORK OF WOMEN AT FRONT

Miss Annie Sutherland, of Toronto, is the type of patriot by whom wars are won. When the United States entered the war she was employed at a lucrative salary as a teacher in an institution for the feeble-minded in New York. Being anxious to do her part for the cause of liberty and justice she resigned her position and volunteered for service with the Y. M. C. A. Her services were accepted and she is now "over there" working without pay and doing all in her power to make life as pleasant as possible for our defenders in the trenches. Below is the program of work she is called upon to perform from day to day:

Rise at 6 a.m. and go to the market. Buy 30 dozen eggs to last the men for one day.

Arrive at canteen at 9 a. m. and prepare lemonade for the men which requires 300 lemons for the day.

Sell at canteen. Sold 1,300 francs' worth in one day.

Lunch at 11 a.m.

After lunch crack ice and prepare two freezers full of cream.

Distribute library books.

Assist men in correcting their exercises in French.

Translate love letters into French for soldiers to give mademoiselles, also translate replies of mademoiselles into English for the soldiers.

Sell at canteen again.

Supper in the canteen at 5 p.m. at which we have the same as the soldiers.

After supper sell at the canteen again until 10 p.m. and then go home.

The men in the bakery wear shirts which they have made themselves out of flour sacks, without sleeves, and with the blue moon mark of the flour on their chests. They have to work 12-hour shifts in open air, rain or shine, night and day, sometimes having 14 overs a full a day. The work is very hard as it is so hot, but their suits are cool, though I notice the stitches in them are very large.

FORCED LANDING FROM AN AEROPLANE IN THE SUBURBS OF EDINBURGH

Norman J. Laughlin, of Belfountain, Tells of Interesting Experience in Bonnie Scotland.

FORMER O. H. S. BOY MAKES A SENSATIONAL LANDING

After Seeing Him Descending Rapidly Other Flyers Reported Him Probably "Gone West"

Turnhouse, Midlothian, Scotland,
September 2, 1918.

Dear Sirs,—

I have been requested several times to write a letter to The Banner. There is so much that one could write about that I scarcely know what it shall be. I think I shall make it the occasion of a forced landing in the suburbs of Edinburgh.

It was the twenty-ninth day of July. The morning was gloomy. Dark clouds hung low over the earth. A formation of scouts was sailing along in the bright sunshine of the upper world. Five thousand feet separated them from the hundreds of great fluffy clumps beneath. This soft grey floor rolled away to the distant horizon. No earthly thing was visible, but the other two little aeroplanes bobbing along at my side. One was opposite me on my left. The leader was to the left of me and ahead and below a little. My left hand rested lazily on the throttle. The other hand gripped the stick. Two feet were in the straps on the rudder bar. Two eyes were glued on the leader. Two ears were constantly on the alert for new tones in the engine's loud voice. My cheek was lazily leaning against the padded edge of the cockpit. My thoughts were nowhere in particular, least of all on forced landings. I was admiring the beauty of the great clumps of clouds beneath. Silence reigned. There was no noise from them; they simply seemed to be rising and falling and ever keeping pace with me.

Over the Firth of Forth.

Suddenly the leading scout dived. Two Canadians immediately did likewise. In two seconds my speedometer was reading 130. I was glad to draw nearer to mother earth, for I was not dressed for the low temperatures of the upper climate. We flattened again when we had lost 2,000 feet. A little piece of terra firma showed up through a trap door in the grey floors. All was well. Any visions that we might have had re a forced landing in the cold waters of the Firth of Forth were dismissed. We had crossed the nine miles successfully. The formation turned due west by the compass. We were now flying along the north shore of the Forth towards Edinburgh. Only occasionally was it possible to get a glimpse of the world beneath. When we did it was generally a host of ships on the river or a town on its banks. Again we slid down to a lower level. The curtain closed entirely. We were once more alone with ourselves in the world of blue sky and sunshine. We skimmed along for miles without the slightest turn.

The leader now swung due south. I opened wide the throttle, came in behind and took up my position on his right, while my Vancouver friend on the left throttled back, closed in and took up his usual left hand position. In two minutes we were tearing along as usual at a hundred miles per. The leading machine kept turning more and more to the left; soon the compass was reading east by southeast. I caught a glimpse of a section of the Forth bridge. It hid as fast as it appeared. I put things together. We had flown directly over the city of Edinburgh and had proceeded about fifteen miles west of it. Therefore we were approaching the city again. Clouds intervened. My engine was singing as happily as a summer brook.

Engine Begins to Give Trouble.

The next moment it was growling, spitting and all sorts of frightful sounds were rending the air. Subconsciously my left hand was adjusting the throttle to various positions. My eyes were scanning the instruments in front of me. The indicators were all greatly excited. "Revs. per min." had dropped a few hundred. The hand was vibrating back and forth as if unable to decide the correct number. Likewise "miles per hour" had already dropped twenty. I looked for the trouble in the oil gauge, the petrol feed tap, the lead pipes, the air pressure and every other possible corner. It was all in vain. The engine continued to spit and miss horribly.

I was simply wasting valuable time. There was no telling when the engine might burst into flames. I was at least twenty miles from home. Such were the thoughts that were rushing in quick succession through my head. The sum of it all was, that I decided to land and that immediately.

3,000 Feet Above the Clouds.

In such cases there is always a great inclination to get on terra firma just as soon as possible, no matter in what shape you get there. This desire is a very dangerous one, often leading to disaster. In my case circumstances altered the rule. There I was three thousand feet higher than the clouds. No spot on the earth was visible. I might be directly over the Forth, Edinburgh or a range of Scottish hills. On the other hand I might be within easy reach of an aerodrome or good landing ground. I could come down to the clouds just as fast as I wished, for I could not begin choosing a landing ground until I was beneath the vapor below me.

I did come down. I throttled back and stuck my nose down. In a minute I was being hurled towards the clouds at one hundred and thirty miles per hour. My chums I had left far above. The clouds drew nearer and nearer. They rushed at me. The next instant I received an angry lurch and was enveloped in thick vapor. I seemed to be minutes in the clouds. I shot out into a world of gloom. The same moment I caught a glimpse of a clump of roofs a few hundred feet beneath me. The weather was exceedingly thick. I was obliged to come within three hundred feet of mother earth before I could see her at all. I was disappointed. Hills rose up on all sides, typical rough Scottish hills. A great clump of houses made it worse. I flattened out and made my engine do its utmost, at the same time running with nose down. I circled about the locality thus for a few minutes, my brain weighing the situation at top knot speed. It is difficult to tell a flat field from a hilly one from the air; likewise a meadow from a high crop. It was doubly difficult in such weather. I made certain that a particular field must be flat, being in the centre of the hills. I then decided that it must be a meadow on account of the haycocks. To the alarm of the field workers, I swept around to the windward side of the field and swooped over the hedge. The wheels touched. I came to a standstill in the centre of the meadow.

Landed Without a Crash.

I heaved a sigh of relief. Tons lifted from my shoulders. I was more glad to have landed without the customary crash. I taxied over to the end of the field next the road, switched off, unstrapped and climbed out. The usual crowd of curious people was there. They informed me that my other two friends had followed me down beneath the clouds and then disappeared above. I put a man in charge and went up the road to a nearby country house. In a few minutes I was ushered into the presence of a Mr. Scott. During the course of our conversation he told me that he had spent five years in Canada. Two years ago he spent a summer on a farm at Bradford.

I was informed that I had landed on this man's farm in the suburbs of Edinburgh. I sought the aid of a nearby aerodrome.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the engine was working beautifully. When I was satisfied I gave the signal, swung nose into wind and opened the throttle. In three minutes the little valley was far behind and below. In fifteen minutes I was being congratulated by my major and shaking hands with "the gang." The other chaps had reported me "probably gone west," having last seen me diving on the Waverly hotel, Edinburgh.

The best is yet to come. In a very short time I was partaking of a wonderful meal of all kinds of good things. You will believe me when I tell you it was in the Y. M. C. A.

Always Had Headaches

Liver Was Torpid and Bilious Spells Brought Sick Headaches —Lost Much Time, But is Now Completely Cured.

Here is convincing evidence that however much you may suffer from liver trouble and consequent biliousness there is cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Overeating is the most common cause of sluggish liver action. You lose your appetite, have distressing bilious spells, usually accompanied by headache and vomiting, the bowels become irregular, constipation and looseness alternating, digestion is upset and you get irritable and downhearted.

No treatment so quickly awakens the action of the liver and bowels as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For this reason this medicine is wonderfully popular and has enormous sales.

Mr. Charles R. Tuft, Newtown, N.B., writes: "I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and would often have to stop work for a day or two. I lost many a night's sleep every month with bilious sick headaches, and although I tried doctors' medicines and many other patent medicines, it was without success. When I had these headaches I would vomit, and could keep nothing on my stomach.

"I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills from G. M. Parkweather, druggist, of Sussex, N.B., and after taking one box I was so much relieved that I continued to take them until I am now completely cured. My advice to anyone suffering from sick headaches is to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and be completely cured."

Mr. A. S. Mace, J.P., endorses the above statement, and says:—"This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Charles R. Tuft, and believe his statement in every way to be true and correct."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Substitutes will only disappoint. Insist on getting what you ask for.

WAR DOGS TO BE DROPPED

In the opinion of the United States G. H. Q. the war dogs' days are over. The dogs have performed heroic tasks, but after consultation with French army experts it was decided to drop the idea of establishing American Army kennels. It is not generally known that large numbers of the dogs attached to the French and British armies have died through being gassed. They could not refrain from scratching holes in their gas masks.

J. H. C Karn, of Owen Sound, was fined $25 and costs for stealing a pumpkin from a neighboring garden. After taking the pumpkin, Mr. Karn showed it at Owen Sound Fall Fair, where it won first prize. This, however, proved his undoing for the owner recognized the pumpkin while it was on exhibition at the Fair.

REAL PATRIOTS.

A Canadian Tribute to the Valor and Magnificent Deeds of the French Soldiers.

Signaller R. S. Pratt, Former Amaranth Boy, Declares Hun is Doomed.

The following letter has been received by Miss Olive Pratt, of Laurel, from her brother, Sg. R. S. Pratt, of the Canadian Field Artillery, who was a medical student at Toronto University before he enlisted. Signaller Pratt is a son of Councillor John Pratt, of Amaranth.

France, August 6, 1918.

Dear Sister,—

Although there is a reminder or poster on the wall in front of me which reads, "Write long, newsy letters home," I am afraid this will be a short one, as news is as scarce as ever. I am writing in a Y. M. C. A. tent. It has been rather rainy today and also yesterday, which makes things rather muddy. Our tent leaks a little and that is why I am over here. I came to the horse lines today and am going on leave in a few days, perhaps tomorrow, I shall have one glorious old time after eleven months out here. But they have put the ban on cameras in England, so that is one very bad feature. Well, supper is ready and I must not miss it.

I guess I shall try and finish this letter now. There is a fellow over in one corner of the room playing the piano and it is almost impossible for me to write where there is music of any kind, Now he is playing a good old waltz and I am longing for the good old days again when I could, with a nice friend, trip the light fantastic, but I suppose I shall get back some day if I have patience. I saw Hutch, Percy and Bert Booth a few days ago, and they are all fine. I should have liked very much to see Stevie, but he was on a signal course. I have not seen Allen Cameron since I came to France, and I should certainly like to see him.

There is very much better news coming from the front now. The magnificent French army are still fighting as valiantly as ever. They have now to their credit one of the most glorious victories of the war. They are a wonderful people. After four years of fighting they have as good an army as ever, if not quite so large. When one travels about France from one front to another and sees the numerous grave yards of hundreds of French soldiers, with a cross above which bears the inscription, "Mort pour la France," (died for France) under the name of the fallen hero, and conceives the magnitude of some of the victories of the French army, one cannot help but admire such people. They are a wonderful people, and wherever you see a French soldier you see a real patriot.

There are a goodly number of Americans over here now also, and they are a fine type of soldier. Many of them are attached to the Australians, who think the Yanks are just the boys. The ones who have come over so far are full of fight anyhow. It is only recently the end of the war has come into sight. No matter what the Hun does he cannot counteract a force of three hundred thousand landing monthly. He may fight to the bitter end or he may make peace this fall, but at any rate peace is now in sight.

I guess this is all, Olive. As ever,
—ROB.

AVIATORS SLANG.

The British airman is an adept at inventing slang terms. The latest additions to the vocabulary of the R. A. F. are: "To blind" is to dash along at a reckless, unseen pace; "to go dis." is to break down; "banking" is shelling; "insurance agents" are enemy bombing planes; while "an attack of severe vertical gusts" is the feeling that follows the explosion of a shell before one realizes whether it is high explosive alone or high explosive and gas mixed.

THE HORSE.

It is Very Dangerous to Feed Even Small Quantities of Change of Feed to the Horse.

In feeding horses we shall assume that the food given is of good quality. Musty or partially decayed food of any kind should, under no circumstances, be given to a horse. Such food may, to a limited degree, be fed with reasonable impunity to cattle, but it is very dangerous to feed even small quantities to the horse.

In feeding horses, all changes in the kind or nature of the food should be made gradually. For instance, a sudden change from hay to straw, or from straw to hay, from oats to other kinds of grain, or even from whole oats to rolled oats or vice versa, from green food to dry food, or more especially from dry to green food, tends to excite digestive trouble. In fact, any change in the kinds, quality or quantity of food should be gradual.

Acute digestive troubles seldom, if ever, occur from underfeeding, but very frequently from overfeeding.

A very large percentage of horses, especially in country districts, are fed too much bulky food. The average horse will eat too much hay if allowed access to it. In discussing the proper manner of feeding horses we shall consider hay as roughage and oats as the grain ration. Where substitutes for either are used, the feeder should exercise reasonable consideration as to its nature.

It is not possible to lay down hard and fast rules as to the exact amount in weight or bulk of either hay or grain that a horse of a certain weight should be given. As all feeders have observed, horses have their individualities. Hence some require a little more feed than others of apparently the same character and general size.

One pound of hay for every 100 pounds of the animal's weight is supposed to form the proper ration for twenty-four hours. Some horses require a little more, but the excess should, in all cases, be slight. Of this the animal should be given about one-quarter in the morning, one-quarter at noon, and the remaining half in the evening. The smaller meals are given in the morning and at noon, as the horse will be taken out to work soon after eating, and if his stomach is overloaded, it tends to cause digestive trouble. At any rate, if over fed, he does not perform his labor with that comfort to himself and satisfaction to his driver that is desirable, until he has been at work for an hour or two. The large meal is given in the evening, as he will have several hours of idleness in which to digest it.

KAISER'S TRIP TO PARIS.

It might be mentioned here, says a U. S. trench paper, that Pte. Walker has quoted Bugs Baer as having once said that the Kaiser is the only guy in the world who has bought a round-trip ticket to Paris and used the last half first and still has the first half.

DEATH OF JOHN REA, EX-WARDEN OF WELLINGTON

Born near La Chute, Quebec in 1823, He Removed to Eramosa When a Lad.

John Rea died at his home, lot 31, Con. 7, Eramosa, on Tuesday, the 16th of September. Mr. Rea, the veteran municipal councillor, was born of Scotch-Irish parentage near La Chute, in the Province of Quebec in 1823. He came to Eramosa with his parents when a lad, and being a skilled axeman, did much hard work in clearing the old Rea homestead, lot 32, Con. 3, Eramosa. In the middle forties he married Maria Peters, sister of James Peters, pioneer and patriot near Speedside. She died in 1882, leaving a daughter, the late Mrs. Wm. Tookey, who died in 1912. Mr. Rea married later Miss Elizabeth Lightbody, daughter of Andrew Lightbody, of Belwood, who died in 1890, leaving two children, John, who farms the old homestead, and Mrs. D. Gilchrist, of West Garafraxa. In 1848 he purchased the farm that he owned at his death, and on which he lived the rest of his days, the greater part of which he cleared single handed.

In his earlier years he greatly profited by the teaching and ministrations of the late Dr. Barrie, of the First Presbyterian church, Eramosa, who imposed his strong personality upon two or three generations and aroused in many who sat under him a keen and intelligent interest in the things both of this life and that which is to come.

In 1863, he was elected to the Eramosa township council and in 1867 was raised to the deputy-reeveship, which he held for three years. He was chosen reeve in 1870, and held that office for eleven consecutive years. Retiring for the next thirteen years he was again elected in 1894 to the reeve's chair and for three more years remained in that office. In 1896 the office of county councillor was separated from that of the reeves and deputies of the different municipalities, and Mr. Read stood for and was elected to the position of one of the commissioners for his district in the county for the years from 1897 to 1906 nclusive. Thus he served as councillor for 29 years—21 years in the township council and 23 years in the county council—surely a most unique record.

In 1876 he was elected to the wardenship of the county, and had the distinction of holding that important office for three years. In his day—and it was a long one—no man in the municipal field could stand up against him. If any one did make the attempt he stood for a certain fall. John Rea was a name to conjure with, and he has told the writer of this sketch that he never personally solicited a single vote nor asked anyone to canvass for him. His great popularity and the confidence reposed in him rested upon his extreme simplicity and transparency of character, his geniality, his strict integrity, his sound judgment, his massive common sense and his complete mastery of all that pertained to municipal affairs. His rich stores of municipal lore and experience were freely and without show at the service of all, and many a young councillor and the community he served have greatly benefited by the wise counsels of the great master.

Mr. Rea, along with the late John Mair, were the first county valuators, in order to the equalization of taxation, and often he was chose nas arbiter in disputed cases and his mature and impartial decisions generally gave satisfaction to all concerned. He was one of the originators and organizers of that excellent institution, the House of Industry, at Kinnettles, which stands a lasting monument to the humanity and liberality of its founders.

He was a life-long Liberal, and had he so chosen, might have served his country as well in the political as in the municipal sphere. In religion he was a Presbyterian, and along with his brother, James, had a leading hand in roganizing and building the first Mimosa church. He was for many years a school trustee, and so wide were his sympathies and interests, that there was nothing made for the progress, prosperity and welfare of his country and community, that he did not seek to acquaint himself with and to advance to the best of his ability. He was big-hearted and generous to a fault—in fact, he simply could not refuse if the call made upon him could in any way be met. He was a good man, and had the well-deserved esteem of all who knew him. His was a long and useful career, such as falls to the lot of few, but being a man of powerful physique, iron constitution and continuous good health, he had much joy in his life and work. His race was fully run and he longed to go home. He will be greatly missed, especially by his older friends, who greatly enjoyed a familiar chat with the old man who was a complete storehouse of interesting facts and memories and his mind was clear to the last. To the present generation he is known only by report. To all young men his life should be an inspiration and never more than today are needed men, and women, too, who endeavor intelligently to comprehend and interpret the meaning of the present great world upheavel and to help with the best that is in them to lay foundations for a lasting peace, prosperity and good-will among men and nations. Besides the son and daughter, who are left to mourn the loss of a most affectionate father, there are also left a brother, Thomas, of Vancouver city, and a sister, Mrs. Wm. Sanderson of Grand Valley. These have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

The funeral on Thursday afternoon, in spite of the continuous heavy rain, was largely attended, all eager to pay the last tribute to the memory of their good old friend. The family pastor, Rev. D. D. McDonald, and the Rev. Mr. Kelly, of Speedside and Simpson's Corners, officinted. The pallbearers were: David Rea, of Fergus; David R. Rea, of Toronto; Jas. Grant, Archibald Milloy, Peter McGregor and Thomas Weatherston.

REIGN OF TERROR IN RUSSIA IS BEYOND THE GRASP OF PERSONS IN CIVILIZED COUNTRIES

Correspondent of the New York World Says No Such Scenes Have Been Witnessed Since the Tragic Days of Ivan the Terrible; Bolsheviki Rushed Innocents to Death Until Their Executioners Sickened; Saw Mobs Leds by Germans While People Died of Starvation.

A ghastly picture of Russia under Bolshevik rule in that painted by Arno Dosch-Fleurot, the New York World's staff correspondent, who has arrived in Stockholm.

Only here, back in civilization, where murder is a crime, he cables, do we begin to comprehend how little the world can understand what Russia has come to in these last weeks.

The Bolsheviki have instituted a reign of terror as the only means to maintain the dictatorship, killing without trial or before inquisitonal trbunals.

The Bolsheviki have entirely lost popular support and are keeping themselves in power only by the bayonets they are still able to buy.

The peasants are in revolt everywhere.

In every city in Russia there are the same scenes of terror. Conditions are even worse in the provinces. Commissioners are sent from Moscow to organize the worst elements and take vengeance, loot, kill officers and perpetrate other outrages.

The struggle has passed the stage of class war. Every man is at every other man's throat. The state of all Russia is beyond the comprehension of people accustomed to civilization.

Constant, Sanguinary Battle.

For three weeks before I left Petrograd there had been a constant, sanguinary battle between the peasants and the Red Guard fifty miles south of Petrograd, and there was the same state of affairs on the northern shores of Lake Ladoga.

The Red Army is so weak it is only able to hold the front against the Czecho-Slovaks because the latter are advancing slowly and reorganizing the country economically as they ascend the Volga, making their progress sure, but slow, that it gives the Bolsheviki a chance to claim a check of the advance. Three weeks ago it became known that the Bolsheviki intended to manufacture victories and revive the morale of their army. They have been doing so steadily since, giving to the outside world an effect of victories which do not exist.

But even this failed, for as Zinevieff, the President of the Petrograd Soviet, announced only 7,000 of the 50,000 men sent from Petrograd reached the front. He laid it to sabotage by the railroad men, but they are only workmen doing a job.

Soldiers Deserted Wholesale

The truth is that nearly all the soldiers deserted on the way. Even Letts refused to fight against the Allies in the North.

So small was the resistance on the Archengel-Vologda front that the Allies might have come down any time in the past month. The Czecho-Slovaks are not in Moscow now only because they wish to organize carefully.

Any time the Allies or the Czecho-Slovaks wish to make a drive with 20,000 men they can go to Moscow.

In talking to all kinds of people, I was surprised to find that not more than 5 per cent. of the Russians favored the Bolsheviki dictatorship or sympathize with its class warfare. So little interest was felt in its proclamations that it has been unable to cause a general massacre of the Bourgeoise, although it has appealed repeatedly to the workmen to kill.

Blood Madness.

The second crucial fact is that the Bolsheviks have instituted a reign of terror as the only means to maintain the dictatorship, killing without trial or before inquisitional tribunals, sheddng innocent blood as never has been seen before since the days of Ivan the Terrible.

Ouritzky (the Bolshevik Commissioner of the Interior) was assassinated.

Zinovieff, the President of the Petrograd Commune, has become a pathological case.

Petrograd is filled with blood madness.

Executions are so frequent in Moscow by orders of the revolutionary tribunal that Maxim silencers are used to prevent the sound as if arrayed for battle. This in a city where hundreds of isolated rifle shots are heard every night.

The Letts finally refused to shoot any more, although threatened with death themselves if they disobeyed. So Chinese troops are now the executioners.

Official's Narrative.

The World correspondent also cables the narrative of Roger Simmons, the American sent to Russia by the United States Government to study lumbering. Though thrown into four prisons and ordered shot, and though barely escaping death by execution or starvation, Simmons feels no bitterness toward the Bolsheviki, though weighed down by the tragedy of seeing the Russian Revolution plunged into terrorism.

Simmons writes: "While in prison I talked with dozens of men condemned to death, many not knowing why. I learned from men past hope of the travesty of trials before the revolutionary tribunals, and also saw men ordered shot for merely criticizing Commissioners."

Early in July I had finished my work except in the northern Russian provinces, so, on account of the presence of the Allies on the Murman Coast, I went to Moscow and obtained permission from the highest Bolsheviki authorities to study the Archangel and Vologda forests. Returning to Vologda, I found the Ambassadors on the point of leaving for Archangel.

Ambassador Francis wanted me to accompany him, but I had just been stricken with pneumonia and my doctor refused to permit my removal. In the crisis of my pneumonia a week later Secretary Alfred Nagel informed me that Kedroff, the Bolshevik Commissioner of Vologda, had ordered all the Allied citizens to leave the Bologda government on account of the Allied expedition. Special permission was granted to me to remain on my doctor's certificate.

Order to Kill All.

Meanwhile Allied operations along the White Sea were developing, and the following day Kedroff issued an order, publishing it broadcast, ordering workmen and peasants to kill every American, Englishman and Frenchman found in the three northern Governments of Russia.

I realized that this ended the possibility of work, but returned to see Kedroff as I had promised. His secretary coidly sent me to see the local Commissioner, Eiduk, a Lettish Jew, who, seeing me, broke into a tirade in New York slang and said that two American sailors had just been found dead on the battlefield at Onega, which proved that America was against the Bolsheviki.

He scornfully threw aside my diplomatic passport and the Ambassador's letter of recommendation, and said he doubted the authenticity of letters from the Bolshevik authorities.

He insulted me and my Government and ended by disdainfully ordering me into prison. They later on searched me.

A Welcome Representative.

Meanwhile Nagel returned to see Eiduk, who said about me: "He will know in a few hours all he will ever know." Nagel returned unnerved, and I spent the night writing what I believed were my last letters.

All night Nagel stood at the door of the car, his eyes awaiting the dawn, the hour of execution. His despair was deepened by the tales of the Lettish soldiers, of shootings without trial or apparent cause. When eight o'clock in the morning came and there was no shooting squad yet, Nagel told me he had pleaded all the night before for my life. On account of his record as a revolutionist he had apparently succeeded.

During the day an English subject was brought in who, coming from the interior, and not knowing of the White Sea operation, happened to reach Vologda and was arrested on account of his appearance and for speaking English.

As he was innocent and unfrightened when summoned to Eiduk's car, he left his hat and coat with me. He never returned. The Letts reported that he had been shot.

Saw Germans Leading Reds.

Nagel was now also arrested, and both of us taken to Moscow in a railroad compartment, under guard for trial.

We passed a counter-revolutionary fight at Jaroslav, where Bolshevik troops fought under Germans. Our Lettish guard told us that Eiduk was responsible for the wholesale shootings at Jaroslav, adding: "Eiduk is one of the most brutal men in history."

When we arrived at Moscow our luggage was taken from us and we were thrown into a prison pen with eighty-four other men. There were no beds and the vermin, the filth and the atmosphere were horrible with the mixture of chance prisoners and condemned counter-revolutionists.

Our condition was rendered almost insupportable by ravenous hunger, aggravated by occasional dishes of watery soup, with each man given a spoon. Men were constantly led out before tribunals and returned condemned, unnerved. They were later led away by Letts who shot them immediately.

Nobody was allowed to communicate with friends. Trials were held without permitting a defense, of innocent men, who were condemned to die, returning in the midst of others as yet uncondemned.

Later I was transferred to a regular criminal prison. The suspense of twenty-six hours was broken by a basket of food, followed by Poole, Wiederstrom and my immediate release.

In the last prison a Canadian officer held as a spy who was going to be shot told me how he hated to die. In both prisons I talked with my fellow-prisoners and found none who had been tried before a real court. They all were led before half a dozen men with raging eyes who asked a few questions, conferred and then convicted. Few were found innocent. One had a jury of twelve, but the jury was instructed by the judge to bring in a verdict of guilty.

HALF A MILLION INDIANS.

Half a million combatants are being raised in India this year, it was announced in the House of Commons recently by Edward Samuel Montagu, the Secretary for India. Numerous non-combatants likewise were being employed.

The June figures, he added, reached the record of 50,000, and provinces from which previously few recruits or none at all had come were now supplying their quotas.

The Secretary emphasized the fact that Indian troops were playing the chief part in the campaigns in Mesopotamia, Palestine and East Africa.

While running a press R. W. Hull, of the Erin Advocate, had the misfortune to have two of his fingers jammed. The accident will incapacitate him for office work for a couple of weeks.

HARVESTING AND STORING CERTAIN VEGETABLES.

While vegetables have been harvested continuously in many gardens in Canada since radishes and spinach were ready for use in early spring, the time has come when the bulk of the crop must be gathered to escape hard frosts.

As beans discolor and mould very readily, it is important to dry them as soon as possible, and to keep them dry. They should be spread out thinly under cover, and turned every two or three days until quite dry. If it is necessary to harvest the plants before they are thoroughly ripe they can be hung up outside until dry.

There will be many potatoes which will not ripen before the plants are killed by the frost. If the fully-grown green specimens are picked before being frozen, and each specimen wrapped in paper and stored in closed boxes, they will be found, from tests made at the Experimental Farm, to ripen better than by exposing them to the sun. Even if put into closed boxes without wrapping each specimen, they ripen well.

Frequently cauliflowers are just beginning to head when it becomes necessary to harvest them owing to severe frosts. If the plants are pulled and replanted in boxes in the cellar, and kept watered, they will go on developing, and one can have cauliflower for some weeks. Brussels sprouts can also be replanted in this way. Both of these vegetables may, however, be left in the ground for some weeks yet.

If cabbage begin to split and it is not yet time to harvest them, the splitting will be prevented to some extent by twisting the plants so as to loosen them. This checks the flow of sap into the head. If the cellar is warm and dry, and the cabbage have to be harvested owing to the frost, they will keep well for a time outside if covered with leaves.

Where the accommodation is poor, celery may be kept outside in the soil well into the winter by opening a trench, preferably a narrow one fifteen or sixteen inches wide, and deep enough so that the tops of the celery will come about level with the surface of the ground. The celery plants are put close together in it, and before there are severe frosts, a thin layer of straw or leaves is put over the top. When the cold weather comes a heavier covering of leaves may be put over, if it is desirable to leave the celery longer, and then twelve to fifteen inches of soil over that. By putting sufficient leaves or straw over the soil again, frost may be kept out, and the celery dug out as required.

In harvesting potatoes, any which show signs of decay should be kept separate from the rest, and used first, thus helping to avoid the development of rot when stored. Potatoes should be dry when they are stored.

Keep onions dry, spread thinly. Squashes, pumpkins and citrons should be kept in a moderately warm, not a cool, place.

Soldiers' Sore Feet:

This is one of the many ailments for which Zam-Buk is needed at the front. It soothes tired, aching feet, heals blisters and cures "trench feet." Regular applications of this balm will keep the feet in perfect condition.

Pte. Frank Gaskin, of the 4th Canadian Infantry, writing from France, says: "After heavy marching, I find nothing so good as Zam-Buk for sore and tired feet."

Your soldier friends need Zam-Buk also for cuts, burns, barbed wire scratches, and sores of all kinds. Be sure to put some in your next parcel. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

HE COULDN'T WORK FOR FOUR MONTHS

Hughes Able to Put in Full Time Since Taking Tanlac—Gains Thirteen Pounds.

"There may be other medicines as good as Tanlac for troubles like I had but I have never been able to find them, and I have paid out hundreds of dollars trying to get relief," declared C. D. Hughes, a millwright, living at 241 Havelock street, Portland, Oregon, recently.

"I have suffered from stomach trouble for fifteen years," continued Mr. Hughes, "and had fallen off from one hundred and sixty-three to one hundred and twenty-one—losing forty-two pounds. For the past eight months, that is until I began taking Tanlac, my stomach had been in such a bad fix that I couldn't eat anything but what would make me miserable. Starting in the pit of my stomach the pain would run clean through to my back and I got to where I was actually afraid to eat, it caused me so much trouble. I had no appetite and the very sight of food would gag me at times. My back and sides pained me all the time and my kidneys bothered me constantly. I had terrible headaches, and was so nervous that I would walk the floor night after night, unable to get any rest. I have lost at least four months time from work in the past twelve and was forced to give up two good jobs on account of my health. I finally became despondent and worried a great deal about my condition.

"I know it's putting it pretty strong, but it's the truth, when I say two bottles of Tanlac have done me more real good than all the other medicines I have taken put together. I have picked up thirteen pounds of my lost weight already and am feeling just like a brand new man. My appetite is so good I believe I could eat every two hours and my stomach doesn't bother me any more. My headaches are gone, so has the pain from my back and sides and my kidneys don't bother me at all. I simply sleep like a baby, have more energy than I have had in years, and really enjoy my work. I have enough faith in Tanlac to tell my friends that if they take it and don't get results I'll pay for it myself, and I don't believe I would lose, either. It certainly is the medicine for me."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

Solicitor for the said Executor.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Next Sunday will be Rally Day in the Sunday School. A special program has been prepared and a very interesting time is anticipated. Every scholar and officer is expected to be in their place and visitors will be cordially welcomed. The collection is for the general work of the Sunday School Board which is responsible this year for a good deal of Sunday School extension work in new districts; hence the Board asks for a generous response this year.

The Epworth Leagues of the District held a very successful convention here on Monday evening. Large delegations came in automobiles from Shelburne, Laurel, Whittington, Alton, Caledon East and Mono Mills.

The session was opened by a song service led by Dr. Price and the local League choir. Mr. J. A. Hodgins, of Alton, the District League President, took the chair. The different aspects of League work were taken up and discussed. Mrs. Walter Gray, of Laurel, dealt with "How to Make the Literary Work of the League Effective"; Rev. Alfred Laycock, of Mono Mills, spoke of the Christian Endeavor work, and Mr. E. M. Still discussed the Missionary work of the League. Mr. Still read several very interesting letters from the missionaries whom the League is supporting: Dr. Birks in China, and Rev. J. M. Shaver in Fort William. He spoke of the great program that was before the Church as a whole and called upon the District League to do its full part. In setting the objective for the League this year there was some earnest discussion. Mr. W. H. Kearns said that the objective should be ten cents a week for every member of the Leagues throughout the District. Orangeville League was giving about fifteen cents a week per member and would try to maintain its record, but if the outside Leagues would rise to ten cents per member the District would show a great increase. A resolution that the District try to increase its givings 25 per cent. for missions was finally adopted.

Roll Call was then held, a Nominating Committee was appointed and the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. The following officers were elected:

Hon.-Pres., Rev. E. R. Young; Pres., Mr. J. A. Hodgins, Alton; 1st Vice-Pres., Mr Bert Lindsay, Caledon East; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mr. Elmer Still, Orangeville; 3rd Vice-Pres., Miss Ireland, Shelburne; 4th Vice-Pres., Mr. Lawrence Kee, Mono Mills; 5th Vice-Pres., Miss Bertha Hamilton, Laurel; Sec., Miss Ruby Wilcox, Orangeville; Treasurer, Miss Thomas, Alton; Representative of the District on the Conference Executive, Mr. Walter Gray, Laurel.

The work of the Citizenship department was dealt with by Rev. W. W. Wallace of Shelburne in a very practical address. He called for a deeper and better patriotism. Mr. Wallace brought a special interest to the gathering by introducing a returned soldier, Mr. Stoddart, who was most heartily welcomed and listened to with the keenest of interest. He told the Leaguers that all the sacrifices they would make this year, and he hoped they would do much for their church and country, would be as nothing when compared with what their soldiers were making at the front. He had learned to appreciate the work of the League and wished it every success.

Refreshments were served to the guests by the local League and a very pleasant social hour was spent together. After expressing their thanks for their entertainment and the singing of the National anthem, the visiting leaguers went away with the most pleasant memories of an inspiring convention which will doubtless help them to make this a record year in Orangeville District.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A memorial service will be held in Laurel Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 29th at 3 o'clock in honor of Pte. R. E. Ewing, who died on Sept. 8th. Services will be conducted by Rev. J. R. Bell, assisted by Revs. W. M. Morris of Orangeville, and W. F. Roach, of Laurel.

SWAFFIELD–JACKSON.

At Newton Robinson, on Wednesday, September 18th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jackson was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their elder daughter, Ruth Amanda, became the bride of Mr. Albert Ansley Swaffield, of Alliston. The bride, wearing a gown of champagne duchesse satin and white picture hat, entered the room on the arm of her father, while the "March Militaire" was played by Miss Amanda Hodgson. The bridesmaid was Miss Irene Halbert, who wore copenhagen crepe; while the flower girl, little Dorothy Jackson, sister of the groom, wore pale pink crepe. The groom was assisted by his cousin, Mr. Herman Swaffield. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Jos. W. Dudgeon. After the wedding dejeuner the happy couple left by motor for Toronto, Niagara and points south, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue broadcloth, with hat to match. On their return they will reside near Alliston. Among the guests from a distance were Mrs. Wm. Jackson (grandmother of the bride), of Shelburne; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McKelvey, Grimsby; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKelvey, Mr. J. Waller, Mrs. W. J. Halbert, and Mr. N. Jackson, of Mono; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Swaffield, of Alliston; Mr. and Mrs. T. Swaffield, Rosemont, and Mr. Nelson Belleby, of Shelburne.

CALEDON WON SECOND.

Canning Competition an Interesting Feature at Brampton Fall Fair.

A most interesting feature and one entirely new for a Canadian show was the canning competition arranged by the district representative, Mr. J. W. Stark, for the Brampton Fall Fair last Saturday. Five teams of four girls each, representing Alton, Brampton, Caledon, Ebenezer and Streetsville respectively, took part in the competition. Work started at 1.30 p.m., and consisted of canning corn, tomatoes and peaches, and an hour and a half was allowed for carrying the work through to a finish. Speed and method of procedure were considered by the judges, as well as the results obtained, and, though all the teams turned out fine examples of canned goods, they had to submit to the following placing: 1, Streetsville; 2, Caledon; 3, Alton, with Brampton and Ebenezer a tie for fourth place. The first prize offered for the competition is a trip to Ottawa, and the second prize is a trip to London, Ont. The girls representing Streetsville were Myrtle Jamieson, Vera Drinkwater, Irene McIlwrick and Violet Cook. Those from Caledon were Bessie McQuarrie, Louise Laughlin, Elizabeth McDonald and Margaret Hillock. The Alton representatives were Ola Dick, Frances Brodie, Irene St. Croix and Ethel Culligan. The girls taking part in the competition had all attended the short course in home economics last winter, and had received their training in canning work from Miss McIntosh, the expert engaged by the Agricultural Department of the province.

SCOTCH DOUBLES.

The postponed Scotch Doubles tourney was brought to a close last Thursday afternoon and evening. Geo. Beswick and T. S. Parkinson, Orangeville, won the main event, defeating Hamilton and Dr. Bracken, of Grand Valley, the runners-up, by a score of 15 to 10. In the second event J. J. Reith and W. H. Mutrie, Grand Valley, defeated E. C. Clark and W. C. Hopkins, Orangeville, by 14 to 11 and were beaten in the final by Dr. G. I. and Irvin Campbell, of Grand Valley, by 16 to 12. Three of the four sets of prizes therefore went to Grand Valley, the fourth remaining in Orangeville.

STEWART MONTGOMERY.

The death of Stewart Montgomery, the ten years' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Montgomery, of Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, occurred in the Victoria Memorial Hospital on Friday last. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. station to Greenwood cemetery. Rev. E. R. Young officiated at the grave.

JAMES WOODYARD.

Mr. James Woodyard, who moved to town a few years ago, died at his home on East Broadway on Sunday after a lengthy period of ill-health, due to heart trouble and hardening of the arteries. Deceased was born in Albion township 79 years ago and is survived by a widow. The funeral took place to the Forest Lawn cemetery Tuesday afternoon. Rev. A. C. McCallum, rector of Mono East parish, was the officiating clergyman.

LITTLE DAISY GILES.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Giles, of Alton, have the sympathy of their friends and fellow-citizens in the sad affliction that has visited their home through the death of their little daughter, Daisy Marie, who succumbed on Sunday morning to an attack of whooping cough followed by pneumonia. All that loving care and medical skill could devise was done but availed not to save the precious life. The funeral was held to Erin cemetery on Monday. Rev. T. R. White conducted services at the house and grave.

D. A. M'DONALD.

The death of Mr. D. A. McDonald, formerly a well-known Caledon man, took place at his residence, 46 Beatrice street, Toronto, on Thursday last after an illness of two months. Deceased, who was about 54 years of age, is survived by a widow, who is a daughter of Mr. Thos. Harrison, 1st line, west, Caledon. He was a builder and contractor by trade and lived in Caledon village before removing to Toronto about twenty-five years ago. The funeral took place in Toronto on Saturday afternoon.

MRS. ROBERT GRAY.

Mono lost an old resident last week in the person of Mrs. Margaret Gray, wife of Mr. Robert Gray, whose death occurred rather unexpectedly at her home, lot 18, 3rd line, east, on Thursday evening. Deceased was 76 years of age and is survived by her husband and a family of five sons and four daughters. The latter are, Miller Gray, living near Orangeville; Alex. Gray, 6th line, Mono; William, Henry and John Gray at home; Mrs. Jos. McCullough, Amaranth; Mrs. Thos. McClinchey, Mono Centre; Mrs. John Dermott, Mono Mills, and Mrs. John Moore, Galt. The funeral was held to Mono Centre cemetery on Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. H. M. Lyon, of Camilla, conducted services at the house and grave.

THOS. GRIMES' DEATH.

The death of Thomas Grimes, a conductor on this branch of the C. P. R. for a number of years and formerly a resident of Orangeville, took place at his home in West Toronto on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Deceased had suffered from a very painful illness for the last four years. His death occurred at the home of his sister, Mrs. McDougall, 30 Glenlake Ave., with whom he had been living for some time. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. Imrie, pastor of Indian Road Baptist church at Speers' undertaking parlors on Dundas street. The funeral was held to Prospect cemetery Thursday afternoon.

Build up the Mighty National Force

FOR fifty years the Teuton peoples have been trained, disciplined, whipped, into servile cogs of an implacable military machine, by which is maintained the Prussian doctrine of might, and the Kaiser's autocracy. The Teutons deny themselves, they make sacrifices, because they are trained or forced to do so, but they do it.

The peoples of the Allied nations must make great sacrifices and tremendous efforts in order to defeat the enemies of freedom, but because they are free peoples it is left largely to the individual to say what or how much self-denial each will practice.

So if freedom is to prevail individuals must make voluntary sacrifices which in the aggregate will be greater than the forced sacrifices of the enemies of freedom.

THE measure of your love of freedom is your willingness to deny yourself so that the strength of the nation for war effort will be increased.

This self-denial must take the form of money-saving—thrift. Each person knows in what way he or she may save.

The national need says you must save, but free Canada leaves it to you to say by what means and to what extent you will save.

NOW, it is for you, each of us, everyone of us to say how much patriotic endeavor, how much loyal sacrifice we will make by saving our money, by "doing without" so that each day will see a surplus to add to our own and the nation's strength. No matter how small the surplus it is important because each saving is an effort made, and many small individual efforts make the mighty national force.

DEATH OF ROBT. HUME.

Robert Hume, who resided on the Jos. Kendrew farm, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, about twenty years ago and afterwards on the 10th line, Amaranth, near Jessopville, died in Toronto on Saturday, Sept. 14th, in his 84th year. Deceased had been living with his daughter in Toronto of late years. The late Mr. Hume, who was born near Guelph, is survived by a family of three sons and five daughters, his wife having predeceased him by several years. The sons and daughters are: William and Thomas, Toronto; John, on the homestead; Mrs. Jas. Bell, Mrs. G. Murray and Miss Annie Hume, Toronto; Mrs. Adam Shepherd, Amaranth, and Mrs. Alex. Lundy, Camilla. The funeral took place from the C. P. R. station to Shelburne cemetery on Tuesday forenoon, Sept. 17th.

MRS. JAMES KIRTON.

The truth of the familiar adage that misfortunes seldom come singly has been strikingly verified in the case of the family of Mrs. G. McDonald, of Mono Mills. Last week The Banner reported the death of Miss Ida McDonald, one of Mrs. McDonald's daughters, in the City Hospital, Saskatoon, on Monday, Sept. 2nd. This week we are confronted with the sad duty of recording the demise of another member of the family in the person of Mrs. James Kirton, of Bluevale, Ont., who passed away on Wednesday, Sept. 18th, after a brief illness. Deceased, who was an estimable woman, and highly thought of by the people of the community in which she had made her home since her marriage, is survived by her husband and one son, Elden. Her loss is also mourned by her mother, two brothers, George and Ernest McDonald, of Mono Mills, and four sisters, Mrs. John Moon and Mrs. Thos. McCandless, Mono Mills; Miss Agnes McDonald, at home, and Miss Edna McDonald, stenographer in Jos. J. Kelly's office. The sympathy of their many friends is extended to the family in their trying affliction. The funeral, which was a very large one, took place from Mrs. Kirton's late home to Wroxeter cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Crawford Tate, Presbyterian minister, conducted the services. Among the friends present from this neighborhood were the mother, Mrs. G. McDonald, who is still with the stricken family, Mr. and Mrs. John Moon, Mrs. Thos. McCandless, Mr. George and Misses Agnes and Edna McDonald.

"Keep the Home Fires Burning"

Keep the home bright and cheery so it will be ready to welcome the boys when they come back from "over there."

Music is a vital necessity in times like these. No other agency can so effectively "turn the dark clouds inside out" as the stirring songs born of the terrible war. You can have these songs played by the greatest military bands, sung by the best singers, and join in the chorus yourself, if you have a

NOBLE POTTER KILLED.

Wednesday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Willis Potter, of Bowling Green, received a message from Ottawa stating that their son, Pte. Noble Potter, had been severely wounded. This was followed shortly afterwards by a second telegram which brought the parents the afflicting news that their son had died of his wounds. The young soldier enlisted and went overseas with the 164th.

JOE IRWIN MISSING.

Mrs. John Dudgeon, of Laurel, received word last week that her nephew, Pte. Jos. D. Irwin, was officially reported missing. Irwin had lived with his aunt since childhood. The missing soldier is a cousin of Mr. Irwin Dudgeon and Mrs. Robt. Fife.

GIVE YOUR COUNTRY A LEG UP—SAVE.

Canadian patriotism demands the practice of thrift by all her citizens. The men who are holding the lines at home are those who are making it easy for the business of the country to go on with little jar to its mechanism. The steady pulling together of all citizens in the production of goods and in the conservation of all field crops marks the thrift nation. Saving on the part of our citizens is going to be the greatest insurance we will have in Canada against a period of depression after the war. The combined capital of individuals who make the country will form a fund of sufficient power to drive business along in a most satisfactory way in spite of the prevailing hard times of such a period.

The saving man is therefore a real patriot. He has Canada's interests fundamentally at heart. May his tribe increase in these days when wealth is piling up under the spur of war-time efforts. Save because it hits both ways. It is such form of patriotism. And it gives one's country a help at a critical time. Put up that extra dollar now. The procession of thrifty dollars will make a line that will waver—Hindenburg or no Hindenburg.

L. M'CABE IN FRANCE.

Sergt. Instructor Leonard McCabe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch. McCabe, of Laurel, was in a reinforcement depot in France when his parents last heard of him. McCabe, who enlisted in the 164th, was retained in Canada as an instructor when his battalion went overseas. He went to England with an instructors' corps last February and with his comrade and chum, Austin Duffy, of Grand Valley, took an advanced course in instruction in the Old Land. Desirous of getting to the front the two young officers reduced to the rank of privates and were finally allowed to go to France with a machine gun section. It is worthy of note that both men were given their good conduct badges some time ago. This badge indicates that the holder has been in the army two years without having a charge of any kind laid against him. In a letter home some time ago McCabe stated that he had visited London on leave in company with Stanley Brown, another Amaranth boy. The two young men had the good fortune to see the King and Queen pass in state on two occasions.

WILLIAM SMITH.

Another old settler has passed away in the person of Wm. Smith, who died at his home, 5th line, Caledon, west, on Sept. 5th. The late Mr. Smith was born in Renfrewshire, Scotland, in 1836, and came to Canada with his parents when quite young. He married Miss McLean, of Erin, who died a number of years ago. He farmed for some years in Caledon, then moved to Minto, coming back to his own neighborhood in the declining years of his life. He married, twenty years after, Mrs. Dyer, of Caledon, who survives him. He also leaves seven children, three sons, Thomas, James and David, and a daughter, Mrs. Barnes, in the West; William, of Mt. Forest; Daniel, of Buffalo; Mrs. Young, of Toronto. He also leaves two brothers and two sisters, Messrs. Thomas and David, of Caledon; Mrs. Pinkney, near Fergus, and Mrs. Robinson, of Saskatchewan. —Erin Advocate.

TORTURED BY RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought Quick and Permanent Relief

MR. P. H. McHUGH

103 Church Street, Montreal.

December 10th, 1917.

"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists, took medicines, used lotions; but nothing did me good.

Then, I began to use "Fruit-a-tives"; and in 15 days, the pain was easier and the Rheumatism was better. Gradually, "Fruit-a-tives" overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. Also, I had severe Eczema and Constipation, and "Fruit-a-tives" relieved me of these complaints; and gave me a good appetite; and in every way restored me to health". P. H. McHUGH.

MRS. GILBERT M'ALLISTER.

The late Mrs. McAllister, whose death we announced last week, was a native of Ontario, her birthplace being at Toronto, then known as Muddy York. From Toronto her parents removed to Puslinch. The family afterwards removed to East Garafraxa in the early fifties. She was married in 1863 to her late husband, Gilbert McAllister, who predeceased her over twenty years ago. She has lived continuously on the old homestead until the day of her death. She is survived by five sons and one daughter, Mrs. T. F. Barbour, Erin; Donald, Gilbert, Archibald and Angus, all of Alberta, and Malcolm, on the homestead. She was an adherent and member of the Presbyterian church, but owing to ill health has not been able to get out for the last twenty years. She retained all her faculties to the last, her final sickness being only two days duration. She was one who was universally respected. The interment took place to Huxley's cemetery, the Rev. Mr. Scott having charge of the service, which was largely attended.—Erin Advocate.

EASY MARK CAME TO TOWN

Gave His Car to Two Young Scamps Who Represented Themselves as Dominion Police.

A Kincardine youth drove into town on Thursday last with a jitney and some passengers, and thereby hangs a tale. After unloading his bus he confided to a couple of strangers that he had received "too much" for taking the passengers to this neck of the woods, and they evidently saw a chance to profit by the young man's error. They confided to him the fact that they were Dominion Police and examined the driver's license, and alas, he had none. They told him of the trouble he was in as a result, how he was liable to a heavy fine, and they could fix it up for him if he would loan them the car, and they told their story so well that the youth from Kincardine handed the power over the driver to use for the balance of the afternoon. It was finally returned to him in good condition after several hours use, and the young man hied himself to the quiet and peaceful town where his abode is. He knew before he left here that he had been duped and that the slick young rascals, who had used his car, were not Dominion Police, but he was afraid to report to the local police. But if the pseudo Dominion Police are caught they will probably wish that they had hired a car rather than misrepresented their status in the community. It is a grave offense to assume such a virtue if you have it not and leads only to trouble and either a term in durance vile or being muleted of considerable currency of the realm. They had better not try it again.—Owen Sound Sun.

USE FOR VACUUM CLEANER

Vacuum cleaners, an Ohio farmer has discovered, make excellent potato bug exterminators. Noticing that his potato vines were thick with the pest, he attached a long extension feed wire to an electric lamp socket in the cellar of his home and carried the cleaner out into his backyard potato patch. The current was turned on, and, in a few minutes, every bug was drawn into the bag.

COULD NOT SLEEP.

Miss Gertrude Pratt, Wolsley St., Barrie, Ont., writes: "I was very much run down and could not sleep either day or night and my arms and legs ached so that life was very miserable. After using six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I feel well and strong again."

A FIRE INVESTIGATION.

W. T. Lee & Sons' Store in Owen Sound was Fired by Incendiary.

The investigation into the W. T. Lee and Sons' fire continued on Friday afternoon and on Saturday but there were no developments that would establish the guilt of anyone. That the fire was of incendiary origin was proven beyond a doubt as no less than six separate places were found where the fires were started. Oil and oil-soaked waste were the materials used and this very inflamable stuff was placed in different places around the rear of the store. That the damage was not much greater, was due entirely to the promptness and efficiency of the fire brigade. The start made by the fire was a rapid one and a few minutes later arrival on the part of the brigade, would have made a lot of difference. Fire Marshall J. W. Pointon conducted the inquiry and left nothing undone to unearth some clue that would lead to the conviction of the fire bug. Photos of different portions of the store where the fire had been were made at his order by the Wm. Craig Studio, every small circumstance was carefully gone over by him and the floors and other portions of the building were subjected to the most minute search in an effort to clear up the mystery. The Lee firm was absolutely exonorated. In commenting on the matter, Mr. Pointon spoke strongly of the need for a greater police force and fire brigade, saying that Owen Sound was very short handed in both departments. The installation of patrol boxes, increasing the police force by at least two men and a substantial increase in the number of firemen were recommended by him. He also gave great praise to the local fire brigade and deputy chief John McCaffrey, for the manner in which the fire was handled, and the subsequent great saving of property.

A reward of $500 is a probability, as it is understood that Mr. Parker and Mr. Lee have guaranteed $300 of this amount and it is expected that the town will increase this by $200. It is to be hoped that this will be sufficient incentive to some one to make every possible effort to locate the perpetrator.—Owen Sound Sun.

$1,131 COLLECTED IN FINES IN WALKERTON

Dominion Policeman Stanley Russell of Toronto, a South African war veteran, and son of ex-Reeve Robt. Russell, here, has been doing some smooth detective work among the aliens in this section, with the result that many who hadn't conformed with the requirements of the law under the Alien Enemies' Registration Act were hailed before the courts and assessed handsomely for their neglect. As the fines go into the municipal treasury where the convictions are made, Stan's act in piloting the offenders to Walkerton was a windfall for the local exchequer, no less than 1,131 going into the town's coffers through these fines. Herman Milz and Otto Bluhm, members of the Hanover Band, were the first couple to be brought in. On being ushered Wednesday before Magistrate Tolton, they admitted that they hadn't registered under the Alien Enemies' Act, and were fined $200 each for their neglect, and another $50 each for being unable to show their registration papers to Dominion Policeman Russell when asked to do so. They whacked up the $500 and departed sadder and wiser men.

On Thursday Rev. Ernest Denef, the Lutheran minister of Brant, and Wm. Hueemoder, farmer of that township, were arraigned before Magistrate Tolton on the same charges, with the result that the preacher was fined $250 and the farmer $300, making a total contribution of $550 from the pair.

On Friday night Henry Osthoff of Hanover was arrested by Russell and after being fined $50 by Magistrate Telford in Hanover for failure to show his registration papers was escorted to Walkerton and assessed $200 by Magistrate Tolton for neglecting to register under the Act.

Wm. Plantz, an alien who recently removed to Hanover from Kitchener, was also apprehended by Russell for not reporting his removal to the authorities, and was assessed $15 by Magistrate Telford for his discrepancy.

All told Russell's pilgrimage into this section has resulted in fines of $1,365 being gathered, and it is said the end is not yet.—Herald Times.

FOR BABY'S TENDER SKIN.

A child's skin is tender as well as beautiful and eczema may be caused by chafing of clothing, the use of poor soap, exposure to cold or sudden change of temperature. Probably no treatment for eczema has ever proved so successful as Dr. Chase's Ointment. This ointment is delightfully soothing, stops the itching and consequently prevents scratching. Gradually the sores are healed up and the skin is left soft and velvety.

A THRILLING ESCAPE.

Lieut. Errol Sydie Writes Home from German Prison Camp; Is Being Well Treated.

Mrs. C. W. Sydie, of Edmonton, formerly of Orangeville, has received a letter from her son, Lieut. Errol Sydie, who was made a German prisoner on June 30th. Part of the letter reads:

"Well, here I am, having been a prisoner for 12 days, with nothing to do and nothing to worry about but the quality of the food. So far as I am concerned the war is over, and I am practically certain of seeing Canada once more. June 30th was certainly an eventful day in my life. Before that day, as a scout pilot, I had very little chance of getting home again, as even four months is a comparatively long life in that capacity in France now.

"The fact that I am a prisoner is due to my luck, unlucky in that I was alive when I got to the ground. There were about eight Hun airmen coming at me from all directions, firing continuously for about ten minutes. The instrument board and wind screen in front of me were shot away, and my wings shot to tatters. I have thought of my escape a good many times, and the more I think of it the more miraculous it seems.

"Do not let your imagination run riot and picture me as ill-treated and starving, as we are not, and never will be. Both sides are far more scrupulous in their treatment of prisoners than they were at the beginning of the war, and we have on the whole been well and considerately treated. I have not yet arrived at the camp where I will be permanently located, but I am at a central distributing plant temporarily. There are about 300 English and French officers here and our quarters are quite good.

"We have games, books, barber shop, church, hot showers, English orderlies, concerts and a canteen. The food supplied by the German authorities is not very good and consists of war bread and soup for the most part. However, we receive a ration of four water biscuits a day, which come from England, and six parcels a month, filled with tea, coffee, canned goods of every description, Quaker oats, rice, egg powder, etc. The parcels sent by the Air Board are particularly good, and all you need send is a few luxuries like candy, tobacco, etc.

"I am giving you the truth in every detail, so you need not imagine I am browbeaten into concealing the true state of affairs.

"All the camps are equipped with excellent libraries, and we have an excellent opportunity to study German and French."

DIED OF WOUNDS.

His relatives and friends here were shocked on Saturday night to learn that Pte. James Garfield St. Croix, son of Mr. Louis St. Croix, of Hamilton, formerly of Orangeville, had died of wounds received in action. Pte. Croix, who was only 19 years of age in March, enlisted and went overseas with the 164th Batt. On account of his youth he was kept in England until a few months ago. He had only been at the front two or three weeks when he was wounded. He was a strong, stalwart chap weighing about 170 pounds, and had the fighting spirit of the true soldier. He was a grandson of Mr. Jas. Smith, 166 Wellington street. Miss Irene St. Croix, of Alton, and Misses Louise and Marie St. Croix, of Hamilton, are sisters. We understand Pte. St. Croix was wounded on Sept. 20th and died on the following day, Sept. 21st. A stepbrother, Pte. Norman Jones, died of wounds about eight months ago.

PTE. CLIFFORD J. LEADER

Killed in action in France on Aug. 28th. Pte. Leader was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Leader, of Amaranth.

"BOB" WILSON GASSED.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. McLean received word on Friday night that the latter's brother, Robert Wilson, a former Erin boy, had been gassed. Wilson, who is a barber by trade, worked with Mr. McLean in Orangeville for several years. He enlisted in Welland, where he had been living for the last two years. He went overseas last spring and had been at the front only a short time.

CLIFFORD MOSS KILLED.

Pte. Clifford Moss, an English lad who worked for W. Baxendale and other farmers in the neighborhood of Grand Valley, died on Sept. 7th from gunshot wounds in the face and legs. Moss enlisted four years ago and was in France for three years without receiving a scratch. A brother, William, was killed about two years ago and another brother, who is overseas, has been wounded. A sister, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of the Grand Valley neighborhood, is the only relative in these parts.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

F. H. Thompson, K. C., of Stratford, was informed Tuesday that his son, Capt. H. A. Thompson, had died of wounds on Sept. 27th. Capt. Thompson, who was 26 years of age, was born in Mitchell, and was a graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston. He went across with the first contingent. For a time he was Adjutant of the Royal Montreal Regiment, and later was Grenade Officer of the 3rd Brigade. At the time of his death he was serving with the 14th Battalion. Mrs. Thompson, the young officer's mother, is an Orangeville girl, being a daughter of the late F. C. Stewart.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Janitor wanted for the Hospital at once. Apply at the Hospital, Prince of Wales Road.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lord Dufferin Chapter Daughters of the Empire will be held at the home of Miss G. Irvine, Friday, Oct. 11th at 3.30 p.m.

A meeting of the executive of the Daughters of the Empire will be held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Irvine, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 8 at 8 o'clock.

The Red Cross rooms will be open every Wednesday afternoon in place of Thursday and a cordial invitation is extended to all ladies to attend.

Last Thursday the Red Cross workers packed two boxes, valued at about $400, containing 3 quilts to Belgium relief, socks and shirts for held comforts, hospital shirts, pyjamas, sheets, pillow cases, towels, and filled kit bags to Canadian Red Cross.

A special appeal has been made for socks for our soldiers and we hope that all the ladies will help with this urgent appeal.

Wool may be obtained from Miss Clark at her home Prince of Wales street, every Tuesday afternoon, or at the Red Cross rooms on Wednesdays.

CROSS, SICKLY BABIES.

Sickly babies—those who are cross and fretful; whose little stomach and bowels are out of order; who suffer from constipation, indigestion, colds or any other of the minor ills of childhood—can be promptly cured by Baby's Own Tablets. Concerning them Mrs. Jean Paradis, St. Bruno, Que., writes: "My baby was very ill and vomited all his food. He was cross and cried night and day and nothing helped him till I began using Baby's Own Tablets. They soon set him right and now he is a fat, healthy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

—The Pathe Phonograph, invented by Frenchmen, uses a sapphire ball point, the most popular machine on the market. A large stock of records. Leave your order early.—Jeffers' Drug Store.

SOLDIERS' ADDRESSES.

Kindly leave addresses of soldiers from Dufferin County with Miss Lewis at the Bank of Hamilton, Miss Henry at the Bank of Commerce or Miss Tuck at the Sterling Bank, so that they may receive a parcel from the Women's War Auxiliary.

BEST CARTOON GETS FIFTY DOLLAR BOND

In connection with the coming Victory Loan campaign, the Dominion Press News and Feature Committee announces a cartoon contest. Artists are invited to submit sketches suitable for a two-column engraving, which will be judged on their merits as publicly calculated to assist in the selling of Victory Bonds. The committee offers a $50 bond of the new issue for the best cartoon. A number of cartoons will also be awarded special mention. The sketches submitted are to become the property of the committee and a nominal fee will be paid for any that are used in the campaign.

Mr. C. F. Crandall, managing editor of the Montreal Star, and the editor of Victory Loan National Press News and Feature Service will be the judges.

The contest will close on October 15th, and awards will be announced a few days later.

HARVEY SAYS HE GAINED 25 POUNDS

Weighs More Than He Ever Did in His Life Since Taking Tanlac.

"To show you what Tanlac has done for me, I gained twenty-five pounds on five bottles and am now twelve pounds heavier than I ever was in my life," said M. Harvey, who is employed by the Grant, Smith-Porter Ship Building Co., and lives at 410 Fifth Street, Portland.

"For four or five years," he continued, "I had an awful time with stomach trouble that steadily got worse in spite of all I could do. I didn't relish my food, and what I ate would ferment on my stomach and bloat me up with gas, till I was miserable for two or three hours afterwards. The terrible misery in my stomach would go clear through to my back, and at times I would belch up much of what I had eaten. I fell off from a hundred and sixty-eight to a hundred and fifty-five pounds. I felt so tired and worn out that it was all I could do to keep going and many a time I felt like I just couldn't hold out another day. I took all sorts of medicines, but nothing did me a bit of good.

"When I heard of so many people taking Tanlac and being helped by it I got me a bottle to try, and it wasn't long before I was feeling like a different person. I eat like a pig now—anything I want and nothing hurts me at all. I never have any trouble with gas or those awful stomach pains and I went up in weight to a hundred and eighty pounds. That old worn out feeling is all gone, I am working hard every day and never feel tired like I did before. My wife was very much run down, too, and complained of indigestion and nervousness. A few bottles of Tanlac soon straightened her out and now she says that she feels as well as ever."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

The regular monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society will be held in the Public Library Auditorium, Orangeville, on Wednesday, Oct. 9th at 8 p.m. Inspector Tuck will present his report on the buildings suitable for a Children's Shelter in Dufferin. The committee appointed by the County Council are invited to be present. Residents of the county are cordially invited to become members.

MEN EXEMPTED AS FARMERS

Having in view the importance of leaving a sufficient number of men on those farms, which are actually contributing to the National Food Supply, notice is hereby given as follows:

1. ALL MEMBERS OF CLASS I POSSESSING EXEMPTION AS FARMERS which is expiring and WHO WISH TO REMAIN EXEMPT should communicate with the Registrars under the M.S.A., of their respective districts, REQUESTING AN EXTENSION IN TIME OF SUCH EXEMPTION. Questionnaires will thereupon be issued to these men by the Registrar and they will receive further exemption upon furnishing satisfactory proof that they are contributing sufficiently to the National Food Supply.

2. In order to facilitate productive employment during the Winter months, MEN EXEMPTED AS FARMERS SHOULD APPLY TO THE REGISTRARS FOR PERMITS TO ENGAGE FOR THE WINTER IN SOME OCCUPATION OF NATIONAL INTEREST, SUCH AS LUMBERING, MUNITION WORK, ETC. Such permits will serve to enable exempted farmers to pursue other useful occupations for the months during which farming operations cannot be carried on.

THE LLOYD GEORGE TYPE.

The one thing we all admire in Lloyd George is that we know where to find him. He acts definitely. He is no luke-warm weakling. He fights on like our splendid boys are doing despite th 25,000 casualties since August 6th.

Are you doing your part as well? Have you taken your stand on the thrift question? Have you definitely decided that out of your good returns this year, you will lay by such-and-such an amount for a Victory savings account?

If you have done nothing in the matter, you are not of this Lloyd George type. You have heard the call to bring your dollars into the service of the country when she calls. And having heard, you have not acted. Make the decisive move now. Start the fund at once!

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

There was a splendid turn out at the Sunday School Rally on Sunday afternoon. A special program had been prepared of songs and readings under the general heading "His Wonderful Name," taken from the text, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins." Dr. Price had the school well in hand and all the parts were well taken. The little tots sang their part well and three little boys took their responses manfully. Rev. W. A. Sinclair gave a short address to the school. The collection for the General Sunday School and extension work amounted to $10.70.

The Epworth League was presided over this week by Miss Ruth Coutter. Miss Margaret Rowan and Miss Ruby Wilcox gave papers on missionary work in Africa. Miss Ewing sang a solo. A letter from a Norway House Indian, now a despatch runner at the front, was read.

The pulpit was occupied last Sunday by Rev. W. A. Sinclair, of Horning's Mills, who delivered two excellent sermons. In the morning his text was James IV., 14 Life may be like a vapour but it is capable of wonderful things. The sunshine on the vapour makes the beautiful rainbow. So the light of Christ may bring beauty out of the saddest life.

Next Sunday, as the pastor, Rev. E. R. Young, will be away in Hamilton, attending General Conference, Rev. Vernon H. Emory, of Toronto, will occupy the pulpit.

"MADE IN CHINA" NOW!

A pencil factory with a daily output of one hundred gross has been started in Shanghai, China. This marks the establishment of a new industry in the country. The product compares favorably with that formerly imported from Germany and Austria, and may in time replace all foreign makes.

The worst thing about being a hero is trying to look the part.

Fire Prevention

Extracts from

PROCLAMATION

Issued by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

Whereas next to the care of those who are offering their lives on the front line of battle, the conservation of all our energies and substance is our most important problem;

And whereas the saving of human life, thrift, and the prevention of loss of property through destruction by fire, is an aid which every one should give willingly to the community at large;

And whereas the reckless and impoverishing fire waste that confronts the people of our Province is appalling;

Therefore, believing that the loss can be minimized only by awakening in the public mind a universal watchfulness against carelessness, accumulation of rubbish and unsanitary conditions;

and

Because of this great need and in order to arouse a sense of watchfulness, carefulness and cleanliness, and to create a greater personal responsibility in reducing the number of preventable fires;

We have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Executive Council for Our Province of Ontario, to name, and do hereby name Wednesday, the

9th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1918

AS

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

And We do hereby urge that on this day, throughout our Province of Ontario, attention be called in schools and public places to the conditions that exist and to the need of immediate action and co-operation on the part of everyone; and special exercises, addresses and other means be employed to impress on the public mind lessons of Fire Prevention.

To insure the success of this great Clean-up Campaign it will be necessary to have the hearty and harmonious co-operation of all * * who have for their objects civic, social andindustrial betterment. * *

The Proclamation should be read in all Schools and at Public Gatherings.

Department of the Attorney-General. Deputy Fire Marshal.

MONO FARM SOLD.

Mr. Hilliard Anderson, ex-Reeve of Mono township, has sold his fine 200 acre farm, the west half lot 15 and the east half lot 14, Con. 1, east, Mono, to Mr. Thos. A. Gallaugher, of Mulmur, who will get possession on March 1st next. We understand that Mr. Gallaugher pays $12,000 for the property. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are likely to give up farming for the present and may take a trip to the West next summer.

SCHOLARSHIP IN MUSIC.

Mr. Percival Harding is receiving the hearty congratulations of his friends these days upon his success in winning a two years' scholarship offered by the Hambourg Conservatory of Music for the best Canadian tenor between the ages of twenty and thirty years. There were between fifteen and twenty competitors and the fact that Mr. Harding won out stamps him as a tenor of the first quality. The scholarship is worth about $500.

THANKSGIVING CONCERT.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's church, Camilla, will hold a Thanksgiving concert in the church on Monday evening, Oct. 14th. Mrs. Cameron, a Toronto entertainer, has been secured for the evening. Instrumental music will be provided by Misses Shaw and Browne, Orangeville; Mrs. P. C. Howard, Cardwell; Miss Berniece Leighton and Mr. Percival Harding, of Orangeville. Rev. Mr. Howard, Rev. W. M. Morris and Dr. Kyles will deliver short addresses. Admission 25c and 15c. Program at 8 o'clock, new time.

POETS, ATTENTION!

The Dominion Press News and Feature Committee of the Victory Loan 1918 organization announces a poem contest in connection with the coming campaign. Canadians with poetical talent are invited to submit offerings not exceeding 200 words, which will be judged largely on their effectiveness as publicity designed to persuade Canadians to buy Victory Bonds. A prize of a $50.00 bond of the new issue will be awarded for the best poem submitted. The next best 24 will be awarded special mention and $5.00 will be paid for those which the committee decides to use in the course of the campaign. Professor M. W. Wallace, of Toronto University and the editor of Victory Loan National Press News and Feature Service will be the judges.

The committee offers to supply information concerning the urgency of the situation necessitating the coming loan, to all contestants who may apply to the committee's office, 18 King street west, Toronto.

The contest closes on October 15th and awards will be announced a few days later.

EARLY PLOWING BRINGS BIGGER WHEAT FIELDS

Early plowing is one of the essential factors in growing high yields of wheat as shown by results at the Ohio Experiment Station where from 3 to 8 bushels, more per acre have been secured by observing early plowing dates.

Agronomists point out that early plowing makes it possible to prepare a firm, fine and moist seedbed, which is regarded so essential in successful wheat growing.

Frequently a pest of the wheat can be controlled by early plowing, particularly the wheat midge this season.

MARSVILLE.

On Friday morning, Sept. 27th, there passed away a well known resident of the community in the person of Mr. Henry McGowan. He was the second son of the late Robt. McGowan, a pioneer of this section. He was born in 1859 on the homestead, lot 5, Con. 12. In 1889 he married Jane Nodwell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nodwell. He lived on lot 10 on the 12th line for several years and after selling his farm to Mr. J. Warnock, the present owner, he purchased another farm on the 7th line, Erin. He afterwards disposed of this farm and returned to Garafraxa. Owing to failing health he went West and purchased land at Asquith and not only did the investment prove successful, but his health improved and his friends had good hopes for a complete recovery. Unfortunately the improvement was only for a time. Last June he went to Rochester, Minn., to the far-famed Dr. Mayo, who did not give any encouragement. He immediately returned to Garafraxa to spend his remaining days with his relatives and friends. He was a successful farmer and proved himself a good neighbor in the communities where he resided. He was a member of Court Marsville C. O. F. and the members turned out in a body to pay their last tribute of respect to a beloved brother. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon to Price's burying ground. The Rev. R. S. Scott conducted the services. The pallbearers were brother Foresters and close friends, J. H. Simpson, Robt. Simpson, R. Nodwell, W. E. Nodwell, U. Everson and J. Boggs. Besides the widow he leaves two sons, Arthur and Wilfrid, in the West, and two daughters, Mrs. Robt. Forgrave and Miss Bessie, Marsville.

MONO COUNCIL.

WALDEMAR.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, of Belwood neighborhood, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McConachie, 5 sideroad, recently.

Talbot Bros. spent Sunday with friends out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bushby were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carter on a recent Sunday.

Mr. Richard Allen, of Violet Hill, was in town last week looking after his real estate interests here.

Mr. Jos. McConachie purchased thirteen head of fine feeders from Messrs. Gamble & Simpson, our local stockmen. Mr. McConachie intends to winter the bunch.

Miss Agnes Neely, of Elora, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carter for the last week or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tolton, of Toronto, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Tolton.

Mrs. J. and Miss Jennie McArthur, of Orangeville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter over Sunday. The visitors attended service in Grand Valley Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

McConachie Bros. are hard at the threshing these days and are doing splendid work. Judging from present indications they have a heavy season ahead of them.

We much regret to report the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Groskurth from our village to the city of Toronto. Mr. Groskurth was one of the first citizens of Waldemar and his influence on every element of the community has been felt, combined with that of his capable wife and family. No degree of energy or time has been spared by Mr. Groskurth if in any way he could produce a higher moral standard of citizenship. It is therefore with much regret that the citizens of Waldemar, one and all, sincerely regret the removal of this estimable family to Toronto. It was with these sentiments the friends of the Methodist church assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Groskurth on Thursday evening of last week to convey to them the appreciation of the active responsibility which they so capably assumed during their residence in Waldemar in every function and capacity of the church. After preliminary remarks by Rev. Mr. Cooper, pastor of the Methodist church, the following address was read by Mrs. Henry Carter:

To Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Groskurth:

We, some of your many Waldemar friends, have met with you tonight in your home. We wish to express our sorrow at your departure from our midst, because we have long admired your many good qualities; your affability and sociability, which have endeared you to all, far and near, in our community.

You and your estimable family have been such a factor in our social life that we can scarcely realize to what an extent your leaving will affect us; but it is in our church work that we will miss you most, for you have been such help and life to us, that we know not how to express our regrets.

We ask you to accept these as a slight remembrance of the appreciation of your Waldemar friends.

We are glad of the bright prospects that are before you, in the new home to which you are going. We know that you are not pitching your tents towards Sodom, because Toronto is a city of churches, and your influence will be felt, even there.

Signed on behalf of the friends—Mrs. H. Carter, Mrs. J. E. Lomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Groskurth were presented with a cut glass water set and cut glass sugar bowl and cream pitcher. Mr. and Mrs. Groskurth were visibly affected by this expression of respect from their acquaintances in Waldemar and thanked them for the remembrance in a very feeling manner.

On the following evening the friends of the village and community presented them with the following address:

To Mr. and Mrs. Edward Groskurth,

Dear Friends,—Having learned that it is your intention to remove from our community, we, your old friends and acquaintances have gathered here tonight.

We wish to express our deep regret at your removal from our midst. During all the years of your residence here we have always found you ready and willing to take a leading part in all that tended to promote the highest interests of our community.

We would like to express our kindly feelings and good wishes in a more tangible form than in words only, so we kindly ask you to accept these gifts for the good will they are intended to convey.

Our parting prayer is that the blessing of God may accompany you and yours to your new home.

Signed on behalf of your many friends—Mr. Reuben West, Mr. Ross Lomas.

Waldemar, Sept. 20th, 1918.

Mr. Groskurth was given a beautiful gold headed umbrella and Mrs. Groskurth a silver fruit spoon. These gifts were accepted with the thanks of Mr. and Mrs. Groskurth, who voiced the deepest sorrow on leaving such a community whose citizens were of such a helpful, kind and thoughtful character.

Misses Laura and Greta Groskurth were presented by the young people of the community with a gold chain and cross and ivory manicure set, respectively. Mr. Cedric Groskurth was given a pair of gold cuff links.

In leaving for their new home in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Groskurth carry with them the very warm regard of the whole community in and around Waldemar.

MONO EAST PARISH.

Harvest Home services will be held in St. John's church, Mono, on Sunday, Oct. 6th at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., new time. Rev. John Morris, of Shelburne, will be the special preacher. Offering for Foreign and Diocesan Missions. Afternoon service in St. John's church, Mono Mills, at 3 o'clock at which Rev. Mr. Morris will also preach.

Autumn will soon be here and you will NEED new stylish clothes to wear. Come to us for them, we are the "Style Centre" of this community. Come to us for them and the PRICE will be low.

We have built up our business by always telling the TRUTH to our customers. The confidence this community has in our store is constantly building our business bigger.

High prices did not scare us. It's not a question now of price; the main thing is to get the goods. We think we have the biggest and best assortment of Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing, both in Suits and Overcoats, we ever had, and at prices we know cannot be duplicated.

In Fur Coats we have our usual big stock bought from $7.00 to $10.00 less than the price is now.

In Underwear and Men's Flannel Shirts we have a big choice at the right price. We have some specially good bargains in Men's Suits and Raincoats at clearing prices. Before buying be sure and see our clothing.

STAR.

Mr. Dan Baxter, of Toronto, is holidaying at the parental home here.

Mrs. W. McPherson, of Orangeville, is spending a few days at Mr. Robt. Campbell's, and other friends in this locality.

A number from around here attended Brampton Fair on Saturday. All report a good time.

Miss Lyle Maxwell, of Toronto, is spending a few days at Mr. W. Vickery's.

Congratulations are extended to our Scotch dancers as their dancing was a special attraction at Orangeville Fair.

Mr. Duncan McArthur's horse, Minnie M., won third money in the free-for-all race at Orangeville, also the same place at Grand Valley.

CAMILLA.

Misses Marion and Barbara McNaughton of Orangeville were the guests of Misses Elizabeth and Margaret Mann over the week-end.

Miss Eileen Neil leaves this week for her home in Chicago, after a pleasant visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Neil.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Anderson visited Cookstown friends Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillyard and daughter of Caledon spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. South.

Mrs. Joseph Rayfield and sons, George and Cecil, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Rayfield on Sunday.

Mr. Charles Laycock, and sister, have taken up their residence in the house vacated by Mr. Robert South and owned by Mr. Herbert Christian.

Miss Nettie Lyon has been quite ill for the past ten days.

Do not forget the concert in St. Andrew's church Thanksgiving night.

An Advertisement by Charles Dickens

CHARLES DICKENS is one of the world's great teachers. Here is what he has to say in one of his books:

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £19. 19. 6—result, happiness. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £20. 0. 6—result, misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of Day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—and in short you are forever floored. As I am."

The saving of a part of one's income was always a good policy.

Prudent men and women have always maintained a margin of saving.

But to-day we must go farther in our efforts to save than ever before.

To-day it is a matter of the gravest importance that each Canadian seek ways and means to economize by cutting down expenditures for unnecessary things, saving the money he spends on things he could do without, so that when the Nation needs to borrow money he will be in a position to do his full duty.

There is war-shortening work waiting for every dollar that can be saved.

IF Charles Dickens were writing to Canadians to-day he would probably give us advice to this effect:

"My other piece of advice, Canadians, you know. No matter what percentage of your annual income you have previously saved, your efforts to-day should be to save more. The advantage of so doing is threefold: By the practice of economy you conserve the material and labor which must be devoted to the grim task before us; you cultivate the priceless habit of thrift; you gather more and more money to lend to the Nation for the prosecution of the war to a quick and certain Victory."

ANCIENT CZECHO-SLOVAKS

The Czechs are an ancient race. They were flourishing in Bohemia away back in the fifth century before Christ, and they have always been noted for their progressive spirit, for their longings in the direction of liberalism and democracy, and above all for their industrial and commercial enterprise, thanks to which they have been for the past 400 years the economic backbone of the Hapsburg monarchy. They were independent, and therefore unfettered, until they foolishly elected Emperor Ferdinand of Austria as their ruler in 1520, not only because he was married to the daughter and heiress of their last king of the dynasty of St. Wenceslaus, but also because he solemnly pledged himself to respect their national rights and liberties. Needless to add that Ferdinand I. failed to keep his promises. This is a peculiarity of the House of Hapsburg, which is at last to bring ruin upon their Empire.

Canada will resume ordinary time at 2 a.m. on Sunday, October 27. All clocks at that hour will be put back 60 minutes.

Henry Grigg, Bosanquet township was instantly killed while trying to put a belt on his threshing engine. Both his arms were torn off and nearly all his clothes, and one leg was broken.

Near Brockville, while Norman Morrison Crosby was making some repairs to a corn binder on his farm the horses attached to the machine set it in operation and the neck was run through his hand. He was alone at the time in the field, and was held prisoner for more than an hour.

BY-LAW NO. 759.

To impose an additional percentage charge on all taxes not paid by December 15th, 1918.

WHEREAS under the provisions of Chapter 195, Section 108, of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1914, Municipal Councils are empowered to pass a by-law to impose an additional percentage charge for the non-payment of taxes by a day named in said by-law:

THEREFORE the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Township of Caledon enacts and it is hereby enacted that an additional percentage charge of 5 p. c. be imposed and collected on all taxes not paid by the fifteenth day of December, 1918. And the Tax Collectors shall collect the same in accordance with the Revised Statutes of Ontario or any other Act of Parliament and shall return against the assessed property any portion of taxes unpaid by December 15th, 1918, with an additional five per cent. added thereto.

Passed this 11th day of September, 1918.

CONSTANT PAIN AFTER EATING

The Tortures of Dyspepsia Corrected by "Fruit-a-tives"

ST. MARTIN'S, N.B.

"For two years, I suffered tortures from Severe Dyspepsia. I had constant pains after eating; pains down the sides and back; and horrible bitter stuff often came up in my mouth.

I tried doctors, but they did not help me. But as soon as I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives', I began to improve and this medicine, made of fruit juices, relieved me when everything else failed."

AUTUMN CULTIVATION FOR WEED CONTROL

The ploughing of the land in the fall is desirable as a part of the regular work of the farm since it enables the ground to be got into proper condition for sowing the seed in spring considerably earlier than would otherwise be the case. But it is perhaps of even greater importance as a means of keeping weeds in check. In the case of perennial weeds the mere turning up and exposing of the root stocks to the action of the frost will serve as a considerable check to the weeds in cases where they are not killed outright. Where it is desirable to collect and burn creeping root stocks this can be more readily accomplished where the ground has been pulverized by the frost and snow of winter.

In the case of annual weeds these are of two classes from the point of view of their life-history. One group requires a resting period before the seeds will germinate and this holds good even if the conditions with regard to moisture and temperature are suitable. These normally germinate in the spring of the following year after they are shed, but in many species the germination can be delayed for several years if the seeds are buried to a considerable depth in the soil. This is true of such species as wild oats and wild mustard. Each time the surface of the ground is disturbed some of these buried seeds will germinate and if no other seeds are allowed to fall into the soil in the meantime, the ground will eventually become clear of them.

In another group of annual species known as winter annuals, the seeds germinate immediately after they are scattered and pass the winter in the form of a small seedling plant which survives winter under the snow and resumes growth in the following spring. Belonging to this group are the following weeds: Chess, Purple Cockle, Night-flowering Catchfly, Stinkweed, False Flax, Ball Mustard, Wild Radish, Hare's Ear Mustard, Tumbling Mustard, Peppergrass, Wormseed Mustard, Corn Chomwell, Blue Bur or Stickweed, and Stinking Mayweed. It is in the case of these weeds that autumn cultivation is specially desirable as if they are turned under with the plow and covered sufficiently deeply, very few of them will be able to continue their growth after the snow melts.

FLATULENT COLIC.

A disease commonly called "Flatulent Colic" is quite common in horses. It is a form of indigestion, and in the early stages the symptoms strongly simulate those in acute indigestion.

Causes—This condition is much more serious than spasmodic colic although the causes are much the same, viz., changes of food or water, over-feeding (especially after a long fast or when overheated), food of poor quality, severe exercise, too soon after a hearty meal, a weakness, or partial inactivity, of the digestive glands, etc., food that ferments readily, as green clover, turnips, turnip tops, etc., especially if wet or frosted is a fertile cause. It sometimes occurs during the progress of other diseases indicating a very grave condition. This, and in fact, mostly all intestinal diseases, occasionally appear without recognizable cause, due, no doubt, to a non-active state of the digestive glands.

Symptoms—The symptoms do not generally appear so suddenly, nor yet are they so violent and alarming to the ordinary observer, as those of spasmodic colic. The animal becomes dull, uneasy, stamps his feet, probably kicks at his abdomen, looks around at his flanks, paws, lies down carefully, may roll, rise again and continue to show uneasiness. The pulse is increased in both force and frequency and respiration is often more or less labored. The symptoms of pain are practically constant, but vary in intensity. In a short time after the first symptoms are shown there will be noticed a more or less well-marked fulness of the abdomen (bloating) more marked on the right side just in front of the point of the hip. The visible mucous membranes become injected, the pulse continues to increase in frequency, but usually gradually loses force, and the respiration will be labored in proportion to the degree of distention of the abdomen with gas. The extremities are usually cold, and there is often a twitching of the muscles. If relief be not effected, the symptoms continue to increase in severity, bloating becomes excessive, and death takes place from rupture of the intestine, suffocation or absorption of gases into the circulation.

Treatment—Place in a roomy boxstall or a paddock. Agents which combine with, or neutralize, the gases are indicated. For this purpose there is probably nothing that can be safely given by the stomach that acts as well as oil of turpentine (commonly called spirits of turpentine) and raw linseed oil, 1 to 3 fluid ozs. of the former in one-half to one pint of the latter (according to the size of the patient). If necessary, the dose may be repeated in an hour, but if given the third time new milk should be substituted for the oil. When this medicine is not quickly obtainable 2 to 3 ozs. of bi-carbonate of soda (baking soda) dissolved in water should be given. The patient should be well bedded and kept as comfortable as possible. A couple of gallons of warm soapy water should be injected into the rectum occasionally. If the pain be severe it should be combatted by the administration of 1 to 2 ozs. of chloral hydrate dissolved in a little water, or 1½ fluid ozs. each of tincture of belladonna and sweet spirits of nitre in a pint of cold water as a drench. This anodyne may be repeated about every two hours as needed. If bloating becomes excessive, care should be taken to prevent the patient from throwing himself down violently, as there is danger of this causing rupture of the distended intestine. If the bloating becomes so marked that there is imminent danger of suffocation or rupture, the patient should be punctured on the right side at the most prominent part between the point of the hip and the last rib to allow the immediate escape of gas. This operation, if skilfully performed with a trocar and canula (an instrument especially designed for the purpose), has proved successful in most cases, but the use of knives and other crude instruments has not usually been followed by satisfactory results.

In a case of this nature when the administration of the drugs mentioned does not give relief in at most two hours, it is better, where possible, to secure the services of a veterinarian, but where this cannot be done the attendant can only follow the above treatment to the best of his ability.

"The Store That Saves You Money."

FAMILY OF FIVE SAVES FIFTY DOLLARS A WEEK

Munition Workers Who Combat High Cost of Living to Save for "Rainy Day."

All over the country high wages are being earned. Some of the workers are putting by against the inevitable "rainy day." Many are not. In Toronto, where the workers in the munition industry are believed to number nearly 30,000, some exceedingly high wages are being paid.

For example, in some munition factories, tool makers are getting as much as $1 an hour, with pay at the rate of time and a half for night work and double time on Sundays. Lathe hands get, as a rule, from 50c an hour up, with extra for overtime and Sundays.

Thus some men in munition factories are receiving as high as $60, or $70, or even $80 a week with overtime. These are comparatively few. But plenty of them are earning $45, $50 and $55 a week.

Women, too, earn good money in these factories. Most of the inspectors in munition plants are women, and many will earn 35c an hour for an eight and a half hour day, with time and a half for overtime. Women, too, do plenty of other work in munition shops. Plenty of them earn between $20 and $30 a week, though comparatively few get the latter figure.

Joint Earnings Huge.

It is quite common for two, and three, and even four, members of one household to be working on munitions, and to be earning a total payroll of an amount that would have been deemed fabulous in the days before the war. Here is a typical example. It is of a family living in the east end of the city.

Two years ago the weekly income earned by this household was $26. Today it is over $80. The father and his two daughters are working at munitions, earning respectively, $30, $25 and $18 a week, while the boy, aged 17, earns $8 a week at another job downtown. The mother looks after the house and repairs the family clothing, making many of the new garments, as she is handy with the needle.

They are exceedingly thrifty people and for the last two years they have saved an average of $50 a week. Their living does not cost them appreciably more than it did in the days when the total family income was $26. They have fought the increased cost of food by economy and, to a great extent, by the use of substitutes for meat. They have not launched out on any personal pleasures or extravagant fixings for their home.

In the two years that they have been making big money, they have paid off a mortgage of $2,000 on their house, have invested another $1,000, and will be ready to take a big slice of the new issue of war bonds when it comes along.

A Great Achievement.

To have raised themselves to comparative affluence in so short a time is a great achievement. It is one in which the mother takes great pride. "For the first time in our lives," she said, "we are protected against the future. That is such a relief. You don't know how things will be after the war—some folks think they will be very bad—and it is a great mercy to feel that you have a bit of money back of you. Another thing that spurred us on to save is the high prices on all sides. You can't get anything like proper value for your money in anything. But these times won't last. Later on, when we can get a dollar's worth for a dollar once more, we shall be able to buy more for our money than we would today."

READING MONKEY'S HAND.

It might be very interesting if some expert palmist were to study the lines in the hands and feet of a monkey and possibly those of its tail also. For if the palms of human beings are such pictures of their characters and such forecasts of their futures as the palmists pretend, those of monkeys, which are lined like ours, should have their story. And this would be doubly interesting, for these monkeys have four hands—one might almost say five in the case of those with prehensile tails—while we have only two. The hand has no thumb, though the foot has one finely developed; that the nails are strikingly like those of human beings, and that the inner—one might say "palmar"—surface of the tail is lined. The spider monkey's tail fulfills the function of a fifth hand, except that it is not used for tactile examination of objects.

MERCIFUL BOMBING OF AUSTRIAN CAPITAL

The text of the leaflets dropped on Austria by an Italian air squadron commander, Major d'Annunzio, the poet, was as follows: "Viennese! You are to be taught to know the Italians. We are flying over Vienna. We could drop tons of bombs, we are dropping greetings in three colors, the colors of liberty. We do not make war on women and children. We are making war on your government, the enemy of national liberties, on your blind government which does not know how to give you bread, feeding you on hatred and illusion. You are intelligent. Why have you adopted the Prussian uniform? All the world is against you. If you wish to continue the war it is your suicide." The distance covered by the raiders was about 621 miles, 497 miles being over enemy territory. One machine only was lost."

At Orillia a farewell was tendered to Rev. T. A. Symington, M.A., who is leaving Orillia Presbyterian church to accept a call to the pastorate of Knox church, South London, Ont.

CHASING THE HUN.

Mono Mills Boy is Right in the Hard Fighting—Two Interesting Letters.

The following are extracts from letters which "Joe" Halbert, who went overseas with the 164th, wrote home to his mother, Mrs. R. J. Halbert, and his brother, John, of Mono Mills:

France, August 12, 1918.

Dear Brother,—

Your letters of July 11th and 21st received. I certainly was glad to hear from you again. It was two weeks since we had had mail, and this last week I have never had time to write even a few lines. We have all been in the scrap which is going on now, and of which you will doubtless have read long before this reaches you. You will see what our forces have done. We had quite a few casualties and a great many more close calls and I have seen sights this week I will never forget. You haven't any idea what it is like to see thousands of men and guns go forward across the open country just as if nothing was happening, and then come back with many prisoners. Old Fritzie is on the run for sure this time. It is all open warfare as he has only scattered shell holes for cover. I really believe the war will be over this year. We all hope it will anyway. I also received a bunch of papers along with the parcel of smokes.

I think this is all for this time. Hope this finds you all as well as it leaves me. Your brother,

JOE HALBERT.

France, August 13, 1918.

Dear Mother,—

Your very welcome letter of July 25th arrived yesterday so it came in quite a short time. I am feeling fine at present, though last week I saw sights I will never forget and which I wouldn't care to see again. You have likely read all about the battle going on at present, and we are right in it. The weather has been quite warm, almost too hot for comfort, but just right for our work. Everyone seems very happy around here, though we all have had narrow escapes of some kind. One evening when we were sneaking upon Fritz he opened up with machine guns. All we could do was lie flat. Some of the boys were wounded with the bullets. They were cutting the grass at my feet, so you may imagine my position wasn't a very comfortable one. However, we don't mind things like that over here. A fellow has to become used to such things as bullets whistling around him a good bit of the time, and it doesn't bother him very much.

Well, mother, if you saw where I am writing you would have a good laugh. I am sitting with my back against a tree and beside a brush pile where I sleep. Some home alright. But it is all in the game.

Hoping to hear from you in a day or so again. I will write a few lines whenever I get a chance. Your son,

JOE.

F. H. Pearson, a merchant tailor in Reed City, Mich., died recently after a lengthy illness from consumption. Deceased, who was 52 years of age, was a son of the late Wm. Pearson, of Terra Nova, Ont.

An eight-year-old boy named Geo. Murdy, whose home is in Toronto, was run over by an auto driven by a Collingwood man in Nottawa village the other day. The lad was badly bruised but no bones were broken.

Ringworm on Child's Head

Caused Great Distress and Spread to Neck and Ears—Cure Was Speedily Effected When Right Treatment Was Recommended.

There is no disease of the skin more obstinate than ringworm, and the mother who writes this letter does so fully realizing what it will mean to other anxious mothers to know about Dr. Chase's Ointment.

This remarkable cure was brought about two years ago, and as there has been no return of the distressing disease there can be no doubt that the cure is permanent.

Mrs. D. Stebbins, Grand Bend, Ont., writes: "I am going to tell you of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment. My little girl had sores come out on her head which looked like ringworms. They were spreading fast, and I tried home treatment, but nothing helped her. I took her to the doctor, and he opened some of the sores, which were as big as the yoke of an egg. The salve he gave me to put on was very severe, and the poor child would cry for an hour or more after an application. For six weeks it continued to spread all over her head, and came down to her neck and ears. She suffered terribly. At last some kind ladies told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment, so I got a box, and the first time I put it on she was relieved of pain, and the second time the swelling was all gone. Before we had finished the first box the sores were nearly all gone. I have told all the people around here about your Ointment, and I cannot praise it too much. It is now two years since my little girl was troubled in this way, and it never came back, so you can see she is completely cured. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of others who may be suffering in a similar manner."

Joseph Brenner, J.P., endorses this statement as follows: "This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mrs. D. Stebbins of Grand Bend, Ont., and believe her statement with reference to Dr. Chase's Ointment to be true and correct."

WINTER WHEAT.

Distribution of Material for Co-operative Experiments.

According to the latest information available, the acreage of winter wheat in Ontario in the present year was only about one-third the average annual acreage for the past thirty-six years. The decrease was largely due to the light acreage sown last autumn and to the unusually large amount of winter killing. It was estimated that fifty-six per cent. of the winter wheat was ploughed last spring. A considerable amount of the crop which was left unploughed was sown with barley, oats or spring wheat either in patches or over whole areas. It is, therefore, exceedingly important that farmers make the best possible use of their good wheat for seed purposes this autumn. Those having a surplus of good winter wheat suitable for seed purposes could report to their County Agricultural Representative or advertise through the press.

From answers to enquiries sent to the farmers in the different counties in Ontario, eighty-one per cent. report that the Dawson's Golden Chaff is still the most extensively grown variety.

With the object of originating better varieties than those already in cultivation, crosses have been made at the Ontario Agricultural College between the Dawson's Golden Chaff and some of the varieties of particularly high quality for bread production. A cross made between the Dawson's Golden Chaff and the Bulgarian has furnished a new wheat which in six years has surpassed both its parents in average yield per acre and is almost equal to the Bulgarian in bread production. This variety has been given the name "O. A. C. No. 104" and has been distributed throughout Ontario in connection with the co-operative experiments in each of the past three years. It has made the highest record in each of these years. It proved to be one of the hardiest varieties in the tests of the past year. This new wheat should be available in fairly large quantities by another season. It will be distributed in small lots for co-operative experiments this autumn to those who wish to test varieties of winter wheat. This new variety will be included in experiment No. 1 as given below.

Distribution of Material for Experiments in Autumn of 1918.

As long as the supply lasts, material will be distributed free of charge in the order in which the applications are received from Ontario farmers wishing to experiment and to report the results of any one of the following tests: 1, Three varieties of Winter Wheat; 2, One variety of Winter Rye and one of Winter Wheat; 3, Spring Applications of five Fertilizers with Winter Wheat; 4, Autumn and Spring Applications of Nitrate of Soda and Common Salt with Winter Wheat; 5, Winter Emmer and Winter Barley; 6, Hairy Vetches and Winter Rye as Fodder Crops. The size of each plot is to be one rod wide by two rods long. Fertilizers will be sent by express for Number 4 this autumn and for Number 3 next spring. All seeds will be sent by mail except that for Number 4, which will accompany the fertilizers.

$791,000 FOR MISSIONS.

METHODISTS AIM TO REACH THE MILLION DOLLAR MARK THIS YEAR.

Chancellor Bowles and President of Toronto Conference Chief Speakers at District Meeting.

The financial meeting of Orangeville District of the Methodist church was held at Honeywood on Friday, Sept. 20th, with the chairman, Rev. E. R. Young, B. A., presiding, and Rev. T. R. White of Alton, acting as financial secretary.

The chairman in his opening address spoke of the progress of the work in the District, the good representation of ministers and laymen from the circuits, and expressed the sympathy of the District with Rev. H. H. Eaton, the pastor of Honeywood circuit, who was attending the funeral of his mother in London that day. A resolution was sent to Rev. Mr. Eaton from the members present.

The President of Toronto Conference, Rev. R. J. D. Simpson, outlined a plan by which it is proposed to raise the salary of every minister in Toronto Conference up to $1,500.00, and Messrs. Elmer Still, Dr. Price and Inspector Liddy, of Orangeville, and David Henderson, of Shelburne, with Rev. W. W. Wallace and the chairman, Rev. E. R. Young, were appointed a committee to visit every circuit on the District and lay the plan before the Quarterly Boards.

Rev. Alfred Laycock, of Mono Mills, was elected Statistical Secretary of the District.

Rev. R. P. Bowles, D. D., Chancellor of Victoria University, presented the interests of the educational work of the church, and requested Orangeville District to accept April 13th as Field Day for the Educational Society. Into the public school must be put more inspirational and religious qualities. The teacher, the teaching, the school and playground are great factors, and will produce a thinking democracy. The Endowment Fund of half a million dollars now being raised for Victoria College is within $20,000 of completion. Four out of five Governor-Generals' gold medals given to Toronto University have been won by Victoria College men. Over 500 Victoria College men have enlisted and 49 have died in the war.

The Chairman and Financial Secretary were appointed a committee to arrange exchanges for Educational Day on April 15th, 1919.

The President of the Conference, Rev. R. J. D. Simpson, of Toronto, addressed the meeting. He stated that Canadian Methodists had raised $791,000 for missions last year, and this year expect to raise a million dollars. Each Conference increased its givings last year. Sixty-four ministers of Toronto Conference are overseas. In the seven mission districts in the north of the Conference co-operation eliminated competition between the Methodists and Presbyterians.

An advance of 25 per cent. was suggested by the Missionary Secretary of the District, Rev. George Bury, and fixed as an objective this year in missionary giving in the District.

The November District meeting and a District Sunday School convention will be held at Laurel on Nov. 19th. Rev. C. H. Quaife, S. S. secretary for the District, has arranged a S. S. program.

Rev. W. W. Wallace in speaking of Evangelism urged personal work, observance of Rally Day and Decision Day in the Sunday Schools, making the Sunday evening service evangelistic in character, and the observance of the week of prayer.

Rev. Harold F. Woodsworth, B.A., a missionary of the Methodist church in Japan, gave interesting information about conditions in that country. Japan has discovered a new world and is looking across the Pacific with a desire to undertake great enterprises, and is following new lines of trade and commerce. She is comparing Christianity with Shintoism and Buddhism. Her policy is still plastic. She has not fallen a victim to any European race because of her own strong qualities. Her growth in recent years has been marvellous. She has annexed Formosa and Saghalien, is in Manchuria, and her influence in China is predominant. Her trade and commerce have kept pace with Imperial expansion. She is mistress of the Pacific. The speaker had crossed the Pacific in a ship built in Japanese docks, manned by Japanese captain and crew, with a Japanese orchestra on board. She sends her young men abroad to commercial schools, sends shoes and boots to Russia, and is supplying India with foreign clothing. She has a new democracy and has taken on a new intellectual phase.

MRS. NORMAN KEYS.

Daughter of Frank Denton, K. C., of Toronto, Dies in Ottawa.

"She died nursing the returned soldiers," might well be the epitaph of Mrs. Norman Keys, formerly Miss Lily Denton, whose death from pneumonia occurred in Ottawa on Saturday, just nine hours after she was taken to the hospital. A daughter of Frank Denton, K.C., and Mrs. Denton, 42 Admiral Road, Toronto, she graduated from Victoria University in 1911, and spent the following year taking post-graduate work at Maximilian University, Munich, Bavaria. The next year she attended the Sorbonne, Paris, returning to Canada shortly before war was declared. Since then she has taken an active part in various forms of patriotic work, and finally entered Hart House where she successfully completed the Government course, becoming a member of the Canadian Massage Corps.

On February 28th she was married to Lieut. Norman Keys, son of Prof. David Keys, 87 Avenue Road, who served in the ranks of the P. P. C. L. I., had been wounded three times, awarded the Military Cross, and finally invalided back to Canada. They made their home in Ottawa, where Mr. Keys, who is a barrister, had been given a post in the department of the Secretary of State. In view of the urgent need, Mrs. Keyes decided to continue her hospital work, and has been serving in the Sir Sandford Fleming Hospital for Returned Soldiers, Ottawa, until her sudden death from influenza followed by pneumonia.

A charming girl, of fine physique, the sad event was a great shock to all who knew her, both in Toronto and Ottawa. Besides her husband and parents, she is mourned by three sisters, the Misses Joy, Laura and Rosalind, and two brothers, Frank and George.

CLOAKEY–MOODY.

A quiet wedding took place in Knox Presbyterian church, Saskatoon, on Monday afternoon, Sept. 23rd, when Nellie, the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moody, of Orangeville, was united in marriage to Mr. William J. P. Cloakey, of Saskatoon, Sask., the officiating clergyman being the Rev. Wylie C. Clark. The bride wore a pretty travelling suit of dark brown velour cloth and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Her hat was of taupe velvet with touches of royal blue. There were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Cloakey have taken up their residence at 502 Walmer Road.

SMITH–TEMPLETON.

At the First Presbyterian church, Windsor, Ont., on Wednesday, Sept. 18th, at 2 p.m., Miss Susie, youngest daughter of Mrs. Margaret Templeton of Detroit, Mich., became the bride of Mr. J. Clare Smith, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith, 5th line, Caledon, Ont., the Rev. A. M. Pauline officiating. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts. Upon the arrival of the young couple at Mr. Smith's home, they were given a reception by friends and neighbors at 8 p.m., Saturday, when a very pleasant evening was spent and the bride was the recipient of a handsome oak clock.

MISS MARY THOMPSON.

The death of Miss Mary Thompson, oldest daughter of the late Joseph Thompson, of Elder, occurred at her home, lot 28, 2nd line, west, Mono, on Monday, Sept. 23rd. Deceased had been a sufferer from goitre and heart trouble for a considerable time, the latter affection eventually leading to her death. She was 52 years of age, was born in Mono and with the exception of a few years residence in Orangeville had spent her entire life in that township. Miss Thompson is survived by four brothers and two sisters. The brothers are: William Thompson, Mono; John Thompson, formerly postmaster at Violet Hill, and Gabriel and Martin Thompson, with whom she had lived for the last twenty years or longer. The sisters are: Mrs. James Law, Granger, and Mrs. Jake Law, Primrose. Deceased was widely known and enjoyed the respect of all who knew her. The funeral was held from her late residence to Shelburne cemetery Wednesday morning, Sept. 25th, Rev. John Morris, rector of St. Paul's church, officiating. The pallbearers were six nephews, Joseph, Lytle, Trueman, Maitland, Alvin and Alfred Thompson. Among the floral tributes were a broken wheel, Martin and Gabriel Thompson; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Law; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Law, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mackenzie, and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Thompson, of Orangeville.

MRS. N. M'CALLUM.

About three months ago Mrs. N. McCallum was taken ill with a stroke, although she had improved considerably with the hot weather. She, however, became weaker until death relieved the patient sufferer Saturday morning, all that human hands could do proving valueless. Mrs. McCallum, whose maiden name was Evangeline Sanderson, was born at Sheridan 58 years ago, and had always been a bright, attractive and energetic little woman. These qualities she retained to the end of life. She was predeceased by her father, brother, sister, also her mother, who died last January at the age of 75. Her parents were descendants of sturdy U. E. Loyalist stock. She had made many friends and will be greatly missed by them, besides having left to mourn the loss of a noble wife and kind and loving mother a husband and a family of eight children, Mrs. F. Millar, Markham; Mrs. Ernest Denny, Orangeville; Mrs. Albert Wolfe, Streetsville; W. C. McCallum, Orangeville; C. D. McCallum, Holland Landing; W. J. and Misses Margaret and Bessie, at home, and two sisters, Mrs. McCulloch, Hamilton, and Mrs. Collins, Humber Bay. The funeral service was held from her late residence to Brampton cemetery on Monday afternoon at three o'clock and was conducted by the Revs. John Locke and A. Fromow. Mr. Fromow was a very kind visitor to Mrs. McCallum during the absence of Mr. Locke on his holidays. Mrs. McCallum was a member of St. Paul's Methodist church.—Bramptor Conservator.

Saves Money For The Farmer

PRICES of farm products have reached a high level. The farmer can take full advantage of this situation only by adding to his equipment of time and labor-saving machinery. Time and labor are money. When time and labor are saved, money is saved.

Time and labor-saving devices for working the land do not produce complete results in themselves. The farmer must have rapid and dependable means of placing his products on the market.

LOST LITTLE DAUGHTER.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Therault, of Brantford, formerly of Mono and Orangeville, have the sympathy of their many friends hereabouts in the distressing bereavement that has fallen to their lot through the sudden and unexpected death of their month old daughter, Marjory, on Monday forenoon. Mr. and Mrs. Therault lost their two-year-old son, Ronald, last July and Mrs. Therault's mother died last January, so that this is the third time that death has saddened their home inside of ten months. The sorrowing father arrived in town Tuesday morning with the mortal remains of his baby daughter on his way to Mono Centre, where interment took place in the family burying plot in Burns' church cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

MRS. THOS. BUCHANAN.

Death claimed an old and greatly esteemed resident of Mono recently in the person of Mrs. Thos. Buchanan, whose death occurred at her home, lot 28, Prince of Wales Road, on Friday, Sept. 20th, after a long and very trying illness. Deceased, whose maiden name was Mary Warnock, was a daughter of the late Samuel Warnock, of Caledon, and a sister of the late Joseph Warnock. She was the last surviving member of her family. She was in her 86th year and was born in Chinguacousy, but moved to Caledon with her parents when a very young girl. She moved to Mono with her late husband in 1863 about ten years after their marriage and had resided on lot 28, Prince of Wales Road upwards of 50 years. Mr. Buchanan died about thirteen years ago and she is survived by a family of six sons and three daughters. The sons are: Thomas, a merchant in Thessalon, Ont.; Alex R., Calgary; Samuel, Primrose; Jas. and Fred, Camilla, and Joseph on the homestead, and the daughters, Mrs. Samuel Cruikshank Whittington; Mrs. Jane Little and Miss Margaret Buchahan, at home. With the exception of one son, Alexander, of Calgary, the family were all home for the funeral, which was held from her late residence to Shelburne cemetery on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 22. The funeral cortege was unusually large, showing the high esteem in which the departed woman was held. Rev. W. W. Wallace, pastor of Shelburne Methodist church, conducted the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were the five sons and Mr. S. Cruikshank, son-in-law.

REV. J. A. M'KENZIE.

His Orangeville friends learned with a great deal of regret of the death of Rev. J. A. McKenzie, Ph.D., formerly pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, Shelburne, at his residence, 44 Woodyatt Ave. Toronto, on Friday morning last. Decessed resigned his charge in Shelburne a few years ago to accept a call to the pastorate of Riverdale Presbyterian church, Toronto. Sometime after going to the city overwork affected his health. His ill-health culminated in nervous prostration, which eventually led to his death in his 53rd year. Dr. McKenzie was a scholarly, cultured divine, an able speaker and a genial, companionable man, who made lasting friendships wherever he went. His death is a distinct loss to the ministry of his church.

KING–BARRINGTON.

On September 10th at St. Lawrence Anglican church, Northfields, Birmingham, England, Geo. W. King, son of Town Engineer and Mrs. Chas. King, Orangeville, was united in marriage to Miss Helen Barrington, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Barrington, of Leicester, Eng. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. Toft.

FERNS–COOK.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Cook, Belwood, at high noon on Wednesday, Sept. 25th, when their only daughter, Lyda, became the bride of Mr. John Elton Ferns, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Ferns, of the Gravel Road, East Garafraxa. The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. R. S. Scott, of Hillsburg, in the presence of a gathering of about one hundred guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of ivory duchess charmeuse and georgette crepe beautifully trimmed with handmade India lace and embroidery. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms. She was unattended, but her little nephew, Master Louis Cook, acted as ring bearer. During the signing of the register Miss Berniece Leighton, of Orangeville, sang "Until," and Miss Leila Dyke, of Toronto, gave a reading. Miss Birdie Leighton, of Orangeville, played the wedding music. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Ferns left by motor for London and Windsor, thence to Detroit, Cleveland and other American cities. The bride travelled in a costume of African brown gabardine, with hat to match, and a taupe fox stole, the gift of the groom. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Ferns will make their home on their fine farm in East Garafraxa, near The Maples. The young couple, who are both widely known and popular, received a large number of beautiful wedding gifts. The Banner joins their numerous friends in extending its heary congratulations.

Only the wrong kind of education unfits a man for earning an honest living.

PREVENTION DAY.

Fire Waste for August Fifty Per Cent. More Than a Year Ago.

The attention of readers of The Banner is called to the Proclamation of the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario naming Wednesday, October 9th, as Fire Prevention Day and urging that this day be devoted to educational work for the purpose of emphasizing the need for every possible precaution to protect life and property against loss by fire. Citizens are also asked to employ the day in a general cleaning up of rubbish and waste in order to reduce the risk of fire and promote health. The proclamation states that in 1916 Ontario fire losses amounted to $6.00 per capita, in 1917 to $4.00 per capita and for the first six months of this year to $5.50 per capital as compared with an average loss of thirty-three cents per capita in the principal European countries. During the first six months of 1918 more than seven million dollars work of property was burned in 5,296 fires, nearly all of which are described as due to carelessness. These figures indicate the alarming extent of the losses from fire and furnish convincing proof of the need of adequate measures to reduce this serious loss. Principals and teachers in all schools and colleges are asked to co-operate in this important work by having the Proclamation read before their classes on Ocotber 9th. In a circular regarding the observance of the day the Ontario Fire Prevention League suggests that besides serving the purpose of general public education, the observance of Fire Prevention Day should be the starting point for some definite activity during the coming year—whether it be an agitation for an ordinance requiring regular fire department inspections and removal of rubbish, the building of a fire hall, better fire-fighting equipment, the improvement of the water supply, or a "personal liability" law, placing the cost of extinguishing the fire upon those through whose wilful neglect or disobedience it occurred, or for a by-law requiring the periodical cleaning of chimneys, etc.

AN ADJALA ACCIDENT.

Mondon Lee, the fourteen year old son of Mr. David Lee, an Adjala farmer, met with a serious accident on Tuesday morning of last week. The lad was in the field ploughing and when he failed to come in at noon his mother and sister went out to see what had happened. They found him lying in a pool of blood about eight feet behind the plough with his face terribly torn. He was not in a condition to tell how the accident happened, but in some way his face had come in contact with the plough point, causing the injuries already referred to. He was taken to Lord Dufferin Hospital and later to Wellesley Hospital, Toronto. We are pleased to report that he is progressing favorably.

THRIFT HALLMARKS A NATION.

Saving the almighty dollar in order to gratify one's desires in the matter of personal purchases has been a working force in society for all time. To save for the sake of hoarding the golden ducats is a form of insanity that has afflicted the misers of all time. To save in order to make another stronger is the highest form of thrift known. And in exercising this virtue of laying aside extra dollars from our present surpluses, for the better living of society when times may not be so generous, we carry in us the marks of the true Canadian patriot.

He who loves his country is no waster. He knows his savings form the capital that makes business go. The dollar soon doubles itself and total savings of a thrifty people mark out the nation as a really great one. Love of our Canadian home land demands of every resident from the Yukon to Cape Breton, that he save his surplus dollars against a possible rainy day. The thrifty man is one of Canada's big patriots.

WEAK BOYS AND GIRLS.

It is a mistake to think that anaemia is only a girl's complaint. Girls probably show the effect of weak, watery blood more plainly than boys. Delayed development, pale faces, headaches, palpitation, call attention to weak blood in the case of girls. But many boys in their teens grow thin and "weedy" and have pimples on the face, showing that they have not enough blood. The anaemic boy is just as likely to become a victim of consumption as the pale, breathless girl with her headaches and worn out look. Let the boy in this condition catch cold and he will lose his strength and his health becomes precarious.

To prevent serious disaster to those of the rising generation, let both boys and girls be given the new rich blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are famous the world over for making. When giving these pills watch how soon the appetite returns and how the languid girl or the weak boy becomes full of activity and high spirits. Remember that the boy has to develop, too, if he is to make a strong hearty man. Give both the boys and girls a fair chance to develop strongly through the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. You will then see active boys and girls, instead of weakly children around you.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be obtained by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S.

There was a good turnout of young people to the regular meeting of St. Andrew's Y. P. S. on Monday. Miss Sada McIntyre, the President, occupied the chair and the topic was taken by Miss Jennie McArthur. A paper by Miss Annie Lane on Dr. McKay's Life, and a vocal solo by Miss Ruby McGillivray were appreciated features of the program.

Gunner Howard Robinson of the 71st Battery, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Robinson. Gunner Robinson is going to Siberia with the Canadian Expeditionary Force and expects to leave for winter quarters in Victoria shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Leighton, Miss Birdie Leighton, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Leighton and Miss Berniece Leighton, Orangeville, and Mr and Mrs. M. Gray and Mrs R. Simmons, of Rochester, N. Y., who were visiting here at the time, attended the Ferns-Cook wedding near Belwood last Wednesday.

SOWING COVER CROPS? TRY RYE THIS SEASON

Rye is one of the most dependable crops for fall planting when a cover or catch crop is desired. Aside from its value as a cover crop during the winter, rye even when sown late in the fall is much hardier than wheat and may be used as a substitute for the wheat crop in sections where wheat cannot be grown easily.

No other crops tested have been as valuable for cover crops as rye, the list including rape, cowhorn turnips, timothy, red clover, sweet clover, soybeans, wheat and alfalfa. Practically all these crops were incapable either of withstanding the winter freezing or of producing enough growth to be of any benefit when utilized as green manures.

A mixture of rye and hairy vetch also has been found dependable; the hairy vetch being a legume, some nitrogen is added to the soil by its growth, thus providing a high-priced fertilizing element at a low cost. It has been found that a mixture of 60 pounds of rye and 25 pounds of hairy vetch is practicable for the combination seeding.

FAREWELL TO ST. CATHARINES CURATE

Presentation to Rev. Fred and Mrs. Eley and Welcome to Rev. A. H. Howitt.

The lecture room of St. Thomas church was crowded last night when members of the congregation and friends of the church attended to bid farewell to Rev. Fred Eley and to greet the new rector of the church, Rev. A. H. Howitt. Rev. Mr. Howitt presided as chairman of the meeting.

An address of farewell was presented to Rev. Mr. Eley, who leaves today for Orangeville, where on Sunday he will commence his duties as rector of St. Mark's Anglican church. Accompanying the address was a substantial cheque, presented on behalf of the congregation. The address was read by Mr. G. F. Ecclestone, as follows:

To Rev. Fred Eley—

Dear Mr. Eley.—It is with feelings of regret that we meet as a congregation to bid you and your esteemed wife goodbye, on the occasion of your departure for another field. During your residence here for three years as curate of St. Thomas' church you and Mrs. Eley have earned the regard of all with whom you have come in contact. Your services have been one of sincere devotion to the varied spiritual and social interests and we cannot allow you to leave us without publicly acknowledging the gratitude we hold for your faithful labors, in the Sunday School, among the young people and latterly with the withdrawal of Archdeacon Perry, taking charge of all the responsibilities of the church.

We are happy to learn that you have been selected for the rectorship at Orangeville, and trust that your ministry there will be rewarded with all success and blessing, with your talents of fervor and merit. We will always follow your future career with keenness, believing that God has endowed you for important work. As a small token of our affection, we ask you to accept this gift.

G. F. ECCLESTONE,
N. J. LOCKHART, Warden.

Many words of praise for the work of Rev. Mr. Eley were spoken and these the congregation approved by their hearty applause. Every one had a good word to speak for the departing clergyman and with it was mingled a word of greeting for Rev. Mr. Howitt. The following ministers were present and spoke in glowing terms of Rev. Mr. Eley and welcomed into their circle Rev. Mr. Howitt: Rev. Dr. Smith, Rev. Dr. Martin, Rev. Mr. Harper, Rev. Mr. West, Rev. Canon Broughall, Dean Davis of Huron County, and Rev. Dr. Ratcliffe.

Solos were rendered by Mrs. J. M. Elson and Mr. George O'Neill and a reading was given by Miss Wilbur. Mr. English, the new organist, and Dr. Vincent, of Knox church, Toronto, presided at the piano.

Following the words of farewell and welcome, refreshments were served. — St. Catharines Standard, September 24th.

A MYSTERY STREAM.

On August 23, says the Bradford Witness, while camping at Killarney Beach, Lake Simcoe, Miss Jessie Curry threw a bottle into the water in which there was a note requesting the finder of it to communicate with her and to state where it was found. On August 30—just one week later—the bottle was picked up at Sunnyside Beach, Toronto, by J. Hoxen Mann, who communicated the fact to Miss Curry. Now the mystery of how the bottle was carried from Lake Simcoe to Lake Ontario remains to be solved. It could possibly have gone via Lake Huron and Lake Erie, but hardly in a week's time. Or it could get to Lake Ontario by way of the Trent Valley Canal, but hardly in a week's time either. One thing we are sure of, and that is that it did not float through the Newmarket Canal. Could it be possible that there is an underground stream between Lake Simcoe and Lake Ontario?

DISPOSE OF OLD HENS AND BREEDING STOCK EARLY.

In an experiment carried on at the Experimental Farm in the spring of 1917 with Leghorn chickens, the sale of the cockerels paid all expenses for incubation, brooding and feed for themselves and pullets up until the first of September. When the pullets went into winter quarters on November 1st, they had cost over and above what had been paid by the sale of the cockerels just 3.2 cents each. This experiment showed not only that it paid to sell the cockerels early, but it also demonstrated that pullets could be raised much cheaper than they could be bought in the fall.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Larry Gould Now in Orangeville Gaol —Sent Up from Magistrate's Court on Three Charges.

Sometime between March 27th and April 4th of this year the C. P. R. station at Shelburne was entered and fourteen tickets and some change were taken. About April 23rd a man named Larry Gould, alias Kelly, went to the detective department, Toronto and claimed that he had just arrived from Montreal and had two grips stolen from the train. They found that he was the man they were looking for, who was charged with "breach of defence of Canada." On examining and searching him they found in his possession 13 of the tickets stolen from the Shelburne station. He was sent to the jail farm on the first charge for a term which expired last week.

On Monday of this week C. P. R. Detective H. Harper brought his man to Shelburne on the charge of breaking into the station and theft. While at Orangeville on the way up he gave Detective Harper $5 and asked him to give as favorable evidence as he could in the case. He was brought before Magistrates Falconer and Holl on arrival here and had to answer two charges — housebreaking and theft and trying to bribe an officer of the law. On hearing the evidence he was committed to jail to stand his trial.

The prisoner, Larry Gould, alias Larry Kelly, is a native of Germany and is 45 years of age. He has the following jail record:

On March 26th, 1910, he was convicted for shop breaking at Peterboro and was sentenced to one year in the Central Prison.

On June 23rd, 1911, he was charged with shop breaking and theft in Toronto and sentenced to the Central Prison for 2 years less one day.

On Oct. 24th, 1913, he was charged with burglary and theft and was sent to Kingston Penitentiary for three years.

His last conviction was on April 23rd, 1918, when he was sent to the Jail Farm for 90 days.

The prisoner was taken to Orangeville jail by County Constable Laverty on Monday evening. Prior to breaking into the Shelburne station the prisoner had been in the employ of W. A. Braiden, of Amaranth, as a farm hand.—Shelburne Free Press.

HANOVER'S STRONG MAN IN ACTION

"Bill" Berry Does a Stunt at the Cement Works That Sets People Talking.

A couple of years ago "Bill" Berry, of Hanover, gave the natives of this neck of the woods a real "thriller" when he stood on his head on the top of the ball of the stand pipe. "Bill" did this stunt on a wager "for the cigars." Well, he has been at it again, though being a versatile chap, he has changed the scenery somewhat. We now find him as the strong man of the vicinity. Down at the cement works recently he showed "the boys" what he could do. First he lifted a steel ring weighing 1121½ lbs. with his right arm and part of body stroke. But this was only a "warming-up" stunt—sort of prelude to the main performance as it were. He then placed a plank on top of the ring and got four men on top of the outfit. The net weight was 1805½ pounds. He used both arms this time and put his back into it—and lifted the whole business. No, we didn't see it done but "Bill" claims he can furnish witnesses. We would laugh at the story were it not for the high bulnpsine feat referred to above. Anyhow it would seem that "Bill" is fooling away his time around here. He should be with Ringling Bros.—Hanover Post.

LICENSES ARE NECESSARY.

The attention of the Canada Food Board has been called to the practice frequently adopted by licensed dealers in apples, turnips, potatoes and other fruits and vegetables, of having men living in different parts of the country, acting as their agents, buying or contracting such produce, superintending the loading of same on cars ready for shipment, and receiving a commission from said dealers for such work.

All such agents operating in the manner mentioned, without first having received a license from the Board, are being so contrary to the order dated 13th day of December, 1917, where in it states:

"That on and after the 1st day of February, 1918, no person shall deal wholesale in fresh fruits or fresh vegetables, without first having obtained a license from the Food Controller," and in violating such order are guilty of an offence, and subject to a penalty not to exceed $1,000, and not less than $100.

Bigger bar---bigger seller

The bigger Comfort bar means more soap for the money than ever before. Think of that—in war-time! The quality is the same—the kind that gives Comfort the largest sale in Canada.

COMFORT SOAP

Ask for the Bigger Bar—your grocer can easily supply you. No premiums with the wrappers, in war-time. If you are still getting the smaller bar, however, its wrapper is still good for premiums.

Use Comfort Soap and get a brighter, cleaner, easier wash.

INFLUENZA MAKES ITS APPEARANCE IN ONTARIO

Spanish influenza, which raged throughout large portions of Europe and made serious inroads upon the German armies in Europe, has made its appearance in Ontario. So far, most of the cases reported in the province are in the camp of the Polish Legion at Niagara.

The disease has already become epidemic in certain parts of the United States, particularly in one or two cantonments, and, in order to prevent it getting established here, Hon. W. D. McPherson, Provincial Secretary, and Col. W. J. S. McCullough, Provincial Officer of Health, had an extended conference the other day. As a result steps were taken to warn the public and to circularize all the physicians in the province regarding the matter.

According to Col. McCullough, the disease resembles ordinary influenza, the most important symptoms being sudden onset wth chills, severe headache with pain in the back and limbs and a general feeling of malaria. The fever runs from 99 to 102 and occasionally to 103 and 104. The highest point is reached on the second day, when there is a sudden drop and by the fourth day the patient is well. Many cases develop a harsh cough, with thick sputum, and some develop into pneumonia.

Col McCullough stated that the disease is spread by germs carried in the nose and throat and the infection is generally passed from one person to another by direct personal contact. Drinking utensils, the use of common towels, etc. The Provincial officer urged the people to avoid contact with persons with the disease or showing symptoms and those infected are advised to remain in bed and have a physician called.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Skeoch, of Lower Nichol, have received word that their son, Pte. Jas. E. Skeoch, was killed in action on Sept. 10th.

Malcolm J. McQueen, a recent graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, is going to Warren, West Virginia, where he has been engaged to superintend an 800-acre farm.

The following is the result of judging in the field crop competition in potatoes in connection with Erie Agricultural Society: James Milloy, 95; Richard Overland, 90¼; Dan. Gray, 90; S. W. Bingham & Sons, 89½; Mack Leitch, 87½; S. E. Griffin & Son, 86; H. L. Matheson, 85½.

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes:—"I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, 7 years, had bronchitis and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for her and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house and ready for use and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

Wm. Barbour's barn near Erin village was destroyed by fire a week ago Saturday. The blaze was caused by a spark from a threshing engine. The threshing machine and all the contents of the barn which included this season's crop and about 350 bushels of last year's grain, were destroyed, as well as a number of pigs in the stables underneath. Mr. Barbour had $2,000 insurance on the barn and contents.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie has received word that his nephew, Flight-Lieut. John Blair Guthrie, son of the late Dr. J. B. Guthrie, of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. F. C. House, Detroit, has been officially reported killed in aerial combat in Italy, on May 10, last. For many months, Lieut. Guthrie was reported missing, and it was only last week that he was officially reported dead.

The friends of Pte. Floyd Varey, a Brampton boy, are anxious as to his condition. Word was received a short time ago that he had been wounded in the elbow. He got a comrade to report to his friends, and later nurses wrote of his condition, but it is feared that something worse has arisen in his condition. Private Varey enlisted with the 164th Halton Regiment, but remained behind when the first draft went over on account of the death of his young wife. Going with the second draft, he was wounded before. His brother Clarence, the violinist, who was to have joined the colors this month, is ill in the General Hospital with typhoid fever. Both boys are sons of Geo. Varey, of Brampton.

ORANGEVILLE, OCT. 10, 1918.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

Capt. Thompson, Son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Thompson, Stratford, Was One of Originals.

Capt. H. A. Thompson, son of Mr. F. H. Thompson, K. C., and Mrs. Thompson, died of wounds sustained in France, on September 27.

Official word to this effect came to his parents this morning and will be learned wth deep regret by friends in the city and particularly in Mitchell, his former home.

Capt. Thompson has had a brilliant record of war service and one upon which his parents have reason to look with the greatest of pride. Enlisting almost immediately war was declared, he had been on service ever since. Born in Mitchell 26 years ago he received his early education there, graduating from the High School. He then went to Kingston to the Royal Military College, from which he graduated in 1912. For two years he was employed in the Dominion Works Department in British Columbia, but on the declaration of war immediately returned to the east and August 12 found him under canvas with Canada's first contingent. He enlisted with the Royal Montreal Regiment and after training at Valcartier went to England with his unit as adjutant. In February of 1915 he went to France and took part in the early encounters of the Canadians with the foe. He was wounded slightly at Langemarck, but returned to duty almost at once. After a time in France he was made grenade officer of the 14th Battalion, 3rd Brigade. After serving for eleven months continuously in France, Capt. Thompson returned to England as instructor in gases and high explosives. Subsequently he took a staff officer course at Cambridge and was appointed staff captain with a forestry corps. However, the call of the trenches was insistent and he resigned this post and went back to his original unit, with which he was serving when he fell.

Capt. Thompson was a splendid young soldier. He was a thorough leader and was loved and respected by his men. For his gallantry in action he was mentioned by Sir Max Aiken, now Lord Beaverbrook, in his book, "Canada in Flanders." The message today announcing his death was the first that Mr. and Mrs. Thompson received, no intimation previously having come of his being wounded. Only a day or two ago a letter received from him reported his condition fine. He remarked that they had the Hun on the run.

Besides his parents, one brother and one sister survive, namely, Edwin and Vivian.—Stratford Beacon.

Before marriage, Mrs. Thompson, the young officer's mother, was Miss "Brownie" Stewart, of Orangeville.

D. J. HUBBARD WOUNDED.

Pte. Duncan James Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Hubbard, 15 Hallam avenue, Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, was admitted to No. 4 General Hospital, Camiers, on Sept. 28, with a gunshot wound in the face. Just two years ago his brother, Pte. Judson J. Hubbard, was killed in action. Pte. Duncan Hubbard went overseas with the Sportsmen's Battalion, and has been two years in France. Prior to enlisting he was employed as a moulder at Gurney's Foundry. Pte. Hubbard has been attached to the Toronto 3rd Battalion, and in a recent letter to his parents he says: "I saw lots of dead Huns, who were hardly cold at the time. The Hun is all right behind a cover, but when he sees cold steel he backs up or is willing to be taken prisoner." Another brother, Pte. W. T. Hubbard, is in France with the Canadian Engineers.

STRONG PEOPLE NEEDED.

The real people to be healthy is urgent. To those whom illness has put outside the ranks of robust men and women feel their position keenly. They are handicapped in every walk of life and weak men and nerve-worn women need more earnestly than ever to put their health right and become active and strong. Many who began "patching" months ago are as ill now as on the day they began vainly tinkering with common drugs. Every ailing man and woman should remember that the ills of debility, nerve exhaustion, indigestion, sleeplessness, neuralgia and depression come from a faulty blood supply. Worry, over-work or other causes have impoverished the blood and left the life-stream impure. The nerves thereby are starving and the whole system is languishing for new blood. In this condition many thousands have won back strong nerves and new health and strength through the new rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually makes. In a weak or bloodless condition it is not only a waste of time and money, but also a further menace to your health to tinker with common drugs. Follow the example of so many thousands by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and they will transform you into healthy, active, men and women.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE VICTORY LOAN.

Organization Now Complete in Dufferin County; $900,000 Objective for the Coming Campaign.

Mr. H. H. Goss, of the Canada Bond Corporation of Toronto, has been in Orangeville for the past two weeks completing an organization for the handling of the Victory Loan of 1918 in the County of Dufferin. At the present time all over the Dominion of Canada this work is under way. The actual offering of the bonds will be made on the 28th of October. Subscriptions will be received from this date until the 16th of November inclusive. The rate of interest will be 5½ per cent. and the bonds will be in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, payable at the end of five years and fifteen years. The same plan will be followed as last year, giving those who have not the ready money on hand the opportunity of paying for their purchases over a period of six months. One of the best features of the offering this year is that the actual bonds themselves will be ready and delivery can be made in the course of two or three days.

The County of Dufferin last year secured $800,700, but this year the amount which is expected of the county is $900,000. The following table sets out the amount secured from each town and township and also the amount which is expected of it this year:

	Secured	Expected
Orangeville	$192,300	$120,000
Mono Tp.	143,800	140,000
Mulmur Tp.	102,000	180,000
Melancthon	56,000	140,000
Shelburne	93,600	60,000
Amaranth Tp.	61,900	130,000
Grand Valley	68,500	30,000
East Luther	27,600	65,000
East Garafraxa	55,000	85,000
	$800,700	$900,000

It will be seen from the above that certain of the townships did not do as well as was expected of them, but this year it is felt that these municipalities will not only reach the mark set for them but will go considerably beyond.

PTE. M'GOWAN WOUNDED.

Mrs. A. S. McGowan, Zina street, received a message on Monday informing her that her husband, Pte. Alden S. McGowan, had been wounded in the right arm and left leg on Oct. 1st. McGowan enlisted in the 164th and went overseas with that battalion. He held the rank of sergeant in England, but reverted in order to get to the front. He is a son-in-law of Mr. Thos. S. Hewson, Zina street.

CORP. F. WADE WOUNDED.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ewing, First street, have received an official message from Ottawa informing them that Corp. Fred Wade, who lived with them for a number of years, had been admitted to the First Australian hospital at Rouen, France, on Sept. 28th, suffering from gunshot wound in the left arm. Corp. Wade enlisted in the 9th Mississauga Horse in May, 1915, and subsequently spent six months guarding prisoners at Kapuskasing internment camp in Northern Ontario. He afterwards transferred to the 124th Batt., and went overseas in July, 1916, going to France in December of the same year. He has been at the front continuously since he went to France and was through a number of big battles. He was awarded the military medal for conspicuous bravery at Passchendaele.

KILLED THREE HUNS.

Late Lieut. James H. Carson Awarded Military Cross for Gallantry on the Field.

Friends of the late Lieut. Jas. H. Carson will be more than pleased to learn that his name appeared among the Canadian officers who have been awarded the Military Cross for gallantry. The awards were made on Oct. 1st. The deed which won Lieut. Carson his decoration is thus described in the cable message from London:

"Lieut. James Henry Carson, Medicine Hat, killed three, captured six, with a machine gun, being himself severely wounded."

As a result of his wounds the gallant young officer was admitted to No. 42 Casualty Clearing Station on June 25th. He died from the effects of his wounds on July 1st. Lieut. Carson was a brother of Dr. T. A. Carson of this town, who has also seen service at the front and who is now on duty as medical officer at Niagara camp. Another brother, Dr. G. M. Carson, is still in France.

ALLISTON BOY KILLED.

Pte. Norman Samuel Henry, who went overseas from Toronto with the 255th Battalion, is reported killed in action on Sept. 2. He is the youngest son of the late Samuel Henry, of Thompsonville, Ont. He was born in Alliston, Ont., 30 years ago, and before enlisting was engaged as a farmer.

MILITARY NOTES.

Lance-Corp. Dave McCauley, son of Mrs. Jas. McCauley, Melancthon, was wounded in the right hand by a piece of flying shell on Sept. 2, and is now receiving treatment in Suffolk General Hospital, Suffolk, Eng.

Pte. John Lindsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Lindsay, Shelburne, has been ill with diphtheria in an English hospital.

Corporal Edward Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mungo Young, of Shelburne, formerly of Campania, is accompanying the horse transport of the Canadian expedition to Siberia.

Glen Thornley, son of Rev. A. E. Thornley, of Shelburne, will accompany the Canadian Expedition to Siberia as a member of the Special Dental Corps.

PTE. CONNELL'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Pte. Wesley J. Connell, brother of Mr. Alex. Connell, First avenue, whose death was noted in last week's Banner, was held in Moose Jaw on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 26th. Rev. H. R. Reid of the Minto avenue Presbyterian church officiated. The Great War Veterans turned out in considerable strength and with the band in attendance the graveside ceremony while very simple was impressive. After the "Last Post" had been sounded the veterans marched past in single file and silently paid a final tribute to their late comrade by saluting. Pte. Connell enlisted with the 10th Battalion in Calgary and went overseas with the first contingent. He had served in France almost three years, when he was wounded and gassed and also suffered severe injuries through being buried by a shell explosion. As a result he was invalided home as unfit for further service and had been a patient in the Regina hospital for a considerable time. His death was caused by tuberculosis resulting from the effects of gas poisoning.

A STRIKING DEED.

A recent issue of the Winnipeg Telegram contained the following paragraph, as part of its report of the presentation of a number of military medals to the wives and mothers of the soldiers whose gallantry had won them: "The deed for which Pte. F. S. Woolner won his medal is one of the most striking of the stories of self-sacrifice, which are so common in France, but of which so little is heard in Canada. Officially it is described as follows: 'Pte. Woolner was coming out with a load of four stretcher cases and two sitters in his ambulance. The road was being heavily shelled at the time, when a large shell exploded so close to the car, that it dazed the driver and before the car should be stopped it plunged into the smoke and the shell hole breaking the front axle. Pte. Woolner, assisted by an orderly, removed the stretcher cases from the car and taking advantage of shell holes gradually removed the patients to a place of safety from where they were later on sent. Pte. Woolner returned to his car and finally succeeded in getting back to ambulance headquarters. His military medal was presented to his mother, Mrs. Woolner, 664 Sherbrooke St." The young hero is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Woolner and a grandson of the late Samuel Woolner, of East Garafraxa.

SAILORS' WEEK.

ORANGEVILLE BRANCH OF THE NAVY LEAGUE RAISED $1,764.53.

$1,200 Objective Exceeded by Nearly Fifty Per Cent.; List of the Contributors.

The campaign conducted by the local branch of the Navy League, for the relief of sailors and their dependents, during Sailors' Week and on Fair Day, was well received by the public. Refusals to give were rare, a commendable spirit was evinced by the people, and the results have exceeded expectations. The objective for Orangeville was $1,200, estimated on the basis of 50 cents per head of the population. This has been exceeded by nearly 50 per cent. A total of 500 subscriptions was obtained, amounting to $1,428.30 and Tag Day swelled the receipts by $336.23, making total contributions of $1,764.53.

The Executive of the Navy League desire to thank the people of Orangeville and the surrounding district for the cordial reception and generous response so generally accorded the appeal, and to express their grateful appreciation of the services rendered by the Team Captains, Committees and workers who made this gratifying result possible. Particularly do they desire to thank the ladies who conducted the Tag Day with such marked success.

A BROADWAY FIRE.

The fire brigade was called out between 5 and 6 o'clock last Thursday afternoon to fight a fire in a dwelling house occupied by Harry Burridge, a returned soldier, near the foot of the East Broadway hill. The firemen succeeded in saving the frame of the building, but the interior was badly damaged by fire, smoke and water. Most of the contents were carried out, but these were also messed badly by smoke and water. The total damage is estimated at $200 or $300. There was some insurance on the house, which is owned by Burridge's father-in-law, John Huskinson, of Mono. Burridge, who is a returned soldier, has a wife and a young family. Much sympathy is felt for the family, which has very little means outside of their household belongings, which were not insured. Their case would seem to call for the sympathetic consideration of some of the local patriotic societies which might do something to set them on their feet again. For the present the family are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Huskisson.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH.

The Wellington Deanery will meet in St. Mark's on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 16th and 17th. There will be three meetings each day. On the evening of the 16th the induction of the new rector, Rev. Mr. Eley, takes place. The sermon will be preached by Ven. Archdeacon Perry. There will be delegates to the Clerical Deanery, the W. A. Deanery and the S. S. Convention. Altogether 50 or 60 delegates are expected and the members of St. Mark's are expected to extend hospitality to the visitors. For further particulars as to billetting, etc., members are invited to communicate with Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Secretary of the W. A., Zina street.

Last Monday evening the basement of St. Mark's was the scene of a delightful reception given in honor of Rev. F. Eley and Mrs. Eley. The room was gaily decorated with bunting, autumn leaves and flowers. The people of congregation were first presented to the new rector and his wife. The chairman, Mr. E. Hackett, then called the meeting to order, and after a few timely remarks called Mr. and Mrs. Eley to the platform. Upon coming forward Mrs. Eley was presented with a beautiful bouquet by little Frances Hopkins. Mr. Eley made a graceful speech in a happy vein, in the course of which he expressed the hope that the relations between pastor and people would be of the most pleasant character, and concluded by asking the congregation to remember Mrs. Eley and himself in their prayers. An item of the program that was much enjoyed by all was the reading of a number of letters received from the boys at the front thanking the congregation for boxes that were sent to them last Easter. A committee was formed to prepare boxes to be sent this Christmas. Among those present at the reception was Rev. Mr. Dodds, pastor of the Baptist church, who extended fraternal greetings to the new pastor and his wife in a few well-chosen words. The program was rich in vocal solos and instrumental numbers on piano and cornet by members of the choir and congregation.

IONIC MALE QUARTETTE.

The widely known Ionic Male Quartette will give a high class concert in the Orangeville Opera House on Wednesday evening, Oct. 16th. James Esplin, who takes rank with Canada's foremost comedians, will contribute several numbers. Altogether the program promises to be the best heard in Orangeville for a considerable time. The admission has been fixed at the modest sum of 35c, and a portion of the proceeds will be donated for patriotic purposes. Plan of hall will open at The Banner Office, Saturday, Oct. 12th at 2 p.m. Any persons intending to take in the concert should reserve their seats in good time.

—R. G. McKim has sold his 100-acre farm, lot 20, 2nd line, east, Caledon, to Jas. R. Clarke for $5,600. The sale was made by Auctioneer J. B. Irwin.

"FLU" IN AMARANTH.

Dr. Campbell, of Grand Valley, has visited thirty cases of Spanish influenza in Amaranth in the last three days. So serious is the outbreak that the doctor has requested a special meeting of Amaranth Board of Health, which will be held in the Town Hall, Laurel, at 8 o'clock Friday night. Heads of households and school teachers are particularly requested to attend this meeting.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

Dufferin Teachers' Institute will hold its 38th annual meeting in the Public Library in Orangeville on Thursday and Friday of this week. The convention will open at 9 a.m., Thursday, the morning session lasting until 12 o'clock. The afternoon meeting will begin at 1.30 and end at 5 o'clock. Friday's meetings will be from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1.30 to 4 p.m. respectively. At the morning session Miss Auta Powell, of Toronto Normal School, will speak on "Object Drawing Through the Grades." Mr. H. A Dorrance will discuss Rural School Fairs and Inspector Liddy will discuss School Regulations. In the afternoon Orangeville Public School pupils will give an exhibition of Strathcona Physical Exercises. Miss Hazel Black will speak on "Manners and Morals in Public Schools," Mrs Edward Richardson on "Household Science in Schools," and Miss Powell on "Color and Design." A public meeting will be held in the Opera House at 8 o'clock on Thursday night, during which Dr. J. W. McCullough, Provincial Medical Health Officer, will give an illustrated lecture. A good musical program has also been arranged by the Orangeville teachers. The public is cordially invited to this meeting and it is felt that Dr. McCullough's address will amply repay all who can attend.

—James Brown, Sr., for many years Clerk of Melancthon township, and formerly manager of the Dufferin Fire Insurance Co., died on Wednesday morning of last week in his 81st year.

HEAD SALESMAN SPENT HUNDREDS

Burton Spent Twenty Years Before Finding the Right Medicine.

In speaking of the marvelous way in which Tanlac has relieved him of a long-standing case of rheumatism, B. E. Burton, head salesman in the wholesale fruit and vegetable department at Lutey Bros., Butte, Mont., living at 662 South Montana street, recently said:

"It is simply astonishing that just a few bottles of Tanlac should fix me up in almost no time, after I had spent almost every dollar I earned in the last twenty years trying to get relief from that awful rheumatism."

Before coming to Butte, Mr. Burton lived for ten years in Spokane, Wash., where he was salesman for the Imperial Trading Company of that city.

"I tell you what," he continued, "I have gone through all stages of rheumatism, and the agonies I have had to endure simply cannot be described. The trouble first came on me about twenty years ago. My shoulders, knees and ankles gave me the most worry and ached so at times that I hardly had any use for myself. About three years ago it got so bad that I was laid up in bed for six long months, and when I got up again I had to go about on crutches for three months, and till recently I never did get it out of my system, although I have spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get straightened out. I went to Hot Springs, Arkansas, but without result and then I tried the mud baths nearer home, but got no benefit from that treatment either. A little while ago I felt it coming on pretty bad again. My appetite left me, nothing tasted right, I was constipated and suffered from awful headaches every few days. I could hardly sleep and I would wake up six or seven times during the night racked with pain. Why, at the time I started taking Tanlac I could not raise my arms as high as my shoulders to save my life and was unable to put on my coat without somebody helping me, and my knees were so stiff and hurt so bad I could hardly walk.

"After reading so much about Tanlac I decided to try it and I had not finished my first bottle before the stiffness began to leave my joints, and now I never suffer a bit of pain or inconvenience. My second bottle gave me a whacking big appetite, that constipation is relieved and I never have a headache. I sleep like a log all night, and am lucky if I wake up in time for breakfast before going to work. I certainly am glad to endorse Tanlac and only hope my experience with this wonderful medicine will help someone else who may be going through what I did."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

GOOD TIME FOR POTATO DIGGING

Owing to the Teachers' Convention all Public schools in Dufferin county will be closed on Thursday and Friday. This would seem an opportune time for farmers to get busy at their potato digging. The boys and girls will be able to help pick the murphies on Thursday, Friday and Saturday without interfering with their attendance at school.

COME TO OUR FALL OPENING

Autumn will soon be here and you will NEED new stylish clothes to wear. Come to us for them, we are the "Style Centre" of this community. Come to us for them and the PRICE will be low.

We have built up our business by always telling the TRUTH to our customers. The confidence this community has in our store is constantly building our business bigger.

High prices did not scare us. It's not a question now of price; the main thing is to get the goods. We think we have the biggest and best assortment of Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing, both in Suits and Overcoats, we ever had, and at prices we know cannot be duplicated.

In Fur Coats we have our usual big stock bought from $7.00 to $10.00 less than the price is now.

In Underwear and Men's Flannel Shirts we have a big choice at the right price. We have some specially good bargains in Men's Suits and Raincoats at clearing prices. Before buying be sure and see our clothing.

"When Dreams Come True"

"When dreams come true," we always say, we'll have this luxury and that comfort, and be able to enjoy the concerts and operas and music of the greatest artists. The

Style A
Mahogany or Walnut

BRANT-OLA

brings the music of all the best artists into your own home. Plays all records, no matter what make. Has the Universal Tone Arm, which can be adjusted to play any disc record, and play it perfectly.

Another feature is the beauty of the cabinet. Each instrument is made under the direction of master workmen. The Brant-ola is easily distinguished by the excellence of its construction and the fineness of its finish.

Add to these two features the third of economy in buying and the Brant-ola has made possible the realization of your dreams.

The Brant-ola is made in seven different styles. Finished in Walnut, Fumed Oak and Mahogany. Ask your dealer to demonstrate this beautiful instrument to you.

TO every home there comes a time when every thought, every hope, every prayer for the future centres on the recovery of one loved one. In that hour of anguish, every means to recovery is sought—the highest medical skill, trained nurses, costly treatment. Does the price matter?

It may be so great as to stagger the imagination—a sum beyond the possible.

But does anyone ask, "Can we do it?" Money or no money, they do it. And somehow they pay.

It may mean doing without things they think they need. It may mean privations, sacrifices, hardships. They make unbelievable savings, they achieve the impossible, but they get the money to pay.

+ + +

To-day in this critical period of our nationhood, there is imperative need for MONEY—vast sums of money. Only one way now remains to obtain it.

The nation must save, every community, every family, every individual Canadian must save.

If anyone says "I cannot save" let him consider to what extent he would pinch himself to relieve the sufferings of a loved one at home; and surely he would not pinch less for our fighting brothers in France.

Without suffering actual privations, nearly every family in Canada can reduce its standard of living, can practice reasonable thrift, can make cheerful sacrifice to enrich the life-blood of the nation.

You who read this, get out pencil and paper NOW. Set down the items of your living expense. Surely you will find some items there you can do without.

Determine to do without them.

Start TO-DAY. Save your money so that you may be in a position to lend it to your country in its time of need.

FUMIGATE STORED GRAIN TO DESTROY ALL WEEVIL

Because a large amount of the 1918 harvest grain must be stored temporarily on farms before it can be handled by the elevators and freight cars, methods of fumigation for weevils which often cause a loss from 2 to 20 per cent. in stored grain, are being sent out by the entomologists at the Ohio Experiment Station.

Experiments show that from 5 to 8 pounds of carbon bisulphide, when saturated into burlap sacks and these thrust into bins, will destroy all the weevil in 1,000 cubic feet of space or in a bin 12 by 12 by 7 feet. To render the liquid most effective as it slowly evaporates, the bins should be made as tight as possible by using heavy paper over the cracks.

Carbon bisulphide gas is heavier than air and hence settles down through the grain when applied, but since it diffuses much more effectively at about 70 degrees, station officials find that it works best on warm days.

All bins should be kept tight for 36 hours following the application but not longer than 40 hours if the grains are to be used for seed. Fumigation for longer periods may injure the germination but not the edibility of the grains. The gas is explosive and should not be used in connection with lights or fires.

IRONY.

A stingy old lady presented the cabman with his exact legal fare and a bun, remarking that the latter was for himself. "Oh, thank ye, mum," said the cabby sarcastically. "But ain't yet got a bit o' hay for the poor old 'oss?"

KITCHENER MEMORIAL.

A big house on a hill, a fine garden of an acre with trees and a drill ground in London's healthiest suburb, Hornsey, fine airy rooms for study and home life—these make the Kitchener Home which was opened recently with fitting ceremonies and great rejoicing on the part of those who have carried the idea to completion. The Home is a memorial to Lord Kitchener and planned in a modest way along lines in which he was always intensely interested, the care of British boys whose fathers have fallen in battle. The Bishop of London dedicated the home, and H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught made a charming address, in which he referred to his friendship with Lord Kitchener, whom he knew in the days of the "Shop." Lord Kitchener's only sister, Mrs. Parker, was an interested guest. There is already installed a happy family of forty-six boys, twenty of whom acted as a guard of honor when their home was dedicated. There are still dormitories to be fitted up and various ways of helping with this good work. No doubt the same idea will eventually take root in Canada, and it is interesting to note the amounts listed: A whole dormitory can be named and furnished for from $250 to $500, according to size; a bed can be named and maintained for three years for $90; one boy can be maintained for one year for $50 in addition to the government grant, and $25 provides clothing for one boy for one year.

Rockland Ont., will celebrate the 70th anniversary of the erection of the W. C. Edward Company's mill.

It was agreed that Wall street Methodist, George street Methodist, First Presbyterian and St. John's Presbyterian congregations at Brockville shall meet in Wall St. church. The Baptists will worship in their own schoolroom, burning wood.

Albert College at Belleville narrowly escaped destruction by fire last week when a blaze was discovered in an unused room on the top flat.

Messrs. David and E. W. Brocklebank, of Arthur, have purchased 150 acres in West Luther from the estate of the late Phillip McGivney. The greater part of the land is heavily timbered with cedar and tamarack. The purchasers are putting in a portable sawmill and will clear up the place as speedily as possible.

Perfectly Clean!

That's the feeling you have about everything washed with Lifebuoy, especially stockings, underwear, nightgowns, sheets, blankets, and everything that touches the skin. The rich velvety lather of Lifebuoy has wonderful cleansing power, but more important, the antiseptic qualities in prevents germs, disease-microbes, (and they are present everywhere), and perfect cleanliness results.

The carbolic odour in Lifebuoy is a sign of its protective qualities—vanishing quickly after use.

AVOIDING WINTER KILLING OF FALL WHEAT.

Recent investigations show that extremely low temperature suffered by wheat which has not made a firm root growth is deadly to the crop.

If manure or fertilizer is spread uniformly over the soil and worked into it, the added plantfood induces the roots to spread and grow deep into the soil. Feeding the young crop enables it to reach out into a wider area from whence the crop can draw its food. Thus it is that fertilizers by increasing root growth have actually saved many a wheat crop.

Recently we have had opportunity to examine fall wheat in several of the warmer sections of Ontario. There are in Ontario considerable areas of wheat that have weathered the bad winter conditions and bid fair to make record yields. Where fertilizers have not been used, the grain is thin and poor. The plants do not stool out as they should. One important wheat grower reported that in early spring his wheat crop did not appear to have a live spear in it. However, the addition of 200 lbs. of fertilizer analyzing 1½ per cent. nitrogen and 12 per cent. phosphoric acid or bone meal strengthened the root growth so that the crop was able to store up sufficient vigor to stand 18 to 20 inches high, thick and vigorous, when unfertilized wheat appeared thin and in many cases promised less than 10 bushels of grain per acre.

It Saves Doctors' Bills!

This is the Rev. A. D. McLeod's opinion of Zam-Buk. This clergyman, who lives at Harcourt, N.B., writing to the proprietors, remarks upon the unusual popularity which Zam-Buk enjoys in the homes of the people of his parish. He says: "I know of nothing that can compare with it. Having charge of an extensive mission, over which I travel constantly, I meet with many sick and afflicted people, and I have been amazed at the good which Zam-Buk is doing daily. I have learned, as an absolute fact, that for bad ulcers, old wounds, eczema and skin diseases of all kinds the healing powers of Zam-Buk are simply marvellous. For the painful ailment, piles, also, it is excellent. Many a doctor's bill is saved by the use of Zam-Buk."

For cuts, burns and scalds Zam-Buk is equally good. Nothing ends pain and heals so quickly. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send 1c. stamp for free trial box.

DANGER LURKS IN EVERY ONE OF US

We Are As Full of Deadly Poisons As A Germ Laboratory.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain In The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rashes, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-tives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will protect you against Auto-intoxication because this wonderful fruit medicine acts directly on all the eliminating organs.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE CASE FOR THRIFT.

The case for thrift in Canada at the present time may be briefly summed up. The country has been in a state of unexampled prosperity for the past two or three years, owing, it is quite clear, to unusual war conditions. Wages have been high, profits are large and there is a total absence of unemployment. Very many workers are earning more than ever before and thousands are wage-earners for the first time. With all this prosperity and the fact that they are not accustomed to judicious disposal of their money, many spend their entire surplus seemingly on the assumption that this prosperity will go on forever.

The appeal now is to the people of Canada to immediately undertake a vigorous campaign of personal thrift, to abstain from the purchase of all luxuries and non-essentials, and to endeavor to accumulate as great a saving as possible. Naturally many people will say they are now living as economically as they can and that their standard of living has actually been lowered owing to the high prices of articles of food and clothing. This may be true, but it does not alter the fact that there is still much extravagance and that is exists to a dangerous degree when we remember the temporary character of the prosperity and the perils of the period of readjustment that will follow peace.

The practice of thrift by the Canadian people now will bring a large accumulation of national savings to secure us individually and collectively against any trying change that might occur in the economic situation. It would make possible the continuance of Canada's splendid part in the war and the maintenance of our war financing on its present sound basis. The elimination of luxuries and non-essentials would, as a matter of fact, release labor and material for war purposes instead of using these great and scarce necessities for things that we could do without.

The examples of other countries should inspire Canadians to much greater effort in thrift. France has been able to face her four years of terrible trial by reason of her background of personal thrift. Great Britain is practicing it as perhaps never before. The United States is fast piling up vast sums of money for the use of her own and the other armies of the Allies. Canada has done much to finance her own part in the war but no one can say that the limit of saving has been reached or even approached.

PTE. PAT TANSLEY HAD A CLOSE CALL

Was in Fighting During the Whole of August; Gained Objective When He Was Put Out of Action.

The following letter is from Pte. Marlborough (Pat.) Tansley, son of Mr. Ben. Tansley, of West Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, and brother of Mrs. S. Lackey, of this town, and was written from Bath War Hospital, England, on Sept. 5th. Pat was through the battle of Amiens and also in the last battle of Arras when the Canadians broke through the Hindenburg line. He was blown up by a shell and thrown twenty or thirty feet and gassed at the same time. His experiences during the recent fighting were many and he tells of them without restraint. He was able to be up when he wrote and hoped soon to be out of the hospital. The letter is in part as follows:

I don't expect to be here long but they will send my mail on to me. Now to begin with, I had a very pleasant surprise today. A lady representing the Red Cross called on me today and gave me a new kit, that is, safety razor, shaving and toilet soap, tooth brush and cream, writing paper, envelopes, a wash cloth, handkerchief, lead pencil, package of cigarettes, hair brush and comb and a nice bag to carry them in. I was very thankful to get them because I didn't have a thing only my toilet soap. I think that box I had for my soap is the only thing I have now that I had when I left home so long ago.

I will try and give you some idea of what happened since August 8th. We went over the top at 4.20 that morning and had great success. Before we quit we advanced about eight or nine miles. In the first hop over we lost about 200 men, not many killed. We had Fritz going so that when the 7th Brigade came up to go through us and give us a little rest, they went through with rifles slung over their shoulders. All went well. It was simply a game of chance until Friday the 16th. Fritz had held up the men who relieved us, so we had to go on again. We got our objective but had a hard time holding it because our artillery was not in a position to help us. We were relieved Saturday morning about 3 a.m. This was all south of Amiens in the vicinity of Roye. We stayed in a bush Saturday night, and Sunday and Sunday night we pulled out for Arras, taking motor busses for about 50 kilometers (a kilometer is about 5-8 of a mile, a meter is 39 inches and 1000 meters is a kilometer). Then we had almost a week of marching nights and sleeping in the woods in the day, until we got close to Arras. Then they rushed us through and it was simply hell until I got knocked out on Wednesday about noon. That was August 28th. I think we went over the top on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; were relieved Wednesday morning and got about a mile out when he had to go back and help the 4th C. M. R., and believe me we got hell. It was awful, the boys were dropping like pins in a bowling alley, but we kept going. Just when we had our objective he dropped a shell on my mate. Poor fellow never knew what hit him. It lifted me as far as from our front door to the back one and dropped me in a shell hole. By the time I got myself pulled together I had quite a dose of gas. The shell he dropped on my mate was also a gas shell, in fact nearly all he was throwing just then were gas shells. My, it is awful stuff. I can taste it yet. It made me vomit and I guess that was the best thing that could have happened to me. I got my gas mask on and lay quiet for a while, then crawled a mile or two on my hands and knees, from shell hole to shell hole until it was safe to take the Arras-Cambrai road. In fact he shelled us with his heavies after we were in the Red Cross trucks going to the advance dressing station. I was taken to Arras No. 8 Field Ambulance, then to Aubigny, No. 42 Casualty Clearing Station, then to St. Pol No. 12 Stationary Hospital, then to Camiers No. 22 General "Scottish tent," stayed there from Thursday night until Monday morning and from there I was a stretcher case for what reason I don't know. Monday morning I was taken in ambulance to Etaples, then by train via Boulogne to Calais; by boat to Dover and by train to Bath, via London. They allowed me to sit up yesterday afternoon and I have been up and about all day today and am feeling fine. My side, ear and legs, bother me some but the effects of the gas are almost gone, at times my head is a little dizzy and my chest a little sore but I can't expect to be tip top in no time. I am thankful to be here and I have thanked God a good many times for bringing me through the last 25 days. No earthly power could do it. I feel sure that it was His special care over me that brought me through.

KEEPING UP PAYMENTS.

Mrs. Gaiby—Does your husband ever get behind in his alimony?"

Mrs. Golitely—No, indeed! I've threatened to go back to him instantly if he did.

SHOCKING.

An elderly lady of very prim and severe aspect was seated next a young couple, who were discussing the merits of their motor cars.

"What color is your body?" asked the young man of the girl at his side, meaning, of course, the body of her motor.

"Oh, mine is pink. What is yours?"

"Mine" replied the man, "is brown with wide yellow stripes."

This was too much for the old lady. Rising from the table, she exclaimed:

"When young people come to asking each other the color of their bodies at a dinner party it is time I left the room."

PROPHECY OF MAYENCE.

FAMOUS PREDICTION OF 1854 CAME TRUE IN 1914.

Of Eighteen Verses, Nine Were Brought to Pass by the Wars of 1866 and 1870 and by the French Commune of 1871—The Remaining Nine Foreshadow Events Which Now Seem Certain.

There is in Germany a famous prophecy. It is called "The Prophecy of Mayence," and dates from 1854. It comprises eighteen verses of prediction, of which the first nine have been fulfilled in the most remarkable manner. Here are the verses:

1. When the little people of the Order shall feel themselves strong enough to shake off the yoke of their protector and when the barley is sprouting from the ears their King William shall march against Austria.

2. They will have victory upon victory up to the gates of Vienna, but a word from the Great Emperor of the West shall make the heroes tremble on the field of victory, and the barley shall not be gathered in until he has signed the peace, shaken off the yoke and returned triumphantly to his country.

3. But at the gathering in of the fourth barley and that of the oats a dreadful sound of war shall call the harvesters to arms. A formidable army, followed by an extraordinary number of engines of war that hell alone could have invented, shall start towards the West.

4. Woe to thee, great nation, woe to you who have abandoned the rights divine and human.

The God of battles has forsaken you; who will succour you?

5. Napoleon III., mocking his adversary at first, shall soon turn back towards the 'Chene-Populeux' where he shall dirappear never to reappear.

6. In spite of the heroic resistance of France, a multitude of soldiers, blue, yellow, yellow and black, shall scatter themselves over a great part of France.

7. Alsace and Lorraine shall be carried away from France for a period of half a period.

8. The French shall only take courage again as against each other.

9. Woe to thee, great city, woe to thee, city of vice! Fire and sword shall succeed fire and famine.

10. Courage, faithful souls, the reign of the dark shadow shall not have time to execute all its schemes.

11. But the time of mercy approaches. A prince of the nation is in your midst.

12. It is the man of salvation, the wise, the invincible, he shall count his enterprises by his victories.

13. He shall drive out the enemy of France, he shall march to victory on victory until the day of divine justice.

14. That day, he shall command seven kinds of soldiers, against three to the quarter of Bouleaux between Ham, Woerl and Paderborn.

15. Woe to thee, people of the North, thy seventh generation shall answer for all thy crimes. Woe to thee, people of the East, thou shalt spread afar the cries of affliction and innocent blood. Never shall such an army be seen.

16. Three days the sun shall rise upwards on the heads of the combatants without being seen through the clouds of smoke.

17. Then the commander shall get the victory; two of his enemies shall be annihilated, the remainder of the three shall fly towards the extreme East.

18. William, the second of the name, shall be the last King of Prussia. He shall have no other successor save a King of Poland, a King of Hanover, and a King of Saxony.

All the first part of this prophecy up to the ninth verse, inclusive, is verified by the war of 1866, then by that of 1870, and then by the Commune of 1871. Here are the last nine verses, paraphrased and with the interpretations of the symbolic terms:

10. Courage, French patriots, Germany cannot carry out its schemes of supremacy.

11. The time of retaliation approaches. shall come in the midst of you to seal the alliance.

12. That is the man of salvation.

13. He shall chase the enemy of France, he shall conquer Germany until it is completely destroyed.

14. The last battle on the field of Bouleaux, near to Paderborn, in Westphalia, shall reunite seven allied peoples (French, Belgians, English, Russians, Japanese, Serbians and Americans), against three (Germans, Austro-Hungarians, Turks).

15. Woe to thee, Prussia, thy seventh generation shall answer for the wars thou hast made upon all the people. (Seven generations make 30 years plus 7—210 years. The realm of Prussia dates from 1713. The seventh generation is then, living between 1893 and 1923.) Woe to thee, Austria! Never such a battle shall have taken place.

Too Nervous To Sleep

Nerves Wrecked by Accident — Was Afraid to Go in a Crowd or to Stay Alone—Tells Of His Cure.

Much sympathy was felt in this city for Mr. Dorsey, who met with a distressing accident when his foot was smashed in an elevator.

The shock to the nervous system was so great that Mr. Dorsey was in a pitiable condition for a long time. He was like a child in that he required his mother's care nearly all the time. He feared a crowd, could not stay alone and could not sleep because of the weakened and excited condition of his nerves.

Detroit doctors did what they could for him, but he could not get back his strength and vigor until he fortunately heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is no mere accident that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food proves to be exactly what is needed in so many cases of exhausted nerves. It is composed of the ingredients which nature requires to form new blood and create new nerve force. For this reason it cannot fail and for this reason it succeeds when ordinary medicines fail.

Mr. Laurence E. Dorsey, 39 Stanley street, London, Ont., writes: "About three years ago I got my foot smashed in an elevator in Detroit, which completely wrecked my nerves. I doctored with the doctors there, but they did not seem to be able to help me. My nerves were in such a state that I could not go down town alone or go any place where there was a crowd. Sometimes my mother would have to sit and watch over me at night, and sometimes I could not get any sleep at all. But one day last winter I commenced using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and before I had completely used the first box I could see a difference in my condition. I continued using these pills for some time. The result was splendid. I feel so much better, can sleep well at night, can go out on the street and attend gatherings like the rest of people. I am so pleased to be able to tell you what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for me, and to recommend it to other people."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.

LIME AND FERTILIZERS.

Question—Will the continued using of fertilizers make the soil sour?

Answer—The continued use of fertilizers means the continued increase in crop yields. This in turn means the depletion of the lime of the soil. Larger crops, whether produced by better seed, better tillage methods or more fertilizers, tend towards the depletion of the lime of the soil which in turn means the souring of the soil. It is perfectly natural for the soils under cultivation to become sour. It should be equally as natural to add lime to the soil once in four or five years.

Question—Do I need to use fertilizers if I rotate my crops and apply lime?

Answer—By rotating crops you are simply distributing your draft upon the resources of the soil. You can no more maintain the fertility of the soil by rotating your crops than you can maintain your bank account by passing your check book around the members of your family. Lime is not a plant food, but a soil corrector. It keeps the soil sweet and to a small extent lets loose some potash. It will not maintain fertility of the soil. Then, for best results you should rotate your crops and apply lime sufficiently often to keep the soil sweet. In addition you should use all the stock manure obtainable and sufficient fertilizers to meet the needs of the growing crops and make up for the characteristic weakness of the soil.

TO BRITAIN FROM AMERICA

Because we put aside the yoke,
Because the voice of freedom spoke,
Think you, we have forgotten her
Who made our fathers what they were, Britain?
Think you, that passing tyrannies
Could rob us of our memories,
Who, in that far unhappy age
Were faithful to our heritage,
And kept alive, by word and deed,
The fire you lit at Runnymede?

Because we flung our gates so wide,
And called all people to our side,
Think you, that we can walk unmoved
Upon the earth our fathers loved;
Or witness with untroubled eyes,
Today your splendid sacrifice?

O, Britain! With uncovered head,
Here, in the presence of your dead,
We plight the word of faithful men;
The common cup we drink again.
We wrong you not by flattery;
But offer that you understand,
The true and open heart and hand,
The friendship of a people free,
The honor of another land,
Her faith in your nobility.

MRS. GEO. T. WARD.

After an illness of ten months there passed away at her home on Chapel street, Brampton, Oct. 2nd, 1918, Harriett Emmeline, beloved wife of Geo. T. Ward, and daughter of Mrs. Sara Balfour, who was in her 95th year. She was born and lived near Stanley Mills, Peel county, until eleven years ago, when the family made their home in Brampton. Owing to ill-health she has been unable to take her accustomed place in church and other activities, but she will be missed by a large circle of friends, who enjoyed her hospitality. Her husband and one son, G. Frank, three daughters, Mrs. W. D. Bowles, Mono Road; Misses Robena E. and Rhoda M.; one nephew, Burrell Balfour, mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. Four sisters, Mrs. Amy Burlington, Mrs. Pearen, Indian Head, Mrs. Thurston and Mrs. Elliott of Brampton, and a little granddaughter, Rhoda Bowles, also survive, beside her aged mother.

BELL–LITTLE.

A quiet wedding took place at St. Helen's Manse, Lucknow, on Wednesday, October 2, when Mary Margaret, daughter of Rev. John and Mrs. Little, was united in marriage to J. Daniel Bell, of Hamilton, son of Rev. J. R. and Mrs. Bell, Laurel, Ont. The ceremony was conducted by the bride's father, assisted by the father of the groom. The wedding music was played by Miss Myrtle Little, sister of the bride. The bride wore a gown of Georgette crepe over satin charmeuse, with veil and orange blossoms. After the wedding luncheon, at which Miss Ruby Sutcliffe of Chesley and Miss Mary Aitcheson of Allenford assisted, Mr. and Mrs. Bell left for Detroit and on their return will reside at 76 Summerset avenue, Hamilton.

CULLIS–LIDDY.

On Tuesday morning, October 1st, at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. R. Liddy, Dundas, Ont., the marriage took place of Catherine Edith Liddy, to Wilfrid Llewellyn Cullis, B. A., of Markdale. Rev. J. J. Liddy, M. A., of St Catharines, uncle of the bride, conducted the ceremony in the presence of a number of the immediate relatives. The bride, who was given away by her brother, S. J. W. Liddy, B. Sc., wore a gown of ivory silk crepe de chine with tulle veil. Little Elsie Whetham, niece of the bride, made a pretty flower girl. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple motored to Hamilton and left for a short trip to Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a navy blue serge suit with hat to match. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Cullis will reside in Markdale. The bride, who taught school at Laurel a few years ago, is a niece of Mr. W. R. Liddy, P. S. I. for Dufferin.

SETTLE DOWN FOR THE WINTER

Make Dull Days Bright— Gladden your Home with Music—

—get a—

Pathephone

WITH the Pathephone playing, what will it matter how the gale rages or how heavy the fall of snow? Merry laugh and exuberant spirit will be in everyday evidence. It is a possession that will bring pleasure to man, woman and child. Your Home will be your Opera and Theatre. It will prove a greater addition than any other single article it is possible to buy; it will make you forget for awhile your cares and anxieties, and you will go singing into each day's work and into each evening's rest!

Within the Pathephone is truly all the Music of all the world, the music of any opera you have ever listened to, of any concert selection, of any waltz, of any song that gives so much comfort and courage to our boys "over there"—ALL the interesting Music for generations past and ALL the bright, happy Music of to-day—it's ALL there, and the RECORDS OF ANY MAKE WILL BRING IT OUT! The Pathephone is equipped to play ALL makes of disc records—gloriously and well—BETTER than their OWN machines!

Visit the Pathé Dealer. HEAR the Pathephone, get a glimpse of the glories within! Learn about its many exclusive features such as the sapphire reproducing ball. The Pathé Dealer will show you how easy it is to own a Pathephone, how a small cash payment—probably less than you expected to pay—will bring to your Home the GREATEST entertainer ever invented!

AWREY–SUTTON.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, Sept. 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sutton, Erin township, when their second daughter, Elizabeth C., was united in marriage to Mr. Wilfrid Awrey, by the Rev. Mr. Jewitt, of Erin. Promptly at 3 o'clock, the bride, who was given away by her father, entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by the bride's sister, Miss Edna Sutton. The bride looked charming in a white silk crepe de chene dress, trimmed with white satin and seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white roses and wore the customary bridal veil adorned with orange blossoms. After the usual congratulations all adjourned to the dining room where a sumptuous repast was partaken of. The groom's gift to the bride was a wrist watch and to the organist a gold pendant. The wedding party motored to Hamilton, Toronto and other points, for a short honeymoon, after which they will reside on the Awrey homestead, lot 22, 2nd line, Erin.—Erin Advocate.

CALEDON SHEEP CLUB.

Boys and Girls in Caledon Township Have Privilege of Being Members of First Club in Canada.

Farm boys and girls in Caledon township will have the privilege of becoming members of Canada's first Sheep Club. We believe that the best way to interest the country boys and girls is by giving them some good farm animals to care for and manage and own. That is why we are organizing this Sheep Club. It will not be possible to supply sheep to everyone but we want to make a start this fall with a number of bright wide awake boys and girls who like taking care of live stock and who will do their best to make the club a success.

The Caledon Rural Survey showed us two things regarding farm stock: First, that the quickest and surest way to increase the returns from the farm was to improve the live stock, and, second, that the reason many farmers do not keep better stock was not that they thought it didn't pay but because there was no convenient, reliable way for the average man to go out and buy the kind he wanted. No township in the whole Dominion is better adapted to sheep raising than Caledon and no branch of farming today offers better, if as good, returns for the money than a small flock of sheep. Wool is high in price and will remain so for several years after the war is over. With proper management members should make enough in one year to nearly pay for ewes.

Oxfords were chosen not because they are better than all the other breeds, but because most of the sheep in the township are that breed and we did not wish to introduce another kind. The ewes are being selected now from the best flocks in Ontario by experts. Only first class registered animals are being bought and they will all be in lamb to the best Oxford sire that can be obtained. Delivery will be made early in December. Those who wish to do so may pay cash, the others may give their note for 10 months endorsed by parent or guardian to the satisfaction of the bank, and bearing interest at six per cent. It is our intention t omake the thing as educational as possible by visiting the members and by instructing them in the management of their sheep, and by assisting with the sale of surplus stock in the fall to help pay off the note when due. All ewes will be insured in case of death for one-half the cost price. It is expected that they will cost in the neighborhood of fifty dollars each delivered.

This, in a word, is the scheme and we hope that the boys and girls in Caledon township will take hold of the first Sheep Club ever offered to Canadians with all the enthusiasm of Canada's future citizens. Fathers and mothers, remember that we would be helpless without the support and encouragement that only you can give to your children. They need be no cash outlay, the risk is small, it will make money for the members, but best of all it will give a training that cannot be valued. Advertisement and application blank will be found on page three. Use it today. The following are the rules in detail:

Sheep Club Constitution and Rules.

1. The name of the Club shall be the Caledon Sheep Club, 1918.
2. The objects of the Club shall be: (a) To create a deeper interest among our farm boys and girls in the business of sheep raising; (b), To bring into Peel county a large number of choice pure bred sheep and to distribute them at cost on easy terms of payment.
3. Caledon Township farm boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 inclusive will be eligible to become members.
4. The Club shall be organized and directed by J. W. Stark, Brampton, Agricultural Representative for Peel County, and the money will be advanced by the Sterling Bank.
5. Two pure bred Oxford shearling ewes in lamb shall be distributed in December to each member. Members will be notified to call at a central point (Caledon), on a certain date to receive their sheep. Each pair will be marked with price and number and member will draw a number from box and sheep corresponding to that number shall be his or hers subject to rules of Club.
6. Members who wish to do so may pay cash at time of delivery or member may give a note for 10 months endorsed to the satisfaction of the bank by parent or guardian and bearing interest at six per cent.
7. The ewes will be registered in the name of member, and ewes and their progeny shall be sole property of member. Arrangements will be made to assist members with the sale of their surplus stock and with bringing in pure bred sires for use on members' flocks.
8. The Department of Agriculture will supply bulletins, etc., relating to care and management of sheep, and forms on which to keep simple records of feed, etc. These records must be carefully kept and turned in to the Agricultural Representative at the end of ten months.
9. The Club will by means of a small assessment insure the ewes that have been distributed against loss by death during the first ten months for an amount equal to one half of the original cost of ewes.
10. Prizes will be offered to members for best care, records and profits from sheep, and Fall Fair Boards will be encouraged to give special prizes for sheep raised by Club members from ewes distributed.

Miss Florence King, of the C. P. R. restaurant, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gardner, Gravenhurst, last week.

Mrs. J. C. Warnock, of Caledon, has been visiting Mrs. C. W. Rutledge, Markdale, and other friends in Markdale and Durham.

Miss Jennie A. Rutherford, of Englehart, New Ontario, is holidaying with her cousin, Mrs. Rich. Fines, West Broadway, and other friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Chas. Clegg returned to her home in Toronto this week after a three weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Philip Coulson, East Garafraxa, and other relatives hereabouts.

Miss Sarah Glassford returned to Toronto Friday night after spending a few days with her brother and sister, Mr. J. H. Glassford and Mrs. Samuel Turner, Zina street.

Mr. Abram B. Stinson, of Toronto, spent a few days last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meek, Caledon, and gave The Banner a pleasant call while in town Thursday. Mr. Stinson has been helping out on the farm for the last three months.

Rev. Crawford and Mrs. Tate, of Bluevale, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Ruple, to J. P. Ferguson, B. A., Calgary, son of the late Mr. P. Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson, of Drayton. The marriage will take place quietly in October.

The Banner had a pleasant call this week from Mr. Thos. Ruebottom, of the Sudbury Star, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Peavoy for a few days. Sudbury, Mr. Ruebottom says, is a busy, progressive town of about 8,000 people. Mr. F. M. Stafford, who was in business on Broadway a number of years ago, is one of the leading merchants and has a very large store.

Messrs. W. A. Emory and Joseph Smith, of Aldershot, Ont., Fred Blessinger and Spencer Smith, of Burlington, motored to town last Thursday and remained until Friday morning sightseeing and visiting friends in town and vicinty. Mr. Spencer Smith, who is now in business in Burlington, ran the fruit store now conducted by M. E. Henry, a number of years ago. Mr. Jos. Smith, a former Orangeville boy, is now a well-to-do fruit farmer near Burlington. Mr. Emory, or more correctly Reeve Emory, has been reeve of East Flamboro for the last eleven years. So well has he served his municipality, that his constituents are already asking him to stick it for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter, accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Jennie McArthur, Second avenue, motored to Atwood on Saturday and spent the day with Rev. and Mrs. W. D. McDonald.

Mr. Harry Doble, of Sunderland, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ellis, Mill street.

Mrs. E. Nighswander, of Locust Hill, is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Ellis, Mill street.

Miss Woodcroft, a gifted Toronto soloist, and Mr. Cunningham, of West Presbyterian church choir, Tororto, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hogg over Sunday, delighted the congregation with their fine singing in the Methodist church Sunday night.

Mrs. Vogan, of Windsor, gave The Banner a welcome call on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Vogan is visiting friends at her old home in Caledon for a few weeks.

Mrs. Jos. Marshall spent the past month with her nephew, Rev. J. W. Arnott, of Sutton West.

Mrs. D. Nairn, of Galt, has been visiting her brother, Mr. John Park, for the last week.

Mr. Alex. Connell arrived home Monday night from Moose Jaw, where he attended the funeral of his brother, the late Pte. Wesley J. Connell.

Mrs. W. J. Wiggins, of Napanee, (nee Della McKinnon), is visiting Mrs. J. D. Torrie and other friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Peart, Miss Marjorie and Master Walter Peart, of Shelburne, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Curry, of Laurel, over the week-end.

BOXES FOR SOLDIERS.

The Daughters of the Empire purpose sending boxes to all boys overseas from the town of Orangeville. Will all those interested kindly leave names and addresses as early as possible with Miss McKay, Mrs. (Judge) Fisher or Mrs. J. E. Smith.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S.

The meeting of St. Andrew's Young People's Society on Monday night was well attended. The topic, "Our Money," was taken by Miss Ruby McGillivray. The program also included a vocal duet by Misses Dodds and Browne. The president, Miss Sadie McIntyre, occupied the chair.

FALL CHAUTAUQUA.

Orangeville will have another three day Chautauqua this month. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 30 and 31, Nov. 1 are the dates fixed for the big event. Those who enjoyed the splendid programs given at the spring Chautauqua will welcome the opportunity to enjoy another three days of high-class entertainment. Particulars will appear in The Banner in due course.

SAVE FOR VICTORY

SOCIAL IN ALTON.

MELVILLE HARVEST HOME.

The annual Harvest Home services of Melville Cross Methodist church will be held on Sunday, Oct. 13th at 3 p.m. Rev. J. Burkholder, of Caledon, will preach and Alton Methodist choir will furnish music. Everybody is cordially invited.

THANKSGIVING MUSIC.

St. Andrew's church choir will furnish the following music for the Thanksgiving services on Sunday, October 13th:

Morning—Anthem, "What Shall I Render Unto the Lord," (Simper), with soprano solo by Mrs. Boswell; anthem, "Great and Marvellous," (Turner), with alto and tenor duet by Mrs. Robertson and Mr. Connop.

Evening—"O, Give Thanks unto the Lord," (Roland Smart), with soprano solo by Mrs. Jackson; anthem, "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land," (Stainer), with soprano solo by Mrs. Boswell; soprano solo, "The Ninety and Nine," by Mrs. Jackson.

The following Thanksgiving music will be provided by the choir in the Methodist church next Sunday:

Morning—Organ Prelude, Solomon, (Loramer); anthem, "Be Joyful in the Lord," (Roberts); offertory, "Largo," (Handel); anthem, "Ye Thankful People Come," (Wilson); concluding voluntary, Marcn, "Romaine," (Gounod).

Evening—Organ Prelude, "Menuetta," (Schubert); anthem, "It is a Good Thing to Give Thanks," (Bennett); offertory, "Solace," (Sibley Pross); anthem, "I Will Sing of the Mercies" (Tussing); concluding voluntary, "March Brilliante," (Lowden). Miss G. Ewing, organist, F. A. Falconer, choirmaster.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Kyles received a message on Tuesday informing them that the former's nephew, Lt. Lloyd D. Kyles, had died of wounds. The young officer was a son of Dr. Kyles' oldest brother, the late John Kyles, barrister, Toronto, and a grandson of Mrs. James Kyles, Camilla. He was 23 years of age, enlisted with the 134th Highlanders and had been in France a couple of years.

W. M. S. CONVENTION.

The Woman's Missionary Societies of the Orangeville District will hold their annual convention in Orangeville Methodist church on Oct. 17th. There will be two sessions and the afternoon meeting will be open to the public. "The Challenge of the Cross" will be presented at this meeting.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

The regular monthly meeting of Lord Dufferin Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, will be held at the home of Miss G. Irvine, Friday, Oct. 11th, at 3.30 o'clock p.m.

The sum of $500 has been received for the Red Cross through the Fifty Club. A half yearly statement of his or her standing will be sent to each member. The fees for October are now due and payable to the treasurer, Miss Emma McKay

The Red Cross rooms will be open every Wednesday afternoon and a cordial invitation is extended to all ladies to attend.

The Red Cross wish to acknowledge a kit bag filled by Mrs. W. J. Price.

Wool may be obtained from Miss Clark at her home, Prince of Wales street, every Tuesday afternoon or at the Red Cross rooms on Wednesdays.

BOWMAN TROPHY GAMES.

A Guelph rink came mighty near wresting the Bowman trophy from the Orangeville defenders on Monday afternoon. The visitors started off with a rush and ran up a score of 8 to 1 in the first six ends. Orangeville got two and five on the next two ends and from then to the finish it was a see-saw match, with first one and then the other rink showing slightly in front. With one end to go Guelph were three up, but the locals tied the score on the last end and got the shot necessary to win on an extra end. The players:

Guelph—E. H. Johns, G. M. Yates, R. H. Bryden, R. Mahoney, skip.

Orangeville—J. D. McMillan, E. C. Clark, W. C. Hopkins, R. H. Robinson, skip.

FATAL MOTOR ACCIDENT.

Owen Sound Girl Killed When Auto Turned Turtle; Another Girl Severely Injured.

One of the most distressing and perhaps the saddest of all accidents chronicled by this paper happened on Friday afternoon about three o'clock less than two miles from Markdale, in which the twin daughter of the late John S. Pringle and Mrs. Pringle of Owen Sound, lost her life, while Miss Mary Mercer, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. L. Mercer, Markdale, received such injuries as will render her unfit for either studies or duty for a considerable time. Indeed the shock that she has sustained may take years to recover from.

In conversation with Miss Leta Mercer, a Standard representative gained the following information:

Miss Mary Mercer, accompanied by Miss Margaret Pringle, were sent to an adjoining farm on an errand for Mr. Mercer. When but little over a mile from home the car began to skid and wabble on the slippery road and suddenly turned turtle. The two young ladies were pinned underneath the car, part of the car's weight being supported by the top. Suddenly the top gave way and the weight of the car settled on the girls, when Miss Pringle exclaimed, "Oh, my head." Mr. Berry, a Hydro Electric officer, and his man, Mr. Lawrence, happened to arrive at the ghastly scene soon after, and rendered all possible assistance to release the girls. It was readily seen that Miss Pringle had already succumbed while Miss Mercer was badly injured, and was immediately removed to her home, as (later on) was also the body of her unfortunate companion. Drs. Ego and Brown and Nurse Mathews were soon on the scene and in consultation with those concerned, including the coroner, it was decided that owing to the sad occurrence being the result of pure accident, no inquest was necessary.

The remains were removed to Owen Sound the same evening in charge of Undertaker Breckenridge, and interment took place on Monday. The funeral was a large one and particularly impressive. The outstanding expression of condolence and sympathy was the very large number of floral tributes. Miss Pringle was a very popular young lady, highly esteemed for her worth, and will be greatly missed. The sad calamity has left a deep gloom over both Owen Sound and Markdale, that will take some time to remove. The Standard joins in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

We are pleased to learn that Miss Mercer is making substantial progress toward recovery. — Markdale Standard.

AT ALDERSHOT.

Rosemont Boy Says Soldiers Get Better Food in England Than at St. John's, Que.

Mr. A. G. McNabb, of Rosemont, has received the following letter from Sapper R. Battersby, who is now in Aldershot Camp in England. The writer of the letter made his home with Mr. McNabb before enlisting.

I am safe and sound in old England again. I can hardly believe that I am in England, but I guess everything changes quickly nowadays.

Well, I did not have a bit of seasickness, so the fishes got no meal of me, and I can enjoy my meals as well as when I was on the old farm, only our food is limited.

I am at the old camp my father trained at and in the same camp that I was in in 1912 in connection with Dr. Barnardo's Homes. It is Aldershot Camp, one of the best camps in England, only they are just a little food pinched. We get good wholesome food and more than the civilians get accordingly, but without any exaggeration I can tell you that we got much better fed here than we did at St. John's, Que.

There are very few Canadians in my battalion, chiefly Americans, but I tell you they had something to talk about when they travel through this country in the little old trains, as the Yankee says, but they can go up any hill all the same.

I get no peace for showing them how to count, pounds, shillings and pence. They all admire this country; what a beautiful country it is, as I never thought it was like this, etc. The ride from boat to camp was very interesting. Every man had his head out of the window watching the big coal mines and shafts, the big boot factory in Birmingham, the farmer Johns cutting their grain, the girls working around freight cars in overalls, the women mail carriers, the girl telegram deliverers, all making the trip pleasant.

I went down to the Machine Gun camp the other evening, as it is only two minutes walk from where I am, expecting to see Herman Solomon, but was informed that he was in the hospital then. Some of the other boys are under quarantine at present but I hope to see them shortly. I must conclude as I have some other letters to write also.

—ROBERT.

What Will Relieve Kidney or Bladder Troubles

This is a question that thousands of people have asked; and a question that has been answered for them by the practical demonstrations of Gin Pills.

Read these testimonials and realize the satisfaction that thousands of people have derived and from the relief they have been given by taking the same, and expressing their gratitude for Gin Pills.

Mrs. B. Walters, of Savona, B.C., writes:—

"I advise people who have not used Gin Pills to try them, as Gin Pills are within the means of rich and poor. I have been troubled for years with weak kidneys, and one box of Gin Pills cured me. I recommend them as an absolute and reliable cure."

Mrs. Butler, of Vancouver, sends this message:—

"I think it my duty to write and tell you that I think Gin Pills a sure cure for kidney trouble. I suffered much with my kidneys until I took Gin Pills; now I would not be without them in my home."

Can you have any doubt that Gin Pills have accomplished such wonderful results? If you have—you need not spend a cent on them until you have tried a sample box free. Just write to us and when you receive the box give Gin Pills a trial—and be convinced by results. Sold by dealers everywhere at 50c a box.

SOLDIER ON FURLOUGH RANSACKS FARM HOUSE

Military Authorities Reclaim Him and He Leaves with Squad to Rejoin His Artillery Battery.

Ernest Waller, who is said to have enlisted before he was 18, went to England and France, and was wounded in a Folkestone air raid and then returned to Canada as too young, was before Police Magistrate Crawford, of Brampton on Tuesday, Oct. 1st, on a charge of stealing. Waller since his return to Canada enlisted with the artillery and was running around loose on furlough all this summer and was supposed to be farming. A few days ago Chief Herkes got a telephone message from Mr. Bart Bull's residence on the first line, that somebody had entered the house and ransacked it, taking some pieces of jewelry.

Thie Chief took a walk out and met Waller returning from a mushroom hunting expedition. Waller's reputation with the Chief made him very suspicious of him and events justified his arrest for the goods were found on Waller.

On Tuesday before P. M. Crawford Waller was let off on suspended sentence, word having been received from the military authorities that he would be reclaimed. Last night an escort arrived and Waller is now on his way to St. John.

It is said Waller tried to commit suicide in the jail with a towel. He is supposed to be an English home boy. While he claims to be 20, he might be 28.

The man married a local woman and she has been drawing separation allowance for months. Waller is said to have cashed one of her checks for $50 in Georgetown and to have invested $25 in a motor car. The check was repudiated at the bank they say because the wife had not endorsed it. Where the kind-hearted Georgetown man finishes is not known.

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Brampton Babe Had Narrow Escape While Crossing Road to Meet Her Father.

To jump from a car and hurry to pick up a little rumpled bundle, to turn over the little face and find that he was holding in his arms his own little daughter, was the shocking experience of Joseph Partridge on Tuesday evening.

Little Helen Partridge is in the habit of running each evening to meet her daddy on his return to supper. On Tuesday Mr. Partridge went to Toronto with Mr. J. W. Leonard. The two men were returning about six o'clock, and little Helen was eagerly watching for her father. She caught sight of him on the far side of the road, and was cautious enough to allow Mr. Nelson to drive past, but she did not see a Ford car approaching from the north, driven by Mr. Hammerton of Elmbank.

Fortunately the Ford was going very slowly, and Mr. Hammerton did his best to apply the brake. Little Helen was struck in the face by the fender, and when she fell, the car passed over her legs, severely bruising the right knee.

The blow produced concussion of the brain, and the child lay unconscious until Wednesday morning, when she opened her eyes and said, "Oh, there you are, daddy."

Dr. Vanderlip, who examined little Helen immediately after the accident, feared for an injury to the spine, but a further examination showed that severe bruises, both internal and external, appeared to be the worst result of the accident.

Mr. Hammerton was greatly depressed by the trouble he had so unwittingly caused, and lingered for some time after the accident, in order to be of some assistance.—Conservator.

Ernest Byers, West Garafraxa, had the misfortune to have his dwelling house destroyed by fire a week ago Saturday.

SOLDIER'S EXPERIENCE.

Private David Schmidt, of Kenilworth, who enlisted with the 153rd Battalion, has undergone much suffering in military hospitals in England during the past five months. After crossing to England he was transferred to a forestry battalion. In April he was driving a high spirited team drawing logs. While going down a hill with a big load, the team became unmanageable and Private Schmidt jumped for safety. The team with their load, dashed on down the hill and over a bank into the river but fortunately escaped without a scratch. It was thought at first that Private Schmidt had only severely sprained the knee and ankle of one leg However it developed that the knee cap had been broken. It was set and later was broken by the doctors and reset. In a letter received from Pte. Schmidt recently he stated that the injured leg had shortened and now when he stands straight on the sound leg, he is only able to touch the ground with the toe of the other.

KIDNEY DISEASE OVERCOME.

Mr. James Prouse, cattle dealer, Sheho, Sask., writes: "For about ten years I suffered from Kidney disease, at times I was bad with backache, and derangements of the digestive organs. During that time I was treated by four different doctors. One day I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac about the Kidney-Liver Pills and began to use them. Altogether I used six boxes. All I need say is that I feel well now and attribute this condition to the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver

Walter Sulke fell through a scaffold into a cylinder while in operation on the farm of Henry Jank, Sullivan township, on Thursday, Sept. 19, and had the limb amputated about four inches from the body. The lad, who is 17 years old, is doing well.

ECHO FROM HINDY LINE

"You still insist that this is not a retreat?"

"Yes, well!" shouted General Dumpkof.

"This is no retreat. This is a problem in rapid transit."

THE FITTING PHRASE.

The Kaiser—"Rosner, don't these damnable French have a phrase that fits them and their diabolical associates?"

Rosner—"Your Majesty must be thinking of the Entente Terrible."

Eleven days after he reached France Pte. Chas. Walter Sturdy, son of Thos. Sturdy, tinsmith, of Toronto, formerly postmaster and tinsmith at Conn, was killed in action on Sept. 5th, at the age of 19. He left Toronto last March in a machine gun section. Before enlisting he worked for his father.

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, OCT. 17, 1918.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

Mr. Geo. E. Gordon, of Laurel, received an official telegram last Friday informing him that his son, Jos. M. Gordon had been seriously wounded. Gordon enlisted in the 164th Battalion.

FRANK EADES KILLED.

Frank Eades, an English laboring man, who formerly worked with Mr. John Bryan and other farmers in the neighborhood of Amaranth Station, was killed in action on Sept. 27th. Eades enlisted in the Grand Valley company of the 164th and went overseas with that battalion. He was about 30 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. The widow and family have been living with Mr. Hugh Bryan, of Amaranth.

L. PATTERSON WOUNDED.

After two years of active service with the 33rd Battery, 9th Brigade, Gunner H. Lloyd Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, 231 Perth avenue, Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, has been wounded in one of the recent battles. Gunner Patterson enlisted at Kingston before his 18th birthday and has been in the fighting line continuously since he went to France. He is among members of the 33rd Battery who are permitted to wear a colored cloth patch on their left shoulders as a reward for good conduct and devotion to duty on the field. His wounds are located in the left shoulder and leg, and the telegram says that he was admitted to Colchester Hospital on Sept. 30th.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall weather is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent cold or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly cure it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BOXES FOR SOLDIERS.

The Daughters of the Empire purpose sending boxes to all boys overseas from the town of Orangeville. Will all those interested kindly leave names and addresses as early as possible with Miss McKay, Mrs. (Judge) Fisher or Mrs. J. E. Smith.

LIEUT. LLOYD B. KYLES.

Lieut. Lloyd B. Kyles, whose death was reported in last week's Banner, went overseas in August 1916 as Quartermaster-Sergeant in the 134th Battalion, but reverted to the rank of a private and went to France with the 15th Battalion, afterwards winning his commission on the battlefield. He was a son of the late John Kyles, a Toronto barrister, and was born in Toronto. He was a graduate of Harbord street Collegiate and was attending Osgoode Hall when he enlisted. He was 22 years of age and unmarried. A brother, Pte. J. D. Kyles, is a returned soldier. The young officer is a grandson of Mrs. James Kyles, Camilla, and a nephew of Dr. R. N. Kyles and Mrs. Maura McNaughton, Orangeville.

G. CHARLES WOUNDED.

Mrs. Ruby Charles received an official message from Ottawa last Thursday bringing her the distressing news that her husband, Pte. Gordon Charles, had been admitted to the First African General Hospital at Abbeville, France, on Sept. 28, suffering from gunshot wound in the left arm. Pte. Charles, who was formerly in the service of the Bank of Commerce here, joined the 170th Mississauga Horse in April 1916 and went overseas from Camp Borden on Oct. 21st of the same year, crossing to France with the 75th Battalion on December 10th. He was wounded at Vimy Ridge in April 1917 and was also in the hospital for a time with trench feet. He returned to the firing line again last November. He is 25 years of age and was with the Bank of Commerce in Toronto when he enlisted.

DIED AT BRAMSHOTT.

Relatives here received a telegram from Mr. Jno. E. Jenkins, of Carievale, Sask., formerly of Mono, on Monday, informing them that his oldest son, Pte. Walker A. Jenkins, had died of influenza in the military hospital at Bramshott Camp, England, on October 9th. Pte. Jenkins, who was only 21 years of age, enlisted in the West last June. He trained at Regina for a few weeks, leaving that city for overseas in July. He was a tall, well-built chap and weighed about 190 pounds. He is survived by his parents, two younger brothers, Frank and Ross, and two sisters, Annie and Berniece. He was the oldest grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenkins, of Mono. His mother is a sister of Messrs. Robert and Frank Island, of Mono. Profound sympathy is felt for the suddenly bereaved parents and relatives in their great loss.

DUFFERIN TEACHERS.

County Institute Had Excellent Annual Meeting in Carnegie Library Last Week.

Over one hundred members of the Dufferin Teachers' Institute assembled in Carnegie Library, Orangeville, last Thursday and Friday, to discuss methods in teaching and for the general improvement of educational work.

Rev. Mr. Dodds conducted devotional exercises and afterwards extended a message of welcome to the teachers of the county.

After reading of communications it was agreed to leave the work of the Belgian Relief Fund to the judgment of the individual teacher.

Miss Crane took as her subject, "Writing in Schools." She showed its importance since it is one of the first subjects taught and said teachers should insist from the beginning on correct formation of letters, slant, arm movement in the air and when writing. She said more attention should be given to blackboard exercises.

Miss Fannie Shain read a paper which was a message from the President and the Secretary of the Women Teachers' Association. It was agreed that the ladies should meet after adjournment and organize. Three local Associations were formed for each of the urban centres, Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley, and each teacher could join the centre most convenient.

The Public School Readers took up considerable time and will be further considered by an enlarged committee before a report is sent to the Minister of Education.

Dr. Coyne gave a spirited address on "Oral Hygiene," and showed how in certain cases diseases of the mouth were carried from home to home. He quoted authorities to show that a high percentage of human ills is developed above the collar. The Institute resolved that the Education Department in rural and make dental inspection in rural and urban schools compulsory.

Miss Beatty made a plea for practical agriculture in schools and showed how Denmark and other countries had greatly benefited by such methods.

Mr. H. A. Dorrance gave an address on "School Fairs," discussing their origin and importance.

Miss Sprott read a paper on "Practical and Educative Value in Sewing in Public Schools."

Messrs. Goss and Annis gave spirited addresses on the coming Victory Loan and urged the teachers to assist in every way possible.

Miss Hibbert's paper on the use of "Blocks in Teaching Arithmetic" was much enjoyed because it was very practical.

Mr. Firth used a class to illustrate how Strathcona Physical Exercises could be used to develop the pupil physically and mentally

Miss Black gave a practical paper on "Manners and Morals in Schools."

Miss Auta Powell, Toronto Normal School, gave three excellent addresses on Art. Her first subject, "Art as applied to Plant Study Through the Grades," emphasized truth in direction, form, shape, color and texture as applied to the trunk, branches and leaves of the plant. Her second lecture was "Object Drawing," and the third was "Color and Design." All of these lectures were most enjoyable as shown by the deep interest taken by the teachers.

The teachers and the citizens of Orangeville were given a real intellectual repast at the evening meeting when Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, Chief Officer of Health of Ontario, gave an inspiring address on "Medical Inspection in Schools." His moving pictures were not only educative but entertaining. Those who heard him are now converts to Medical Inspection in Schools. Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.L.A., was chairman. During the evening local talent provided music both vocal and instrumental, each artist receiving a well deserved encore.

During the day sessions the teachers were entertained by a solo by Miss Bayne, instrumental music by Miss King, a duet by Mrs. Liddy and Mrs. Bowles, and a recitation by Miss Ireland.

Inspector Liddy told the teachers of improvements during the year and congratulated them on their patriotic efforts.

In the absence of the President, Mr. Geo. Mutt.ce Captain A. Firth, Principal of the Orangeville Public School, was elected chairman.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year:

President—Miss Belle Oldfield.
Vice-Pres.—Mr. Wm. Dixon.
Sec.-Treas.—Inspector Liddy.
Auditors—Miss Hunter and Miss McArthur.
Committee on Promotion Examinations—Mr. Firth, Mr. Boggs, Miss Bayne, Miss McPhail, Miss Hibbert, Miss Ireland and Miss McArthur.

The Institute passed the following motions:

That a vote of thanks be tendered Miss Powell and Dr. McCullough for their very valuable assistance during the Convention, and to those who took part in the entertainment during the day and evening meetings and to the citizens of Orangeville for their hospitality.

That the secretary write the proper authorities urging that all rural schools and especially schools with a school garden and urban schools be given the opportunity of competing at school fairs and that all such pupils be given seeds and other material on equal terms.

The singing of the National Anthem closed a very successful Institute meeting.

Ontario Emergency Volunteer Health Auxiliary

Wanted, Volunteers!!

The Provincial Board of Health, with the authority of the Government of Ontario, has organized an "Ontario Emergency Volunteer Health Auxiliary," for the purpose of training and supplying nursing help to be utilized wherever needed in combating the Influenza outbreak. A strong executive has been formed in Toronto. It is strongly recommended that each municipal council and local Board of Health, working in co-operation, take immediate steps to form a local branch of this organization. The Volunteer Nurses will wear the officially authorized badge "ONTARIO S. O. S." (Sisters of Service). This "S. O. S." call may be urgent. Classes taking lectures are already opened in the Parliament Buildings, Toronto (Private Bills' Committee Room, ground floor), where they will be carried on every day at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. until further notice. Young women of education are urged to avail themselves of this unique opportunity to be of real service to the community. If they are not needed, so much the better. If they are needed, we hope to have them ready. All towns and cities are urged to organize and prepare in a similar manner.

A Syllabus of lectures is being sent to the Medical Officer of Health of all cities and towns. Further information may be had on application to John W. S. McCullough, M. D., Chairman of Executive, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Telephone Main 5800.

C. S. NEWTON, Secretary-Treasurer. W. D. McPHERSON, President.

J. W. S. McCULLOUGH, Chairman of Executive Committee.

Cadet Harvey Curry, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Curry, is dangerously ill with influenza in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Phillips, of Shelburne, received a cablegram from the Secretary of the War Ministry last week stating that their son, Flight Lieut. Victor G. H. Phillips, was wounded in action on Oct. 5th. Flight Lieut. Phillips went overseas with the 164th Batt., but later transferred to the Royal Air Force.

LAUREL.

Laurel was en fete on Wednesday night of last week. The occasion of the celebration was the homecoming of two of our gallant soldier boys, Gunner R. S. Pratt, son of Councillor John Pratt, and Pte. John Maltby. An immense concourse of people met the two young men at Laurel station and escorted them to the Methodist church, where they were extended a royal welcome home. Refreshments were served, speeches made by a number of our leading men as well as by the two young soldiers. Gunner Pratt, who was in France about 19 months, had the good fortune to come through unscathed and looks the picture of good health despite his hardships and trying experiences at the front. He is a medical student and was granted leave of absence to enable him to return home to continue his studies. He leaves for Toronto this week to resume his course at Toronto University. Pte. Maltby, who went overseas with the 164th, was wounded some time ago and has lost the use, temporarily it is hoped, of two of the fingers of his right hand. He is looking well, but is about twenty pounds lighter than when he went overseas.

His many friends hereabouts are anxiously awaiting further news of the condition of Jos. M. Gordon, son of Mr. Geo. E. Gordon, who was reported wounded a short time ago. The first message received by his father stated that he was in the hospital suffering from a rifle wound in the back. This intimation was followed last week by a second telegram, which stated that the young soldier was seriously ill.

A memorial service for the late Noble Potter, who was killed in action a few weeks ago, was held at the home of his father, Mr. Willis Potter, on Sunday. Arrangements had been made to hold the service in the Methodist church, but at the request of Dr. Campbell, Medical Officer of Health, this was cancelled on account of the prevalence of influenza. Instead a largely attended open air service was held at the home of the young man's parents. Rev. W. F. Roach, the family pastor, presided. Revs. T. R. White, of Alton, Cooper, of Grand Valley, and J. R. Bell, of Laurel, assisted.

Owing to the prevalence of Spanish influenza, both of our churches will be closed on Sunday and will remain closed until further notice. This step has been taken for the purpose of assistin the authorities in the measures they are taking to prevent the further spread of the disease.

MONO MILLS.

The local branch of the Red Cross will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 23rd, commencing at 2 o'clock. A bale of Red Cross supplies will be packed and material distributed for new work. A shipment of canned fruit is also to be packed to be sent to the Soldiers' Convalescent Hospitals. The contributions of fruit are to be brought in quart sealers, with the understanding that the empty sealers are to be returned. Finished work and fruit are to be at the workrooms not later than two o'clock.

Harvest Thanksgiving services are to be held in Mitchell's Methodist church on Sunday, Oct. 20th. Afternoon service at 2 o'clock will be in charge of Rev. E. R. Young, of Orangeville, and evening service at 7 o'clock in charge of Rev. A. Laycock.

Mr. and Mrs. Lundy, of Galt, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stork.

Miss Irene Atcheson, of Toronto, renewed former acquaintanceships here over Thanksgiving.

Why Canada must borrow money to carry on

Because Canada has put her hand to the plow and will not turn back:—

—our country is in the war on the side of liberty and justice and will stay in it till complete victory is won and the unspeakable Hun is smashed and beaten to the ground;

—a nation at war must make tremendous expenditures in cash to keep up her armies and supply them with munitions, food and clothing;

—Canada must finance many millions of dollars of export trade in food, munitions and supplies which Britain and our allies must have on credit;

—for these purposes Canada must borrow hundreds of millions of dollars—

And, this money must be borrowed from the people of Canada:—

Therefore, Canada will presently come to her people for a new Victory Loan to carry on.

Canadians will loan the money by again buying Victory Bonds.

The national safety, the national honor and the national well-being require that each and every Canadian shall do his duty by lending to the nation every cent he can spare for this purpose.

Be ready when the call comes to see your country through in its great war work

CAMILLA.

Mr. Hamilton McKim met with what might have proved a fatal accident while unloading buckwheat, the sling rope breaking, allowing the sling to fall on him, rendering him unconscious. The doctor, who was summoned, found no broken bones. We are glad to report Mr. McKim able to be around again.

Miss Towriss, of Arthur, spent the week-end with friends here.

Miss Marjorie Ross, B. A., of London, is visiting at the McNaughton home, where Mr. and Mrs. Maura McNaughton and daughters of Orangeville also spent the week-end.

Miss Florence Buchanan spent the holiday at her home.

Mr. Clarence Gemmill is in Toronto.

Miss Minnie Canning, of Toronto, is spending a few days at Mr. G. A. Canning's.

Mr. John Turner is in Toronto with his son, Fred, who is ill there.

Miss Helen Bremner left Tuesday morning for Virginia, U. S. A., having received word that her brother, Rev. Walter Bremner, was ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl South, Manuel, Percival and Edward South, of Fergus, spent Thanksgiving under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rayfield and daughter, Mr. Fred Rayfield, B. A., of Toronto, Mabel Rayfield, of Caledon, Mr. Chas. Rayfield, of Montreal, spent the holday at Mr. George Rayfield's.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Patterson and son visited friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Holmes visited their parents on Sunday.

Mr. Norman Parks visited Mr. Jas. Howard, of Cookstown, last week.

There have been numerous changes of property around here during the past couple of weeks. Mr. Fred Thompson has bought the Yokom property; Mr. Jos. White has rented his farm to Mr. Harry May, of Rich Hill; Mr. Ed. White has bought out Mr. Alex. Mann, our general merchant. We understand Mr. Mann is moving to the city shortly.

The Girls' Overseas Club packed twenty boxes for our boys "over there."

Anniversary services were held in St. Andrew's church, Camilla, afternoon and evening last Sunday. Large crowds attended both services. Rev. H. M. Lyon gave two excellent sermons, the subjects being, "Shibboleths," Judges 12-6 and "Spiritual Shortsightedness," 2 Peter 1, 9. In the afternoon Mrs. Jackson gave a beautiful rendering of "Let Us Have Peace," and in the evening Mr. J. H. Sloane sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

The following evening the Ladies' Aid held their accustomed Thanksgiving concert, the program consisting of numbers by Mrs. Cameron, elocutionist, Toronto, who captivated her audience from her first number, "Mary Cary," She had four numbers and had to respond to each on the demand of an appreciative audience. Mrs. (Rev.) Howard gave three excellent songs, as did Miss Berniece Leighton. Mr. Percy Harding, who sang four times, "swept the house" by his humorous song on the "Henry Ford Car." An instrumental duet by Misses Browne and Marshall was the opening number. Miss Dorothea Browne acted as accompanist with her usual skill. Rev. Mr. Howard was in an exceedingly happy vein in his address. The general verdict was that Camilla had listened to one of the best concerts for Thanksgiving time. Harold Marshall gave a short resume of his experiences overseas.

A rousing reception was tendered Gunners Harold Marshall, of Camilla, Wilfrid Crowe, of Orangeville, formerly of Camilla, Robert Pratt and Pte. Maltby, of Amaranth, on Wednesday evening when they returned from France to resume their college courses in medicine. About forty cars, many appropriately decorated for the occasion, were at the station and a large crowd of thankful friends cheered the heroes as they stepped off the train at Orangeville. They all look well and none the worse for their experience. The procession of motors followed Mr. J. A. Marshall's to their home at Camilla, where a large number of friends had already gathered to welcome Harold. An excellent program of speeches, recitations and music was then given. Harold, who has been overseas since July 1919, had spent 17 months of that time in France. Everyone went home happy and thankful that another of our boys had come back and we trust that soon the others also will be welcomed home.

Rev. G. W. Ross, of Corbetton, one of Camilla's past ministers, will occupy the pulpit next Sunday at 2 p.m. He will also conduct anniversary services at Mono Centre at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Rev. H. M. Lyon will conduct anniversary services at Riverview

Mr. and Mrs. John Still, of Glen Cross, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Mann for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman, of Melsey, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall.

Misses Henry and Lyon, and Messrs. Henry and Montford rendered a quartette at the evening service last Sunday.

Mrs. Cameron and Miss MacDonald were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gemmill.

—Lost on Sunday last a lady's small gold brooch, bird design. Finder will be suitably rewarded upon leaving at The Banner Office.

Five Ways of Saving Fuel in Heating House

Canadian People Can Save $16,500,000 This Winter

Canada faces a shortage of coal, and it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to save coal in heating his home. About 1,500,000 homes in this country are to be heated through the winter. If everybody "does his bit," a ton of coal at each home can be saved easily during the winter. Now when the appeal for Thrift is being made, the coal situation brings to us a unique opportunity for saving money as well as coal. By effecting the economies noted here, Canadian householders can save, taking the price of coal at $11 per ton, as much as $16,500,000 this winter.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines has recently published a pamphlet which contains excellent advice for the Canadian householder. It outlines five ways in which coal can be saved. They are as follows:

1. Of the coals available in your market select one that requires the least attention in burning.
2. Use an economical method of burning your coal.
3. Keep your house temperature 62 to 65 deg. F., instead of 72 to 75 deg. F.
4. Heat as few rooms as the comfort of your family will permit.
5. Shorten the heating season as much as possible.

1. SELECTION OF COALS.

In house-heating equipment the fires that can be given little attention on burning are the most economical and give the best satisfaction. In time of war less desirable coal may have to be used, in order to simplify transportation problems, but the fact remains that some coals are more efficient than others when the same attention is given the fire. Usually the man of the house can attend to the furnace early in the morning and again in the evening. During the day the furnace is left in the care of the housewife or the servant. The housewife has her children, the preparation of meals, and other cares to take up her time, so that she can not give the furnace much attention. In some houses the furnace is attended only when the house becomes either too hot or too cold, and thus the fire is allowed to run from one extreme to the other, conditions which are very unfavorable to saving of fuel. About the same attendance can be expected from a servant.

Therefore, in order that a fuel may be burned economically in a house-heating furnace, the fuel used should be of such kind that the fire requires little attention. The following fuels, in the order named, are the best fuels for house-heating purposes:

Anthracite coal in sizes from 1½ inch to egg size.

Gas-retort or metallurgical coke in pieces ½ inch to 3 inches across.

Coal briquet 2 to 3 inches in diameter.

Screened Pocahontas (semi-bituminous) coal over ¼ inch and through 3 or 4 inch screen.

Sized bituminous coal in pieces ½ to 3 inches across.

If these fuels can be bought, fine sizes or slack coal or other fuels requiring frequent attention when burning should be left for power plants where the firemen can and should give the fires frequent attention.

2. USE AN ECONOMIC METHOD OF BURNING YOUR COAL.

Because of the great variety of fuels used for house-heating purposes, and because of the great variety of house-heating equipment and conditions of operation, only the most general rules can be given for firing the fuel. The details must be determined by actual trial in each furnace.

Firing Anthracite.

When firing anthracite, the best results are obtained by spreading the coal evenly over the entire fuel bed. The fire should not be allowed to become too low before putting on a fresh firing. A fuel bed 5 to 10 inches thick gives good results. The fire should be disturbed as little as possible.

Firing Briquets.

Briquets when properly made are very good fuel for house-heating purposes. However, the supply is decidedly limited. When burning briquets the fuel bed should be kept 8 to 12 inches thick. The fresh charges should be spread evenly over the grate area. The fire must not be disturbed. Poking breaks the briquets and spoils the fire.

Firing Bituminous Coals.

The bituminous, or soft, coals are smoky and cover the flue surfaces with a large amount of soot and tar, which reduces the transfer of heat and impairs the draft. Bituminous coal should be fired by placing the fresh charge on one side of the grate only, leaving part of the surface of the fuel bed uncovered. The volatile matter rising from the freshly fired coal is ignited by the red-hot coal of the uncovered part of the fire and a large part of it burns.

Draft Regulation.

Draft regulation is perhaps the most important factor in burning coal efficiently in house-heating furnaces. The draft is regulated mainly with three dampers; one of these is on the ash-pit doors, one on the firing door, and one in the pipe connecting the furnace with the chimney.

The damper in the firing door supplies air over fire needed to burn the gases rising from the fuel bed; therefore, its regulation controls the completeness of combustion of these gases. When soft coal is burned a large volume of combustible gases rises from the fuel bed immediately after the firing; therefore, the damper in the fire door must be opened enough to allow the air necessary for burning the gases to enter the furnace.

3. KEEPING THE HOUSE TEMPERATURE LOWER.

In heating houses considerable fuel can be saved by keeping the temperature in the house 5 deg. or 10 deg. F. lower than is customary; instead of the temperature being between 70 deg. and 74 deg. F., it can be kept between 62 deg. and 68 deg. F. without any discomfort or any danger to health. In fact, some medical authorities ascribe the "colds" common in winter to living in too warm houses. Thus Dr. William Brady writes:

"Air need never be heated above 65 deg. F. for comfort. Anything above that point represents waste and extravagance. It simply runs up a big coal bill and opens various doors to the coming of the doctor. The onset of cough in winter is almost a sure sign of extravagance."

Keeping the house temperature lower is the easiest way to save fuel. It is fuel saved by doing less work. As to the question of health, more sickness is caused by having a house too warm than by keeping it too cold.

4. HEATING FEWER ROOMS.

Another easy saving of fuel can be effected by heating fewer rooms in the house. In many houses the family can get along comfortably by instead of heating six or seven rooms. And this can be done with keeping warm three or four rooms out any real hardship on the family. If one stops to think that 55 per cent. of the families in Berlin, Germany, live, sleep, cook and eat in the same room, living in three or four warm rooms will seem a comfort. Really only the three rooms in which the family lives need to be heated at all. If consumptives can get well by sleeping outdoors, why could not well people keep well by sleeping in unheated bedrooms with the windows wide open?

5. SHORTENING THE HEATING SEASON.

In some homes the furnace is started too early in the fall and is run too late in the spring. The chimneys of these homes are belching smoke and spreading soot over their neighborhood, while the neighbors keep windows and doors open to the outside air and even sit on the front porches. These faint-hearted people in their fear of catching cold heat their houses unnecessarily; thus they waste the country's coal, increase their coal bills, invite sickness into their homes, and make life unpleasant to their neighbors. When mornings and evenings are chilly a grate fire for a short time in one or two rooms will make the house comfortable.

IT REALLY DOES

end pain, prevent festering and heal. This is why those who have once used Zam-Buk will never use any other ointment.

Miss Viola Hubley, of Upper Gosshen, N.B., writes: "My sister had sores on her foot that commenced like boils and then discharged. She suffered such intense pain that she could not wear her shoes and had to remain in the house. We commenced using Zam-Buk and the pain soon disappeared. Then the sores stopped discharging and before long the places were entirely healed over. We shall never be without Zam-Buk again."

For eczema, blood-poisoning and piles, cuts and burns Zam-Buk is equally good. All dealers, 50c box.

"No," guardedly replied Pat, "only your mother and me."

GRANDEST ON EARTH DECLARES THOMAS

Gains Seventeen Pounds by Taking Tanlac—Wife Was Also Benefited.

"I have gained seventeen pounds and the only reason I can give for my wonderful improvement is that Tanlac is an extraordinary medicine," said A. H. Thomas, a well known employee of the Wright Ship Building Company, and living at 802½ South 9th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

"The cause of my trouble," he continued, "started about six years ago, when I accidentally struck the back of my head a very hard blow. I paid little attention to it at first but in a short while I commenced to have headaches, which kept getting worse until I could hardly stand them. These awful headaches with the worry about my condition seemed to undermine my whole system and my general health got to be bad. My appetite left me, my stomach got in a terrible condition and I was down in bed for several weeks. What little I managed to eat seemed to do me harm instead of good, as it would ferment, causing gas and intense pain. I was very restless at night, would dose off for a while and then wake up and roll and toss for hours. I was tired and sluggish all the time, and never felt equal to my work.

"I tried different medicines hoping to find something that would help my stomach and build me up in a general way, but I failed to find the right thing until I got Tanlac. This medicine has proven to be exactly what I needed. It has gotten my stomach in splendid condition, my appetite is fine and I can eat just anything I want and enjoy it. I do not suffer a particle with gas and indigestion, and I sleep so well that I hate to get up in the mornings, and I seldom have a headache. I am feeling fine in every way now and my wife, who has only been taking Tanlac a short while, has been benefited a great deal already. It's the grandest medicine on earth, there's no doubt about that."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

OUR REVERSAL OF CHINESE WAYS

(By Rev. John H. MacVicar, D. D.)
Wei-hwei, Honan, China.

Everybody knows what a curious topsy-turvydom China is. From our viewpoint the Chinese do everything upside down and inside out. We have the garden outside the house; the Chinese have the house outside the garden; their house, or "compound," being really a succession of houses, one court leading into another, so that the house actually surrounds the garden, not the garden the house. We begin to build the house with the foundation. The Chinese begin with the roof, and when that has been made ready build up the walls. In a boat we pull the oar towards us, the Chinese push it away. On opening a book we find the first page against the left-hand cover, the Chinese find it against the right hand cover; we read across the page from left to right the Chinese read down the page from right to left. We observe the right hand as a position of honor, the Chinese observe the left hand. And so it goes on.

In all this we insist that it is the Chinese who do everything backwards; but after all, it is just a question whether it is not we who do things backwards, for the Chinese were doing all these things, and a great many more, long before we ever began to do them at all. China is notable for its arrested development. When our grandfathers were still scattering seed by hand, like the man in the parable, the Chinese used seeding machines. Probably long before us they were in the habit of grafting fruit trees; and when I am eating persimmons I sometimes wonder if they did not anticipate Burbank with seedless fruit, but fail to get credit for it. In a mountain-mill in Honan I came upon a turbine wheel of a kind which the Chinese have likely used for centuries, although, if I mistake not, it is only within comparatively recent years that we have heard so much about turbine wheels in our ocean steamers. One day when I was studying in the Encyclopedia Britannica a subject that had nothing to do with China, I came upon a statement that as early as the eleventh century the Chinese had what they called magic mirrors by means of which images were thrown upon a screen in a disc of light. Was this the germ of our belloptican or mirroscope by means of which pictures from books or postcards can be magnified and thrown upon a screen? I have even sometimes fancied when I have been watching boys out here flying kites if the main idea of an aeroplane is not traceable to a form of kite I have seen which has a dozen planes, instead of one or two.

In some things the Chinese have been away ahead of us, not behind; but they did not go on. They are only now beginning to go on. At the close of the Great War, in which they are throwing their resources on the side of the Allies, who knows how much faster they may move in future, as the result of closer touch with the outside world and the new sense of responsibility created by it? The tremendous missionary problem in China is not that of Anglicizing or Canadianizing the Chinese, but rather that of giving them—in place of a theory, form or ceremony—life and the power to live it. The most revolutionary reversal of Chinese ways will come when, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, they press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus, and in Bushnell's phrase, make "progress through oblivion of the past."

HARVESTING NUTS AS A PATRIOTIC PASTIME

Throughout Canada there is a generous supply of nut-bearing trees which yield an abundance of edible nuts rich in food value, as the butternut, black walnut, the hickories, hazel nuts and beech nuts. Nuts are more nutritious than milk, eggs, bread and meat, one ounce of nut kernels being equal in food value to a pint of milk. Nuts are ready to eat without the labor and cost of cooking. They may be served in the form of delicious sandwiches, in salads, in fruit jellies and cakes, or a handful may be kneaded into a loaf of bread before it goes into the oven. A few kernels put through the nut chopper and scattered over the breakfast cereal adequately supply the place of bacon.

This important food crop is waiting in the woods to be gathered in. A few afternoons spent nutting in the woods during the bright autumn days will supply the home with nuts for the winter and will save the meat supply for our country's defense. After gathering the nuts should be spread on the attic floor or on shelves in a dry place to allow the surface moisture to escape. They may be cracked at leisure by the boys and girls in dull weather and stored in air tight glass jars.

A few of the finest nuts should be saved for planting nearer home. Nothing will give the children greater pleasure than to choose and plant their own nut trees. If space allows, a future nut orchard might be planned or young trees transplanted as shade trees. The beech is a very beautiful tree, both in winter and summer and the butternut, walnut and hickory make good garden shade trees and their wood is very valuable.

The butternut occurs from New Brunswick to Ontario, while the black walnut is found in the southern part of Ontario. The shagbark hickory ranges from Quebec to the north shore of Lake Huron, the mockernut hickory occurring in Ontario only. The hazel nut extends from the Maritime Provinces to Saskatchewan; the beaked hazel nut has an even greater range extending into British Columbia. The beech ranges from Nova Scotia to Ontario.

Official notification from Ottawa has been received by his father that Pte. John J. Goetz, son of A. A. Goetz, of the Franklin House, Hamilton, and nephew of Joe Phelan, of Arthur, was admitted to No. 1 Australian hospital, Rouen, on Sept. 28 wounded and gassed.

Chas. Mauer, 69 years old, was burned to death in his barn, 12th Con., Brant township, shortly before noon a week ago Saturday. After saving the cattle he re-entered the barn to save the pigs, and never returned. The barn and crops was a total loss. The strawstack is thought to have been ignited by boys playing with matches.

James McLauchlan, a veteran Owen Sound manufacturer, celebrated his 85th birthday recently. A number of his employees signalized the occasion by presenting him with an address and a gold mounted suitcase umbrella, suitably inscribed.

Adam A. Armstrong, of Fergus, recently shipped 23 Oxford Down sheep to the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, for re-shipment to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. He also shipped seven direct to New Brunswick and seven to Prince Edward Island.

A cousin of David Brocklebank, of Arthur, Dr. Sinclair, of Port Huron, has had a unique honor as a member of the army medical corps of the United States army. He gave medical treatment to the first soldier of the American Expeditionary Force, wounded in France.

THRIFTING, ARE YOU?

(By Edmund Vance Cooke.)

We think we are thrifting,
But maybe we're drifting,
And the coin that we clink is not saving but shifting,
For seemingly spending
Goes on without ending
And heedlessness still is the tend of our trending.

In gleaning my meaning,
You'll find gasolining
Is still used for dusting instead of for cleaning;
And most of us batten
On fine fare and fatten,
While robing our softness in purple and satin.

Oh, maybe you're guilty and maybe you're not,
But ask: "Have I thrifted as much as I ought?"
Our thrifting is fickle,
It runs in a trickle.
We pickle a nickel to give us a tickle,
Then ride on the trolleys
To go to the Follies
And hand ourselves thanks and a couple of jollies.

Man still goes on puffing,
Imbibing, and stuffing,
And holding enough yet without "Hold! enough!"-ing,
While woman still poses
And shows us her hoses,
All silken and sheer to excuse her discloses.

At the end of the day, if you're feeling too good,
Ask this: "Have I thrifted as much as I should?"

STORAGE OF POTATOES.

The losses from improper storage of potatoes are of far greater economic importance than is generally realized. These losses are brought about by a variety of factors which may be grouped in three divisions, e. g. Physical, Mechanical and Pathological.

The chief loss from physical factors is brought about by the storage of immature stock. Potatoes that are to be stored should be thoroughly ripe, that is, the stalks should be dead, and the tubers should adhere firmly to the stems. Potatoes may have their stalks prematurely killed so as to resemble a natural death by being attacked by late or early blight, rhizoctonia, the flea beetle or potato bug, but upon examination the tubers under such plants will be found immature and unfit for best storage results. Frost bitten and sunburned to also come in this division.

The mechanical factors that bring about loss in storage are chiefly brought about by careless handling of the crop at harvest time, such as broken, cracked or chipped tubers due to improper digging and rough usage in gathering the crop. The slightest injury to the skin of the potato lays it open to invasion of myriads of decay producing spores, which when given the proper conditions will rapidly spread decay through the entire lot.

Under the pathological factors come the tubers affected by disease. Undoubtedly the late blight (Phytophthora infestans) is the most common, as well as the most destructive. Tubers affected by this disease are almost certain to decay in storage; nor is this decay confined to the diseased tubers, but spreads rapidly to the healthy ones, unless preventive measures are employed, and perfect storage provided.

The decay of potatoes in storage may be caused by a number of organisms, while each organism may have its own particular form of attack, still it is gratifying to know that the remedial measures are the same in each case.

The following suggestions regarding the storage of potatoes, if followed carefully, will practically eliminate the losses from decay of potatoes in storage.

1. Spray your potatoes frequently and carefully during the summer with Bordeaux mixture.

2. Delay digging your potatoes, if possible, until the tops are dead and dry.

3. Avoid covering potatoes, after they are dug, with the tops, to protect them from sun or frost.

4. Carefully examine all potatoes to be stored, and remove immature broken, cracked, chipped, sun-bitten, frost-bitten or diseased tubers.

5. Never store your potatoes while wet.

6. Have the tubers free from dirt. If dirty, the soil fills up the spaces between the tubers and prevents the circulation of air.

7. Provide a dry cellar with abundant ventilation, where the temperature can be between 31 deg. and 40 deg. F.

8. Keep the storage room as cool as possible directly after the product is stored.

9. Fill your bins gradually; by so doing, the potatoes that are put in first have lost their heat before they are covered by another layer.

10. Carefully sort your stored potatoes at intervals during storage, and remove all tubers showing signs of disease or decay.

COMBS.

Combs have been used in the toilet since very ancient times. The Greek, the Egyptian and the Roman ladies used them to arrange and hold up their hair; even ladies among the Swiss lake dwellers of archeological times, seem to have been familiar with them. Some of these were made of wood, some of bone, of horn or of ivory. Specimens have often been found in recent years.

An inland revenue officer visited Brampton the other day and bought a styptic pencil in each of two drug stores without a war stamp being affixed. A third druggist was also called on, but he was wise and affixed the required stamp.

At Hepworth when returning from the 9.47 p.m. G. T. R. train, Mr. A. Tennant, local mail man, was held up at his own door and an attempt made to sand-bag him. He warded off the blows and called for help. There were two accomplices, one acting as a scout in the nearby bushes while the other stood on the step. The night was dark so that to recognize them as certain was very difficult.

DEATH OF JAMES BROWN.

Melancthon Pioneer Passed Away After an Illness of Over Two Years.

James Brown, one of Melancthon's best known citizens, passed away on Wednesday, Oct. 2nd, 1918, after an illness of over two years. He was in his 81st year.

The late Mr. Brown was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1838, and came to Melancthon with his parents in 1852. His father was a grocer in the Old Country and James was his only son. It will be seen that Mr. Brown was only fourteen years old when he arrived in the township. His early education, however, had not been neglected. On the 23rd of March, 1854 (when not quite sixteen years of age) he secured a sub-contract from Jas. Beachell to carry the mail from Melancthon to Horning's Mills, thence to Osprey (now Maple Valley), thence to Mad River Mills (now Singhampton), thence to Nottawasaga (now Duntroon), for $120 a year. He left Melancthon Thursday and usually got back next day, travelling sometimes on horseback, but generally on foot. In the same year that he secured this contract he was appointed postmaster at Melancthon, which office he held until about two years ago, his daughter, Miss Alice Brown, succeeding him. On Oct. 1st, 1855, he took the contract of carrying the mail from Mono Mills to Johnstown (now Chatsworth). He left Melancthon Tuesday and reached Mono Mills the same night, returning to Melancthon the following day. On Thursday he would leave Melancthon for Chatsworth, returning home on Saturday night. He retained this contract for four years—until the route was changed in 1850, receiving from the government $440 a year. There was no Shelburne at that time but there was a post office at Coleridge kept by Joseph Trueman. It would take a good many columns to recount the adventures of Mr. Brown during his term as mail carrier for Her Majesty in those early days. Many times the difficulties seemed unsurmountable, but he generally found some way out. On one occasion he was endeavoring to ascend a certain steep hill in Mono (at a spot known as the Devil's Glen). It was a cold day in winter, the road was very icy and the horse poorly shod. Time and again did the horse try to get up the hill, but to no purpose, until finally Mr. Brown took the socks off his own feet and put them on the front feet of the horse. This proved to be a happy thought, for the ascent was then made without further difficulty. At other seasons of the year he would be jumping from log to log over floating crossways with the mail bag on his shoulders—always true to the task he had undertaken. Indeed, this was eminently characteristic of the man and the result was that Mr. Brown enjoyed the trust and respect of every man in the community.

In 1868 Mr. Brown was appointed a Commissioner in the High Court of Justice. He was elected township councillor in 1870, serving one year. During the years 1872, 1873 and 1874 he held the office of assessor and in 1875 he became clerk of the municipality, which office he held until about five years ago when his son-in-law, T. K. Slack, took over the duties of the office. Mr. Brown had been a Justice of the Peace since 1881.

When the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company was organized in 1895 Mr. Brown was made secretary and manager and under his capable and guiding hand a very strong local insurance company was formed. Mr. Brown resigned from this position about two years ago, owing to ill-health, and was succeeded in office by Thos. Whalley of Shelburne.

The late James Brown was in reality Melancthon's grand old man and also the pioneer settler of the New Survey. He was the friend and adviser of the entire locality and did all their legal work in the early days and acted as executor or administrator for scores of estates during his life time. During his many years' service as township clerk he was in touch with the entire population and was considered the best posted clerk on municipal law in the province. Any difficulties that happened to arise in neighboring municipalities were invarably submtted to the deceased for his opinion. He had the confidence of every resident of the township who knew that any business entrusted to him would be done properly and to their best interests. He is survived by his widow, one son, James Brown, at home, and four daughters, Mrs. T. K. Slack and Mrs. Jos. Gallaugher, of Melancthon; Mrs. John Johnston, Detroit, Mich., and Miss Alice Brown, postmistress of Melancthon.

The funeral on Friday last was very largely attended by residents of all parts of the county. The services at the house and grave were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Stotesbury, of Corbetton. The pallbearers were the president and five directors of the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of which the deceased was manager for over twenty years, viz., Wm. J. Jelly, Thos. Jennings, Wm. McGhee, Wm. Warnock, John Johnston and Josiah Marshall. Interment took place in Shelburne cemetery. The bereaved family has the sympathy of all in their great affliction.—Shelburne Free Press.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery!

Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

HENRY FORD ON THRIFT.

"By thrift we do not mean the hoarding of money, but the intelligent saving and investing of it. This saving and wise investing — this thrift—must not be confined to mere money and other material wealth, but must be applied to the elements of mind and body—for in thrift to make for growth there must be a surplus of human power, and in just such proportion will the income work for your health and your habits, and also lay up a portion of it to have, and to hold, and to use, when some of the unlooked-for contingencies of life arrive.

"The great street car systems of their country get their power from central stations, direct from generators, but they are also ever storing in batteries a sufficient quantity of current so that when the producing machinery shall be incapacitated for a season there will be something to draw on so that the wire may at all times be kept alive and the cars moving.

"Get a battery for yourself, in the shape of a bank account, and see that day by day something is stored up for the time when either your producing mechanism may be incapacitated or be worn beyond repair."

Rheumatism Entirely Gone

After Twenty-seven Years of Suffering—Swelling and Puffiness Has Disappeared — Not a Pain or an Ache Left.

A most astonishing cure of rheumatism and eczema has been reported here, and Mrs. Ray is enthusiastic in telling her many friends how cure was effected.

Rheumatism and eczema frequently go together, and in this case caused the most keen distress imaginable. All the swelling and puffiness resulting from many years of rheumatism have disappeared, and there is not a pain or an ache left.

Mr. G. H. Ray, R.R. No. 1, Kincardine, Ont., writes: "Mrs. Ray has been using your Kidney-Liver Pills. She was very bad with rheumatism and eczema, and had had that fearful itch for twenty-seven years. It was simply terrible what she suffered. I persuaded her to try $1.00 worth of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. She is now on the last box, and let me tell you she scarcely knows herself, she is so free from both these diseases. All the swelling and puffiness caused by the rheumatism has gone away, and she has gone down in weight 18½ pounds. She never has an ache nor pain, biliousness nor sick headache all these months. She often says herself 'How glad I am that I know what to do instead of paying doctors so much to make me worse.'"

There is only one way that the poisons in the blood can be cleaned away and the cause of pains and aches removed, and that is by the healthful action of the kidneys, liver and bowels. Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly and specifically on these organs and insure their action they remove the cause of rheumatism and other dreadfully painful and fatal diseases. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the box you buy.

AT WITLEY CAMP.

A Canadian Soldier Writes About Camp Life in England.

Mr. Alex. D McMaster, of Inglewood, has received the following letter from Gunner Geo. Atkinson, formerly teacher in the Mono College school:

Witley Camp, Sept. 16, 1918.

Dear Alex.,

Received your letter some time ago and as I have some spare time tonight I will answer it. I was certainly glad to get your letter as any news from Canada is welcome to a Canadian soldier. It seems to be the soldier's paradise to get mail from Canada. Consequently if he gets no mail he is a very disappointed fellow.

I understand from your letter that you have moved from Orangeville to Inglewood. I hope you like your new home which I think is not far from Brampton. Brampton is a real nice town and although you are not as near a town as you were at Orangeville I think you will like it where you are.

You certainly had some experience moving from one place to the other and I guess you were glad when you were finished.

I have just been on a two days' leave which I got as a result of being on a foot-drill class. There were 24 of us picked out of over a thousand men to compete against another 24 men of another battery. I was lucky enough to be one of the 24 picked out and felt even more lucky when our class won the competition. The Captain of our Battery was so tickled that he gave us two and a half days leave and it was certainly good to have our freedom again. The other fellows were all wishing they could be lucky enough to get leave too. I went to a fairly large town in England and the sights I saw were certainly worth seeing. There is certainly some pretty scenery in the southern part of England—the quaint old-fashioned homes covered with ivy, the winding lanes with hedges on both sides, the parks filled with beautiful flowers and the other numerous scenes all appeal to the aesthetic tastes of a person.

After I landed in England I was stationed at Frensham Pond Camp, there over two months and was then moved to Witley Camp. I like Witley very well, especially as the accommodations surpass those of Frensham Pond. At Frensham Pond Camp we lived in tents and as there were ten men to every tent and every man had nearly enough property to fill the tent, you can possibly imagine what we thought of those dear old tents. However one things seems to be very prominent in a soldier's life and that is the fact that he doesn't stay long in one place. That was one time we were glad, although in all other respects we liked the Camp. However, when we got moved to Witley about seven miles from Frensham, we soon forgot about the tents as here they live in huts. These huts are very comfortable and dry. They hold 30 people and each man has a bunk, which is about 4 feet wide and 6 feet long. We are given three blankets, which with our great coats are supposed to keep us warm. We also have hooks to hang our clothes and kit on. We are certainly thankful to have the bunks and also to be rid of the rain which used to bother us in the tent. We went to our sergeant one day and told him about the water coming in. This is what he said: "Move your blankets and yourself outside and the rain won't come in on you."

It was some joke, but you can imagine how we took it. Our work here is not very hard yet as there is not room enough to go into the school here. I expect I will be going into the school next Sunday, Sept. 22nd. The course for a driver is three weeks, after which he is ready for draft for France.

Well, Alex, my thoughts often travel back to dear old Canada, to the place where I made my first attempt at teaching school. You can't imagine what a good education does for a fellow in the army. I have often been thankful to my mother and father for the good bringing up that they gave me. It has certainly come in handy since I got in the army as the temptations to go on the wrong path are many.

Remember me to Jean and James. I hope they have a good teacher and I know they will certainly get along well at school if they do. Of course moving away will affect them some and may put them back a little, but I know they will soon make that good. I suppose Orangeville is getting to be a pretty quiet place since so many young fellows have gone. Orangeville has long since done its share as have a good many other places in Canada. It looks as though the Allies are on the last lap now, although how long the lap will last remains to be seen.

Well, Alex., I will have to close for this time. Kindly excuse the mistakes as I haven't much time and also because the fellows are having some time just now singing those old Canadian songs which bring up so many memories of the past. Tell your mother I will try to find time to write her a letter soon. The last I heard, my brother at the front was still well. He had been in France 31 months and had been in over fifteen battles. As far as I know he had not got hurt at all. I remain,

Your old friend,
GEO. ATKINSON.

SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA.

Sudden Death of Flight Lieut. Harold Yates, at Dayton, Ohio, on Saturday.

Orangeville was inexpressibly saddened this week by the news of the death of Flight Lieut. Harold Yates, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Yates, West Broadway. The sad event occurred at Dayton, Ohio, on Saturday, after a short week's illness due to influenza, following by pneumonia. The young officer—he was only 23 years and 7 months of age—arrived home from overseas on March 4th last, having been given leave as a result of injuries sustained in a flying accident. He was a young man of pleasant ways, with a winning personality and during his short stay in town made many warm friends, particularly amongst the younger people with whom he became very popular. His health improved rapidly and last July he left for Chicago to take a position as instructor in military tactics. His enthusiasm for his work, mechanical ability and knowledge of aircraft brought speedy recognition and six weeks ago he was given a position as inspector for the U. S. Government with the Bureau of Aircraft Production at Dayton, Ohio. When taken ill he was final inspector of aeroplanes and every machine turned out by the Dayton-Wright Aeroplane Co., one of the largest concerns in the United States, had to receive his O. K. before it would be accepted by the War Department. The position was one of great responsibility and his selection for the post was a fine tribute to Lieut. Yates' ability.

Two brothers and a sister were at his bedside during his last illness and when the end came. Officials of his Department assisted with the funeral and transportation arrangements, which were completed with such despatch that the body reached Orangeville from Toronto on Monday morning. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from the home of his parents to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. The casket, in which the remains reposed, was draped with a beautiful Union Jack, a tribute from the officers of the Ordnance Dept, at Dayton. On the centre of the casket rested the young officer's helmet and belt. A detachment of High School cadets commanded by Capt. Firth and accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Preston, acted as a military escort. From the stricken home the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Mark's church, where the impressive service of the Anglican church was read by the rector, Rev. F. Eley, in the presence of a large congregation. During the service the choir led in the singing of the hymns, "Peace, Perfect Peace," and "The Sands of Time are Sinking," and at the close the organist, Miss Ruth Shaw, played the Dead March in Saul. The short service at the grave concluded with the sounding of "The Last Post."

The pallbearers were Messrs. R. B. Heard, Geo. A. Moore, Ted Dorrington, Fred Atkinson, Russell Morrow and Harold Heaslip.

The floral tributes included wreaths from officials of the U. S. Ordnance Department and the Inspectors of the Dayton-Wright Aeroplane Co., a pillow from the family, wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Yates, Preston; spray, Miss Irene Hutchings, Toronto; spray, Miss Ruth Shaw, Orangeville; anchor, Harold Heaslip and Geo. A. Moore, Orangeville.

The young officer is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. R. E. Winter, Indianapolis; Major C. E. Yates, of Culver University staff, late of the Royal Irish and Essex infantry; W. H. Yates, Chicago; Miss Hazel, Red Deer, Alta.; Miss Ruby, at home, and Ted, of the Bank of Commerce staff. Our citizens unite in extending their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

While overseas Lieut. Yates spent most of his time at Eastbourne training for the flying service on the Western front. While he was flying at a height of one thousand feet his machine side-slipped and crashed. He retained sufficient presence of mind to pull the control lever in such a way as to throw one wing downward, thus breaking the force of the impact. To this he probably owed his life. As it was his nose was broken, he was badly bruised and shocked and was pinned down under the wreckage for close to an hour. On another occasion he was a passenger on an aeroplane which crashed into a dike and received another severe shaking up. The effects of the two accidents unfitted him for further training and he was given leave home under the supervision of the Medical Board.

THE LATE HUGH M'KENNA.

After an illness of one week, Mr. Hugh McKenna, one of the old residents of Mono township, passed away recently at the age of 74 years and 9 months. His death, which took place on the farm on which he was born, was caused by inflammatory rheumatism. Deceased was a member of Mono Mills L. O. L. No. 192 and was also a Civil War veteran, having served as a private in the New York Infantry. In religion he was a Presbyterian. He was married to Miss Mary Henry, a daughter of the late John Henry, who survives her husband. He also leaves to mourn his loss one son, Robt. H. McKenna, of Glencross; two daughters, Mrs. Andrew Moffitt, Glencross, and Mrs. Albert Bagnell, Froude, Sask.; three sisters, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Wm. Meek and Mrs. R. G. White, and two brothers, John G. McKenna and Robert S. McKenna. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from his late residence to St. John's cemetery, 7th line, east, Mono. Rev. H. M. Lyon, Camilla, and Rev. A. C. McCollum, Mono East, conducted services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were R. G. McKenna, Robt. S. McKenna, Robt. Henry, John Henry, James Woulfe and John Smith.

DEATH OF ADNEY PENFIELD

One of the best known residents of this locality passed away on Sunday evening, in the person of Mr. Adney Penfield. Deceased had been in poor health for a long time and his death was not unexpected. He was in his 71st year and was born on the farm just south of Penville where his parents settled when they came to this country. The greater part of his life was spent on his farm on the 4th line four or five miles east of Tottenham, but the last eight years were spent in town. He was a very successful farmer and a great lover of horses and won many prizes at the fall fairs all over the country with his horses. As a neighbor he was always ready to assist in time of trouble and the large crowd which attended his funeral shows the esteem in which he was held. On Wednesday his remains were laid to rest in Mt. Tegart cemetery, service being conducted at the house and grave by Rev. J. H. Dudgeon. Mrs. Penfield and three daughters, Mrs. James McCurdy, Mrs. John C. Coffey and Mrs. Harvey Hastings, survive, also one brother, Albert, of Caledon East, and one sister, Mrs. Wm. Steele, of Tottenham. We join their many friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.—Tottenham Sentinel.

JOHN CUMBERLAND.

"He had reached the end, his lifework was finished, and so he lay down and went to sleep." These words were fittingly spoken in regard to the passing of Mr. John Cumberland, who suddenly and unexpectedly obeyed the summons of His Pilot on Monday morning after an illness of only thirty-six hours. Mr. Cumberland was stricken with pneumonia on Saturday and died on Monday morning after a short grim struggle. The end was very peaceful, and those who looked upon the quiet face can scarcely realize that the kindly eyes will never open, nor the gentle Irish raillery be turned upon them again. Mr. Cumberland's parents came from Tyrone, Ireland, and settled on the Bell farm, near Grahamsville, where Mr. Cumberland was born 80 years ago. Later the family removed to Rosemont in Adjala, one son, Mr. William Cumberland, still residing on the homestead. On his marriage Mr. Cumberland purchased a farm at Lisle, from which he moved after 25 years to the farm near Broddytown, where the family lived twenty years, removing to Brampton twelve years ago. Two sisters, Mrs. Clingan and Mrs. Heaney of Toronto, and two brothers, William, of Rosemont, and Judge Thomas Cumberland of Brandon, Man., survive. Of the immediate family the widow and Miss Bertha live in Brampton, one son, John T., in Pincher Creek, Alta., Mrs. J. S. Stilborn in Lemberg, Sask., Mrs. D. S. Larmour, in Yorkton, Sask., and Mrs. Ed. Harrop in Lewyan, Sask. The funeral took place to Brampton cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. Malcolm McArthur of the Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Cumberland was a lifelong member. Mr. Cumberland, though confined to the house for several years with rheumatism, took a very lively interest in all current events, especially in connection with the war. He was a warm friend of the Conservative party. He will be greatly missed by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances. To his sorrowing widow and children is extended the sympathy of the entire community in this sudden bereavement.—Conservator.

DEATH OF W. F. LEFLAR.

The death of William Franklin Leflar, an esteemed citizen of this town, took place at his home in Mill street, about 8.30 o'clock on Thursday evening after several months illness from an incurable internal malady. Deceased, who was 59 years of age, was born in Chinguacousy township, but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Leflar, moved to Sydenham while he was quite young. The subject of our sketch married Miss Lizzie Hunt, of Egremont, 29 years ago and about the same time moved to Balaclava, where he kept store for three years. He was also in business in Mount Forest, Owen Sound and Calgary, before moving to Orangeville between two and three years ago. He is survived by a widow, two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Cook, of Detroit, and Mrs. Allen Cranston, Orangeville, two brothers, George Leflar, of Annan, and John Leflar, of Balaclava, and an uncle, Albert Leflar, Orangeville. The sympathy of many friends is extended to the sorrowing family and relatives. Deceased was a staunch Methodist and took an active interest in church and Sunday School work. He was an excellent Bible student and was President of the Methodist church Bible Class. He was also a valued member of the church choir. Politically he adhered to the Liberal party. The funeral was held from his late residence to the C. P. R. station at 9.30 o'clock Saturday morning, Rev. T. R. White, of Alton, conducting a short service at the house. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Hudd, Geo. Nicholson, James Irwin, N. A. Statis, Albert Smith, Caledon, and James Wise. The remains were taken to Owen Sound for burial, interment taking place in Greenwood cemetery after the arrival of the C. P. R. train. Rev. J. B. Fraser conducted the service at the grave. The floral tributes included a wreath from the Methodist Bible Class and Sunday School, a wreath from the Methodist choir, spray from Mr and Mrs. W. G. Cranston and wreaths from Mr. Albert Leflar and the family.

DEATH OF MRS. LYNCH.

The death of an old and greatly respected former resident of this town occurred this week in the person of Mrs. Letitia Hall Lynch, widow of the late Rev. John Lynch, a minister of the Methodist church. The sad occurrence took place at her home, 78 Hazelton Ave., Toronto, on Monday. The late Mrs. Lynch was born in Ireland, but came to Canada with her parents while still an infant. The family settled in Orangeville shortly afterwards and Mrs. Lynch resided in this town the greater part of her life. Eleven years ago she moved to Toronto, where she has since lived. She is survived by a family of four, Misses Minnie and Elinore, who lived with their mother, Mrs. (Rev.) D. B. Kennedy, of Elkhorn, Man., and Fred H. Lynch, of San Francisco, Cal. Another son, Wm. died some years ago. Rev. Dr. W. H. Hincks, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Toronto, and Rev. Dr. Langford, a former pastor in Orangeville, held the funeral service at her home at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. station to the Forest Lawn cemetery yesterday morning.

SOLDIERS RETURN HOME.

Gunners Robert G. Pratt, son of Councillor John Pratt, of Amaranth; Wilfrid Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowe, Orangeville, and Harold Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall, of Mono, got a rousing reception when they stepped off the train at the C. P. R. depot on Wednesday night of last week upon their arrival home from overseas. An immense crowd was on hand for the homecoming. A big auto procession was formed and the boys were escorted up town in triumph. Receptions were afterwards held at their respective homes and in Laurel Methodist church. The young men are medical students and have returned home to resume their studies. They have been in the thick of the fighting for nearly two years.

A MAN'S JOB.

His many friends hereabouts will be interested in the following extracts from a letter written by Pte. Hugh V. Cooper, a Mono boy, who is now completing his training in England:

Witley Camp, Sept. 8, 1918

Dear Friend,—

Just a line to tell you I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. I thought of you several times and wished I had your address. Well, I have had several days leave and went to Aberdeen. It is some place. I had a jake of a time. We have passed in nearly all the different drills, such as gas bombing, wiring, etc. We live in huts and our bunks are about one foot off the floor, so there is no danger of falling out and hurting oneself. It is raining here now and I guess there will be no church this morning. I get about ten or twelve letters each week, so I know all that is going on in the home town.

The other boys from Niagara are here. I saw some of them yesterday. They like the army about the same way I do myself. The war is going along faster now. We will see the last of it. I always said I would have to help finish it, so when it is over I will go down to see you and hope it will not be too long. Do you think they will call up the nineteen year class? It would be too bad, for this is no boys' job. It takes a man. At least that is what this boy thinks about it. This will be all now. Write soon, for a letter is always welcome here.

AN OAK SOUVENIR.

A few days ago Mr. W. A. Clayton, of Grand Valley, received a letter from his nephew, Pte. Norman Sutckey, Canadian Forestry Corps, Sunnydale Park, England, and with it a piece of oak about 6 inches square and half an inch thick. The tree from which it was taken was planted 1,100 years ago by William the Conqueror, in Windsor Forest, where the Canadians are now at work. They are not permitted to cut any oak or any other hard timbers, but this tree was blown over and the King granted permission to have it cut up as souvenirs for the Canadian boys.

INFLUENZA IN AMARANTH.

A decidedly serious outbreak of the dreaded Spanish influenza has occurred in the township of Amaranth. Dr. Campbell, of Grand Valley, M. O. H. for the municipality, has already attended upwards of ninety cases. No less than seven members of the household of Thos. H. Keyes, near Amaranth Station, are laid up with the malady Mrs. Keys has pneumonia as well and is in a serious condition. The first death occurred on Tuesday morning. The victim was Henry Ritchie, a young man of 20 years, son of Mr Wm. Ritchie, of the 10th line. His death was caused by larnygitis and other complications following a severe attack of influenza.

PINNED UNDER CAR.

Dr. A. F. Reynar, of Palgrave, had a very narrow escape while on his way to make a professional call one night recently. Meeting a rig on a narrow part of the road, the car was precipitated over a steep embankment, turning completely upside down and pinning the medical man underneath the steering wheel. His companion managed to get out and pried the car up enough to allow the doctor to breathe freely until help could be secured, when he was released from his precarious position not much the worse for his exciting experience, except for a few slight abrasions. The windshield of the car was badly broken but not much other damage was done.

RETURNED TO GUELPH.

A rink of Guelph bowlers won back the Bowman trophy on Friday afternoon. The defenders gave the visitors a stiff argument and the result was doubtful almost to the last. Bryden, the Guelph skip, won the game for the Royal City quartette by drawing shot with the last bowl on a couple of occasions when Orangeville was lying three. The players:

Guelph—E. H. Johns, George M. Yates, R. Mahoney, R. H. Bryden, skip.

Orangeville—Chas. Wright, A. D. Torrie, A. D. McIntyre, C. F. Jeffers, skip.

Wounded in the left foot was the gist of a message received by Mr. and Mrs. Abram Stinson, of 185 Concord avenue, Toronto, formerly of Caledon, regarding their son, Pte. H. E. Stinson, which declared that he was put out of action on Oct. 1. He was 29 years of age and previous to enlisting was employed as a commercial traveller.

MONO BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Mono Board of Health, at a meeting held on Saturday, Oct. 12th, decided to send out notices to the various school teachers throughout the township, in regard to the prevention as far as possible of the spread of Spanish influenza. They ask any home affected not to mingle with the public; also all pupils in whose homes the disease exists to be kept from school, and depend on the parents to see that this regulation is observed. If not observed strict quarantine will have to be enforced.

FALL CHAUTAUQUA.

Orangeville will have another three day Chautauqua this month. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 30 and 31, Nov. 1 are the dates fixed for the big event. Those who enjoyed the splendid programs given at the spring Chautauqua will welcome the opportunity to enjoy another three days of high-class entertainment. Particulars will appear in The Banner in due course.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Would persons wishing Christmas presents sent to town boys overseas kindly send in names and addresses to Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mrs. Fisher or Miss McKay.

The Daughters of the Empire have purchased an Honor Roll and would like the names of all boys who have gone from town overseas. Kindly send names to Mrs. W. E. Irvine, Regent.

Mrs. Dorrington, of Alton, addressed the Daughters on the subject "Thanksgiving," at the last regular meeting which was held at the home of Miss G. Irvine.

Red Cross rooms are open every Wednesday afternoon as usual. Those having socks finished will please return by Nov. 1st to the Red Cross rooms or to Miss Clark, First street.

The hospital staff wish to thank Mr. J. Norris for a kind donation of eggs.

The Fifty Club fees are due for October and are payable to the treasurer, Miss E. McKay.

FORWARD MOVEMENT.

Important Meeting to be Held in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday, October 29th.

Orangeville Presbytery is making arrangements for a big meeting in St. Andrew's church, Orangeville, on Tuesday, October 29th, in the interests of the Forward Movement in the Presbyterian Church. Ministers and representative laymen are expected here from all parts of the Presbytery. The main purpose of the Forward Movement is the quickening of the spiritual life of the church, which it is hoped will find expression in a more aggressive evangelism at home and abroad. Four of the church leaders in Canada, Dr. J. S. Henderson, Vancouver; Dr. R. P. MacKay, Toronto; Dr. W. J. Clark, Montreal, and John A. Patterson, K. C., Toronto, will deliver addresses, any one of which should amply repay for the time spent attending the meeting. There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The program follows:

10.30 a. m.

The Church and Canada—Dr Henderson.

Evangelizing the Orient—Dr. Mackay.

2.30 p. m.

Men for the Ministry—Dr. Henderson.

The Rank and File of the Church—Dr. Clark.

8 p. m.

Personal Consecration—Dr. Clark.
Re-dedication of Our Youth—Dr. Henderson.
Stewardship—Jno. A. Patterson, K.C.

Women are cordially invited and a large attendance of men and women is expected from every congregation in the Presbytery.

W. M. S. THANKOFFERING.

The Fall Thankoffering meeting of St. Andrew's church Women's Missionary Society will be held in the school room of the church at 3.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Clark, secretary of the Society's work among the Indians of Western Canada, will address the meeting. A musical program is being arranged and the ladies are looking forward to a pleasant and helpful meeting.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

A missionary meeting will be held in St. Matthew's church, Mono, on Tuesday, Oct. 22nd, at which by special request Rev. and Mrs. P. C. Howard will speak on their work in the far north. A few musical items of a sacred character will also be provided. Silver collection for local Red Cross purposes.

NEW HEALTH FOR WOMEN.

The most fateful years in a woman's life are those between forty-five and fifty. Many of the sex enter this period under depressing conditions through overwork or worry about the home, or through a condition in which the blood is weak or watery and so they suffer heavily. Among the commonest symptoms are headaches, feverish flushes, palpitation of the heart, dizziness, backache, depression and other well recognized disturbances of the health which signalizes that the blood requires attention. Women urgently need rich, red blood all their lives, but never more so than in middle-life, when the nerves are also weak and overwrought.

Now every woman can prove the prompt help afforded to her health by renewing and building up the blood. It is a test that any ailing woman can make by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for these pills make rich, red blood, which in turn stimulates the appetite, strengthens the nerves and restores full robust health. Thousands of women have found in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills new health and strength and with these a new happiness and interest in life.

So if you suffer, avail yourself at once of the splendid home treatment which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills so easily afford, and you will be among those who rejoice in regained health. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IN BLIGHTY.

Jas. G. Ward Was Wounded August 16th; Had Trench Fever and Was Also Slightly Gassed.

Mr. S. C. W. Hughson has received a letter from Jas. G. Ward, Past County Master of Dufferin County L. O. L., in which W. Bro. Ward states that he was wounded on Aug. 16th, and is now in a hospital in England. The letter reads:

Northampton, Sept. 14, 1918.

Dear Friend Stewart:

Just a few lines to let you know that I am still in the game, although temporarily disabled. I have been in Blighty since August 21st. Was hit on August 16th, after several days' scrapping and will likely be in England for a couple of months yet. I have my right arm in splints yet, which makes it awkward writing. Also got a touch of gas and a good dose of trench fever, but I am progressing favorably and hope to be in shape for another slam at old Jerry after awhile. We sure put his wind up this time. We are having cold, showery weather now, not a bit pleasant. I generally take a walk in the afternoons, but there isn't much speed in me yet. The hospital is a fine place to stay. Everyone is just as nice as can be. I never get out of bed for breakfast—some change from life on the Somme. I often wonder how I have come through it alive. There is an old saying, better to be born lucky than rich. Tell them not to send any more Banners. I haven't received one yet. It seems very hard to get papers to come through. Now I think I must close. I am not very handy with the pencil yet. Trusting that this may find you all hearty, I remain as ever,

MUST ENLARGE.

U. S. Government Orders Rochester Can Company to Enlarge Its Plant.

Rochester Can Company, Hague street, which has trebled its size since the war began, has received another order from the Federal Government at Washington further to enlarge its plant.

The order requires that 47,000 square feet of floor space immediately be added to the factory. This will be done by erecting another storey on the present plant. In addition, it is probable that a second and third additional storey may be required by the government.

Before going to Washington last night in response to a government call, Malcolm E. Gray, president of the company, said:

"I have received such an order and am going to get specifications on just what is required. One storey will be added to the present building and very likely two, as 47,000 square feet of space is demanded. However, the building is so constructed that it can be raised to a seven storey structure without difficulty. We have a plot of land running north from Glencairn Park and may have to utilize this for an additional building but I think this can be avoided by increasing our height, rather than spreading out."

The Rochester Can Company is making hundreds of thousands of helmets for the American soldiers and many other war materials demanded by the government. Federal officials have asked Mr. Gray whether he could be available to go to France to construct and operate war materials' buildings there but he has not given a reply.—Rochester, N. Y., Times-Union.

THE MAIL ORDER HOUSES.

Under the caption "Trading with Toronto," the Peterborough, Ont., Review again points the moral that the best way to meet the mail order competition is to fight advertising with advertising. We reprint the editorial herewith, trusting that it may make an impression on some merchants:

"Several dray loads of trade catalogues of a well-known department store in Toronto have just been delivered in Peterborough. The post office is cluttered up with these volumes, every one of which weighs over a pound, and the letter carriers are weighted down with them on their rounds. The rural mail deliverers, too, are finding their duties somewhat more than doubled for a few days in the work of distribution, as a large percentage of these catalogues go to the country.

"Every such catalogue so received is a dead loss to the city as it will divert money to Toronto, money that would be better invested at home. And the pity of it is that anything listed in the catalogue can be secured in Peterborough on terms just as advantageous as those offered by the department store. It is the advertising that draws the custom to the larger centre, and the tide can be turned by the home merchants making the same free use of printer's ink."

MAKING GOOD TIME ON FRENCH ROADS

Military despatch riders, the motor cyclist successors of the old army courier, commonly cover a hundred miles in three hours over the French roads, according to information reaching the War Department. These riders, carefully selected men, who do their work in spite of bad roads, bad weather and enemy fire, are entrusted with the task of keeping regimental, brigade, division and corps headquarters in touch with each other.

ONTARIO'S PROUD RECORD

In Last Loan Drive This Province Raised Nearly Half of Last Loan, Averaging $79.03 Each.

Ontario's large place in the economic position of Canada was never better illustrated than in the last Victory Loan campaign, but, if it is to be maintained, another supreme effort will be needed in the campaign soon to open. Nearly half the total subscriptions in November, 1917, were from Ontario and there has been talk that the same proportion is expected this year. The war spirit and war service of Ontario have been so magnificent that there is little prospect of a disappointment now. This Province has been the centre of munition making, with the liberal distribution of money which that brings, and its agricultural, mining and other industries have been on a most buoyant basis.

As a result of the splendid campaign and the generous response of the people, the Province of Ontario raised $204,185,400, of the $419,289,000 for the Dominion in the Fourth Loan. This came from 363,000 subscribers, averaging $79.03 each, out of the 820,035 lenders in all Canada, averaging $53.13 each. Quebec came second with $94,287,250 from 126,534 subscribers, or $41.66 each. In Ontario one person in every 7.11 was a subscriber, but Manitoba, with one in 7, excelled this record. In the Dominion as a whole, one in every 9.62 people was a subscriber.

Y. M. C. A. IN PEEL.

A meeting was held at the home of C. P. McDonald, Brampton, last week in the interests of Y. M. C. A. work and the Canadian standard efficiency test as adapted to small towns and rural fields in the county of Peel. Representatives were present from Alton, Inglewood, Cheltenham, Port Credit and Brampton. Charles W. Bishop, acting territorial secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Organizer Knapp, of the boys' division, were present, and addressed the meeting. A deep interest was manifested by those present, and a motion was passed, moved by T. H. Graham, of Inglewood, and seconded by C. D. Gordon, of Brampton, authorizing the Y. M. C. A. to send a paid secretary into the county to make a two years' trial of the plan. Peel county will be the first county in Ontario to be organized.

HARRY LAUDER'S 'THRIFT'

1. Behave towards your purse as you would to your best friend.
2. View the reckless money spender as a criminal, and shun his company.
3. Dress neatly, not lavishly. A bank pays a higher rate of interest than your back.
4. Take your amusements judiciously. You would enjoy them better.
5. Don't throw away your crusts; eat them. They are as strengthening as beef.
6. It is more exhilarating to feel money in your pocket than beer in your stomach.
7. Remember it only takes twenty shillings to make a pound, and twelve pennies to make a shilling.
8. You can sleep better after a hard day's work than after a day's idleness.
9. Always get good value from tradesmen. They watch they get good money from you.
10. There is as much pleasure in reading a good bank account as a novel.

AT PEACE CONFERENCE.

"Judge," said the man at the bar, "there's no use of you trying to square this thing up. My wife and I fight just so often and just so long, and we can't help it. So there you are."

"And about how long do you keep it up?" asked the judge.

"About two weeks, judge."

"All right. I'll give you 15 days in jail; in other words, you are interned for the duration of the war."

THAT VACANT STARE.

The youth seated himself in the dentist's chair. He wore a wonderful striped shirt and a more wonderful check suit, and had a very vacant stare.

The dentist looked at his assistant. "I am afraid to give him gas," he said.

"Why?" asked the assistant.

"Well," said the dentist, "how can I tell when he's unconscious?"

BRITISH EVERYWHERE.

Where have not the British fought? The Suez was in danger. It was the British that protected it. There were German naval stations in the Pacific. The British mopped them up. Russia asked help by way of the Dardanelles. The British tried to give it. Intervention was needed on the Tigris. The British supplied it. The British were at Salonica. British ships were in the Adriatic. The British Colonial troops freed Africa from the Germans. British diplomacy steadied the Moslem world when the Turkish sultan and his Shelk-ul-Islam proclaimed a holy war. The British today are moving south from Archangel and are also at Vladivostock.

"I can not give you that information, madam," answered the man in the cage.

"You're the paying teller, aren't you?"

"Yes, but I'm not the telling payer."

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, OCT. 24, 1918.

USE YOUR DOLLARS TO END THE WAR

If my dollar will drive the enemy back from despoiling Europe and threatening America, here it goes! I will put all I can spare into a Victory Bond, to help old Canada finance its own war burdens, or secure for Great Britain a plentiful supply of foodstuffs.

For it is not the rich man's pile that counts most. It is the accumulation of purchases made by farmers and rural business men from every corner of Canada that swells the total and strikes terror to the heart of our enemy.

When dollars can fight, let us wheel every one of them into line and so hasten the peace that must come when our golden impact strikes the front line. He is a patriot and helper indeed who saves for Victory Bonds.

DIRECTOR OF STERLING BANK OF CANADA

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sterling Bank of Canada on Oct. 16th, at the head office, King and Bay streets, Toronto, W. A. Matheson, of Winnipeg, was elected a director. Mr. Matheson is general manager for Western Canada and director, Lake of the Woods Milling Co., Limited; President, Sunset Manufacturing Co., Ltd.; Vice President and Director, Monarch Life Assurance Co.; Director Standard Trust Co., Director, Royal Canadian Security Co., Ltd.; Member of the Executive, Board of Grain Supervisors; Member of the Council, Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

VICTORY LOAN FLAGS.

The Governor-General of Canada has donated to Canada's Victory Loan Campaign of 1918 Honor Flags. These flags may be won by each canvassing district when they have reached the objective set by the County Executive as their share of the quota set for the County. The flag is white background with a red border and in the right hand lower corner is the crest of the Dominion of Canada. Across the upper left hand corner are five blue stripes representing our five war Loans. Every canvassing district in Dufferin County should see to it that they are able to fly one of these flags. Do your share and do it well and have your canvassing district the first one to win the Honor Flag. The following is a list of the canvassing districts and what each one is expected to subscribe. This list will be published each week showing what each district has subscribed:

Orangeville	$120,000
Mono Tp.	140,000
Mulmur Tp.	130,000
Melancthon Tp.	140,000
Shelburne	60,000
Amaranth Tp.	130,000
Grand Valley	30,000
East Luther	65,000
East Garafraxa	85,000
	$900,000

PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES TO BENEFIT FROM CAMPAIGN

The Patriotic Societies in Orangeville will benefit very materially from the Victory Loan Campaign of 1918 as the men who will do the canvassing in town have voluntarily offered to turn over for patriotic purposes a certain proportion of the commission they receive from the government for the sale of bond. The objective in Orangeville is $120,000 and the canvassers have agreed to turn over 20 per cent. of the commission on any amount secured up to the objective. After the objective has been reached they will turn over 25 per cent. of the commission. In this way it is hoped that every one will have the satisfaction of knowing that when they purchased bonds of the Victory Loan that they assisted the local patriotic work to the extent of about $12,000 to be turned over to the Societies.

PTE. ANSTEAD GORDON. PTE. JOS. M GORDON.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

Pte. J. M. Gordon Makes Supreme Sacrifice on Oct. 7th; Second Son to Give Life

Last week Mr. [illegible] Gordon, of Laurel, received a [illegible] that his son, Pte. J. M. Gordon, who was reported seriously ill a short time ago, had succumbed to his injuries on Oct. 7th. This is the second time the Good [illegible] has been received during the [illegible] younger [illegible] Anstead, who [illegible] action on the Western Front a year ago. The sympathy of the people of Dufferin [illegible] to the doubly stricken home [illegible] of the gallant sons who heard and heeded the call of duty.

Pte. J. M. Gordon, whose death was reported last week, joined the 95th Batt. in Toronto in November, 1915, and went to England in May 1916 and to France in September of the same year. He was a scout and was on active service at the front almost continuously since July of the present year, when he was wounded in the arm and was in the hospital until Sept. 21st. He then returned to duty and remained at the front until Sept. 27th when he was dangerously wounded in the back. His death occurred [illegible] 30 Casualty Clearing Station on Oct. 7th. The first notice received by his parents merely stated that he had been wounded. This was followed four days later by another telegram, which stated that he was dangerously ill. This was followed in eight days by the sad news of his death. Pte. Gordon was in his 22 years of age. In 1917 he was awarded the Military Medal for bravery in the field. The medal was sent to his parents [illegible] recognized me[illegible] soldier.

The youngest brother, Anstead, who was killed [illegible] 16th, 1916, was only 19 years of age when he met death on the [illegible] battle. He went to England in March 1916 with the 75th Batt. and proceeded on Aug. 1st of the same year to France. He was killed a few days after arriving to the trenches. He only saw a few weeks service at the front.

EARL HEWSON KILLED.

Mr. and Mrs. T. [illegible] Hewson, Zina street, received [illegible] official message from Ottawa Saturday morning informing them of their son, Pte. Earl Thomas Hewson, has been killed in action on Sept. 29th. Only a few weeks ago his parents received a telegram conveying the news that the young soldier had been wounded, severely injured by shell fire on August 29th. Anxious to learn further particulars Mr. and Mrs. Hewson communicated with Ottawa and received a letter [illegible]

F. M'GILLIVRAY KILLED.

The [illegible] Mrs. A. W. McGillivray, [illegible] street, was [illegible] morning by the receipt of a message from Ottawa [illegible] the afflicting intelligence that their eldest son, Sergt. Harley W. [illegible], had been killed in action on Sept. 29th. The deceased was formerly with the staff of the High School, when he enlisted with the 164th Batt. in November [illegible] was the first man who [illegible] the Orangeville [illegible] captain of the [illegible]

Earl [illegible] who was only 21 [illegible] years of age [illegible] Worth was a [illegible] high-spirited young chap. He was [illegible] the High School [illegible] corps at the time and was training and [illegible] for the way was even the [illegible] Sergeant. He went overseas with [illegible] battalion in April 1917 and [illegible] France with the 116th Infantry [illegible] in February of the [illegible] He would have been 22 years [illegible] in November. He was a good-living young man, and strongly built and took [illegible] interest in all sports. He was [illegible] of St. Andrew's church [illegible] active in Sunday School and [illegible] people's work [illegible] popular with his comrades and his death has caused a widespread sorrow and the deepest sympathy for the bereaved family. In addition to his father and mother he is survived by two sisters, Miss Rosie, of the Orangeville Public School staff; Miss Mary, stenographer in the C. N. R. head office, Toronto, and two young brothers, [illegible] and Douglas.

Last week Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. McGowan's husband, Sergt. A. S. McGowan, also went overseas with the [illegible] Strange to relate, he was wounded on the same day as Pte. Hewson met his death. Mrs. McGowan has received a letter from her husband since he was wounded, in which he states that he was shot by a German prisoner. In this case his wound was probably inflicted with a revolver as the German's captor would likely have relieved him of his rifle. Sergt. McGowan was lying on the ground in the act of firing at the Germans when he was treacherously shot by the prisoner, who happened to be quite near him.

PTE. J. SIMPSON KILLED.

Pte. Jas. Simpson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. R. Simpson, of Alton, is officially reported killed in action on Sept. 27th.

GORDON FORSYTHE KILLED

His many Orangeville friends will learn with sorrow that Lt. Gordon O. Forsythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Forsythe, 794 Shaw street, Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, has been killed in action. Lieut. Forsythe took out his commission in the 182nd Ontario County Battalion early in 1916 and later joined the C. O. T. C., going overseas with a draft from that unit in June, 1917. He had been in France since last fall and was serving with a Machine Gun Corps in the Imperial Army. He graduated from Toronto University in Arts in 1914 and from the Faculty of Education in 1915. Before enlisting he was on the teaching staff of Dufferin Street Public School.

MACHINE OUT OF CONTROL

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Pattullo, 21 Emerson avenue, Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, have received a letter from the officer commanding the 204th Squadron, saying that their son, Lt. Ronald C. Pattullo, who was reported missing some weeks ago had been lost in combat over the enemy's lines on Sept. 15th. His flight was engaged in a very fierce fight in which they succeeded in destroying five enemy machines, and driving down several others. Lieut. Pattullo was last seen going down out of control.

PTE. STANLEY BROWN.

Mrs. S. J. Brown, of Amaranth, received the sad news last Friday that her youngest son, Pte. Stanley Brown, had been killed in action on Oct. 1st. The young man was living in Hamilton, where he held a position with the manufacturing firm of Proctor & Gamble, when he enlisted in the 2nd C. O. R., early in January of the present year. He trained in Brantford until the end of February when he left for overseas. He went to France with a machine gun section about August 1st and had therefore only been at the front a couple of months when he met death. His home folk heard from him regularly and in his last letter he stated that he had just been in action for the first time. He was 22 years of age and was a strong, active young chap, who looked every inch a soldier. He is survived by his mother, four brothers, William and George Brown, East Garafraxa; John S. Brown, Pilot Mound, Man., and Jas. Brown on the home farm, and three sisters, Mrs. Thos. Bryan, Mrs. W. S. Golden and Miss Mary Brown, all of Amaranth.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE NEW VICTORY LOAN

In Simcoe County a number of the township councils are passing resolutions urging residents of their respective municipalities to subscribe for Victory Loan Bonds to the full extent of their ability. This is a good way to show how much importance representative municipal men in the rural districts attach to the success of the loan. Dufferin councils which happen to be meeting shortly would make no mistake by following the example set by the Simcoe county councils.

LAUREL BOY WOUNDED.

Mr. and Mrs. Archd. McCabe, of Laurel, received word last week that their son, Leonard, had been wounded by gunshot in the shoulder. The wounded soldier was a sergeant in the 164th Batt., but was kept in Canada when his battalion went overseas to act as instructor at Camp Borden. He went to England a year or so later and there reverted to the rank of private in order to get over to France. He had only been at the front a couple of months.

LT. LLOYD ALGIE KILLED.

Lieut. Wallace Lloyd Algie, only son of Dr. James Algie, surgeon on the staff of the Hospital for the Insane, Toronto, and formerly a practising physician in Alton, officially reported to have been killed in action on Oct. 11th. Although too old to hold a commission, Lieut. Algie enlisted as a private in the Scots and transferred from Camp Borden. He left Canada in September of 1916 with a draft of officers and was enrolled in the 20th Battalion, with which he went to France. At the time of enlisting Lieut. Algie was accountant and acting manager of the Elm street branch of the Bank of Toronto. He was born in Alton twenty-seven years ago, and received his early education there. He received his military training at the Royal Military College, Kingston. He was a bandsman in the 48th Highlanders' Band for eight years previous to the war. He is survived by his father and three sisters. The young officer is a cousin of Mrs. W. Derrington and Mrs. Amos Mack of Alton.

IN CONVALESCENT HOME.

The Rev. [illegible] H[illegible] been overseas for the past two years:

Emson, Sept. [illegible] 1918

Dear Sirs,

Just a few lines to ask you if you will keep sending me The Banner as I always like to read the home news. I have not received your paper lately, but I expect it has got delayed on account of moving about. I am at present in Convalescent Hospital at Epsom. It is not a bad place. I expect to get my sick leave soon. I was gassed on Aug. 8th. Amiens front, when we made our push on the 8th of August. I was wounded by a machine gun bullet about 4.30 in the afternoon. It was quite foggy when we went over. We could hardly see where we were going, but we pushed on and kept right without any trouble. I dare say there were quite a few Dufferin boys in the fight.

—The eldest power is safe as a Government Bond.

MILITARY NOTES—

Pte. T. Albert Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bowers, of Mansfield, who went overseas with the 164th Battalion, has returned home. Pte. Bowers was only 17 years of age when he enlisted, and was in France only a few weeks.

Gunner Wm. Dreyman, of Alliston, a nephew of Mrs. Geo. and Mrs. J. J. Crozier, of Mono, has arrived home from France, where he served as an artillery observer for nearly two years. The Alliston Herald states that he is looking fine and hearty and well seasoned to the strenuous work carried on in spite of weather.

GUNSHOT WOUND IN ARM.

His sister, Mrs. [illegible] W. McCollum, 223 Perth Ave., Toronto, received a message from Ottawa on Thanksgiving morning stating that Pte. Oscar Dudley Hayes has been admitted to No. 54 General Hospital in France on October 2nd suffering from gunshot wound in the left arm. The young soldier is a son of the late James Hayes, Orangeville. He enlisted in the 164th Battalion when only 16 years of age and was transferred to the [illegible] Battalion on leaving for France. His older brother, Gordon, is a clerk in the Orangeville [illegible] also in France.

DEATH OF N. DYNES, R. F. A.

Norman O. Dynes, of the R. A. F., son of Mr. [illegible] Oliver Dynes, died Tuesday, [illegible] 15th, at his home, 26 Bellevue [illegible], Toronto, from an attack of influenza. He had been ill a week and was [illegible] at the Base Hospital [illegible] Sunday. The deceased was [illegible] of probation [illegible] the R. A. F. VICTORY LOAN BUTTONS.

Be sure that after Canada's Victory Loan of 1918 you are able to wear a button indicating that you were a subscriber to the Loan. This button represents a picture of the Honor Flag and is presented to each canvasser upon reaching their allotment of the Executive for the county. Any subscription to the Victory Loan from $50 up entitles the purchaser to a button. See to it that you are able to wear one of these buttons early in the campaign.

JOINS ST. JOHN'S CORPS.

Miss Bessie Lewis, teller in the Bank of Hamilton, is leaving town about November 1st for Montreal, where she will join the St. John's Ambulance Corps of Nurses for overseas service. Miss Lewis has offered her services for six months. She will make the fourth member of the Lewis family who has volunteered for overseas service. One of her brothers has already made the supreme sacrifice.

H. RAMSAY WOUNDED.

His sister, Mrs. Gordon Simpson, East Garafraxa, received word last week that Pte. Howard Ramsay, a former Orangeville boy, is now at Base Hospital No. 22 General Hospital, Camiers, France, with a gunshot wound in the [illegible]. Pte. Ramsay went overseas with the 164th Battalion [illegible] France since August. This is the [illegible] he has been hospitalized.

ATKINS–M'KAY.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. L. McKay, 466 West Marion street, Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, announce the marriage of their only daughter, Robina Ross, to Joseph Burnett Atkins, son of the late Rev. T. J. Atkins. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. M. Atkins, brother of the groom, in the presence of the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

FRAXA JUNCTION.

Mrs. Finlay Demill, of Fraxa Junction, has returned home after a five weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. P. L. St. Croix, 49 Wood street, West Hamilton, and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Demill received a telegram a week ago Friday stating that their brother, Pte. R. Demill, Madoc, Ont., had been wounded in the right shoulder on Sept. 28th. We hope that the wounded soldier will have a speedy and satisfactory recovery.

MONO COLLEGE.

The last regular meeting of the Mono College Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. I. J. Murphy, Centre Road, on the afternoon of Oct. 3rd, and was very largely attended. The Maples Women's Institute were also present on the kind invitation of Mrs. Murphy. After the usual business and discussion regarding the overseas Christmas boxes had been concluded, the visiting Institute took full charge of the meeting and provided a very interesting program. An excellent paper was given by Mrs. Wesley Hoare on the subject, "Should a Wife Know Her Husband's Business, and Should There be Two Separate Purses." Two readings by Mrs. Brown and Miss Patterson and a sketch by Mrs. Robin son on "The Origin of Thanksgiving," were much enjoyed by all present. The meeting was brought to a close by all joining in singing two verses of the National Anthem, after which a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess and a social hour was pleasantly spent by all. Much thanks is due Mrs. Murphy for her kind and generous hospitality on this occasion.

DISTRICT W. M. S.

Owing to the influenza epidemic the District W. M. S. convention of the Methodist church was not as well attended as the program merited. However, there was a good attendance at the afternoon session. Mrs. (Rev.) E. R. Young was unanimously chosen as District Organizer for the coming year.

CALEDON FAIR.

Favorable Weather and a Good Attendance on Second Day of Exhibition.

Caledon Fall Fair was held Tuesday and Wednesday of last week and was the usual success. The attendance on Wednesday afternoon was fully up to the average of former years, but was perhaps hardly as large as the Directors had hoped for in view of the fine weather and the special methods employed to boost and advertise the fair this year. The efforts of the Directors in this direction were unfortunately offset by the unfavorable weather during September and early October, which greatly delayed fall work and thereby militated against a large attendance at the late fairs. In view of these adverse factors the Directors have great reason for congratulation upon the attendance and general success of the fair.

The 2.40 race created some excitement not down on the regular program. In the third heat something went wrong with Ethel Hall's hobbles and she fell while travelling at top speed, throwing her driver, John Cannawin, a considerable distance through the air. Fortunately neither horse nor driver was injured and Cannawin was ready to retrot the heat in about ten minutes. This the judges decided was unnecessary, as the accident did not affect the standing of the horses. Rance Overland, another driver, was taken ill on the track and had to be placed under the care of Dr. Thomas, who pronounced him a victim of Spanish flu.

Mount Forest Highland Pipers furnished inspiring music at frequent intervals. President Wilson, Secretary W. T. Harris and the other officials worked hard to make the fair a success.

Results of the races and the prize list, with the exception of grain and field roots, follow:

NELSON DAY.

Last week Col. Preston forwarded The Banner an article emphasizing the importance of the Navy League's appeal for the suitable observance of "Nelson Day," on Monday, Oct. 21st. Owing to eleventh hour demands on our advertising space we were unable to make room for the article much to our regret. Our readers will, however, find it well worth perusal, even if "Nelson Day" has gone by for another year.

On October 21st, 1805, was fought the great naval battle of Trafalgar, in which Lord Nelson, Britain's greatest sailor, destroyed the combined fleets of France and Spain, thus shattering Napoleon's dream of world dominion, and saving the liberties of Europe. Napoleon was supreme on land, but Britain ruled the waves, and so long as her flag flew unchallenged and unconquerable over the high seas his efforts to rule the world were fruitless. Eleven years later she also met on land and destroyed him for good at Waterloo; but it was only because of her supremacy at sea that she was enabled to maintain the struggle to the end and finally accomplish the despot's downfall. At Trafalgar, more than in any other single engagement, was Britain's supremacy at sea firmly and permanently established. And not only were the liberties of the world thereby saved, but they have also in the result been preserved ever since. At no time in the history of the world, has the indebtedness of civilization to the British Navy been greater than during the past four years of war. Had Britain not been supreme at sea in 1914, the Germans would have won the war in three or four months, as they hoped to do, and the world today would have been but an enlarged German empire. It was the British fleet that saved us from that calamity, and it is the fleet of Britain and her Allies that today makes it possible for us to still carry on the titanic struggle, with rapidly brightening prospects of success. Let us then join the rest of our Empire, as well as our Allies, on the anniversary of the great sea fight of a hundred years ago, in expressing our gratitude, in every way in our power, to our Navy and the Mercantile Marine Forces, as well as to the navies of the great nations with whom we are allied in this great struggle for the preservation of human liberty. It is requested that demonstrations be arranged, wherever possible, that flags be flown on public buildings, that memorial services be held for sailors who have given their lives in the war, that references be made to the day in public and high schools, and that public attention be directed by every suitable means to the dominant part which sea power plays in the preservation of the world's liberties.

The observance of "Nelson Day" has long since become an established custom in the Old Land, and Canada cannot do better than follow such an excellent example.

When will it end?

Thousands upon thousands, endless thousands, hold their lives cheap as the price of Victorious Peace.

And we—as we watch from afar their heroic efforts—may we be able to say, that the little we at home could do, we have done;

—that in so far as we could support them, lighten their burdens, bring them comforts, we have done it;

—that we have striven unceasingly to shorten their stay in the Hun-made Hell;

—that freely, fervently, unitedly, we have laid our humble offerings alongside their noble sacrifices on the altar of Victory—and Peace.

Another opportunity to lend your individual weight to the blow that will shorten the war comes with the offering of Victory Bonds about to be made. Let not the privilege to do your share find you unprepared.

A large memorial flag belonging to the Royal Military College, Kingston, will shortly be draped and hung in St. George's Cathedral. The flag bears upon it between five and six hundred maple leaf designs betokening the number of R. M. C. cadets, who have volunteered for service in the war.

MRS. THOS. GODFREY.

Elora Postmaster Bereaved by the Death of His Wife; Born in Chatham, Ont.

Elora community received with sadness and heartfelt regret the news of the passing away on Oct. 11, 1918, of Clara Augusta Broley, wife of Thomas Godfrey, postmaster of Elora. Mrs. Godfrey was a daughter of the late Rev. James Broley and Mrs. Broley, and was born in Chatham during the term of her father's ministry in that town.

In 1886, she with her parents came to Elora, where in 1888, she was married to Mr. Thos. Godfrey, and continued to live here until her death. Mrs. Godfrey had been in poor health for some time, especially the last two years, though through her uncomplaining endurance, her unselfishness and patience, combined with kindest interest and sympathy for the sickness and afflictions of others, few were allowed to realize how very critical was her own condition. She was possessed of a most amiable disposition and friendly nature, also a character of uncompromising integrity, truth, honor and duty.

The clergymen, Rev. Mr. Keefer, and Rev. Mr. Naftel, who officiated at the funeral service, paid high tribute to her estimable qualities of heart and mind, and their comments on her gracious, pleasant manner, her many acts of unostentatious kindness, her abiding christian faith making her a true child of God, found response in the sad hearts of the friends assembled to pay to her their last token of respect.

Probably nothing was more significant of her beautiful personality than her last message to the many friends she was about to leave, when it was thought by those at her bedside that her spirit had all but fled, she roused once again sufficiently to ask that her love be given to them all and God's blessing to rest on each one of them.

Mrs. Godfrey will be greatly missed and deeply mourned, not only among the members of the Methodist church (of which she was one and where she faitfully attended and worked as long as her health permitted) but also in the whole community and many other places where she had numerous close friends. Much sympathy goes out to Mr. Godfrey, her son Broley and her daughter Helen, in their great sorrow for the loss of a cherished wife and mother, and in the breaking up of exceptionally happy home ties; to Mrs. R. D. Norris, Toronto, a sister, and Mr. Warner Broley, Elora, and Mrs. Chas. Broley, Delta, brothers, a full share of sympathy is extended.—Elora Express.

GERMAN BURROWS.

The British Tommy on arrival at his final destination proceeds to make himself moderately comfortable in the shortest possible time and with the minimum expenditure of labor. The result is expressed in a cross between a shack and a dug-out.

Material is usually hard to come by, and therefore frequently ill-gotten. Two sleepers and a pit-prop arranged Stonehenge-wise are quite good enough for a doorway.

A few sandbags and a sheet or two of corrugated iron make excellent walls and roof, but the rest has to be dug out of trench with entire cutting. The greater the amount of material the less digging, and no rightly constituted man likes digging for its own sake.

The Boche, on the other hand, builds underground palaces, which have a tactical as well as a human significance. In their construction neither labor nor materials are spared.

The main tunnel, which is reached at intervals by precipitous staircases, runs some thirty feet below the level of the trench. Leading off from it are sleeping places, telephone-rooms and offices, often luxuriously fitted up. In fact, the sap par excellence in the Hindenburg line is several miles in length, can accommodate thousands of men, and is equipped with every modern convenience!

Since 1916 headquarters has been more kindly disposed towards the deep sap, and many have been built under supervision of the R. E.s'. But though bomb and shell proof they have several grave disadvantages. Rats to begin with; then should the trench be rushed the men below have the alternative of surrendering ignominiously to the "moppers up" or of being smoked out.

Deep saps are comfortable and almost fascinating, but on or off duty most men prefer the old British "mongrel."

HISTORIC TIMBER RUINED.

The suggestion is being made in England that some at least of the ancient timbers which have been removed from the decaying roof of Westminster Hall, and which now lie on the green in front of the Cromwell Statue, might with advantage be handed over to some of the war museums throughout the country, or, sold as relics for Red Cross purposes. There are many, no doubt, who would be anxious to see the disaster wrought to the historic timbers of the famous hall, as in the case of St. Paul's Cathedral, by the tiny wood-boring beetle, which has been the cause of a vast expenditure of money on renovation work.

BAD SCALD

"Such relief I felt when I applied Zam-Buk to a badly scalded hand!" writes Mrs. A. Riseley, of 416 Timothy St., Montreal.

"I was standing near the stove when the kettle boiled over on my hand. I applied some ointment which I had in the house, but it did not ease the burning. The skin peeled off and the pain was so bad that I got no sleep for two nights.

"Then I commenced using Zam-Buk, and the first application gave me wonderful relief. It seemed to cool the burning so that I was able to sleep, and from then the scald began to heal. Zam-Buk grew new skin over the sore place and before long my hand was quite alright again."

Zam-Buk should always be kept in the house for cuts, burns and knocks, and for eczema, ringworm, boils, pimples, blood-poisoning, ulcers and piles it cannot be equalled. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c box, 3 for $1.25.

Music a Real Necessity in Time of War

Music has justified itself as a factor of real service in this hour of trial. Not only to the man at the front do there come times of loneliness and discouragement. Those who remain at home have their share of the world's burden. They need the inspiration, the encouragement, the soul-satisfying comfort of music in the home.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Re-creates the human voice and the music of human-played instruments with such fidelity that the actual voices and instruments cannot be distinguished from the New Edison's Re-Creation of them. But you will never fully believe what any dealer tells you when they make conflicting statements.

The wise way to choose your phonograph is to let all claims pass in one ear and out the other, then have the several makes of phonographs and talking machines in which you are interested sent to your home on trial, where you may make direct comparisons among them in the quiet of your own home and decide which one you would like to keep—which one you think you would enjoy hearing just as much five years from now as you do to-day.

We will gladly send a New Edison to your home, for purposes of comparison or to be heard alone, without the slightest obligation on your part.

"The Store That Saves You Money."

A VICTORY LOAN CATECHISM.

Q.—What is the Victory Loan, 1918? A.—It is Canada's second Victory Loan and fifth war loan.

Q.—What is a victory bond? A.—It is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay the lender the sum named upon it at the time stated.

Q.—What security stands behind this bond? A.—The entire assets and wealth of the Dominion of Canada.

Q.—When was the last Victory Loan raised. A.—In November, 1917, when $420,000,000 was subscribed.

Q.—What became of that money? A.—It has been used to prosecute Canada's part in the war and to finance and carry on great industries at home.

Q.—For example? A.—Millions were spent in raising, equipping and sending forth the Canadian reinforcements.

Q.—How was the money spent at home? A.—In many ways. The British Government was given large credits and out of these great orders were placed in Canada for munitions, wheat, spruce, salmon and other things needed by the army.

Q.—Why did Great Britain need these advances from Canada? A.—They were needed to offset Britain's advances to Canada in army expenses overseas.

Q.—How does the loan affect the people of Canada? A.—Without it our war effort would collapse, our industries would suffer a great breakdown, our manufacturers and farmers alike would lose their foreign market.

Q.—What has the loan done for the farmer? A.—It has bought the greater part of the wheat crop, and provided a market at good prices for his dairy and animal products.

Q.—What would have happened to these products without the loan? A.—Most of the wheat would have been unsold, the price would have been greatly reduced, and the cheese and bacon would have been a drug in the market.

Q.—Has the Loan established any new industries? A.—It has revived shipbuilding and created new and bustling shipyards on the shores of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes. It has brought into being great plants for the making of aircraft.

Q.—What do these mean to the country? A.—The employment of thousands of well-paid men and women and their development into highly skilled workers.

Q.—Does the Loan reach widely in the distribution of the money? A.—It reaches virtually everybody in Canada. All the great industries are benefitted, while the financial and mercantile classes all reap their share as middlemen.

Q.—Why is it necessary to raise the Loan in Canada? A.—Because there is no other place to raise it. Our Allies are burdened to the limit, and we must carry our own load.

Q.—Why is Germany fighting? A.—To dominate the world and crush civilization under her cruel militarism. General Von Bernhardi wrote years ago: "Our next war will be fought for the highest interest of our country and mankind. World power or downfall will be our rallying cry."

Q.—Why is Canada fighting? A.—To save herself and civilization from this dastardly attack on the world's liberty.

Q.—What part has money in this fight? A.—While armies of men are indispensable, no country can make war without "silver bullets."

A POCKET STOVE.

The Japanese have invented a little stove that you can carry around in your pocket. It is in the form of a cigar case, and the fuel is a sausage-like roll that will burn for three hours without emitting smoke or fumes. One of these little contrivances carried inside the bosom of a kimona prevents a journey in a railway train from being too chilly. Delicate pupils keep one in their clothes while at school in winter, and so equipped sit comfortably in an unheated room. The aged and the cold-footed sleep with the stove at their feet. It is also like a hot-water bottle to soothe the pains of cramp and colic. Our forefathers used something of the same sort to keep their hands warm in church, during the three and four hour services they used to enjoy.

Got a Cold!

Peps will give you relief.

Simply dissolve a Peps tablet in your mouth. Your breath carries the medicinal Pine vapor, which is released, to all parts of the throat, nasal and air passages, where a liquid medicine could not possibly reach. This vapor destroys all germs with which it comes in contact, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and fortifies you against coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis and grippe. Peps contain absolutely no harmful drugs and are therefore the safest remedy for children.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

AN INCORRIGIBLE OPTIMIST THE OLD BRITISH SOLDIER

"I don't mind this 'ere rain a bit," said Curly. "It wets you at times, but it's cool, and it keeps you kind of fresh and awake. But what I can't stick at no price is that blinkin' summer dust."

They were a British battalion marching along up to the line through the stormy dusk of a winter evening. It was pouring with rain, and a strong wind was blowing. The cobbles were treacherous with sticky mud, and now and then the column divided abruptly to skirt a shellhole filled with water. Curly, a typical old regular soldier, was holding forth.

"And this wind," Curly continued, "why it puts new life into you, blows the billet cobwebs away. And it trains your nerve a fair treat to go over the slippery ground like this 'ere. Co-operation of brain and limb—you know what the physical drill bloke always says about it. There's bags o' sense in it, too. Can't get careless like when you got to think of every step you take. Makes your legs hard, too, 'ard as nails; strain on 'em and all that."

Most of this discourse was addressed to a man who, in an ill-guarded moment, had cursed the rain and the wind and the slippery roads. The man began to see sense in what Curly was saying, and ended by adopting his point of view whenever anyone abused the winter weather.

"First-rate it is," said Curly. "But if you want to know what I can't hold with, it's them sultry, dusty summer days, 'ot as 'ell, flies, an' thirst."

Five months after this episode the same battalion was marching along a road in France. It was a sultry, dusty, summer day, with a scorching sun, and flies and thirst as additional pests. Not a breath of wind stirred the few remaining trees, and the men marching in rear were powdered from head to foot with a fine white dust.

"Curse this summer weather; blasted dust," growled one of the men.

"Look 'ere mate," he said, "there's not much to kick about in this jaunt. It is 'ot I grant you, 'ellish 'ot, but it's 'ealthy to sweat. Any M. O. will tell you that; an' the flies keep you awake all right. Besides, mark my words, I was marchin' afore you was born, an' I tell you that it's blinkin' good trainin' to go thirsty for a bit. Makes your will strong. Teaches you to 'old on. It'll all 'elp you in a tight corner. Now, if you was to talk about rain and wind—well I graint you I can't stick 'em at no price. You get wet an' cold an' wretched; but this, well this 'ere's a mighty different tale. An' whiskin' flies away keeps your mind busy. Can't drowse like." The growler looked up and grinned, not ungrateful for the new point of view offered to him.

"Wish we weren't in rear, though" he said.

"Best place, far," said Curly. "You can see when an 'alt's comin, an' prepare fer it."

Any kind of grousing glanced off Curly's armour of optimism like a German rifle bullet off a British tank. Before long everyone in the platoon had accepted his point of view and his philosophy of life, which was most simple and workable. Its basis was—always hunt for the advantages in a thing; let the disadvantages look for themselves.

The battalion disappeared in a distant cloud of dust, Curly murmuring, "Now, what I can't stand is that blinkin' rain an' wind. . . ."

Curly is a common type in the British army. Whatever the weather conditions, whatever the hardships, the British soldier at bottom is an incorrigible optimist. Such morale as he possesses is bound to triumph at last over the distrust and discontent bred of slavish fear and ill-treatment which prevail in the ranks of the German army.—By Second Lieutenant J. B. Morton.

FOOTWORK.

Brown—"What made you start clapping when that woman stepped on your foot in the car?"

Barlow—"I was dozing. I thought mother and the girls were having a musicale at home and one of them was signalling that it was time to applaud."

"NOW PICK THEM UP!"

A lanky private was detailed to take a captured German artillery officer to regimental headquarters. He had progressed about half a mile when he noticed that his charge was tearing up some papers he evidently didn't want to get into the hands of the Allies, and scattering the pieces along the road. "Ain't you the cute cuss?" said the escort. "Now you just go back and pick them all up." The officer may not have understood the instructions, but he did the gestures which accompanied them, and he complied. He spent the next half hour painstakingly gathering the fragments of a map which, when pasted together, showed all the boche artillery positions in his sector.

POTATO SEED SELECTION.

Like begets like in the potato field as elsewhere, but judging by the quantities of inferior tubers used for seed purposes, the importance of this law is not appreciated by many. The use of small potatoes taken from the bulk of the crop, year after year, and used for seed will eventually lead to yields of inferior potatoes.

At potato digging time the great opportunity for seed selection is offered. With the product of each plant spread on the soil it is an easy matter to select out those plants that have given the largest yield of the most desirable type of potato and are free from disease. The potatoes from such plants only should be gathered and saved for use as seed the following year. This saving of seed at digging time may seem to many as an extra burden during a rush of work, but it is not.

There is less actual labor attached to seed selection at the time of the potato harvest than there is by practising any other method of seed selection. Furthermore, the results from hill selection are reasonably certain while with other methods there is some speculation. Potato growers would do well to watch closely for exceptionally good plants. These, harvested and saved apart from the main crop, may become the grand-dads of fine potato fields in the future.

EMILY'S FEELING.

Mrs. Bacon—Don't you think Emily sings with a good deal of feeling?

Mr. Bacon—Yes, but I hope she don't feel as bad as it sounds.

MISSOURI MULE ABROAD.

A long and patient but vain effort on the part of a khaki clad driver to induce a mule, drawing what appeared to be a load of laundry, through the gateway of a local hospital afforded considerable amusement to the boys in blue who were watching the proceedings. The mule would do anything but pass through the gateway.

"Want any 'elp, chum?" shouted one of the boys in blue to the driver, as he rested a moment.

"No," replied the driver, "but I'd like to know how Noah got two of these blighters into the Ark!"

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Ben Franklin thought of saving daylight a long time ago. In the year 1784 he wrote from England to a friend in America: "In a walk through the Strand and Fleet street one morning at 7 o'clock, I observed that there was not one shop open, although it had been daylight and the sun up above three hours; the inhabitants of London choosing voluntarily to live by candle light and sleep by sunshine; and yet often complaining a little absurdly of the duty on candles and the high price of tallow."

Eczema Cured Five Years Ago

A Treatment Which Has Proven a Wonderful Healer of the Skin—Certified Evidence of Lasting Cure.

The old notion that eczema is a disease of the blood is refuted time and time again by the cures that are daily being effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It matters not what the cause may have been, if you apply Dr. Chase's Ointment regularly you will obtain relief and cure of eczema. Here is the proof:

Mrs. Stephen G. Thwaites, Box 205, Jordan, Ont., writes: "My brother had a bad case of eczema on his legs. He was troubled nearly all one fall and winter with it, and could not work for days at a time. He tried different salves and ointments, but none cured him. One day he tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it gave almost instant relief. He continued its use, but had not quite finished the second box when he was cured. It is now about five years since then, and it has never returned. We certainly can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, and are very grateful for my brother's cure."

(Rev. S. F. Coffman, Vineland, Ont., states: "This is to certify that I know Mrs. Thwaites and the party to whom she refers, and her statements are correct.")

Mr. J. E. Jones, 228 University avenue, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I had eczema in my hand for about five years. I tried a great many remedies, but found that while some of them checked it, none cured it permanently. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment, and in six weeks my hand was completely better. I would not do without a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house if it cost $2 a box. I am giving my name to this firm so that it will get to those who suffer as I did."

SQUIRE WALLACE.

Death Removes Prominent Figure in Life of Albion Township; In His 86th Year.

A prominent figure of Albion township has been removed in the death of John Wallace of Castlederg, who passed away on Friday last after a short illness. The late Mr. Wallace was in his 86th year and had been a resident of Castlederg for 62 years, during which time he conducted a general store business, and during that long period he was prominently associated with the life of that district. He was born at Castlederg, County of Tyrone, Ireland, and shortly after gaining his majority, his health being precarious, he came to Canada. He lived in Quebec for a couple of years, when he came to Albion to work in Mr. Irwin's store at Mount Hope (later called Mount Hurst and finally Castlederg). Remaining with Mr. Irwin for some time until that gentleman left, he took over the business which he conducted until his death.

There were then few post offices in the north of Albion, in fact no Coventry, no Mount Hurst, no Mount Wolfe, no Cedar Mills, no Palgrave. A post office was granted, named by Hon. J. H. Cameron "Mount Hurst," after some place in Scotland. After the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway was built some of the mail matter addressed to Mount Hurst was delivered at Mt. Forest through carelessness. Representation was made to the Honorable the Postmaster-General, who to obviate such, advised to change the name of Mount Hurst office to Castlederg in respect to Mr. Wallace.

During his long residence at Castlederg Mr. Wallace held many positions of trust. He was appointed in 1861 postmaster, in 1868 a commissioner for taking affidavits, in 1871 a Lieutenant in the Reserve Militia, in 1873 a Justice of the Peace, in 1883 a commissioner with the late Judge Scott on the McCarthy Act, and again and again appointed a J. P. He also held the position of township clerk of Albion for some time. The late Mr. Wallace was a Conservative in politics and was a member of the Methodist church for a great many years. Courteous in his manner, straightforward in his dealings, he was a fine type of the old country gentleman, and he won and retained the esteem and respect of all, and it is given to few men to have more loyal and true friends than had Squire Wallace.

He is survived by his wife, his sisters, Mrs. Henry Wilson and Miss Elizabeth Wallace. The last named has lived in her brother's home for a great many years, and all have reached a very advanced age.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to Castlederg Methodist church where service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. W. McBrien, after which the remains were interred at Laurel Hill cemetery.—Bolton Enterprise.

APPENDICITIS VICTIM.

The death of William Ira Nunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Nunn, of Inglewood, occurred in Lord Dufferin hospital on Monday afternoon following an operation for appendicitis. The boy was taken ill Saturday morning and was rushed to the hospital by auto late the same day. The operation on Sunday morning was apparently successful, but the patient took a turn for the worse on Monday. An older brother and two young sisters survive. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents. The funeral took place to Boston cemetery yesterday afternoon. Service was held in Inglewood Methodist church.

S. A. SHAW'S DEATH.

Last week Mr. S. A. Shaw, one of Alton's best known business men, contracted Spanish influenza, which speedily developed into pneumonia. Saturday he was brought to Lord Dufferin hospital, where the attending physicians and nurses made a splendid but unavailing fight to save his life. The end came between 7 and 8 o'clock Tuesday night after only eight days' illness. Deceased, who was only 25 years of age and unmarried, was a son of Mr. Samuel Shaw, of Malton. He had been in business in Alton about three years and was highly thought of in the village and surrounding community, where the news of his sad and untimely death caused profound sorrow. The remains were taken to Brampton for burial. The funeral will take place from the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. M. Clarkson, in that town at 2.30 this (Thursday) afternoon.

MRS. ALEXANDER DUNCAN.

Another old resident of East Garafraxa has passed away in the person of Mrs. Duncan, widow of the late Alexander Duncan, whose death took place at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Donald Peden, West Garafraxa, on Thursday last at the ripe age of 76 years. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan lived on the 10th line, East Garafraxa, up to the time of the former's death about ten years ago. They were both greatly respected and were staunch members and supporters of Bethel Presbyterian church at Price's Corners. John M. Gibson, Detroit; Jas. Gibson, on the homestead; Mrs. (Dr.) Smeltzer, London, Ohio; Mrs. Gordon, Batavia, N. Y.; Mrs. Jas. Lindsay, Fergus; Mrs. Dan Hawes, East Garafraxa; Mrs. Hamilton Ferns, Kitchener, formerly of Orangeville, and Mrs. Donald Peden, West Garafraxa, are the surviving sons and daughters. The funeral was held to Belsyde cemetery in Fergus on Sunday afternoon.

MRS. J. J. HALL.

The death of Mrs. J. J. Hall, formerly of this town, occurred at her home, 251 Lisgar street, Toronto, on Tuesday, Oct. 15th, following a short illness from a heart affection. Deceased, who was 66 years of age, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam McKibbon, who lived at Whittington for many years. The late Mrs. Hall was twice married, her first husband being the late William Hilliard. Her present husband, to whom she was married a number of years before her removal from Orangeville to Toronto about twelve years ago, is at present in the West. She was a kind-hearted, generous woman, whose many friends here and elsewhere will regret the fact of her death. She leaves one son, James, and two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Scott and Miss Minnie, all in Toronto. Messrs. John, Andrew and Adam McKibbon, Shelburne; Geo. McKibbon, Markdale; James and Edward McKibbon, Orangeville; Jerry McKibbon, Bondhead; Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Hiley, Toronto, are the surviving brothers and sisters. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. station to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Friday forenoon. Rev. F. Eley, rector of St. Mark's, was the officiating clergyman. The pallbearers were Messrs. John, Adam, Edward, George and John J. McKibbon and Chas. McArthur.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Public notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the local Board of Health of the Town of Orangeville held on the 23rd day of October, 1918, it was directed, on account of the present epidemic of influenza, that the "Gem" Theatre, Public Library, Bowling Alley, Pool Rooms, Churches and Schools in the Town of Orangeville be closed until permitted to be re-opened by the Medical Officer of Health of the Town of Orangeville and that all other public buildings and stores in the Town of Orangeville be disinfected every night after closing hours under the supervision of the Sanitary Inspector of the Town of Orangeville and that all public meetings be prohibited unless with the permission of said Medical Officer of Health.

All persons interested please take notice and comply with the above directions.

MONO TOWNSHIP SHEEP CLUB, 1918

Boys and girls of Mono Township who are interested in live stock will have the opportunity of becoming members in a Club that will help them to own some good stock of their own. This is the Mono Township Sheep Club which is being organized under the direction of H. A. Dorrance, Agricultural Representative for Dufferin County, in co-operation with the Sterling Bank, Orangeville.

Believing that there is a greater interest being taken in sheep raising in the township and that there is room for improvement in the class of sheep being kept, we can improve this stock and help the boys and girls take a greater interest in farm work by giving them some pure bred sheep.

With this idea in view, we wish to have as members in this class as many wide awake boys and girls who will work hard to make the Club successful and profitable.

Sheep farming at present is very profitable and there is every prospect that for some years to come the returns from the farm flock will continue high. Many sections of the township are admirably adapted to sheep raising and it would seem that with reasonable care and attention the members of this Club should at the end of one year have made nearly sufficient money to pay for their ewes.

The breed chosen for this work is Oxfords for the reason that there seems a decided partiality to this breed on hand and not because they are superior breeds. The ewes that will be supplied will be selected with a view to securing good specimens and will be selected by a qualified buyer and will be bred to approved rams before being delivered.

The cost will be as low as is consistent with the quality of the sheep we purpose delivering, approximately fifty dollars per head. Shearling ewes will be supplied so far as is possible, but other ages may have to be secured.

The Department purposes, so far as possible, to supply the members with the latest available information on the care and management of sheep and give from time to time such assistance as may be possible in the way of securing suitable rams for use of the Club and in the sale of surplus stock and any other assistance possible that will help the members to be successful with their flocks.

Parents are specially urged to look into this matter and afford their children every opportunity and encouragement to take up this work. There is no cash outlay needed, and the risk is very small in comparison with the prospects of the returns from the investment. The rules and regulations follow and those interested are urged to act promptly in order that an opportunity may be given to secure the stock early.

Sheep Club Constitution and Rules.

1. The Club shall be known as the Mono Township Pure Bred Sheep Club of 1918.

2. The objects of this Club shall be: (1) To create a greater interest in sheep raising among the boys and girls of the County. (2) To introduce into Dufferin County a number of choice, pure bred sheep and supply selected animals and distribute them at cost and on easy terms of payment. (3) To create a greater interest in farm life, generally, among the boys and girls of the County.

3. Membership in the Club is open to farm boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 years, resident in the Township of Mono, Dufferin County.

4. The Club shall be organized and directed by H. A. Dorrance, Orangeville, Agricultural Representative for Dufferin County, and the money will be advanced by the Sterling Bank, Orangeville, Elmer M. Still, manager.

5. Two pure bred Oxford ewes in lamb will be given to each member some time in December. Distribution will be made from Orangeville and members will be notified as to date of delivery and they must call for sheep on that date. Each pair will be marked with price and number and members will draw for numbers and the sheep corresponding to the number drawn, will belong to that member, according to the rules of the Club.

6. The Department of Agriculture reserves the right to limit membership in the Club as circumstances may arise.

7. Members will be required to give in payment for these sheep a note for 10 months, endorsed to the satisfaction of the banker by the parent or guardian and bearing interest at six per cent. per annum.

8. The Department of Agriculture will supply bulletins, etc., relating to care and management of sheep, and forms on which to keep simple records of feed, etc. These records must be carefully kept and turned in to the Agricultural Representative at the end of ten months.

9. The ewes will be registered in the name of member, and ewes and their progeny shall be sole property of member. Arrangements will be made to assist members with the sale of their surplus stock and with bringing in pure bred sires for use in members' flocks.

10. The Club will by means of a small assessment insure the ewes that have been distributed against loss by death during the first ten months for an amount equal to one-half of the original cost of ewes.

11. Prizes will be offered to members for best care, records and profits from sheep, and Fall Fair Boards will be encouraged to give special prizes for sheep raised by Club members from ewes distributed.

12. Application for membership must be in the hands of the Department of Agriculture not later than November 9th, 1918.

CANVASSERS FOR THE VICTORY LOAN

The canvassers in Dufferin County for Canada's Victory Loan, 1918, have been appointed by the executive committee. The men who will work in the districts which have been assigned to them are as follows:

Orangeville—D. Macpherson, Marshall Green, A. D. McKitrick, Henry Endacott.

Mono Township—Josiah Marshall, Camilla; John M. Still, Glen Cross.

Mulmur Township—John Reburn, Jr., Shelburne, R. R. No. 4; George Foster, Honeywood.

Melancthon Township—Thos. Dryden, Shelburne; Wm. J. Jelly, Shelburne, R. R. No. 2; Wm. Campbell, Riverview; W. T. Mitchell, Dundalk, R. R. No. 4.

Shelburne—R. A. Riky, Shelburne.

Amaranth Township—Geo. Hepton and J. A. Hughes, Laurel.

Grand Valley—E. H. Lindsay.

East Luther Township—J. A. Richardson, Grand Valley.

East Garafraxa Township—Geo. Nodwell, Grand Valley.

Mr. J. A. Hughes, of Laurel, will also canvass concessions A, B, C & D of East Garafraxa township, and Mr. E. H. Lindsay, of Grand Valley, will work the southwest corner of Amaranth township.

These men will start to work on October 28th and every house in the County of Dufferin will be personally canvassed. Look over this list to find out the canvasser who is to call upon you and be prepared to subscribe for all the Victory Bonds you can possibly handle. Remember that the objective in Dufferin County is $900,000, and that no subscription is too small if we are to get this objective.

WOMEN'S WAR AUXILIARY.

At a recent meeting of the Women's War Auxiliary special mention was made of the number of excellent knitters that the Society has been fortunate enough to have assist in its work. It is a long honor roll headed by Mrs. Walker, of West Broadway, who has contributed seventy pairs of finely knitted socks for the comfort of our men and to help defeat the Huns.

Mrs. McGowan has undertaken to pack a number of extra parcels for soldiers whose names were sent in late.

The sympathy of this litle band of workers goes out spontaneously to the families of Messrs. Hewson and McGillivray, who have been so sorely stricken in the loss of their gallant sons, Earl T. Hewson and Sergt. McGillivray.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Yates and family desire to give expression to the debt of gratitude they feel they owe to their friends and neighbors and the citizens of Orangeville generally for the great kindness and consideration shown them since the death of their son, the late Lieut. Harold Yates.

THE INFLUENZA OUTBREAK

The Spanish influenza has reached Orangeville and there are quite a number of cases in and about town at the present time. Fortunately most of them are comparatively mild and with proper care and medical attention there are not likely to be many deaths. The physicians and health authorities are taking precautions to prevent the spread of the disease. The Public school closed Friday night and the High School followed suit yesterday morning. The town churches are closing their Sunday Schools for the time being and will only hold church services on Sunday evenings until the epidemic is over. There will be no morning services in any of the churches next Sabbath, with the exception of the 8 o'clock communion service in St. Mark's, which will be held as usual. On the whole the situation need occasion no alarm. Citizens can best help the doctors by keeping cool, and taking necessary precautions against infection.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

In response to a request of the Naval League of Canada the pupils and staff of the Orangeville High School paid special attention to the observance of the 113th anniversary of Trafalgar Day on Oct. 21st. All day the red ensign floated over this institution of learning. At three o'clock the students gathered in their assembly room for a specially arranged program, presided over by the principal, Mr. E. Hackett, and beginning with a chorus, "Sailors' Bold," by the entire school. This was followed by a reading "The Fighting Temeraire," which shows in a realistic way the spirit of our fighting men on the navy seas, which was ably read by Mr. Arthur Macpherson. A piano duet was skilfully rendered by Misses Alice and Lillian McGuire. Lt.-Col. Preston was then called upon for an address. In his preliminary remarks Col. Preston made reference to the cadet corps of the school, stating that it was a corps of which not only the school but also the town, the county, even the whole province, should be proud, for of all the boys who have belonged to this corps scarcely one of military age has failed to don the khaki. In dealing with naval matters, Col. Preston said that practically every century since the British Empire began Britain has been called upon to defend the freedom and the welfare of the world. Several cases were cited, special reference being made to the battle of Trafalgar in October 1805 and to that great admiral, Lord Nelson, the "beau ideal" of every British seaman.

Following the address Misses Alice Robinson and Jean Currie gave an excellently played piano duet and Miss Florence Annis read a poem "The Phantom Fleet," written by Alfred Noyes, the poet laureate of England, in commemoration of the battle of Trafalgar. The meeting closed with "God Save the King."

THIS WOMAN ONLY WEIGHED 95 POUNDS

Mrs. Burbank Takes Tanlac and Now Weighs One Hundred and Twenty-Seven Pounds.

One of the most noteworthy features, and one that stands out more prominently than any other perhaps, in connection with Tanlac is the very large number of men and women who have reported an astonishingly rapid increase in weight as a result of its use.

One of the latest to testify to the remarkable reconstructive powers of the medicine is Mrs. Anna Burbank, who resides at 3232 2nd Ave., west, Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Burbank came in the Bartell Drug Store in company with her husband recently and made the following statement, stating that she had actually gained thirty-two pounds.

"I can't say," stated Mrs. Burbank, in describing her case, "that I had any special ailment, but for the last four years I have been gradually losing weight and strength, and going down hill. My appetite was so poor, that I never cared for anything to eat. I was dreadfully constipated, and suffered a great deal with headaches and pains in my back. I was completely run down and tired out all the time, and hardly had energy enough to drag myself around. Nothing did me any good, and I fell off in weight until I was hardly more than a frame.

"When I began taking Tanlac, I weighed ninety-five pounds. I had been reading so much about how others had been benefited, and were gaining in weight by taking Tanlac, that I made up my mind to see what it would do for me and the results have been far more than I ever expected. I now weigh one hundred and twenty-seven pounds — having actually gained thirty-two pounds in a little more than a month—and am still gaining. I am always ready for my meals now with a fine appetite, and have gotten rid of all the headaches and pains in my back, and my tired, wornout feelings are gone, too. I get up in the mornings now feeling thoroughly rested and strong, and full of life and energy. I can recommend Tanlac to anyone in a run-down condition, for it certainly has built me up wonderfully."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

MEDICAL INSPECTION.

Provincial Medical Health Officer Delivers Important Address Before Dufferin Teachers.

The Banner takes pleasure in presenting the following concise report of the address on "Medical Inspection in the Schools," given by Dr. J. W. McCullough, Chief Medical Health Officer for Ontario, at the public meeting which the Dufferin Teachers' Institute held in the Opera House on Thursday night, October 10th:

Beginning with a brief outline of the history of the movement for medical inspection in schools, which was first systematically established in 1874 in Brussels, Belgium, and which was first undertaken in Ontario about ten years ago, he proceeded to explain its three-fold object, (1), the prevention of the spread of infectious diseases; (2), the detection of physical defects among school children; (3), the encouragement of personal hygiene among school children.

In discussing the first of these, the speaker showed how medical inspection in the schools leads to the early discovery of infectious diseases and the prompt removal of the persons affected, thereby preventing to a large extent the outbreak of epidemics. In the second place, medical inspection in the schools leads to the detection of such physical defects as poor eyesight, poor hearing, poor teeth, (followed by the establishment of dental clinics), sore diseases, enlarged tonsils, adenoids, all of which may be reported to the doctors for proper treatment. Mental defectives are discovered and are placed under special supervision where they may receive instruction suited to their needs. As an illustration of the necessity for such inspection, Dr. McCullough stated that, in the city of Toronto, out of 7,000 children examined, one-half had noticeable physical defects, not including poor hearing. In the third place, the speaker showed how medical inspection in the schools encourages cleanliness and personal hygiene among the children, so necessary to the maintenance of good health.

Dr. McCullough then outlined the way in which medical inspection is carried out in the schools of Toronto. The system, formerly under the control of the Department of Education, was re-organized a few years ago to prevent over-lapping, and is now controlled by the Public Health Department, and the cost, though great, is less now than formerly. The nurses engaged in the work of medical inspection in the schools spend part of their time in Social Service work. There are sixty-seven nurses for the 70,000 children of the public schools and six for the 8,000 children of the Separate schools, and these assist in and follow up the work of the eight physicians, four of whom devote full time to this work and four part time. Dental clinics have been established in fifteen schools, where free treatment is provided for those unable to pay.

In proposing a system of medical inspection for all the schools of Ontario, Dr. McCullough suggested that the services of the Medical Health Officers in the towns could be utilized, along with one or two nurses. In the case of rural schools it would be more difficult to work out a satisfactory system, though local physicians could be employed with one or two nurses for follow-up work.

In conclusion, the speaker suggested that as training would be necessary to fit teachers for this work, it would be advisable to provide books of instruction to enable teachers to detect the presence of infectious and contagious diseases and to discover cases of mental deficiency. The problem at present is whether the Department of Education or the Department of Public Health should undertake this work of preserving the health of the present and future generations, so important at all times but at the present time most urgent in view of the appalling wastage in our population due to the war.

Mr. C. R. McKeown presided and a bright musical program was provided by the Public School pupils, Miss Mildred Forbes, Misses Kearns and Ewing, Miss Browne, Master Jaries Clark and Mr. Percival Harding. A number of Ontario Board of Health films were shown during the evening.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY AID VICTORY LOAN

As an instance of how science and industry have co-operated in helping to win the war, it is interesting to note that Sir Thomas White, K.C.M.G., Minister of Finance, has made a special "His Master's Voice" Record for the purpose of actually informing the Canadian Public in his own voice concerning the need of the second Victory Loan.

Science has thus made it possible for the voice of the Finance Minister to be heard in thousands of places in every part of the Country at the same time.

The illustration shows Sir Thomas "caught in the act" as he made his special recording at the laboratories of the Berliner Gram-o-phone Company, Limited, Montreal.

A TANK EXPERIENCE.

Clarence Manning, a Mono Boy, Was Lost for Two Days; Got 100 Germans.

Pte. Clarence Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Manning, of Mono, writes, in part, of his experiences with a Tank battery. Pte. Manning is now on pass in Scotland and Ireland:

France, Aug. 14th, 1918.

I have had some experience since I last wrote. I had a very good trip. Our crew went over the top in a Tank. At one time we were three miles ahead of our own infantry. We took out our guns and mounted them and fired 2,250 rounds into Fritz, who was retreating. They got our Corporal with a machine gun, but I got about a hundred. The four of us then got into the Tank and came back to our own infantry. We were lost from our Battery for two days. They thought we were missing but we were very much alive. Fritz went that fast it was a good walk to keep up to him. I have not got my pass yet, nor do not know when I will get it so long as this scrap keeps up.

France, Sept. 9th, 1918.

We have been so very busy this last week or so that I have not had time to write. This is the first letter I have written in ten days. Since I last wrote you I have been over the top twice. We had it pretty rough for a few days but our battery was the luckiest one in the battalion. Meredith O'Reilly and Harry Pickering are both well. I was talking to Meredith last night. I also had a letter from C. Washington. He was well when he wrote. We are out for a few days rest but do not know for how long. Fritz's men don't stand the fight like they used to do. There were a great many prisoners taken in our last push. The French people are coming back to some of the towns which have been taken from Fritz, but in most cases their houses are levelled to the ground. In the last seven weeks the Allies have taken about 175,000 prisoners, so that is pretty good work. I have not had my pass yet but expect to get it in a week or two. I received the parcel which mother sent in August, containing fruit cake. I received it the night before I went over the top. It sure tasted good.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT HANOVER

Charles Bailey, Son of Mrs. Isaac Bailey, is Injured by a Truck and Dies in a Few Hours.

Charles Bailey, the 15 year old son of Mrs. Isaac Bailey, of Hanover, died on Tuesday night, Oct. 15th, as the result of being struck in the back by a sharp corner of Mr. George Reichen's truck a few hours previous. Deceased and Arnold Hauert had been over to Mildmay with the truck in the afternoon and while there Mr. J. S. Wilson had asked them to deliver a parcel at his house in Hanover. It was at Mr. Wilson's house that the accident happened. Deceased had got off to deliver the parcel and Hauert was turning the car in the meantime. The truck was still in motion when young Bailey returned and he attempted to get on, with the result that a sharp corner of the body of the car caught him in the small of the back. He was taken to his home hastily, but he had been seriously injured internally and he passed away a few hours later.

THOSE FEATHERS.

When certain soldiers from the antipodes were in New York a little while ago a woman was heard to say to another:

"There goes one of them Australians."

"How do you know?"

"You can tell by the Kangaroo feathers in his hat."

Gunner Wm. Dreaman of Allliston, has returned home from overseas.

Sample Box Brings Great Results

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief

Chronic sufferers from Backache, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder or any other form of Kidney trouble are generally willing to try any remedy once. The excruciating pain caused by Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Inflammation of the Bladder or some other form of Kidney trouble, is so great that persons afflicted are often driven to spending large sums of money in an endeavor to find relief at any cost.

This is proven by the testimony of hundreds of people who have written us letters stating "that having failed to find relief after years of trying, they turned to Gin Pills as a last resort—and a sample box of these pills soon convinced them that Gin Pills was the remedy they needed."

That is all we ask you to do. Try a box of Gin Pills at our expense, and if they fail to bring you the relief they have brought to hundreds of others with similar Kidney derangements, it costs you nothing.

Mrs. Dechene writes:

"I received your sample box of Gin Pills, and they have done me a lot of good. I can congratulate myself on having them, and I will never be without them in my home."

This testimony from a woman who was skeptical about buying Gin Pills should convince you that a sample box is well worth writing for. Do it today. Address:

SPANISH INFLUENZA RAGES IN CANADA

Thousands of Cases Reported With Many Deaths.

THOSE WHO ARE MOST SUSCEPTIBLE TO IT

"FRUIT-A-TIVES"—The Wonderful Fruit Medicine—Gives the Power To Resist This Disease.

The epidemic of Spanish Influenza which played such havoc in Europe, has reached this continent. Thousands of cases of the strange malady have appeared and many deaths are already reported; Surgeon-General Blue of the United States Public Health Service having stated that "Spanish Influenza will probably spread all over the country in six weeks".

Practically every ship which touches our shores from abroad, brings those infected with the disease.

Surgeon-General Blue urges that "the individual take all the precautions he can against contracting the disease by care and personal hygiene". Plenty of exercise should be taken; the diet should be regulated, etc.

Spanish Influenza affects most severely elderly persons and others whose powers of resistance are weakened by illness, work or worry, especially those who are "run-down" or "not feeling up to the mark."

The really great danger from the disease is not so much in the disease itself, as that it often develops into pneumonia.

What everyone needs now is a general tonic like "Fruit-a-tives". This wonderful fruit medicine is not a germ-killer. It is a body builder; a strength-maker; a blood-purifier; a power in protecting against the ravages of disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" regulates the kidneys and bowels, causing these organs to eliminate waste regularly and naturally as nature intended. "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the skin active, and purifies and enriches the blood. "Fruit-a-tives" tones up and strengthens the organs of digestion, insuring food being properly digested and assimilated.

Everyone can take ordinary precautions, avoid crowded places, and use "Fruit-a-tives" regularly to insure sound digestion, to keep the bowels and kidneys regular and the whole system in the best possible condition. Then we are safe from disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by dealers everywhere at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

SHOOTING FATALITY.

Harvey White, of Jessopville, Accidentally Killed While Hunting.

Harvey White, son of Mrs. Thos. White, of Jessopville, was the victim in a fatal shooting accident Saturday afternoon last. Deceased, who was in his 21st year, was out hunting with his brother Harold and two cousins, Robt. King and Irwin Crawford, of West Toronto. He had stopped to tie up his boot, leaning his rifle against a log to leave his hands free. Just how it happened is not certain, but at any rate when he caught hold of the rifle, which was pointed towards him, it in some way caught and was discharged, the bullet lodging in his abdomen. The others heard the report but at first thought the unfortunate young man was joking when he said he was shot. It was but a few seconds, however, until they realized the seriousness of the situation, and the dying young man was carried to their auto and hurriedly conveyed to his home. He died in a few minutes after being carried into the house. Besides his widowed mother, two sisters and three brothers survive: Ida and Louise, at home; Fred, overseas; John, Proton; Harold, Melancthon. Another brother, Thomas, died Oct. 3, 1917. The funeral took place to Shelburne cemetery Tuesday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Macartney, of Kelden. The following were the pallbearers: Robert King, Irwin Crawford, Andrew Harvey, John McLean, Harold and John White. Those who attended from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Calbeck and Bert Calbeck, West Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Garlett, Toronto; Mrs. White and Miss Lizzie White, Woodbridge; Miss McGirr, Durham; Robt. King, Mrs. Jas. Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Crawford, of West Toronto; Mr. Andrew and Miss Daisy Harvey, Weston.—Economist.

USED FOR SHAVING.

Many men are troubled, more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or eczema caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after the shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, OCT. 31, 1918.

VICTORY LOAN POINTERS.

Canada's Victory Loan Campaign of 1918 got off to a wonderful start in Dufferin County on Monday of this week. According to returns published on Tuesday morning the County of Dufferin was leading the Central Division and there is no reason why the County cannot hold this position all through the campaign. Although the first day was not at all pleasant weather to be out in, canvassers were out early and did not slacken their efforts until the total of $109,8000 had been secured for the day's work.

In one day there was sescured 12 per cent. of the objective of the County, $109,800 out of $900,000. Elsewhere is published more complete returns from the various canvassing districts. If you have not bought your bond yet get busy and secure it and see to it that Dufferin County leads the Central Division from the beginning to the end of the campaign.

The Victory Loan organization for this county distributed in every rural box and house in the county as far as possible a booklet entitled, "A, B, C, of the Victory Loan, 1918." In this booklet under the heading "When Payments are Due," the dates mentioned are the 1st of December, 1918, and the 1st of each month up to and including the 1st of April, 1919. This booklet was prepared before the official prospectus was decided on and dates set in the prospectus were the 6th of December and the 6th of each month up to and including the 6th of March. While the difference in the payments is only a matter of a few days this should be fully understood by the purchasers. The correct dates of payment are on the application form.

DUFFERIN GOING STRONG.

Dufferin County is doing well in its campaign to raise its share of the big Victory Loan. The objective set for the county is $900,000 and $187,800, over 20 per cent. of the total, was subscribed Monday and Tuesday. Two of the municipalities, East Luther and East Garafraxa, had not reported when The Banner went to press so that the total subscriptions for the first two days were probably considerably greater than the total we have given. While Orangeville led the way on Monday, Shelburne jumped into first place on Tuesday, exceeding its total objective by upwards of $15,000. This means that Shelburne wins the first Honor Flag in Dufferin and has at the same time won a crown for its flag. Congratulations to Shelburne's citizens and hustling campaigners. The figures by municipalities follow:

Canvassing District	Objective	Secured first Two Days
Orangeville	$120,000	$ 47,200
Mono	140,000	12,100
Mulmur	130,000	14,100
Melancthon ...	140,000	29,100
Shelburne	60,000	75,050
Amaranth	130,000	200
Grand Valley ..	30,000	10,050
East Luther ..	65,000	no report
East Garafraxa .	85,000	no report
	$900,000	$187,800

PTE. M'CAFFREY KILLED.

Very sad news came to Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McCaffery of Caledon East last week, when they received a despatch stating that their son Wilbert had been killed in action on Sept. 29. Pte. McCaffrey had been wounded twice before, and got it so hard at Vimy 18 months ago, that he had not expected to go back to the firing line. For some time he was employed at the dressing station near Vimy, but eventually got back to "finish his bit." Pte. McCaffrey, who joined up with the 126th, was an all round athlete, and a boxer of no mean skill. He was a general favorite with his comrades, and a former companion, speaking of his death last week, could find no words in which to express his esteem. "He was the finest!" seems to be the general expression in referring to the young soldier. He was 23 years of age. A brother, Albert McCaffrey, the oldest of the family, is connected with the 69th Battery.

PTE. D. H. A. BRINSMEAD, of Loverna, Sask., killed in action on August 8th, last. The young soldier was a nephew of Mrs. B. Cook, Sr., of Caledon. Since his death Mrs. Cook has received the following letter from the Corporal of his section:

France, Sept. 22, 1918.

Dear Mrs. Cook:

I suppose you have heard by now of the death of Pte. Brinsmead of our section. One of the parcels which you sent was carried here today and as there is a kind of an unwritten law among the section in a case like that we shall be distributed among the section. I hope you will excuse the liberty but it was the only thing to be done. He to our late friend. He was killed in the first few moment of an attack on August 8th of this year. He was killed instantly and suffered no pain whatever. His body is buried in a small village (by name Demuin), along with the rest of the dead heroes of this battalion who were killed on that eventful day. You may rest assured that his grave is properly cared for, as we hope it always will be. His loss is much felt by the boys of this section, among whom he was a favorite and one and all of the signal section extend to you their sympathy.

I am, yours sincerely,

CPL. C. THOMPSON,
58th Bn. Signals, France.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Mr. Richard Young kindly donated a cauliflower to the Girls' Club. After being raffled the girls received $15.60. The amount was kindly handed to the Red Cross Society. The girls are sure doing their bit.

Persons having socks finished from Red Cross rooms will please return Saturday afternoon to Miss Clark as boxes are being packed Monday night for overseas.

We have names of 100 boys. Those not having sent in names will please send 'phone to Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. J. E. Smith or Miss McKay.

The Hospital staff wish to thank the following for donations: Miss A. Clark, baking; Mr. Albert Reid, potatoes.

Wanted—Volunteers to act as Sisters of Service to assist in any way needed in the homes where there is sickness and in the care of the sick. This is an urgent appeal and it is hoped there will be an early response. Something must be done to assist doctors and nurses in fighting the dread epidemic. Any who are willing to help kindly leave names with Miss Barclay, Superintendent of Lord Dufferin Hospital.

The Daughters of the Empire will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Connell, 1st Ave., on Friday, Nov. 8th at 3.30 p.m. The matter of Victory Bonds will be considered and a full attendance of the members is therefore hoped for.

USEFUL WAR SOUVENIR.

The War Album issued by the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal is to hand and is a credit to the Publishers. A copy is sent free to all who order that paper for 1919. The Album contains a mine of valuable information and the color work could not be improved on.

It is just such a book as one would like to have close by at all times. Every school child in Canada should have it. In after years when the war is over it will be a valuable book of reference. The Family Herald costs only $1.25 a year and with the Album is certainly big value.

VICTORY LOAN UNDER WAY

Campaign Off to a Good Start in Orangeville—$120,000 the Local Objective.

Orangeville's campaign for the $120,000 that it is expected to subscribe to the Victory Loan started off quietly but auspiciously on Monday. The publicity committee had made arrangements to have the bells ring, and whiseltes blow at nine o'clock for the purpose of ushering in the big drive, but it was decided almost at the last moment to cancel the noise-making part of the program out of consideration for the large number of homes in which there is sickness. The downpour of rain may have dampened the canvassers, but it did not quench their ardour and by six o'clock they had turned in applications bordering on $40,000, almost one-third of the objective set for the town. Judged by results on the opening day Orangeville should exceed its objective, as it did in the 1917 campaign. Reports coming in to county headquarters indicate that other municipalities are doing equally well. Dufferin is going to do its share alright.

Last Thursday members of the county executive and canvassers from all parts of the county had luncheon at the Grand Central hotel as the guests of Mr. Harry H. Goss, the hustling county organizer. Speeches were afterwards delivered by Mr. C. R. McKeown, County Chairman, who presided; John Bset, M. P.; Mr. C. E. A. Goldman, Organizer for the Central District of Ontario, and Mr. Goss. An interesting feature of the meeting was the reproduction on a Victrola of a short speech by Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance. Mr. Goldman discussed the Victory Bonds, and the canvassers' duties and instructions in a most vivid and satisfactory manner. Nearly all the canvassers in the county were present and were most optimistic over the outcome of the campaign.

The "Honor Flag" feature has aroused the competitive spirit, and it is apparently the fixed intention of each municipality to win this coveted distinction. To each district that reaches its objective a fine flag will be presented, and on the flag is placed a crown for every twenty-five per cent. over the quota. The flags have been donated to the campaign by the Duke of Devonshire.

JOE HALBERT KILLED.

Another of the 164th Battalion Boys Makes the Supreme Sacrifice.

Word reached his home near Mono Mills on Saturday morning that Pte. Jos. S. Halbert had been killed in action in France on Oct. 7th last. Halbert enlisted in the 164th in 1916 and went overseas in the spring of 1917. He was a non-commissioned officer in the 164th but reverted to the rank of private before going to France. He was in his 24th year and was a tall, stalwart young man and a most likeable chap. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Halbert, 7th line, east, Mono. He is also survived by three brothers.

We understand that the young soldier was to have been married to Miss Hazel Holmes, of Camilla, shortly after his return to Canada. The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved parents and other relatives.

SERGT.-MAJOR WOUNDED.

Co.-Sergt.-Major H. H. Dunn, who was wounded in the right arm on Oct. 12th, formerly lived at No. 11 Bradshaw avenue, Toronto, but his wife and children now reside at Inglewood, Ont. Co.-Sergt.-Major Dunn is a veteran of the South African war and went overseas with the 20th Battalion in 1915. Prior to enlisting he was a traveller for the Victoria Paper and Twine Co.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day it is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

POINTS TO REMEMBER.

The war has cost Canada one billion dollars.

The war is not yet ended.

Even if the fighting does end in the near future, the military expenditure will remain high until the soldiers are demobilized.

425,000 Canadians have gone overseas and Lord Shaughnessy says that it will probably take 18 months to bring them back.

If the war were to end tomorrow it would probably cost $250,000,000 to mobilize the Canadian soldiers.

For Canada's Expeditionary Force Pay and Allowances alone amount to $14,000,000 a month, whether the men are fighting or not.

Of the $500,000,000 desired through the Victory Loan, this year's war bill will be equal to four-fifths of it.

Bear in mind that a large portion of the money received through the Victory Loan will go to finance sales of Canada's products to Britain.

WRITTEN SERMONETTES.

Helpful Messages from Ministers of Some of Orangeville's Churches.

With all the churches closed last Sunday for probably the first time in the history of the town, The Banner thought it well to place a portion of its reading space at the disposal of the local clergymen. We are convinced that the following thoughtful and helpful messages will be appreciated by their congregations and our readers generally:

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The Call of the Hour.

The end of the great World War never seemed so near as it does now. Germany's allies are forsaking her, one by one, and sueing for peace. The German armies are retreating homeward on all the battlefronts. The people are losing confidence in their military autocracy and are becoming fearful for the defence of the Fatherland.

It would be a calamity, however, if Great Britain and her Allies allowed these bright prospects of victory to divert their attention from the duty of this critical hour. We must guard ourselves against grasping at too easy a peace and foregoing the fruits for which so much blood has been spilt. Let us welcome any living movement on the part of German democracy to range themselves alongside their brethren of other nations, but until they do we owe it to those, who lie in Flanders fields, to continue driving the enemy nearer to his home. The issues of this war are so fundamental to the civilization of the world that it must be finished right.

Canadians have an opportunity right now to deal the knockout blow to German ambition of world domination. We have all felt from the first that the kaiser had designs on Canada. Our vast territory would provide a splendid outlet for the surplus population of Germany if they could annex it to their empire. We are not now worried the least about German domination but we have it in our power to answer them in a way that should drive the truth home to the heart of every man and woman in Germany by oversubscribing the Victory Loan. When the people of Germany learn that Canadians are ready with the money and consequently the guns and munitions to prosecute the war another year it will utterly break their morale which is as effective a way of winning the war as the annihilation of their armies. This is a blow that can easily be dealt by Canadians.

Another duty emphasized by these critical days is the spread of the gospel of good-will. We all know that the root cause of this war is that heathen element in Christendom that regards physical force as the supreme arbiter between nations, instead of the law of righteousness. If this denial of the right of Christ to control the life of a Christian nation has led to so great a disaster, how much greater will be the danger to the world, when the nations with their teeming millions, that are not yet Christian, become armed with the powers of science. The outlook is indeed dark unless the Church pursues the missionary ideal with a new faith and greater results. This also Canadians could easily do. Bank interest on the amount allocated to the town of Orangeville as its share of the Victory Loan comes to more than the town has given in any year to missions, and as a rule people are investing in Bonds what they can easily spare from business. How quickly the gospel of peace would leaven the world if only Christians were more zealous.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

"That I Might By All Means Save Some," I. Cor. 9:22.

Today owing to the tremendous need created by this awful war, a great many means are used in order to save. This is due to the fact of great issues at stake; issues of such importance that sacrifices of time, money and life are being made in order to save what is of greater moment than even life—honor, liberty and truth. It is not my purpose to use these notable words of Paul, which have one supreme meaning, as a pretext for speaking of natural methods, and means of saving honor, truth and liberty. But to refer you to this great consuming passion of Paul the apostle to the Gentiles "Winning or Saving Some."

The context of my text is so apparent that I need but say very little. At Corinth some repudiated Paul and therefore he had to vindicate his apostleship. The three grounds on which he claimed apostleship were: (1) Am I not free?; (2) Have I not seen Jesus Christ?; (3) Are ye not my work in the Lord? As an apostle ministering the gospel of Christ he had rightful claims upon them, but he used none of the rightful claims, ministering among them without charge, so that none could say he was an hireling. But as he himself avers a necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is me if I preach not the gospel. Little wonder that he exclaims "By all means save some." He was carried on the breast of a mighty flood. The passion of his life was preaching Christ and Him crucified. What a message! What an effect! Salvation.

Let us consider briefly three things: (1) The purpose of Paul's life; (2) the message of the church today; (3) the business of the Christian today.

1. The purpose of Paul's life. Possibly there has not been in the service of our Lord Jesus, one who will compare with the apostle of the Gentiles. One whose mental fittedness was so grand, who in the mighty sweep and comprehendingness of his great intellect saw. One who in the passion of a zeal and absolute devotedness served. One who in his giving up, denial, and humility, sacrificed. As we look into his heart unveiled in his writings, we there see the great purpose of his life was to bring men and women to Christ.

11. The message of the Church today. As one hears the statements from all church circles today about the Church's new attitude to the apparently new problem of today, one wonders what is the function and message of the Church. We are glad, however, that we are not dependent upon the undertones and jargon of men. We have the unfailing guide of God's Word. A act that some think of the Church as a mere institutional thing, philanthropic, reformatory. If the Church is to accomplish the work God has called her to do, she must understand God's plan and God's method. It is not God's plan in this age to save society, but to save individuals, and to call out a people to His name.

The Church's message today is Christ crucified. If the Church fails to declare the cross as the only meeting place where God will be merciful, and whereby man be saved, she ceases to exist for God. The business and message of the Church today is "by all means save some."

III. The Business of the Christian Today. By the grace of God through the redemptive work of the Lord Jesus we have been saved from the penalty of sin. By the present work of Christ as High Priest and by the indwelling Holy Spirit we are being saved from the power of sin. By the coming of Jesus as Son of God, we shall be saved from the presence of sin. Therefore since we are saved we ought so to live and labor that others may be saved too. Charles Garrett has told of a drunken father in Manchester who swore and fought, with whom no one had any influence but his only child little Annie. A fever came into their district and carried his little one hence. As he stood by his little dead girl he seemed to hear her say, "Father, I am safe with Jesus. Won't you come and join me?" At her side he kneeled and promised by God's help he would. He never swore again; he never was drunk again; he was saved.

May it please God by the means of this present epidemic, through similar or some means, to save some.

—JOHN DODDS.

METHODIST CHURCH.

"Thou Hast Enlarged Me When I Was in Distress."

I was delighted to receive a request from the Editor of The Banner to use a portion of his paper to send a message of love and faith and comfort to my people. When we are not permitted to deliver the word from our pulpits, and, because of the contagion, not even permitted to see the sick, it is a fortunate thing that there is still an open door by which we may enter and deliver our message and that is by the printed page. Our thanks are due to the Editor.

My message this week is based on the Fourth Psalm. This Psalm is a prayer full of faith, triumph and peace. Trouble has come to him but "Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress," says the writer. If our troubles drive us closer to God, we shall be blessed thereby. If our weaknesses become so great that like a weary, sickly child we are picked up by a loving, tender mother, we have more of a mother's care, attention and love and we learn more of the greatness of that mother. So the soul of man may in weakness and need turn to God and learn from Him and of Him, things that it could or would never learn in the days of its strength.

Men, because of their love of vanity and trickery, conceit and smartness, turn God's glory (the blessings whereby he would glorify his beloved children), into shame. But because he has experienced God's love and helpfulness in the time of his helplessness, the Psalmist knows that God has "set apart the godly for Himself." "Therefore," he exhorts us, "stand in awe and sin not. Commune with God, open your heart before Him when you are alone with Him in the sleepless hours. See that the offerings you bring before him are right, right words, thoughts and deeds; for that which is impure and crooked, He will sweep from His presence. Stand in awe, sin not and put your trust in God."

In despair some cry, "Who will show us any good?" The best answer is to dwell in the light of His countenance. "Who will show us any harvest?" cries the despairing farmer in the rain. Take him to where the sun is shining upon the golden grain! But there is a gladness that may be in the soul that is greater than that which gladdens the farmer at the sight of golden grain. These blessings are temporal. But when man's heart is filled with pardon for sin, a glorious sense of acceptance with God, the love of Christ swelling up in the soul like a gushing fountain; when a man can say, "The Lord is my Shepherd and I am His, for time and for eternity"; when the triumphant soul can say: "To me to live is Christ" and to die is to have Christ fulfil for me his loving words, "I go to prepare a place for you that where I am there ye may be also"; when man's soul is so bound up with that of his Saviour, he has that which men cannot give him and that of which nothing in time can rob him. This is the victory that overcometh the world.

Truly such an one may "lay him down in peace and sleep"—whether it is the sleep of night or the sleep of death, "for the Lord maketh such to dwell in safety."

CALEDON EAST.

Rev. W. E. and Mrs. Wallace left for their new home in Underwood, Bruce county, last week. Mr. Wallace's induction into his new charge was to take place on Friday, Oct. 25. Prior to their departure the members and adherents of St. Andrew's, 4th line, east, Caledon, met at the church and presented Mr. and Mrs. Wallace with a purse of $75 and the following address:

Dear Pastor and Wife,—It is with sincere regret that we, the members and adherents of St. Andrew's church, Caledon, view your departure from our midst to other fields of labor. You have endeared yourself to us in many ways, both in parochial and pastoral matters, spending and being spent for the spiritual and temporal uplift of the church. This applies with equal force to your estimable wife, Mrs. Wallace, who was always foremost in every good work. We, your parishioners, therefore wish you every good wish in your new home and we ask you to accept this purse as a small token of esteem

Signed on behalf of the congregation: Robert Campbell and Alex. S. McLeish.

Mr. Wallace made an appropriate reply. Several of those present made short addresses expressing their regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace from our midst. Rev. Burkholder, of Caledon, testified to the esteem in which Mr and Mrs. Wallace were held in the Presbytery of Orangeville.

MARSVILLE.

Last week Mr. Warren Jestin, 12th line, East Garafraxa, received the sad news of the death of his second son, Albert, who passed away on Wednesday, Oct. 16th at his home in Deburn, Alta. Spinal meningitis was the cause of his demise. The deceased left Garafraxa several years ago for Minnesota and then moved to Alberta. While in Minnesota he married Miss Nellie Weaver, whose former home was in Ontario. He was 44 years of age and besides a widow, leaves a family of ten, also his father, Mr. Warren Jestin, of 12th line, East Garafraxa, two sisters, Miss Maggie, of the 12th line, and Mrs. R. Simpson, of Alberta, and brothers, Herbert, mail clerk, Grand Forks, N. Dakota; Harold, of Alberta, and David, of Marsville.

PEEL SHORT COURSES.

At a large meeting in Palgrave last Saturday evening it was unanimously decided to take advantage of the offer of the Peel Department of Agriculture to hold the annual short courses in Agriculture and Home Economics there next January. Plans were made for an extensive advertising campaign and the territory was divided into blocks with one or two men in charge to canvass all the young men and young women to attend the short course.

Moving pictures showing how to judge beef animals and how medical inspection was carried on in the schools of Peel County were put on at the meeting. Mr. Stark and Miss McIntosh of the Department of Agriculture outlined the courses in Agriculture and Home Economics and A. S. Rutherford, John Jackson and Geo. Taylor spoke briefly of the advantages of the courses and urged the young people of the district to begin planning now to attend. The president of the Palgrave Farmers' Club, Mr. John Hassard occupied the chair. Both the Palgrave and Castlederg Farmers' Clubs are co-operating with the Department of Agriculture in working up these courses.

Following are the names of the men appointed to do the canvassing and all those interested in the short courses are invited to assist and co-operate with these men in every way possible.

Ed. Patterson, John Hassard, Jack Marshall, David Patterson, Joe Martin, Chas. Kearns, Jack Moffatt, Dan Sullivan, Thos. McCartney, Thomas Potter, John Anderson, Isaac Steele, J. H. Rutherford, Thos. PROSPERITY SHOWN IN BANK DEPOSITS

Ontario's Commercial Leadership Promising for Victory Loan Success.

Victory Loan Subscribers in Ontario in 1917 Were Over Four Hundred Thousand.

Why should Ontario take half of the Victory Loan of 1918?

Because her industrial and agricultural output represents almost half of the business activities of the Dominion. Because her people are better off financially than the people of any other section of the Dominion. Because she is enjoying a period of unexampled prosperity, and her people are better prepared to invest in government bonds than ever before.

We turn to the returns of the chartered banks for the best proof of good times, if signs were wanting in the prosperous appearance of the people we meet. In 1917 there were deposits in the savings banks amounting to $952,000,000; in 1918 the figures had swelled to $1,014,000,000. In current bank accounts there were, in 1917, $440,000,000. In 1918 this sum had grown to $555,000,000. All told there has been an increase of $177,000,000. And this in the face of the fact that the people invested over $419,000,000 in last year's Victory Loan and over $50,000,000 in government and municipal bonds.

War Orders Have Helped.

This vast accumulation of wealth has come from the activity that has been given to business in general by the purchase of over $1,200,000,000 worth of war materials in Canada by the British Government since the war began. Last year's Victory Loan and previous loan issues were responsible for a great deal of this business. Because the people placed large sums of money at the disposal of the government we were able to advance money to the British Government and enable the latter to take practically all of our surplus exportable products of manufacturing and agriculture.

Referring again to our agricultural and manufacturing products. The Dominion statistician tells us that in 1915 Canada manufactured, all told, goods to the value of $1,407,137,140, of which $715,531,839 came from Ontario. That is over 50 per cent. This year it is estimated that the figure will be $2,000,000,000 for the Dominion and $1,000,000,000 for Ontario.

In agricultural products, including field crops, live stock and poultry, dairy products, fruit and vegetables, we produced in 1917 a total for the Dominion of $1,621,028,000, of which $547,740,881 came from Ontario.

Some Big Figures.

The amount of increased wealth from these two in one year has been $3,621,028,000 for Canada and $6,547,740,000 for Ontario. In addition there has been an accretion of wealth of $418,000,000 from forests, mines and fisheries, and there has easily been another turnover of a billion dollars in the financial and commercial institutions of this province alone.

Last year Ontario raised for the Victory Loan $205,000,000, or $54 a head. There were 874,331 subscribers in the Dominion, 403,541 being from Ontario. Toronto furnished $78,000,000 of Ontario's total, while $127,000,000 came from outside. Hamilton raised $82.33 per head of the population and one out of every 2½ was a subscriber.

There is every reason to believe that Ontario will do just as well, if not better, this year. Get behind the loan.

Lady teachers in London, Ont., told their troubles to the Council of Women instead of the Board of Education which latter body demanded a retraction. Provincial Inspector Waugh was called in to settle the dispute, but he has now transferred the task to the Minister of Education.

The Pathephone as an article of High Class Furniture

IF your home is well-furnished, and you are planning to buy a phonograph, you will appreciate the beauteous appearance of the Pathephone, for nothing is more discordant than a plain, often ugly, cabinet in a home that is otherwise tastily furnished. As well as in attaining the supreme achievement of musical reproduction, the makers of the Pathephone have also produced art objects of beauty in the Pathe' cabinets.

The very loveliness of their artistic appearance is a delight to one's aesthetic sense, and enhances the pleasure of their possession.

In addition to the regular Pathephone models designed by men with life-long experience in producing high-class furniture, exquisite examples of periods most famous in history have been selected as models for Pathe' Period Cabinets.

If your home is not already furnished in period design, a Pathephone would make a most excellent beginning. Choose from one of the following styles: Queen Anne, Louis XVI, Sheraton, Adam, William and Mary, Georgian, Jacobean.

CANADA'S "SCRAP OF PAPER"

GOOD AS GUINEA GOLD

IN CANADA, as in all right-thinking nations, good faith is the foundation of all our business dealings. Without a sound basis of credit our whole financial structure would crumble and decay.

Credit is the belief of the creditor in the borrower's intention and ability to pay.

You do not hesitate to exchange four silver quarters for a Dollar Bill, because you know that Dollar is as good as Guinea Gold. Yet a Dollar Bill is only a "scrap of paper" bearing Canada's statement that it will pay one hundred cents for it.

You have read that statement so often that you have come to accept it without question.

And Canada has always made good its promises concerning every "scrap of paper" it has ever put on the market.

Canada is now offering to investors Dominion of Canada Bonds, bearing interest at 5½ per cent. per annum. The interest is payable half yearly, and the Bonds are issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, making a most attractive and profitable investment.

It is Canada's desire that Bonds of the Victory Loan, 1918, be distributed as widely as possible among private individuals.

The last Victory Loan, which was largely over-subscribed, had more than 800,000 subscribers, or 1 in 9, of the entire population of Canada.

Every available dollar of private capital in Canada is urgently needed to surpass that record. BUY VICTORY BONDS —they are good as Guinea Gold.

From the standpoint of Patriotism your duty is clear. But, apart from any consideration of duty and patriotism, Canada's Victory Bonds represent the safest, surest and best investment in the world to-day.

"FOR FREEDOM AND THE RIGHT"—"THE ALLIES."

The above is the title of a most interesting War Album issued by The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal.

It is brimful of useful information from cover to cover. The front cover page is a most beautiful design embracing the flags of all the Allies. It is a clever artistic effort. The Album contains the flags in colors of all the Allies. It tells in full the story of the "Union Jack" and "Old Glory." It gives the date and reason for entry of each of the Allies into the war. It gives the system of Government of each, also population, area, etc., etc. It contains the National Songs of Great Britain, France and the United States, as well as a great many of the popular songs such as "Tipperary," "Long, Long Trail," "Good Bye Broadway," "Over There," etc. It contains a diary of the war since its commencement up to time of going to press, with blank space on which the recipient may fill in future dates and have the complete history. The Album is one you would buy on sight at any reasonable price, but is not for sale. It is absolutely free to all who subscribe to The Family Herald and Weekly Star for 1919. The yearly subscription price is $1.25. We have made a clubbing combination with the Family Herald and can offer that great Weekly with the Album and The Banner for $2.00. The offer of the Album is for a limited time only. Order now and be sure of a copy. The Family Herald does not continue such an offer indefinitely. A sample of the Album may be seen at this office.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT WOOLLENS

To keep a fighting man in fighting condition, you must keep him warm for one thing. The pick of the woollen cloth is being utilized right now for soldiers' clothing; it is right these "upholders of our rights" should have the best. Many months ago, yes months, we made plans for these very Overcoats you'll find here; our big contracts for clothing were in before the shut off of woollens for men back home went into effect. We feel sure our patrons will appreciate our timely buying.

Don't think because we haven't mentioned Ties, Gloves, Sox, Caps, Work Shirts, Work Gloves, Overalls, Pants and Fur Coats, that we haven't them. The greatest showing in town and at the most reasonable prices awaits you here.

LOOKS LIKE AN ILLEGAL SHIPMENT

Last Thursday Inspector Harvey was advised from Milton that a car of scrap iron shipped to that town had a suspicious appearance. He at once drove to the county town to investigate. He found the car of scrap in the C. P. R. yard about 10 p. m. It had already been there for twenty-four hours. The name of the party to whom it had been shipped was unknown in the community. After the freight had been paid two men were known to be at work on the car several hours the night before Inspector Harvey was notified. The Inspector watched the car all night and on Friday with the assistance of Constable Chapman went through the car of scrap There was strong evidence that a cargo of liquor had been secreted in the debris. The man to whom the car was consigned came in a motor car from Hamilton. It is supposed that he and his accomplices got away with the liquor the first night. He sold the scrap iron to a junk dealer at Milton. This man is also alleged to have a Hamilton connection. —cton Free Press.

FARMER CANDIDATE WON.

Carried Late "Bob" Gamey's Seat by Three Hundred Majority.

With six polls to hear from, Bowman, United Farmers' candidate, defeated B. H. Turner, government candidate, by 297 votes in the bye-election which was held last Thursday to fill the vacancy in the Legislature for Manitoulin caused by the death of the late R. R. Gamey. Bowman is a Mennonite preacher, and his support and his success is attributed to the hostility of the farmers to the Military Service Act. While admittedly the Ontario Government had nothing to do with this, feeling ran so high it was difficult to divide the constituency on former political lines.

VICTORY LOAN NEEDED EVEN IF PEACE COMES

"Victory Loan will be required to full extent, even if peace should come within a few weeks or months, as nations will be on a war basis for a long time, and it will take Canada a year or more to demobilize; also credits will still have to be given to Imperial Munitions."—Sir Thomas White in a special message to the people of Canada.

COMFORTABLY HOUSED.

Troubles of German Prisoners Mostly of the Stomach, Writes Lieut. Errol Sydie.

The following are extracts from letters received by Major H. A. Semple, of 905 College street, Toronto, formerly of Orangeville, from his cousin, Lieut. Errol Sydie, R. A. F., another former Orangeville boy, who is now a prisoner in Germany. Until recently Lieut. Sydie was in Karlsruhe, but he has lately been transferred to the Stralsund-Dunhohn camp:

"I suppose by this time you have heard that I am a prisoner of war. I was taken at 9.30 p.m. June 30th about six miles over the line. We got into a fight; more enemy aircraft came down from up above, and we began to start for home again as we were much too far over. I was engaged with an E. A. and stayed too long, and finally found myself attacked by eight, and started for home, doing everything I could think of with the machine, and a few things I never did before. The only thing to do was to come down to the tree tops and 'hop' them home. I was about half way home when they 'got' my engine, and I managed to land all right just in front of a battery. My instrument board and wind screen were shot up. The lower right hand plane was in tatters, and the rest of the machine pretty liberally perforated. I never was more convinced of the kindly care of my lucky star when I had time to think the whole thing over on the ground. Just after my engine had been hit one of our fellows dived on the E. A. and created enough diversion for me to have got away if he had been only a minute earlier. He had evidently seen me in trouble and returned. The trip from France here was quite a nice one. The scenery along the Rhine is beautiful and we saw many historic places."

Writing from Karlsruhe on July 28th, he says: "Since the last I sent I have come to this camp, which is also a temporary one, but much more comfortable. It is fairly large and there is more in the way of recreation than at Rastatt. We have a good library, billiards and games, such as field hockey; hot showers and better food. We have begun to get a little food issued from the Prisoners of War Committee, but they are emergency parcels. We have at this camp officers of every allied nationality, as it is the chief distributing camp. There are French, French-Canadians, Italians, Portuguese, Canadians, South Africans, Americans and English; talk about Babel, it has nothing on this for variety of tongues. We have a bunch of Americans here now who were out on a long-distance bombing stunt, almost a whole squadron of them. The weather came up 'dud' and they got lost and landed in Germany, much to their mortification. A typical day here is as follows: 9 o'clock, dress and breakfast; 10, roll call, library or billiards till dinner at 12; the afternoon is spent in reading or cards; afternoon tea 4 p.m.; supper at 6 p.m. Game of field hockey, roll call, 9 p.m., talk, bed. Our troubles are mostly those of the stomach and they are not serious ones. At present I am wearing a pair of German army boots which have been given to me in place of my sheepskin flying boots, and are infinitely more comfortable for summer weather."

Your Noise Does Not Disturb Me Any More—It is a Pleasure to Hear You Romp and Play.

"IT is like a dream now to think of the long, weary months I spent in nervous helplessness. Some days I would be cheered by feeling better, but only to slip back again, and to be more than ever discouraged.

"I had always been very active. Had a wide acquaintance and did much entertaining. In addition to helping in whatever was going on at the church, there was Red Cross work to be done, and all the time I had my little family to look after and could not get help.

"I suppose I tried to do too much, for I got so I could not sleep at nights and always felt tired out in the mornings. Then I would have headaches and did not seem to care for my meals.

"[illegible] the usual ambition and energy [illegible] myself putting off the doing of things. I got behind with the work [illegible] it worried me.

"[illegible] I was sick, but [illegible] the time came when I had [illegible] or more. I simply [illegible] and told, 'Prescription.' It seems I had [illegible] until the nervous system became [illegible] of all nerve force.

"[illegible] came the long, weary weeks, and weeks dragged into months, without finding much improvement. I was completely discouraged and almost devoid of hope.

"But one day a friend told me of her experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and she was so sure that this treatment would do me good that I decided to give it a chance.

"I need scarcely say that there were some dark, discouraging days after beginning the use of the Nerve Food, but as my appetite and digestion improved I felt that I was gradually getting back the old-time vigor. Sleep became more natural and refreshing. The dark days passed and I began to take a more cheerful view of the future. Then I began to plan what I would do when I got around again. The house must be decorated and the children brought home, for I had to send them to my sister's on account of the way their noise disturbed me.

"Now I feel that I am entirely well again, and without hesitation give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I cannot tell you the pleasure it gives me to be restored to my husband and children after the long period of helplessness."

WHAT THE VICTORY LOAN MEANS TO THE FARMER

The 1917 Victory Loan enabled the Dominion Government to advance—

$100,000,000 to finance last year's wheat crop; also

Nearly another $100,000,000 to finance the sale of live stock products to Great Britain; also Nearly $40,000,000 to finance exports of cheese to Great Britain.

The 1918 Victory Loan will enable the Dominion Government to finance the sale of the wheat crop to Great Britain; also

To finance the sale of beef, pork, and other live stock products.

To finance exports of cheese, butter, eggs and condensed milk to Great Britain.

Great Britain will take Canada's agricultural products, but cannot pay cash. The Dominion Government must finance the sales.

NO TALK OF PEACE MUST INJURE LOAN

Canada Needs the Money, Even if War Ended Now; Expenses of War Must be Met.

Subscriptions totalling $500,000,000 are wanted for the second Victory Loan. The war is not yet over. Indeed the Allies are today making greater military efforts than they ever did before. At no other time since the outbreak of war has the fighting on the west front been so severe. From the Vosges to the North Sea it is a continuous line of fire. All this means a huge expenditure of money. Today the Allies are spending more than ever.

It is a mistake to conclude that because the central powers are cracking and sending out peace feelers indicating great distress, that the fighting is about to cease. Cease it would quickly, if Germany would accept the terms of the Allies as did Bulgaria; but, as far as can be learned, Germany is not yet prepared to do this. She is not ready to make reparation for her past crimes, or to give adequate guarantees for her future good conduct. So it may be taken for granted that the war will continue until Germany is brought to her knees.

Big Tasks After Peace.

Even if the war were to end within the next few weeks the $500,000,000 asked for would still be needed. Competent authorities say that it would take at least 18 months to bring home and demobilize all the troops, for they can only be brought back in proportion as the tonnage is available. At the present time the monthly expenditure for pay and allowances alone amounts to $14,000,000, so it is easy to see that if it took 18 or 20 months to demobilize the troops the pay for this period would probably exceed $150,000,000. The bill to date for ocean and land transport has been $34,500,000, so that possibly over $20,000,000 would be required to transport the soldiers home. So even if peace were to come almost at once it would probably cost $225,000,000 to demobilize the troops. Here is nearly half of the $500,000,000 asked for.

Advances to Industries.

But millions are wanted for purposes other than the maintaining of the army. Canada today is exceedingly prosperous, but this prosperity is very largely attributable to the advances made by the Dominion Government to certain industries which advances were made possible through the 1917 Victory Loan. For some months the Imperial Munitions Board, which has placed over $1,200,000,000 worth of war orders in Canada, has been receiving advances totalling over $20,000,000 a month. Last year nearly $1,000,000,000 were advanced to finance the wheat crop, while over another $100,000,000 were required to finance the sale of beef, pork and other agricultural products to Great Britain. An advance of $10,000,000 to the Imperial Munitions Board enabled it to award contracts for $25,000,000 worth of wooden ships, and this shipbuilding program has been extended to include steel ships, so that today contracts for 90 ships have been awarded at a cost of nearly $67,000,000.

It is the intention of the Dominion Government to make even larger advances to certain industries during the coming year. What it will do in this respect of course depends largely on the response to the Victory Loan. If the subscriptions do not come up to expectations, then the government must curtail its program. For one thing is certain! Canada must finance herself. Great Britain will take hundreds of millions of dollars of our surplus products, but only on credit, which means that if the sales are to be made the Dominion Government must advance the money.

Canada is well able to subscribe the $500,000,000 that are wanted. Today there are on deposit in the banks of this country $[illegible],000,000 more than there were in 1914, and this in spite of the fact that during the last four years $740,000,000 in war loans have been taken up. The explanation of these increasing bank deposits, notwithstanding the heavy drain on the country, is that Canada has become wealthy through the war. Paradoxical as it may seem, the more money that Canadians have subscribed to war loans the better off they have become, because this has, through the advancing of credits to other governments, enabled the country to get contracts which it could not otherwise have secured.

LIEUT.-COL. CLARKE DEAD.

Stricken with influenza on the preceding Friday, Lieut.-Col. James Drury Clarke, formerly O. C. 111th South Waterloo Battalion, and Managing Director of the Galt Reporter, died suddenly on the morning of Oct. 17th from bronchial pneumonia. Deceased, who was 34 years of age, was a son of the late Lieut.-Col. Chas. Clarke, of Elora, at one time Speaker and at another Clerk of the Ontario Legislature.

What are Peps

Peps are the new treatment for coughs, colds and lung troubles. They are little tablets made up from Pine extracts and medicinal essences. When put into the mouth these medicinal ingredients turn into healing vapors, which are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes. The Peps treatment is direct. Swallowing cough mixtures into the stomach, to cure ailments and disorders in throat and lungs, is indirect. Peps are revolutionizing the treatment of colds and their price is within the reach of all. All dealers, 50c. box. Send 1c. stamp for FREE TRIAL PACKAGE.

NO TIME TO LET UP.

"Recent events have enhanced, not lessened, the importance of this loan and I hope that my fellow countrymen will let me say this to them very frankly; the very best thing that could happen would be that the loan should not only be fully subscribed, but very greatly oversubscribed. We are in the middle of the greatest exercise of the power of this country that has ever been witnessed, or forecast, and a single day of relaxation in that effort would be of tragical damage alike to ourselves and to the rest of the world. Nothing has happened that makes it safe or possible to do anything but push our effort to the utmost. The time is critical and the answer must be complete."—President Wilson.

SPANISH INFLUENZA RAPIDLY SPREADING

Persons Weak and Rundown Easy Victims—Fortify Yourself Against It By Taking Tanlac.

According to late reports issued by State and Federal health authorities in the United States the Spanish influenza epidemic is rapidly spreading to all parts of North America and it now seems that practically all of Canada will be seriously affected before it runs its course.

It has not only become a great and terrifying menace to the public health, but, unless checked, it is apt to seriously affect the progress of war work in all its various departments. Already the Shipping Board has announced that ten per. cent. of its workers have been affected.

The disease has made its greatest progress in the East where it has claimed its victims by the thousands. Reports from other sections, however, are equally alarming; and both civil, and military authorities have warned the public to take every precaution to prevent its further spread. In many cities schools, churches and theatres have been closed and public gatherings of all kinds forbidden.

Medical authorities agree that people who are weak and run-down are the earliest victims of the influenza epidemic. If you find yourself tired, weak and losing flesh, or if you are in a generally run-down condition, or if you catch cold easily this warning should be heeded promptly. You are really in great danger, because the germ of this disease is very catching and you are apt to fall an easy victim if you come in contact with the germs. People who are well and strong are not likely to contract the disease because they are able to throw it off. The common sense way to keep from taking it, therefore, is to fortify the system against attack by building up the constitution.

In other words to use the old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." And if you are in a sub-normal condition the proper thing to do is to begin immediately to build up your powers of resistance. To accomplish this, nothing on earth will strengthen you and build you up like Tanlac, the powerful reconstructive tonic which contains the very elements needed by the system to give you fighting strength and ward off the influenza germ.

First of all Tanlac begins its action by creating a good healthy appetite for wholesome, nourishing food, and assists every organ of the body to perform its natural functions, thus helping to build up health and strength in the natural way.

Tanlac is also the ideal strengthening tonic for persons who are suffering from the after effects of influenza, grippe or bronchial troubles and hundreds of thousands are using it daily with the most gratifying results.

In connection with the Tanlac treatment, it is necessary to keep the bowels open by taking Tanlac Laxative Tablets, samples of which are included with every bottle of Tanlac. It is also important that the every day rules of hygiene be observed; that is, sleep in well ventilated rooms, get plenty of fresh air and exercise and keep away from crowds.

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

THE TRUE CANADIAN.

"No true Canadian will be found wanting in his response to the appeal which the next Victory Loan will make to him. He will weigh in his conscience the question of how much he is going to subscribe to that loan to help to victory the highest cause for which men have ever faced the supreme sacrifice. He will not fail to hear the call of duty. He will do his part towards making the loan a success worthy of Canada, whose resources, from ocean to ocean, are all behind it."—Grain Growers' Guide.

FERGUSON–TATE.

The Manse, Bluevale, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Friday, Oct. 18th, when Ruple, only daughter of Rev. Crawford and Mrs. Tate, was married to J. P. Ferguson, of Calgary, son of the late P. Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson, of Drayton. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Tate in the presence of immediate relatives. The bride wore a gown of ivory French meteor satin trimmed with Georgette. The bridal veil of tulle was hand embroidered and was held by orange blossoms. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson left on the afternoon train for points east before leaving for their home in Calgary.

M'CORMICK–GROAT.

A very quiet, but pretty military wedding took place in the R. C. church, Dixie, on Wednesday morning, Oct. 23rd, when Miss Jessie Groat, of Snelgrove became the bride of Pte. Ambrose McCormick, of Caledon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Minehan. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. John Groat, and wore an embroidered gown of navy blue crepe de chine. She also wore the gift of the groom, a beautiful necklace. The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Hazel McCormick, who was dressed in taupe charmeuse satin. The groom was supported by Mr. Fred Martin, of Brampton. After the ceremony the bridal party motored to the Carlis-Rite Hotel, Toronto, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served, after which they motored to Brampton and left on the C. P. R. train for Dundalk, where they will spend a few days, then return to the groom's home, Caledon, where a reception will be held.

SUCCUMBED TO "FLU."

Don. McWilliam, Brother of Late Neil McWilliam, Died in St. Thomas Last Week.

Donald McWilliam, of the law firm of McCrimmon, McCrimmon & McWilliam, in St. Thomas, died at Amasa Wood Hospital in that city, late Wednesday night following a week's illness of influenza, with ensuing complications. He was a most promising young barrister, graduating from Osgoode Hall in 1916, being one of the youngest lawyers in the history of Canada to receive his qualifications, being only 21 years of age at the time. He recently recovered from a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, and his death is believed due to his weakened condition. He was born and received his early education in Dutton, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McWilliam, reside.

Deceased was a brother of the late Neil T. McWilliam, druggist, in Orangeville, who died very suddenly from appendicitis last March. He visited his brother here on several occasions and was here for a few days at the time of his funeral. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Miss Mary. The funeral took place at Dutton on Friday.

MRS. JOHN SAGE.

The death occurred on lot 4, 1st line, east, Caledon, on Wednesday, Oct. 23rd, of Mary Andrews, wife of John Sage, in her 86th year. Mr. and Mrs. Sage came from England many years ago and settled in Caledon, where they have always resided. They are among the best known and highly respected citizens in the Inglewood section. Besides her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Balmer of Toronto and Mrs. McLaren of the Grange, survive. One son, John Sage, died about nine years ago. The funeral, which was private, was held from her late residence to Boston Mills cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

ROY C. STEELE.

His many Orangeville friends were shocked and grieved to learn of the death of Roy C. Steele, formerly C. P. R. ticket agent here, which occurred in Bolton on Saturday morning after a short illness from pneumonia following an attack of Spanish influenza. Mr. Steele has been acting as assistant agent at the C. P. R. station in Bolton for some months and until he was taken ill. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Steele, of Albion, and is survived by his wife (nee Margaret Gould), and a little daughter. The funeral took place from the residence of Mrs. Gould to Laurel Hill cemetery on Sunday, members of the Orange and Black Orders attending and conducting their burial service at the grave. Rev. T. R. White, of Alton, Provincial Deputy Grand Master of the Black Order, had charge of the Black service. The pallbearers were Messrs. Frank Dobson, Alf. Westbrook and Henry Ellis, of Nobleton Preceptory, and H. A. Duke, Jas. A. Patterson and B. McGuire, of Orangeville Preceptory.

MRS. ALEX. M'LEOD.

The death of Mrs. Alex. McLeod occurred at her home, 4th line, east, Caledon, Monday, Oct. 21, following a lingering illness from anaemia and neuritis. Deceased, who was in her 64th year, was born in Islay, Scotland, and came to Canada with her parents in her early childhood. Mrs. McLeod, whose maiden name was Christena Smith, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith, and a stepdaughter of the late Allan Bell, Pretty River Valley, Osprey township. She is survive dby her husband, Alex. McLeod, her son, Angus, and five daughters, Mrs. Jas. Wilson, Star City, Sask.; Mrs. Harry Watson, Snelgrove; Misses Kate and Annie, of Toronto, and Miss Mary, at home. Her death is the first break in a family of eleven, the surviving members being Mrs. Duncan McDougall, Fresno, Cal.; Miss Kate Smith, Miss Jessie Bell, Mrs. Alex. Gillies and Mrs. R. Currie, of Nottawa; Mrs. Alex. Henderson, Miss Mary Bell, Chicago; Mr. Archie Smith, of Murray, Idaho; Angus Bell and George Bell, of Nottawa. The funeral was held to St. Andrew's cemetery, Caledon, Wednesday, Oct. 23rd. The sympathy of many friends and neighbors is extended to the bereaved family.

DEATH OF FRED TURNER.

Frederick Emslie Turner, a son of Mr. John Turner, of Camilla, died at the residence of his uncle, Mr. John R. Galbraith, 734 Dovercourt Road, Toronto, from pneumonia last Thursday. Deceased, who was only 26 years of age, had held a position in the city for a considerable time. He was highly thought of and the news of his untimely death was a severe shock to a large circle of friends. He was a member of St. David's Presbyterian church, Toronto, and is survived by his father, four brothers and two sisters. The funeral was held from the C. P. R. station to the Forest Lawn cemetery on Saturday morning. Rev. H. M. Lyon was the officiating clergyman.

THE LATE EDWARD ALLEN.

Mr. Edward Allen, father of Mrs. (Rev.) E. R. Young, passed away at his late residence, 362 Brunswick Ave., Toronto, early on Wednesday morning of last week. His death occurred very suddenly from heart trouble. The deceased was Superintendent of the Canadian Express Co. and had been a resident of Toronto for many years. He was a staunch Methodist, a member of the Royal Arcanum and of the A. O. U. W. He is survived by his wife and three daughters. The funeral was held to Mount Pleasant cemetery on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Young went to Toronto by the first train following the receipt of the sad news. Mr. Young went down later for the purpose of attending the funeral. The sympathy of her Orangeville friends is extended to Mrs. Young in her loss.

Bonds may be registered as to principal or as to principal and interest, at any of the above-mentioned offices.

Interest payable, without charge, half-yearly, May 1st and November 1st, at any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold
Denominations: $50, $100, $500 and $1,000

Issue Price: 100 and Accrued Interest

Income Return 5½% per Annum

Free from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The proceeds of the Loan will be used for war purposes only, including the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, munitions and other supplies, and will be spent wholly in Canada.

Payment to be made as follows:
10% on application; 20% January 6th, 1919;
20% December 6th, 1918; 20% February 6th, 1919;
31.16% March 6th, 1919.

The last payment of 31.16% covers 30% balance of principal and 1.16% representing accrued interest at 5½% from November 1st to due dates of the respective instalments.

A full half year's interest will be paid on May 1st, 1919, making the cost of the bonds 100 and interest.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at the time of application at 100 without interest; or on any instalment due date thereafter together with accrued interest at the rate of 5½% per annum.

This Loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest are a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The Amount of this issue is $300,000,000, exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds of previous issues. The Minister of Finance, however, reserves the right to allot the whole or any part of the amount subscribed in excess of $300,000,000.

Conversion Privileges

Bonds of this issue will, in the event of future issues of like maturity, or longer, made by the Government, during the remaining period of the War, other than issues made abroad, be accepted at 100 and accrued interest, as the equivalent of cash for the purpose of subscription to such issues.

Payments

All cheques, drafts, etc., covering instalments, are to be made payable to the Credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation. Subscriptions must be accompanied by a deposit of 10% of the amount subscribed. Official Canvassers will forward subscriptions or any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank will accept subscription and issue receipts.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at time of application at 100 without interest; or on any instalment due date thereafter together with accrued interest to time of making payment in full. Under this provision, payment of subscriptions may be made as follows:

If paid in full on or before Nov. 16th, 1918, par without interest, or 100%.
If remaining instalments paid on Dec. 6th, 1918, balance of 90% and interest, ($90.48 per $100.)
If remaining instalments paid on Jan. 6th, 1919, balance of 70% and interest, ($70.80 per $100.)
If remaining instalments paid on Feb. 6th, 1919, balance of 50% and interest, ($51.04 per $100.)
If remaining instalment paid on Mar. 6th, 1919, balance of 30% and interest, ($31.16 per $100.)

Denomination and Registration

Bearer bonds, with coupons, will be issued in denominations of $50., $100., $500., and $1,000., and may be registered as to principal. The first coupon attached to these bonds will be due on May 1st, 1919.

Fully registered bonds, the interest on which is paid direct to the owner by Government cheque, will be issued in denominations of $50., $100., $500., $1,000., 5,000., $10,000., $25,000., $50,000., $100,000., or any multiple of $100,000.

Payment of Interest

A full half year's interest at the rate of 5½% per annum will be paid May 1st, 1919.

Form of Bond and Delivery

Subscribers must indicate on their application the form of bond and the denominations required, and the securities so indicated will be delivered by the bank upon payment of the subscription in full.

Bearer bonds of this issue will be available for delivery at the time of application to subscribers desirous of making payment in full. Bonds registered as to principal only, or fully registered as to principal and interest, will be delivered to subscribers making payment in full, as soon as the required registration can be made.

Payment of all instalments must be made at the bank originally named by the subscriber.

Non-negotiable receipts will be furnished to all subscribers who desire to pay by instalments. These receipts will be exchangeable at subscriber's bank for bonds on any instalment date when subscription is paid in full.

Form of Bonds Interchangeable

Subject to the payment of 25 cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons, will have the right to convert into bonds with coupons and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds without coupons, at any time, on application to the Minister of Finance or any Assistant Receiver General.

Forms of application may be obtained from any Official Canvasser, from any Victory Loan Committee, or member thereof, or from any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

MRS. BUTLER'S DEATH.

We have since learned that Mrs. E. Butler, of St. Catharines (nee Fannie Savage), whose death was briefly noted in last week's Banner, was visiting in Cleveland in company with her husband and daughter, Dorothy, when she was taken ill. Pneumonia developed and she was immediately removed to the hospital, where she remained for a wek. Her death took place on Tuesday, Oct. 22nd, and the remains were taken to her home at St. Catharines. The funeral took place from her late residence, 21 Solina street, to Victoria Lawn cemetery, on Thursday, Oct. 24th. She is survived by her husband, who is Bell Telephone Co. manager in St. Catharines, and one daughter. Mrs. Bert Baulch, and Miss Minnie Savage, of London, are the surviving sisters. Mr. Will Savage, of London, is the only brother. Mrs. Butler was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Savage and spent her girlhood in Orangeville.

DAVID DUDGEON.

His many friends here were shocked and grieved by the news of the death of Mr. David Dudgeon, which occurred at his home at Shaunavon, Sask., on Thursday last, after ten days illness from influenza followed by pneumonia. Deceased, who was a son of the late John Dudgeon, of Amaranth, moved to Saskatchewan seven years ago last March. He was an active, robust man in the prime of life and news of his death was about the last thing those acquainted with him would have expected. He was 35 years and 6 months old and is survived by his wife (nee Ethel Ledlow, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ledlow, of Mono) and two little sons, seven and four years of age. His mother and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Fife, and Miss Jennie Dudgeon reside at Laurel. Mr. Irwin Dudgeon, of Amaranth, is the only brother. The remains reached Orangeville yesterday morning, the funeral being held from the C. P. R. station to the Forest Lawn cemetery, Revs. J. R. Bell and W. F Roach, of Laurel, were the officiating clergymen. Deceased was a member of Shaunavon Lodge of Oddfellows and members of Maple Leaf Lodge, I. O. O. F., Orangeville, were the pallbearers. These were: H. A. Dorrance, R. H. Flint, D. Young, P. Harding, J. R. Morrow and D. B. Brown.

MISS LOTTIE HUSKINSON.

The sympathy of their friends and neighbors is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Huskinson, East Broadway, in their trying bereavement on Saturday last through the death of their daughter, Lottie Elizabeth, a bright girl of 13 years and four months. The end came after a short illness from influenza and pneumonia. The parents and other members of the family have also been ill with the prevailing malady and for several days the entire household was dependent on the good offices of neighbor women for care and nursing. The funeral of the daughter was held from the stricken home to the Forest Lawn cemetery Monday afternoon.

We learn with sorrow just as we are making ready to go to press, that another member of the family, a little son, Wesley, six years of age, passed away yesterday morning.

MONEY IN SHEEP!

On October 17th we announced the formation of the Caledon Sheep Club. The opportunity is now offered to

The Boys and Girls of Mono Township

TO MAKE MONEY ALSO

By Joining "Mono Sheep Club"

THE ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE is organizing a Sheep Club inthe Township of Mono, under the direction of Mr. H. A. Dorrance, Agricultural Representative for the County of Dufferin, in co-operation with THE STERLING BANK OF CANADA, Orangeville.

The Manager of THE STERLING BANK OF CANADA will explain the rules and regulations of the Club to all intending members. If you are not able to call at the Bank, write or telephone, as application must be made by Nov. 9th, 1918.

The money to buy the sheep will be advanced by THE STERLING BANK OF CANADA, in accordance with the rules of the Club.

THE STERLING BANK OF CANADA will give every possible assistance towards the encouragement of the Club, which we expect will be an important factor in increasing the prosperity of the District.

PERSONALS.

Miss Robina Morris is home from Toronto for a few days.

Miss Gladys Hogg, of Toronto, is spending the week at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Reid and children, of Hamilton, are visiting friends in town.

Rev. John Dodds, pastor of the Baptist church, and Mrs. Dodds, returned home on Friday after a ten days' visit at Mrs. Dodds' former home, Brownsville, Oxford county.

Miss Dorothea McFadden, of Markdale, returned home a few days ago after visiting Orangeville and Mono friends. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Cassie McFadden, of Mono.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Yates, Orange-Deer, Alta, the marriage to take their daughter, Hazel Frances, to Dr. J. Benson Whitely Long, of Red Deer, Alta., the marriage to take place shortly in Red Deer.

Capt. G. C. Coles, representative of the Ontario Division of the Navy League, was in town on Wednesday of last week. Capt. Coles, who is a Collingwood man, is an uncle of Mr. Walter Johnston, who was on the Bank of Commerce staff here some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley arrived home on Thursday after a five months' sojourn in Western Canada, most of the time being spent with Mr. Bradley's son, Mr. Ernest Bradley, of Verwood, Sask. They are both looking well, but say that the Saskatchewan wheat crop was light this year. At that Mr. Bradley's son harvested about 1,100 bushels, which would yield him a good return at the prevailing price. Mr. Bradley took up a quarter section and will go out again next spring for the purpose of doing some fencing and making other improvements.

COAL SITUATION ACUTE.

The seriousness of the anthracite coal situation has been further aggravated by the influenza epidemic, which has held up and to some extent demoralized work at the mines. So acute has the situation become that the Canadian Fuel Administrator is again impressing upon coal dealers the necessity of stocking up with wood and bituminous coal. The following telegram, which has just been received by Treasurer John Norris, fuel commissioner for Orangeville, is self-explanatory:

Toronto, Oct. 26th, 1918.

John Norris, h
Orangeville, Ont.:

Anthracite situation acute, especially by reason influenza epidemic demoralizing labor situation in transportation and mines. It is therefore imperative your dealers at once meet almost certain shortage in your municipal anthracite allotment for this year by immediately putting in stock wood and bituminous coal. You will impress dealers they must act on this advice immediately.

E. L. COUSINS,
Fuel Commissioner.

BLOUNT INSTITUTE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Blount Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Alex. Still, on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 12th. On account of the uncertainty of the weather quite a number of the members were unable to attend. However, considerable business was transacted. A large consignment of yarn being on hand, part was distributed among the ladies present, the balance to be given out at the next meeting. It was unanimously decided to forward Christmas boxes to the boys overseas as usual, the boxes to be mailed at an early date if possible. After being entertained with music and having had a very sociable afternoon the ladies were served with sandwiches and tea. The meeting closed with the National Anthem. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lorne Dodds. The members are cordially invited to attend.

"YOURS FOR THE VICTORY LOAN, 1918"

"Yours for Victory Loan, 1918," is the Canadian letter writer's slogan in the Victory Loan campaign. Every one is asked to sign his or her letters in this way. Already some are doing it, and before the campaign is far under way it is hoped the practice will be general. It is an easy and yet most effective way of driving home the appeal for the Loan, and it will reach practically every one. Business men particularly are requested to adopt the idea. As they read their incoming and outgoing letters, during the next five weeks, they will confront "Yours for Victory Loan 1918" scores of times each day. Start now signing your letters in this way. Get into the swing! Every little bit is needed if Canada is to "go over the top."

THE AFTER EFFECTS OF DREADED LA GRIPPE

Worse Than the Disease Itself—Victims Left Weak, Nervous and Worn Out.

La Grippe, or Spanish influenza as the epidemic now sweeping over all America is called, is one of the most dangerous diseases known to mankind. Anyone who has felt its pangs is not likely to forget the trouble. La Grippe, or influenza, starts with a slight cold and ends with a complication of troubles. It lays the victim on his back it tortures him with fevers and chills, headaches and backaches. It leaves him a prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, consumption and other deadly diseases. Its after effects are often more serious than the disease itself. It is quite possible to avoid la grippe by keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—a tonic medicine which enriches the blood and strengthens the nerves. If, however, the disease attacks you, the patient should at once go to bed, and call a doctor before complications set in. That is the only safe thing to do. But to recover your strength after the severity of the attack has passed, you will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills an unsurpassed tonic. Through the use of this medicine all the evil after effects of this trouble will be banished. This has been proven in thousands of cases throughout Canada, where in previous seasons la grippe has attacked them. Among the many thus restored to full health is Miss Irene Bootes, Portsmouth, Ont., who says:—"I take much pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because I have proved their worth in my own case. Last winter I had a severe attack of la grippe and it left me weak and all run down. I had severe pains in the chest and under the arms, palpitation of the heart and attacks of neuralgia which left me with the feeling that life was scarcely worth living. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began their use only on the principle that I would try anything that might better my condition. I had only been using the pills a couple of weeks when the pains began to leave me. Gradually my strength returned, my appetite improved, and in a little more than a month I felt all my old time vigor had returned. I am sincerely glad I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I shall always have a good word to say for them.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only cure the disastrous after effects of la grippe, but are also a specific for all troubles due to poor blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, women's ailments, and the generally worn out feeling that affects so many people. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUNDAY SERVICES AND THE VICTORY LOAN

For three Sundays the churches of Canada are being asked by the Minister of Finance to call special attention in their services to the Victory Loan.

In addition to making a special reference to the campaign on Sunday, Oct. 27th, the Minister appeals to the clergy to make Sunday, Nov. 3rd, a recognized Victory Loan Sunday throughout Canada with a service specially devoted to the need, and on the following Sunday, Nov. 10th, the last of the campaign, to invite laymen prominently identified with the canvass to deliver a short address in every pulpit which can be made available.

In making his appeal covering the first Sunday the Minister of Finance wrote as follows:

"I shall be deeply grateful if the Clergy of Canada will, on Sunday, October 27th, call special attention in their services to the Victory Loan and the imperative national necessity of its support by the people of Canada. The proceeds of the Loan are urgently required to enable us to supply the needs of our gallant soldiers at the Front and to maintain our agricultural trade and industrial activity by providing credits for the purchase of our products. The success of the Loan is vital from every standpoint, and to this end, I most earnestly invite the co-operation of the Clergy of Canada who have so nobly responded to every call of patriotism and every obligation of national duty during the whole course of the war."

From reports received it is apparent that ministers and laymen, in respective districts, are co-operating to carry out this program. In view of the prohibition of public meetings, other than church gatherings, on account of influenza, the co-operation of the churches is being the more readily offered and its value is greatly enhanced.

KEEP UP OUR PROSPERITY.

"The Victory Loan is a vital factor in the creation and continuance of our prosperity. The great bulk of our chief products are bought by Great Britain for the use of her civilian population at home and by her armies in the field. She buys the salmon catch of the Pacific, she buys the exportable surplus of the wheat of the western prairies and of the flour manufactured from it. She buys the cheese of the eastern dairy farmer. She buys the output of the hundreds of munition plants of Canada which, in turn, take the product of our great steel plants. This means the employment of tens of thousands of operatives. How does Great Britain pay for all these products? For the greater part the Dominion Government furnishes her with the money. Where do we get the money with which to supply her? From our Victory Loans."—Sir Thomas White.

CLARKE-TORRANCE.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Torrance, Centre Road, Caledon, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 23rd, when their daughter, Miss Eva Pearl, was united in marriage to Mr. Jas. A. Clarke, of Caledon. The marriage service was performed by Rev. J. Burkholder, the family pastor, in the presence of a small party of immediate friends. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing room, which was prettily decorated with an embankment of flowers and floral wedding bell, entered the drawing room to the strains of the Lohengrin bridal march played by Mrs. Burkholder. She was attired in white silk crepe de chine and wore ophelia roses. After receiving the congratulations of their friends immediately after the marriage service, the bride and groom led the way to the dining room, where a dainty wedding repast was served. The decorations here were roses and ferns. The bride's travelling costume was of navy with turquoise hat and black fox furs, the gift of the groom. The groom's gift to the pianiste was a cheque. The newly wedded couple will be at home to their friends after Dec. 1st. The Banner joins their many friends in extending congratulations.

On Friday evening following the marriage a delightful reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at which about forty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke were present and spent a most enjoyable evening. Guests were present from Toronto, Orangeville, Alton Hillsburg, The Maples and elsewhere.

VICTORY LOAN NECESSARY IF PEACE COMES OR NOT

Don't let the German peace propaganda interfere with the success of the Victory Loan.

Canada's war expenditure to-day is greater than ever before. There are 75,000 more Canadians overseas than there were a year ago.

They are still going over as fast as Canada can send them.

Even if peace came to-morrow, it would probably take from 12 to 18 months to bring all the Canadians back.

They would have to be kept in the meantime.

Pay and allowances alone cost over $14,000,000 a month.

Transportation expense would probably amount to $15,000,000.

To demobilize the Canadian troops would undoubtedly cost over $250,000,000.

$500,000,000 are needed through the Victory Loan, no matter what comes or goes.

Canadian industry and the Army both need strong financial support.

Toronto Robber Abandoned Auto and Bought Railway Ticket for North Bay.

The masked robber who held up two express messengers in a Grand Trunk train between Union Station and Sunnyside in Toronto on Wednesday of last week and escaped by stealing a motor car from H. S. Fergus in High Park, got as far as Midhurst, Ont., 12 miles north of Camp Borden.

He then abandoned the car and bought a ticket to North Bay and left on the 11 p.m. train Wednesday night for the north.

These facts came to lgiht Thursday when a telegram was received from Wm. Boyce, chief of police of Midhurst, 73 miles from Toronto, stating that the robber had arrived there at 10.30 p. m. Wednesday, presumably after an all-day drive, and asked a small boy to mind the car. Chief Boyce, who arrived on the scene a little later, noticed the travel-stained appearance of the car, and found that the number of the car coincided with the one stolen from Mr. Fergus. He questioned the boy, who told him that the man had hurried off in the direction of the railway station.

Enquiries at the station elicited the fact that a man tallying to the description given by the boy had bought a ticket for North Bay.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Kincardine Miller Shot at by Stranger—Wounded in the Head—Assailant Got Away.

On Wednesday afternoon the 16th inst., a stranger made an attempt on the life of Mr. J. W. Rae, at his mill on Queen street, when he shot and wounded Mr. Rae in the head. On the evening before the same man went to Mr. Rae's barn, about six o'clock, when he was milking, and said he wanted to buy some chicken feed. Mr. Rae told him he would get it as soon as he was done milking. He asked his name, as he was a stranger. The man said it was Kirkpatrick. On being asked if he had any relatives around here, he said no, and also stated that he was stopping at the Queen's hotel. On finishing milking Mr. Rae went to the mill when two wagons drove up. He waited on the farmers, and then looked around for the stranger, but he was gone. On Wednesday afternoon he was busy waiting on some customers and saw the man pass the mill door. He did not notice where he went. Later Mr. Rae went down stairs and started the engine. On coming up stairs the shot was fired which struck him a glancing blow on the back of the head. He was slightly stunned and knocked down. Regaining his feet he went down stairs and shut down the engine. Coming up to the front door he saw the man running toward the street and turn up town on Queen street. He ran to the telephone and called to Mr. M. T. Huffman to head the man off, but the latter was too late to do so. Mr. Rae states that the man was about six feet, well built, and wore a dark grey overcoat. He only saw him twice. Undoubtedly the man's intention was robbery, but it would seem as if his nerve failed him. Chief Farrell could find no one who answered the description. Mr. Rae was able to go to the doctor's office and have the wound dressed.—Kincardine Reporter.

THE CAFETERIA SYSTEM FOR HOGS.

Much of the drudgery is taken out of hog feeding by the use of the self-feeder. According to investigations carried on at the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, hogs, after they have reached a certain age, do better when fed in this way provided the proper mixtures are used. Strange to say, when properly handled, dangerous and wasteful over-feeding is not so likely to occur with the self-feeder as when meals are given at stated hours. It has been shown that the hogs are the best judges of when they should take food. The feeder is fully described in Special Circular No. 15 obtainable at the office of the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. This bin-like receptacle is easily made at a cost of about $10 even when new lumber is used in its construction.

A DARING HOLD-UP.

Attempt Made to Rob A. Tennant, Hepworth Mail Carrier; Two Accomplices on Job.

One night recently at Hepworth when returning from the 9.47 p.m. G. T. R. train A. Tennant, local mail man, was held up at his own door and an attempt made to sandbag him. He warded off the blow, and called for help. There were two accomplices, one acting as a scout in the nearby bushes, while the other stood on the step. The night was very dark so that to recognize them as certain was difficult. It is a serious matter to interfere with a mail-carrier while performing his duties, and it is hoped the guilty ones will be given the full penalty. Meddling with mail bags in any way is an offence which may be visited with severe punishment.

ECZEMA ON BABY'S EAR.

Mrs. F. Clarke, Belmont, Man, writes:—"My baby had eczema on her ear. The sore was very bad and nothing seemed to do her much good. Hearing of the remarkable cure Dr. Chase's Ointment was making, we sent for some, and after the third application the sore began to heal. I am glad to say that it is quite well now and we give the credit to Dr. Chase's Ointment. We cannot recommend this preparation too highly."

IN OLD ENGLAND.

Former Alton Boy Visits English Relatives and Tells About Sightseeing in London.

Councillor William Hawkins, of Alton, has received the following interesting and well-written letter from his son, Arthur J. Hawkins, who went overseas with the Canadian Engineers:

Colchester, Essex,
October 19, 1918.

My Dear Father,—

We are on our six days leave at last and we are having a dandy time.

We got to Steepe Ashton on Monday evening. I did not get the chance to wire Aunt Karen we were coming, so we walked in unawares and they were surprised we could find our way out there. We arrived at Trowbridge about 7 p.m. and it was very dark. We made enquiries and got there alright. It was quite a walk—about five miles from the station. We went into London and came out via underground railway, which is some system. Then took the Great Western from Paddington station. I think the Great Western is a fine road. They do not run so fast since the war. We made good time as far as Reading, then we were on a local from that place which was pretty slow, stopping at all stations.

Aunt Karen was glad to see me and she thinks I look like Uncle Jim. We had a great time that evening having a good old chat. I received your letter from her. It was there waiting for me. When I told her that you might come over again, she hoped you will as she would be glad to see you again. Aunt Karen was awfully kind to us. My boy friend thinks there is no other person like her. They treated us great. I am afraid they have spoilt us with kindness. To think of Aunt bringing up our breakfast to our bed. It certainly was a treat to get a taste of home life again. We had chicken dinner one day—lots to eat and drink—some homemade wine, and I had a glass of their ale, which tasted nice, although I don't believe in drinking. Of course I had to have a little to be sociable. We stayed there till Thursday morning. We visited the school you used to go to and the schoolmaster asked about you. He told the children about you being over here 12 years ago and that I was your son. He also had the children sing for us, which they did very nicely. We also went through the old church. It is quite old and very nice indeed. We saw your old home. Steeple Ashton is a very historical old place. The people are very kind and nice.

I paid Uncle John a visit, also Aunt Elizabeth. Of course I did not have long enough to stay with them. They all wanted me at once. Uncle John is not very well, but he is working away on his little bit of land. Aunt Elizabeth and her son, Willie, still run the farm and the dairy. She works very hard. Bessie is a nice girl. I like her. Aunt Elizabeth is getting to look very old. She has lots to say, quite a talker, more so than Aunt Karen. I like them all, but my favorite is Aunt Karen. She is so thoughtful and kind. I am going to spend Christmas with her if I am not sent to France before that time. We were out wheeling twice. Miss Case was out Wednesday afternoon with us. Annie came along also. We went up around Bratton and Edington. We went to Trowbridge the other time. The roads are so good here it is a great pleasure for people to get around. Miss Case looks fine and she is quite satisfied to stay with her aunt, as she is getting old and needs someone to look after her. Miss Case is bookkeeper in a store in Trowbridge and wheels back and forward to her work every day. Uncle George Smith is working away in the saw mill, looking after the engine. He is a nice old man and looks well for his age. People seem to look younger at their age here than in Canada.

We left them Thursday morning, caught the train at Edington for old London and arrived there about 11 p.m. Mrs. Hawkins drove us to the station in her little cart. She has three sons in the war. The old schoolmaster was showing us a picture of the school children taken twelve or more years ago. Nearly all the boys are in the war now and most of them are all killed. The honor roll for Steeple Ashton is away up. The boys have done well from that place.

After arriving back in London we had our dinner first, then we started out sightseeing. The Y. M. C. A. have men who take out large parties of our men to show them places of interest. We went to Westminster Abbey. I will not need to describe the place as you have been there, but it is a wonderful place. Then we went to the Parliament buildings and were shown through the grand buildings by one of the members of parliament. His name was Sir John Clement Cook, and we had the honor of shaking hands with John Dillon, the great Irish leader, Lord Queensbury and other members of the house. They took quite an interest in us as we were from Canada. They asked us where we came from and other questions about the country. We first were shown in to the House of Lords, showing us the judges, all the big men in their full dress suits and with wigs on, also where the King and Queen sat. We then went through the other parts of the great building, especially the dining room, where the Royalty dined. All the silver and gold around. The woodwork is all carved in this room. With all the silverware they have on their tables you would wonder how one could eat. We finished up our visit by going to the House of Commons. There was a session on so we saw the members in their seats, discussing some important questions of the day. We had tickets presented to us to get into this place by the gentleman showing us around, so we considered ourselves highly honored to get in. They are now fixing the building to make it a little stronger. We left there and had our supper at the Beaver Hut, one of the Y. M. C. A. big dining halls for our men visiting London. In the evening we went to the Shaftesbury Theatre. Had a good night of amusement. We were up bright and early the next morning and out again. We went this time to London Tower and to St. Paul's Cathedral. They are great places of interest for one to see. I saw the place Sir Walter Raleigh, the great author, was in prison; also where the Kings and Queens were beheaded centuries ago. Also saw the axe and block that they were executed on. St. Paul's Cathedral is a fine big church. I saw the monuments of Lord Nelson, Duke of Wellington and where Lord Roberts was buried. I will tell you all the news about these places when I get home. We left there at six o'clock last night and we are visiting friends of my chum here today. It is a nice town. We go back to camp tonight. Sorry to say so. I will write you again in a few days. We have to go up town now so will close for this time.

—ARTHUR.

WITH THE TANKS.

Machine Gunners Have a Hot and Noisy Job.

The Editor is in receipt of the following welcome letter from Bert Annis, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Annis, who is now training with a tank battery at Bovington Camp, England:

Dear Editor:

You will be somewhat surprised at hearing from me, as I am not much of a hand at writing, but I thought I would drop you a line or two and let you know that I am still kicking, and reading The Banner whenever I get one, which is about every two weeks. I sure like to receive them as I find out all the news, and after I am through with it the paper goes the rounds of the hut, so that the rest of the boys can read it. A lot of them have never heard of Orangeville, but a paper from anywhere in Canada is not destroyed until everybody has had a look at it. So you see they are welcome.

I had a fine trip across and was only seasick for three or four days when there was a storm on, but I was not the only one. We had two submarine attacks on the way over, but we made the trip alright and landed in Liverpool safely. I went up to London for a couple of days. It sure is some place, but give me the prairie any day in preference. I then went to Shorncliffe, where the Canadian Cavalry Reserve were stationed. We went into training there for two months or longer and I was all ready for France and expected to go over on the next draft, but no such luck. Two hundred of our men were transferred to the Second Canadian Tank Company, so we are now stationed at Bovington Camp. The emblem of this camp is a duck with an umbrella. It rains about twenty hours out of the twenty-four, so that is not too bad. There is an old saying in the army that we don't get much pay, but we sure see life and it is certainly true. They don't intend to fatten us up any while we are here by the look of things and also by the feel of them. They sure are good on soup with a bean in it.

I am a machine gunner in one of the tanks and it certainly is great. I have just put in five hours today and when you come out you feel as if it was about forty below. There are seven men to a tank, drivers and machine gunners. You go into your little old steel bus (I mean tank), with as little on as possible. When you have been in about an hour you wish you had left that off. It sure is hot work in there beside the engine. Talk about noise—you sure need your ears plugged and then some. I'll admit I felt rather seasick the first time I took a trip. It certainly was a funny sensation to be going over all sorts of bumps and through wire, and then all of a sudden you think that you are standing on your head. The tank has dropped into a big hole, but it doesn't stay long. It sure can climb out of a hole and over almost anything. We have to keep on training for a month or so yet before we will be ready for France. A fellow has got to learn how to keep a cool head while in the tank. When you have all sorts of lead pattering on the bus you are inclined to get flustered and excited the first time or two that you go out.

Well, I guess I will close now as it is time to hit the straw for a sleep, and if you don't want a boot or two fired at your head you will take care to be in bed when the lights go out.

Yours truly,
BERT ANNIS,

TWO ROYAL NURSES

Princess Arthur has given over three years of continuous service as a V.A. in a military ward of a hospital, and is now giving all her time to nursing babies in Queen Charlotte's Lying-in Hospital in Marylebone Road. Night and day the Princess takes her turn at the regular work whatever that may be—and everyone knows that the life of a nurse is not one of ease. Every year over 2,000 patients are received at this famous hospital which has been under the patronage of a Queen ever since the time of Queen Charlotte in 1810. At present both Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra are patronesses. Since war was declared over 5,000 wives of soldiers and sailors have been attended, including the wives of many Colonial soldiers. In addition Belgians and other refugees have received every kindness.

Princess Mary seems supremely happy in her daily round of duty at the children's hospital in Ormond Street. Her training is the same as that of any other nurse, and since the Princess is passionately fond of children, there is little doubt that she will prove a most valuable nurse. A pretty incident occurred recently, giving an insight into the motherly heart of the Queen as well as the beautiful simplicity and sincerity of the daily life of the Royal family. It became necessary, on a certain Friday, for the Princess to accompany the Queen in one of the seemingly endless visits of inspection, thus being compelled to cancel her scheduled attendance at the hospital for that day. Full time was made up on Saturday morning, however, and the Queen drove to the hospital with her daughter. Not only that, but she waited for her until her duties were completed, and then helped in serving the dinners. Every loving mother and daughter in the land will rejoice that the Princess and her mother are not denied the pleasure of what is the heaven-given privilege of the humblest parent and child, but which becomes more and more rare as pomp and ceremony take the place of simple living.

BRITISH SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Becoming economically independent of Germany, in the future, and to a lesser degree of other nations, is an incentive which has appealed to the best brains among the Allies. What has been accomplished by British scientists so far promises much for the future. Rare metals have been experimented with for use in both war and peace; chemicals which have become available make a long list. There is a new stainless steel, among other things, and the discoveries in glass-making places optical work well beyond German monopoly. Dyes are also out of Germany's control. Among the new materials which have been evolved is one made of resin, will soon appear in parasol handles, frames of lorgnettes, cigarette holders and numberless dainty accessories. It comes in finest, clearest amber color, as well as in green and brown.

Herb growing holds a noticeable place in this research work and hygenic appliances for the caring of milk and the making of cheese show the importance which these will have in the future. Much of this work lies easily within women's sphere. Already she has shown herself to be an expert in optical work, and nothing more delightful can be imagined for the woman gardener than herb growing. Everything pertaining to dairy work is legitimately in women's realm, and if many of the flagrant shortcomings and omissions existing to-day are carried over into the new world of to-morrow, it will be due quite as much to woman's neglect of her duty as to man's. Indeed the day is already passed when women can rightly complain of many things which need improvement. The world of to-morrow will be a place where men and women will work together and where praise and blame will be shared equally.

TRACTOR SAFETY HITCH

When a plow runs against any obstacle a horse will stop, but a tractor continues to pull. To prevent the breaking of the plow points in such a case an automatic clevis hitch has been invented which under great strain disconnects the plow from the tractor.

The device consists of a yoke-shaped casting with two flat parellel arms placed horizontally with the open end toward the tractor. A bolt through the tractor whiffletree and the open ends of the yoke hold the two parts together. Powerful coiled springs rest against the flanges of the yoke on the outer side of each arm. Through holes in the flanges of the yoke run the arms of a U-shaped clevis hook, which pass through the spring coil and have plates riveted to their ends, which rest against the front ends of the springs.

The clevis of the plow is attached directly to the U-shaped clevis resting upon the springs, but indirectly by means of a clevis arm pivoted to the closed part of the U-shaped hook. When the tractor pulls the plow, the resistance of the plow will cause a compression of the springs. If the pull reaches a certain maximum limit the end of the clevis arm slips out and releases the plow.

DUFFERIN OVER THE TOP.

County Subscribed Large Sum of $1,150,000 Toward Victory Loan.

On Saturday, Nov. 16th, the Victory Loan office in Orangeville was absolutely swamped. Close to $250,000 was subscribed in Victory bonds on that day alone. Ever since the staff have been trying to reach a balance and below are given the figures for each Town and Township to date.

Shelburne leads as to honors—they have a flag and six crowns, Grand Valley is next with a flag and four crowns, then Orangeville with a flag and three crowns. Mulmur Township and East Garafraxa Township have each won a flag and a crown. Mono Township also went over the top and won a flag.

Both Melancthon and East Luther Townships doubled their subscriptions of last year, and the canvassers deserve great credit for their hard work. Amaranth Township also did a great deal better than last year.

Orangeville, Nov. 20, 1918.

Returns from canvassers to date are as follows:—

Canvassing District	Objective	Secured to Date	Per Centage of Objective
Orangeville	$120,000	$227,650	flag—3 crowns
Mono	140,000	164,700	flag
Mulmur	130,000	165,600	flag—1 crown
Melancthon	140,000	129,300	double last year
Shelburne	60,000	150,700	flag—6 crowns
Amaranth	130,000	87,400
Grand Valley	80,000	68,400	flag—4 crowns
East Luther	65,000	49,050
East Garafraxa	85,000	110,350	flag—1 crown
	$900,000	$1,148,150

RECTOR INDUCTED.

Large Congregations Attended Thanksgiving Services in St. Mark's.

Large congregations attended the impressive Thanksgiving services held in St. Mark's church on Sunday. The services for the day began with an eight o'clock celebration of Holy Communion. At the 11 o'clock service Rev. A. L. Fleming, financial secretary of Wycliffe College and formerly a missionary among the Esquimaux, preached a very interesting sermon The church choir provided special music and Mr. Roscoe Hill sang a fine setting of McRae's immortal lines "In Flanders Fields." The evening service had a very special interest for the people of St. Mark's owing to the induction of their new rector, Rev. F. Eley. The impressive induction service was in charge of Ven. Archdeacon MacKintosh, B. D., of Guelph. After the induction service Archdeacon MacKintosh, who is a returned chaplain preached a strong sermon on the subject of thanksgiving and the war. An appreciated feature of the service was the fine rendering of the anthem "Fear Not, O Land" by the choir.

MILITARY NOTES.

Frank Hunter, a son of the late Robert Hunter, of Mono, was killed in action recently. The young soldier enlisted in the 177th Battalion, and trained in Alliston during the winter of 1916-17.

Pte Elgin Wansbrough, son of Mr and Mrs. W A. Wansbrough, of Grand Valley, won the military medal for bravery in action. He sent the decoration home to his parents, but unfortunately it was lost on the S. S. Missinabi when that vessel was torpedoed. Elgin also won his stripes on the field and is now a sergeant.

Fred H. Collins, formerly of Violet Hill, who enlisted with the 198th Battalion and went overseas about 2½ years ago, has won the military medal and later received a bar to the same. He was promoted to sergeant and sent to England to take an officer's training course to qualify him for a lieutenancy.

Pte. Garfield Rayburn, brother of Neil Rayburn of Shelburne, is in the 15th Canadian General Hospital at Taplow, Bucks, England, receiving treatment for his foot, which was wounded by gunshot some months ago. He expected at time of writing to shortly go before a Board of Canadian medical men with a view to being returned home.

The news of the allied victory reached Mr. M. J. Casserley, of Tottenham, under sad circumstances. On Sunday, preceding the news of the armistice, he received a message which stated that his son, Flight Cadet Cyril Casserley, had died on November 7th as a result of injuries sustained in an aeroplane accident on November 5th. The young aviator was born and reared in Tottenham.

Alex. Sime, a young lad of 17, who enlisted in the Grand Valley Co. of the 164th Battalion, and spent thirteen months in France, has received multiple gunshot wounds, according to official notice received from Ottawa. He lost his right hand above the wrist and both feet, one two-thirds from the knee and the other about one-third from the knee. His parents, who reside in Grand Valley, are overwhelmed with grief at the terrible news.

Word was received by his father, Arthur Morrison of Elba, Mono Twp., of the death of Pte. J. J. Morrison, who was killed in action on October 1st. Pte. Morrison enlisted in the Alliston Company of the 177th Simcoe Battalion and went overseas with that unit. He saw some severe fighting, and in September was wounded by gunshot in the right leg and had returned to the fighting line only a short time when he met his death. Pte. Morrison was a splendid young man and was quite popular with the people of Violet Hill and Rosemont, where he lived before enlisting, and was highly respected. His death is more to be regretted, owing to the recent cessation of hostilities. He is survived by his father, one sister, Mrs. Arthur Cockerill of Mono, and one brother, Ollie Morrison of Toronto. His mother died while he was overseas.

LOST THREE OUT OF FAMILY

Mrs. John Anderson, of Willow Bunch, Sask., formerly of Everett, Ontario, has gone through a most trying experience lately, having lost no less than three members of her family from Spanish influenza followed by pneumonia. First a son, Herbert, died in the Willow Bunch hospital on October 25th, at the age of 24 years and was buried on October 26th. At that time the mother and another son, John, were both in bed ill with the disease and were unable to attend the funeral. The only members of the stricken family who were at the funeral were a third son, Hunter, and a married daughter, Mrs. Chas. R. Abbott. A couple of days after the funeral Hunter was taken ill and only lived for five days. His death took place on the following Friday at the age of 24 years. The remains were laid at rest on the following day. By this time Mrs. Abbott was also ill and in bed, but seemed to be getting along very nicely. The doctor visited her every day and held out good hopes of her recovery. Sad to relate, she took an unexpected turn for the worse and on the Monday following her brother's death she too passed away. Her burial took place the following day. Deceased was a young woman of 22 years and had been married only a little over two years. She leaves to mourn her loss a sorrowing husband, but no children. The only surviving members of the sorely afflicted family are the heart-broken mother and three sons, John at home, Robert at Bindloss, Alta., and Thomas in France.

REGGIE LOWMAN KILLED

Friends here have received word that Reggie Lowman, who enlisted in the 164th Bn. on Dec. 31st., 1915, was killed in action on the Western front on Sept. 29th Lowman who was 20 years of age, lived with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sawden, of Melville Cross, for four years before he joined the army.

Another 164th Boy Killed

Mrs. E. French, East Broadway, received word recently that Pte. Reggie Loman had been killed in action. Loman, who formerly worked with Mr. Albert Sawden, Centre Road, Caledon, enlisted in the 164th Battalion and trained with his battalion at Orangeville, Camp Borden and Hamilton.

KILLED IN ACTION

Word has just been received by Rev. James W. and Mrs. Wilkinson, 112 Grace Street, Toronto, that their son, Bombardier Harold M., was killed in action "Somewhere in France," on November 1. Harold was one of the four boys to enlist from the same home—Russell, Frank and Fred Kilpatrick. He was born in Woodville, Ont., October 8, 1893, and was educated at Orangeville High School, getting his matriculation at the age of fourteen. He enlisted and went overseas with the 70th Depot Battery, in October, 1916. At the time of enlistment he was with the Harris Abattoir Company. He was a member of the Clinton Street Methodist Church, and an officer in the Sabbath School. He was also a member of the M. Y. M. A. hockey team, which held the championship for years.

THE LATE J. D. GEAR

Erin Village Loses One of Its Brightest Young Men

Like a bolt from a clear summer sky was the message which came to Erin on Tuesday morning last, when Dr. and Mrs. Gear received a cablegram announcing the death of their eldest son, J.D., in a hospital at London, England.

J.D. was one of Erin's brightest young men, and though scarcely 21 years of age, had already completed three years in medicine, at Toronto University. Last spring at the conclusion of his exams., being full of loyalty and patriotism, he decided to enlist, and about May 1st went overseas, where he was attached as Assistant Surgeon and Sub-Lieut. on a torpedo boat destroyer in connection with the British Navy. He was off on first leave and had just spent a very pleasant week's visit with Mrs. Morton (formerly Miss Fowlie of this place), at their home in England, when he went up to London. While there he was stricken with influenza and died in the hospital, on Sunday last, November 10th. While the blow is a sad one to his parents and brother, Harry, the entire community join in deepest sympathy, as J.D. was popular with everybody, and in his death all feel that we have lost one of our own. —Advocate.

SHOT IN RIGHT LEG

Pte. E. L. Wisdom Obliged to Lie in Shell Hole All Day, After Being Wounded.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch. Irwin, Bythia Street, have just received the following from their nephew, Pte. E. L. Wisdom, who is well known to many Banner readers:

October 16, 1918.

Dear Auntie and Uncle:

Just a few lines, which I hope will find you in good health, as they leave me feeling very well considering that I am in a hospital. No doubt you will be quite surprised to learn that I have been wounded and am now in a hospital in England. I got wounded on Sunday morning, Sept. 29th, while going over the top after the Huns. I got shot through the right leg about four inches above the ankle. I was obliged to undergo an operation three days later and was then unable to be moved for nearly three weeks. I am now getting along very nicely, although I have a lot of pain at times. I am still in a hospital in Liverpool, where I was first plaled when I came over to England. On the same morning that I got wounded I had another bullet put into my pocket. It went through all my clothing and also through my gas mask, but only drew blood out of my side. Another one took a little piece out of my finger, so you will see that I have been pretty lucky, even if I did get wounded. I think there were somewhere about thirty men left in the 116th Battalion the last that I heard of it. This is twice that it has been wiped out. It was the hardest piece of fighting we ever did, the time that we got it so hard. The Germans were holding a large city named Cambrai, and we had tried going over the top for it five times, but we got it at last, although we lost a large number of men. When we captured the place we found that the enemy had a machine gun for every five yards. You will easily understand that it was no fun facing an array like that. Our battalion went over the top on Sunday night and again at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning, and I received my wound at 8.10 and was obliged to lie in a shell hole until darkness came on. Then I crawled in until one of my chums met me and gave me some help to the dressing station.

Well, I think this will be all this time. I will now say good-bye, with love to all.

—A crowded house attended the Griffiths production, "Hearts of the World" in the Opera House on Tuesday night. An enjoyable performance is reported, although the verdict seems to be that it fell far short of the standard of "The Birth of a Nation" staged here a couple of years ago. The performance was given under the auspices of The Citizens Band, which will garner a tidy sum from its venture.

JOHN B. MADILL

Citizens of Alton and vicinity were shocked and saddened last week by the sudden death of Mr. John B. Madill, which occurred at his home in the village on Thursday last following a comparatively short illness. Deceased, who was a strong, robust man in the prime of life, went to the West a couple of months ago and only arrived home on Friday preceding his death. He was quite poorly when he came home, and when a doctor was called in he found that the patient was suffering from Spanish Influenza. Pneumonia developed shortly after his arrival and although every effort was made to combat the disease it was found impossible to save the life of the doomed man. The funeral, which was private, was held to Alton cemetery at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Rev. T. R. White conducting the funeral service. Deceased was 48 years of age and is survived by a widow and three children, who have the sympathy of many friends in their unexpected affliction. William and Cyrus Madill, of New Liskeard, Ben Madill, a farmer near Alton, Mrs. Armstrong, of Orton, and Mrs. Arthur Lovell, of Alton, are the surviving brothers and sisters. We understand that the brother, Ben, is seriously ill with the influenza.

THE LATE BERT SPEERS

Reference was made in a former issue of The Banner to the death of Bert (Albert Cunnington) Speers, which occured at his home at Prelate Sask., on Wednesday, Oct. 31st., following ten days illness from Spanish influenza and bronchial pneumonia. Deceased, who was 28 years of age and unmarried, was a son of the late Thomas Speers and Mrs. Speers, of the Mono-Caledon townline. He went to the West in March, 1917, and was the owner of a fine half section farm near Prelate. He lived with his married brother, Austin, who had a farm about a mile distant and it was there that his death took place. The two brothers were on very intimate terms and did much of their farm work together. Bert was quite ill at the time that Austin, whose death we have already reported, succumbed after a short illness from the dreaded influenza. The death of the two brothers within such a short interval created widespread gloom and a feeling akin to consternation in the community, where they were both well and favorably known. The heart broken mother, who had helped wait on both her boys, was confronted with the sad task of accompanying the remains of the younger brother on their long journey east. A service was held in the stricken home on Friday, Nov. 1st, before the removal of the body to Medicine Hat, where it was embalmed. The remains arrived in Orangeville on Thursday morning, Nov. 8th, and the funeral was held from Hulse's Undertaking Parlors to the Forest Lawn Cemetery shortly after the arrival of the train. A large number of friends and relatives were present to show the sorrow and sympathy so generally felt. Rev. J. A. Black, of Hornings Mills, a former family pastor, and Rev. W. M. Morris, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, conducted the burial service The pallbearers were Messrs Harold Dowling, Cecil Welwood, Lorne White, Jackson Holmes, Adolphus Holmes and Carrick Hammond. The deceased is survived by his mother, one brother, Harry Speers, on the homestead in Mono, and a sister, Mrs. L. Blezard, of Sceptre, Sask. He was a member of Mono Mills Presbyterian church and was an exemplary living young man. To his mother he was a kind and affectionate son and his loss, following so soon after the death of the elder brother, is a grievous blow to Mrs. Speers and the other members of the family. Both here and in the West the late Mr. Speers was held in the highest respect and was greatly beloved by all who knew him.

—Mr. Edward Jenkins, of Mono, has purchased the R. H. Nodwell farm of 100 acres, east half lot 32, con. 3, Erin Township. Price $3,500. Mr. Jenkins, who bought the farm for one of his sons, will get possession on March 1st.

Mrs. Elizabeth Co[illegible]

Mrs. Elizabeth Co[illegible] relict of the late Andrew Cobean, formerly of Shelburne, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Fisher, 175 Lenore Street, Winnipeg, Man., on Sunday evening, November 10th, at the age of 74 years. Deceased up to about five years ago had resided in Shelburne with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hall, Andrew Street, when she went to Winnipeg. About two years ago she was stricken with paralysis, and while she had not been well of late, her death was unexpected and came quite suddenly. She is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Wm. J. Hall, Shelburne; Mrs. J. T. Fisher, Winnipeg, and Mrs. J. E. Young of Detroit, Mich., and one son, Edward Cobean, of Chesley. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, reaching here on Wednesday evening of last week. A short service was held at Wallace's undertaking parlors by Rev. W. M. Morris, at 10.30 a.m. on Thursday. Interment took place in St. John's Church cemetery, 7th line east, Mono, later in the day.

William Ruston

William Ruston, of Tottenham, passed away on Monday morning, Nov. 11th, after a few days' illness, pneumonia being the immediate cause of death. Deceased was a son of the late Moses Ruston and was born at Black Horse, Albion Township, about forty years ago. He lived in the United States for a number of years, but moved to Tottenham three or four years ago and was engaged in the well digging business. A baby a few months old died on Sunday preceding the father, and Mrs. Ruston was also ill for a few days, but has now almost recovered. Besides his wife he leaves two small children.

Boys' Work Supervisor

Mr. W. E. Braden, formerly a member of The Banner staff, has been appointed secretary for employed boys' work on the National Council Y. M. C. A. boys' work staff. As probation officer for Toronto and later as secretary of the big brother movement, Mr. Braden has had wide experience of work amongst boys. He is an ex-president of the Toronto Epworth League Conference, a position he held for two years, and also ex-president of the Muskoka Training School for Epworth League workers. Mr. Braden's new duties will be to supervise the boys' work in the Y. M. C. A. buildings being erected by large corporations for their employees.

Miss E. Cunnington

Miss Elizabeth Cunnington died at 1135 College Street, Toronto, last week, after an illness of three weeks, resulting from paralysis. She had been unwell all summer, and death was expected. She was born in Caledon and moved to the city about 16 years ago. She was a Methodist in religion. Five sisters survive.

The Late Chas. Harper

A former well known resident of the Bolton district passed away recently in the person of Mr. Charles Harper, whose death occurred at his home in Inglewood, after an illness of several weeks. Deceased was born in Bolton 66 years ago, and was the son of the late John Harper. After living in Bolton for many years he moved to Mono Road and later to Inglewood. He leaves two sons, Edward and Gordon. The remains were interred in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Bolton.

Mrs. Christina C. Currie

Mrs. Christina Campbell Currie, 12[illegible] Markham Street, Toronto, died on Thursday at the General Hospital. She had been unwell since August, when she underwent an operation about a week ago. She was born in Erin Township 65 years ago, and was married in 1878 to Neil R. Currie, who survives. She moved to Toronto 20 years ago and previously lived in Owen Sound, where she was well known. Four daughters and three sons survive: Mrs. J. H. Reid, Mrs. George Fi[illegible], Mrs. Wm. Headon, Mrs. W. Buchanan, all of Toronto; George, Saskatoon; [illegible] W., Winnipeg; and Pte. Nelson, overseas.

ARCH. J. McKINNON

Friends and acquaintances here were grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Archibald John McKinnon, Barrister, at his home in Acton on Sunday. Deceased was born in Caledon township and studied law in Orangeville for a time. He was in his 49th year and unmarried. His brother, Dr. Allen J. McKinnon, practising medicine in Brussels, Huron County. Miss Mary McKinnon, of Caledon is a sister. The mother is also living and resides on the 4th line, east, Caledon, near St. Andrew's Church. The funeral was held from his mother's home to St. Andrew's church cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

CANADIAN SENTIMENT.

"If I read aright the sentiment of Canadians, they do not so greatly desire peace as to wish to conclude it before the Kaiser and his crew have placed beyond the possibility of beginning anew the deadly game they have so successfully played in the past three decades. The price is so far in blood and sacrifice so precious and costly to be satisfied with an inconclusive result. The Kaiser has not promised or made restitution, he has not yet shown the least sign of repentance. His Kaiser is yet claimed as the supreme war-lord of his spirit, so far as can be seen, he dominates the people. There is no hope for peace until this is changed. The war should go on until the desired change is wrought. Nor can we well see how the propositions advanced by President Wilson can be successfully realized unless under the compelling force of an unconditional surrender."—Sir George Foster.

MELANCTHON

The farmers have been working overtime in order to get their fall work done before the ground freezes up and winter sets in, although the indications are that we will have open weather almost up to Christmas, for we notice that squirrels, chipmunks, and other small game, are numerous, and are not as yet preparing for the approach of winter. This, the ancients said, was a sure sign of an open fall.

Several changes in real estate have taken place in this locality of late. Mr. Albert Chipchase has sold his 50 acre farm, lot No. 292, S.W., T. & S. Road (Main Street East), to Mr. Geo. Barrett, who evidently intends to expand in the farming business. Mr. Chipchase has in turn purchased a larger farm just west of Dundalk. We would like to have kept Bert in the old village, but if he does move a little "farther west," he has our best wishes in his new venture.

The fuel question is becoming a serious problem, not only in the towns and cities, but also in many of the country districts, where timber has become a scarce commodity in these later years, and coal has had to be used. We can now see the farce and folly of our burning vast acres of those stately beech and maple trees in log heaps to "clear the land" a few years ago. What a valuable asset 50 acres of hardwood bush would be today.

On Nov. 6th a happy event took place in Toronto, when the Rev. J. D. Morrow, B.A., performed the marriage ceremony of Mr. Roy Sawden, formerly of this place, but now a commercial traveller in Toronto, to Miss Kathaline Thompson of 101 Clinton Street. The bride wore a suit of dark brown velour with hat to match, and carried a bridal bouquet of roses. Miss Pearl Sawden, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a dark blue serge suit with hat to match, and carried pink roses. Mr. H. W. Arnold, of Toronto, acted as best man. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sawden motored to their new residence, 118 Brunswick Avenue, where with about 50 invited guests they sat down to a sumptuous dejeuner. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents. It only seems a short time ago when Roy, with the rest of us, were mere "kids," attending the Back Line school, where at that time Wellington Myers wielded the centurion rod, but the ever-rolling years of time work mighty changes. We join with Roy's many friends in this vicinity in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sawden a happy and prosperous journey through life.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

On Monday night, Nov. 25th, the Rev. S. B. Rohold F. R G S, will deliver an Illistrated Lecture on "The Jews and the war" in St. Andrew's Church under the auspices of the Y. P. S. Mr. Rohold is the son of a Rabbi and was born in the City of Jerusalem. He is a highly educated Christian Jew and is the author of a book, upon the theme of his lecture, which may be seen in our Public Library.

CALEDON

On Thursday evening last a number of the leading citizens of this vicinity met at the home of Mr. W. J. Warnock and formed an organization that has for its object the welcoming home of our soldier boys who have been serving King and Country and who have helped to bring the war to such a successful conclusion.

Rev. J. Burkholder was duly elected chairman, Mr. H. B. Nichols secretary, and Mr. Jas. B. Hillyard, treasurer. Dr. Wm. Stubbs, Dr. J. T. Thomas, Mr. W. J. Warnock, Mr. H. F. Stuckey, Mr. E. Wilson, Mr. Alexander McLeish and Mr. John Warnock are other members of the committee. It was decided that some $400 would be required to finance the project that the committee have in mind and the following canvassers were appointed to solicit subscriptions to raise the amount named:—1st line, west, Messrs. Frank Johnston, Norman Harrison and Dr. Stubbs; Caledon Village, W. J. Warnock and E. E. Wilson; Centre Road, John Warnock and Elgin Stubbs; 1st line, east, Cecil Dodds and R. T. Nesbitt; 2nd line, east, T. C. Glassford and Meredith McKim; 3rd and 4th lines, F. Baxter and Wm. Baker. The canvass will be on Nov. 25 and 26. This is the last appeal that will be made for war purposes and it should meet with the hearty response that such a worthy cause deserves. Caledon went over the top in the last Victory Loan in fine style, and we feel sure that our citizens will do so again and show that we at least appreciate the great services that our soldiers have rendered, and that the sacrifices they have made have not been in vain. Help to make Nov. 25th and 26th, 1918, Red Letter days for Caledon.

November Rod and Gun

The November issue of Rod and Gun published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ont., is on the newsstands and is replete with good things for the sportsman reader and lover of outdoor life generally. "Canadian Game Trails," by Hubert Hutton; "The Moose Call," a story of two narrow escapes, by G. F. Hiltz; "Carcajous," the record of a unique experience in the winter wilds, by A. Sturtzel, and "Humors of the Hunt," by George R. Belton, are some of the contributions to the story section of the magazine. Other articles follow and the usual departments are well maintained. An article on the making of moccasins is illustrated by F. V. Williams, who is also the cover design artist. Guns and Ammunition contains the first instalment of "The National Matches at Camp Perry" by C. S. Landis. Rod and Gun Mechanics for Trappers is a page of illustrations and supplements the department Along the Trap Line, which is contained in this issue.

THE AFTER EFFECTS OF DREADED LA GRIPPE

La Grippe, or Spanish Influenza as the epidemic now sweeping over all America is called, is one of the most dangerous diseases known to mankind. Anyone who has felt its pangs is not likely to forget the trouble. La Grippe, or Spanish Influenza, starts with a slight cold and ends with a complication of troubles. It lays the victim on his back, it tortures him with fevers and chills, headaches and backaches. It leaves him a prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, consumption and other deadly diseases. Its after effects are often more serious than the disease itself. It is quite possible to avoid La Grippe by keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—a tonic medicine which enriches the blood and strengthens the nerves. If, however, the disease attacks you, the patient should at once go to bed, and call a doctor before complications set in. That is the only safe thing to do. But to recover your strength after the severity of the attack has passed, you will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills an unsurpassed tonic. Through the use of this medicine all the evil after effects of this trouble will be banished. This has been proved in thousands of cases throughout Canada, where in previous seasons La Grippe has attacked them. Among the many thus restored to full health is Miss Irene Bootes, Portsmouth, Ont., who says:—"I take much pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because I have proved their worth in my own case. Last winter I had a severe attack of La Grippe and it left me weak and all run down I had severe pains in the chest and under the arms, palpitations of the heart and attacks of neuralgia which left me with the feeling that life was scarcely worth living. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began their use only on the principle that I would try anything that might better my condition. I had only been using the pills for a couple of weeks when the pains began to leave me. Gradually my strength returned, my appetite improved, and in a little more than a month I felt all my old time vigor had returned. I am sincerely glad I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I shall always have a good word to say for them.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only cure the disastrous after effects of la grippe, but are also a specific for all troubles due to impure blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, woman's ailments, and the generally worn out feeling that affects so many people. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BATTERY WENT OVER

Amaranth Boy Was Through Battles at Cambrai and Amiens.

Mrs. Wm. Farnell, of Laurel, formerly of The Maples, has received the following letter from her son, Gunner Will Farnell:

London, Eng., Oct. 13, 1918

Dear Mother:

Received your most welcome letter dated Sept. 11th, and I certainly was glad to hear from you and to know that you were all well at home. I do hope that Bea may soon get better, and that it will not be necessary for her to have an operation, for she certainly has had her share of that trouble.

Well, mother, you will notice by the heading to my letter that I am in London on leave. I arrived here Friday evening, the 11th, and believe me, I was glad to get away from France, even if it is only for two weeks. Everything seems so quiet here without the booming of guns. It is the first time I have been out of hearing of them since I left here for France thirteen months ago.

You will have noticed by the papers before this about the Canadians taking Cambrai. Well, I was with them all through the battle. I was also through the big battle at Amiens on August 8th. Our battery went over the top there and we only had three casualties, but we were not so lucky the last trip we made, for we lost over half the battery. Four of the men were killed and the remainder wounded. Our officer was wounded with a machine gun bullet through the shoulder and I dressed the wound and then helped him part of the way to the dressing station. It sure was a heart-sickening sight to see our comrades falling around us. I wouldn't like to try to express my feelings towards the Hun about that time. As for myself, I didn't seem to feel the least bit afraid, even should the worst have come my way, so do not worry about me, mother.

I hope you receive the souvenir I sent yesterday. If you do, ask Tom to clean the revolver if it is at all rusty. I would like to have been able to fix the little knife for you, but I couldn't get it done out here. It will not look very well until it is cleaned. I think perhaps you could get it fixed over there. I am leaving London this evening for Aberdeen in Scotland. I will drop you a letter or card when I get there. I was to the Strand Theatre last night and saw a good play on the German spy system. It showed just about the way they do things. I hope this finds you well, as it leaves me feeling fine.

Your loving son,
BILL.

Admitted to Casualty Station

A FEW WORDS ABOUT WOOLLENS

To keep a fighting man in fighting condition, you must keep him warm for one thing. The pick of the woollen cloth is being utilized right now for soldiers' clothing; it is right these "upholders of our rights" should have the best. Many months ago, yes months, we made plans for these very Overcoats you'll find here; our big contracts for clothing were in before the shut off of woollens for men back home went into effect. We feel sure our patrons will appreciate our timely buying.

Don't think because we haven't mentioned Ties, Gloves, Sox, Caps, Work Shirts, Work Gloves, Overalls, Pants and Fur Coats, that we haven't them. The greatest showing in town and at the most reasonable prices awaits you here.

BUY VICTORY BONDS

William Ward, Alton, Ont., is the author of the following lines, which are well worth reading, even if the campaign is now over.

Buy Victory Bonds, come, everyone, buy!
'Twill assuage the widow's and orphan's cry,
It will fill with terror the cruel Huns,
It will buy supplies for our men and guns.

Buy Bonds! 'tis your duty, help in the strife!
The brother who is giving his strength and his life.
Stand by him, be true to the pledge you gave.
It is honor and freedom he is fighting to save.

Buy Bonds, 'tis not enough to shout and sing,
Making patriotic speeches, singing God Save the King!
Be true, be noble, come now do your best,
Our boys in the trenches, they will do the rest.

Buy a Victory Bond, then your heart will be glad.
The Turk will be sick, the Kaiser be mad.
Then buy one, do buy one, it will help us to win,
It will be our boys' passport right on to Berlin.

Buy Victory Bonds! the echo it comes
To you, who in comfort abide in your homes.
Buy a Bond, buy a Bond, let your conscience be clear,
That when victory comes you had in it some share.

—William Ward, Alton, Ont.

SCOTLAND AND BABY WELFARE

Twelve years ago Scotland became interested in national baby welfare. Its first infant mortality congress was held then, and two years later the Notification of Births Act was passed. In 1915 there was passed an extension to that Act, and baby welfare seemed to become a live subject. Under the new Act local authorities in Scotland were allowed to make such arrangements as they might deem necessary and which the Local Government Board might sanction for looking after the health of expectant and nursing mothers and of children up to the age of five. This gave an impetus to those interested in the question, and innumerable plans were proposed. Fifty have been approved, and twenty-four are under consideration by the board having charge of the administration of the Act.

The most careful attention is given to mothers, not only in the matter of medical attention but in systematic and practical education in all pertaining to mothercraft. Infant welfare centres are provided where medical advice and treatment are available. So far the legislation follows the usual things attempted by all baby welfare movements, but those interested seem to have delved more deeply into the subject and to have realized that the most perfect baby is not an isolated being, but sensitively dependent on whatever happens to its parents, its brothers and sisters and its neighbors. No baby can flourish if any or all of these controlling factors are below normal. Therefore the Act authorizes the establishment of creches, day nurseries, kindergartens and even play centres, thus linking up with baby welfare many other interests not heretofore considered as part of that movement.

Hospital treatment is provided for the expectant mother if for any reason home conditions are not all that they should be, and children up to the age of five are given in-patient treatment. Convalescent homes were, in May last, included with infant welfare institutions. Dr. Leslie MacKenzie who, as medical member of the Local Government Board for Scotland, has directed the movement, has put into his work unusual insight and sympathy, and has been ably seconded by Sir George McCrae, vice-president of the board. He brings to his work not only a broad outlook the result of extensive experience, but the zeal that belongs to a social reformer.

The way in which the plan works out, financially, is interesting. Institutions do not receive grants directly from the board. These may be instituted or maintained providing they meet all hygienic requirements from funds contributed by local authorities, and these in turn receive from the board half the amount paid out. This locates much responsibility on local authorities because the national board is especially generous in allowing payments. Cities are profiting most by this opportunity, but larger towns are beginning to apply. Some 67 local authorities have been designated for help, and this represents a population of 1,250,000. Voluntary institutions are freely subsidized, and are co-operating with the board in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, Aberdeen and other places.

It has been found that the travelling exhibition is an inestimable factor in catching and holding the public conscience. Three separate exhibitions are being used constantly through the generosity of the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust. Even so the demand for the exhibition is greater than can be supplied. Local authorities are authorized to pay the expenses incident to securing the exhibition. The National Union of Women Workers are responsible, through Lady Aberdeen, for securing the exhibit in the first place. It is patterned after the original exhibit given in New York City several years ago, particulars of which can be secured through the New York City Board of Health. As a culmination of the national consciousness of the importance of conservation of child life, there is to be established in Edinburgh, through the generosity of the Carnegie Trust a National Institute of Maternal and Child Welfare. The only factor, seemingly, that needs active cultivation is the acceptance of each individual resident of Scotland of his own personal responsibility in the matter. A few zealous and generous workers and an abundance of good laws are "dead letters" unless every one in the community realizes his own responsibility.

WORTH WHILE.

Jam tarts unlimited was little Bobby's idea of heaven, but since war flour came in and fat was scarce he hadn't been quite so fond of them as before.

Mother, coming into the kitchen one afternoon, saw Bobby gazing at a dish of newly-baked tarts.

"What are you doing, Bobby?" she asked sharply.

"I was wondering, mother."

"Wondering? You haven't touched those tarts, I hope?"

"Not yet, mother," said Bobby. "I was just wondering if they're nice enough to be whipped for."

PEPS

will promptly STOP Your CHILD'S COUGH

WHEN a child starts coughing mother's duty is to give the little sufferer a Peps tablet, and thus prevent any weakening of the lungs. As the tablet dissolves in the child's mouth, the soothing medicinal fumes given off pass through the tender breathing passages straight to the lungs and bring immediate comfort and relief.

Peps contain no opium or other harmful drugs, and can be given to a child (either whole or crushed to a powder) with the assurance of absolute benefit.

One little Pep at night will clear the breathing passages and let the little one's sleep be unbroken by coughing fits. A Pep before starting for school in bad weather is also an invaluable safeguard for the children's throats and chests. All dealers, 50c. box.

LONG ENOUGH.

A rather pompous would-be member of parliament rose to make an extended speech at an electioneering meeting. He began in sententious fashion:

"Mr. Chairman, I have lived long—long enough—"

"Hear, hear!" yelled a member of the audience, and amid a storm of laughter the aspiring M. P. sat down.

He Cannot Sleep

IT isn't the body that craves rest, but the mind.

When you are bodily tired you can usually fall to sleep at the first opportunity.

But when the nerves are irritated by anxiety and worry rest and sleep seem to be impossible.

The mind seems to be most alert, and you are thinking, thinking, thinking—first of one thing and then of another—often matters of little or no importance. But you simply cannot sleep.

Sleeplessness is the most common and often the first indication of a breaking down of the nervous system.

The object of sleep is to allow the body to rebuild tissue and the nerves to recover tone. Sleep is the ideal condition for this process.

If you cannot sleep you worry, and worry breaks down nerve cells at a tremendous rate, so that instead of laying up nerve force for the demands of the day you are using up the reserve.

The nerve centres are sometimes likened to storage batteries. If you continue to consume the nervous energy in reserve, without paying back, these centres become sooner or later depleted, and you find yourself a nervous wreck.

After a sleepless night you get up feeling tired and lacking in mental energy. Your day's work seems more than you can face, and you become down-hearted and discouraged.

The future is not bright, for you must realize that the natural result is exhausted nerves, paralysis, locomotor ataxia or some form of helplessness.

In Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is found the most natural and the most rational treatment for the nerves imaginable, because this food cure contains the vital substances which go to the building up of the blood and the depleted nerve cells.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does not induce sleep, but it does restore the nervous system, and after you have been using it for a few days you will begin to find yourself resting and sleeping naturally.

A little patience is necessary if your nervous system is greatly exhausted, but you will be encouraged by the benefits obtained to keep up the treatment until the exhausted nerves are fully restored, and you feel the energy and snap which means success and happiness.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box.

ONE ON THE CENSOR.

A private in a certain regiment had sent several letters home telling his parents about the doings of the regiment, which portions were naturally obliterated by the censor, so that when they arrived at their destination they were quite unreadable. He therefore decided he would get even with the censor, and at the foot of the next letter he wrote, "Please look under the stamp." The letter was opened at the censor's office and read as usual, and the officer in charge spent some time in steaming the stamp from the envelope in order that he could read the message which he was sure he would find there. When at last his patience was rewarded he found written there these words: "Was it hard to get off?"

RECIPROCAL.

"Perkins entertains a good opinion of himself."

"Well, it's reciprocal; his good opinion of himself entertains Perkins."

HE WOULD NOT TELL.

Parson—Willie, do you know where all boys go who play baseball on Sunday?

Willie—Yes, but I won't tell you. You'll tell a cop and then we'll all get chased.

LANGUAGE OF THE ROAD.

A former railroad brakeman, now serving in France, was bringing in a bunch of prisoners.

"What have you there?" queried an officer whom he met back of the lines.

"Just a string of empties, sir!" was his prompt reply.

Thanksgiving Songs.

O God Our Help.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home:

Under the shadow of Thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away;
They fly forgotten as a dream
Dies at the opening day.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home. Amen

O, Canada!

O Canada! Our home and native land,
True patriot love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The True North, strong and free;
And stand on guard, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee.

Chorus

O Canada! O Canada!
O Canada we stand on guard for thee.
O Canada we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada! where pines and maples grow,
Great prairies spread and lordly rivers flow.
How dear to us thy broad domain,
From East to Western sea,
Thou land of hope for all who toil,
Thou True North strong and free!

O Canada! Beneath thy shining skies
May stalwart sons and gentle maidens rise;
To keep thee steadfast through the years
From East to Western sea,
Our Fatherland, our Motherland!
Our True North strong and free.

Rule Britannia!

When Britain first at heav'ns command,
Arose from out the azure main,
Arose Arose from out the azure main;
This was the charter, the charter of the land,
And guardian angels sang this strain:

Chorus

Rule Britannia, Britannia rules the waves,
Britons never shall be slaves.

The nations not so blest as thee,
Must in their turn to tyrants fall,
Must in Must in their turn to tyrants fall,
While thou shalt flourish, shalt flourish great and free,
The dread and envy of them all.

The muses still with freedom found,
Shall to thy happy coast repair,
Shall to Shall to thy happy coast repair,
Blest Isle with beauty, with matchless beauty crowned,
And manly hearts to guard the fair.

All woollens are safe with Lux

If you have always dreaded to wash the children's sweaters and woollens for fear they'd shrink and thicken—you'll be delighted to know about Lux.

You can wash them as often as necessary—just flip them up and down in the thick, creamy, cleansing Lux lather—no rubbing or twisting—no shrinking or matting of the wool fibers

They'll always come out of the Lux wash as soft, fleecy and brightly colored as when new.

All silks and dainty fabrics can be safely washed with the pure Lux flakes—they harm nothing that pure water itself may touch.

Saskatchewan Is Growing

THE man-power registration returns for Saskatchewan are strong evidence of the rapid growth of population in this province and may be considered as fairly indicative of the increase of population generally in the Prairie Provinces. The total number of persons over 16 years of age registered is given as 413,000. It is not pretended that a 100 per cent. registration of persons in the eligible class was secured, the registration officials being instructed not to bother about the people in the outlying districts, the registration of which would entail the expenditure of more money than it was deemed advisable to spend. Add to these the sick and the absentees, and it is quite possible that in the northern districts and the province generally there are 10,000 unregistered persons.

Assuming this to be true then, as the 1916 Federal census shows that 40 per cent. of the population as being under 16 years of age, it may further be assumed that 423,000 represents 60 per cent. of the population. This means that 705,000 would represent 100 per cent. But there are at least 40,000 men from this province on active service, who consequently do not appear in the man-power registration figures, which brings the total registration up to 745,000. In other words, it may be taken for granted that the population is not far short of 750,000.

Recalling that there has been considerable dispute over the accuracy of the population returns of some Western cities, there may be an inclination to think that the foregoing estimate includes inflated city figures. Such an impression is erroneous, the estimate being made purely on the basis of the registration returns, no city being credited with more than 32,000 people. Indeed, all the cities of the province are duly credited with a combined population of 100,000.

A glance back over the last thirteen years is sufficient to show how rapidly the population has increased. When in 1905 the Provincial Government was instituted, the various Federal grants were paid on a basis of 250,000 people, while in 1916 the Federal census figures were 647,835. In other words, during the last 13 years the population has trebled. Notwithstanding the adverse conditions produced by the war, in the last two years it has increased 100,000.

As is well known, the greater part of this increase is attributable to the heavy immigration, which, while it has fallen off greatly since the outbreak of hostilities, has not altogether ceased, there being even now quite an inflow from the south. But population is continuing to grow chiefly through the process of natural increase. Saskatchewan is a land of a healthy birthrate. Up to the end of July this year the registered births numbered 21,000, so it is fair to assume that the births for the year will total close to 30,000. On the other hand favorable climatic conditions result in a low death rate.

Satisfactory as is this rate of natural increase it is not as high as it undoubtedly will be in a few years. On June 22nd, there were registered in Saskatchewan 66,714 more males than females, and this after 40,000 men had gone on active service. So one can readily get some idea of what the natural increase in population will be when the proportion of males to females begins to show signs of becoming equalized. A line running from north to south would divide the province equally and it is in the districts to the east of this that the greater part of the natural increase is found.

In the constituencies of Maple Creek, Swift Current and Kindersley, into which by far the greater portion of the new settlement has swarmed in recent years and where there are thousands of homesteaders, over 22,000 more males than females above 16 years of age were registered; and these constituencies have supplied thousands of men to the overseas forces.

It may be taken for granted that the population of Saskatchewan is increasing at the rate of between 40,000 to 45,000 a year, and that during war time. So it requires no stretch of the imagination to realize the rate of increases that will be attained after the war, when the flood om immigration again sets in. Let hostilities cease within twelve months and by the summer of 1921 this province will undoubtedly have 1,000,000 people. The large number of people of foreign origin alone assures a big increase, for they have large families.

All this is attended by political potentialities of an important character. A population of 1,000,000 in 1921, the Federal census year, should give Saskatchewan 33 members in the next House of Commons. Indeed, on the basis of the 1918 Federal census she is now entitled to 25 members, the existing representation of 16 being based on the 1911 census. Thirty-three members would mean a number equal to 50 per cent. of Quebec's representation, which can never become less than 65. Obviously Saskatchewan is a province to watch; for her vast stretches of fertile soil assure her future as the home of several millions of people at no distant date. With population goes political power, and Saskatchewan is acquiring this at a rapid rate.

THAT BOY OF YOURS

He is not seriously wounded. No! But he never tells you of the pain he sometimes suffers because of a blistered foot after marching. He said not a word of how the ground near where he is billeted reeks with old gas which irritates cuts and sores and makes them ten-fold more painful and serious. He considers these the "little things."

For just such serious "little things" Zam-Buk is provided. It soothes the pain, draws the inflammation from cut or blister and heals eruptions and sores. In the homes of Canada, mothers consider it a necessity. How much more necessary is it out yonder where your boy is!

See to it that he has a supply! Perhaps he gave that last box you sent to a comrade, so in your next parcel don't forget to replace it. Put Zam-Buk in every parcel you send, for the boys all say, "send us more

PREPARING THE FLOCK FOR WINTER

The success to be obtained from the farm flock will depend very largely on the way it has been handled during the autumn months. The plan at the Experimental Farm, Nappan, N. S., is, before the breeding season opens in the fall go through the flock, pick out all the non-producers, poor milkers, or any that may have bad mouths or spoiled udders; also any that may be too old for breeding profitably, and discard them. In selecting out the breeding flock looks alone is not the only guide as many times a ewe may be a profitable breeder yet be very thin, due to the fact that she has been brought down by a heavy milk flow. Good ewes should be retained in the flock as long as they will breed and feed their lambs properly.

All lambs not intended for breeding purposes are sold. If the market happens to be flooded it is found to be more profitable to feed them well until January or February, by putting them on good aftermath until barning them, then finish on roots and meal.

Ram lambs intended for breeding are placed in a separate field with good clover aftermath and given a light grain mixture of ½ pound of oats; ¼ pound bran and 1-5 pound oilcake meal. The ewe lambs are also placed in a field by themselves, but not given much grain unless the after feed is poor. All breeding ewes are flushed during the latter part of October or the first of November. This consists in putting them in a good field of clover and giving them a light grain ration of oats, bran and a little oilcake meal. Hence the ewes make a rapid gain in flesh. There are several advantages from this practice. 1st, the ewes which are bred in a thrifty condition are more apt to throw vigorous lambs; 2nd, they are more reliable breeders; 3rd, more likely to drop twins; 4th, the flock will all breed more evenly together, which makes it much better at lambing time in that the lambs are all dropped within a short period of each other, thus making less work for the shepherd.

In selecting the flock ram it is the endeavor to choose the very best, typical of the breed and vigorous. Then he is fed well in order to keep him virile, but not too fat. He never gets grain until about a month before the breeding season. He is never allowed to run with the ewes continually but put in with them two or three hours each day.

In dividing the pen for winter, all mature ewes are put together; shearlings in another pen and ewe lambs by themselves. The latter are not bred until one year old. Should there be any weak ones, they too are given a separate pen; otherwise they would not get a fair show at the trough with the more vigorous ones. The above method of preparing sheep for winter has been found to be most satisfactory.

AN ADDED INDUCEMENT.

A woman had entered a newspaper office for the purpose of inserting an advertisement in the "Wants" column. "I wish," said she to the clerk, "to put in this advertisement for a cook. It will go in three lines, won't it?"

"No, madam," said the clerk, after counting. "We shall have to charge you for four lines, but you can add four words if you wish."

Whereupon the lady had an idea. "Just add," said she, "policeman stationed opposite corner!"

Flu Spreads Over Civilized World.

Germ Eludes Bacteriologists And Health Authorities Are Baffled.

The Influenza epidemic continues unabated. Its ravages are not confined to this city or province or even to Canada, and cable reports indicate that it is rapidly spreading over the civilized world. It has baffled medical skill to an unusual extent and has claimed more victims perhaps than any other epidemic in a score of years. The germ has eluded the Bacteriologists and medical men now agree that the best cure is prevention.

The surest prevention is to build up the bodily powers of resistance and to get he system in the best physical condition possible. It is now universally agreed that it is possible to perfect the powers of resistance of the human system so that it can throw off almost any infection, not excepting Spanish Influenza.

It has been discovered that persons who are weak and run down are the earliest victims, and if you find yourself tired or weak and losing flesh, or if you are in a generally run down condition and below your normal weight, this warning should be heeded promptly.

If you are int his condition nothing on earth will build you up and strengthen you like Tanlac, which contains the most powerful tonic properties known to science. As a reconstructive tonic and system builder it is without an equal and contains the very elements needed by the system to give you fighting strength to ward off the Influenza germ. This is a statement of facts and is supported by the recognized authorities and reference works, including the United States Dispensatory and the Encyclopedia Brittannica and leading textbooks used in the school of medicine. This statement is further proven by the fact that millions of persons who have actually taken Tanlac have testified to its extraordinary merit as a medicine, and by the fact that Tanlac is to-day having the greatest sale of any tonic on the market, over eleven million bottles having been sold within the past three years.

Tanlac is also the ideal strengthening tonic for persons who are suffering from the after effects of influenza, grippe or bronchial troubles, and hundreds of thousands are using it daily with the most gratifying results.

In connection with the Tanlac treatment it is necessary to keep the bowels open by taking Tanlac Laxative Tablets, samples of which are included with every bottle of Tanlac.

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers; in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Owing to the Victory Loan Headquarters being in the Red Cross rooms for the past month, the regular Red Cross work was necessarily suspended, but now that the campaign is over it will be resumed on Wednesday, Nov. 27th. If ladies having work out would return it as quickly as possible a shipment will be made at an early date.

Miss Barclay and staff have been unusally busy lately. The hospital has been crowded to its utmost capacity for the last two months. Donations of homemade baking have been most acceptable during the busy time.

The Hospital gratefully acknowledges the following donations:—Yearly donation of $25.00 from the Canadian Bank of Commerce; three bags of potatoes from Mr. Jas. Johnston; one bag of potatoes from Mrs. J. L. Island; vegetables from Miss J. Kelly and Miss S. Watson; Homemade baking, Mrs. W. Kearns; one pair chickens, cheese and fruit, Mrs. Noecker; Drayton; a roast of venison from Mr. Dengle.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Halbert wish to take the liberty of expressing through the columns of this paper their sincere and heartfelt appreciation of the many kindnesses that have been shown them by their friends in their recent bereavement. It would be almost impossible to reply to the many kind letters of sympathy that have been received, not only with reference to the death of their boy, Pte. Joseph S. Halbert, who was killed in action on October 7th, but also with regard to the recent illness of their youngest son, Alex. Halbert. They wish to avail themselves of this opportunity and the courtesy of this paper to thank those who have sympathized with them in their deep distress.

PEEL Y.M.C.A.

A County Organization Formed for Systematic Home Work

Peel County is to have a Y. M. C. A. organization for home work.

Not many people know that the Young Men's Christian Association has a definite and successful program of work for boys and young men who live in small towns and the rural communities as it has for the city dwellers.

For more than twenty years this organization has been meeting problems of boys and young men in such communities, and in this work it has been as definitely successful as it has in its military work during the past four years.

It speaks well for the efficiency of this department when John R. Mott, the great outstanding statesman of religious work, calls himself a product of the beginnings of the Town and County work of the Association of which he is now the executive head.

The scheme does not anticipate the investment of funds in buildings or extensive equipment. Such buildings as already exist are used. Sometimes it is a church basement, sometimes a school house or an empty hall. The plan is to furnish a program of activities rather than a loafing place. Just as in any other business it is found necessary to have an executive head—a man who can devote all of his time to this work. The county, rather than any one locality, is looked upon as the unit. Volunteer leaders who can give a few hours each week of their time are secured and in time every boy and young man in the whole county, even to the furthest farm, will be in walking distance of an Association group. The work seeks to strengthen existing organization rather than to build up a new one.

Some weeks ago a group of men representing different sections of Peel County met at the home of Mr. C. S. McDonald in Brampton to consider carefully the plans of work offered by the Young Men's Christian Association for this and similar counties. They had previously investigated the work to some extent and after deliberation decided to ask the National Council to appoint a committee that would take charge of this work in the county. The following men have been appointed:

Alton—J. M. Dodds, A. Mason, Everton Barber.

Brampton—C. S. McDonald, T. W. Duggan, Judge Justin, J. W. Stark, C. D. Gordon, H. R. Hainan, A. G. Davis, C. F. Bate, Clarence Charters.

Bolton—F. N. Leavens.

Clarkson—D. A. Brash, G. W. Oughtred, P. W. Hodgetts, Sydney Preston, D. Newbold.

Caledon East—Wm. Cranston.

Mono Road—J. O. Little.

Cheltenham—Rev. R. Segsworth.

Caledon—Rev. J. Burkholder.

Dixie—Major T. L. Kennedy.

Erindale—J. L. Ross.

Inglewood—T. H. Graham, W. J. Jamieson.

Port Credit—D. E. Hughes, A. W. Briggs, Dr. Walter Price, G. M. Kelly, E. S. Munroe, W. T. Gray, J. E. Maybee.

Streetsville—O. R. Church, Chas. Falconer, R. Greig, Merchant.

These men will be linked up with the Territorial and National Y. M. C. A. committees as well as the International Committee, and are thus assured of the strongest support and the advantage of many years of experience. They are following the advice of the above named committee and have secured the aid of an experienced organizer. They hope to put the plan in operation about January 1st with a trained secretary in charge.

The first meeting of the Peel County Young Men's Christian Association Committee was held at the office of the District Representative of Agriculture, in Brampton on Monday night.

GUARD THE BABY AGAINST COLDS

To guard the baby against colds nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild laxative that will keep the little one's stomach and bowels working regularly. It is a recognised fact that where the stomach and bowels are in good order that colds will not exist; that the health of the little one will be good and that he will thrive and be happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

T. W. Duggan of Brampton Wins the Suit Over Sale of Fendley Property

Justice Britton has delivered judgment in a suit recently tried at Brampton, involving the ownership of the Fendley greenhouses. The report says:

"Duggan vs. McCauley.—G. W. Mason and H. H. Davis for plaintiff. C. R. McKeown, K. C., for defendant. Action for declaration that defendant holds the lands, known as the Fendley property, as agent for plaintiff, for an order for conveyance by defendant to plaintiff, for possession and for $5,000 damages.

"Jddgment: Let judgment be enacted for plaintiff against defendant for a declaration that defendant purchased said lands and premises as agent for plaintiff. The declaration will be that defendant holds said lands for plaintiff, and there will be an order that defendant convey to plaintiff all the lands and premises and hand over all the stock, etc., purchased from Fendley. The conveyance will be only upon plaintiff being ready to pay the balance, if any, due by him, on said purchase, assuming all the existing mortgages and liabilities incurred in acceptance of said option. As to damages, the plaintiff thinks that very considerable damage was done to growing plants, etc., because of defendant's lack of knowledge. I am unable to find any specific sum as damages that plaintiff has suffered, or that defendant should pay. The adjustment as to final instalment on account of purchase money, payable by plaintiff to Fendley, will be made by local Registrar at Brampton, to whom the matter for that purpose will be referred. Probably the parties can agree upon settlement of the minutes of this judgment without the necessity of incurring costs of reference. The judgment will be with costs payable by defendant to plaintiff. Fifteen days' stay."

ARRESTED BUT ESCAPED.

Early yesterday morning High Constable Marshall received a message stating that Eddie Riddle, the returned soldier, who is wanted for stealing a livery outfit from T. J. Robinson about three months ago, had been arrested and lodged in gaol in Sarnia. Yesterday afternoon Marshall received a second message informing him that the prisoner had broken gaol and made good his escape early yesterday morning.

SECOND HIGHEST

Alfred Phillips, an Amaranth Boy, made Remarkable Score on Ranges in England.

Pte. A. N. Phillips, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Phillips of Whittington, has broken his battalion record at rifle shooting in England, at the same time making the second highest score ever made on the Mytchett ranges. His parents recently received the following letter from the young rifleman:

Witley, Oct. 6, 1918.

Dear Home People:

I am fine and I sincerely hope you are the same. This has been another lovely day, and Lee and I have strolled around and are now writing.

Well, I have done as good as George. I broke the battalion record and also made the second highest score ever made at Mytchett ranges. The Colonel sent me a letter of congratulation and had it read before the company, so you see I have not forgot how to shoot. If you hear of a German div. missing you will know who to blame for it.

Ernest White was here one day last week. He hasn't been to France yet. I am going to send you some snaps of the boys. They are not very good, as the light was bad.

I am getting four days' leave for the shooting, so I will be able to see George before I go over. He is at No. 2 Fighting School, Marska-by-the-Sea. I hope I find him lucky.

Well, so-long and write soon to your loving son,

ALFRED.

The following note was enclosed with Pte. Phillips' letter:

12th Res. Bn. Can.,
Witley Camp,
Surry, Oct. 5, 1918.

To Officer Commanding No. 3 Co.,
12th Res. Bn. Can.

3234414 Pte. Phillips, A.N.

I am instructed by the Commanding Officer to inform you that the marginally noted man, at the recent Snipers' Course, made a score of 227. This is the second highest score ever made on Mytchett Ranges, the highest being 231.

The Commanding Officer is very gratified that the marginally noted man has brought this honor to the Battalion, and requests that you will tender him his heartiest congratulations.

HOCKLEY BRODIE,
Capt. and Adjt.
12th Res. Bn. Can.

WEST MONO PARISH

A memorial service will be held in Herald Angel Church next Sunday at 2.30 p.m. in memory of the late Pte. Walker Jenkins. All friends are cordially invited. There will also be a service at St. Luke's at 11 o'clock a.m.

Without Music You Cannot Live a Full Life

Music is now recognized as a necessity in the home. Music feeds the soul, as food feeds the body and literature feeds the brain. Next to religion, it is humanity's greatest comforter.

The New Edison opens the doors to the world of music. It brings the supreme art of the greatest singers, instrumentalists and musical organizations to you with such unerring fidelity that the artists themselves could give you no more.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

does not merely imitate; it actually re-creates.

Before audiences totalling more than two millions, thirty great artists have conducted tone tests which proved that no shade of difference could be detected between the artist and the instrument. They have sung in direct comparison with the New Edison, then suddenly ceased, permitting the instrument to continue alone. The only way the listeners could tell when the artist stopped was by watching his lips. And with the lights lowered, they were unable to say when it was the living voice they heard and when the New Edison.

Could a more convincing test than this be devised? Doesn't it prove the truth of our assertion that ownership of this instrument is equivalent to having all the great artists of the world literally at one's command?

Come in and hear the New Edison here, or allow us to send one to your home, where you can hear it at your leisure. 174

Her friends will regret to learn that there has not been any improvement in the condition of Mrs. Thos. Arnott, who was removed to the city a short time ago with a view to having another operation. We understand that after making a very careful examination of the disabled limb that has been giving Mrs. Arnott so much trouble, the doctors decided that it was not advisable to operate.

The Forward Movement

Presbyterian Leaders Addressed Meetings in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday.

Orangeville Presbytery held a special meeting in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday for the purpose of giving leaders of the church an opportunity to discuss what is known as the Forward Movement. This may be defined as an organized movement for the purpose of quickening the spiritual life of the church and creating a more active and aggressive interest in evangelistic work both at home and in the foreign fields. Morning, afternoon and evening meetings were held and were all well attended. Quite a number of elders and other representative laymen were present from outside congregations. The speakers were followed with the closest interest and their addresses should go far to stimulate increased interest in the spiritual life and missionary enterprises of the church.

At the morning meeting, Dr. John Neil, the veteran ex-Moderator of the General Assembly, delivered an inspiring address on the subject of Home Missions, Dr. W. J. Clark, of Montreal, defined and outlined the purpose of the Forward Movement, and Dr. McGillivray discussed Foreign Missions. In the afternoon Dr. McGillivray spoke on the Task of the Church, Dr. Clark on Recruits for the Ministry, Dr. Neil on Young People's Work, and Mrs. McKerroll on Women's Work in the Church, emphasis being placed on the missionary and hospital work that the Women's Missionary Society is doing in Western Canada.

Presbytery appointed a Forward Movement Committee consisting of Messrs. Burkholder, Morris, Lyon, Thornley, McCartney, Rose, Black, Kendall, Matheson and Fairbairn.

At the evening meeting Dr. McGillivray spoke on China, laying stress on the change in Chinese character in recent years. As a consequence the Chinese are more receptive to Gospel teaching. For centuries the Chinese had been content to look backward and to accept the teachings of their scholars and religious leaders without question. They had only a single standpoint, but to-day everyone was claiming the right to have a standpoint of his own. China was fast becoming modernized and the great change in the outlook of its people was opening a great opportunity for the prosecution of succesful evangelical work.

Dr. Clark, in the course of his impressive address, stated that the Forward Movement had grown out of informal meetings of representative men of the church, meetings of men who felt that the witness of the church had been too feeble. The church had been unworthy of its great responsibility and opportunities and the speaker pleaded for a genuine spiritual awakening and a renewal of the consecrated spirit of sacrifice.

Dr. Neil declared that the church must be sacrificial in its character. The church must also be brotherly and have the spirit of helpful service. The greatest memorial that can be set up in honor of the brave soldiers who sacrificed so much in France and Flanders is to make Canada morally and spiritually worthy of the great sacrifices that they made. Dr. Neil made an earnest plea for dedication afresh to Jesus, his ideals and his service.

Rev. R. S. Scott, of Hillsburg, Moderator of Presbytery, occupied the chair throughout the meetings.

Long—Yates

Dr. Long will receive the congratulations of many friends on his marriage at the Methodist parsonage on Wednesday evening by Rev. G. D. Armstrong to Miss Hazel F. Yates of Orangeville, Ont., who had been teaching at Penhold and had become very popular with the people there. The bride was beautifully attired in a suit of blue gabardine, and hat to match, trimmed with blue beaver, and was accompanied by Miss Annie White. The groomsman was Captain Coursier, of Revelstoke, B.C. After the ceremony a dainty wedding dinner was served at the home of the bridal couple, the table and house being decorated for the occasion with carnations and mums. During the dinner wires of congratulation were received from friends in the east. The guests, besides the bridal party, were Mrs. Jas. Long, mother of the groom, and Dr. and Mrs. MacCrostie. Dr. and Mrs. Long will dispense with a wedding trip for the present, and have their home in Rev. Dr. Huestis' former residence, Third Avenue East. — Red Deer, Alta., Advocate.

—Mr. W. T. Johnston has sold 150 acres of his farm, the east half of lot 15, con. 1, Amaranth, and the west half of the west half of lot 16, con. 2, west, Mono, to Mr. Jas. Armstrong of Violet Hill, who will get full possession on March 1st.

Thanksgiving Service

To commemorate the signing of the armistice a Thanksgiving service was held in St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville, on Sabbath evening. The building was beautifully decorated with the flag that has braved for a thousand years the battle and the breeze, intermingled with the historic colors of our brave allies.

The Rev. W. M. Morris, who presided, had made excellent arrangements for the occasion, even to the praise service, which included such patriotic songs as "O Canada," and "Rule Britannia." As the sanctuary re-echoed to the sound of "Rule Britannia," one saw as in a dream the forms of ages passed away. Visions of our forefathers rose before us, who would have questioned in their time the propriety of singing these old songs in the Church of God, but such thoughts were swept away, and our bosoms heaved with pride as we recalled the days of Howard, Drake and Lord Nelson, the heroes of the mighty deep. Even still prouder were our hearts as we thought of Sir John Jellico, and the God-fearing Sir David Beatty, whose modern achievement will go down to posterity as one of the greatest factors in the annals of the history of our Empire.

It was befitting that on such an occasion that the masterpiece of Col. John MacCrae, "In Flanders Fields," should be sung. As Mrs. E. Jackson, who is always a favorite with the public, sang, ten thousand crosses rose before our eyes that mark the place of Canada's heroic dead, and which will forever make that cockpit of Europe dear to every Canadian and lover of liberty.

Orangeville has reason to be proud of some of her sons in this conflict. One was glad to see Mr. Dugald MacPherson on the platform, who gave four sons to stand between us and the Hun, and not only to see, but to hear him speak as the representative of other such homes. Orangeville has a right to be proud of such parents, and such sons.

Mr. MacPherson, with marked feeling, paid a glowing tribute to the fidelity and endurance of the soldiers on the bloody field of conquest. Many, the speaker said, had remarked when a soldier was wounded: "Well, I am thankful he is out of it," but this was not typical of the soldier himself. The memory of brighter days was recalled, as he pictured the lads of Orangeville who now sleep in Flanders fields where poppies grows. He concluded by reminding his audience of the great task that lay before them of building up the Kingdom.

The fight is o'er, but our lads are still to come home, and the prayer of many hearts was expressed in the solo of Mr. Sloan, "God Send You Back to Me."

St. Andrew's Choir was at its best on Sunday and by special request repeated the anthem of the morning, "Great and Marvellous."

The Rev. H. M. Lyon of Camilla gave the address, prefacing his speech by one of John Oxenham's poems entitled "Our Hearts for You," which we print in full.

By the grace of God and the courage
Of the peoples far and wide,
By the toil and sweat of those who lived,
And the blood of those who died,
We have won the fight, we have saved the Right,
For the Lord was on our side.

We have come through the valley of shadows,
We have won to the light again,
We have smitten to earth the evil thing,
And our sons have proved them men.

But not alone by our might have we won,
For the Lord fought in our van.

When the night was at its darkest,
And never a light could we see,—
When earth seemed like to be enslaved
In a monstrous tyranny;—
Then the flaming sword of our Over-Lord
Struck home for liberty.

All the words in the world cannot tell you
What brims in our hearts for you;
For the lives you gave our lives to save,
We offer our hearts to you;
We can never repay, we can only pray,—
God fulfil our hearts for you!

Miss Dorothea Brown in her excellent playing on Sabbath evening added to the virtue and glory of a service which will be long remembered in the days to come.

The Rev. Lyon, of Camilla, in the course of his address, said that almost every tragedy in history had been due to a short-sighted policy. Many were the illustrations he used from Biblical and political pages to prove the contention.

The speaker said he did not believe the Church was dead, but that she had been lacking in vision. The function of the church looms large. At the moment, great problems are pressing for solution, problems that demand an answer. The church must not content herself merely to be reciting the Apostles' Creed or singing "Jerusalem the Golden, with milk and honey blest," but must in loyalty to her great commission stand shoulder to shoulder and side by side with He who is King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

The future of Canada is in the hands of the Church, and if she is faithful to her commission, God will use her mightily for the extending of that Kingdom, whose dominion knows no end.

He closed by quoting that historic incident so prominent in the annals of Canadian Home Missions of the early Kildonan settlers to whom Western Canada owed so much, who brought to this dominion their godly ideals and remained faithful to them even without pastoral ministration. Three hundred of these settlers were found fit to be admitted to the table of the Lord, after a period of over thirty years without a pastor.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

There were two good audiences at the Methodist Church last Sunday. In the morning Mr. Falconer sang a special solo, "The Mother of a Soldier." In his address Mr. Young reviewed the past four or five years and tried to bring back our feelings of surprise at the coming of war, our dismay at defeat, our horror at the evils that were heaped upon our fellows and how out of all these things the Lord hath delivered us. Truly with the Israelites we can say, "The Lord hath done great things for us whereof we are glad." In summing up the things for thanksgiving Mr. Young said that the first thing that should cause us thanksgiving was that there was such a sense of honor and humanity amongst our people that they sprang to war at the first call of duty, not weighing its costs or sacrifices, saying that death were better than the death of our word and the things for which our civilization stands.

In the next place we should be thankful for the spirit of righteous indignation that was in our people, that were horified at the evil thing that was done and that refused to be intimidated into silence.

We have to thank God for the splendid men, untaught in war, unprepared, unequipped, almost barehanded at first, especially when considering the equipment of the enemy and of the soldiers of to-day, who sprang and who threw their bodies into the breach of the confliet. We have to thank God for our sailors, who have from the first kept watch and ward over the seas and a masterly grip upon the enemy. We have to thank God for the great leaders, generals, and admirals, whom he has raised up to meet the needs of the hour.

We have to thank God for the fortitude of our people who have endured all these years of strain, darkness and anguish, and who have kept up good heart and faith both in God and in the good that is in humanity.

We have to thank God again and again for the victory which he has given us and remember Him at all times. But we are also aware of what seems like a super-victory. In the very time of victory, when the enemy is humbled into the dust, and when hearts are naturally crying for vengeance upon those who have perpetrated the evil, God's hand seems to be upon his people and he says, I have given you a great victory, the enemy is in the dust, leave vengeance to me, the hungry are crying for food, feed them. And there has been in our great leaders greatness of soul which is now considering how they may feed and save the starving multitudes in the enemy countries.

In the evening Mr. Young took a forward look and he said that he hoped that for the good of humanity, the splendid zeal, courage, service and sacrificial spirit brought out and perfected in the war could be continued in the Christian warfare against all sin. If such enthusiastic service and sacrifice were made in the Christian warfare it would not need a whole generation before the Gospel of Jesus Christ and its saving power would reach every land and touch every soul of man. Then there would be a jubilee on earth that would make it like a jubilee in heaven.

At the Epworth League last Monday night Mr. Ellis Liddy gave an address on Amos, the man who could preach hard truths. The chair was taken by Mr. Graham Kearns. The League expects to have a visit from Laurel League on Thursday evening. Next Monday evening the League expects to have a visit from the great missionary from Japan, Dr. McKenzie. Dr. McKenzie has rendered eminent service in the Christian medical work in Japan. He will have a set of beautiful slides to illustrate his address. Everybody who can should come and enjoy this address.

ALTON

Repairs to the Town Hall are nearing completion and the building will be opened for public use shortly. It will fill a badly felt want.

Dr. Newton Burrows, of Guelph, our new physician, has opened an office in the new building adjoining the hotel.

Mr. Chantler, of Stratford, who purchased the stock and general store business of the late D. A. Shaw a short time ago, took possession last week.

We regret to report the death of Master James King, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Tom King. The little fellow was taken ill with pneumonia following influenza and was taken to Lord Dufferin Hospital, where he died on Sunday, Nov. 10th. The funeral was held to Alton Cemetery on the following Monday. Rev. T. R. White, pastor of Alton Methodist Church, conducted the burial services.

—Farmers who are rushing half finished stock on the market are not serving their own interests, but are merely hastening the slump in prices that they fear is coming. The world shortage in cattle is sufficient guarantee that there will not be any serious drop in prices for some years to come. By getting into a panic farmers are simply playing into the hands of the speculators.

She Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Instead, And Is Now in Perfect Health.

MME. F. GAREAU

158 Papineau Ave., Montreal.

"For three years, I suffered great pain in the lower part of my body, with swelling or bloating. I saw a specialist, who carefully examined me and gave me several tonics to take, which did not help me. Then he told me I must undergo an operation. This, I refused to permit.

I heard about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the wonderful results it was giving because this medicine is made from fruit juices, so decided to try it.

The first box gave great relief; and I continued the treatment, taking six boxes more. Now, my health is excellent — I am free of pain and swelling—and I give 'Fruit-a-tives' my warmest thanks".

Grave Clemency for Thief.

Petitions are being circulated at St. Catharines asking for a commutation of the sentence of three years' imprisonment imposed in the case of James E. Lawrence, convicted of stealing $15,000 from the Government by padding payrolls while paymaster of the Welland Canal. The petition-circulators are making a bad mistake by stating that the convicting judge urges the exercise of clemency, which he emphatically denies.

Wants Belgian Bride.

Alphone von de Veire, a Belgian resident of the border municipalities, who has done his full share at the front, having been three times wounded and decorated for valor, is applying at Chatham for a passport to enable him to bring from his devastated homeland his fiancee, who will be Mrs. von de Veire as soon as she reaches Canada.

Chief Salve for Conscience.

City Collector Kyle of North Vancouver has received a letter with a tenscent enclosure from someone who declares that he once stole a trip on the municipal ferry and had determined to make restitution so as to have "a conscience fund of offence against God or man."

INSTRUCTIONS.

A soldier at the front, who has occasion to send postcards to a certain small town where there is an inquisitive postmistress, writes this caption on the top of the card: "Please forward after perusal."

Rheumatism Every Winter

To be crippled by Rheumatism is to have life become an intolerable burden, especially in the winter, when the persistent cold and damp aggravate this complaint till it is almost unbearable.

Can you picture the dread that any man would hold winter in when all it meant to him was a yearly return of his Rheumatism and the agonizing pains that it brings?

Such was the case of Mr. A. Beaudry of Bedford, Que. Each winter he was forced to undergo the torture of Rheumatic pains, until he discovered Gin Pills. Read what he says about these little doctors:

"Every winter I suffered from Rheumatism, and this is the first season I have been able to go through without a return of my old trouble—thanks to Gin Pills. The pills are all you claim for them, and more."

Testimony such as this should convince even the most skeptical that Gin Pills do remedy Kidney troubles.

If you have friends or relatives who suffer from this dread affliction, tell them to try Gin Pills. So many people have written us stating in glowing terms how Gin Pills have relieved them of Kidney troubles, that we are convinced that all any person needs to do in order to obtain relief is—try them.

Sold in every town, village, city, or hamlet for 50c a box.

PAYS TO FINISH POULTRY.

Even with the present high price of feed no one can afford to sell birds and especially cockerels, in a thin condition. The good prices received for poultry meat more than pay for the extra feed, and if there ever was a time when birds should be finished, it is now.

As a war measure the marketing of thin chickens should be prohibited. The most expensive part of the bird to produce and that, which is of the least value for food is the frame. The cheapest weight for the feed fed is the flesh as it is all edible. The necessity of putting this flesh on is evident.

The most profitable weight at which to finish cockerels is when they weigh about 4 pounds, but even earlier birds may be fed with profit, as several experiments conducted at the Experimental Farm this summer go to prove.

Poultry meat of all kinds has been a good price. Hens have been selling as high as roasters and broilers have paid well. Leghorn cockerels at the Experimental Farm have been sold at about 2 pounds each, and because of being specially finished on milk, brought good returns and paid well for extra feed. Four different lots marketed in August, 152 birds, weighed 280 pounds, they were fed for about ten days during which time they gained 60 pounds, weighing at the end of the feeding period 340 pounds. They consumed 180 pounds of mash and 24 gallons of buttermilk. The mash was composed of two parts cornmeal, one part middlings, and one part buckwheat screenings.

The cost of feed was 180 lb. at 4c per lb., $7.20, and 24 gal. milk at 5c per gal., $1.20, making a total of $8.40 for feed and milk. Add to this the value of the birds at the start 280 lb. of thin chickens that would bring 35c per lb., $98.00, and it makes a total cost for thin chickens and feed of $116.40.

The weight of the finished chicks was 340 lb., having gained 60 lb. in the 10 days feeding. The value per lb. was increased because of the quality of the flesh to 50c per lb., making the total value of the birds, $170.

This meant a revenue of $54 for the care of 152 birds for less than two weeks. It also showed that for every pound increase on the birds it took 3 lb. of mash and 4 lb. of milk or an average cost of 14c per lb. of gain.

Economically clean

BURN WATER INSTEAD OF COAL.

Temperature recommended by the Ontario Fuel Administration for working and living rooms, 64 F.

(64 is the "optimum" temperature, or the degree of heat, at which science agrees man is at his best).

Temperature recommended for sleeping rooms, 50 F. or less.

"Make water warm you instead of burning an excessive amount of coal to do it," is the advice of the Ontario Fuel Administration in urging the importance of properly moistening the air in the home.

Dry air at 70 or 72 may feel cooler than moist air at 60 d., the Administration declares. Moist air holds the heat longer and saves coal.

There are ten per cent. more deaths at a given temperature if the relative humidity is below 40 per cent. than if it is above 70 per cent.

Give the air a drink out of a pan instead of off your skin. Evaporation from the skin renders one susceptible to colds, catarrh and other diseases of the respiratory organs.

As much, if not more, attention should be paid to the humidity reading as to thermometer reading. A hygrometer, as well as a thermometer, should be in the home.

The Department urges every householder to follow these simple rules for humidifying air in the homes:

When the house is heated by stove have a pan of water or a boiling kettle always on top.

If by warm air, see that the water retainer in the hot-air jacket of the furnace is always well filled. Place open pans of water near the registers.

In cases where steam or hot water systems are employed, provide humidifiers, or pans of water, for every radiator.

The average room may require a quart of water per day. Change water frequently.

CHILDREN MUST BE PROTECTED

The children must be safeguarded, for, if they do survive the frequent coughs and colds, it is often with the lungs so weakened that they become chronic sufferers from bronchitis or consumption. Being composed of simple ingredients of undoubted value, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is admirably suited as a treatment for children. It is pleasant to the taste. So much so that children delight to take it on this account, as well as because of the quick relief it affords them.

Wm. H. Morby, eldest son of Geo. Morby, of Shelburne, died on Wednesday morning of last week from pneumonia following Spanish influenza. He is survived by his wife and two small children.

Della May Walker, the 17 year old daughter of John Walker, of Amaranth, died on Wednesday morning of last week from influenza. The burial took place in Shelburne cemetery Thursday afternoon.

Michael Horan, the sixteen year son of Benj. Horan, had his arm broken while cranking a car at Palgrave a week ago Tuesday. It was a bad break, the broken bone protruding through the flesh.

In York county police court last week a motorist was fined $20 and costs for "hogging" the road. The magistrate complimented the man who laid the information, saying that the practice is all too common on the Ontario highways.

Knox church, Palmerston, has decided to gradually introduce the new Presbyterian hymnal by recommending those needing books to purchase the new issue, and the congregation, for a couple of years or so, will use hymns found in both books.

Mayor Cunningham, of Alliston, has received from Capt. F. G. Banting, who was recently wounded by shrapnel striking his right forearm, a letter telling of the capture of some machine guns in an exploit in which Capt. Banting took part and stating that he wanted to present the one allotted to him to the Town of Alliston. It is at present in charge of the War Trophies Committee. It will be plated and delivered later.

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, NOV. 28, 1918.

"PAY IN ADVANCE" IS ALMOST SURE TO COME

WE WISH TO PREPARE FOR IT.

Recent advices from Ottawa seem to indicate most surely that the Canadian government will follow the lead of the United States authorities in requiring newspaper subscriptions to be paid in advance. The purpose of this measure is the conservation of news print paper.

The increased cost of everything used in the production of a newspaper makes it imperative that The Banner should have no unpaid subscriptions on its books. Please examine the label on your paper. If you find that you are in arrears do not delay but make your remittance at once, either by express order or postal note, providing you are too far away to make a personal call at The Banner office.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Bill Hohenzollern! Where have we heard that name before.

x x x

We can all applaud the Toronto Star's observation that Belgium is beginning to feel a little less like the doormat on which Prussianism wiped its filthy boots.

x x x

"Deutchland Ueber Alles" is not likely to be as popular with the German army these days as it was at the beginning of the war. It does not seem the natural thing to sing when an army is retreating.

x x x

The householder has no need to worry for fear that he will not be able to get exercise this winter. He may not have much opportunity to use the coal shovel, but it's a pretty safe bet that he will soon be working the snow shovel overtime.

x x x

Now it is the German women who are adding to the troubles of the authorities in Hunland. A press despatch states the conductorettes in Hamburg have refused to give up their jobs unless the state guarantees them husbands. "A husband or a job" will surely be a novel rallying cry.

x x x

The statement that after an inspection of the surrendered German battleships and the final settlement of their ownership they are all likely to be sunk is assuredly pretty far-fetched. Such wanton destruction of property worth millions of money would be indefensible. The vessels can surely be dismantled and much of the material utilized in other ways. If nothing better offers why not sell them to some enterprising junk dealers. Wrecking companies would be keen on a chance to get at the Kaiser's warships.

x x x

If one of the common people had committed one half the crimes of which the Kaiser is guilty he would not long be permitted an asylum next door to the people his crimes had cruelly wronged. The time has surely passed when a sovereign, no matter how exalted his rank, can claim and obtain immunity from the punishment that his misdeeds so richly merit. The Allies should lose no time requesting Holland to deliver over the Kaiser so that he may receive the trial and the penalty that this royal criminal deserves. No monarch should be permitted to benefit from the claim, so often put forward in the past, that there is a divinity that hedges a king about and protects him, whatever his crimes.

x x x

If more care were exercised by parents and other people who hold responsible positions there would be less influenza in Orangeville. There is no excuse for allowing boys and girls, who have been ill with the prevailing malady, to frequent the post office lobby or visit stores and other places where people congregate, just as soon as they can safely leave their homes. They should be kept in the house where they can do their coughing and hawking without endangering the health of other children or people with whom they may come in contact when abroad. The exercise of a little wise parental authority and restraint would do a great deal to assist in stamping out the influenza in town. We note too that whereas it was deemed advisable to close the public school, the picture show and pool rooms are wide open. The picture show in particular is just the place where juvenile flu convalescents are apt to congregate for an evening's entertainment after their confinement at home.

We hasten to tender our sympathy to those poverty oppressed corporations, the Bell Telephone Company and the Canadian Express Companies. The Bell concern has been hit so hard by the war and the high cost of living—we almost said the cost of high living—that it is applying to the Railway Commission for permission to increase its rates. It is really not an increase the company is asking when one considers the increased wages it has to pay and the improved service it is giving—this is what the Bell lawyers are saying before the Commission—but just the same it will look and feel like an increase when the telephone users have to pay their bills. The Express companies have grown tired struggling along on "the ragged edge" and they have applied for permission to increase their rates a little bit—just 25 per cent. west of Sudbury and 37 per cent. east of Sudbury. If the Government had only "git" enough to declare its readiness to take over and operate the telephone and express systems if the magnates who control these big concerns aren't satisfied with the money they are making now, the country would not hear another "chirp" about raising the rates. Some method should be found to pull these greedy corporation heads up short.

There is reason to suspect that some newspaper correspondents are playing fast and loose with the facts relating to the situation in Russia. Interest in the Russian people and their distractions is so general, that any report dealing with conditions or occurrences in that unhappy country is certain to be read with avidity. Some writers, if we may judge from the contradictory and altogether confusing reports which appear in the dailies, are taking advantage of this very general interest to palm off a good many stories that are sadly wanting in reliability. One day we read that the Bolsheviki have decreed a general massacre of all their opponents on a certain date. A little later we learn that the Soviet Council has arranged to grant a general anmesty to its political enemies. This is only one example of the many contradictory reports from Russia that are being dished up to the reading public these days. Obviously they cannot all be true. Some of them do not contain even the semblance of truth. For this reason the public is obliged to exercise the greatest caution in estimating the value of the news that is being spread broadcast about Russia just now.

The steadily accumulating evidence that Germany and Austria conspired to bring on the late war is strongly supported by the publication of official reports from the Bavarian minister at Berlin to his home Government. In a telegram to Munich from Berlin on July 31st, 1914, the Minister stated that Sir Edward Grey"s efforts to preserve peace would "certainly not succeed in arresting the course of events." Later the same day, he wired information respecting the ultimatums to Russia and France, forecasting their rejection by both nations, and told of the plans to hurl Germany's armies against France, which he averred would be "overwhelmed in four weeks." On August 4, the Bavarian minister outlined Germany's intention to violate Belgian neutrality, saying, "The chief of the general staff has declared that even British neutrality will be paid for too dearly if the price is respect of Belgium. An attack on France is possible only through Belgium." All this reads like pretty conclusive proof that Germany and Austria plotted to begin the war. The Bavarian minister also reported that the delivery of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia was delayed until after President Poincaire and Premier Viviani of France had gone to St. Petersburg, in the belief that their absence from their own country would make it more difficult for the entente nations to reach an understanding and take counter measures.

FIVE YEARS SERVICE.

Returned Officer Injured in Automobile Smash in Toronto a Few Days Ago.

Lieut. Garfield Gordon, a grandson of the late William Gordon, First street, has been spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sproul, Centre Road, Mono, and other friends in Orangeville and Mono. Lieut. Gordon, who is one of the "Originals," is home on six months' leave of absence to allow him time to recover from the effects of shell shock and gas poisoning. Shortly after his arrival in Toronto he had the misfortune to get a nasty cut over the left eye in an auto smash on Bloor St. Six stitches were required to close the wound and in consequence of the accident Lieut. Gordon was obliged to make his Orangeville visit with a bandaged head. The accident and the young officer's military record were described as follows in a recent issue of the Toronto News:

Wearing the one red and four blue stripes betokening an "Original" who has remained on service overseas in each of the five years of the great war, Lieut. Garfield Gordon, C.G.A., returned to Toronto unwounded, only to receive a battering in a collision of two automobiles on Bloor street last night. He sustained a nasty cut over the eye, his legs were bruised and his hand slightly crushed. The young officer is home on six months' leave, suffering slightly from shell shock and nervous strain, due to strenuous service in the big battles with the Canadians.

Lieut. Gordon, whose home was originally in Orangeville, enlisted here with the contingent of the 36th Peel Regiment in the First Canadian Contingent in August, 1914, and went to Valcartier. Sent thence to Bermuda in 1914, he went to England for training with the 1st Canadian Siege Battery. After some time in France with the big guns he was recommended for a commission. He was through the First Battle of the Somme and the other big engagements with the Corps.

Prior to going overseas, Lieut. Gordon was with the Union Bank of Canada in Owen Sound, Fort William, Winnipeg and Montreal. His father was killed in the terrible roundhouse explosion at Owen Sound many years ago. A brother, Pte. Howard S. Gordon, who has been overseas for two years, has won the Military Medal.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL.

Pte. Patrick P. McGarvey, son of Philip McGarvey, of Orangeville, formerly of Melancthon, was admitted to hospital in France on Oct. 4th. He was wounded in the right arm, right knee, left foot and back and also had his right foot amputated. He is now in hospital in Colchester, Essex, England.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

Lieut. George C. Cornwith, of 58 Wroxeter Ave., Toronto, a native of Dufferin county, died of wounds a short time ago. Cornwith went overseas with the 34th Battalion and won his commission in France.

PTE. WOODLAND GASSED.

Pte. A. H. Woodland, a son of the late James Woodland, of Mono, was officially reported gassed a few days ago. Woodland enlisted and went overseas with the 164th.

PTE. S. J. SCOTT WOUNDED.

The name of S. J. Scott, of Melville, appeared among the list of wounded soldiers in the official casualty lists on Wednesday of last week.

WOUNDED AND MISSING.

Arthur Gilbert, an employee of the late John Nesbitt, of Caledon, who enlisted with the 126th Peel Battalion early in the war, was recently reported wounded and missing.

HOCKLEY SOLDIER DEAD.

G. J. Proctor, of Hockley, an overseas soldier, was reported last week as having died. He is a brother of Mrs. Geo. Goodeve, First street. We understand that his relatives have not learned any particulars beyond the fact that he had been ill with pleurisy.

WINS MILITARY CROSS.

Word has been received that Capt. Linton Douglas, son of William Douglas, of Owen Sound, was awarded the Military Cross on August 28. Capt. Douglas had to take command of his unit after his Commanding Officer had been wounded, and for this he received his Captaincy, and later the decoration. He went overseas with the 147th (Grey) Battalion in 1916, and later transferred to the 58th Battalion. Capt. Douglas was in Orangeville with the Owen Sound bowlers on several occasions prior to the commencement of the war.

CURLERS' MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Orangeville Curling Club will be held in Mr. A. A. Hughson's law office on Friday evening, December 6th, at 8.30 o'clock. All curlers are asked to attend.

PTE. W. R. DEAN

Son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Dean, of Alton, killed in action in France on October 20th. The young soldier, who was 24 years of age, was born and received his public school education in Alton. He was a clerk in Mason's store in his native village for three years, took a course in Orangeville Business College, afterwards going to Toronto, where he entered the service of the C. P. R. When he donned khaki he was filling the position of chief freight clerk at North Toronto. He went overseas with an infantry draft, and served in France with the famous 15th Highlanders Battalion. Two of his brothers are overseas, Richard in England and George in France. A third brother, Al., was training in Canada for overseas service when the war ended. Warden Dean is a fourth brother and Mrs. Crombie Baughman of Guelph, is the only sister. Deceased was a grandson of Mr. Richard Page, one of Alton's veteran citizens. Dean was a clever baseball and hockey player and an all-round good fellow.

Albert Monkman, a former Albion man, died in Winnipeg recently, aged 68 years.

VINOL MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG

Positive—Convincing Proof

We publish the formula of Vinol to prove convincingly that it has the power to create strength.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any woman who buys a bottle of Vinol for a weak, run-down, nervous condition and finds after giving it a fair trial it did not help her, will have her money returned.

You see, there is no guess work about Vinol. Its formula proves there is nothing like it for all weak, run-down, overworked, nervous men and women and for feeble old people and delicate children. Try it once and be convinced.

DUFFERIN'S RESPONSE.

COUNTY CONTRIBUTED LIBERALLY IN MEN AND MONEY TO PROSECUTE WAR.

Warden Menary Reviews Work of the Year and Outlines Good Roads Program.

In his address to the County Council last week Warden Menary discussed Dufferin County's contribution to the war and reviewed the work and plans of the Council during the present year. The text of the address follows:

Gentlemen of the County Council:

We are called together today under circumstances that must bring pride to everyone. For four years we have been meeting to administer the affairs of our county while our country and our Empire have been engaged in a tremendous world war. For four years we have been watching daily the lists of the dead and wounded. For four years the fate of our people hung in the balance and today Great Britain is at peace.

WARDEN MENARY.

Her flag waves triumphant and her fleet is still the mistress of the seas. Dufferin, as every other county, has been called upon for sacrifice, and Dufferin in men and money has responded in a manner to please the most patriotic. Our men have fallen for the flag and our money has been readily expended in their support.

When the Finance Minister at Ottawa asked the people of Canada for a loan of $500,000,000 and the share of our county was placed at $900,000, Dufferin went over the top with a splendid response of $1,700,000 and one municipality within our county—the village of Shelburne—was the first in the Dominion to win an honor flag with a crown, indicating that it had gone in two days twenty per cent. beyond the objective expected of it in three weeks.

As this is the last session that will be held by the present council I will take this opportunity to thank you for the assistance in conducting the affairs of the county, which has been always so cheerfully extended to me by the members, making my duties as Warden rest lightly on my shoulders and my term of office a period that will ever be remembered with pleasure.

It is gratifying to know that the business of the year has been transacted without discord, and that all meetings have been perfectly harmonious, thus I consider making it possible to get the best results and efficiency.

The amounts levied to meet expenditure for the coming year were as follows:

General expenditure and rural school grants, 3½ mills	$35,639
Patriotic Fund and Red Cross, 3 mills	29,700
Y. M. C. A. grant, ¾ mill	7,414
Provincial war tax, 1 mill	9,886
County Roads, ½ mill	4,943

You will see by the above that although the total levy amounts to 8¾ mills, only 3½ mills is for general and school expenditure, ½ mill for county roads, and the balance, 4¾ mills, for war purposes. Notwithstanding the very low levy made to cover all ordinary expenditure it will be very pleasing to you to know that this expenditure has been kept well within the amount raised.

Owing to war conditions very little construction work was done on the county roads during the past season. The policy of your Committee was to keep the roads in an ordinary state of repair until after the war. We have now our organization complete and everything in shape to proceed with the work next year.

A By-law will be submitted at this sessions to ratify the agreements re county roads and boundary lines, which have been completed with the Counties of Peel and Grey as authorized by the report of the County Roads Committee passed at the June session. A By-law will also be submitted to provide for a grant encouraging and assisting the building of wire fences on county roads.

Representatives of the Navy League of Canada will appear before you this afternoon to ask for a grant, and later a deputation from the Children's Aid Society will wait upon you to discuss the affairs of the Society.

In conclusion I would again thank you for your thoughtful consideration during the year, and would say that I have every confidence that the important matters which are to be disposed of at this session will receive your usual careful consideration.

ALFRED MENARY,
Warden.

—Mr. J. Cameron, the new C. P. R. roadmaster here, and family, moved from Alliston to Orangeville last week. Mr. Cameron has leased Mr. Roscoe Hill's dwelling house on First street.

THE WARDEN'S SUPPER.

Warden Menary Revives a Pleasant Social Function; About Fifty Guests Present

To Warden Menary has fallen the distinction of resurrecting that one-time popular event known as the Warden's Supper. The Supper fell into discard quite a number of years ago, much to the disappointment of county councillors and other prominent local men, who had come to regard the function as an opportunity for a delightful social evening. This year Warden Menary, who has the happy knack of doing the right thing at the right time, determined to revive the supper, thereby furnishing the County Council, County officials and other citizens in close touch with county affairs with an admirable opportunity to discuss county affairs and at the same time to celebrate in a befitting manner the successful conclusion of the great world war.

The happy event took place in the Grand Central Hotel on Friday night. About fifty councillors, county officials and other representative men occupied seats around the festive board. The hostess of the evening provided a feast of good things in keeping with the importance of the event. It is doubtful if the fine dining room of this well-known hostelry has ever looked more attractive. The tables, which were arranged in the form of an immense "I," were decorated with carnations, multi-colored candles and small flags. The walls were decorated with the handsome Victory Loan honor flag presented to the county earlier in the week, a large Union Jack, also the property of the county, and numerous smaller flags. The general effect of the decorations was most pleasing. County Treasurer C. R. Wheelock, chief toastmaster, occupied the central seat at the head table. On his right were Col. J. A. V. Preston and Reeve Brett, of Shelburne, and to his left C. R. McKeown, M.L.A. and Mr. A. A. Hughson, town solicitor. Warden Menary occupied the seat of honor at the opposite end of the room, with Judge Fisher and Lieut. Vincent Rounding, a returned soldier and a boyhood chum of the Warden, on his right and John Best, M.P. and ex-Warden W. A. Wansbrough to the left.

After the assemblage had executed a vigorous and well-sustained assault on the delicacies with which the tables were abundantly laden—an assault attended so far as the casual onlooker could determine with eminently satisfactory results—the toastmaster gave the signal for a cessation of operations and called on the banquetters to join in a toast to the King. His Majesty's health was drunk with fervor, the guests then joining in a stanza of the National Anthem as further proof of their genuine attachment to the British Crown and British institutions. Before proposing the toast Mr. Wheelock spoke briefly of the excellent financial condition of the County of Dufferin, which he said was in the fortunate condition of being without a dollar of debenture debt. Two noteworthy events, one of interest to the whole world and the other of direct interest to the people of Dufferin, had occurred during the term of the present council. One was the successful ending of the great war and the other the inception of a Good Roads system in this county.

Col. Preston proposed "The Army and Navy" in a speech which gave a fund of information regarding the work done by the British army and navy during the war. The speaker also touched on the returned soldier problem and urged organized effort to care for and help the men who had done the country's fighting when they come back to Canada.

Lieut. Rounding responded to the toast in a bright and witty speech.

"The Empire" elicited eloquent speeches from Judge Fisher, who proposed the toast, and Mr. A. A. Hughson, who responded.

John Best, M. P., spoke at some length on the Borden Government's conduct of the war, the difficulties with which it was beset and its attitude in the matter of military exemptions, and concluded by asking the gathering to do honor to "The Dominion of Canada." Mr. C. R. McKeown, M. L. A., replied to the toast in happy and eloquent vein.

Reeve Brett, of Shelburne, was happily humorous in his remarks when proposing "The Municipalities." Brief responses were made by Messrs. W. A. Wansbrough, of Grand Valley, and Dr. G. H. Campbell and A. D. McKitrick, of Orangeville.

Warden Menary, who was then called to the floor, was given a rousing reception, which he modestly acknowledged. The Warden confessed that when quite a young boy he had formed the ambition of some day becoming the Warden of Dufferin. He made a graceful reference to the courtesy and consideration with which he had been treated by the members of the council and the different county officials throughout the year. A rousing rendition of the well-known lines, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" preceded the Warden's speech.

After honoring the closing toast "Our Hostess," in a hearty manner, the entire company joined in "God Save the King," and "Auld Lang Syne" before dispersing.

Among the out-of-town guests, outside of the county council members, were John Best, M.P.; ex-Warden J. A. Marshall, of Mono; Lieut. Rounding, of Toronto, and Messrs. W. L. Craig, J. A. Richardson, Harry Donaghy, J. J. Reith, John Reith and Thos. Watson, of Grand Valley.

ATTENTION!—Owing to a change which is taking place in our business, we urgently request that all parties owing accounts to us will kindly see to it that the same are promptly paid, as it is very necessary that these be settled at once—The Adamson Hardware Co.

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

Municipal politics continue unusually quiet despite the fact that nomination day is only a little more than four weeks away. This year the nominations will fall on Monday, Dec. 30th, the second last day of the year.

x x x

Warden Menary will retire at the end of the year. Mr. Thos. Watson is the only man in sight for the Grand Valley reeveship at the present time. He will probably get the position by acclamation, as there is a pretty well-defined feeling that the honor is coming to him.

x x x

Howard Hilborn is planning to hold the Reeveship of East Luther for another year and thinks if he can get back to the County Council in 1919 he will be able to land the Wardenship of the County. P. J. Cunningham and Councillor Alex. Ward are the only men who might be disposed to stand in the way of Mr. Hilborn's re-election. As yet neither of them is definitely in the field.

x x x

Reeve Thompson, of East Garafraxa, intends to ask for another term. We have not learned whether or not he is likely to have opposition.

x x x

Reeve Hepton, of Amaranth, intends to drop out at the end of the present year. Mr Hepton has sold his farm and it is reported that he has some intention of spending a summer in the West. It is said that any one or all of the Councillors may offer themselves for the vacant position. Ex-Reeve John Bryan is also mentioned as a possible candidate.

x x x

Reeve Brett, of Shelburne, is likely to stand for a second term. If he elects to do so he will not likely have opposition. He is credited with a pretty satisfactory record in local affairs and is considered a good man in the larger county body.

x x x

Deputy-Reeve Prentice, of Melancthon, has his eye on the reeve's chair and may run for that position, whether Reeve Clark retires or stands. The latter is non-committal, but it would cause no great surprise if he should decide to stand for another term.

x x x

Reeve Kiernan and Deputy-Reeve McCutcheon, of Mulmur, will stand for their present offices. We understand that both men are likely to be opposed, but their opponents are not likely to find the going any too smooth. The Mulmur men have given pretty good satisfaction, and there seems to be a decided feeling that they should get another year.

—A few days ago Mrs. Wm. McCartney, First street, received the sad news of the death of her brother, Mr. J. B. Griffiths, of Stettler, Alta. Deceased was in the hotel business man in Stettler. The oldest son of the late Mr. Griffith was killed and another son was wounded in France during the last year.

A CELEBRATION WITHOUT BOOZE

In one of the cities in the Dominion last a scare celebration on the news of the strength of the report that an armistice had been signed and hostilities had ceased. In Toronto during the affair, the suggestion was made in several sources that the sale of liquor should be lifted for 24 hours, in order that the celebration might be a mad one and a happy one.

Fortunately the suggestion never got to the stage where it had a good chance of success.

There was a feeling that liquor should have been freely spilled during the influenza epidemic. Booze has a string of victims to its credit that would make the death list from influenza look simply like an index to the chapters that follow.

A man who cannot celebrate the coming of peace and remain in his sober mind and in possession of all his senses had better not celebrate at all. It must be remembered that booze was shut out of this country in order that we might be more efficient to wage war. This young land gave a practical demonstration of her moral strength that England could not give. The Old Land was weakened by booze, and yet in the face of national disaster it could not rise in its might and strangle the slimy thing.

The industrial world in Canada is better by a thousand per cent with John Barleycorn dead and buried than it ever was with him trotting around and making damn fools out of otherwise sensible men.

Be mighty careful when you take a hand in the business of rolling away the stone that is holding his carcass under the ground for the time being.

Booze is not dead yet, but the people who were soused in it before have had a chance to pull themselves together and appreciate the sensation of being sober and decent and 100 per cent. efficient.—Printer and Publisher.

ARCH. J. MACKINNON.

Acton Has Lost a Useful and Prominent Citizen; Born in Caledon Township 49 Years Ago.

The community was sorely shocked with the news on Sunday morning that A. J. Mackinnon, barrister and clerk of the municipality, had passed away. Mr. Mackinnon was in his office on Saturday, 9th inst. On Sunday he went to bed expecting to be around again in a few days. It was not until late in the week that his condition was considered at all critical. An affection of the heart complicated his case and he died Sunday morning. By his death Acton loses one of its most prominent and useful citizens, a man highly esteemed. Archibald John Mackinnon was born on the fourth line east in Caledon township forty-nine years ago. After completing his public and High School courses he entered Toronto University from which he graduated in arts. He then entered Osgoode Hall and took a course in law. Upon being called to the bar he came to Acton over twenty years ago and commenced a legal practice here. Upon the retirement of the late Thomas T. Moore as municipal clerk Mr. Mackinnon was appointed to that position which he occupied until his death. He was a member of the Free Library Board for a number of years. He united with Knox church when he came to Acton and was a regular attendant. Mr. Mackinnon never married. He was a prominent member of the Masonic order and was a past master of Walker Lodge, A. F. & A. M., Acton; a Past Principal of St. Clair Chapter, G. R. C., Milton; member of Godfrey de Bouillon Preceptory, Hamilton, and a member of Rameses Temple A. A. O., Toronto. A. J. Mackinnon was a man of upright character, even-tempered, obliging and friendly. He was very popular in the circles in which he moved and his friendship was always appreciated. He was a man of splendid talents and attainments. For many years he was an officer of Halton Liberal Association and his name was frequently mentioned as a candidate for parliamentary honors. His unselfish disposition, however, always led him to practice the manly virtue "In honor preferring another." His place in Acton will be exceedingly difficult to fill. At the funeral here on Monday morning in Johnstone's Undertaking Parlors, Rev. J. C. Wilson, B.A., paid a high tribute to deceased. "We were boys together," he said. "Our fathers' farms were adjoining. We went to school together and to the University together. I have known him all my life and gladly bear testimony to his splendid qualities as a man." Reeve Hynds also spoke in high terms of his character and ability. The body was conveyed to the old home in Caledon where the funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, interment being made in St. Andrew's church cemetery. The aged mother is lying ill at the home. One sister, Miss Mackinnon, of Caledon, and one brother, Dr. A. J. Mackinnon, of Zurich, survive.—Acton Free Press.

BAZAAR AT CALEDON.

The Ladies' Aid of Knox church, Caledon, purpose holding their annual bazaar on Thursday, Dec. 12th, afternoon and evening, when they will offer for sale a large assortment of homemade garments for ladies and children, fancy goods, suitable for Christmas presents, also several beautiful comforters. Lunch will be served during the evening. 22-2t

Vinton Hannah, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hannah, of Winnipeg, formerly of Shelburne, died at Oyen, Alta., on Sunday, Oct. 27th, from Spanish influenza, at the age of 29 years. Deceased had been manager of a bank at Treherne, Sask., for the past six years and was relieving as manager at Oyen, when he was taken ill.

INFLUENZA HAS LATER DANGERS

Particular Care Needed When the Patient is Convalescent, Says Expert.

The influenza convalescent who has apparently recovered from the disease and is yet in a strangely weak depressed condition should be the object of particular care, according to Dr. Louis I. Harris, director of the Bureau of Preventible Diseases of the New York Health Department. In the opinion of Dr. Harris the after care of the influenza patient is most important. The co-operation of the patient, coupled with the willingness to see that the weakness and depression are a part of the illness, though coming after the disease itself has spent its force, is a big factor in effecting a complete return to full health. On the other hand, the determination to ignore this debilitated condition and to fight against it, will, Dr. Harris says, frequently bring serious consequences upon the patient.

After Effects Bad.

"The subject of the after effects of influenza," said Dr. Harris, "is one of particular interest to the scientist at the present time.

"First, and perhaps the most momentous condition to be considered is the striking depression, mental, nervous and physical, complained of by most patients. Those attacked by the disease with moderate severity are almost always afflicted with this depression, which should be recognized and dealt with. Those who have had mild cases of the epidemic are little affected by depression, and their quick return to health and strength gives rise to the belief that influenza is trivial. On the contrary, influenza in its after effects is anything but trivial, and calls for the application of rules of common sense and sanitation which are the fruit of years of experience.

"Tonic treatment, well chosen diet, and great care in not becoming overtired or allowing the body to be chilled are necessary. Eggs may be eaten, but not more than two a day, for the average adult. Of course, it must be remembered that in many cases this disease tends to direct its force against the kidneys, and therefore we instruct patients to avoid eating a great amount of meat, eggs, or beef extracts. Eggs, soft boiled, poached, or beaten, raw, are advisable in limited number. The raw eggs should always be well agitated before taking.

When Good Food is Bad.

"With milk and eggs as a foundation the patient should eat good nourishing food, including meat, fish, and vegetables, simply prepared. Frying, for instance, is out of the question. Good food prepared in an unassimilable manner becomes bad food; especially is this to be noted in cases of convalescence from influenza, for the disease often manifests itself in vomiting, and in intestinal and gastric disturbances, and it is important not to weaken the digestive function by the eating of poorly prepared food, or even the best of food in ill-advised quantities. The quantitative distribution of foodstuffs should be so adjusted as not to overtax the stomach, but the patient should eat generously and frequently."

As a tonic to build up the blood and stimulate the shattered nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed. These pills actually make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, improves the appetite, strengthens digestion and drives away the feeling of weariness and depression always following an attack of la grippe or influenza. Those who give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial will be amply repaid by the new health and strength this tonic medicine always gives.

CALEDON.

The collectors in connection with the Reception Committee's scheme are making their rounds and are meeting with success on almost every side and there is no doubt but that their objective will be passed. Next week the names of those who contributed and also those who did not will be published.

At the last meeting of Peel County Council the office of Clerk became vacant and needless to say there were a large number of applicants for the position, but after a strenuous contest the man from the north won, Mr. L. H. Willis winning out against ex-Warden Rutledge, by a close margin. Mr. Willis has been the competent and genial Clerk of Caledon Township for the past six years and has won the respect and admiration of all with whom he had to do.

We congratulate Mr. Willis on securing this prominent and lucrative position and are glad that it will not necessitate his removal from our township.

Miss E. M. Scarland, who spent the summer in the West, has returned home much improved in health.

COUNTY COUNCIL NOTES.

Important Items of Business Transacted by County Fathers Last Week.

Some of the more important items of business transacted by the County Council last week are outlined in the following paragraphs

Tuesday afternoon Capt. Coles, Lieut.-Col. Preston, C. R. McKeown and Judge Fisher addressed the Council in behalf of the Navy League of Canada, which had previously made application for a grant of $5,000. The application was referred to the Finance Committee, which recommended that action upon the request be deferred until the January meeting of Council.

By unanimous vote the Council passed a resolution extending to County Clerk J. C. Reid its sincere sympathy in the great loss he has sustained by the death of Mrs. Reid, who for half a century had been his faithful, devoted wife and helpmeet. The Council further went on record as expressing its "grateful appreciation of the invaluable services rendered by Mr. Reid during the many years in which he has served the corporation as clerk and also the hope that he may long be spared in health and strength to discharge the important duties of his office." The resolution was introduced by Reeve Clark, of Melancthon, and Reeve White, of Orangeville.

Friday afternoon Mr. A. E. Annis addressed the Council on the subject of taking steps to in some way preserve the names and commemorate the deeds of the soldiers from Dufferin county who have gone overseas or made the supreme sacrifice in behalf of their country.

On motion of Messrs. Brett and Hilborn the council requested Messrs. Annis, Col. Preston and C. R. McKeown to draft a suitable plan and submit it at the January meeting of the Council.

Warden Menary was voted the usual honorarium of $100. Friday afternoon the Warden was asked to vacate the chair, Mr. Hilborn being appointed chairman pro tem. On motion of Mr. Brett, seconded by Mr. White, the Council then tendered its hearty thanks to the Warden for the very able manner in which he had discharged his official duties and also for his kindness and courtesy to the members upon all occasions. After the members had spoken to the motion it was carried amid applause. Mr. Menary expressed his gratitude in a happy manner and also thanked the members of the Council for their valuable assistance during the year.

Before adjourning sine die late on Friday afternoon the members joined in heartily singing the National Anthem.

The Special Committee, appointed to interview the Minister of Public Highways with the object of having certain connecting roads in Orangeville and Shelburne included in the system of Provincial County Roads, reported that it had succeeded in having the roads in question designated as part of Provincial County Road No. 17.

The Legislation Committee reported on three memorials from other counties, namely: 1. From Peterboro County suggesting that the Ontario Government should be petitioned to refund automobile licenses to each county, the money to be expended on the main roads; 2. From the County of Frontenac advocating a petition to the Dominion Government in favor of dropping the practice of conferring titles; 3. From the County of Wateroo in favor of the union of certain counties. In each case the committee recommended that no action be taken.

On the recommendation of the County Property Committee the Council accepted tenders for Gaol and House of Refuge supplies for 1919 as follows:

Meat—Thos. Wright & Son, flank cuts, 22c per lb.; beef shanks, 15c per lb.

Groceries, Etc. F. T. Hill & Co.: Japan tea, 48c, 44c and 40c per lb.; granulated sugar, 10½c per lb.; rolled oats, $5.15 per cwt.; butter, best dairy, 45c per lb.; beans, 9c; pot barley, 6½c; soap, Lennox bar, 6¾c; tobacco, 13c; turnips, per 60 lbs., 35c; potatoes, $1.48 per bag; carrots, 60c per bush.; Canadian coal oil, 21c; American coal oil, 23c; eggs, 48c; brooms, 4 string, 67c; 5 string, 72c; black pepper, 30c. In the absence of tenders for bread and milk the Chairman of the Committee was authorized to make the best arrangement possible for these supplies.

A grant of $50 was made to the Dufferin Teachers' Institute for the work of county promotion examinations.

The following paragraph from the report of the Special Committee appointed to consider the Warden's address is worthy of reproduction:

"True the men responded nobly to the call (of war) and the people gave generously of their money, but let us never forget the many sacrifices made by the mothers, daughters, sisters and sweethearts of our county in the great work performed by them as their share in the glorious victory."

The Committee on Roads and Bridges reported the construction of a 16 ft. span reinforced concrete bridge on the boundary line between Mulmur and Nottawasaga, at a cost of $778, half of which will be borne by Simcoe county. The Committee also reported that as tenders for the new county bridge over the Grand River on Amaranth street, Grand Valley, were very much in excess of the estimates, it had been decided to leave the work of construction over until next year, when it is expected that the bridge can be built at less cost. Meantime the county will maintain a temporary crossing.

The Finance Committee recommended a grant of $25 to the Dufferin Agricultural Board, when the Board submits a report of its work.

Council passed a by-law providing for a bonus of 30c a rod for wire fence built on county roads. The style of fence and the wire used must be approved by the Road Superintendent.

W. A. Henry, of Mono, and R. E. Mortimer, of Honeywood, were appointed County Auditors. They will receive $20 apiece for their services.

By-laws were passed ratifying the agreements entered into with the Counties of Peel and Grey respecting County Roads on the boundaries between said counties that are to be improved and maintained under the Highway Improvement Act. Under the agreement with Peel the boundary line between East Garafraxa and Caledon is placed under the direct supervision and control of the County of Peel and the boundary line between Mono and Caledon under the direct supervision and control of the County of Dufferin.

Mr. H. A. Dorrance, District Representative, submitted a comprehensive report of the work of his office during the year. Visitors to his office had exceeded 3,500 during the year. Six Rural School Fairs were held. The results are indicated in the following summary:

Fair	No. of Schools	Pupils	En-tries	Att.
Horning's' Mills	13	226	199	150
Corbetton	13	225	318	250
East Luther	13	186	275	200
Laurel	9	150	274	300
Marsville	8	137	248	300
Mono Centre	13	175	243	350

Mr. Dorrance stated that he had three farm tractors at work in the county under his direction. Each of the outfits consists of a Case 9-18 tractor and a three furrow 12 in. plow and two of them are equipped with double disc harrows. The three outfits plowed 593¼ acres and disced 417¾ acres. "Apparently the small tractor," the report stated, "is about to become popular with the ordinary farmer and during the next year there will be a large number placed in this as well as other counties. It would appear, however, that the prospective tractor purchaser has very many things to consider in the selection of one, but there is every reason to believe that with a high-class outfit of sufficient power on suitable land and in the hands of a competent operator reasonable satisfaction will be secured."

MELVILLE CROSS.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sawden, the Misses Pearl and May Sawden, and Mr. H. W. Arnold, of Toronto, motored up from the city and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sawden, of this place.

Two Indian boys have just been prosecuted in Port Arthur for shooting at an automobile in which Rev. Fr. Grenier was riding, a fine of $10 being adjudged meet for the offence. The culprits did not plead that they mistook the car for a maverick buffalo, but claimed that the shot was fired by accident. There is not an open season for motor cars as yet.

A HOT CORNER.

Ed. Tribble, of Alton, and Comrades, Almost Surrounded by German Machine Gunners.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tribble, of Alton, have received this letter from their eldest son, Ed, who was in the recent heavy fighting on the West front:

Somewhere in France,
October 23, 1918

Dearest Mother and Father,

I guess you people will wonder how I am getting along. You will perhaps be surprised to know that I have been in the fighting already. It has certainly been some experience. You do not need to worry now, though, for I am out of it for some time. There were eight of us had almost given ourselves up as lost, for we were almost surrounded with machine guns. There was one of the fellows killed and another wounded and just before that I had a hole shot right through my steel helmet but it never hurt me, only stunned me for the second. It was the tightest corner that any of the old timers had been in.

There were not very many casualties in the battalion. No doubt you will have heard about Billie Dean being killed. It will be an awful shock to them at home. He was in the company right beside me. It was a machine gun that got him and a corporal who was with him. I was talking to a fellow who was right near him and saw him hit. He was hit ever so many times. I think this fellow is going to write to his mother.

You do not need to worry about me for I seem to think that I am as safe over here as in Canada. I don't think there will be so very much heavy fighting from now on.

It was great marching through the towns as we were advancing. The French civilians who were left hardly knew how to show their appreciation. They would bring us wine, coffee and cocoa to drink as we were going through. This is a far nicer country than England. It is nearly all fertile land. There is a lot of wood in certain parts.

Well I guess this will be all for this time.

From your loving son,
—ED.

LAUGH AND GROW FAT.

"Laugh and grow fat," is an old saying laden with value for nervous people in particular. Drop the worry habit and use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you will soon get the nervous system restored to good condition. Digestion will improve, appetite will return, and you will find such symptoms as headache and sleeplessness fast disappearing.

MONO COLLEGE.

The postponed meeting of the Mono College Women's Institute was held at the home of the President, Mrs. A. E. Porterfield, on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 21st, and was well attended. The usual business and program were dispensed with, the entire afternoon being spent on the overseas boxes for Christmas. The ladies packed and got ready for mailing twelve boxes, each weighing 7 lbs. and valued at $65. The hostess then served refreshments and all returned to their homes feeling that they had spent a very pleasant as well as a profitable afternoon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. J. Harshaw, Prince of Wales Road, on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 5th. A full attendance of the members is requested.

Music Lovers Amazed by Edison's Daring Test

All told, 2,000,000 music lovers in Canada and the United States, on more than 1500 different occasions, have gone to one of their local theatres filled with curiosity regarding a startlingly novel musical recital to which they had been invited.

In each case they have come away amazed at the almost unbelievable demonstration which had taken place before their very eyes, and ears—the most daring test of a phonograph or talking machine ever made. They saw a noted Edison artist stand beside

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

They heard the instrument sing in the artist's voice—in other words, re-create her voice. Presently the artist herself began to sing note for note with the instrument. Musically trained ears strove in vain to distinguish the faintest shade of difference between the actual voice and the Re-Creation. Then, suddenly and without warning, the artist ceased singing, leaving the instrument to continue the air alone. Only by watching the artist's lips did the audience know that she had ceased singing and that they heard the instrument alone. This is the famous Edison Tone Test.

Only Edison makes this test. Only Edison can make this test, because only the New Edison actually re-creates the human voice and the music of human-played instruments with every tone quality and every shade of expression. Ordinary phonographs, and talking machines, merely reproduce.

If you have not been fortunate enough, to witness an Edison Tone Test, you may at least hear Edison's wonderful new phonograph at our store. Make the time to suit your convenience. 168

SANDY'S SEND-OFF.

Two "kilties" from the same Scottish town met in a rest camp "somewhere in France," and started to exchange confidences.

"What like a send-off did yer wife gie ye, Sandy, when ye left for France?" asked Jock pleasantly.

Sandy lit a fresh cigarette before replying:

"Says she, 'noo, there's yer train, Jock; in ye get, an' see an' do yer duty. By jingo, ma man, if I thocht ye wud shirk it oot yonder I wud see ye was wounded afore ye gang off!' That's the send-off she gaed me, Sandy."

WHAT IMPRESSED HER.

A Minneapolis laundress, a negro woman, patriotic supporter of the Red Cross, was among the thousands who witnessed a recent Red Cross parade in the Mill City in which nfteen thousand white-clad women participated. In telling a Red Cross worker how she liked it, she said:

"Lawdy, missus, it suttingly was a grand spectacle. Nevah in mah whole life did I see so much washin' at one time."—Everybody's.

GEO McALISTER & SON, Auctioneers.
JOHN WHITE, Clerk.

Czar's Former Minister, Once Powerful and Rich, Now Employed as Porter

W. A. SOUKHOMLINOFF, formerly a millionaire, the Czar's Minister of War at the outbreak of the war, one of the biggest men of the old Russia, is now working as a porter in a little municipal office of the Bolshevik Administration at Petrograd, where he sweeps the floor, runs errands for the clerks and heats the water for the secretary's tea.

And Mme. Soukhomlinoff, once brilliant and beautiful, the power behind the throne, the confidante of princes and grand dukes is now selling programs in a Petrograd moving picture theatre. Thus both are trying to earn enough bread to keep them from starving.

After the Bolsheviki had deposed Kerensky and had investigated the papers and documents found in the archives of the Foreign Office at Petrograd, they arrested Soukhomlinoff. The new Government accused the former Minister of War of treason. In fact, it accused Soukhomlinoff of bringing about the war by deceiving the Czar and nullifying the Czar's order concerning the demobilization of the Russian army.

Soukhomlinoff was tried in open court. Disclosures made by witnesses were of a most sensational character.

W. A. SOUKHOMLINOFF.

The press of the Central Powers and pro-German newspapers in neutral countries devoted columns to the wash of dirty linen. Soukhomlinoff was found guilty and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

Trotzky, then Minister of Foreign Affairs, used the disclosures made at the trials as bombs to throw at the Allies. He laid bare alleged secret treaties entered into by the Allies, which were said to disclose their lust for conquest and spoliation. At that time Trotzky declared similar disclosures could be made regarding the rapacious designs of Germany, but these were never uncovered for good reasons, perhaps known only to Trotzky and his associates.

At any rate it seems very queer that Soukhomlinoff, who was sent to prison for a long term, is free again. He was sentenced less than a year ago.

It is claimed that he was liberated as a result of a general amnesty. However, no one here heard of any such amnesty before. It is possible German influence liberated Soukhomlinoff. The Germans could well afford to exert themselves in behalf of a man who had made "disclosures" at a time when they could be used to the detriment of the Allies.

And why should Soukhomlinoff be given an official position with the Bolshevik Government, even if it is a very humble one? Why should Trotzky send Soukhomlinoff to prison as a traitor, then liberate him after a few months and take him back into the Government service?

There are Russians who believe the whole trial of Soukhomlinoff, with its so-called disclosures and sensations, was a melodrama staged for political purposes, a frame-up engineered by German propaganda.

What Is a Polin?

A humble man who, one July afternoon in 1914, left at two hours' notice his Parisian shop or workshop, or his ripe wheat fields or his ripening vines for a military depot he had never liked and had managed to tolerate only because soldiering and all things soldierly are lovable to the Frenchman and take on halo in his imagination; was packed to the Belgian frontier, made the acquaintance of danger under all its forms; fought, hungered—hungered and thirsted—for days; knew the trenches when they were in their crudest novelty and worse than the badger's hole; got wounded and lay for hours, sometimes days, where he had fallen, or crawled miles to a hurried surgeon and to the torturing goods trucks pompously labelled sanitary trains; got well and went back to the depot, and then back to the front and to fighting or being shelled; and so on during four years, with the ever-disappointed certainty that "next winter must be the last," or that the imminent coming in of this or that nation must bring the end.

Dissatisfied.

Patience—"She's not satisfied with her new photographs at all."

Patrice—"I don't know why not. They make her look younger than she really is."

DON'T SACRIFICE.

Farmers Should Not Sell Their Breeding Stock.

Canadian farmers and live stock breeders are warned to avoid sacrificing good breeding stock during any temporary market disturbances consequent upon the restoration of peace. In a statement issued by the Live Stock branch of the Department of Agriculture, it is pointed out that although the receipts at the Canadian live stock markets, and those of the United States, during the past week, have been exceptionally heavy, the prices of the better classes of cattle and hogs remain firm at last week's quotations. The statement reads:

"During the present week receipts at live stock markets in both Canada and the United States have been exceptionally heavy. In Montreal the run exceeded all previous records, including the heavy shipments consigned direct to the packing companies, approximately 7,000 head of cattle and 12,000 head of sheep were received at the two yards. As a result of congestion, trading was at a standstill on Tuesday and Wednesday, many cars of stock being compelled to stand on the sidings owing to the lack of accommodation in the yards.

Peace and Fall Rush Together

"The coming of peace," continues the statement, "has naturally caused a somewhat general, but nevertheless unwarranted lack of confidence in the stability of the market at present levels, and undoubtedly the present liquidation may be attributed in part to this feeling of unrest. It should be pointed out, however, that this past week would have been marked by unusually heavy shipments, even had there been no talk of peace. It is particularly unfortunate that the fall rush should have coincided so with the cessation of fighting in Europe.

"Owing to the open weather which prevailed throughout Ontario and Quebec during the month of October, farmers more or less generally postponed marketing their live stock, with the result that the usual fall rush has concentrated into one or two weeks. Due to the closing of cheese factories in November and the coming of hard weather, canner cows are now being turned off in large numbers and this class of cattle constitute the bulk of the week's receipts in Montreal.

Should Not Sacrifice Stock

"The lamb crop of Quebec and Eastern Ontario is larger in volume this year than last, and the lambs have been kept on pasture as long as they continued to make gains. There is every prospect that there will be no permanent drop in market prices of live stock for months, and farmers should not allow themselves to be stampeded into sacrificing good breeding stock by reason of a temporary market disturbance.

"In fairness to packing house farms it should be pointed out that the drop in prices which occurred this week was not the result of them taking a deliberate advantage of the congestion. Owing to the length of time during which it will be necessary to hold much of the stock, the cost of feeding and the shrinkage due to the difficulty of proper feeding under the conditions of stockyard congestion will represent an amount in some cases equal to the difference between prices this week and last."

RATTLING FOR A COP.

A group of soldiers were telling stories round the table of a Y. M. C. A. hut. The turn of a Canadian came round.

"I have at home," he said, "a pet rattlesnake. I saved its life once and it seems to realize it. One night I was awakened by my wife, who had heard a noise downstairs. I gripped my revolver and stole down. I heard a struggling going on in the diningroom. Imagine my surprise when in the dim light from the street, I saw my rattlesnake with its body tightly wound round a burglar and its tail sticking out of the window rattling for a policeman!"—London Tit-Bits.

"If I Could Only Be Strong and Healthy Like Other Girls."

THIS is the longing of the girl who is pale, weak and anaemic.

She is lacking in energy and strength, and is so easily tired out that she does not feel like taking outdoor exercise or joining others in social gatherings.

The healthy, happy outdoor girls get in the way of leaving her to herself, and she gets lonely, discouraged and despondent.

The source of trouble is in the condition of the blood, which has become thin and watery, and utterly lacking in nutritive qualities.

The anaemic condition is shown in the pallor of the lips, the gums and the eyelids, as well as in the pale face and angular form.

Nature has provided for the purifying of the blood by having it sent to the lungs periodically to come in contact with the fresh air and take up new oxygen.

Unfortunately this plan of nature has been defeated by human beings living too much indoors and breathing over and over again the vitiated air of ill-ventilated rooms. This is the usual cause of anaemia, as well as a reason for its continuation.

The blood gets ever thinner and more watery, until the human system is literally starved.

The digestive system has failed, and your health must go naturally downhill until you can find some means of restoration.

Fortunately, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food furnishes the vital substances needed for regenerating the entire organism when in a run-down condition.

Gradually and certainly the building-up process is established, and the pure, rich blood created in the system carries health and strength to every part of the body.

Weakness and disease, the cause of discouragement, failure and unhappiness, give place to new hopes, new confidence and stronger determination to succeed.

The appetite is sharpened, digestion improves, and you find yourself enjoying your meals and taking a new interest in life. As you gain in strength and energy you feel encouraged to keep up the use of this restorative treatment until thoroughly restored to health.

The rosy cheeks and healthful appearance of people who have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is its strongest recommendation, and accounts for its ever-increasing popularity.

It is for sale by all dealers, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75, or by mail from Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the box you buy.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

Few, perhaps of the readers of the local newspaper have ever seriously considered the problem of making a paper, once or twice each week, which shall be at once popular and profitable as well to the subscriber and the publisher.

First of all, it must be a newspaper. All the local happenings of any real interest or importance must be recorded truly and attractively, neither prosaically nor sensationally, avoiding carefully all personalities; anything that might hurt or wound any other unnecessarily. Avoiding, too, all impertinent invasion of the home for the search of items that concern the home only, or the wider circle of the family. Mere gossip should never be mentioned in, much less printed. Anything approaching to scandal or slander is not news, and should be given no place in the paper. Of course, space must be reserved for news of the country, which must be carefully collected and condensed so that the reader may feel assured that the most of what is best worth knowing of the happenings of the week is given to him.

In addition to general news there is news of social happenings, of special interest to ladies, which claims a place in the paper and which adds greatly to the interest of the paper in so-called circles.

Large space must of course be given to the advertisements, without which it would be impossible to finance the publication of the paper, but if a paper becomes mainly a collector of advertisements, subscriptions and job work and it will cease to be even a good medium for advertising. To preserve the proper proportion between "ads" and reading matter is not an easy proposition. Ample space for the latter must always be reserved.

Every issue of the paper should include articles of literary merit on the wide variety of topics in which readers are interested, and even poems of merit now and then. There should be something of special interest for each one of its thousands of readers, young and older; something to inform the mind, cultivate the taste, and develop the intelligence.
